But came a day when Balad wept,
Though a goodly kng was he.

A message to him came that day,
A challenge bold and free,
Which cut King Ballad to the heart,
Such a goodly king was he.

A new knight to his realm had come
Who did not like to see
An old king such as Folk-Ballad was,
Though a goodly king was he.

"You are too old, and I too young
For us to well agree;
So meet me on the morrow here,
If a goodly king you be."

Ere morning came King Ballad left
With his fair company,
And went to meet this unknown foe,
Such a goodly knight was he.

"Why challenge me, you stranger knight?
What have I done to thee?
These lands are mine, you must get out,"
This goodly king, said he.

"A modern knight, New Ballad strong,
Kinsman of yours I be;
And I have come to take your realm,
Though a goodly king you be!"

"O no, you'll not," King Ballad cried,
"My men will not agree;
Come, men, fight hard, your honor keep",
This goodly king," said he.

"O come, my men," New Ballad called,
"And down this king will we."
And ne'er was battle fought so hard,
Such goodly knight they be.

Three hours gone, and on the field
Full many a corpse did lie;
But still King Ballad's voice was heard,
"Fight, goodly men, fight ye!"

But then, King Ballad's voice, it fail'd,
And on the ground fell he;
And all his men were likewise dead,
Save for a goodly three.

New Ballad had the realm his own,
A new court stablished he;
The order changed, new knights were made,
And goodly knights they be.

But not the same as Folk-Ballad's
Though fairly fine they be;
For never more this earth shall know
Such a goodly king as he.

Ethel L. Joyner

SOCIAL

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Griggs of Roanoke spent Sunday as the guest of their daughter Miss Mignonne Griggs.

* * *

Miss Margaret Huyett returned Sunday night from Lynchburg where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Bessie Meade Riddle returned Sunday after spending the week-end in Charlottesville.

* * *

Miss Mary Darden spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Misses Mattie Rogers Smith, Virginia Ellis and Margaret Fowler. Miss Darden is a former student of S. T. C. and at present is teaching in Blackstone.

* * *

Miss Jessie Debman has returned after spending some time at her home in Suffolk. on account of ill health.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Hargrave has returned from Petersburg where she spent the week-end at her home.

* * *

Friends of Miss Ella Lipscomb will be sorry to hear that she will be unable to return to school for some time on account of ill health.

* * *

Misses Frances Bell and Pauline Boune spent last week-end at their homes in Victoria.

* * *

Miss Margaret Ballard returned Sunday from her home in Charlottesville where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Louise Shoffner spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Roanoke.

* * *

Misses Olive Iler, Elizabeth Bugg Mebane Hunt, Edith Lamphier, Mildred Morris and Charlotte Baxter returned Sunday night from Richmond where they spent the day as the guests of friends.

* * *

Miss Nellie Calahan of Emporia and former student at S. T. C. spent the week-end as the guest of Margaret Lifsy.

* * *

Miss Blanche Murrell had as her guests on Sunday, her mother and father Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Murrell and her sister Miss Josephine Murrell of Lynchburg.

* * *

Miss Eleanor Hogan returned Sunday night from Roanoke where she attended the week-end dances at Roanoke College.

* * *

Miss Mary Duncan has returned after spending some time at her home in Halifax.

* * *

Miss Mattie Lewis spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Salem. While away Miss Lewis attended the dances held at Roanoke College.

* * *

Miss Beulah Jarvis returned Sunday from her home at Virginia Beach where she spent the week-end.

DR. JARMAN ATTENDS TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Dr. Jarman is out of town attending the meeting of the American Association of Teachers Colleges in Dallas, Texas. He expects to return Thursday, March 3.

THE VISIT OF SORROW

(With a few suggested revisions)

A little boy to his mother said,
As he knelt by her side to pray,
"Bid me good-by, Mother, darkness comes
To take me away with the day."

His mother smiled, she has kissed his brow,
She's tucked him away to rest;
She's forgotten the words of her little son,
She's thinking them only a jest.

The Day has slipped by, black Night stalked in,
And there stood a figure grim—
The little boy, he could scarcely breathe,
And he lay there staring at him.

The specter came nearer, and nearer he came,
Till the little boy heard him say,
"I'm the terror of Night and I've come to take
You forever away from the Day!

To a place that's bleak and a place that's drear
Where ghosts and phantoms bide!"
And he kissed the rosy lips of the child,
And the little boy sobbed and died.

His mother crept in to pull up the covers
Ere Dawn had brought the Morrow;
With a grievous groan she wept bitter tears,—
For she found there, only Sorrow.

Alwyn Hughson

KU KLUX

The wind blew long and fierce and keen,
The air was cold and clear,
The stars above were shining bright,
A clatter of horses near.

They swept down through the narrow street,
Swiftly, swiftly, on they came,
As sure and grim as Death.

A sudden dash, a sudden stop,
And not a word let fall;
Two men stand, all robed in white,
Before a cabin small.

A black face there, with eyes a-glow,
Moaning, "Lawd, fergive!"
Ashy lips quiver, and shriek aloud,
"O marsters, lemme live!"

But when the dawn had come to earth,
Fom a tree nearby a dangling form
Was swinging in the air.

Rosalind Harrell

DUSK AT SEA

Tonight enternity alone is near:
The sea, the sunset, and the darkening blue;
Within their shelter is no space for fear,
Only the wonder that such things are true.

The thought of you is like the dusk at sea—
Space and wide freedom and old shores left far,
The shelter of a lone immensity
Sealed by the sunset and the evening star.

—Thomas S. Jones, Jr.

Mattie Rogers Smith wants to know when two girls use a box of powder together—do you call it a parnership or a compact.

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

"Bill's learning to bealinesman."

"Yes?"

"And the other day, when the head linesman told him to grab the waste line—"

"Yes, yes!"

"Bill looked around for the girl!"

They had been dancing together all evening at the largest social gathering of the season. "I could just die dancing," said she. "Couldn't you?"

"Seems as though I'm not to have much choice in the matter," he wearily responded.

Byrd: "Define moustache."

Annie Curtis: "A moustache is a bang on the mouth."

Virginia Boxley says an Oriental dancer is a young girl who does not catch cold easily.

Teacher: "Translate 'fugit'."

Lucille Graves: "Male insects.'

Teacher: "Male insects! Why?"

Lucille: "He flees, isn't it?"

"What do you think of the Museum of Art?"

"Oh, the pictures are good enough, but there ain't no good jokes in under them."

"Education," says the learned Professor Tightboy, "is nothing but a revival of the thickest."

"Oh, I cant' tell you a thing about Love!
Its as infinite as the skies above!
With an artist's brush or an author's phrase,
I couldn't describe it in a million days.
I know that it fills my heart and my soul,
I know that I'd far rather have it than gold . . .
But sure as the moon is shining above,
You'll have to find out for yourself about love!"

Bill wrote the following note to his dear one:

"Sweetness, apple of my eye, I would do anything for you; swim the Atlantic; go through fire and hell for you and would face the most terrible storm or hurricane for your sake.

"And by the way, I will come over tonight if it doesn't rain too hard."

She: "I say what I think."

He: "Ah—at last—a silent woman."

Epithet

Here lies the Sadie Pumper Nickle,
Not too wise and not too fickle,
But he proved a total loss
She couldn't thrive on applesauce.

Fat Lady (bathing): "Here let go my leg!"

Jones: "Oh, excuse me. I thought I had hold of the pier."

WHY THE FERNS HAVE FRONDS

One day in late September, when the world was a golden, sun-lit place, and all the woodsy folk were very very happy, a terrible thing happened.

It was so warm and pleasant that day that everybody had gathered on the sandy beach of the gurgling brook. All the woodsy fairies were there, flitting around in rainbow colors. And all the flowers were there—the violets, in their puritan gowns; the daffodils, flaunting their yellow scarfs; the pansies, in brand new gypsy dresses; and many, many others. The ferns, so nice and green and slim and straight, leaned far over the water to shade the water fairies that came up to rock on the waves and entertain their woodsy visitors.

And then it happened! A terrible, a monstrous, an unheard-of thing! Suddenly the waves began to tremble, the flowers on the bank quivered, the water fairies screamed with fright and disappeared under the water, just as their worst enemy, a huge old water-crab, appeared above the surface! All the woodsy folk were so frightened that they were rooted to the spot, and so they saw the whole outrage. Right in sight of the whole multitude of fairies and flowers, that horrid old water-crab took his whole shell completely off and threw it away! Oh, how shocked they all were! The flowers hid their faces and the fairies crawled under leaves and grass blades. And the ferns, who were right over it all, were so humiliated that they trembled and shook until all their slim leaves curled up in crinkles. And ever since then ferns have been having ruffled fronds.

Maria Orgain

THE GHOST

Last night The Ghost came. He it is who warns us that some calamity is about to befall us, or that some great sorrow is to be ours. No one knows who he is. Some say that he is the spirit of a long dead ancestor who carried in his heart the memory of some great sin, and that thus he must atone for that sin.

Sometimes he comes in a great silence, and sometimes with a low moan of the wind. Always he comes when the deep blackness of the night is giving way to a dull gray light, and all objects have taken on unreal and unfamiliar forms. Up and down the hall he walks, slowly, stealthily. The floor boards creak. Then he pauses, rattles a door knob, and with a moan of the wind, that rises to a wail and then to a piercing shreik, he is gone.

Last night he came in silence and walked the hall for half an hour, slowly, slowly. Then he rattled the knob of my door and with a long, wild wail of the wind he was gone. This morning we awoke to find that the little girl with golden curls roaming woods and fields gathering wild flowers had roamed out upon the Great Highway into the Heaven of Flowers. Our great sorrow had come.

Mildred Spindle

College Tragedy

Teddy dressed up in his brother's clothes
And he was wondrous fair.
His brother came and took them off
And left poor Teddy bare.

An egotist's prayer: O God, let me never remind anybody else of someone else.

It takes a lot of pull to be a success in a dairy.

GOOD NIGHT NURSE

I am a little girlie
Just past six, and nearly seven.
But father thinks I oughta be
As good as a saint in Heaven.
He hires me a nursie
Who follows me every day
To see that I'm a "nice little lady"
And keeps me from running away.
I want to be a tomboy and
Run about the streets and cuss
But nursie won't let me say a thing—
Aw—Good night, Nurse.

There is a little boy that lives
Just 'cross the street from me,
And he's 'xactly the kinda boy
That I would love to be.
But Nursie says that he is bad
'Cause he won't mind his Pa
But he's mighty nice to me—
I think he's the nicest boy I ever saw
He says anything and when he's eaten
A lot he says, "I'm 'bout to burst"
But Nursie won't let me say a thing
Not even, "Good Night, Nurse."

I wish I could be a boy
Just for a teeny weeny while,
So I could puff a cigarette an' climb trees,
And run plumb wild.
But Nursie says I must be a lady,
'Cause they couldn't bear to call me "Roy",
And when I get too big to have a Nursie
I'll be too big to be a boy.
But when I am my own, own boss
I'm gonna be worse than morse
And say everything bad I can
'Cept—"Good Night, Nurse."

Elizabeth Beavans

THE FAITHFUL FEW

When the meeting's called to order,
And you look about the room;
You're sure to see some faces
That from out the shadow loom,
That are always at the meeting
And stay until it's through;
The ones that I refer to
Are the always faithful few.

They fill the vacant offices
For they are always on the spot
No matter what's the weather
Though it may be awfully hot,
It may be dark and raining
But they are tried and true.
The ones that you rely on
Are the always faithful few.

Now if it were not for these faithful
Whose shoulders at the wheel
Keeps things moving onward
Without a halt or reel.
What would be the fate of others,
Who claim so much to do?
They surely would go under
But for these faithful few.

Updike

——1930——

Don't think it matters
If you aren't true.
Don't think you'll ever
Make me blue.
Don't think I mind
Your "high hat" air,
If you don't love me
I don't care.

Soft low music,
Dreamy eyes,
A brilliant moon,
In summer skies,
Crimson lips,
What could I do
But close my eyes
And wish 'twere you?

SOPHOMORE MUSICAL

(Continued from page one)

the entire cast are to be commended for presenting such a finished and enjoyable entertainment.

The Talk of the School
About Our Dresses
Now on Sale
$9.95 AND $12.98
Values up to $25.00
Many girls bought two and three dresses at a time. There is a reason.
Don't Fail to Get Yours

Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

At The Eaco Next Week

MON.—Charles Ray and Joan Crawford in "PARIS." She had snared him—this handsome young American—in the web of her fascination. And yet, when she saw his peril as the terror of Paris silently approached something happened. You'll grip the edge of your seat with the excitement of this moment. Dramatic! Romantic! Surprising! Also Pathe. Mat at 4 o'clock.

Tues.—Constance Talmadge with Antonio Moreno in "Learning to Love." Come on and laugh! This is the funniest of the funny ones—All the pep of a real Constance Talmadge show is here with Cupid leading the laughs and Constance playing them for all they're worth. Let Constance teach you how to love. Also good comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

Wednesday—Tom Mix and his wonder horse "Tony" in "THE CANYON OF LIGHT" a big special production. Beauty of backgrounds—daring riding—breath-taking stunts—hazardous feats—and stirring romance—you'll find them all in this picture. This is absolutely one of the best and most thrilling pictures Mix ever made. Also Aesop Fable. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—Viola Dana in BRED IN OLD KENTUCKY, a special production. Here we have the lure and romance of the race track vivified with a thrilling gripping picture. Viola Dana at her sparkling best. There is a great horse race scene in this picture .Also good comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

FRI. & SAT.—Alice Joyce, Warner Baxter, Dolores Costello and Zasu Pittsi in MANNEQUIN a Paramount picture made from Liberty magazine's $50,000 prize story. What beats in the hearts beneath the Paris gowns the cloak models wear? What is the inside story of these fair creatures' lives Come and see. It is a story of girls and gowns—and the tense human drama of a beautiful girl's fight for love. The story was written by Fannie Hurst and Liberty Magazine paid her $50,000 for writing it. Also good comedy. Matinee each day at 4 o'clock.

S. T. C. girls' admission 25c to all shows if tickets are purchased at the college.

ALUMNAE ISSUE

THE ROTUNDA

POE

A MELLE PLAYS Harlequinade SATURDAY

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDESDAY, MARCH 9, 1927 Number 21

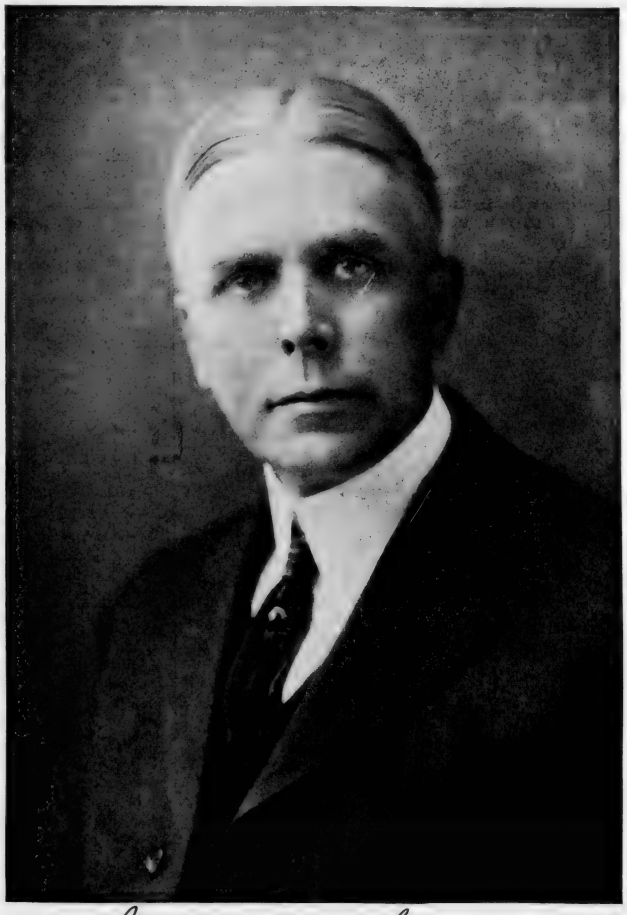
FOUNDERS DAY IN THE MORNING

Miss Jennie Tabb Gives Short Talk.—Presentation of Gifts to Student Building

When the bell rang Saturday morning at twenty minutes to ten everyone rushed with great eagerness to the auditorium where the exercises were to be held. The Freshmen rushed because they had heard what Founders Day was like, and they were anxious to verify their ideas. the upper classmen rushed because they had seen it before and were anxious not to miss any phase of it.

When the auditorium was as filled with people as it will ever be again the Senior class marched in dressed in cap and gown, while the audience sang our Alma Mater song. The new tune composed by Virginia Potts, the president of the Senior class, was used publically for the first time. It has both dignity and martial ardor and made an admirable processional.

Miss Jennie Tabb began the morning's program by a short talk on the spirit of Founders Day. It was a talk that went straght to the heart and ettled there. Only those who heard Miss Jennie give it can appreciate it fully.



Next in order were the class presentations, which were, of course, original to the nth degree. The Senior Class presented Dr. Jarman with a heart of gold to help pay for his Student Building and to show him their love and devotion, as well The Juniors gave a presentation of a night at S. T. C. depicting very cleverly to an amazed outsider the many ways by which money is made "for the Student Building." The Sophomores had a peppy, Pirate stunt, discovering a hidden treasure for Dr. Jarman. Last of all the Freshman Class gave a dignified, but delightful "fairy tale" stunt in which the Prince brought home money for Dr. Jarman.

The Alumnae Chapters were heard from after the classes, with the class of '26 leading the list and presenting a huge birthday cake emphasizng twenty-five very strongly. Various other chapters gave money, or were heard from in some way or other. Then the different organizations presented various sums of money in various ways. The faculty, too, gave most generously; and even the training school was represented.

Following the gifts, Dr. Jarman made a talk, thanking the different classes and organizations individually for their help. After his speech the entertainment was brought to a close with the singing of "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginy."

DEDICATION

The alumnae wish to dedicate this, their issue of The Rotunda, to Dr. J. L. Jarman—an expression of their love and appreciation for his twenty five years of service to this College.

Joseph Leonard Jarman

IMPROVEMENTS AT STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Alumnae, visit your Alma Mater and see the wonderful changes which have taken place since you were here. The school is growing larger, better and more beautiful every year.

The Student Building with the exception of the furnishing of a few rooms is entirely complete. The Y. W. C. A. and Student Council rooms are beautifully furnished. The building is an inspiration in itself.

Between the Student Building and White House Hall a new 4-floor dormitory has been completed. The first floor contains shower baths and lockers for town students. The other three floors are used for dormitory rooms. The rooms are very attractive two-girls rooms,—a necessity long needed here.

The old gymnasium has been made into two dormitory floors. These rooms are two-girl rooms and are very desirable on account of their

Conttinued on Page 2

THE SPIRIT OF FOUNDERS DAY

It is impossible to define the spirit of an occason. There is an intangible something that permeates the air, gives life and color to the activities and leaves in the hearts of the participants a warmth and glow that cannot be described.

A short time ago I heard someone remark casually that the spirit of Founders Day seemed to be a mercenary spirit: this chance remark set me to thinking and led me to the conclusion that it was far indeed from the correct estimate.

When mother at home has a birthday, the children who are scattered return to celebrate it; those who cannot come send a word of love and a little gift—a gift that is the more precious if time and labor have gone into the making of it.

Our College was born on March 7, 1884; so, we celebrate today her forty-third birthday, and the twenty-

Continued on page two

HAVE YOU STARTED THINKING OF ELECTIONS?

Have you thought about who should be president of Student Government next year? No? And yet she is only one of the many important officials who must be elected soon. We must have a president of the Y. W. C. A., and of the Athletic Association. Then there is the editor-in-chief of The Virginia and The Rotunda. Here are only a few of the more important officials. What girls do you know who are capable of filling those positons? Remember, an official must have initiative as well as ability. Don't wait until the last minute and then vote for who your roommate tells you to. Thing for yourself. Start now!

Mrs. Elmer Crigler Holmes was one of the hostesses at "Mt. Vernon" the Y. W. C. A. building on the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition grounds in Philadelphia.

ENJOYABLE EVENING PROGRAM ON FOUNDERS DAY

Robert B. Tunstall, of Norfolk, is Speaker of the Occasion.—Miss Andrews Gives Talk

On Saturday night the annual celebration of Founders Day in our institution reached its climax with a very delightful program opened with an invocation by Rev. R. M. White of the Methodist church, of Farmville.

Immediately following the prayer, Miss Alice Davis rendered a delightful solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Virginia Potts.

Then followed a brief introductory talk by Dr. Jarman, in which he brought to the attention of those present, the comparative lack of interest upon the part of the citizens of the state at large, in the vital question of higher education. Dr. Jarman has recently returned from an educational convention in Richmond and is consequently deeply concerned with the problem and is extremely anxious that we as prospective teachers realize the necessity for higher education to promote its interest.

The delightful and enlightening talk given by Mr. Robert B. Tunstall, a resident of Norfolk, and graduate of the University of Virginia was an elaboration of what Dr. Jarman had touched upon. Mr. Tunstall went more into detail and offered specific examples indicative of the fact that Virgnia is far behind in her provision for higher learning and that far more money is appropriated annually by our state for good roads than for higher education, which is more essential for the growth of the State at large. In this same connection and in order to make more vivid the existing educational conditions within our state, Mr. Tunstall used this figure of speech—that "higher education is to the state what the heart or lungs are to the human body." It is a matter of concern both from the standpoint of leadership and citizenship and should be of interest to everyone within the state.

Mr. Tunstall continued by saying that the establishment of such institutions as the college of William and Mary and the University of Virginia is significant of the fact that such great men as Blair, Thomas Jefferson and others have realized that higher education is necessary for growth and deveopment. They have given us foundations upon which to build and we are expected to do everything within our power to fulfill their dreams.

Other states have advanced and have taken many more steps than Virginia in this direction and consequently Virginia is now facing a serious and dangerous problem in regard to higher education, which may be solved only when the people of the state at large realize its necessity and seek to encourage the pursuit of advanced learning.

The next number on the program

(Continued on last page)

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor ..... EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic ..... LOUISE BREWER '27

Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers

Business Manager ..... VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant ..... ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

AN UNADVERTISED VIRGINIA ASSET IN J. L. JARMAN

Mention the State Teachers College at Farmville and in the same breath you find yourself talking of J. L. Jarman. The two naturally go together on the tongue, like Arnold and Rugby, or Jowett and Balliol, or Eliot and Harvard.

The association of Dr. Jarman with the institution at Farmville has seemed so perennially new in achievement that it takes such ceremonies as they are having today in Prince Edward to remind Virginia that in length of service he is among her oldest educational executives. Twenty-five year Jarman has been on the faculty of the oldest of the state's school for the preparation of teachers. The college rightly is making much of the anniversary.

Dr. Jarman knows how to be a college president without seeming to be. He never struts, never preaches, never becomes pedanic. In his dealings with the 700 girls who idolize him, he is always friendly and always natural, without palaver, condescension or "side." He talks to them at assembly as a man addressing the equals of his own family, and not as a reincarnated pontifex maximus. He has none of the "prexy air," yet there is so much kindliness in his face and so much of earnestness in his musical voice that if you met him at midnight in the aisle of a Pullman, you would know him to be unfeignedly a public servant, eternally an idealist.

What he has done for the Farmville college in twenty-five years is writen in brick and mortar, in the ever-improved curriculum, in the higher standards of teaching in the public schools of Virginia, and, most deeply of all, in the hearts of faculty-members, alumnae and present-day students the the college he directs. Every year has brought a flood of enrichening experience to him, and because of that experience he has somehow meant more and more to all those who know him.

Probably Dr. Jarman will remain at Farmville for the twenty years of active work left to him. Were he to talk of leaving, every student and every instructor would want to go with him, and would threaten to take the college-buildings along with them, too. It is doubtful whether he could be more employed or happier anywhere else. But Jarman is capable f managing a university as readily as a teachers college. He has all the qualities demanded of an administrator and, in addition, he has sound judgment on practical affairs as almost any man in Virginia.

He is worth a hundred thousand dollars a year to Virginia in the influence he is exerting on the teaching-profession today. Few things as fortunate as his coming to Farmville happened to the commonwealth in the year of grace, 1902.

MANY ALUMNAE RETURN TO ANNUAL CELEBRATION

In spite of the fact that for several days preceedng Founders Day the weather had been very uncertain, there were quite a number of former S. T. C. students present for the celebration of the founding of our college. Among the alumnae who returned were:

Mrs. E. A. Hatch, Wakefield, Va.
Mrs. Catherine P. Watts, Lynchburg, Va.
Miss Ann Smith, Staunton, Va.
Miss Kate Trent, Fredericksburg.
Miss Louise D. Locke, Portsmouth.
Miss Mary R. Winn, Turbeville.
Miss Ann Barksdale, Turbeville.
Miss Mary E. Booker, Pamplin.
Miss Catherine Burdock, Chester.
Miss Sadie Baird, Chester.
Miss Ida Hill, Kenbridge.
Miss Archer Reams, Blackstone.
Miss Jessie Bennett, Danville.
Miss Elizabeth Jarratt, Richmond.
Miss Lucille McIlhany, Bluefield, West Virginia.
Miss Polly Riddle, Norfolk.

SPIRIT OF FOUNDERS DAY

(Continued from page one)

fifth birthday of her president. She was only a girl of seventeen or eighteen when he adopted her, and see what a woman he has made of her!

In the very early days of his administration he conceived the idea of a beautiful building that would be for the use and pleasure of the students. For at least sixteen years he has been planning and laboring for this dream which has now become a reality and stands as a monument to his faith—for it was builded upon faith.

Is it not fitting that students and alumnae should find joy in planning, in working, and even in making some sacrifice, to help lift from his shoulders the burden of the tremendous debt that he so cheerfully assumed, and for no other reason than that they might have their building? And what more fitting time at which to present their gifts than on the birthday of Alma Mater, as proof of their love for her.

Words of love are sweet, but deeds of love are sweeter; and he who publishes abroad his love, and in the hour of need serves not, knows not the meaning of the word.

And so, today Alma Mater stands with outstretched arms to welcome her returning daughters, and rejoices that those younger ones who are still wth her have caught the enthusiasm from their older sisters and are willing to work to the very limit of their ability to serve her and to help lighten her burdens. This expression of their love gives her fresh courage to begin a new year, in the confidence that she has their loyalty and support in all her undertakings.

Call you this mercenery?

SOPHOMORE MUSICAL IS REPEATED

On Friday night in the same auditorium at the same time, the Sophomore Class—or a big part of it—gave the same Musical that every one enjoyed so much. No one would have guessed that practically the same audience had applauded with the same "vigorousness" a week before. It was as big a success as it was the first time, even if the same scenery was used, the same people did do the entertaining (except a few "last minute extras") and the same entertaining as done before.

Women, women everywhere—and not a one can think.

THIS DAY AND THAT DAY

On Founders Day I wonder if we realize all the things that have happened since that day. Is it possible for us to realize that on that day there were no radiators? Oh, no, our grandmothers never had the chance to pleasantly roast themselves on pieces of iron which now supply heat to thousands. It must have been terribly inconvenient for the alumnae of years past to have to get up and build fires. Sometimes when we get up in the cold we desire the opportunity to make a fire. but at the formation of the habit, methinks 'twould register dissatisfaction on each of our brows. I suppose they didn't have the seven-fifteen bell. How chereful that must have been! But I supose they had to get up at that time even tho there was actully no bell. Those folks probably didn't know what a study hour was. Just think of all the regulations those poor girls broke! The saddest part of it is that they didn't even know they were breaking anything. They committed error upon error running from one room to another in their long stiff skirts during study hour. Now I ask you when did they study?

Also the people of that day missed having intelligence tests. Oh, how inferior they must have been. Think of never having to take tests which show that you know nothing and there is no chance of your ever knowing anything.

The girls of long ago had no Shannon's. We wonder where they bought their Polar Frosties and Ice Cream cones. By the way, they didn't even have these modern necessities. How much money their papas must have saved!

But much worse of all, they had no Student Building. Now was it not inconsiderate of them not to give themselves a nice building? They may have had a very good time but we are glad we are we and have our nice new building with good iron radiators.

IMPROVEMENTS AT S. T. C.

Continued from page 1

beauty and convenience. The furniture of the Student Building and the two new dormitories is all new and beautiful as well as practical.

Our new dining room is a very lovely high pitched room with beautiful electric fixtures. On either side is a small balcony for orchestra or private parties. The kitchen is one f the best in the State. All of this is in place of the small low pitched dining room which the fire took away. uetaoinetaoshrdlutaohrdlutaoird

A new colonnade leads from White House Hall to the Student Building. It is beautful in its simplicity and it adds a very calm and classic air to the campus.

Every visitor is carried away with the lovely new buildings and the beautiful furniture which the girls have the privilege of using.

The Alumnae have more reasons than ever to be proud that they graduated from a school like S. T. C. It is progressive in every sense and as the years come it will continue to build and grow more beautiful. Our president Dr. J. L. Jarman tries in every way he can to place beauty before the eyes of the students who come and go. Cooperate with your Alma Mater by keeping in touch with it and showing your interest in any way that you can. S. T. C. needs a large Alumnae working—give it one.

There, little convulsion, don't you cry; you'll be a dance step by and by.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. F. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink
With Us
W-A-D-E-S

HARRISONBURG WINS LAST GAME OF SEASON

Farmville Girls Give Excellent Exhibition of Fight Throughout the Game

Harrisonburg wins 27—7 victory over Farmville in last game of season. The game was marked by hard, fast playing and few fouls. Our girls deserve all praise and no criticism for the game Saturday night, for where in the State could you find a team that would play so hard and with as much spirit after a series of defeats such as our girls have met? The score may have been more for visiting team in figures, but S. T. C. has a right to be proud of her sportsmanship.

There were no outstanding plays or players, each girl filling her place and doing her part to roll up the score. Harrisonburg's floor work was unusually good and receievd much praise.

When we count the scores, this has probably been the worst year S. T. C. has ever had. But if we look deeper and farther it is the most successful, for this year has been an outstanding one in sportsmanship both from the team and student body.

The line-up for the game was:

Farmville		Harrisonburg
Holland	F	Gladstone
Hardy	F	Smith
Jones (J.)	J. C.	Quisenberry
Palmer	S. C.	Nickell
Gary	G.	Cockerill
Hatchett	G.	Miller

Substitutions: White for Hatchett.

COTILLION CLUB HAS BEST DANCE OF SEASON

The arrival of telegrams, specials, trains, people on the trains, automobiles, the people in them, week-end bags, hat boxes, shrieks and shouted greetings marked the day of March 12 at S. T. C. The night was marked down in the S. T. C. history of 1926-1927 by the Cotillion Club dance given in the Recreation Hall by the members of the Club. The dance is an annual event here attended by both old and present members of the Cotillion Club and their friends as guests. It is a much anticipated affair and this year it proved particularly good.

The Recreation Hall was decorated beautifully in pastel shades which, with the addition of the many colored dresses of the girls, made a lovely scene. And while one's sense of beauty was being satisfied, one's sense of taste was delighted with the delicious punch which was served.

But of course, a dance must have an orchestra and the one which helped to make this dance a complete success was Kike Kayser's orchestra from Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

The chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Walmsley, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Coyner, Mrs. James K. Laing and Miss Myrtle Grenels.

Those who attended the dance and their escorts were, as follows:

Miss Mebane Hunt wth Mr. Henry Cabell, Jr.

Miss Louise Foster with Mr. Bruce Hunt.

Miss Margaret Mackasey with Mr. Burton Dechart.

Miss Marion Grimes with Mr. Charles Kinchloe.

Miss Elizabeth Scott with Mr. Miles Darden.

Miss Peggy Barham with Mr. Sterling Acra.

Miss Carroll Cromwell with Mr. Holmes Reinhart.

FIRST GRADE ORCHESTRA GIVES SPLENDID PROGRAM

As the curtain parted in chapel last Friday morning, we were greeted by smiling rows of children who composed the first grade orchestra. They proudly wore gay helmets and were skillfully led by a sure enough band master. At a signal the children stood with their instruments ready to play their delightful tunes. One little girl sedately changed the cards which announced the selections. During one of the songs some of the little children danced across the stage until it was hard to tell what part of the program we liked best. We enjoyed every bit of the lovely rythmical program and we predict a great future for our little first grade musicians.

Miss Evelyn Dulaney with Mr. Christian Ninienber.

Miss Virginia Boxley with Mr. Tommy Tompson.

Miss Sara Cross with Mr. Sam Nussman.

Miss Anne Feree with Mr. Irving Jordan.

Miss Katherine Hatch with Mr. Arthur Farrar.

Miss Elizabeth Hargrave with Mr. James Hargrave.

Miss Cornelia Hangar with Mr. Mike Steck.

Miss Margaret Jordan with Mr. Thomas Andrews.

Miss Jeanette Johnson with Mr. Joe Rucker.

Miss Anne Griswold McIntosh with Mr. Peter Paul Davidson.

Miss Katherine Owen with Mr. Robert Nance.

Miss Helen Shields with Mr. Walter Putney.

Miss Mildred Smith with Mr. Jordan Friedreck.

Miss Frances Taylor with Mr. S. Palmer.

Mss Helen Shields with Mr. Walter Putney.

Miss Alice Thomas wth Mr. Moffett Bowman.

Miss Barbara Willcox with Mr. L. R. Curry.

Miss Phyllis Wood with Mr. Elmo Goodwin.

Miss Alice Wimbish with Mr. Buck Jordan.

Miss Helen Willcox with Mr. Singleton Broaddus.

Miss Mildred Smith with Mr. Dabney Jarman.

Miss Louise Craft with Mr. Freean Daniels.

Miss Frances Willis with Mr. Bain Walker.

Miss Skinny Watkins with Mr. Harry Miles.

Miss Harriet Booker with Mr. Cecil Jones.

Miss Mary Tucker with Mr. Burnette, Rock Mount, N. C.

Miss Edith Asher with Mr. Cy Asher.

Miss Margaret Draper with Mr. Walter Robertson.

Miss Virginia Vincent with Mr. Charles Harding.

Miss Eleanor Zacharias with Mr. Jimmie Ayers.

Miss Mary Turnbull with Mr. Bill Harding.

Miss Spottswood Wimbish with Mr. Cabel Phillips.

Miss Dorothy Myers with Mr. Ridley Alexander.

Miss Frances Jones with Mr. Morgan Trimyer.

A motto for motorists: Say it with brakes and save one the flowers.

SOCIAL

Miss Virginia Roche, of Norfolk was the week-end guest of Miss Edith Lamphier. While here Miss Roche attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Veronica Marstellar, student at Hollins College, spent the week-end as the guest of her sister, Miss Lucy Marstellar.

* * *

Miss Olivia Staples, of Roanoke spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Mebane Hunt and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Misses Marguerite Spencer and Louise Torrence of Lynchburg were the week-end guests of Miss Mary Tucker. Both Misses Spencer and Torrence attended the Cotillion Club dance.

* * *

Misses Irene Briggs, Virginia Cowherd, Mary Alice Blanton and Margaret Leonard of Richmond spent the week-end with friends and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Margaret McCarrick of Norfolk was the week-end guest of Misses Sue Sebrell and Frances Willis.

* * *

Mrs. Jesse I Overbey and Miss Edith Overbey of Chatham spent Sunday with Misses Lucy Haile Overbey and Blanche Overbey.

* * *

Miss Helen Jones had as her guests for the week-end her sister, Miss Frances Jones of Charlottesville and Miss Katherine Thompson of Covington.

* * *

Miss Margurerite Swann of Virginia Beach spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Margaret Jordan.

* * *

Misses Mary Creecy and Fannie May Halstead of Norfolk were the week-end visitors of Miss Margaret Barham.

* * *

Miss Doris Chapman of Norfolk spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Beulah Jarvis.

* * *

Miss Charlotte Baxter had as her guest for the Cotillion Club dance Miss Florence Joyner of Petersburg.

* * *

Miss Polly Riddle of Norfolk spent the week-end with her sister Miss Bessie Meade Riddle and attended the dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Bruce Boxley of Orange spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of her sister Miss Virginia Boxley and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Alice Thomas of Roanoke returned Sunday to her home after spending the week-end as the guest of Miss Annie Gris McIntosh.

* * *

Miss Helen Shields of Roanoke spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Margaret Jordan.

* * *

Misses Elizabeth Thomas and Katherine Doughtie of Norfolk were week-end guests of Miss Anna Burgess and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Misses Anne Oakey and Lucille Barnette of Salem and Miss Mary Turnbull of Richmond spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Virginia Vincent.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY JONGLEURS ENTERTAIN

Friday night the dramatic club, commonly known as the Jongleurs, of Hampden-Sidney, gave its annual play "The Creaking Chair". Although the audience was not so large as could be desired, those fortunate enough to see the performance agree unanimously that the play was a success. In the way of plot, acting and setting it surpassed any other given by that same group of performers for some time. Most of the characters were handled with a subtle skill that delighted many of the audience. There were too many stellar roles to attempt to give credit to any one actor but there were enough good parts to give a chance to show some good bit of ability.

NEW FURNITURE

In different parts of the building we find new furniture. We like it. We are proud of it, and we want to continue having it. Our ohs! and ahs! are heard on all occasions and at any time a new table, chair or even vase is added to beautify our college buildings. However, it is not only the ohing! and ahing! that we must have if we are to get our lovely furniture from time to time. Not one of us is willing to be thought of as anything other than a college student, yet there are many times when we forget the dignity that is ours as such. Perhaps we haven't realized that the new settee will stay new much longer if we keep our feet on the floor; that the arms of the chairs will stay where they belong if we refrain from sitting on them. Furthermore if we are moving things it really doesn't help the furniture any to knock it in first one place and then another, we seemingly haven't thought—all we and is a statute and that will certainly act as a stopper in this case.

REORGANIZATION OF LITERARY SOCIETIES

A joint meeting of all six of the literary societies was held sometime ago to discuss how they could better serve their purpose in this school. The members of the societies realized that six was too large a number, and after discussion "pro" and "con" it was recommend that two of the literary societies be organized. In order to do this the names of the members of all the literary societies are to be listed alphabetically, the "odds" forming one society and the "evens" another. Other plans are being formulated which will be anounced at a later date. It is hoped that the literary societies will take their rightful lace among school organizations and mean more to the members and the college than they have ever meant before.

GIFT

I have an unseen gift for you—
For years, my dear, I've known
That some day it would go to one
Who'd love it as his own.

I've kept it pure, close in my heart
Guarded—but now what bliss
To give my gift of love to you
And seal it with a kiss!

—Julia E. Wilson

Him: "You look like a sensible girl, let's get married."

Her: "Nothing doing—I'm just as sensible as I look."

Alwyn to Dot: "I wish we were twins so we could play bridge."

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE TO HAVE EASTER HOLIDAY

Some were sick—some were teaching—some were apprenticing—others were just not there! But they all heard about "it", before "it" had scarcely been uttered! Surely you aren't wondering what "it" is! Well, here goes—in case you can't guess—"it" is Easter holiday! As I was saying, "it" arrived very unexpectedly the other day in chapel. Dr. Jarman arose to tell us to take every precaution concerning our health, in order to check this "onrush" of "flu". When all of a sudden—we found ourselves listening to an announcement of Easter holiday. We thought if we got any holiday, it would be between terms," but Dr. Jarman assured us from the very first, that we need not worry over "between terms holiday," because it was not coming.

The "it" that was to come, was Easter holiday instead, and everybody was much thrilled over "it." And after all, "it" is going to be best, because everybody who has holi(day) is at home Easter,—who's at home now? Then, too, Dr. Jarman would not have given "it" to us, had he not known that "it" was best.

I have been looking forward to "it", ever since I heard "it", and I am equally sure that the whole student body is. We all appreciate "it" and are going to "cooperate" with Dr. Jarman—and everyone concerned—so that we can make "it" the best holiday we ever had—and be back at S. T. C. "right on the dot."

PROM GIRL'S ALPHABET

A is the answer that says she will come.
B is her baggage which always is some.
C is the chaperone who hunts for the bad.
D is the word that she says when she's mad.
E is the egg she always turns down.
F is the fish who keeps hanging around.
G is the gag she tries on them all.
H is the high ball that started her fall.
I is the essential word of her speech
J is your "jack"—put it out of her reach.
K is the kick that belongs in her gin
L is the line that goes out for your pin.
M is the mash she has for your friend.
N is the no that you get in the end.
O is the oath that slips out by mistake (?)
P is the promise she gets you to make.
Q is the question. "Dick, Jack or Bill?"
R is the reason for picking out Will.
S is her smokes that make nighttime sublime.
T is the old "had a wonderful time."
U is the us, "just us two, don't you see?"
V is the victim, "You're right boy, that's me."
W is the wool she pulls over your eyes.
X is the 'xcuse for her sobs and her sighs.
Y is her yarn as she strings you along.
Z is the zoo where she says you belong.

A college is a human hothouse specializing in the sheltered rearing of persons who would be normal of they were left alone.

FOUNDERS DAY ADDRESS TRIBUTE TO DR. JARMAN

Miss Lulu O. Andrews, of Charlottesville, Praises Our President

It is a sincere pleasure and honor to have a share in such a happy and significant event as this celebration of Founders Day. The members of the program committee have my grateful thanks for the part they have assigned to me. It is always a delightful privilege to pay honor to whom honor is due," but it was never a more congenial undertaking than now, when I am asked to speak in appreciation of Dr. Jarman's services to this college during his twenty five years as president. My only shadow of regret comes from my knowledge of the embarrasing and uncomfortable quarter of an hour it will give this modest man to hear himself and his work openly appraised.

Dr. Jarman is not at all aware of what I am about to do. The topic on the program is purposeful camouflage, designed to cover up a secret, such a mystery as one must always find in connection with anniversaries and birthdays. My topic might be more truly called A Portrait of Our President, and he, perforce, must make the best grace of this public sitting, since he happens

"To be that sort of man
Which the world loves to honor
Whenever it can"

Had he the opportunity to speak just here, he would probably insist, with Cromwell, "Paint me just as I am, scars and all." When he sees himself, however, as others see him, he "may not believe his own eyes," for he is the least self-conscious of men, and the traits we regard as unusual he himself looks upon as mere matters of fact, so inherently natural are they My only desire is to paint so true a likeness that everyone must say, "How exactly like Dr. Jarman! She hasn't flattered him one "bit!"

Let us disposeof those "scars" in shrot order. You may rest assured that they are all honorable scars, gained only through hard struggle and perfectly fair fights. Moreover, they are, every one, in front, for he has always courageously faced every difficulty and danger. Not once has he turned his back upon any problem or upon any foe of this college. Not one scar that he wears is result of any criminal weakness or any treachery on his own part. So much for scars!

Never shall I forget that winter morning in 1902, when the retiring president presented to us, early chapel service, our next president. Few of us knew the retiring young college professor from a distant section of the State. When he entered the door, every eye was fixed upon him in eager expectance, and he shrank into his seat as if he felt that piercing gaze. As he greeted his new college family with shy reluctance and unsteady voice, his excessive modesty made an impression that has remained indelible through a quarter of a century. Not once in twenty-five years has he been guilty of the spectacular; never, in all that time, upon chapel platform or in the more private councils of the faculty room, has he made a single claim or plea for himself; never, for one instant, has he sounded even the faintest note of self-praise or self-advertisement by reminding his hearers of the great things he has done for the school and the State. He has lived his life and done his work, and left both to speak for themselves. As a publicity agent for himself he is, always has been, always will be, an utter but glorious failure.

His outstanding modesty, however, has by no means destroyed a healthy and proper self-esteem nor engendered any poisonous self-distrust or benumbing doubt of his own capacities. He has, from the first, possessed a clear but truly humble faith in himself and his ideals, and has shown a quiet but unfaltering purpose to give his plans and dreams worthy and lasting shape.

Such modesty and faith were not born of themselves. We should be gravely remiss if we failed to trace these controlling characteristics to their real source. Almost coincident with our early discovery of these traits was our conviction that here was a man who could be trusted to the utmost, a man who had learned that hard thing described by Emerson as "being simple enough to be good." A little story that I love will illustrate my meaning. It is the account of an apple tree at the foot of a rocky hillside orchard in Vermont. Even in the driest season, when all other trees failed. this one continued to drop its glowing fruit over the stone wall into the dusty highway to delight the wayfarer. A careful study of the tree and its surroundings at last revealed the secret of its gracious fruitfulness. There was, at its roots, a hidden spring, which had trickled down, under the surface, from the slope above. It was "in touch with sources of inexhaustible supply." Nobody who has known Dr. Jarman at all well can doubt that the springs of his highly productive personality and idealism must lie far back in the secret places, in the high places, of strong Christian faith. He has, in consequence, made to this college, first of all, the supreme gift of "a man of life upright."

Schlegel is right: "A man acts so because he is so." His achievement is the fruit of his own personality. And personality is the highest thing we know. We reverence it so very much that we have fashioned the God whom we worship in terms of personality. The biggest and finest thing in any institution ought to be the personality of the man who guides it Yet to be worth anything, personality, with its deep sympathy, good taste, and fine feeling, must be active,—must make itself known and felt, must be embodied in some concrete form.

Let no one suppose that because of Dr. Jarman's unbroken silence about himself he has gone "piteouslyl unexpressed." He has expressed himself fully and richly in everything we see on this campus. To realize the worth and scope of this material achievement, let me show you a "flash-back" of what you could find here twenty-five ears ago. There was the one central building, though it had no over-arching dome, no lofty columned portico, no surrounding arcades. There was one wing at each side extending forward, another wing extending back from the center, a small new wing for the gymnasium. In the corner, just opposite the Episcopal church, was a small building, once a dwelling, used as the administrative building and the home of the training school. Behind the main building was the present science building, in its first very inadequate stage. And that was all! Three barrack-like buildings in one small town block!

Yet in this restricted area had gone on, for eighteen years, under three strong presidents, a very high grade of educational work. In the institution he had inherited, the new president was quick to see, and appreciate the strong, healthy, sturdy roots for future growth. he began to study his own school--a very unobtrusive but persevering man he was. Very soon he began that intensive cultivation which has brought to pass abundant fruits we now see. And how fascinating it was to watch everything outgrow its old bounds, and demand more and more space for the vigorous push of expanding life We have but to look about us to measure the results. Three blocks now, filled with many new buildings, and all that remains of the old com- This includes the fulfillment of a lovely dream—the new Student Building, a place of rich service and of most satisfying beauty Two dreams, we might say, since the fire made necessary the charming new dining room wing.

Dr. Jarman told me at dinner this evening, when I spoke in admiration of the beautiful dining room, "I planned this building on the Sunday following the fire on Saturday." I could but think that holy day must account for the for the place and serenity, the repose and dignity of that impressive room. I am happily certain, indeed, that one of the greatest gifts of the presidents during all this growth has been his exquisite taste. If "beauty born of murmuring sound" can pass into a face, we may be equally sure that the beauty of one's daily surroundings on a college campus can pass into mind and heart and deeply influence one's whole life and character This, I think, helps to account for the evident happiness we find here. This, again, helps to explain how Dr. Jarman has succeeded, during such marked growth, in completely "avoiding the doom of expanding mediocrity" as Dr. Hamilton Holt recently expressed it his inaugural address at Rollins College.

This outer growth was not an end in itself, for the real worth of an institution cannot be rightly judged by houses and lands. It must be measured by the soul that animates it, by its desire and ability to serve the people among whom it is located. It was an irresistible pressure from within, the ever-acreasing demands of greater service to the schools of Virginia that stretched material boundaries and pushed up new buildings to meet the imperative needs of a fast-growing student group—three hundred girls twenty five years ago, a thousand now.

But all this did not come by magic. Since this is, above all, a working world,

"Nothing under the sun
Merely happens; things are done"

A great doer and builder like Dr. Jarman must have a great capacity for unremitting labor. Such an insatiable appetite for work has he shown that one is tempted to believe that he must have taken as his motto the old jingle,

"Lay out more than you can do,
Then do it.
Bite off more than you can chew,
Then chew it.
Hitch your wagon to a star,
Keep your seat and there you are"

Of if we wish to describe his passion for work in loftier and more serious terms, we may sincerely use Lowell's.

"The longer on this earth we live
And weigh the various qualities of men. . .
The more we feel the high stern featured beauty
Of plain devotedness to duty,
Steadfast and still, nor paid with mortal praise,
But finding ample recompense
For life's ungarlanded expense
In work done squarely and unwasted days."

But I can just feel Dr. Jarman's protesting thought: "I didn't do all this alone!"

No he didn't. He had help, fine help,from his co-workers. But it was his leadership that draw it out in directing every effort toward one great end. There are plenty who know to direct others, but are unable to lead them. Their one notion of cooperation is for everybody to get together and do exactly as they are told. The have no experience with and very little aptitude for the more democratic idea of cooperation as it established by equal contributive effort, making use of all differences in talent and of all diverse views.

Many of our colleges have, in effect, a monarchial or aristocratic form of organization. Many are directed by men accustomed to a high individualism in the management of affairs, unaccustomed to confer, or to give reasons for what they do,—men who have made too much of the power of dictation and restraint, and not enough of sympathetic guidance and genuine cooperation.

To me, personally, the most unusual and distinguished thing about Dr. Jarman is that he has never yet attempted to practice "the way of Caesar" in education. He has shown us that the only way to make authority safe is to make it righteous.

The love of power is no doubt natural, in some form or other, to every human being, but it may be a high and noble trait, or it ma be a low and debased one. The sure test of any man is the kind of power he loves and the use that he makes of it. No perils are so subtle and so dangerous as those that beset persons in authority. We are assured that

Authority intoxicates . .
The fumes of it invade the brain
And make men giddy, proud, and vain."

We have contented ourselves with a very low plane of ethical thinking and ethical performance in this matter of personal authority. Dr. Jarman has led the way, in this matter, to higher ground, and has shown us a college executive steeped in the democratic spirit. He has escaped the injury of authority because he has never been a self-seker; he has been absolutely free from the voice of personal ambition; he has always been ready to sacrifice his own individual interest to his sense of obligation; he has been conscientious and considerate in leadership, and inflexible in integrity.

Whatever he may have lost by such a course in so-called power, he has undoubtedly gained in love and in whole-hearted, enthusiastic cooperation. He has had no worry over the poblems of loyalty, for justice and generosity in authority win and hold undying loyalty and allegiance.

We hear the queustion repeatedly asked todoy,—"Are American colleges corrupters of youth?" Not, we may confidently assert, when so builded and so administered.

But even with such noteworthy achievement to his credit, Dr. Jarman no doubt heartily agrees with Thomas A. Edison: "It's what is ahead that interests me not the past." Though he has made so many of his dreams come true, not all are yet fulfilled. Some day we shall find here a beautiful library, one of "learning's lonely towers of light." Some day we shall gather here in a greater auditorium, a fitting home for the true Spirit of Togetherness so characteristic of this place. Some day, in short, if only the State will wake up to its full obligations, Dr. Jarman will put solid and enduring foundation under all the "airy fabrics" of his visions for this College.

We can scarcely hope, in the nature of things, that Dr. Jarman will be permitted to round out another twenty-five years at the head of this school. But ten thousand former students who speak through me tonight with unabated love and loyalty. pray to Providence for as many of those years as possible. And however, short or long may be the time, all of us are sure that he will continue to be greatly distinguished for growing and for building; that he will continue to treat the talents entrusted to him as if he "owed them, not owned them;" that he will continue to have a reverent sense of his responsibility for the just and righteous use of his power as an executive; that he will ever be "an opener of doors for such as come after."

DANSANTE ENJOYED SATURDAY AFTERNOON

From the stir and bustle and the subdued excitement that pervaded the college Saturday anyone could have foreseen big things in store. And big things there were, too, for Kike Kayser was playing from three to six under the auspices of the German Club of Hampden-Sidney, for a dansante. The fact that "Kike" was playing would have given proof alone that the affair was a success, but added to that the fact that there were pretty girls and graceful dancers assures us of its success. To say that it was enjoyable would be putting it mildly—'twas superb!

TWO POEMS FROM YEATS

Song from The Land of Heart's Desire

The wind blows out of the gates of day,
The wind blows over the lonely of heart,
And the lonely of heart is withered away
While the fairies dance in a place apart,
Shaking their milk-white feet in a ring,
Tossing their milk-white arms in the air;
For they hear the wind laugh and murmur and sing
Of a land where even the old are fair,
And even the wise are merry of tongue;
But I heard a reed of Coolaney say,
"When the wind has laughed and murmured and sung,
The lonely of heart is withered away."

—William Butler Yeats

When You Are Old

When you are old and grey and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;

How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love false or true;
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you,
And loved, the sorrows of your changing face.

And bending down the glowing bars
Murmur, a little sadly, how love fled
And placed upon the mountains overhead
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars.

—William Butler Yeats

Mebane: "Do you know Dr. Jarman pays $800 a month electric light bill for this school?"

Edith Lamphier: $800! Well, imagine paying that much money to put light on the subject."

"NOT A GREEN WILLOW"

Not a green willow, veiled to hide her weeping,
Not a shiny aspen, trembling and afraid,
Not a white birch tree, beautiful and lonely—
Let none of these be planted at my head,
I would forget, when I at last am sleeping,
All that there are mourning in solitude and tears,
I would have done with memory,a nd it only
But in hushed peace throughout the waning years.
Give me an oak, by bitter storms unriven,
Earth-rooted deep, but striving towards the stars,
Fearless and tender, in the gray dust wearing
Shadowy cloaks to cover ancient scars.
There let me lie, and know that death has given
All that I sought and never found in life—
Strength for a shelter, solace for long grieving,
Rest after labor, quiet after strife.

J Johnson, Alumnae

GIRLS IN SCHOOL WHOSE SISTERS ARE ALUMNAE

Nellie Covver	Helen A. Covver
Arnald Barrett	Mabel Barrett
Ida Wells	Addie M. Wells Edith Wells Mary Lee Wells
Thelma Williams	Frances Williams Wilma Williams
Louise Rothrock	Elizabeth Rothrock
Helen Costan	Angeline Costan
Louise McCormick	Eleanor McCormick
Florence Cleaton	Mary D. Cleaton
Eloise Chappell	Myrtle Chappell Lucile Chappell
Jeanette Morris	Mildred Morris
Katherine Ward	Evelyn Ward
Sallie Carter	Bettie Carter
Gladys Giddens	Katie Giddens
Madeline Hill	Ida Hill Dama Hill
Katharne Womack	Mary Womack Ida B. Womack
Sara Spiers	Alma Lee Spiers
Penlope Murdock	Katherine Murdock
Alice Hay	Helen Hay Mary Hay
Florence Corinne	Mary E. Gallup
Elsie Micheaux	Byrd Micheaux Frances Micheaux
Yates Crowder	Edna Crowder Catherine Crowder
Bessie M. Riddle	Catherine Riddle Polly Riddle
Agnes Trotter	Lovell Trotter Virginia Trotter
Frances Woodhouse	Virginia Woodhouse

GIRLS IN SCHOOL WHOSE MOTHERS ARE ALUMNAE

Katherine Ward	Annie Smitherson
Katherine Davis	Helen Percival
Sallie Carter	Kate Overton
Elizabeth Truitt	Laura Van Ness
Elizabeth Eichelberger	Emma LeCato
Jeanette Morris	Hattie O'Mel
Eloise Chappell	Janie Staples

DISILLUSIONMENT

Carefully, slowly, I picked a flower;
Carefully and tenderly I held it dear,
But as it bloomed,
I found my flower
Dead in the sunshine,
Wet by a tear.

Frances Willis

MARRIAGES

This list includes those who have been married recently and also those whose married names we are just hearing about. The next time you are married won't you please send us an announcement so we can keep our records to date?

Charlotte Anderson '23 is now Mrs. Eaton. She lives in Detroit.

Mary Baber '23 to Mr. Junius W. Ellett, of Pocahontas, Va. Mr. Ellett attended University of Richmond and is a member of P. K. A. fraternity.

Gilllette Bagby '11 is Mrs. Vaughan. She is living in Stevensville.

Grace Bailey '23 to Dr. Gilmer G. Holland, of Holand, Va.

Charlotte Baird '20 Mr. George B. Ferrebee, Jr., of Norfolk.

Grace Bargamin '21 Mr. Walter F. Bohannon.

Elizabeth Barrow '25 to Mr. T. Clifton McDowell, Alberta, Va.

Louise Bates '24 to Mr. Robert N. Woodall, Lynchburg.

Frances Beadles '24 to Mr. William Albert Cook, Bristol, Tenn.

Elizabeth Bowden '24 to Mr. Carrington Galt.

Maybelle Brooks '18 to Mr. J. L. Early, Sarasota, Florida.

Bessie Bucher '14 to Mr. Wm. D. Pike, New York City.

Clara Burch to Mr. Eugene Reid, Russelvlle, Ala.

Rebecca Burgess '25 to Mr. Hollis Hill of the Navy.

Marion Jessie Byrd '24 to Mr. Derby, of Portsmouth.

Kitty Carroll '23 to Mr. Robert Blair Price, formerly of Farmville, but now living in Ohio.

Mary Ethel Cleek '14 to Mr. Ira T. Ritenour, an alumnus of W. and L. and now engaged in extensive wheat growing in Conrad Montana.

Lell Cox '18 to Mr. John Goodwin. Jr., Isle of Wight, Va.

Frances Clarke '26 to Mr. Roy W. Sexton. Frances is teaching at Selma, N. C., and Mr. Sexton is continuing his studies at V M. I.

Vernah Bell Collie '18 to Mr. W. F. Williams, Cobbs Creek, Va.

Derilda Elizabeth Crowe '25 to Mr. John R. White, Roanoke, Va.

Mary French Day '05 to Mr. Jesse A. Parker, Wantagh, Long Island, N. Y.

Cornelia Diggs '18 to Mr. Walter A. Sneed, Hampton, Va.

Arah Easterday '18 to Mr. John D. Dishman, Pocahontas, Va.

Elizabeth Ewald '15 to Mr. Clarence Lively, Portsmouth, Va.

Lucie Marie Farrar '23 to Mr. P. H. Bradshaw, Rocky Mount, N. C.

Juliette Ford, '20 to Mr. John W. Brooks, Lynchburg, Va.

Annie Sue Fulton '16 to Mr. J. Myron Clark, Stuart, Va.

Frances Gannaway '20 to Mr. Wm. A. Moon, Miami, Florida.

Betty Green '20 to Mr. S. D. Craig, Petersburg, Va.

Mary Grice Hall '26 to Mr. Herbert L. Duff, Newsoms, Va.

Winifred Healey '24 to Mr. Andrew T. Canada of Roanoke, Va.

Rube Heatwole '23 to Mr. Wm. R. Jennings, Johnson City, Tenn.

Sara Hughes '21 to Mr. Wm. C. Revercomb, Charleston, W. Va.

Ann Jester '24 to Mr. Clement S. Pipping, Harrisburg, Pa.

Nell E. Jones '23 to Mr. Robert A. Hicks, Port Royal, Va.

Mary Kibler '25 to Mr. Walter M. Welch, Friendsville, Md.

Isabel Kinenar '19 to Mr. Buckley S. Griffin, Washington, D. C.

Geneva Lionberger '26 to Mr. O. F. Blackwelder, Baltimore, Md.

Bessie Marshall '12 to Mr. Richard Messer, Richmond, Va.

Mable Mays '24 to Mr. John E. Scott, Craddock, Va.

(Continued on last page)

WHAT OUR ALUMNAE ARE DOING AT PRESENT

The following alumnae are teaching in Norfolk: Altie Chappell, Virgina Hall, Ruth Winn, Wilba Williams, Grace Dickerson, Margaret Moore, Jean West, Kathleen Morgan, Elizabeth Diehl, Emily Calcott, Margaret Fuller, Mildred Amory, Ellen Moses, Rose Powell, Helen Cohen, Mable Patterson, and Polly Riddle.

The following are teaching in Portsmouth: Lois Williams, Carrie Spradlin, Pauline Timberlake, Audrey Chewning, May Horton, Katherine Timberlake, Laura Holmes, Isabel Bilisoly, Sue Roper, Miriam Robinson, Grace Moormaw, an Stewart, Elizabeth Dowry, Rosalie Weise, Portia Spencer, Gertrude Bain, Mary Louise Deans, Alce Ponton, Nettie McNutty, Hattie Ponton, and Maxine Lucas.

Miss Virginia Bain of '18, after visiting her sister, Mrs. Gordon Lightner (Amelia Bain '16) in Hawaii, has returned to her home in Portsmouth and is teachng there.

The following alumnae are now teaching in Kenbridge: Louise Mitchell, Mrs. C. H. Crowder (Lizzie Hawthorne), Agnes Cary, Anna Allen and Ida Hill.

Rosa Lee Maddux is teaching near Keysville.

Gladys Moses is teaching in Chester.

Julia Stover is teaching in Oxford, N. C.

Mildred Ragsdale is teaching in Powhatan.

Alice R. Boisseau is teaching in Cypress Chapel.

Katherine Crowder is teachng in DeWitt.

Lucy E. Boisseau is teaching in Cypress Chapel.

Odelle Snead is teaching in Victoria.

Mildred Folston is teaching in New York.

Willie Cross Riddick is teaching in Holland.

Agnes Riddick is teaching in Cypress Chapel.

Sadie Bradshaw is teaching near Suffolk.

Louise Dix is teaching in Stevenson.

Pearl Phibbs is teaching in Petersburg.

Jessie Bennett is teaching in Danville.

Clara Anthony is teaching in Danville.

Gladys Poe is teaching in Danville.

Ruth Campbell is teaching in Culpeper.

Virginia Tinsley is teaching in Mitchel.

Bertha Spradlin is teaching in Danville.

Frances Jones is teaching in Charlottesville.

Bermia Bowie is teaching in Alexandria.

Fernell Patlow is teaching in Shenandoah.

Thelma Thomas is teaching in Alexandria.

Mrs. Herald G. Brown, formerly Helen Miller is living in in Culpeper.

Thelma Woofolk is teaching in Spartan. Mary Tony is teaching in Hanover Court House.

Floyd Farer is teaching in Ringgold.

Susie Watson is teaching in Cullen.

Nancy Huyett is librarian in New York.

Mrs. George Wilmon, formerly Mary Quarles lives in Akron, Ohio.

Dorothy Leach is teaching in Ashland.

Mrs. Robert Gillespie, formerly Sallie May Gray, is now living in Ohio.

Jean Mitchell is teaching in Petersburg.

Continued on last page

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

WHAT ALUMNAE ARE DOING

Continued from page three

Louise Branch is teaching at Richmond.

Sallie Hardy is teaching in Wise County.

Katherine Murdock is teaching at Chester.

Mamie Ayers is teaching in Franklin.

Kate Trent is supervisor at Fredericksburg.

Gertrude Quinn is teaching in Roanoke.

Helen McHenry is teaching at Natural Bridge.

Mrs. Charlie Hawthorne, formerly Eva Arvin, lives at Kenbridge.g

Katherine Cary is teaching in Kenbridge.

Bess Rush and Kathleen Saville are at Teachers College, Columbia University, this sssion.

Carrie Sutherlin was granted her M. A. at Columbia last June and has resumed her position in the English Department at the College.

Elizabeth Bugg and Mary Vaughan of the degree girls of '26 are now members of the faculty. Elizabeth is assistant in Nature study and Geography and Mary is in the department of Music.

Anne Meredith is now a member of our Mathematics department.

Page Trent is teaching in the School for the Blind at Gooding, Idaho.

Kate Trent is critic teacher in the second grade at the college at Fredericksburg.

Rosa Maria Maldanado is teaching Spanish in the college of St. Rose, Albany, N. Y.

Bessie Gordon Jones is supervisor of the rural training school at Rice.

Lessie Lea is working on her master's degree at Peabody.

Lillian Minor, Georgianna Stephenson, Dreama Chambers, Lucy Davis, Ethel LaBoyteaux, Ella Hammock, Mary Savedge and Ethel Rhodes are former students who returned to school this year to continue work on their degrees.

Lucy Irving, after being at home in Farmville for a year has returned to Porto Rico.

At a meeting of the Mission Board of the Methodist Church, South, held in Nashville, twenty-three young women were accepted for missionary work. One of them was our Ruth Bartholomew.

Elizabeth Jarratt has been made elementary superintendent for the Virginia Methodist Conference Sunday school board. She has taken courses at Columbia University and at the University of Virginia. She also is a gold seal graduate of the standard training course.

While traveling in a passenger airplane from Paris to London last summer, Victoria and Mildred Vaiden were slightly injured when the pilot was attempting to make a forced landing on account of fog. The accident occurred near Folkstone, England.

Flementine Pierce enjoyed a trip in Russia last summer.

Ethel and Bee LaBoyteax are planning to travel abroad this summer.

Miss Marguerite Wilson '04, principal of Jackson School, Mrs. Ann Wilkinson Cox, supervisor of writing, and Miss Bessie Barclay, supervisor of drawing in the Newport News schools, recently spent a week-end at school, guests of Miss Mary White Cox and Miss Mary B. Haynes.

Farmville is well represented in the various sections of the Virginia State Teachers Association. Dr. Jarman was president of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

TOTAL CONTRIBUTIONS GIVEN FOUNDERS DAY

Seniors	$100.00
Juniors	$150.00
Sophomores	$500.00
Freshman	$400.00
Total from classes	$1150.00
1926 Degree Class	$94.00
Farmville Alumnae Chapter	$240.00
Lynchburg Alumnae Chapter	$25.00
Staunton Alumnae Chapter	$33.00
Norfolk	$32.00
Faculty	$400.00
Woman's Club	$25.00
Junior Woman's Club	$15.00
Dramatic Club	$200.00
Monogram Club	$50.00
Eastern Shore Club	$25.00
Debating Club	$10.00
French Circle	$14.00
Phi Kappa Omega Sorority	$25.00
Southwest Virginia Club	$5.00
Lunenburg Club	$5.00
"Chi"	$5.00
Pan-Hellenic Association	$410.00
High School Athletic Club	$10.00
By mail	$359.00
Amount paid in since last Founders Day, 1926	$9,969.56

ENJOYABLE PROGRAM ON FOUNDERS DAY

(Continued from page one)

was a solo by Miss Alma Smith accompanied, on the piano, by Miss Nancy Denit.

Immediately following Miss Smith's vocal selection, Miss Lulu O. Andrews of Charlottesville, former member of our faculty gave a brief but beautiful appreciation of Dr. Jarman's administration during the last twenty-five years. Miss Andrews brought out the fine character of our leader, how he has met face to face, every issue which has confronted him, never once turning his back upon the situation, to his high ideals, to his confidence in people and to his keen insight into the future. Miss Andrews attributed the fact that from the moment of his arrival at S. T. C. things began to happen and have continued to happen during the entire twenty-five years that he has directed the affairs of our college. The expression of the desire that the future may hold as much for him as the past has held and that he may continue to be an "opener of doors" concluded the delightful talk in which Miss Andrews expressed what was in the minds and hearts of all who know Dr. Jarman.

Miss Louise Brewer read an editoral which appeared in the Richmond News Leader for March 6 in which the splendid character and work of Jarman were praised.

Miss Elizabeth Hairston then rendred a piano solo after which Dr. Jarman talked for several minutes upon what he expected to accomplish in the years that are to be. He concluded the evening's program by saying that if he should continue to feel as he did on that night that he should be here for another twenty-five years.

Marie Sutton, president, Katie Porter 2nd vice-president and Gertrude Quinn, secretary-treasurer of the Kindergarten-primary group.

Miss Welhelmina London, president of the English section.

Lottie Thorpe, president Health and Physical Education.

Zaidee Smith, president of the History Teachers' section.

Miss Lila London, secretary-treasurer of the Mathematics section.

Mrs. Ann Wilkinson Cox, second vice-president of the Writing section.

Reva Graves of Lynchburg had an artcle published in the February issue of the Normal Instructor.

MARRIAGES

Continued from page three

Maria Meredith '21 to Mr. Alfred W. Turner, Ashland, Va.

Katherine Montague '25 to Mr. Clarke T. Cooper, Winchester, Va.

Mary Wood '14 to Mr. Richard S. Randolph, Richmond, Va.

Mollie Moore '17 to Mr. John Clarke Bondurant, Farmville, Va.

Frances Morton '23 to Mr. Baxter Brckhouse, Fentress, Va.

Harriet Munoz to Mr. Charles A. Riddle, Washington, D. C.

Bettie Murfee to (Rev.) Dr. T. Bronson Ray. Bettie is also an alumna of W. & M. Her husband is secretary of the foreign mission board of the Baptist church in Richmond.

Mary Peele '17 to Mr. J. F. Little, Norfolk, Va.

Ellen Peters '23 to Mr. Norman M. Bolton, Fincastle, Va.

Jessie Pitland '23 to Mr. John Howard Brooks.

Mary Ponton '19 to Mr. Thomas Webb, Portsmouth, Va.

Sarah Porter '21 to Mr. John C. Bussey, Portsmouth, Va.

Hettie Richardson '21 to Mr. John G. Ellis, Ashland, Va.

Josephine Rollins, '18 to Mr. Wm. Letch, Covington, Va.

Elizabeth Rothrock '24 to Mr. Gerald R. Blount, Raleigh, N. C.

Christine Shields '22 to Mr. R. V. Speck, Paducah, Ky.

Alice H. Smith, '16 to Mr. H. M. Starke, Jr., Richmond, Va.

Florence E. Smith '17 to Mr. Jessie Tucker, Norton, Va.

Mary Meade Southall '20 to Mr. G. E. Borron, Richmond, Va.

Elizabeth Steger '23 to Mr. G. H. Driscoll, Easterville, Va.

Belle Sterling, '10 to Mr. Dale Norfolk, Va.

Anna Belle Treakle '22 to Mr. W. T. James, Jr., Fredericksburg, Va.

Gladys Tucker '17 to Mr. R. B. Rollins, Charleston, W. Va.

Virginia Venable '23 to Mr. Lyttleton Waddell, Charlottesville Va.

Mary Tidewell to Mr. Guy C. Summers, Roanoke, Va.

Agnes Margurite Carroll to Mr. T. D. Cannion, St. Louis, Mo.

Kathleen Riley '98 to Mr. Charles E. Gage, Falls Church, Va.

Give a little, live a little, try a little mirth;
Sing a little, bring a little happiness to earth.
Pray a little, play a little, be a little glad;
Rest a little, jest a little if the heart is sad.
Spend a little, send a little to another door;
Give a little, live a little, love a little more.

ALUMNAE ENTERTAINED

On March 5, a tea was given in the Lounge of the Student Building from 4 to 6 by the Farmville alumnae for all of the visiting alumnae. About one hundred of the visiting alumnae were served. A color scheme of pink and yellow was carried out. Those assisting in serving were: Miss Winnie Hiner, Mrs. Laing, Mrs S. Watkins, Miss Bugg, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Cocks.

DEATHS

It is with deep regret that we record the following names of those of our number who have passed away

Mrs. Sudie Marable Scales
Martha Hoy
Mrs. Lucy Bidgood Fleming
Mrs. Edna Lorena Minton Blakemore
Virginia Anderson
Eles Everett

The Talk of the School About Our Dresses

Now on Sale

$9.95 AND $12.98

Values up to $25.00

Many girls bought two and three dresses at a time. There is a reason. Don't Fail to Get Yours

Greenberg's Dept. Store

Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store

—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

At The Eaco Next Week

MON.—Greta Garbo, Antonio Moreno and Lionel Barrymore in "THE TEMPTRESS. A big special production from the story by Vincente Blasco Ibanez. A brilliant and romantic story that flashes across the world from the wilderness of South America to the gilded capitals of the continent, where beauty and wealth flirt madly in the drama of life. Tis picture is playing to packed houses whereever shown. You should not miss it! Also Pathe News. Mat at 4 o'clock.

TUES.—Buck Jones in "THE FLYING HORSEMAN." This is a sixty mile an hour, thrill a minute, laugh a second Western drama that will keep you on the edge of your seat. This is an unusually good Jones Picture just packed with action and thrills. Also good comedy.

WED. & THURS.—Rudolph Valentino and Alice Terry with a great supporting cast in Ibanez' THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALPSE". There were more requests from the public for the reissuing of this picture than for any other picture ever produced and everywhere it is now showing to packed houses. It has been shown here before but most of those who have seen it will want to see it again. This is the greatest picture of the greatest lover of the screen. It is not likely that you will ever have an opportunity to see Valentino again on the screen. The critics consider this The wonder picture of all time. Do not allow the opportunity to slip by without seeing the picture. Comedy each day. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

FRI. & SAT.—Richard Dix and Esther Ralston in WOMANHANDLED a Paramount picture from the Saturday Evening Post story by Arthur Stringer. (the answer to "Manhandled") He said he was a real he-man from the West—and she called his bluff. The critics said about this picture, "A breezy comedy-drama, the kind that make one laugh heartily from the beginning almost to the end. Good for any theatre." This means that the picture will please nearly one hundred percent of those who see it. Also good comedy. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

S. T. C. Admission prices Mon. Mat. and night 35c. Other shows 25c

Are You Thinking About Coming Elections? Read the Editorials!

THE ROTUNDA

POE

St. Patrick's Day Is Today

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1927 Number 22

HARRISONBURG WINS LAST GAME OF SEASON

Farmville Girls Give Excellent Exhibition of Fight Throughout the Game

Harrisonburg wins 27—7 victory over Farmville in last game of season. The game was marked by hard, fast playing and few fouls. Our girls deserve all praise and no criticism for the game Saturday night, for where in the State could you find a team that would play so hard and with as much spirit after a series of defeats such as our girls have met? The score may have been more for visiting team in figures, but S. T. C. has a right to be proud of her sportsmanship.

There were no outstanding plays or players, each girl filling her place and doing her part to roll up the score. Harrisonburg's floor work was unusually good and receievd much praise.

When we count the scores, this has probably been the worst year S. T. C. has ever had. But if we look deeper and farther it is the most successful, for this year has been an outstanding [illegible] sportsmanship both from the team and student body.

The line-up for the game was:

Farmville		Harrisonburg
Holland	F	Gladstone
Hardy	F	Smith
Jones (J.)	J. C.	Quisenberry
Palmer	S. C.	Nickell
Gary	G.	Cockerill
Hatchett	G.	Miller

Substitutions: White for Hatchett.

COTILLION CLUB HAS BEST DANCE OF SEASON

The arrival of telegrams, specials, trains, people on the trains, automobiles, the people in them, week-end bags, hat boxes, shrieks and shouted greetings marked the day of March 12 at S. T. C. The night was marked down in the S. T. C. history of 1926-1927 by the Cotillion Club dance given in the Recreation Hall by the members of the Club. The dance is an annual event here attended by both old and present members of the Cotillion Club and their friends as guests. It is a much anticipated affair and this year it proved particularly good.

The Recreation Hall was decorated beautifully in pastel shades which, with the addition of the many colored dresses of the girls, made a lovely scene. And while one's sense of beauty was being satisfied, one's sense of taste was delighted with the delicious punch which was served.

But of course, a dance must have an orchestra and the one which helped to make this dance a complete success was Kike Kayser's orchestra from Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

The chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Walmsley, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Coyner, Mrs. James K. Laing and Miss Myrtle Grenels.

FIRST GRADE ORCHESTRA GIVES SPLENDID PROGRAM

As the curtain parted in chapel last Friday morning, we were greeted by smiling rows of children who composed the first grade orchestra. They proudly wore gay helmets and were skillfully led by a sure enough band master. At a signal the children stood with their instruments ready to play their delightful tunes. One little girl sedately changed the cards which announced the selections. During one of the songs some of the little children danced across the stage until it was hard to tell what part of the program we liked best. We enjoyed every bit of the lovely rythmical program and we predict a great future for our little first grade musicians.

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE TO HAVE EASTER HOLIDAY

Some were [illegible] teaching—some were apprenticing—others were just not there! But they all heard about "it", before "it" had scarcely been uttered! Surely you aren't wondering what "it" is! Well, her[illegible] you can't guess "it" is Easter holiday! As I was saying, "it" arrived very unexpectedly the other day in chapel. Dr. Jarman arose to tell us to take every precaution concerning our health, in order to check this "onrush" of "flu". When all of a sudden—we found ourselves listening to an announcement of Easter holiday. We thought if we got any holiday, it would be between terms," but Dr. Jarman assured us from the very first, that we need not worry over "between terms holiday," because it was not coming.

The "it" that was to come, was Easter holiday instead, and everybody was much thrilled over "it." And after all, "it" is going to be best, because everybody who has holi(day) is at home Easter,—who's at home now? Then, too, Dr. Jarman would not have given "it" to us, had he not known that "it" was best.

I have been looking forward to "it", ever since I heard "it", and I am equally sure that the whole student body is. We all appreciate "it" and are going to "cooperate" with Dr. Jarman—and everyone concerned—so that we can make "it" the best holiday we ever had—and be back at S. T. C. "right on the dot."

GIFT

I have an unseen gift for you—
For years, my dear, I've known
That some day it would go to one
Who'd love it as his own

I've kept it pure, close in my heart
Guarded—but now what bliss
To give my gift of love to you
And seal it with a kiss!

—Julia E. Wilson

Alwyn to Dot: "I wish we were twins so we could play bridge."

SAINT PATRICK

Many of us wake up on a bright morning in March—never suspecting that the day is of any importance at all. We hear the name Patrick which causes us to put on a green dress, find a green ribbon—or just put anything on that is green. And why do we do this? Little do any of us know that in this simple way we are really honoring the patron saint of Ireland.

Saint Patrick was born about the year 389. His home was somewhere near the Seevrn where he lived until he was about sixteen years old. When about sixteen Patrick was carried off by a band of Irish marauders. He tended herds for a chieftain until he was taken as a captive again. His bondage lasted for six years. During this time he became subject to religious emanation and beheld visions which encouraged him to effect his escape. He served for a time at a monastery. From then his life was given to the church.

His importance in the history of Ireland and the Irish Church consists in the fact that he brought Ireland in touch with western Europe and more particularly with Rome, and that he introduced Latin in Ireland as the language of the church. His work consisted largely in organizing the Christian societies which he found in existence on his arrival, and in planting the faith in regions such as the extreme west of Connaught which had not yet come under the sway of the gospel.

Would it not be well for us, on March 17, to give more thought to Ireland's patron saint, who gave so much to his persecuted country?

DANSANTE ENJOYED SATURDAY AFTERNOON

From the stir and bustle and the subdued excitement that pervaded the college Saturday anyone could have guessed big things in store. And big things there were, too, for Kike Kayser was playing from three to six under the auspices of the German Club of Hampden-Sidney, for a dansante. The fact that "Kike" was playing would have given proof alone that the affair was a success, but added to that the fact that there were pretty girls and graceful dancers assures us of its success. To say that it was enjoyable would be putting it mildly—'twas superb!

NOTICE

The editorial published in the last issue of the Rotunda was copied from the Richmmond News Leader, of March 5. Due to an oversigt this credit was not given. The Rotunda wishes to correct this error, and state that the entire student body feels that they owe the News Leader a vite of thanks for so splendid a tribute paid to the one who comes first in our hearts—Dr. Jarman.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY JONGLEURS ENTERTAIN

Friday night the dramatic club, commonly known as the Jongleurs, of Hampden-Sidney, gave its annual play "The Creaking Chair". Although the audience was not so large as could be desired, those fortunate enough to see the performance agree unanimously that the play was a success. In the way of plot, acting and [illegible] it surpassed any other given by that same group of performers for some time. Most of the characters were handled with a subtle skill that delighted many of the audience. There were too many stellar roles to attempt to give credit to any one actor but there were enough good parts to give a chance to show some good bit of ability.

NEW FURNITURE

In different parts of the building we find [illegible] new furniture. We like it. We are proud of it, and we want to continue having it. Our chest and ahs! are heard on all occasions and at any time a new table, chair or even vase is added to beautify our college [illegible] However, it is not only the thing and things that we must have if we are to get any lovely furniture from time to time. Not one of us is willing to be caught as anything other than a college student, yet there are times when we forget the [illegible] is ours as such. Perhaps you realized that the new [illegible] new much longer. If you [illegible] get on the floor; that the [illegible] chairs will stay where they [illegible] we refrain from [illegible] further more if we are [illegible] it really doesn't help the [illegible] are to knock it in [illegible] place and then another, we seemingly haven't thought—all we and is a statute and that will certainly act as a stopper in this case.

REORGANIZATION OF LITERARY SOCIETIES

A joint meeting of all six of the literary societies was held sometime ago to discuss how they could better serve their purpose in this school. The members of the societies realized that six was too large a number, and after discussion "pro" and "con" it was recommend that two or literary societies be organized. In order to do this the names of the members of all the literary societies are to be listed alphabetically, the "odds" forming one society and the "evens" another. Other plans are being formulated which will be announced at a later date. It is hoped that the literary societies will take their rightful lace among school organizations and mean more to the members and the college than they have ever meant before.

Him: "You look like a sensible girl, let's get married."

Her: "Nothing doing—I'm just as sensible as I look."

FOUNDERS DAY ADDRESS TRIBUTE TO DR. JARMAN

Miss Lulu O. Andrews, of Charlottesville, Praises Our President

It is a sincere pleasure and honor to have a share in such a happy and significant event as this celebration of Founders Day. The members of the program committee have my grateful thanks for the part they have assigned to me. It is always a delightful privilege to pay honor to whom honor is due," but it was never a more congenial undertaking than now, when I am asked to speak in appreciation of Dr. Jarman's services to this college during his twenty five years as president. My only shadow of regret comes from my knowledge of the embarrasing and uncomfortable quarter of an hour it will give this modest man to hear himself and his work openly appraised.

Dr. Jarman is not at all aware of what I am about to do. The topic on the program is purposeful camouflage, designed to cover up a secret, such a mystery as one must always find in connection with anniversaries and birthdays. My topic might be more truly called A Portrait of Our President, and he, perforce, must make the best grace of this public sitting, since he happens

"To be that sort of man
Which the world loves to honor
Whenever it can"

Had he the opportunity to speak just here, he would probably insist, with Cromwell, "Paint me just as I am, scars and all." When he sees himself, however, as others see him, he "may not believe his own eyes," for he is the least self-conscious of men, and the traits we regard as unusual he himself looks upon as mere matters of fact, so inherently natural are they My only desire is to paint so true a likeness that everyone must say, "How exactly like Dr. Jarman! She hasn't flattered him one "bit!"

Let us disposeof those "scars" In shrot order. You may rest assured that they are all honorable scars, gained only through hard struggle and perfectly fair fights. Moreover, they are, every one, in front, for he has always courageously faced every difficulty and danger. Not once has he turned his back upon any problem or upon any foe of this college. Not one scar that he wears is result of any criminal weakness or any treachery on his own part. So much for scars!

Never shall I forget that winter morning in 1902, when the retiring president presented to us, early chapel service, our next president. Few of us knew the retiring young college professor from a distant section of the State. When he entered the door, every eye was fixed upon him in eager expectance, and he shrank into his seat as if he felt that piercing gaze. As he greeted his new college family with shy reluctance and unsteady voice, his excessive modesty made an impression that has

Continued on page 3

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor ..... EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic ..... LOUISE BREWER '27

Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers

Business Manager ..... VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant ..... ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

FLU—EXAMINATIONS—TEACHERS

Examinations and the flu are both sweeping down upon us at once. It seems to be more than we can stand! Of course, we are willing to go out to meet the exams with a good spirit, but at present every one seems to be rather dull. Now the teachers know this is not the usual case and we believe that they are going to remember that flu and exams just will not go together.

After missing three or four days from a class we feel we are far behind in the work; some of us have done the right thing by going to the infirmary and letting fate and the teacher take care of our work. Others have dragged along in class with terrible colds fearing to miss a week's work and, of course the result is nothing gained. In these two cases we can see that a large number of girls will not be up to average on their examinations.

Most of the examinations of the fall term were good ones, well organized and the questions gave us a chance to show what we had really gotten from the course. However, it is only fair to these teachers who gave good examinations to say that in some carses hard bare fact questions were asked in which numbers of dates had to be given. These examinations were very disappointing, because of the fact that there had been so much guarantee from the faculty that the exams would be broad. After this to be greeted with the old type of exams was a great disappointment.

It is hoped, that the faculty will consider the physical condition of the students and also remember the type of examination advocated by Dr. Jarman.

—0—

LET'S CLEAN THE CAMPUS.

St. Patrick helped clean out Ireland—well, St. Patrick's day is here, but sad to say we can't pursuade him to come clean us up. What do we want cleaned anyway? Well, spring is apparently here. Usually with the coming of spring we want to freshen everything up just a little. Why can't we feel this touch and clean up the campus?

Taken literally this may mean that we want all the trash piled up on the campus, that we want to stop cutting campus, that we want to give the grass a chance to grow. All of this is true, we really want to make our campus lovlier than ever this spring. We can do it, if we start trying immediately.

However, cleaning up the campus has more than a literal meaning, wouldn't it be a wonderful achievement if with our spring cleaning we could weed out some of the other undesirable things on the campus. If, for instance, we could stop the gossip and false reports that are started constantly, if we could bring about a cooperation between the various factions in school that have to work.

How ideal if we could get a system around the post office that would stop the congestion, if we could have order in the halls during prayers, if we could make a "sh-sh" in the tea room unnecessary. These are only a few of the very, very small things that if cleaned out will make our campus a more ideal one to live on.

No one person, and no one organization can accomplish all this, but if each of us will make it our business to clean up her own particular part we might be able to start with a really clean campus. Shall we make the first week of the new term a weeding out of prejudices, little undesirable habits, inconsiderate thoughts and acts? If we put on a regular "Clean Up" campaign, we won't even have a desire for the return of St. Patrick.

—0—

WHAT ARE THE QUALIFICATIONS OF A CANDIDATE?

If we're thinking in terms of the coming election, we are certain to be thinking of the eligible persons for the various offices. Each office will most naturally hold its own exacting requirements. However, there are certain qualities which should be found in an eligible person for any one of the big offices.

To begin with any student to hold a major office in school, or one of signal importance, should have at least an average scholastic standing. Otherwise she won't be capable of giving time and thought to the position she is to hold.

Aside from scholasic ability a candidate should be interested in other girls, other organizations, be familiar with the students and the situations in school. If a girl doesn't have this one prerequisite, she is hardly capable of being responsible for any organization.

A girl who is to lead others should be tolerant, willing to see another's point of view, and to recognize the right as presented in another form. Furthermore she should be willing to look for the highest rather than the baser side of things.

Self-confidence is needed if anyone is to put across any piece of work, not self-confidence to a point of conceit, but self-confidence to the point of having one's opinion and not being afraid to express it, not being afraid to plan and carry out plans for the good of the organization.

Above all, perhaps the candidate should have an active interest in the work she is to undertake, coupled with this interest an abiltiy to cooperate, and the desire to work for the good of her Alua Mater rather than fr any one organization.

While we are thinking of elections and the people who will hold our offices let's see how well they meet the standard which should be required. Think now! Don't wait until election day.

COTILLION CLUB HAS BEST DANCE OF SEASON

Continued from page 1

Those who attended the dance and their escorts were, as follows:

Miss Mebane Hunt wth Mr. Henry Cabell, Jr.

Miss Louise Foster with Mr. Bruce Hunt.

Miss Margaret Mackasey with Mr. Burton Dechart.

Miss Marion Grimes with Mr. Charles Kinchloe.

Miss Elizabeth Scott with Mr. Miles Darden.

Miss Peggy Barham with Mr. Sterling Acra.

Miss Carroll Cromwell with Mr. Holmes Reinhart.

Miss Evelyn Dulaney with Mr. Christian Ninienber.

Miss Virginia Boxley with Mr. Tommy Tompson.

Miss Sara Cross with Mr. Sam Nussman.

Miss Anne Feree with Mr. Irving Jordan.

Miss Katherine Hatch with Mr. Arthur Farrar.

Miss Elizabeth Hargrave with Mr. James Hargrave.

Miss Cornelia Hangar with Mr. Mike Steck.

Miss Margaret Jordan with Mr. Thomas Andrews.

Miss Jeanette Johnson with Mr. Joe Rucker.

Miss Anne Griswold McIntosh with Mr. Peter Paul Davidson.

Miss Katherine Owen with Mr. Robert Nance.

Miss Helen Shields with Mr. Walter Putney.

Miss Mildred Smith with Mr. Jordan Friedreck.

Miss Frances Taylor with Mr. S. Palmer.

Mss Helen Shields with Mr. Walter Putney.

Miss Alice Thomas wth Mr. Moffett Bowman.

Miss Barbara Willcox with Mr. L. R. Curry.

Miss Phyllis Wood with Mr. Elmo Goodwin.

Miss Alice Wimbish with Mr. Buck Jordan.

Miss Helen Willcox with Mr. Singleton Broaddus.

Miss Mildred Smith with Mr. Dabney Jarman.

Miss Louise Craft with Mr. Freean Daniels.

Miss Frances Willis with Mr. Bain Walker.

Miss Skinny Watkins with Mr. Harry Miles.

Miss Harriet Booker with Mr. Cecil Jones.

Miss Mary Tucker with Mr. Burnette, Rock Mount, N. C.

Miss Edith Asher with Mr. Cy Asher.

Miss Margaret Draper with Mr. Walter Robertson.

Miss Virginia Vincent with Mr. Charles Harding.

Miss Eleanor Zacharias with Mr. Jimmie Ayers.

Miss Mary Turnbull with Mr. Bill Harding.

Miss Spottswood Wimbish with Mr. Cabel Phillips.

Miss Dorothy Myers with Mr. Ridley Alexander.

Miss Frances Jones with Mr. Morgan Trimyer.

Misses Eleanor Zacharias and Mary Spiggle of Salem have returned to their homes after a visit to Misses Helen Wilcox and Sara Cross.

* * *

Mrs. C. I. Smith of Covington has returned to her home after spending several days visiting her daughter Miss Ellen Smith.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink With Us
W-A-D-E-S

TWO POEMS FROM YEATS

Song from The Land of Heart's Desire

The wind blows out of the gates of day,
The wind blows over the lonely of heart,
And the lonely of heart is withered away
While the fairies dance in a place apart,
Shaking their milk-white feet in a ring,
Tossing their milk-white arms in the air;
For they hear the wind laugh and mumur and sing
Of a land where even the old are fair,
And even the wise are merry of tongue;
But I heard a reed of Coolaney say,
"When the wind has laughed and murmured and sung,
The lonely of heart is withered away."

—William Butler Yeats

When You Are Old

When you are old and grey and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;

How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love false or true;
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you,
And loved, the sorrows of your changing face.

And bending down the glowing bars
Murmur, a little sadly, how love fled
And placed upon the mountains overhead
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars.

—William Butler Yeats

TO—

I know the dreams you've dreamed of me,
I know the hopes you've had for me,
I know the love, I know the care,
I know your heart—the things that are there—
I know my faults, the wrongs I have done,
I have counted them over, one by one.
I try to live your thoughts of me,
I try to be what you want me to be.
I may not live as you want me to live,
I may not give as you want me to give,
I may not be what you want me to be—
But I have the dreams that you dreamed of me!

Maria Orgain

Do you remember when you swore
That you would die for me?
Do you remember when you said
How true you'd always be?
And I can't forget the way you looked
When you told me that sweet little lie,
Yet you needn't feel guilty, dear boy,
You were fooling but so was I.

SOCIAL

Miss Virginia Roche, of Norfolk was the week-end guest of Miss Edith Lamphier. While here Miss Roche attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Veronica Marstellar, student at Hollins College, spent the week-end as the guest of her sister, Miss Lucy Marstellar.

* * *

Miss Olivia Staples, of Roanoke spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Mebane Hunt and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Misses Marguerite Spencer and Louise Torrence of Lynchburg were the week-end guests of Miss Mary Tucker. Both Misses Spencer and Torrence attended the Cotillion Club dance.

* * *

Misses Irene Briggs, Virginia Cowherd, Mary Alice Blanton and Margaret Leonard of Richmond spent the week-end with friends and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Margaret McCarrick of Norfolk was the week-end guest of Misses Sue Sebrell and Frances Willis.

* * *

Mrs. Jesse I Overbey and Miss Edith Overbey of Chatham spent Sunday with Misses Lucy Haile Overbey and Blanche Overbey.

* * *

Miss Helen Jones had as her guests for the week-end her sister, Miss Frances Jones of Charlottesville and Miss Katherine Thompson of Covington.

* * *

Miss Margurerite Swann of Virginia Beach spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Margaret Jordan.

* * *

Misses Mary Creecy and Fannie May Halstead of Norfolk were the week-end visitors of Miss Margaret Barham.

* * *

Miss Doris Chapman of Norfolk spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Beulah Jarvis.

* * *

Miss Charlotte Baxter had as her guest for the Cotillion Club dance Miss Florence Joyner of Petersburg.

* * *

Miss Polly Riddle of Norfolk spent the week-end with her sister Miss Bessie Meade Riddle and attended the dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Bruce Boxley of Orange spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of her sister Miss Virginia Boxley and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Alice Thomas of Roanoke returned Sunday to her home after spending the week-end as the guest of Miss Annie Gris McIntosh.

* * *

Miss Helen Shields of Roanoke spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Margaret Jordan.

* * *

Misses Elizabeth Thomas and Katherine Doughtie of Norfolk were week-end guests of Miss Anna Burgess and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Misses Anne Oakey and Lucille Barnette of Salem and Miss Mary Turnbull of Richmond spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Virginia Vincent.

FOUNDERS DAY ADDRESS IS TRIBUTE TO DR. JARMAN

(Continued from page one)

remained indelible through a quarter of a century. Not once in twenty-five years has he been guilty of the spectacular; never, in all that time, upon chapel platform or in the more private councils of the faculty room, has he made a single claim or plea for himself; never, for one instant, has he sounded even the faintest note of self-praise or self-advertisement by reminding his hearers of the great things he has done for the school and the State. He has lived his life and done his work, and left both to speak for themselves. As a publicity agent for himself he is, always has been, always will be, an utter but glorious failure.

His outstanding modesty, however, has by no means destroyed a healthy and proper self-esteem nor engendered any poisonous self-distrust or benumbing doubt of his own capacities. He has, from the first, possessed a clear but truly humble faith in himself and his ideals, and has shown a quiet but unfaltering purpose to give his plans and dreams worthy and lasting shape.

Such modesty and faith were not born of themselves. We should be gravely remiss if we failed to trace these controlling characteristics to their real source. Almost coincident with our early discovery of these traits was our conviction that here was a man who could be trusted to the utmost, a man who had learned that hard thing described by Emerson as "being simple enough to be good." A little story that I love will illustrate my meaning. It is the account of an apple tree at the foot of a rocky hillside orchard in Vermont. Even in the driest season, when all other trees failed, this one continued to drop its glowing fruit over the stone wall into the dusty highway to delight the wayfarer. A careful study of the tree and its surroundings at last revealed the secret of its gracious fruitfulness. There was, at its roots, a hidden spring, which had trickled down, under the surface, from the slope above. It was "in touch with sources of inexhaustible supply." Nobody who has known Dr. Jarman at all well can doubt that the springs of his highly productive personality and idealism must lie far back in the secret places, in the high places, of strong Christian faith. He has, in consequence, made to this college, first of all, the supreme gift of "a man of life upright."

Schlegel is right: "A man acts so because he is so." His achievement is the fruit of his own personality. And personality is the highest thing we know. We reverence it so very much that we have fashioned the God whom we worship in terms of personality. The biggest and finest thing in any institution ought to be the personality of the man who guides it. Yet to be worth anything, personality, with its deep sympathy, good taste, and fine feeling, must be active,—must make itself known and felt, must be embodied in some concrete form.

Let no one suppose that because of Dr. Jarman's unbroken silence about himself he has gone "piteously unexpressed." He has expressed himself fully and richly in everything we see on this campus. To realize the worth and scope of this material achievement, let me show you a "flash-back" of what you could find here twenty five ears ago. There was the one central building, though it had no over-arching dome, no lofty columned portico, no surrounding arcades. There was one wing at each side ex-

Continued on last page

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWIN
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring - - -
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

FOUNDERS DAY ADDRESS IS TRIBUTE TO DR. JARMAN

Continued from page three

tending forward, another wing extending back from the center, a small new wing for the gymnasium. In the corner, just opposite the Episcopal church, was a small building, once a dwelling, used as the administrative building and the home of the training school. Behind the main building was the present science building, in its first very inadequate stage. And that was all! Three barrack-like buildings in one small town block!

Yet in this restricted area had gone on, for eighteen years, under three strong presidents, a very high grade of educational work. In the institution he had inherited, the new president was quick to see, and appreciate the strong, healthy, sturdy roots for future growth. He began to study his own school—a very unobtrusive but persevering man he was. Very soon he began that intensive cultivation which has brought to pass abundant fruits we now see. And how fascinating it was to watch everything outgrow its old bounds, and demand more and more space for the vigorous push of expanding life. We have but to look about us to measure the results. Three blocks now, filled with many new buildings, and all that remains of the old com- This includes the fulfillment of a lovely dream—the new Student Building, a place of rich service and of most satisfying beauty. Two dreams, we might say, since the fire made necessary the charming new dining room wing.

Dr. Jarman told me at dinner this evening, when I spoke in admiration of the beautiful dining room, "I planned this building on the Sunday following the fire on Saturday." I could but think that holy day must account for the for the place and serenity, the repose and dignity of that impressive room. I am happily certain, indeed, that one of the greatest gifts of the presidents during all this growth has been his exquisite taste. If "beauty born of murmuring sound" can pass into a face, we may be equally sure that the beauty of one's daily surroundings on a college campus can pass into mind and heart and deeply influence one's whole life and character. This, I think, helps to account for the evident happiness we find here. This, again, helps to explain how Dr. Jarman has succeeded, during such marked growth, in completely "avoiding the doom of expanding mediocrity" as Dr. Hamilton Holt recently expressed it his inaugural address at Rollins College.

This outer growth was not an end in itself, for the real worth of an institution cannot be rightly judged by houses and lands. It must be measured by the soul that animates it, by its desire and ability to serve the people among whom it is located. It was an irresistible pressure from within, the ever-increasing demands of greater service to the schools of Virginia that stretched material boundaries and pushed up new buildings to meet the imperative needs of a fast-growing student group—three hundred girls twenty-five years ago, a thousand now.

But all this did not come by magic. Since this is, above all, a working world,

"Nothing under God's sun
Merely happens; things are done"

A great doer and builder like Dr. Jarman must have a great capacity for unremitting labor. Such an insatiable appetite for work has he shown that one is tempted to believe that he must have taken as his motto the old jingle,

"Lay out more than you can do,
Then do it.
Bite off more than you can chew,
Then chew it.
Hitch your wagon to a star,
Keep your seat and there you are."

Of if we wish to describe his passion for work in loftier and more serious terms, we may sincerely use Lowell's.

"The longer on this earth we live
And weigh the various quantities of men. . .
The more we feel the high stern featured beauty
Of plain devotedness to duty,
Steadfast and still, nor paid with mortal praise,
But finding ample recompense
For life's ungarlanded expense
In work done squarely and unwasted days."

But I can just feel Dr. Jarman's protesting thought: "I didn't do all this alone!"

No he didn't. He had help, fine help,from his co-workers. But it was his leadership that draw it out in directing every effort toward one great end. There are plenty who know to direct others, but are unable to lead them. Their one notion of co-operation is for everybody to get together and do exactly as they are told. The have no experience with and very little aptitude for the more democratic idea of cooperation as it established by equal contributive effort, making use of oll differences in talent and of all diverse views.

Many of our colleges have, in effect, a monarchial or aristocratic form of organization. Many are directed by men accustomed to a high individualism in the management of affairs, unaccustomed to confer, or to give reasons for what they do,—men who have made too much of the power of dictation and restraint, and not enough of sympathetic guidance and genuine cooperation.

To me, personally, the most unusual and distinguished thing about Dr. Jarman is that he has never yet attempted to practice "the way of Caesar" in education. He has shown us that the only way to make authority safe is to make it righteous.

The love of power is no doubt natural, in some form or other, to every human being, but it may be a high and noble trait, or it ma be a low and debased one. The sure test of any man is the kind of power he loves and the use that he makes of it. No perils are so subtle and so dangerous as those that beset persons in authority. We are assured that

Authority intoxicates . .
The fumes of it invade the brain
And make men giddy, proud, and vain."

We have contented ourselves with a very low plane of ethical thinking and ethical performance in this matter of personal authority. Dr. Jarman has led the way, in this matter, to higher ground, and has shown us a college executive steeped in the democratic spirit. He has escaped the injury of authority because he has never been a self-seker, he has been absolutely free from the voice of personal ambition; he has always been ready to sacrifice his own individual interest to his sense of obligation; he has been conscientious and considerate in leadership, and inflexible in integrity.

Whatever he may have lost by such a course in so-called power, he has undoubtedly gained in love and in whole-hearted, enthusiastic cooperation. He has had no worry over the poblems of loyalty, for justice and generosity in authority win and hold undying loyalty and allegiance.

We hear the queustion repeatedly asked todoy,—"Are American colleges corrupters of youth?" Not, we may confidently assert, when so builded and so administered.

But even with such noteworthy achievement to his credit, Dr. Jarman no doubt heartily agrees with Thomas A. Edison: "It's what is ahead that interests me not the past." Though he has made so many of his dreams come true, not all are yet fulfilled. Some day we shall find here a beautiful library, one of "learning's lonely towers of light." Some day we shall gather here in a greater auditorium, a fitting home for the true Spirit of Togetherness so characteristic of this place. Some day, in short, if only the State will wake up to its full obligations, Dr. Jarman will put solid and enduring foundation under all the "airy fabrics" of his visions for this College.

We can scarcely hope, in the nature of things, that Dr Jarman will be permitted to round out another twenty-five years at the head of this school. But ten thousand former students who speak through me tonight with unabated love and loyalty, pray to Providence for as many of those years as possible. And however, short or long may be the time, all of us are sure that he will continue to be greatly distinguished for growing and for building; that he will continue to treat the talents entrusted to him as if he "owed them, not owned them;" that he will continue to have a reverent sense of his responsibility for the just and righteous use of his power as an executive; that he will ever be "an opener of doors for such as come after."

PROM GIRL'S ALPHABET

A is the answer that says she will come.
B is her baggage which always is some.
C is the chaperone who hunts for the bad.
D is the word that she says when she's mad.
E is the egg she always turns down.
F is the fish who keeps hanging around.
G is the gag she tries on them all.
H is the high ball that started her fall.
I is the essential word of her speech
J is your "jack"—put it out of her reach.
K is the kick that belongs in her gin
L is the line that goes out for your pin.
M is the mash she has for your friend.
N is the no that you get in the end.
O is the oath that slips out by mistake (?)
P is the promise she gets you to make.
Q is the question. "Dick, Jack or Bill?"
R is the reason for picking out Will.
S is her smokes that make nighttime sublime.
T is the old "had a wonderful time."
U is the us, "just us two, don't you see?"
V is the victim, "You're right boy, that's me."
W is the wool she pulls over your eyes.
X is the 'xcuse for her sobs and her sighs.
Y is her yarn as she strings you along.
Z is the zoo where she says you belong.

Miss Dorothy Porter has returned to Stuart Hall after spending the week-end with Miss Anne Ferree.

* * *

Miss Spottswood Wimbish of Richmond spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of her sister, Miss Alice Wimbish.

The Talk of the School About Our Dresses
Now on Sale
$9.95 AND $12.98
Values up to $25.00
Many girls bought two and three dresses at a time. There is a reason. Don't Fail to Get Yours
Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

MON. & TUES.—Colleen Moore, Lloyd Hughes and Eva Novak in IRENE a special production, adapted from the famous musical comedy triumph. The world's greatest fashion show! A treat for those who wear dresses and those who pay for them. Gowns that will amaze every dressmake in Paris! Hoolywood beauties that will open your eyes! Comedy that sets a new pace for the laughmakers! No wonder they call this Miss Coleen Moore's greatest comedy achievement. The fashion show of gorgeously beautiful gowns in this picture are all shown in beautiful colors on the screen. Also Pathe News each day. Mat, each day at 4 o'clock.

WED.—Constance Talmadge and Ronald Colman in HER NIGHT OF ROMANCE. A special production. Some night—we'll say! Oh baby! Fun? More than you've ever had. Thrills? Just full of 'em. Romance? Well, now, how could they help it? Cupid delivers the best he's got in this and Connie just goes him one better in laughs. It's full of the stuff you love! Also Aesop Fable. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—Lon Chaney, Owen Moore and Renee Adoree in THE BLACK BIRD a special production. Here is Lon Chaney's greatest triumph—more amazing even than his work in "He Who Gets Slapped" and the "Unholy Three". As the underworld leader who could change himself at will to cover up his crimes, he gives a portrayal that will thrill you as you've never been thrilled before. Also good comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—Janet Gayner, Alec B. Francis, Lionel Belmore and a large supporting cast in the special production THE RETURN OF PETER GRIMM. Based on a great stage play by the wizard of the spoken stage and directed by a great producer, this masterpiece of screen entertainment that will move any audience to tears and laughter. A pcture you will always remember for its beauty and for its tenderness. This is a good photoplay for screen lovers fromnine to ninety. Also good comedy. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

S. T. C. girls admission prices, 25c to each show.

ARE YOU SHOWING PROPER INTEREST IN ATHLETICS

THE ROTUNDA

DO YOUR PART TO MAKE COLLEGE WEEK A SUCCESS

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1927 Number 23

ORGANIZATION ISSUE OF THE ROTUNDA

This issue of the Rotunda is not edited without a definite purpose in view. Neither has it been edited by the Rotunda staff alone—or by any one group. The classes in Sociology 56—a class in Community Organization, took as their community to study—their own college, which they feel is a very typical community. This class working with the Rotunda Staff and the major organizations in school have called on all important organizations for assistance.

The heads of various organizations were called together and were asked to make a statement in a clear concise manner as to the purpose of their organization, the qualifications for officers, and the scope of the organization in relation to the college.

These purposes were not got merely to allay curiosity, but with a very definite view in mind. The purposes are being published, as nearly as possible just as they were given to the committee.

Th purpose of doing this is rather a wide one. It gave some organizations an opportunty to sum up for themselves just what they stood for and just what they could do, it brought to some, who had a well defined purpose before them, the realization that they were within accomplishing, of living up to their purpose, it gives every student in school a chance to see what the various school organizations are striving toward. It also gives these students a chance to suggest further purposes that this organization might accomplish and to se where the faulty organizations lie in school and what we can do as citizens to help.

If we merely glance through these purposes, if we do not think and if we ignore the fact that we as citizens have a right to make our community the ideal one then the issue is in vain. On the other hand, if we stop and realize that now is the time to take stock, that we are about to start the machinery for a new year, and that the way in which we start will have a great influence on the way things run—the purpose will be accomplished.

In two weeks come elections. The officers of these various organizations will be elected, and it will be their duty to carry on. We've got to think through the various purposes in order to be able to elect the persons best fitted to carry them out.

There is aother way, in which we as individual citizens may help. If we have any suggestion as to when an organization has failed, or as to when it could work in a broader field, we might offer this suggestion, either by dropping it in the Rotunda Box or by going to a member of the individual organization. This is our opportunty to bring our community to the top—and do it quickly.

Think over these purposes, then think of the coming elections. Every thought will count, and every suggestion will be valuable.

MISS FLORENCE STUBBS

DEDICATION

This issue of the Rotunda is dedicated to Miss Stubbs, as an expression of appreciation for her assistance in its publication and as a recognition of her untiring services in constantly striving to make our school community a better one.

LECTURE RECITAL BY GEOFFREY O'HARA

Friday evening was the occasion of one of the most instructive and entertaining numbers of the year's Lyceum Course. Geoffrey O'Hara was presented in a quite unusual lecture recital, entitled "How Music Is Made". He is one of America's most brilliant young composers, having produced about one hundred songs, most of which are successes, and are sung by the leading artists.

Mr. O'Hara made an appeal to the heart of every person in the audience with his opening love songs. Included in this group were songs old and new, English, Irish, Canadian, American, and some of Mr. O'Hara's own compositions.

The lecture was directed to the person in the audience least educated in music. As a consequence, the facts presented were entirely understandable. His theory of "making music" was clearly and humorously illustrated. The treatment of our old-time favorite "Katy," his own song, was a revelation to most of the audience. Imagine this simple little tune being made into an imitation of works of Lohengrin, Chopin, Greig! It was remarkably done.

Mr. O'Hara is a most versatile person. His piano technique is faultless; his harmony and touch produce music caressive to the ear. He has a beautiful well-trained voice. His personality is charming; his wit exhilarating. The only regret that a larger audience was not present.

MEBANE HUNT

Mebane is the Sophomore we will all miss in the long line at commencement. It seems rather discouraging that there is a stronger force which pulls her away from us!

She came to S. T. C. in the fall of 1925 and her first appearance was at the Y. W. C. A. reception when she found her way into every girl's heart with her song, "Last Night the Nightingale Woke Me." Since then Mebane has been the nightingale of the school. Not only her songs stand out in our memory but the very noble work she has done as president of the Sophomore Class. Everything the class has done has been with the same action the pirates exhibited on Founders Day when they presented their treasure chest.

However we learn that our "bird is on the wing" and we are very sorry that Mebane is leaving us now to fly to another place. She says her excuse is justifiable even of we do not agree with her. She will in the spring make preparations for her wedding which is to take place on June 18th in St. Johns Church of Roanoke. Dr. Frederick Diehl of Farmville perform the ceremony. The gentleman to be congratulated is Mr. Henry Cabell of Richmond, Virginia.

We wish for them the happiest of marriages. And may Mebane sing again For My Sweetheart to Henry when they haven't several hundred teasing girls for an audience!

FOSTER SUCCEEDS HUNT AS CLASS PRESIDENT

Since Mebane Hunt, the Sophomore president, is leaving school at the end of this term, it became necessary for the class to elect a girl to fill his office. "Red" Foster was elected by a large majority as the most capablegirl to take up the work which "Mebane" had so successfully carried on.

The whole school regrets that Mebane Hunt has decided to leave. The Sophomores especially appreciate the excellent work, and untiring interest which she has always brought to the class. They wish to express to "Mebane" their sorrow at her leaving, and to wish her "the best of everything" in the future.

CHANGE IN LITERARY SOCIETIES IS PROPOSED

The committee has made the following recommendations:

1. That two new literary societies with new names be formed.
2. That the purpose of these two societies be to offer an opportunity for self-expression.
3. That the interested members from the six present literary societies be divided between the two societies.
4. That this division be made by arranging the names in alphabetical order, and by putting the odd numbers in one society and the even in the other.
5. That beginning with next September, membership be open to any interested students.
6. That the members of the society personally interview prospective members.
7. That each society be left to choose a name, and to draw up its own constitution.
8. That a unit program be worked out for next year.
9. That every member be given a chance to participate on the program during the year.
10. That there be one meeting a month, one society meeting on the 2nd and the other on the 4th Friday.
11. That these meetings be allowed to run into study hour.
12. That faculty members be eligible for honorary membership.
13. That the Debating Club be asked to consider electing new members from members of literary societies.
14. That the Scribblers Club be asked to consider electing members from the tow literary societies, with the ultimate am of publishing a literary magazine.
15. That this plan go into effect before the end of the year.

"Cooperation is not a sentiment—it is an economic necessity."—Charles Steinmetz.

The cultured girl can do and say
The darnest things in the nicest way.

THE DEBATING CLUB ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE

Those who have watched the Debating Club for the past three years have noticed that it has grown in membership, in general interest, and in the schedule for public and intercollegiate debates.

Three years ago, there was no organization. As response to a challenge from Hampden-Sidney, two girls prepared a debate. This debate proved that we needed a debating club among our extra-curricula activities. First, the literary societies decided to sponsor debating but this attempt was not successful.

Last year, a real debating club was organized and began work in earnest. There were debates within the club itself, public debates and the inter-collegiate schedule included Hampden-Sidney, Radford, Harrisonburg, and Bridgewater.

The club has not been asleep this year either. Debates worth anyone's attention have been delivered in the club, and already we have had one public debate and are looking forward to another. The club has been especially interested in making a study of the most up to date methods of debating.

The inter-collegiate schedule this year includes Radford, Harrisonburg, (March) North Carolina State College (April 22), and William and Mary (April 29). We are, at the present time, negotiating with Bridgewater and Hampden-Sidney.

The William and Mary debate is to be a very unique one. Feeling that the freshman member of the Debating Club should be represented in some way, the council has arranged for this debate to be between our freshmen and the W. & M. freshman.

Our splendid organization and cshedule are not due entirely to the members of the club. Dr. Walmsley and Mr. Bowman have proved themselves to be invaluable coaches through their genuine interest, presence at all meetings, and their good advice to the club.

TRAINING SCHOOL DEBATORS DO GOOD WORK

The student body was agreeably surprised by the fine work being done along debating lines, demonstrated by numbers of the high school last week in chapel.

The question before the house, whether Virginia should adopt the short ballot or continue the use of the long ballot, was a vitally interesting one to a college audience. Added to this fact was the attractive way the speakers presented the subject. Many of us were a little envious that we could not discuss present day problems with such ease and grace as the speakers displayed.

The speeches showed an exhaustive study of the material and were creditably given. The affimative side was upheld by Miss Martha Ann Laing and Miss Virginia Blanton, the nega-

Continued on last page

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor ..... EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic ..... LOUISE BREWER '27

Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers

Business Manager ..... VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant ..... ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

THE MEMBER I WOULD BE

I must not consider myself a useless cog in a vast machine, but I must know myself to be a part of a definite whole. My standards contribute to the group standards, and my adjustment to the whole helps determine the smooth-running of that whole.

I must know when to work mechanically in my assigned place, and when to contribute initiative and suggestion.

I must not be overly critical, and surely not cynical, in my general attitude, but I must be strong enough to see lax standards as lax sandards and not accept them because they are in my group.

I must be enthusiastic and unselfish in my service so that my fellow members will enjoy working with me, and so that the leaders will be inspired by my attitude.

I must be intelligent enough to recognize that there are other organizations as fine as the one I'm working for!

THE LEADER I MUST BE

If I were the leader that I wished to be, I would be a learner, a builder and a dreamer.

I would not seek to grow, to construct, to fashion things with my hands and heart, until I had learned. I would learn of my organization and position to its most intricate detail, but I would be wise enough, and fair enough and understanding enough to proportion that work among my helpers. I would learn people; how to utilize the human hearts of them for group service and group loyalty.

When I had learned, and sincerely knew that I had learned, I would begin to build. I would not seek, with vanity, to build alone, but I would reach out for the groping, dormant ambition near and with the eager faith of brother-workers we might mold the near-perfect structure. I would build, not for appearance and show, but for strength, and utility, and service.

And ever while I was learning or building, I would not forget to dream. When I cease to dream, I will cease to lead, for visions makes the leader. Seeing the infinite possibilities in my structure, I will be ever dissatisfied and my dreams will keep.

LEAF TURNING TIME.

Everything is changing now; life is reawakening, and all those things which have seemed dead and useless have been touched by God's hand and are giving to life, to the reawakening which is symbolic of spring—beauty. The trees seemed dead all during this past term and seemed to offer nothing to the world—no service, no shade and not as much beauty as they could offer. However, they are "turning over a new leaf" and are setting an example which would be wise for each of us to follow.

Why not compare ou rwork down here with the trees. Maybe we haven't done the things we would have liked to have done this last term. We "slumped down" and often seemed to be accomplishing and giving nothing. We didn't study as we should have done; we neglected little things here and there, so naturally the outcome was not the best that we could have done.

Now is the time to "turn over a new leaf". The new term is just beginning and with the new term comes the dismissal of the past negligence and the presentation to each of us of a new leaf—a clean page to work on. Let's make it a bright leaf, a leaf of many golden opportunities grasped and used. Let's prohibit our leaf from remaining unimproved,—let's change it from green to all the colors that indicate changes—progressive changes.

A REAL LEADER.

"Who shall we have for leader?" This question often confronts us in our daily life, and in order that we may carry on our work successfully, we must have a real leader. A leader means more than just a person "at the head," so to speak; she is the most essential thing in any organization; one who can be sure of the love, sympathy and cooperation of every individual, and in turn can give to them these same dominating qualities. A good leader must have plenty of pep and initiative to carry on the work of the group, not always in the same path, but she must be able to distinguish worthy from unworthy, good from bad, and ever work for the upbuilding of society as a whole. Ought we then choose for our leaders "popular girls," or those who are really worth while and will prove a success?

A real leader is always worth while,
The one who will blaze new trails,
She ever faces the world with a smile,
And never, no never fails!

HUMOR IN EXAMS? YES!

When someone suggested that I do a humorous article on examinations, I just grabbed my head and hollered! Why I've had exams all my life and their humorous side hasn't struck me yet. Noah Webster, Esq., when consulted concerning his opinions on the subject is said to have exclaimed in no uncertain terms that an examination is a "careful search or inquiry, a trial; a testing of capacity." Now whether or not he spoke from experience history fails to record, but he certainly had the right idea on the matter. But he should have added "usually resulting in alarming discoveries and results" and he would have waxed eloquent.

Now just when did this evil come upon us? Some authorities say that the first examination was given and taken in Fruit I., when Professor Serpent put the question "How about a little apple?" Eve started the Fool Proof method by flipping a coin, and, guided by it, answered "Yes." Whereupon she got the merry "Ha! Ha!" and was put out of the class. What she should have answered, taking her cue from her modern sisters, is "No, not without a chaser," which would have given her a big lead on the exam.

But no matter how they started, we dislike examinations; they are so gummy. Gummy is a strange word but unusually descriptive—meaning anything unutterably stupid. Plato had the right idea when his perverted sense of humor caused him to make the remark on entering college—"Some come here to work and think, But I come here to laugh and wink."

Thus, taking a tip from Mother Eve and from our philosophical friend why can't we sneak right up on our next exams, flip a loaded coin and get the right answer? Then, perhaps, there would be humor in exams!

SOCIAL

Misses Kitty and Ida Whyte spent several days at their home in Norfolk.

* * *

Miss Louise Everett spent the week-end at her home in Portsmouth.

* * *

Miss Virginia Rice has returned from her home in Portsmouth after spending several days there.

* * *

Miss Rachael Patton spent the week-end in Norfolk as the guest of her sister Miss Helen Patton.

* * *

Miss Frances Booth has returned from her home in Lynchburg where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Misses Frances Willis and Marion Grimes are spending some time at their homes in Norfolk.

* * *

Miss Anna Curtis Higgins has returned after spending the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

* * *

Miss Polly Aderholt spent the week-end at her home in City Point.

* * *

Miss Beth White has returned from her home in Brookneal where she spent several days.

* * *

Miss Lelia Smith spent the week-end at her home near Richmond.

* * *

Miss Susie Bell Webber has returned from her home in Roanoke where she spent the week-end.

Miss Anna Burgess has been spending some time at her home in Norfolk.

* * *

Miss Kitty Patterson spent the week-end at her home in Bedford.

Miss Florence Stubbs, accompanied by Misses Haines, Mix, Edith Cornwell, Florence McIntyre and Virginia Graves, returned Saturday night after spending the day in Richmond.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Bowers spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Ball has returned from her home in Portsmouth, where she spent several days.

* * *

Miss Blanche Overbey has been spending some time at her home in Chatham.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink With Us
W-A-D-E-S

Organizations Within Our School Community

THEIR PURPOSES AND SCOPE

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

THE HONOR SYSTEM

The purpose of the Student Honor System is to create a sense of personal honor and responsibility in the student group, to encourage the highest standards of student life, which make for a better understanding of each other. Thus our college becomes a better place in which ti live

STUDENT STANDARDS COMMITTEE

The Student Standards Committee was organized about ten years ago for the purpose of acting as a clearing house between the faculty and the student body. By means of this committee the faculty comes in closer contact and helps to solve the problems of the students. Not only does it do this, but the committee as a whole tries to keep the highest standards among the students.

Some of the problems undertaken by this committee are the working out of a point system, the arrangement of a schedule for meetings, and a schedule for entertainments, and the general disorder in the dining room and in chapel.

The committee is composed of five members of the faculty, anpomted by Dr. Jarman, the heads of the five main organizations in school, and two numbers of each class, elected by the class. The officers, a president and a secretary, are elected by the members of the committee.

CAMPUS LEAGUE

Purpose: It is the purpose of the Campus League to influence students to be careful of their personal appearance and behavior at all times. In the carrying out of this purpose it becomes necessary to remind girls not to hang over or around the Rotunda, to avoid making unnecessary paths on the campus, and to endeavor to keep the halls and compus free from unsightly trash.

Memembership Selection: The members of the Campus League are selected from the Student Body by the Campus League Chairman with the approval of the Head of the Home partment.

THE VIRGINIA CLUB

Believing that the advanced students in our College can be a constructive force in the development of a greater Virginia and seeking a medium through which they may participate in effecting such an advancement, we have organized the Virginia Club which we dedicate to the best possible service of the State whose citizens we are.

The Scope:

The Virginia Club elects its members from the Junior and Senior students who are especially interested in this field of work. Capable students from the Sophomore Class, who show unusual ability in research work are also elected to membership in this organization.

CLASSES

THE SENIOR CLASS

The purpose of the Senior Class is as follows:

To furnish a forum for discussion of school and after-school needs and adjustments; to support efforts of not only the Senior Class but of other classes in school fostering loyalty to the Alma Mater; to promote a spirit of friendship to those finishing school and beginning life at the same time.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class has as its purpose the installation of cooperation of an efficient type, the rendering of the greatest amount of service to the largest number of people, the cultivation of loyal school spirit and the promotion of higher ideals.

The Junior Class seeks officers who democratic and open-minded citizens are democratic and open-minded citizens of school and who possess pleasforced by strong characters.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The purpose of the Sophomore Class is to uphold the standards and ideals of the Alma Mater, bringing cooperation among the classes as a whole, and to promote better cooperation and friendliness in the Sophomore Class as a group.

In choosing officers for this class, the following qualities are regarded —broad-mindedness, executive ability, initiative, friendliness, with a true purpose of the class at heart; and they must be willing to sacrifice their time for the benefits of the class.

This class is ever willing to cooperate in any manner to aid for the further development of our school community. It is our aim, not to be a pull-back, but ever a body willing to promote the interests of the school as a whole, rather than any specific group.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

The ideals and the aims of the Freshman Class are best expressed in its motto: "Each for the other and all for the Class." That is the spirit the spirit of helpfulness, which each one has for the other. This class desires to do all which lies within its power for the accomplishment of the best and highest.

PAN-HELLENIC

The purpose of the Pan-Hellenic Association is to establish standards of excellency along every line of sorority endeavor as an organization and factor in school, and as a force in the lives of graduate members. Pan-Hellenic endeavors to cooperate with all exisiting organizations and activities in the school.

Pan-Hellenic is composed of two representative members of each recognized sorority.

Y. W. C. A.

Purpose:

To create a Christian attitude in the College. To broaden the girls through cooperation and influence spiritually, mentally, morally, socially, and physically.

Scope including policy and program:

All inclusive since it touches all points through its activities.

1. Prayers
2. Morning Watch
3. Vespers
4. Receptions
5. Parties
6. Teas
7. Conference
8. Sings
9. Infir'y solicitation
10. Alumnae Information
11. Church correlation

This is done through committees represented by chairmen on cabinet.

Cabinet

Purpose:

To coordinate work of Y. W. C. A. in this College.

To carry on work of Y. W. C. A.

To create a Christian attitude by influence and living.

To learn to work through committees.

Freshman Commission

Purpose:

1. To act as connecting link between Cabinet and Freshmen
2. To train for leadership.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Athletic Association is to guide and direct the athletic ability in the college by, providing equipment for the major sports, arranging tournaments, class competition, and the intercollegiate games, offering awards as incentive and merits of ability, and fostering the highest ideals of sportsmanship and college loyalty.

HONORARY FRATERNITIES

JOAN CIRCLE OF ALPHA DELTA RHO

The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho was organized as a result of a need felt in this school by students and faculty. This need was for an organization in which the leaders of the school should meet in common and discuss the various problems confronting them. Its purpose is to foster the spirit for which this school stands by bringing together the leaders in the faculty and student body for solution of problems, and encouraging the cooperation of various activities.

The members of Alpha Delta Rho are chosen from the faculty and the junior and senior classes.

PI KAPPA OMEGA

There are brought into Pi Kappa Omega some of the strongest students of the school in order to encourage high standards of scholarship, of character, and of leadership.

Any student who has shown a willingness to serve others unselfishly, and who has scholastic grades averaging in the highest ten per cent. of the student body grades for four consecutive quarters, s eligible for membership in the society.

OTHER ORGANIZATIONS ON LAST PAGE

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

Mother (as Margery concludes her prayer)—"You prayed that God bless mamma, papa and grandpa. Why didn't you ask Him to bless Aunt Jane also?"

Margery—"I didn't think it would be polite to ask for so much all at once."

Dulittle says the cliff dwellers weren't the only bluffers.

Yesterday we heard positively the last one on our friend the absent-minded professor. He slammed his wife and kissed the door!

Mildred Morris says no domestic course is necessary to enable a girl to make a traffic jam.

"Well, Algy, I hear you have taken up walking as the doctor ordered. How does it go?"

"Seems a bit awkward at first without a windshield."

The new edition of "What Every Girl Ought to Know" has been renamed, we understand, "What Every Young Girl Knows by This Time."

A seven days' wonder—and on the eighth she made up her mind.

"My dear young lady," said the clergyman in grieved tones as he listened to an extremely modern young woman tear off some of the latest jazz on the piano, "have you ever heard of the Ten Commandments?"

"Whistle a few bars," said the young lady, "and I think I can follow you."

Footprints on the sands of time are not made by sitting down.

"Hey, Pat, whatcha gonna do after yuh graduate?"

"I'm gonna teach."

"You can't be a teacher; you're too dumb!"

"I ain't gonna be a teacher—I'm gonna be a college professor."

Recently heard at one of the college dances: "Pardon me, but would you mind changing places with us? We've tired of dancing on this spot."

Pat: "Did you go off to college m'boy?"

Mike: "No—somebody stole my garters."

Peter Pan: "Bill and I are engaged."

Friend: "No! You don't mean it."

Peter Pan: "No—but he thinks I do."

We wonder what the next fad is going to be? The one at present has been started by the faculty—that of having pet names for the classes. Mr. Moss calls one of his classes "The Rainbow Division." (We wonder why?).

ORGANIZATIONS

Continued from page three

PUBLICATIONS

THE VIRGINIAN

The Virginian is the year book of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, published annually by the student body.

It is the purpose of the staff to give a true picture of life at S. T. C., so that in future years, it will bring back memories of college days and remind each of us, who has had instilled in us her spirit and standards, the days spent within her walls.

The actual work is by no means limited to the staff. By that is meant that any voluntary contributions from the student body are always appreciated and are given consideration.

THE ROTUNDA

Purpose:

The Rotunda aims, by publishing the news of the College to keep the students, the faculty, and the alumnae informed as to what is going on, and so to draw them closer together. It acts as a bulletin to the interested alumnae. It also aims to encourage literary efforts by publishing any worthy contributions which it receives. Those who have an active part in its publication are afforded valuable experience in journalistic work.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Purpose:

The purpose of the Dramatic Club is to promote good drama in the school by careful selection and presentation of plays; to train individual girls who evince marked dramatic ability; to give some knowledge of costuming, make-up, and stage decorating to its members so that they may serve the college and their future schools in a practical manner.

Work covered this year:

The Prince Chap produced.
The Heart of a Clown produced.
Quality Street is in the making
Lecture on Modern Drama.
Lecture on Stage Settings.
Lecture on Costuming.

Membership requirements:

Scholastic standing of C; unusual ability along lines dramatic or artistic.

KINDERGARTEN - PRIMARY CLUB

Purpose and Scope:

The purpose of this club is to bring the students of Course I., and the first grade teachers in all other courses, into closer relations; to promote interest in child welfare, and to stimulate knowledge in the effective teaching of young children.

THE SCRIBBLER'S CLUB

A revival of the old club, The Scribblers, whose motto was, "A Man's Reach Should Exceed His Grasp."

Work of the club is to write—stories, essays, poems, etc.

Aim—To give an opportunity for original work in writing to all students who are interested. Ultimate aim is to publish a literary magazine. We will try to work toward this aim next year. We also contribute work for literary column of The Rotunda.

DE-HO-EC CLUB

Aim and Purpose of the De-Ho-Ec Club:

To bring the girls in the Home Economics department into closer contact and to study problems in the field of Home Economics.

All girls who take Home Economics are entitled to membership in the club.

THE COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

The College Orchestra, though not doing anything at the present, is still an organization of school. It is composed of those girls in school who play the various musical instruments and are willing to give their time to practice. The purpose of the orchestra is to furnish music of the higher type when needed. It's aim is to cooperate with all organizations in school.

ARE YOU A GOOD MEMBER?

A good member is interested.
A good member is enthusiastic.
A good member cooperates.
A good member boosts.
A good member is unselfish.
A good member is loyal.
A good member is open-minded.
A good member does her part.
A good member works for the group.
A good member does not work for personal gain.
A good member submits to the will of the majority.

OUR DAY

"Today is your day and mine, the only day we have, the day in which we play our part. What our part may signify in the great whole we may not understand; but we are here to play it, and now is our time. This we know; it is a part of action, not of whining. It is a part of love, not cynicism. It is for us to express love in terms of human helpfulness."—David Starr Jordan.

YOUTH SPEAKS

Blue eyes, pink cheeks, and golden hair,
A soulful look with wonder rare—
Dressed in blue, trimmed in lace,
A conscious happiness fills her face.
To you 'tis but a statue fair,
To me 'tis love's own image there;
For you are old with many cares
And I am youth with love that dares.

Frances Willis

Miss Mebane Hunt is the guest of Mrs. Wymond Cabell in Richmond.

* * *

Miss Grace Reeves returned Sunday night from her home in Roanoke where she spent several days.

* * *

Miss Bessie Meade Riddle spent the week-end at her home in Norfolk.

* * *

Miss Louise Shoffner has returned from Roanoke after spending the week-end at her home there.

TRAING SCHOOL DEBATORS

Continued from page 1

tive side by Miss Claudia Fleming and Miss Jayne Hunt Martin. The fact that the decision was 2—1 in favor of the affirmative showed that the judges, Miss Wheeler, Miss Stubbs, and Mr. Bowman didn't have such an easy time rendering a decision.

Archy: "Do you believe every thing every darn fool tells you?"

Lucille G.: "No,—but sometimes you sound so plausible—dear."

FOR TEN DAYS
STARTING
Wed., March 23rd
A Special Sale of
New Spring Coats
$8.95 TO $25.00
All New Colors and Materials
Many of these coats are worth double.

Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

At The Eaco Next Week

MON.—The new gigantic QUO VADIS, a super special production. This is the most gorgous spectacle ever presented and filled thrills of the arena, where Christian martyrs were burned or thrown to the lions. The golden glories, the unrivalled luxuries, the wnie, the dance, the Esong, the beautiful women, the sumptuous splendors that taxed a barbarian world for a night of feasting and revel—recreated for your entertainment in the most collossal drama produced. Also Pathe News. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

TUES. & WED.—There will be no pictures shown at the theatre these two days because TIERNEY'S BEAUTY REVUE will be the attraction these two days. This is a show consisting of 12 people presenting High Class Musical Comedy and Vaudeville. Their program consists of a very varied line of entertainment, with singing, dancing, black face comedy and short acts. An hour and a half of entertainment. There are eight girls with this show. This show has been playing at the Trenton Theatre in Lynchburg all is this week to fullhouses and is recommended by the manger of that theatre. They happened to have two open dates. Matinee Tuesday at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—Norma Shearer and Lon Chaney in THE TOWER OF LIES a special production. Two men—one loved her, one looked on her with the eyes of desire. Ignorant of the world, she listened to the call of wealth, pleasure, gaity. While at home waited a father who lived in a tower of gorgeous lies, and the boy who could offer her only love and peace. Also good comedy Matinee at 4 o'clock.

FRI. & SAT.—Gareth Hughes and a large cast in the special production THE AUCTIONEER based on Warfield-Belasco stage hit. A human recital of every day people against a background of New York's throbbing life, here is unusual entertainment—every scene of it. You'll laugh with THE AUCTIONEER. You'll cry with him. And you'll love him. In the supporting cast we have Marion Nixon and Dorris LLoyd. Also good comedy. Matinee each day at 4 o'clock.

S. T. C. Admission prices Mon., Tues., and Wed. 35c. other shows 25c

HELP MAKE COLLEGE WEEK A SUCCESS

THE ROTUNDA

DON'T FAIL TO CAST YOUR NOMINATION

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1927 Number 24

WHAT OUR COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL IS DOING

Honor Society for Debating is Formed.—Also to Have a Class Book

A very vital part of our college and one which we are rather apt to overlook is our "College High School." Do we know that in that high school there is an alive active interested, and interesting group of girls, such as we find in only very rare occasions.

This group hasn't been idle for one single minute, yet few of us realize just what they are doing. Perhaps the seniors in this group as the seniors in other groups may be said to be the leaders. In fact they are—they are starting new movements and preparing a place for the other classes to step in.

Among the activities in which the entire high school has been taking part are the Glee Club and basketball. There is a well trained glee club to be found here and the girls in the glee club seems to get a great deal of pleasure out of their music, as well as benefit. This club is organized much as the College glee club and serves the same purpose to the high school.

The High School has turned out a most creditable basket ball team—in fact if we see a game we get really anxious and "pepped up" over the prospect of having some of these players on our future varsity. The team has been highly successful this year.

The Senior Class, or rather the eleventh grade, as they are called, has done some very excellent work of its own accord. The first thing which this class did was to form a current events club, in their Social Problem class. The meeting of this club would prove valuable to anyone who happens to be interested in what is going on inthe world. The group formed the club, drew up their own constitution and conduct the meetings themselves. Very interesting studies have been made and it is very probable that this class of high school students is better informed on topics of current discussion than the average group of students in college.

The class activities have not stopped there. They are to have a Class Book for the first time in the history of the S. T. C. College High School. This Class Book is being got up and edited by the class, with advice from the supervisors and the principal. It promises to be a book well worth while and full of interest to every member of the class.

The last thing done by this group and the one which promises great things in the future is the formation of a debating club, which will be an honor club. As a result of the work put on the debate given in the audi-

Continued on page three

COLLEGE WEEK SCHEDULE

APRIL 4—MONDAY

6:30 P. M.—Student Body Meeting in Auditorium.
Debate: "Resolved that the way she parts her hair should affect my voting for her."

APRIL 5—TUESDAY

10:15 A. M.—Sophomore Presentation in Chapel
6:30 P. M. "On Being Snooty" Dr. Walmlsey
7:00 P. M. Volley Ball Games
(Freshman versus Sophomore)
(Junior versus Senior)

APRIL 6, WEDNESDAY (Senior Class Day)

6:30 P. M. Senior Presentation
10:00 P. M. Continuation of Class Day Exercises.

APRIL 7, THURSDAY

10:15 A. M. Junior Class Presentation.
6:45 P. M. Final Volley Ball Game
7:00 P. M. Gysy Camp on Athletic Field.

APRIL 8, FRIDAY

10:15 A. M. Freshman Class Presentation.
6:30 P. M. Talk by Dr. Jarman
8:00 P. M. (To be announced later).

APRIL 9, SATURDAY

4:30 P. M.—8:00 P. M. Alpha Delta Rho Program.

"College Week" isn't to be an event, of a series of events. College Week" isn't to be program upon program, lecture upon lecture. It will be a week of class activities, of student body coordination. of awakened thinking before elections, and of some needed play. Every program from Dr. Walsley's inimitable discussion "On Being Snooty" to the Gypsy Camp party with its many surprises, will be alive, varied, thought-provoking. If you're a citizen of your school community, you'll be interested and the week will be a full and stimulating one. If you're too passive and indifferent to be a citizen, at least you'll find yourself awakened if you play and think with the citizens for a week!

S. T. C. WELCOMES THE NEW GIRLS

With the new term comes new classes, new teachers, but best of all, new friends. We're proud of all our girls at S. T. C., but we are always glad to greet new girls, ones who will become one of "us". This term nine girls who have been here before, one from Fredericksburg, and nine who are just beginning college life have been added to our number. We are glad they are with us and hope they will love Farmville S. T. C. as we do.

The new girls are:
Eliazbeth Garnett, Curdsvillle, Va.
Elsie Mason, Lynchburg, Va.
Freia Goetz, Keysville, Va.
Pansy Hill, Mitchells, Va.
Elizabeth Ferrell, Roanoke, Va.
Carolyn Sinclair, Tabb, Va.
Mavis Edwards, Cambria, Va.
Julia Ellison, Claremont, Va.
Freda Nightingale Williamsburg, Va.
Sallie Pule, Lewiston, N. C.
Bessie Tuman, Norfolk, Va.
Ida Ellen Crowder, Richmond, Va.
Janey Adams, Alton, Va.
Mary Taylor, Lynchburg, Va.
Ruby Arthur, Evington, Va.
Alice E. Smith, Petersburg, Va.
Enza Evans, Clifton Forge, Va.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO PLAY "QUALITY STREET"

On April 21st and 22nd the Dramatic Club will present their second big play of the year.

The play to be presented is "Quality Street" by J. M. Barrie. This is a delightfully clever farcical play. The story centers around the inhabitants of Quality Street. Valentine Brown is in love with Phoebe, unknowingly. He is called away to fight in the war against Napoleon. While Captain Brown is away Phoebe and her Aunt Susan keep a school.

When Captain Brown returns Phoebe has grown old and lost her beauty. In despair she dresses in her old clothes and pretends to be Phoebe's niece, Livy. It is through this impersonation that Captain Brown realizes that he loves Phoebe.

The play is most charmingly written and thoroughly entertaining. The cast is as follows:

Phoebe Throssel alias Livvy
Annie Griswold McIntosh
Miss Susan Throssel, Etta Marshall
Miss Wilolughby Betty Hopkins
Miss Fanny Wilolughby, Lora Brewer
Miss Henrietta Turnbull
Elizabeth Jarman

Continued on last page

NOMINATIONS TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Next week we are to nominate our officers who will carry on the work of the school for the next year. We've had our attention called to the fact [illegible] of time for us to have thought over who we want [illegible] the various positions.

The first nomination will be for the five major offices:

President Student Body.
President Y. W. C. A.
President Athletic Association
Editor of The Virginian
Editor of The Rotunda

Each one of these organizations will appoint a committee who will count the nomination and pass on the nominee. This is an absolute essential since certain very definite qualifications have to be met before a person is eligible to hold a certain office, which requires the sanction of a committee, knowing the work of the office. On most of these committees there is also a faculty member, who assists with his judgment.

The results of the nomination will be posted about three days, then we will be given a chance to vote for the candidate whom we think most nearly meets our standard as leader.

The week following election we will again nominate, this time we will nominate the minor officers in the five major organizations. These nominations will be made in the same way as those for the minor offices and elections will be held in exactly the same way.

SENIORS WIN CLASS ISSUE CONTEST

The judges, Dr. Marshall, Miss Davis, and Miss Sutherlin have announced their decision as to the best 1927 class issue of the Rotunda—it being the Senior issue. This means that for the past two years the green and white holds the honor of having won the contest, yet, not the same class. The Freshmen, last year, with less experience than any class showed marked ability and initiative in their issue and carred off the honor.

This year things seemed to go to the other extreme, the Senior class wins. This class has had more experience than any other class, but it is also smaller than the Freshman, or Sophomore class.

Every class issue showed time, thought, and orginality and it can readily be seen from the excellency of the lower class issues that the literary ability of the school is coming to the front, and next year perhaps results will tell a different story. However, the Seniors have a just right to be proud of having won the contest when each issue was worthy of a prize within itself.

ATHLETICS FOR SPRING UNUSUALLY PROMISING

Athletic Program for Spring is Filled Out.—Promises to be Strenuous

In our catalogue for the past few years the Athletic Association has been referred to as an active organization, but it is only within the past two years that it could truly be designated as active. Its purpose was stated in the last issue of the Rotunda. Its motto might be given as the "greatest good for the greatest number." With this in mind and in order to further its influence the Athletic Council has requested that the spring athletics be entirely under its management with members of the physical education department acting as adviser and counsellor. The request has been granted and the good work is well under way.

ATHLETIC PROGRAM

The Athletic Council has as nearly as possible made a schedule of events for the rest of the year. This schedule, of course, being subject to change—at present it stands as follows:

March 28—April 4—
Volley ball practice ..... 5—6
Every afternoon for all classes
Monogram practice 4—5 Tues and Thursday.
April 5—
Double-header volley ball game.
Juniors Vs. Seniors, Sophomores Vs. Freshmen.
April 7—
Championship volley ball game.
April 19—May 2—
Basball practice Mon., Wed., Fri. afternoons.
Monogram practice Tues., Thurs. afternoons.
May 3, 5 and 7—
Basketball tournament
May 9—May 17 —
Practice for field and track every afternoon.
May 18—
Field Day.

This schedule represents untold work on the part of the Athletic Council, they have tried to arrange it to everyone's convenience. In addition to this tennis will be going on constantly and a tennis tournament will be played off. This tournament will be purely individual. and not in connection with any class.

SPRING SPORTS ARE NOW IN FULL SWING

Spring sports are in full swing. Look out any pretty day and you'll see the tennis courts full, and on the other side, on the athletic field, volley ball in full play. A large number came out from each class to play volley ball at the first call. They

(Continued on last page)

SENIOR ISSUE WINS

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor ..... EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic ..... LOUISE BREWER '27

Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers

Business Manager ..... VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant ..... ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

WILL YOU NOMINATE?

As a general rule about twenty-five to fifty per cent of the student body nominates a girl to hold the major and minor offices. Then when the names of the nominees for each office are posted, we hear on all sides, "I think 'so-and-so' would be better than either one of those, but I just didn't nominate her." Your chance to express your choice, to give your opinion, to show your citizenship is when nominations are being made.

If we aren't going to the polls and nominate, then why have nominations? None of us would be willing to have our officers appointed, yet apparently we aren't willing to exercise our brain enough to think of who we want in office, and if we do think we are evidently too lazy to walk down stairs and make known the results of our thought.

We are citizens of the community of S. T. C. We are electing the people who will officially lead us and will help us govern ourselves, mentally, morally, and spiritually for the coming year. Yet we are willing to let this responsibility go—we are willing to let the opportunity of having our offairs in the hands of the best fitted person slip by simply because we are lazy, indifferent, or perhaps worse, disinterested.

We're very proud of our college. We're proud of our spirit. We're proud that we can say I go to Farmville. Are we proud of what we've done for our college? It seems a mighty tiny thing—yet every nomination made, and every vote cast at election time means that we have done something for our Alma Mater. For we've shown our interest, we've done our part to give the coming year the right sort of a beginning.

Five minutes will easily give us plenty of time to nominate, providing we have already thought things out—five minutes will be an abundance of time to vote after three days to think. Let's have a one hundred per cent student body vote and break our record, not only ours but all records as an ideal community, inhabited by ideal citizens.

KEEP UP YOUR CLASS SPIRIT.

Class spirit ran high during hockey and basket ball season. Lately things have seemed to die down a little, although Founders Day brought a slight reaction. The final and perhaps the most important pull of all is just about to start. The color that will go on the cup for this year, is yet to be decided. While the green and white now has the lead there is a very good chance for the red and white to pass them.

Volley ball, baseball, field day, monogroms and old English "F's" are still to be won. The few outstanding athletes in the classes cannot win the cup for either side. Every person in every class has got to enter whole-heartedly into the spirit of things and if they can't actually get into the game they can at least lend help and cooperation.

While the athletic side of our school life is only one-side, its a mighty big side and a mighty important one. For without healthy bodies we aren't going to have healthy, active brains.

The Athletic Council and the heads of the various sports have entered into things with a whole-hearted zest. They have worked, and planned in order to make the program as convenient as possible for us. All we have to do is go out and play, the way in which each of us plays, not merely the teams but every member of the class, will decide the color on the cup.

Class spirit means cooperation, and it also means a spirit which eventually turns out to be the finest type of school spirit. There is, of course, such a thing as carrying class spirit too far, but there is also such a thing as letting it drop at the most important minute. We've had some excellent spirit shown this year. While we've had rivalry there has been clean sportsmanship and there will continue to be if we make it.

What color is goingto stay on the cup? Will red and white go back, or will it be replaced by green and white? Start helping put your color on, by going to every volley ball and monogram practice.

IT'S ALL OVER

It's all over! Isn't it grand to have that feeling? Well, not always, to be sure, but if we consider the time after exams it's just wonderfu'. We have hazy ideas about what happened during the time which the faculty call exam week, but upon which we have not yet decided upon a very definite name We remember having heard the mentioning of review, the last test and then—examinations. We remember having studied terrifically, grabbing people to study with who had been able to throw any light upon anything said or done in class. We remember how we gathered up courage and the fountain pen. We recall our walking into the class feeling as if our brain looked as a perfect crystal in that all of the brain had been clearly worked out of any existence. The questions appeared upon the board—many questions. The crystal became opaque and all the lihgt went into the pages 'neath the blue cover. We remember walking out, breathing faintly, and then repeating the same thing over again. Then we think about those "lists" which we heard about. With the help of some kind girl friend we remember having walked up and looked down the A's or R's or J's or any letters and not seeing the family name posted. But for the maintainance of said girl friend a faint would have complicated matters. Visions of the family "pride 'n joy" becoming a life-long failure affect one terribly. But ah, what joy it is to remember that one sometimes looks upon the 8:15 lisct when one has been continually attending the 9:15 class. One breathes—and now it's all over! "Let joy be unconfined!" But then we laugh and laugh—Ha! Ha! For the jokes on us! The family has not seen the grades. Again we have reason for breaking into all sorts of girlish glee. Joke's on us again!! How about June—warm weather exams? Is life very much fun after all? It's never all over!! But we do have a very good time regardless.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A GOOD LEADER

What does the term "leadership" convey to your mind? Does it imply simply the power to occupy a position at the head of a groupor organization, or are there certain requirements which the individual must meet before the term "leader" may be attached to her name?

Those of us who are really interested in this question will agree that certain chaacteristics nevitably mark the "leader" and entitle her to a place in the front ranks of progress.

A friendly manner accompanied by the desire to help others is one of the "leader's" most outstanding characteristics. The "leader" is tolerant of the views and wishes of those with whom she comes in contact; she is eager to support such organizations as are striving to better conditions within the school community; she listens and attempts to understand; she makes the best of the situations which confronts her and she does not avoid the issue, but faces her problem squarely. All of these traits, with others too numerous to mention, characterize the "leader."

When you cast your vote for those who are to act as the pilot and crew of S. T. C.'s ship of progress for the coming year, shall you consider these qualifications and requirements of an efficient leader?

INTERESTING BOOKS PRESENTED TO S. T. C.

Hon. H. P. Drewery, congressman from the Fourth District of Virginia, has presented the library of the State Teachers College with three volumes containing the selected addresses and writings of Woodrow Wilson.

A great deal of interest is being aroused throughout the country in favor of the prize essay contest which is being held by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, and these books will be of great assistance to contestants in our college.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink With Us
W-A-D-E-S

GROW OLD ALONG WITH ME

"Grow old along with me
The best is yet to be
The last for which the first was made."

Another year has passed; another pearl has been added to the string which represents my life. I feel that those pearls which symbolize the years of my youth must be larger and of a finer luster than those which advancing years will add to the string. Youth has brought me pulsing life, boundless opportunities, and limitless possiblities, and yet with all her invaluable contributions, she has failed to give me the understanding of Life which is necessary for the full realization of all that is my portion. The years that must inevitably come to me, I would stay in their course were it possible. But if with the swift-flying years come the power of understanding, the ability to interpret what I see around me, the recognition of my place in the universe, and the steadfastness of purpose which will enable me to take that place they will bring healing in their wings for the receding joys of youth. Perhaps the pearls which will be last added to the whole will be finest of all; perhaps instead of reflecting an opaque light they will shed a tender glow which will make all my regrets for lost youth as naught. May they contain in their hearts the words: "It has been, it is, and will be," and not the bitter echo: "It might have been.

Juliet Jones

THE STARS

I longed to see the stars last night
And so I climbed the hill.
The snow, it crucched beneath my feet
And all was cold and still.

The stars were far, so far away
An not a soul nearby;
But through the starlight's quiet gleam
I saw God in the sky.

Julia Wilson '29

THE STARS

I longed to see the stars last night
And so I climbed the hill,
The snow, it crunched beneath my feet,
And all was cold and still.

The stars were far—so far away
And not a soul near by;
But through the starlight's quiet gleam
I saw God in the sky.

—Julia Wilson

Have you read any of the new books the library has received? (Neither have we; we were going to one day, but the editor was blocking the entrance in an extended conversation with the librarian). We believe, however, that there is a lot of valuable reading matter, both new and old, which is going to waste. Those of us who do not take advantage of such privileges may realize later with regret that such worthwhile things are not always so easily accessible.—Selah Ex.

GIRLS LEAVING SCHOOL

The following girls left school at the begining of this term. They will be missed, and we wish them the greatest success wherever they go.

Virginia Bosiah
Alpha Sloan
Alice Carter
Mebane Hunt
Victoria Goodman
Sudie Hendricks
Ruby Johnson
Margaret Jordan
Stella Lotts
Estelle Powell
Ruth Salasky
Alice Turbeville
Elizabeth Williams
Frances White
Carolyn Meredith

DELTA SIGMA CHI GIVES BANQUET

The Delta Sigma Chi sorority gave its annual Founder's day banquet on March 26, 1927. An attractive color scheme was carried out in the decorations as well as in the menus and place-cards.

On this occasion announcement was made of the marriage of Miss Mecca Vicars to Mr. Livingston Burns Sheppards.

In addition to the active members and almunae of the sorority, the guests included: Misses Elizabeth Lewis, Myrtle Grenels, Mary Peck and Dr. Elizabeth Marshall.

COME OUT AND PLAY TENNIS ON NEW COURTS

Have you seen the tennis courts? The spring weather has brought out the interest in tennis already. Two of the courts have been fixed, and the third is in the making. This one is being experimented on. It was tarred, then sanded, makng a smooth well packed court. After more sand has been rolled in this promises to be one of the best. The three courts next to the back street will be fixed right away. This will allow plenty of space for the ombitious ones, who are coming uot for the tourament, to practice.

Come out, practice, and take your part in the contest that's to be put on in the near future! Listen for announcements, but in the mean time and in between time, come out and play!

WHAT OUR COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL IS DOING

(Continued from page one)

torium about two weeks ago and the interest aroused in it the class came back very much enthused and strongly in favor of forming a debating club. The club will be composed of those seniors who have shown marked ability an interest in debating. They will be given an opportunity of trying out. This was suggested, discussed and decided by the senior class ad then referred to the tenth grade who favored the proposal at a joint meeting of the two classes. A committee was appointed from the class to draw up a constitution, which will be presented for further approval. After the seniors have ratified this constitution the tenth grade will have a committee to approve it. This last step was taken because it was felt to be more democratic, since the tenth gade will compose the club next year.

These interesting happenings have been worked out almost entirely by the class, and they deserve credit and recogniton for their initiative and ability. When we realize what this live group of students is doing we can't help but be interested in our College High School.

SOCIAL

Miss Margaret Barham has returned from her home in Norfolk where she has been spending some time.

* * *

Miss Frances Willis returned Sunday night from Norfolk where she spent sevearl days at her home.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Carver returned on Sunday from her home in Charlottesville. Miss Carver attended the Beaux Arts Ball which was given Friday night in the Fayerweather Gymnasium.

* * *

Miss Bessie Meade Riddle spent Saturday and Sunday at the University of Virgina.

* * *

Miss Katherine Hatch has returned after spending several days at her home in Wakefield.

* * *

Miss Mebane Hunt spent Sunday night at S. T. en route to her home in Lynchburg where she will remain until her marriage in June.

* * *

Miss Mildred Morris was the weekend guest of Miss Mary Tucker at the latter's home in Blackstone.

* * *

Miss Helen Jones spent the weekend at her home in Charlottesville and attended the Beaux Arts Ball which was given on Friday night in the Fayerweather Gymnasium.

* * *

Among the alumnae who returned this week-end to attend the Delta Sigma Chi Founder's day banquet on Saturday night were:

Misses Mary Darden, Blackstone, Va.; Gertrude Quin, Roanoke, Va.; Janie D. Watkins, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Virginia Smith, Covington, Va.; Min Mason, Norfolk, Va.; Mamie Sexton, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Doris Cochran, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Mary Jefferson, Amelia, Va.; Margaret Wade, Lexington, Va.; Martha Hinch, Roanoke, Va.; Elise Anderson, Staunton, Va.; Laura Anderson, Farmville, Va.; Frances Paxton, Roanoke, Va.; Dorothy Hancock, Roanoke, Va.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Sawyer returned Sunday from Charlottesville where she attended the Beaux Arts Ball on Friday night. Miss Sawyer was the guest of Miss Elizabeth Carver during her visit.

* * *

Misses Mary Christian and Rachael Royall returned Sunday from Richmond where they spent the weekend.

* * *

Miss Sue Sebrell spent the weekend at her home in Lawrenceville.

* * *

Miss Dorothy Watkins has returned from her home in Keysville where she spent Saturday and Sunday.

* * *

Miss Phyllis Wood returned Sunday night after spending a week at her home in Lynchburg.

* * *

Miss Margaret Mackasey is spending some time at her home in Petersburg.

* * *

Miss Ruth Paulette was guest of honor at a luncheon in honor of her birthday anniversary on March 25. Guests: Misses Edith Cornwell, Lucille and Virginia Graves, Elizabeth Munn, Dorothy Watkins, Susie Battes and Anna Leigh Gwaltney.

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

He: "What do you mean by telling Dot I'm a fool?"

She: "I'm sorry—I didn't know it was a secret."

"Surely, Miranda, you're not going to marry again when the Lord just took Smith."

"Yes—I shuah am", replied Miranda, "as long as the Lawd takes 'em, so will I."

In these days of sincerity it's easy to tell how one woman detests another by the way she says "honey"—Helen Wilcox says.

Sarah Cross: "This business of being good is too much like carrying life insurance."

Ivy Hart: "How's that?"

Sarah: "You have to die to get anything out of it."

Sympathy is what one girl offers in exchange for details about her S. T. C. friend.

"He's got a funny growth behind his nose."

"How did he get it?"

"I don't know, but he calls it his face."

Tom: "Hey, Jim, are you sending your girl any flowers tonight?"

Jim: "Naw, she ain't dead."

"Lady, your son is certainly spoiled."

"Johnny is not spoiled."

"Well, come and look what the steam roller did to him."

Some people think college life is nothing but wine, women and song; when it is really dangerous, bills and examinations.

Lucy Haile says that the meanest girl in the world is the roommate who wakes you up, to tell you that you failed.

Irritable lady (standing in line): "Stop pushing, can't you?"

Stout man (in back of her): "I ain't pushing; I only sighed."

Etta Marshall says that we know money talks but most of us wish we were in a position to be bored by it.

This is our idea of a Chesterfieldian Papa: The man and the girl were saying good night on the doorstep when a window above them was pushed suddenly open and a weary voice said, "My dear sir, I have no objection to your coming here and sitting up half the night with my daughter nor even your standing on the doorstep for two hours saying good night, but out of consideration for the rest of the household who wish to go to sleep—will you kindly take your elbow off the bell-push?"

KRONIC KRACKS FROM KUTE KOLLEGE KIDS

* * *

Lucy Haile says it uster be that two was a company and three a crowd, but nowadays two is a company and three a witness.

* * *

Annie Gris McIntosh was heard to remark that she called her sweetheart cornmeal because he was so mushy.

* * *

Our latest song hit on the market—"She was only a bartender's daughter, but, oh, how I love her mug!"

* * *

"Take it from me" said "Skinny" Craft, "the Gold Dust twins know all the dirt."

* * *

Squit Dickinson says one nice thing about playing a typewriter is you don't have to keep time.

* * *

Mary Malbon wants to know if a cross between a pointer and a setter would be poinsetta?

* * *

Blanche Murrell was heard to state that her idea of a broad educated man is a college professor just run over by a steam roller.

* * *

Oh, no, Mackasey, cornmeal isn't a bootlegger's diet!

Virginia Graves—"What's your name?"

Eleanor Hogan—"I don't know."

Virginia—"Why don't you know?"

Eleanor—"I ain't myself just now."

Louise McCormick (at the table): "It is such a pretty day, I think I'll take some pictures this afternoon."

Blanch Murrell: "Fine! Louise, please take mine."

Louise: "I'm sorry Blanche, but I only have a vest-pocket Kodak."

Love's Cruelties

Ed Howe discovers that as a race becomes more practical with age, the credits and debts of love are gone over with more candor and wisdom. Some of the debits are very hard on both sides; some say worse with women than with men. Still, love sometimes slaps a man pretty hard, too.—Capper's Weekly.

Ducks Live in Chimney

At Pinehurst Inn, Victoria Beach near Winnipeg, Canada, a pair of ducks have a nest in a fireplace chimney. On several occasions in the morning, after a fire had been burning the evening before, the ducks were rescued from behind the fire screen where, during the night, they had fallen, apparently overcome by smoke. They were released out of doors, but in a short time were back in their nest in the wide chimney.

Sun's Effect on Earth

From the earliest times sunlight has been considered an important aid in the preservation of health. The ancient Greeks and Romans exposed their naked bodies to the sun in the open air to recruit mental and physical energies. Exposure to the sun's rays was always adopted by the physicians of those times as a remedy for many affections, "especially dropsy, inflammation of the kidneys and paralysis."

Little Ruth Thankful

Little Ruth, age four years, was given a box of old ribbons and flowers and an old hat with which to amuse herself while her mother went downtown. She trimmed the hat and put it on her head and surveyed herself from all sides in the large mirror, then remarked softly to herself, "I look pitty now, thank goodness."

SPRING SPORTS ARE NOW IN FULL SWING

(Continued from page one)

promise us several exciting games. The classes will practice every afternoon according to schedule until the interclass games. The first of the games will be Tuesday the 5th, when a double-header will be played between the Seniors and Juniors, and Sophomores and Freshmen. The two winning teams will play for the championship the fololwing Friday. This will close the volley ball season

After Easter baseball will start. Practice being held on the afternoons now being given to volley ball. The other afternoons being held for monogram practice.

Field and track will be taken up later on and have a turn at interesting us. This will come to a glorious finish with Field Day, about the 18th of May. This is a red-letter day in the athletic life at S. T. C., and everyone looks forward to it with a gerat deal of excitement and interest. Come out now and begin your trainnig for the "Big Day!"

Managers have been appointed for the different sports, one from each class to have charge of that particular sport in her class.

Voliey Ball

Frances Volk	General Manager
Cornelia Dickinson	Senior
Elizabeth Armfield	Junior
Jettie Talley	Sophomore
Virginia Gurley	Freshman

Baseball

Mary F. Hatchett	General Mgr.
Elva Hedley	Senior
Elizabeth Woodson	Junior
Katherine French	Sophomore
Ann Palmer	Freshman
Ann Palmer	Freshman

Track

Frances Wilson	General Manager
Mildred Lohr	Senior
Elia Putney	Junior
Juliette Jones	Sophomore
Mary Frame	Freshman

DRAMATIC CLUB TO PLAY "QUALITY STREET"

Continued from page 1

Patty	Mable Fitzpatrick
Sargeant	Frances Davis
Valentine Brown	Louise McCormick
Isabella	Margaret Draper
Arthur	Beulah Jarvis
William Smith	Viola Woodson
Charlotte Parrett	Virginia Boxley
Ensign Blades	Blanche Overhey
Harriet	Margaret Draper
Lientenant Spicer	Anne Ferree
Old Sodier	Mable Hays
A Gallant	Evelyn Dulaney

Children: Anna Curtis Higgins, Carrol Cromwell, Sammy Scott, Helen Jones, Peggy Barham.

The American Book Supply Company of London has sent in an order for a copy of the College Bulletin entitled "Educative Seat Work," published by the college, written by two members of the faculty, Dr. Fannie W. Dunn and Miss Bertha Wells; this copy, ordered from London, is to be mailed to a book store in Graaff-Reinet, South Africa.

Truth Is Mighty

Truth is a very deadly thing at last when it confronts the clever liar at a place where he cannot escape. If he tries the air instead of the sea, the bizarre and fascinating little structure which was meant to defy the universe bursts into flame and perishes at contact with a flash of truth.—Dr. Lynn Hough.

FOR TEN DAYS
STARTING
Wed., March 23rd
A Special Sale of
New Spring Coats
$8.95 TO $25.00
All New Colors and Materials
Many of these coats are worth double.
Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

At The Eaco Next Week

MON. & TUES.—Lillian Gish in Nathaniel Hawthorne's THE SCARLET LETTER A bg new special production. She was guilty of love!—and they amrked her with the brand of shame. Expect the finest picture you've ever witnessed when you see Lillian Gish in this picture! You won't be disappointed! Make no mistake—this is a big film in every way. It is a production using thousands of players and lavish settings that will amaze you. ONE of the big pictures of this or any other year. Also Pathe News. Mat. each day. at 4 o'clock. Go to matinees—the prices are lower.

WED.—Pauline Stark in WAR PAINT a story by Peter B. Kyne. Feats of daring and horsemanship such as you've never seen. A whale of a story by one of the greatest of fiction writers—hundreds of Indians on the war path—plus a live story that will warm your heart. You'll get the thrill of your life at this great Western. Also Aesop Fable.

THURS.—Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien in THE ONLY WOMAN A special production. A drama of love that finds its outlet when raging seas given a man back his birthright and show the only woman the true love in his heart. You'll find the finest sea scenes in this that you've ever seen. Also good comedy matinee at 4 o'clock.

FRI. & SAT.—Harry Langdon and Joan Crawford in TRAMP, TRAMP, TRAMP. A big spcial production. Put 'em on. Put on those laughing shoes and come along for a three thousand smile hike with Harry Langdon from coast to coast with the Kng of comedians. This is the biggest thing ever done to make this theatrethefunniest place you've ever been to. Note: If you are not of a serious nature and dislike to laugh, do not come to see this picture. Also good comedy. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

S. T. C. admission prices, Mon. & Tues., 35c; other shows 25c.

Championship Volley Ball Game Tonight

THE ROTUNDA

Vote for the Best Girl Tuesday

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1927 Number 25

PROGRAM FOR COLLEGE WEEK IS ELABORATE

Various Organizations of School Participate To Make It Interesting to All

In an effort to make College Week both a success and a pleasure to everyone, a delightful and purposeful program was arranged and is now being carried out by various organizations in our school.

The program was initiated in our regular student body meeting on Monday night at which time the purposes or aims of College Week were set forth and the interest of every citizen within our school community was solicited. Following the student body meeting two members of the Debate Club gave a brief but cleevr informal debate, the subject of which was, "Resolved: That personal prejudice should influence our voting." The affirmative side of the question was upheld by Miss Lucy Haile Overbey while Miss Elizabeth Hutt, representing the negative side, declared that personal prejudice should not influence our voting. Both sides of the question were discussed thoroughly and with consideratble wit, however, the negative side was victorious.

On Tuesday morning in Chapel the Sophomore class presented a short stunt in the form of a court scene. The prisoner, represented by Lorah Brewer, was tried, convicted and sentenced for failure to cooperat e with organizations and for continuing to work harm through adverse rather than constructive criticism. The chief objective of this brief skit was to show the necessity of constructive criticism and cooperation with organizations that are working for the betterment of our school.

Dr. Walmsley's talk on Tuesday night was a most intersting and enlightening one. His very subject title is suggestive of the idea which he sought to convey. Dr. Walmsley threw much light upon the effects of and reations to what is so often referred to in our attitudes as "snootiness." It is almost certain that this talk was not a fruitless one and that it will be remembered by those who heard it.

The rest of the week will be devoted to a continuation of such programs and it is to be hoped that the entire student body, in addition to the various organizations in school, will participate with interest and enthusiasm to make College Week a success.

The European nations that are getting sixty two years in which to pay their war debts should resolve to run up no new ones in that time. —Des Moines Regis.

Wars to end wars have long been the policy of Europe. Peace to end wars is the new plan. May the peace plan prevail.—Canton Evening Repository.

READING ROOM OPENS ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Beginning last Sunday afternoon the reading room will be open every Sunday from 2—6. This is a privilege which has been granted the student body and one for which we are very grateful.

However, we can keep it—just so long as we regard it as a privilege and do not abuse it. Various Seniors are taking turns as librarian and will take charge of the room. The request has come that when we go, we go to be quiet and to read, otherwise stay outside and have your fun.

The reading room will be a help and a pleasure for those four hours if we help make it so—by not removing magazines, being quiet and orderly—and letting other people get the same benefit from it. At present everyone may go and stay aslong as she likes. We will all keep this privilege just so long as we have a right to it. However, this is true, if it is found that any one class is causing the disturbances then that class will be asked not to come. So if we remember that this is a help and a pleasure and that we are reflecting on more than one person we'll remember to regard it as a privilege worth having.

COLLEGE WEEK

The object of College Week—to have everyone take an interest in school affairs, seems so far to have been accomplished. Certainly the spirit displayed at the volley ball games was unusual; the night programs have been well attended, and then perhaps, everyone has thought, and having thought, nominated.

There are still some more events in the week, whether we slack down or not will prove just how successful College Week has been.T ry not miss a single program and see if the whole school isn't closer together.

Nominations are over but next week is coming and with it comes elections. We'll have time to think—then let's vote! Perhaps not half of the student body nominated, let's not be able to say that of our final vote. The officers which you elect are your officers and will carry on your organizations. Who is going to help carry on a cllege club next year? Have you thought of who is the most capable person?

Prove that College Week has not been in vain that we have imbibed the spirit of Alma Mater to the extent of not missing a single program, or failing to vote for each officer. The week will be over, but the spirit may carry on indefinitely.

Mussolini says liberty exists only in the imagination of philosophers. Of course Mussolini thinks he is a real philosopher. —Omaha Bee.

MAY DAY PROGRAM WRITTEN BY STUDENTS

Old Medieval Style to be Presented.—Committee Selected

In recent years the May Day celebrations seem to have developed into a regular wedding effect lacking only the men. The beautiful modern day dresses adorn the ladies of the court, and the queen is dressed just as a bride might be. This seems absurd when we think of what the old English May Day really was.

A different plan has been worked out this year by Miss Wheeler's drama class and it is hoped that the students will like the idea of breaking away from this very modern idea of a May Day. The medieval Court of Love will be carried out. The festival is divided into four parts. The opening scene is the crowding of villages and peasants to see the contests of the knights. The winning knight chooses his lady as the queen of May. Part II will be folk dances of the period represented. In Part III the procession of the Court takes place and the Knight crowns his lady queen of the May. Entertainment of the queen will take up Part IV and this will be in the form of a Greek dance. This synopsis merely gives an idea as to the order of procedure.

The queen of May will be, as usual, selected by the student body and this selection will take place within the next two weeks. The rest of the characters will be selected by Miss Barlowe and the committee.

The scene will be in front of the colonnade and a background of green will form the throne and stage.

With the interest of the seventy-five or eighty girls who will take part in the program and the support of the students our May Day should be a success. Any suggestions or willingness to help serve on any committee will be appreciated.

The committee, as it stands, is as follows:

Dances	Miss Barlowe Elizabeth Sawyer
Music	Virginia Vincent Virginia Potts
Costumes	Elizabeth Jarman Frances Wamsley
Stage	Edith Cornwell Viola Woodson
Chairman	Lucy Haile Overbey

GAMMA THETA GIVES SPRING BANQUET

The members of the Gamma Theta sorority gave their Founder's Day banquet, Saturday, April 2.

The banquet room was beautifully decorated in blue and white, and evergreens.

Among those present were seventeen alumnae and the invited guests, Miss Mix and Miss Stubbs.

There have been only two men in the world that understand women. One is dead and the other crazy.

SOPHOMORE AND JUNIORS WIN VOLLEY BALL GAMES

Student Body Backs Games with Good Attendance and "Pep"

Athletics took a sudden jump forward Tuesday night in the form of a double-header in volley ball first, between the Freshmen and Sophomores and then between the Juniors and Seniors. An unusual amount of enthusiasm and interest was shown by the student body which along with the pep of the players themselves, made all five games played an unchecked continuation of determination on the part of the players and of high class spirit on the part of the onlookers.

JUNIOR-SENIOR

The Juniors and Seniors put a little more fun and a little less skill into their games. Only two games were played betweeen these two classes because the Juniors won both games. The first game ended with a score of 24—17 while the second ended with a 20—12 victory for the Juniors. This means that the Juniors and Sophomores will play for the ten championship points Thursday night.

Line-up:

Juniors	Seniors
Putney	Rucker
Armfield	Lohr
Volk	White
Updike	Harrell
E. Woodson	Jones
Dulaney	Potts
Clements	Gary
J. Woodson	Dickinson

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE

Volley ball requires that the best two out of three games played shall decide the victor and it was necessary for all three games to be played, and played hard until the last whistle was blown before the winner was known. The first and last games were much better than the second one. Both teams showed unusual ability in keeping the ball in play and also in returning and serving good balls.

The Freshmen won the first game by a close margin of 18—16. During this game first one team and then the other was ahead until the final whistle was blown. The second game was a decided victory for the Sophomores, ending with a score of 23—7. The third game started out in the same way and at one time the score was 16—6 in favor of the Sophomores. However, at this time the Freshmen rallied and rolled up the score until they lacked only four points of tying the score. The final score was 20—16 which made the Sophomores the winners of the best two out of three games.

The line-up:

Freshman	Sophomore
Brinkley	Woods
Hatchett	Wilkinson
Graves	Jones

Continued on last page

VIRGINIA EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE

On March 31 and April 1, an educational conference of district D, of the Virginia Educational Association was held at Hopewell, Virginia. The program of which proved most interesting and helpful.

A number of the faculty members attended the conference, and two of them had a part on the program. Miss Mary E. Peck spoke to the High School teachers on Friday afternoon. Her subject was "Teaching that develops initiative in H. S. Pupils." Miss Peck has been supervising the teaching of history in the training school for several years, and has carried out as nearly as possible the plan which she advocated.

Miss Mary B. Haynes spoke to the primary teachers on the subject of "Time Economy in the Primary Grades." Several other members of the faculty attended the conference.

Not only did members of the faculty take part in the conference, but this College was well represented by the alumnae, as well as Miss Lula O. Andrews, a former member of the faculty who spoke to the English department on "The Personal Touch" and Dr. Fannie Dunn, also a former member of this faculty who spoke. Among the alumnae on the program were Miss Mary Rives Richardson and Miss Annie Miller Almond.

One of the most interesting features of the whole conference was an address given by Dr. Henry Louis Smith, given at the opening meeting.

The conference proved most beneficial to the various departments as well as to the groups a whole. Various divisions of the Virginia Education Association will hold similar conferences at various times.

PIERIAN LITERARY SOCIETY HAS BANQUET

On Thursday night, March 31, the members of the former Pierian Literary Society had a banquet. The banquet roo mwas beautifully decorated with the colors of the society, green and yellow. Miss Mildred Lohr, the president, acted as hostess and Miss Mary Christian Royall, as toast-mistress. A number of toasts were made by both the old and new Pierians. All the members expressed their regret that the Pierian Literary Society was disbanding and that this would be their last meeting together, since it had previously been agreed that it would be more beneficial to S. T. C., to have only two societies. Each girl resolved to show the Pierian spirit in the new society to which she would belong.

A delicious three course dinner was served, consisting of a meat course fololwed by salad, ice cream, nuts and mints. Everyone had a good time and none will ever forget the last meeting of the Pierians.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor ..... EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic ..... LOUISE BREWER '27

Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers

Business Manager ..... VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant ..... ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

KEEP TO THE RIGHT

Always—we might use this topic, and in many, many different ways. In fact, it might be a very excellent "motto" for all of us if we want to find a motto. However, this time we really have a reason to mechanically "keep to the right"—i na physical sense.

We desired a new door in the post office, saying that this would da away with crowding and congestion. However, while the door has been a big help we can help along more by "keeping to the right." We might decide to make the hall from the foot of the stairs leading down to the laboratory to the steps going up at the end of the hall a "one way street", but this wouldn't be very convenient for most of us. We can have almost as much efficiency and easy movement making a set of traffic regulations.

For this set of regulations we need only one rule "keep" to the right." If we will go all the way down the hall toward the past office on the right hand side, then go in the door nearest to the new wing, turn come out the closest door and continue on down to the right. This door may be a few steps farther from your box, but it will make it better for everyone if we all go in the same direction. This is another one of the times when "thinking in terms of the group" will save time, energy and being absolutely mashed for everyone.

There is still another thing that is up to us to do in order to keep the post office from being congested—this is, keep moving. You look in your box—nothing there? Then don't stop and wait in the post office for ten minutes to see if something wil lbe put there. Come on out, go down the hall, to your room around the corner—anywhere, but don't stay inside the post office and make it crowded, so that others can't get their mail. If you have mail, take it and go! Don't stand in a space that's being sought for by a dozen other people who haven't got their mail. Move on and give room for someone else.

The noise really has improved and congestion seems to have been somewhat relieved, still we see jams, quite bewildered looking people, and we can do away with these if we will. Let's have two little rules to remember—"Keep to the right," but "Keep moving."

ARE YOU A GOOD HOUSEKEEPER?

This week is National Clean Up Week. Since we are vitally a part of the nation we should at least be thinking of cleaning things up, perhaps not only of things but ourselves. Its not a question of our person, or our organization, such as the Campus League going to work—its a question of everybody making this clean up week and really going to work.

Perhaps we could say "we'll help in our minds and everything we see that looks as if it needs cleaning we'll clean it." Suppose each of us pick up the scraps of paper we see laying around, or suppose we start our cleaning at home.

We might, each one, go out to the front of the building and look up—what do we see? A lovely building, but rather marred in many places by someone's thoughtlessness. In one window is a coca-cola bottle, the next has handkerchiefs drying, in anther there are several cans and jars. Looking farther down the line we see a box, then we'll probably find the same thing repeated all the way around the building if we only take the trouble to look.

To each of us, as we put these bottles on the window sill, to keep cool I suppose, although they appear to be empty, perhaps only occurs the thought of convenience. We never think of the fact that if everyne in school and especially those living in the rooms facing front would put bottles, boxes, handkerchiefs, etc., in their front windows, it might look as though we were having a rummage sale. So its merely a case of realizing in this instance, that this our home, and in our home we would certainly never put all sorts of queer looking things in the window.

If we begin to clean here, perhaps, we can catch this habit and help make the whole campus a neater looking place. Lets get the spirit of National Clean Up Week, and spread it 'till our campus is without a scrap to mar its beauty.

RUMORS

Rumor—"a popular report; common talk; notoriety; reputation." Certainly Daniel was correct in his definition but we may agree that he lacked experience in a State Teachers College, for if he had once listened in on a conversation he would have added somewhere in his definition, the word "exaggeration."

But really we must have some means to entertain ourselves having nothing else to do but study, when the teachers remember to give assignments.

We wonder who started the first rumor. It must have been one of those little creatures in Pandora's Box. Wasn't Pandora horrid? We may bet that that evil in the box started the rumor that Pandora was going to lift the lid and that's why all the bad things were in such agitation and readiness to buzz out into our world.

Those little creatures are buzzing here all the time. Not long ago a few people sneezed—just merely sneezed and went to the Infirmary. We immediately had a most exciting rumor. Mothers, sweethearts and everybody received the news. Our institution was to be quarantined because of terrific influenza epidemic. Visions of each of us suffering from the pangs of cold germs fluttered through each mind. Ah, it was a most exciting subject to buzz on! And then all of a sudden in the midst of all the excitement we realized that the rumor was out of date. Why, we had ceased to sneeze.

Another rumor started. This was of greatest importance. It involved the whole world. Some little evil buzzed somewhere one afternoon that United States had declared war with China and that all men from seventeen to thirty-five would be drafted immediately. Each girl would hear the news, throw up her hands, attain a very faint-like expression, register visions of cannon, scream out Johnnie, Barry, Jack, Frank, or somebody and then go awayto cry. One always cries by herself when war is declared. No one else in the world may realize how hard it will be to see Tom, or Jim, or Dick, face the awful fire of guns. Ah, but we are noble. Right away we gave up all thoughts of Primary Methods and definitely decided to become Red Cross nurses. Some of us were practically over in China when a newspaper was brought forth. It was most disillusioning to our imaginations! It was just a rumor.

But let's all be happy. Easter holiday isn't a rumor 'cause Dr. Jarman said so. And he's the very best authority on rumors.

A LITTLE AMUSEMENT

By Mark Sullivan

The first day my seatmate took three pages of notes.

* * *

The second day he took two pages of notes.

* * *

The next day he took one and a half pages of notes and drew a few pictures.

* * *

The fourth day he took one page of notes and drew a page of pictures. (The pictures were all of girls' heads, with long hair and goo-goo eyes. He wrote Anne on all the drawings.)

* * *

The fifth day he took a half page of notes and wrote his name on the rest of the sheet eleven times. He wrote his name in all different types and forms of lettering. He also drew a clever picture of the prof.

* * *

The sixth day he wrote down the date, drew one picture and wrote his name but twice. Spring fever was in his bones, you see. Or maybe love.

* * *

The seventh day he wrote down the date. He filled out the sheet with Greek alphabet letters. He drew a picture which he called Mary. He had forgotten all about notes now.

* * *

The eighth day he started a poem. The first two lines rimed.

* * *

The ninth and tenth days he slept. Blissfully, soothfully, contentedly.

* * *

The eleventh day he took the first exam.

* * *

The twelfth day he dropped the course.

—University of Washington Columns

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink
With Us
W-A-D-E-S

Championship Volley Ball Game Tonight

THE ROTUNDA

Vote for the Best Girl Tuesday

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1927 Number 25

PROGRAM FOR COLLEGE WEEK IS ELABORATE

Various Organizations of School Participate To Make It Interesting to All

In an effort to make College Week both a success and a pleasure to everyone, a delightful and purposeful program was arranged and is now being carried out by various organizations in our school.

The program was initiated in our regular student body meeting on Monday night at which time the purposes or aims of College Week were set forth and the interest of every citizen within our school community was solicited. Following the student body meeting two members of the Debate Club gave a brief but cleevr informal debate, the subject of which was, "Resolved: That personal prejudice should influence our voting." The affirmative side of the question was upheld by Miss Lucy Haile Overbey while Miss Elizabeth Hutt, representing the negative side, declared that personal prejudice should not influence our voting. Both sides of the question were discussed thoroughly and with considerable wit, however, the negative side was victorious.

On Tuesday morning in Chapel the Sophomore class presented a short stunt in the form of a court scene. The prisoner, represented by Lorah Brewer, was tried, convicted and sentenced for failure to cooperat e with organizations and for continuing to work harm through adverse rather than constructive criticism. The chief objective of this brief skit was to show the necessity of constructive criticism and cooperation with organizations that are working for the betterment of our school.

Dr. Walmsley's talk on Tuesday night was a most intersting and enlightening one. His very subject title is suggestive of the idea which he sought to convey. Dr. Walmsley threw much light upon the effects of and reations to what is so often referred to in our attitudes as "snootiness." It is almost certain that this talk was not a fruitless one and that it will be remembered by those who heard it.

The rest of the week will be devoted to a continuation of such programs and it is to be hoped that the entire student body, in addition to the various organizations in school, will participate with interest and enthusiasm to make College Week a success.

The European nations that are getting sixty two years in which to pay their war debts should resolve to run up no new ones in that time. —Des Moines Regis.

Wars to end wars have long been the policy of Europe. Peace to end wars is the new plan. May the peace plan prevail.—Canton Evening Repository.

READING ROOM OPENS ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Beginning last Sunday afternoon the reading room will be open every Sunday from 2—6. This is a privilege which has been granted the student body and one for which we are very grateful.

However, we can keep it—just so long as we regard it as a privilege and do not abuse it. Various Seniors are taking turns as librarian and will take charge of the room. The request has come that when we go, we go to be quiet and to read, otherwise stay outside and have your fun.

The reading room will be a help and a pleasure for those four hours if we help make it so—by not removing magazines, being quiet and orderly—and letting other people get the same benefit from it. At present everyone may go and stay aslong as she likes. We will all keep this privilege just so long as we have a right to it. However, this is true, if it is found that any one class is causing the disturbances then that class will be asked not to come. So if we remember that this is a help and a pleasure and that we are reflecting on more than one person we'll remember to regard it as a privilege worth having.

COLLEGE WEEK

The object of College Week—to have everyone take an interest in school affairs, seems so far to have been accomplished. Certainly the spirit displayed at the volley ball games was unusual; the night programs have been well attended, and then perhaps, everyone has thought, and having thought, nominated.

There are still some more events in the week, whether we slack down or not will prove just how successful College Week has been.T ry not miss a single program and see if the whole school isn't closer together.

Nominations are over but next week is coming and with it comes elections. We'll have time to think—then let's vote! Perhaps not half of the student body nominated, let's not be able to say that of our final vote. The officers which you elect are your officers and will carry on your organizations. Who is going to help carry on a cllege club next year? Have you thought of who is the most capable person?

Prove that College Week has not been in vain that we have imbibed the spirit of Alma Mater to the extent of not missing a single program, or failing to vote for each officer. The week will be over, but the spirit may carry on indefinitely.

Mussolini says liberty exists only in the imagination of philosophers. Of course Mussolini thinks he is a real philosopher. —Omaha Bee.

MAY DAY PROGRAM WRITTEN BY STUDENTS

Old Medieval Style to be Presented.—Committee Selected

In recent years the May Day celebrations seem to have developed into a regular wedding effect lacking only the men. The beautiful modern day dresses adorn the ladies of the court, and the queen is dressed just as a bride might be. This seems absurd when we think of what the old English May Day really was.

A different plan has been worked out this year by Miss Wheeler's drama class and it is hoped that the students will like the idea of breaking away from this very modern idea of a May Day. The medieval Court of Love will be carried out. The festival is divided into four parts. The opening scene is the crowding of villages and peasants to see the contests of the knights. The winning knight chooses his lady as the queen of May. Part II will be folk dances of the period represented. In Part III the procession of the Court takes place and the Knight crowns his lady queen of the May. Entertainment of the queen will take up Part IV and this will be in the form of a Greek dance. This synopsis merely gives an idea as to the order of procedure.

The queen of May will be, as usual, selected by the student body and this selection will take place within the next two weeks. The rest of the characters will be selected by Miss Barlowe and the committee.

The scene will be in front of the colonnade and a background of green will form the throne and stage.

With the interest of the seventy-five or eighty girls who will take part in the program and the support of the students our May Day should be a success. Any suggestions or willingness to help serve on any committee will be appreciated.

The committee, as it stands, is as follows:

Dances	Miss Barlowe Elizabeth Sawyer
Music	Virginia Vincent Virginia Potts
Costumes	Elizabeth Jarman Frances Wamsley
Stage	Edith Cornwell Viola Woodson
Chairman	Lucy Haile Overbey

GAMMA THETA GIVES SPRING BANQUET

The members of the Gamma Theta sorority gave their Founder's Day banquet, Saturday, April 2.

The banquet room was beautifully decorated in blue and white, and evergreens.

Among those present were seventeen alumnae and the invited guests, Miss Mix and Miss Stubbs.

There have been only two men in the world that understand women. One is dead and the other crazy.

SOPHOMORE AND JUNIORS WIN VOLLEY BALL GAMES

VIRGINIA EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE

On March 31 and April 1, an educational conference of district D, of the Virginia Educational Association was held at Hopewell, Virginia. The program of which proved most interesting and helpful.

A number of the faculty members attended the conference, and two of them had a part on the program. Miss Mary E. Peck spoke to the High School teachers on Friday afternoon. Her subject was "Teaching that develops initiative in H. S. Pupils." Miss Peck has been supervising the teaching of history in the training school for several years, and has carried out as nearly as possible the plan which she advocated.

Miss Mary B. Haynes spoke to the primary teachers on the subject of "Time Economy in the Primary Grades." Several other members of the faculty attended the conference.

Not only did members of the faculty take part in the conference, but this College was well represented by the alumnae, as well as Miss Lula O. Andrews, a former member of the faculty who spoke to the English department on "The Personal Touch" and Dr. Fannie Dunn, also a former member of this faculty who spoke. Among the alumnae on the program were Miss Mary Rives Richardson and Miss Annie Miller Almond.

One of the most interesting features of the whole conference was an address given by Dr. Henry Louis Smith, given at the opening meeting.

The conference proved most beneficial to the various departments as well as to the groups a whole. Various divisions of the Virginia Education Association will hold similar conferences at various times.

PIERIAN LITERARY SOCIETY HAS BANQUET

On Thursday night, March 31, the members of the former Pierian Literary Society had a banquet. The banquet roo mwas beautifully decorated with the colors of the society, green and yellow. Miss Mildred Lohr, the president, acted as hostess and Miss Mary Christian Royall, as toast-mistress. A number of toasts were made by both the old and new Pierians. All the members expressed their regret that the Pierian Literary Society was disbanding and that this would be their last meeting together, since it had previously been agreed that it would be more beneficial to S. T. C., to have only two societies. Each girl resolved to show the Pierian spirit in the new society to which she would belong.

A delicious three course dinner was served, consisting of a meat course fololwed by salad, ice cream, nuts and mints. Everyone had a good time and none will ever forget the last meeting of the Pierians.

Student Body Backs Games with Good Attendance and "Pep"

Athletics took a sudden jump forward Tuesday night in the form of a double-header in volley ball first, between the Freshmen and Sophomores and then between the Juniors and Seniors. An unusual amount of enthusiasm and interest was shown by the student body which along with the pep of the players themselves, made all five games played an unchecked continuation of determination on the part of the players and of high class spirit on the part of the onlookers.

JUNIOR-SENIOR

The Juniors and Seniors put a little more fun and a little less skill into their games. Only two games were played betweeen these two classes because the Juniors won both games. The first game ended with a score of 24—17 while the second ended with a 20—12 victory for the Juniors. This means that the Juniors and Sophomores will play for the ten championship points Thursday night.

Line-up:

Juniors	Seniors
Putney	Rucker
Armfield	Lohr
Volk	White
Updike	Harrell
E. Woodson	Jones
Dulaney	Potts
Clements	Gary
J. Woodson	Dickinson

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE

Volley ball requires that the best two out of three games played shall decide the victor and it was necessary for all three games to be played, and played hard until the last whistle was blown before the winner was known. The first and last games were much better than the second one. Both teams showed unusual ability in keeping the ball in play and also in returning and serving good balls.

The Freshmen won the first game by a close margin of 18—16. During this game first one team and then the other was ahead until the final hwistle was blown. The second game was a decided victory for the Sophomores, ending with a score of 23—7. The third game started out in the same way and at one time the score was 16—6 in favor of the Sophomores. However, at this time the Freshmen rallied and rolled up the score until they lacked only four points of tying the score. The final score was 20—16 which made the Sophomores the winners of the best two out of three games.

The line-up:

Freshman	Sophomore
Brinkley	Woods
Hatchett	Wilkinson
Graves	Jones

Continued on last page

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor ..... EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic ..... LOUISE BREWER '27

Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers

Business Manager ..... VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant ..... ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

KEEP TO THE RIGHT

Always—we might use this topic, and in many, many different ways. In fact, it might be a very excellent "motto" for all of us if we want to find a motto. However, this time we really have a reason to mechanically "keep to the right"—i na physical sense.

We desired a new door in the post office, saying that this would da away with crowding and congestion. However, while the door has been a big help we can help along more by "keeping to the right." We might decide to make the hall from the foot of the stairs leading down to the laboratory to the steps going up at the end of the hall a "one way street", but this wouldn't be very convenient for most of us. We can have almost as much efficiency and easy movement making a set of traffic regulations.

For this set of regulations we need only one rule "keep" to the right." If we will go all the way down the hall toward the past office on the right hand side, then go in the door nearest to the new wing, turn come out the closest door and continue on down to the right. This door may be a few steps farther from your box, but it will make it better for everyone if we all go in the same direction. This is another one of the times when "thinking in terms of the group" will save time, energy and being absolutely mashed for everyone.

There is still another thing that is up to us to do in order to keep the post office from being congested—this is, keep moving. You look in your box—nothing there? Then don't stop and wait in the post office for ten minutes to see if something wil lbe put there. Come on out, go down the hall, to your room around the corner—anywhere, but don't stay inside the post office and make it crowded, so that others can't get their mail. If you have mail, take it and go! Don't stand in a space that's being sought for by a dozen other people who haven't got their mail. Move on and give room for someone else.

The noise really has improved and congestion seems to have been somewhat relieved, still we see jams, quite bewildered looking people, and we can do away with these if we will. Let's have two little rules to remember—"Keep to the right," but "Keep moving."

ARE YOU A GOOD HOUSEKEEPER?

This week is National Clean Up Week. Since we are vitally a part of the nation we should at least be thinking of cleaning things up, perhaps not only of things but ourselves. Its not a question of our person, or our organization, such as the Campus League going to work—its a question of everybody making this clean up week and really going to work.

Perhaps we could say "we'll help in our minds and everything we see that looks as if it needs cleaning we'll clean it." Suppose each of us pick up the scraps of paper we see laying around, or suppose we start our cleaning at home.

We might, each one, go out to the front of the building and look up—what do we see? A lovely building, but rather marred in many places by someone's thoughtlessness. In one window is a coca-cola bottle, the next has handkerchiefs drying, in anther there are several cans and jars. Looking farther down the line we see a box, then we'll probably find the same thing repeated all the way around the building if we only take the trouble to look.

To each of us, as we put these bottles on the window sill, to keep cool I suppose, although they appear to be empty, perhaps only occurs the thought of convenience. We never think of the fact that if everyne in school and especially those living in the rooms facing front would put bottles, boxes, handkerchiefs, etc., in their front windows, it might look as though we were having a rummage sale. So its merely a case of realizing in this instance, that this our home, and in our home we would certainly never put all sorts of queer looking things in the window.

If we begin to clean here, perhaps, we can catch this habit and help make the whole campus a neater looking place. Lets get the spirit of National Clean Up Week, and spread it 'till our campus is without a scrap to mar its beauty.

RUMORS

Rumor—"a popular report; common talk; notoriety; reputation." Certainly Daniel was correct in his definition but we may agree that he lacked experience in a State Teachers College, for if he had once listened in on a conversation he would have added somewhere in his definition, the word "exaggeration."

But really we must have some means to entertain ourselves having nothing else to do but study, when the teachers remember to give assignments.

We wonder who started the first rumor. It must have been one of those little creatures in Pandora's Box. Wasn't Pandora horrid? We may bet that that evil in the box started the rumor that Pandora was going to lift the lid and that's why all the bad things were in such agitation and readiness to buzz cut into our world.

Those little creatures are buzzing here all the time. Not long ago a few people sneezed—just merely sneezed and went to the Infirmary. We immediately had a most exciting rumor. Mothers, sweethearts and everybody received the news. Our institution was to be quarantined because of terrific influenza epidemic. Visions of each of us suffering from the pangs of cold germs fluttered through each mind. Ah, it was a most exciting subject to buzz on! And then all of a sudden in the midst of all the excitement we realized that the rumor was out of date. Why, we had ceased to sneeze.

Another rumor started. This was of greatest importance. It involved the whole world. Some little evil buzzed somewhere one afternoon that United States had declared war with China and that all men from seventeen to thirty-five would be drafted immediately. Each girl would hear the news, throw up her hands, attain a very faint-like expression, register visions of cannon, scream out Johnnie, Barry, Jack, Frank, or somebody and then go awayto cry. One always cries by herself when war is declared. No one else in the world may realize how hard it will be to see Tom, or Jim, or Dick, face the awful fire of guns. Ah, but we are noble. Right away we gave up all thoughts of Primary Methods and definitely decided to become Red Cross nurses. Some of us were practically over in China when a newspaper was brought forth. It was most disillusioning to our imaginations! It was just a rumor.

But let's all be happy. Easter holiday isn't a rumor 'cause Dr. Jarman said so. And he's the very best authority on rumors.

A LITTLE AMUSEMENT

By Mark Sullivan

The first day my seatmate took three pages of notes.

* * *

The second day he took two pages of notes.

* * *

The next day he took one and a half pages of notes and drew a few pictures.

* * *

The fourth day he took one page of notes and drew a page of pictures. (The pictures were all of girls' heads, with long hair and goo-goo eyes. He wrote Anne on all the drawings.)

* * *

The fifth day he took a half page of notes and wrote his name on the rest of the sheet eleven times. He wrote his name in all different types and forms of lettering. He also drew a clever picture of the prof.

* * *

The sixth day he wrote down the date, drew one picture and wrote his name but twice. Spring fever was in his bones, you see. Or maybe love.

* * *

The seventh day he wrote down the date. He filled out the sheet with Greek alphabet letters. He drew a picture which he called Mary. He had forgotten all about notes now.

* * *

The eighth day he started a poem. The first two lines rimed.

* * *

The ninth and tenth days he slept. Blissfully, soothfully, contentedly.

* * *

The eleventh day he took the first exam.

* * *

The twelfth day he dropped the course.

—University of Washington Columns

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink With Us
W-A-D-E-S

Championship Volley Ball Game Tonight

THE ROTUNDA

Vote for the Best Girl Tuesday

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1927 Number 25

PROGRAM FOR COLLEGE WEEK IS ELABORATE

Various Organizations of School Participate To Make It Interesting to All

In an effort to make College Week both a success and a pleasure to everyone, a delightful and purposeful program was arranged and is now being carried out by various organizations in our school.

The program was initiated in our regular student body meeting on Monday night at which time the purposes or aims of College Week were set forth and the interest of every citizen within our school community was solicited. Following the student body meeting two members of the Debate Club gave a brief but cleevr informal debate, the subject of which was, "Resolved: That personal prejudice should influence our voting." The affirmative side of the question was upheld by Miss Lucy Haile Overbey while Miss Elizabeth Hutt, representing the negative side, declared that personal prejudice should not influence our voting. Both sides of the question were discussed thoroughly and with consideratble wit, however, the negative side was victorious.

On Tuesday morning in Chapel the Sophomore class presented a short stunt in the form of a court scene. The prisoner, represented by Lorah Brewer, was tried, convicted and sentenced for failure to cooperate with organizations and for continuing to work harm through adverse rather than constructive criticism. The chief objective of this brief skit was to show the necessity of constructive criticism and cooperation with organizations that are working for the betterment of our school.

Dr. Walmsley's talk on Tuesday night was a most intersting and enlightening one. His very subject title is suggestive of the idea which he sought to convey. Dr. Walmsley threw much light upon the effects of and reations to what is so often referred to in our attitudes as "snootiness." It is almost certain that this talk was not a fruitless one and that it will be remembered by those who heard it.

The rest of the week will be devoted to a continuation of such programs and it is to be hoped that the entire student body, in addition to the various organizations in school, will participate with interest and enthusiasm to make College Week a success.

The European nations that are getting sixty two years in which to pay their war debts should resolve to run up no new ones in that time. —Des Moines Regis.

Wars to end wars have long been the policy of Europe. Peace to end wars is the new plan. May the peace plan prevail.—Canton Evening Repository.

READING ROOM OPENS ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Beginning last Sunday afternoon the reading room will be open every Sunday from 2—6. This is a privilege which has been granted the student body and one for which we are very grateful.

However, we can keep it—just so long as we regard it as a privilege and do not abuse it. Various Seniors are taking turns as librarian and will take charge of the room. The request has come that when we go, we go to be quiet and to read, otherwise stay outside and have your fun.

The reading room will be a help and a pleasure for those four hours if we help make it so—by not removing magazines, being quiet and orderly—and letting other people get the same benefit from it. At present everyone may go and stay aslong as she likes. We will all keep this privilege just so long as we have a right to it. However, this is true, if it is found that any one class is causing the disturbances then that class will be asked not to come. So if we remember that this is a help and a pleasure and that we are reflecting on more than one person we'll remember to regard it as a privilege worth having.

COLLEGE WEEK

The object of College Week—to have everyone take an interest in school affairs, seems so far to have been accomplished. Certainly the spirit displayed at the volley ball games was unusual; the night programs have been well attended, and then perhaps, everyone has thought, and having thought, nominated.

There are still some more events in the week, whether we slack down or not will prove just how successful College Week has been.T ry not miss a single program and see if the whole school isn't closer together.

Nominations are over but next week is coming and with it comes elections. We'll have time to think—then let's vote! Perhaps not half of the student body nominated, let's not be able to say that of our final vote. The officers which you elect are your officers and will carry on your organizations. Who is going to help carry on a cllege club next year? Have you thought of who is the most capable person?

Prove that College Week has not been in vain that we have imbibed the spirit of Alma Mater to the extent of not missing a single program, or failing to vote for each officer. The week will be over, but the spirit may carry on indefinitely.

Mussolini says liberty exists only in the imagination of philosophers. Of course Mussolini thinks he is a real philosopher. —Omaha Bee.

MAY DAY PROGRAM WRITTEN BY STUDENTS

Old Medieval Style to be Presented.—Committee Selected

In recent years the May Day celebrations seem to have developed into a regular wedding effect lacking only the men. The beautiful modern day dresses adorn the ladies of the court, and the queen is dressed just as a bride might be. This seems absurd when we think of what the old English May Day really was.

A different plan has been worked out this year by Miss Wheeler's drama class and it is hoped that the students will like the idea of breaking away from this very modern idea of a May Day. The medieval Court of Love will be carried out. The festival is divided into four parts. The opening scene is the crowding of villages and peasants to see the contests of the knights. The winning knight chooses his lady as the queen of May. Part II will be folk dances of the period represented. In Part III the procession of the Court takes place and the Knight crowns his lady queen of the May. Entertainment of the queen will take up Part IV and this will be in the form of a Greek dance. This synopsis merely gives an idea as to the order of procedure.

The queen of May will be, as usual, selected by the student body and this selection will take place within the next two weeks. The rest of the characters will be selected by Miss Barlowe and the committee.

The scene will be in front of the colonnade and a background of green will form the throne and stage.

With the interest of the seventy-five or eighty girls who will take part in the program and the support of the students our May Day should be a success. Any suggestions or willingness to help serve on any committee will be appreciated.

The committee, as it stands, is as follows:

Dances	Miss Barlowe Elizabeth Sawyer
Music	Virginia Vincent Virginia Potts
Costumes	Elizabeth Jarman Frances Wamsley
Stage	Edith Cornwell Viola Woodson
Chairman	Lucy Haile Overbey

GAMMA THETA GIVES SPRING BANQUET

The members of the Gamma Theta sorority gave their Founder's Day banquet, Saturday, April 2.

The banquet room was beautifully decorated in blue and white, and evergreens.

Among those present were seventeen alumnae and the invited guests, Miss Mix and Miss Stubbs.

There have been only two men in the world that understand women. One is dead and the other crazy.

SOPHOMORE AND JUNIORS WIN VOLLEY BALL GAMES

Student Body Backs Games with Good Attendance and "Pep"

Athletics took a sudden jump forward Tuesday night in the form of a double-header in volley ball first, between the Freshmen and Sophomores and then between the Juniors and Seniors. An unusual amount of enthusiasm and interest was shown by the student body which along with the pep of the players themselves, made all five games played an unchecked continuation of determination on the part of the players and of high class spirit on the part of the onlookers.

JUNIOR-SENIOR

The Juniors and Seniors put a little more fun and a little less skill into their games. Only two games were played betweeen these two classes because the Juniors won both games. The first game ended with a score of 24—17 while the second ended with a 20—12 victory for the Juniors. This means that the Juniors and Sophomores will play for the ten championship points Thursday night.

Line-up:

Juniors	Seniors
Putney	Rucker
Armfield	Lohr
Volk	White
Updike	Harrell
E. Woodson	Jones
Dulaney	Potts
Clements	Gary
J. Woodson	Dickinson

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE

Volley ball requires that the best two out of three games played shall decide the victor and it was necessary for all three games to be played, and played hard until the last whistle was blown before the winner was known. The first and last games were much better than the second one. Both teams showed unusual ability in keeping the ball in play and also in returning and serving good balls.

The Freshmen won the first game by a close margin of 18—16. During this game first one team and then the other was ahead until the final hwistle was blown. The second game was a decided victory for the Sophomores, ending with a score of 23—7. The third game started out in the same way and at one time the score was 16—6 in favor of the Sophomores. However, at this time the Freshmen rallied and rolled up the score until they lacked only four points of tying the score. The final score was 20—16 which made the Sophomores the winners of the best two out of three games.

The line-up:

Freshman	Sophomore
Brinkley	Woods
Hatchett	Wilkinson
Graves	Jones

Continued on last page

VIRGINIA EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE

On March 31 and April 1, an educational conference of district D, of the Virginia Educational Association was held at Hopewell, Virginia. The program of which proved most interesting and helpful.

A number of the faculty members attended the conference, and two of them had a part on the program. Miss Mary E. Peck spoke to the High School teachers on Friday afternoon. Her subject was "Teaching that develops initiative in H. S. Pupils." Miss Peck has been supervising the teaching of history in the training school for several years, and has carried out as nearly as possible the plan which she advocated.

Miss Mary B. Haynes spoke to the primary teachers on the subject of "Time Economy in the Primary Grades." Several other members of the faculty attended the conference.

Not only did members of the faculty take part in the conference, but this College was well represented by the alumnae, as well as Miss Lula O. Andrews, a former member of the faculty who spoke to the English department on "The Personal Touch" and Dr. Fannie Dunn, also a former member of this faculty who spoke. Among the alumnae on the program were Miss Mary Rives Richardson and Miss Annie Miller Almond.

One of the most interesting features of the whole conference was an address given by Dr. Henry Louis Smith, given at the opening meeting.

The conference proved most beneficial to the various departments as well as to the groups a whole. Various divisions of the Virginia Education Association will hold similar conferences at various times.

PIERIAN LITERARY SOCIETY HAS BANQUET

On Thursday night, March 31, the members of the former Pierian Literary Society had a banquet. The banquet roo mwas beautifully decorated with the colors of the society, green and yellow. Miss Mildred Lohr, the president, acted as hostess and Miss Mary Christian Royall, as toast-mistress. A number of toasts were made by both the old and new Pierians. All the members expressed their regret that the Pierian Literary Society was disbanding and that this would be their last meeting together, since it had previously been agreed that it would be more beneficial to S. T. C., to have only two societies. Each girl resolved to show the Pierian spirit in the new society to which she would belong.

A delicious three course dinner was served, consisting of a meat course fololwed by salad, ice cream, nuts and mints. Everyone had a good time and none will ever forget the last meeting of the Pierians.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor ..... EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic ..... LOUISE BREWER '27

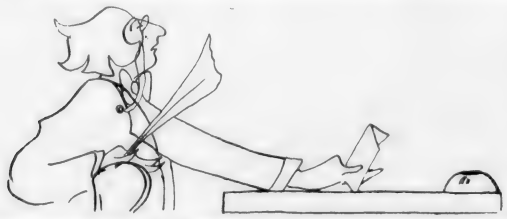
Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers



Business Manager ..... VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant ..... ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

KEEP TO THE RIGHT

Always—we might use this topic, and in many, many different ways. In fact, it might be a very excellent "motto" for all of us if we want to find a motto. However, this time we really have a reason to mechanically "keep to the right"—i na physical sense.

We desired a new door in the post office, saying that this would da away with crowding and congestion. However, while the door has been a big help we can help along more by "keeping to the right." We might decide to make the hall from the foot of the stairs leading down to the laboratory to the steps going up at the end of the hall a "one way street", but this wouldn't be very convenient for most of us. We can have almost as much efficiency and easy movement making a set of traffic regulations.

For this set of regulations we need only one rule "keep" to the right." If we will go all the way down the hall toward the past office on the right hand side, then go in the door nearest to the new wing, turn come out the closest door and continue on down to the right. This door may be a few steps farther from your box, but it will make it better for everyone if we all go in the same direction. This is another one of the times when "thinking in terms of the group" will save time, energy and being absolutely mashed for everyone.

There is still another thing that is up to us to do in order to keep the post office from being congested—this is, keep moving. You look in your box—nothing there? Then don't stop and wait in the post office for ten minutes to see if something wil lbe put there. Come on out, go down the hall, to your room around the corner—anywhere, but don't stay inside the post office and make it crowded, so that others can't get their mail. If you have mail, take it and go! Don't stand in a space that's being sought for by a dozen other people who haven't got their mail. Move on and give room for someone else.

The noise really has improved and congestion seems to have been somewhat relieved, still we see jams, quite bewildered looking people, and we can do away with these if we will. Let's have two little rules to remember—"Keep to the right," but "Keep moving."

ARE YOU A GOOD HOUSEKEEPER?

This week is National Clean Up Week. Since we are vitally a part of the nation we should at least be thinking of cleaning things up, perhaps not only of things but ourselves. Its not a question of our person, or our organization, such as the Campus League going to work—its a question of everybody making this clean up week and really going to work.

Perhaps we could say "we'll help in our minds and everything we see that looks as if it needs cleaning we'll clean it." Suppose each of us pick up the scraps of paper we see laying around, or suppose we start our cleaning at home.

We might, each one, go out to the front of the building and look up—what do we see? A lovely building, but rather marred in many places by someone's thoughtlessness. In one window is a coca-cola bottle, the next has handkerchiefs drying, in anther there are several cans and jars. Looking farther down the line we see a box, then we'll probably find the same thing repeated all the way around the building if we only take the trouble to look.

To each of us, as we put these bottles on the window sill, to keep cool I suppose, although they appear to be empty, perhaps only occurs the thought of convenience. We never think of the fact that if everyne in school and especially those living in the rooms facing front would put bottles, boxes, handkerchiefs, etc., in their front windows, it might look as though we were having a rummage sale. So its merely a case of realizing in this instance, that this our home, and in our home we would certainly never put all sorts of queer looking things in the window.

If we begin to clean here, perhaps, we can catch this habit and help make the whole campus a neater looking place. Lets get the spirit of National Clean Up Week, and spread it 'till our campus is without a scrap to mar its beauty.

RUMORS

Rumor—"a popular report; common talk; notoriety; reputation." Certainly Daniel was correct in his definition but we may agree that he lacked experience in a State Teachers College, for if he had once listened in on a conversation he would have added somewhere in his definition, the word "exaggeration."

But really we must have some means to entertain ourselves having nothing else to do but study, when the teachers remember to give assignments.

We wonder who started the first rumor. It must have been one of those little creatures in Pandora's Box. Wasn't Pandora horrid? We may bet that that evil in the box started the rumor that Pandora was going to lift the lid and that's why all the bad things were in such agitation and readiness to buzz out into our world.

Those little creatures are buzzing here all the time. Not long ago a few people sneezed—just merely sneezed and went to the Infirmary. We immediately had a most exciting rumor. Mothers, sweethearts and everybody received the news. Our institution was to be quarantined because of terrific influenza epidemic. Visions of each of us suffering from the pangs of cold germs fluttered through each mind. Ah, it was a most exciting subject to buzz on! And then all of a sudden in the midst of all the excitement we realized that the rumor was out of date. Why, we had ceased to sneeze.

Another rumor started. This was of greatest importance. It involved the whole world. Some little evil buzzed somewhere one afternoon that United States had declared war with China and that all men from seventeen to thirty-five would be drafted immediately. Each girl would hear the news, throw up her hands, attain a very faint-like expression, register visions of cannon, scream out Johnnie, Barry, Jack, Frank, or somebody and then go awayto cry. One always cries by herself when war is declared. No one else in the world may realize how hard it will be to see Tom, or Jim, or Dick, face the awful fire of guns. Ah, but we are noble. Right away we gave up all thoughts of Primary Methods and definitely decided to become Red Cross nurses. Some of us were practically over in China when a newspaper was brought forth. It was most disillusioning to our imaginations! It was just a rumor.

But let's all be happy. Easter holiday isn't a rumor 'cause Dr. Jarman said so. And he's the very best authority on rumors.

A LITTLE AMUSEMENT

By Mark Sullivan

The first day my seatmate took three pages of notes.

* * *

The second day he took two pages of notes.

* * *

The next day he took one and a half pages of notes and drew a few pictures.

* * *

The fourth day he took one page of notes and drew a page of pictures. (The pictures were all of girls' heads, with long hair and goo-goo eyes. He wrote Anne on all the drawings.)

* * *

The fifth day he took a half page of notes and wrote his name on the rest of the sheet eleven times. He wrote his name in all different types and forms of lettering. He also drew a clever picture of the prof.

* * *

The sixth day he wrote down the date, drew one picture and wrote his name but twice. Spring fever was in his bones, you see. Or maybe love.

* * *

The seventh day he wrote down the date. He filled out the sheet with Greek alphabet letters. He drew a picture which he called Mary. He had forgotten all about notes now.

* * *

The eighth day he started a poem. The first two lines rimed.

* * *

The ninth and tenth days he slept. Blissfully, soothfully, contentedly.

* * *

The eleventh day he took the first exam.

* * *

The twelfth day he dropped the course.

—University of Washington Columns

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink With Us
W-A-D-E-S

CONTENTMENT

Spring, and the thrush, and the sky's
clear blue!
Spring, and its dreams, and the heart
of you!

What if, sometimes, the weary hours
Be filled with burdens beyond my powers?

There's the sky, and the thrush, and
the lure of spring,
And the song that your heart to my heart will sing.

M. G.

TO YOU

I wish I were a rainbow
That sometimes after rain
Appears to keep the promise
That the sun will shine again.

I wish I were a rainbow
That those whose friends grow cold
Might follow me and maybe find
Your heart—"the pot of gold."

B. G.

POINTS OF VIEW

The poet said:
Death is a beautiful wonderful thing,
Majestic, glorious! Of death I sing.

The optimist said:
Death is a little thing, merely a call;
Why dread death? It comes to us all.

The anostic said:
Perhaps death is but a veil, a midst—
Why fear what may not exist?

The minister said:
Death's home is not beneath the sod—
Death is going home to God.

So death may be dawn, or death may
be night—
Call it whatever you think is right.

But to me death is more than a name
She's dead!—and I'll miss her just
the same.

—R. A. '30

"THE GREATER GLORY"

What is "The Greater Glory"? How can we find an answer that will leave us with a satisfied feeling?

Monday, April 11 Anna Q. Nilsson and Conway Tearle will be featured in a splendid picture, "The Greater Glory." This is a picture of the heart cry of millions drowned out by the drums of war; a picture which will more than answer our question.

There will be a matinee and night performance.

Buy your tickets early. They will be on sale at a table in the hall Monday; the admission price is only 35c. Everybody come.

Any plan for government operation of Muscle Shoals does not fit in well with the program of Federal tax reduction.
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A reformer is one who thinks it is his first duty to see that other people do theirs.—Spartanburg (S. C.) Sun.

ATHLETIC NEWS

Tennis Tournament to be Held

This spring there are two awards that will be given for the winners of a tennis tournament which will be staged both for beginners and also for those irls who have had more than one year's experience with this sport. The difference in the tournament which will be held this spring and the one that was held in the fall is that no points can be won for the class by the victor, but that the winner herself will be awarded. An apportunity is also offered to beginners to improve and win in the tournament for those who have played one year or less. The opportunity is open to all and whenever the weather permits the courts are in shape so that all that is necessary now is practice.

At present, no girl is permitted to play more than one hour a day. Observance of this requirement will be expected to be kept until all the courts are improved. In order to keep the schedule straight and to be assured of a court, the hour can be "signed up for" on the Athletic Association bulletin board.

Amendment to Athletic Association Constitution

At a meeting of the student body it was decided that an award of a chevron will be given to those girls who have won an Old English F and then fill the requirements which would entitle her to another letter. Thus, thsoe who have won their letter have an incentive which will lead them to win something that will be of equal value as the Old English F.

THE MONOGRAM CLUB

In order that there may not be great wailing and gnashing of teeth, the Monogram Club has provided a number of tryouts before the door of opportunity is closed the last of April. It would be very poor economy for those who really want to make the college moongram their own not to grasp these chances. Catch the door before it swings shut and the "Monogramers" will do their best to see you through it.

S. T. C. ON THE SILVER SCREEN

1. "It Must be Love."
—Margaret Mackasey
2. "Ladies at Play"
—Runt Hargrave and Skinny Craft
3. "The Campus Flirt"
—Barbara Willcox
4. "The Whole Town's Talking"
—Bessie Meade Riddle
5. "Obery the Law"
—"V" Vincent
6. "Just Another Blonde"
—Annie Gris McIntosh
7. "Prowlers of the Night"
—Cousin Tommy
8. "Tillie, the Toiler"
—Annie Curtis Higgins
9. "Bad Breaks"
—Phyllis Wood
10. "Midnight Follies"
—Student Council
11. "Dodging Trouble"
—Dot Myers
12. "Love 'em and Leave 'em"
—Martha Chapin

"Good morning, Judge"—the average American's idea of being presented at court.

Huddle System: Three couples in a Ford coupe.

SOCIAL

Miss Gertrude Watkins returned Sunday from Kenbridge where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Among those who returned to attend the Gamma Theta Founders' Day banquet on Saturday were: Misses Virginia Hall, Kitty Morgan, Ruth Creecy, Polly Smith and Polly Riddle, of Norfolk; Misses Alice Moore Armstrong, Dorothy Bratton and Evelyn Peake, of Portsmouth; Misses Virginia Cowherd, Mary Alice Blanton and Lucille Franklin, of Richmond; Misses Frances Jones, of Charlottesville; Ann Smith of Staunton; Louise Parsons, of Petersburg; Katherine Reed, of Roanoke, and Mae Hill Carleton of Newport News.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Hargrave spent several days at her home in Petersburg and returned on Sunday.

* * *

Misses Irene and Mary Bernard, of Petersbur, were the week-end guests of Miss Mildred Smith and attended the Chi Phi dances at Hampden-Sidney.

* * *

Miss Mararget Bryant is spending some time at her home in Newport News on account of the illness of her mother.

* * *

Miss Virginia Ellis had as her guest for the week-end, her mother, Mrs. R. S. Ellis of Alcoma.

* * *

Miss Gertrude Wright has returned after spending the week-end at her former home in Ashland.

* * *

Miss Blanche Murrell had as her guests for the week-end Misses Lucy Harrison Miller and Fanny Penn Ford, students at Sweet Briar College.

* * *

Miss Polly Bagby of Hopewell spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Edith Page.

* * *

Miss Dorothy Watkins spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Keysville.

* * *

Misses Cornelia Dickinson and Evelyn Beckham spent Saturday in Richmond.

* * *

Miss Frances Hamner has returned after spending the week-end at her home in Keysville.

Once upon a time a student took an examination. It was a chemistry exam. One of the questions was, "Give in detail the process for making mercuric bichloride." In answer to which the student wrote, "God made all things even mercuric bichloride." Imagine his surprise when he received his corrected exam book and read, "God gets the credit, you don't."

"He done me wrong"—wailed the handed-in exam paper.

She—"How could you live without me?"
He—"Much cheaper."

It was visitor's day.

Prof.: "Who signed the Magna Charter, Mr. Cords?"

Cords: "I don't know. It wasn't me."

Prof. (thoroughly disgusted): "That will do—sir—that will do for you."

Member of the Official Board of Visitors: "Here, don't let that fellow off. I don't like his looks. I believe he did sign it."

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

A doctor fell into a well
And broke his collar bone
A doctor should attend the sick
And leave the well alone

Alice Wiley says an echo is the only thing that keeps a woman from having the last word.

With some of them looking like ( ) and some of them looking like this) (, they still wear short skirts.

"What married? Don't make me laugh, stupid. How did you ever get a wife?"

"I just subered up and there she was."

We have found a new version of "In the Spring."—
In the spring a young girl's powers,
Cunningly work for Easter flowers.

Famous Falls

The ——— of man
The night ———
The ——— of the year
Snow ——
Where the shadows ———
Down ———

College Girl (opposed to being kissed) "You brute—where is your chivalry?"

Brute: "Home in the garage."

Mildred Morris: "What's a wind?"
Edith Lamphier: "Air in a hurry."

Margaret Ballard says it is the shoe horn that plays foot notes.

Jackie Woodson wants us to know that you do not have to be fat to be the best all around girl in college.

I Hate Boys

I hate boys
Everytime one
Comes to see me. he
Always grabs me, and
Tries to hang one
On me; you know, this
John Gilbert—Greta
Garbo stuff; I mean
He tries to kiss me
And all that rot; every
Boy I ever saw thought
He was Don Juan and
John Barrymore and
Ramon Navarro all in
One person not
A picture; I mean
I haven't had a
Date in ages
And ages I'm really
Awfully glad, for
I hate boys.

Girls

There are two kinds of girls, the different and the indifferent. You know she is different when she is indifferent. And think she is indifferent because she is different.

If she is different, fall in love with her at first sight so as to save as much time as possible.

And after the marriage you will find that the difference is all the same.

WHAT WE THINK

Most Striking Looking	Anne Deffenbaugh, Mecca Vicars Shepherd
Most Indifferent	Lucy Haile Overbey, Mary Wilson
Most Studious	Virginia Ellis, Kitty Hatch
Most Fascinating	Virginia Vincent, Marion Grimes
Most Individual	Lucy Haile Overbey, Virginia Potts
Most Influential	Virginia Vincent, Rosalind Harrell
4 Cutest Freshmen	Anne Palmer, Beth White, Anna C. Higgins, Blanche Overbey
4 Outstanding Freshmen	Lucille Graves, Mary F. Hatchett Etta Marshall, Blanche Overbey
Most Modest	Miss Reed, Mary Wilson
Biggest Baby	Virginia Gurley, Mabel Fitzpatrick
Most Independent	Lucy Haile Overbey, Anne Irving
Sweetest	Virginia Vincent, Annie G. McIntosh
Biggest Flirt	Tillie Taylor Mattie Lewis B. Willcox
Most Lovable	Virginia Vincent, Annie G. McIntosh
Craziest	Clara Norfleet, Dot Myers
Peppiest	"Red" Foster, Jackie Woodson
Boy Crazy	Polly Aderholt, Margaret Mackasey
Best Gold Digger	Dorothy Myers, Margaret Mackasey "Runt" Hargrave
Most Dependable	Edith Cornwell, Virginia Potts Pearl Etheridge
Wittiest	Lucy Haile Overbey, Marion Grimes
Most Blase'	Evelyn Beckham, Polly Aderholt Lorah Brewer
Daintiest	Anne Irving, Pinkie Shaffner
Deepest	Rosalind Harrell, Pearl Etheridge
Best Time Killer	"Skinny" Craft, Dot Myers
Most Efficient	Edith Cornwell, Virginia Vincent
Best Conversationalist	Frances Sale, Virginia Graves
Best Essayist	Edith Cornwell, Rosalind Harrell Blanche Overeby
Most in Love	Pinkie Shaffner, Bessie M. Riddle Lucy Haile Overbey
Best Natured	Alice Wiley, Elizabeth Ball Annie Gris McIntosh
Biggest Talker	Bessie Meade Riddle
Most Typical Senior	Virginia Potts
Most Typical Junior	Mary Cristian Royall
Most Typical Sophomore	"Red" Foster
Most Typical Freshman	Etta Marshall
5 Most Popular Teachers	Dr. Walmsley, Miss Grenels Mr. Bowman, Mr. McCorkle, Miss Hiner

S. T. C. MUSIC RACK

A is for Annie Gris—"Isn't She the Sweetest Thing?"
B is for Blanche—"Brown Eyes why Are You Blue?"
C is for Crafe—"How Come You Do Me Like You Do, Do, Do?"
D is for Deffenbaugh—"Lovely Eyes."
E is for Etheridge—"On Wings of Love."
F is for Fitzpatrick—"Runnin' Wild."
G is for Grimes—"You-you-you-you tell 'er, 'cause I, I, I, I stutter.."
H is for Hays—"Mabel, Mabel, Pretty Mabel."
I is for Irving—"'Tain't Nobody's Business If I Do."
J is for Jarvis—"Yes, Sir That's My Baby."
K is for Keister—"Nobody Knows."
L is for Lamphier—"All Alone."
M is for Massey—"That Red-Headed Gal."
N is for Norman—"Carolina in the Morning."
O is for Overbey—"It's All the Same to Me."
P is for Palmer—"You're the Kind of a Girl that Men Forget".
Q is for Quiz—"I Never Knew—"
R is for "Runt"—"I Need Loving."
S is for Shaffner—"Deep in My Heart."
T is for Trotter—"Kitten on the Keys."
U is for Updike—"Hard to Get Gertie."
V is for Vincent—"Because We All Love Y."
W is for Willcox, B.—"You'll Never Get to Heaven with those Eyes."
X is for Xcuses—"All Over Nothing at All."
Y is for Young—"I'm Just Wild About Animal Crackers."
Z is for———"What'll I Do?"

WHAT WOULD WE DO IF—

Bessie Meade Riddle stopped talking?
Margaret Fergusson grew thin?
And Sara Cross fat?
Whee! what would you do in a case like that?
'Spose Aderholt couldn't dance?
chance?
If Helen Willcox couldn't cry,
And "Pinky" Shaffner couldn't sigh?
If "griping" wasn't free?
Gosh! Where would excitement be?
What would we do if Mary Vincent tried to boss?
And if "Red" Foster was always cross?
If Miss Read got suddenly fast?
And Anne Ferree developed a past?
If Mackasey wasn't adorable?
And Mabel Fitzpatrick wasn't cute?
If Barbara Willcox hadn't a line?
If Marion Grimes wasn't dizzy?
And Edith Cornwell always busy?
And if Louise McCormick didn't give, give, give?
This wouldn't be a place to live.
If "Skinny" Craft quieted down?
'Spose Anna Burgess wasn't pert?
And Virginia Potts not alert?
If people stopped picking on Mildred Smith
And teasin' Jessie Debnam?
If Ann Palmer made speeches in the dining hall—
This school just wouldn't seem right at all!

SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS WIN VOLLEY BALL GAMES

(Continued from page one)

Pierce	Middleton
Overbey	Henderlite
Gary	French
Armstrong	Hardy
Byrd	Vaughan

Substitutions: Frame for Overbey; Wells for French.

FOR TEN DAYS
STARTING
Wed., March 23rd
A Special Sale of
New Spring Coats
$8.95 TO $25.00
All New Colors and Materials
Many of these coats are worth double.
Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

At The Eaco Next Week

MON.—Conway Tearle, Anna Q. Nilsson and a company of 2,000 others in the cast. A big special production THE GREATER GLORY from the great novel "Viennese Medley." It is great because: with all its tremendous story . . Marvelous settings ..... great cast of world famous actors and actresses, it has that one quality which makes the difference between merely a big picture and a great picture——andthat is a heart. Every minute you behold this wonderful screen drama you feel the throb. Be sure to see this. Also Pathe News.

TUES.—Jacqueline Logan and Cullen Landis in PEACOCK FEATHERS A special production from the celebrated novel by Temple Bailey. A luxurious picture, founded upon the elemental emotions of human, elemental people. It is a brilliant study of dramatic import to everyone. The question invilved is, does the girl of today love hearts of dollars most. Also comedy

WED—Jackie Coogan in the special production JOHNNY GET YOUR HAIR CUT. Crazy over horses—that was little Johnny Daly, the part Jackie Coogan plays in his latest film. And when he suddenly realizes his ambition in a real race—on a broken down 100 to 1 shot—you'll go crazy over Jackie and this picture sensation. You have never seen a better Coogan picture than this one. Also Aesop Fable.

THURS.—Anna Q. Nilsson, Ben Lyon, Viola Dana, Hobart Bosworth and 2,200 extra characters in the big special production WINDS OF CHANCE from the famous Rex Beach novel. Rex Beach takes us to Alaska again—to the stirring days of the gold rush to the big, furious battles with wild tempestuous elements—battles for riht. This is the greatest Alaskan picture ever screened. It is great. Also godo comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—Alice Terry and Antonio Moreno in Rex Ingram's production of Blasco Ibanez' famous novel MARE NOSTRUM. It is a big special production. Here is the thrill marvel of them all, a screen play of power and beauty. Thousands in the cast. You'll never forget such moments as the sinking of the submarine; the beauty facing the firing squad; and a thousand other thrills that Broadway paid $2 admission to see. We urge every one to see this great picture.Also good comedy.

Admission to S. T. C. girls 25c to each show.

CONTENTMENT

Spring, and the thrush, and the sky's
clear blue!
Spring, and its dreams, and the heart
of you!

What if, sometimes, the weary hours
Be filled with burdens beyond my powers?

There's the sky, and the thrush, and
the lure of spring,
And the song that your heart to my
heart will sing.

M. G.

TO YOU

I wish I were a rainbow
That sometimes after rain
Appears to keep the promise
That the sun will shine again.

I wish I were a rainbow
That those whose friends grow cold
Might follow me and maybe find
Your heart—"the pot of gold."

B. G.

POINTS OF VIEW

The poet said:
Death is a beautiful wonderful thing,
Majestic, glorious! Of death I sing.

The optimist said:
Death is a little thing, merely a call;
Why dread death? It comes to us all.

The anostic said:
Perhaps death is but a veil, a midst—
Why fear what may not exist?

The minister said:
Death's home is not beneath the sod—
Death is going home to God.

So death may be dawn, or death may
be night—
Call it whatever you think is right.

But to me death is more than a name
She's dead!—and I'll miss her just
the same.

—R. A. '30

"THE GREATER GLORY"

What is "The Greater Glory"? How can we find an answer that will leave us with a satisfied feeling?

Monday, April 11 Anna Q. Nilsson and Conway Tearle will be featured in a splendid picture, "The Greater Glory." This is a picture of the heart cry of millions drowned out by the drums of war; a picture which will more than answer our question.

There will be a matinee and night performance.

Buy your tickets early. They will be on sale at a table in the hall Monday; the admission price is only 35c. Everybody come.

Any plan for government operation of Muscle Shoals does not fit in well with the program of Federal tax reduction.
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A reformer is one who thinks it is his first duty to see that other people do theirs.—Spartanburg (S. C.) Sun.

ATHLETIC NEWS

Tennis Tournament to be Held

This spring there are two awards that will be given for the winners of a tennis tournament which will be staged both for beginners and also for those irls who have had more than one year's experience with this sport. The difference in the tournament which will be held this spring and the one that was held in the fall is that no points can be won for the class by the victor, but that the winner herself will be awarded. An apportunity is also offered to beginners to improve and win in the tournament for those who have played one year or less. The opportunity is open to all and whenever the weather permits the courts are in shape so that all that is necessary now is practice.

At present, no girl is permitted to play more than one hour a day. Observance of this requirement will be expected to be kept until all the courts are improved. In order to keep the schedule straight and to be assured of a court, the hour can be "signed up for" on the Athletic Association bulletin board.

Amendment to Athletic Association Constitution

At a meeting of the student body it was decided that an award of a chevron will be given to those girls who have won an Old English F and then fill the requirements which would entitle her to another letter. Thus, thsoe who have won their letter have an incentive which will lead them to win something that will be of equal value as the Old English F.

THE MONOGRAM CLUB

In order that there may not be great wailing and gnashing of teeth, the Monogram Club has provided a number of tryouts before the door of opportunity is closed the last of April. It would be very poor economy for those who really want to make the college moongram their own not to grasp these chances. Catch the door before it swings shut and the "Monogramers" will do their best to see you through it.

S. T. C. ON THE SILVER SCREEN

1. "It Must be Love."
—Margaret Mackasey
2. "Ladies at Play"
—Runt Hargrave and Skinny Craft
3. "The Campus Flirt"
—Barbara Willcox
4. "The Whole Town's Talking"
—Bessie Meade Riddle
5. "Obery the Law"
—"V" Vincent
6. "Just Another Blonde"
—Annie Gris McIntosh
7. "Prowlers of the Night"
—Cousin Tommy
8. "Tillie, the Toiler"
—Annie Curtis Higgins
9. "Bad Breaks"
—Phyllis Wood
10. "Midnight Follies"
—Student Council
11. "Dodging Trouble"
—Dot Myers
12. "Love 'em and Leave 'em"
—Martha Chapin

"Good morning, Judge"—the average American's idea of being presented at court.

Huddle System: Three couples in a Ford coupe.

SOCIAL

Miss Gertrude Watkins returned Sunday from Kenbridge where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Among those who returned to attend the Gamma Theta Founders' Day banquet on Saturday were: Misses Virginia Hall, Kitty Morgan, Ruth Creecy, Polly Smith and Polly Riddle, of Norfolk; Misses Alice Moore Armstrong, Dorothy Bratton and Evelyn Peake, of Portsmouth; Misses Virginia Cowherd, Mary Alice Blanton and Lucille Franklin, of Richmond; Misses Frances Jones, of Charlottesville; Ann Smith of Staunton; Louise Parsons, of Petersburg; Katherine Reed, of Roanoke, and Mae Hill Carleton of Newport News.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Hargrave spent several days at her home in Petersburg and returned on Sunday.

* * *

Misses Irene and Mary Bernard, of Petersbur, were the week-end guests of Miss Mildred Smith and attended the Chi Phi dances at Hampden-Sidney.

* * *

Miss Mararget Bryant is spending some time at her home in Newport News on account of the illness of her mother.

* * *

Miss Virginia Ellis had as her guest for the week-end, her mother, Mrs. R. S. Ellis of Alcoma.

* * *

Miss Gertrude Wright has returned after spending the week-end at her former home in Ashland.

* * *

Miss Blanche Murrell had as her guests for the week-end Misses Lucy Harrison Miller and Fanny Penn Ford, students at Sweet Briar College.

* * *

Miss Polly Bagby of Hopewell spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Edith Page.

* * *

Miss Dorothy Watkins spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Keysville.

* * *

Misses Cornelia Dickinson and Evelyn Beckham spent Saturday in Richmond.

* * *

Miss Frances Hamner has returned after spending the week-end at her home in Keysville.

Once upon a time a student took an examination. It was a chemistry exam. One of the questions was, "Give in detail the process for making mercuric bichloride." In answer to which the student wrote, "God made all things even mercuric bichloride." Imagine his surprise when he received his corrected exam book and read, "God gets the credit, you don't."

"He done me wrong"—wailed the handed-in exam paper.

She—"How could you live without me?"
He—"Much cheaper."

It was visitor's day.
Prof.: "Who signed the Magna Charter, Mr. Cords?"
Cords: "I don't know. It wasn't me."
Prof. (thoroughly disgusted): "That will do—sir—that will do for you."

Member of the Official Board of Visitors: "Here, don't let that fellow off. I don't like his looks. I believe he did sign it."

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

A doctor fell into a well
And broke his collar bone
A doctor should attend the sick
And leave the well alone

Alice Wiley says an echo is the only thing that keeps a woman from having the last word.

With some of them looking like ( ) and some of them looking like this) (, they still wear short skirts.

"What married? Don't make me laugh, stupid. How did you ever get a wife?"

"I just subered up and there she was."

We have found a new version of "In the Spring."—
In the spring a young girl's powers,
Cunningly work for Easter flowers.

Famous Falls

The ——— of man
The night ———
The ——— of the year
Snow — — —
Where the shadows ———
Down ———

College Girl (opposed to being kissed) "You brute—where is your chivalry?"

Brute: "Home in the garage."

Mildred Morris: "What's a wind?"
Edith Lamphier: "Air in a hurry."

Margaret Ballard says it is the shoe horn that plays foot notes.

Jackie Woodson wants us to know that you do not have to be fat to be the best all around girl in college.

I Hate Boys

I hate boys
Everytime one
Comes to see me, he
Always grabs me, and
Tries to hang one
On me; you know, this
John Gilbert—Greta
Garbo stuff; I mean
He tries to kiss me
And all that rot; every
Boy I ever saw thought
He was Don Juan and
John Barrymore and
Ramon Navarro all in
One person not
A picture; I mean
I haven't had a
Date in ages
And ages I'm really
Awfully glad, for
I hate boys.

Girls

There are two kinds of girls, the different and the indifferent. You know she is different when she is indifferent. And think she is indifferent because she is different.

If she is different, fall in love with her at first sight so as to save as much time as possible.

And after the marriage you will find that the difference is all the same.

WHAT WE THINK

Most Striking Looking	Anne Deffenbaugh, Mecca Vicars Shepherd
Most Indifferent	Lucy Haile Overbey, Mary Wilson
Most Studious	Virginia Ellis, Kitty Hatch
Most Fascinating	Virginia Vincent, Marion Grimes
Most Individual	Lucy Haile Overbey, Virginia Potts
Most Influential	Virginia Vincent, Rosalind Harrell
4 Cutest Freshmen	Anne Palmer, Beth White, Anna C. Higgins, Blanche Overbey
4 Outstanding Freshmen	Lucille Graves, Mary F. Hatchett, Etta Marshall, Blanche Overbey
Most Modest	Miss Reed, Mary Wilson
Biggest Baby	Virginia Gurley, Mabel Fitzpatrick
Most Independent	Lucy Haile Overbey, Anne Irving
Sweetest	Virginia Vincent, Annie G. McIntosh
Biggest Flirt	Tillie Taylor Mattie Lewis B. Willcox
Most Lovable	Virginia Vincent, Annie G. McIntosh
Craziest	Clara Norfleet, Dot Myers
Peppiest	"Red" Foster, Jackie Woodson
Boy Crazy	Polly Aderholt, Margaret Mackasey
Best Gold Digger	Dorothy Myers, Margaret Mackasey, "Runt" Hargrave
Most Dependable	Edith Cornwell, Virginia Potts, Pearl Etheridge
Wittiest	Lucy Haile Overbey, Marion Grimes
Most Blase'	Evelyn Beckham, Polly Aderholt, Lorah Brewer
Daintiest	Anne Irving, Pinkie Shaffner
Deepest	Rosalind Harrell, Pearl Etheridge
Best Time Killer	"Skinny" Craft, Dot Myers
Most Efficient	Edith Cornwell, Virginia Vincent
Best Conversationalist	Frances Sale, Virginia Graves
Best Essayist	Edith Cornwell, Rosalind Harrell, Blanche Overeby
Most in Love	Pinkie Shaffner, Bessie M. Riddle, Lucy Haile Overbey
Best Natured	Alice Wiley, Elizabeth Ball, Annie Gris McIntosh
Biggest Talker	Bessie Meade Riddle
Most Typical Senior	Virginia Potts
Most Typical Junior	Mary Cristian Royall
Most Typical Sophomore	"Red" Foster
Most Typical Freshman	Etta Marshall
5 Most Popular Teachers	Dr. Walmsley, Miss Grenels, Mr. Bowman, Mr. McCorkle, Miss Hiner

S. T. C. MUSIC RACK

A is for Annie Gris—"Isn't She the Sweetest Thing?"
B is for Blanche—"Brown Eyes why Are You Blue?"
C is for Crafe—"How Come You Do Me Like You Do, Do, Do?"
D is for Deffenbaugh—"Lovely Eyes."
E is for Etheridge—"On Wings of Love."
F is for Fitzpatrick—"Runnin' Wild."
G is for Grimes—"You-you-you-you tell 'er, 'cause I, I, I, I stutter.."
H is for Hays—"Mabel, Mabel, Pretty Mabel."
I is for Irving—"'Tain't Nobody's Business If I Do."
J is for Jarvis—"Yes, Sir That's My Baby."
K is for Keister—"Nobody Knows."
L is for Lamphier—"All Alone."
M is for Massey—"That Red-Headed Gal."
N is for Norman—"Carolina in the Morning."
O is for Overbey—"It's All the Same to Me."
P is for Palmer—"You're the Kind of a Girl that Men Forget".
Q is for Quiz—"I Never Knew—"
R is for "Runt"—"I Need Loving."
S is for Shaffner—"Deep in My Heart."
T is for Trotter—"Kitten on the Keys."
U is for Updike—"Hard to Get Gertie."
V is for Vincent—"Because We All Love Y."
W is for Willcox, B.—"You'll Never Get to Heaven with those Eyes."
X is for Xcuses—"All Over Nothing at All."
Y is for Young—"I'm Just Wild About Animal Crackers."
Z is for———"What'll I Do?"

WHAT WOULD WE DO IF—

Bessie Meade Riddle stopped talking?
Margaret Fergusson grew thin?
And Sara Cross fat?
Whee! what would you do in a case like that?
'Spose Aderholt couldn't dance?
chance?
If Helen Willcox couldn't cry,
And "Pinky" Shaffner couldn't sigh?
If "griping" wasn't free?
Gosh! Where would excitement be?
What would we do if Mary Vincent tried to boss?
And if "Red" Foster was always cross?
If Miss Read got suddenly fast?
And Anne Ferree developed a past?
If Mackasey wasn't adorable?
And Mabel Fitzpatrick wasn't cute?
If Barbara Willcox hadn't a line?
If Marion Grimes wasn't dizzy?
And Edith Cornwell always busy?
And if Louise McCormick didn't give, give, give?
This wouldn't be a place to live.
If "Skinny" Craft quieted down?
'Spose Anna Burgess wasn't pert?
And Virginia Potts not alert?
If people stopped picking on Mildred Smith
And teasin' Jessie Debnam?
If Ann Palmer made speeches in the dining hall—
This school just wouldn't seem right at all!

SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS WIN VOLLEY BALL GAMES

(Continued from page one)

Pierce	Middleton
Overbey	Henderlite
Gary	French
Armstrong	Hardy
Byrd	Vaughan

Substitutions: Frame for Overbey; Wells for French.

FOR TEN DAYS
STARTING
Wed., March 23rd
A Special Sale of
New Spring Coats
$8.95 TO $25.00
All New Colors and Materials
Many of these coats are worth double.

Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

At The Eaco Next Week

MON.—Conway Tearle, Anna Q. Nilsson and a company of 2,000 others in the cast. A big special production THE GREATER GLORY from the great novel "Viennese Medley." It is great because: with all its tremendous story . . Marvelous settings ..... great cast of world famous actors and actresses, it has that one quality which makes the difference between merely a big picture and a great picture——andthat is a heart. Every minute you behold this wonderful screen drama you feel the throb. Be sure to see this. Also Pathe News.

TUES.—Jacqueline Logan and Cullen Landis in PEACOCK FEATHERS A special production from the celebrated novel by Temple Bailey. A luxurious picture, founded upon the elemental emotions of human, elemental people. It is a brilliant study of dramatic import to everyone. The question invilved is, does the girl of today love hearts of dollars most. Also comedy

WED—Jackie Coogan in the special production JOHNNY GET YOUR HAIR CUT. Crazy over horses—that was little Johnny Daly, the part Jackie Coogan plays in his latest film. And when he suddenly realizes his ambition in a real race—on a broken down 100 to 1 shot—you'll go crazy over Jackie and this picture sensation. You have never seen a better Coogan picture than this one. Also Aesop Fable.

THURS.—Anna Q. Nilsson, Ben Lyon, Viola Dana, Hobart Bosworth and 2,200 extra characters in the big special production WINDS OF CHANCE from the famous Rex Beach novel. Rex Beach takes us to Alaska again—to the stirring days of the gold rush to the big, furious battles with wild tempestuous elements—battles for riht. This is the greatest Alaskan picture ever screened. It is great. Also godo comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—Alice Terry and Antonio Moreno in Rex Ingram's production of Blasco Ibanez' famous novel MARE NOSTRUM. It is a big special production. Here is the thrill marvel of them all, a screen play of power and beauty. Thousands in the cast. You'll never forget such moments as the sinking of the submarine; the beauty facing the firing squad; and a thousand other thrills that Broadway paid $2 admission to see. We urge every one to see this great picture.Also good comedy.

Admission to S. T. C. girls 25c to each show.

CONTENTMENT

Spring, and the thrush, and the sky's
clear blue!
Spring, and its dreams, and the heart
of you!

What if, sometimes, the weary hours
Be filled with burdens beyond my powers?

There's the sky, and the thrush, and
the lure of spring,
And the song that your heart to my
heart will sing.

M. G.

TO YOU

I wish I were a rainbow
That sometimes after rain
Appears to keep the promise
That the sun will shine again.

I wish I were a rainbow
That those whose friends grow cold
Might follow me and maybe find
Your heart—"the pot of gold."

B. G.

POINTS OF VIEW

The poet said:
Death is a beautiful wonderful thing,
Majestic, glorious! Of death I sing.

The optimist said:
Death is a little thing, merely a call;
Why dread death? It comes to us all.

The anostic said:
Perhaps death is but a veil, a midst—
Why fear what may not exist?

The minister said:
Death's home is not beneath the sod—
Death is going home to God.

So death may be dawn, or death may
be night—
Call it whatever you think is right.

But to me death is more than a name
She's dead!—and I'll miss her just
the same.

—R. A. '30

"THE GREATER GLORY"

What is "The Greater Glory"? How can we find an answer that will leave us with a satisfied feeling?

Monday, April 11 Anna Q. Nilsson and Conway Tearle will be featured in a splendid picture, "The Greater Glory." This is a picture of the heart cry of millions drowned out by the drums of war; a picture which will more than answer our question.

There will be a matinee and night performance.

Buy your tickets early. They will be on sale at a table in the hall Monday; the admission price is only 35c. Everybody come.

Any plan for government operation of Muscle Shoals does not fit in well with the program of Federal tax reduction.
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A reformer is one who thinks it is his first duty to see that other people do theirs.—Spartanburg (S. C.) Sun.

ATHLETIC NEWS

Tennis Tournament to be Held

This spring there are two awards that will be given for the winners of a tennis tournament which will be staged both for beginners and also for those irls who have had more than one year's experience with this sport. The difference in the tournament which will be held this spring and the one that was held in the fall is that no points can be won for the class by the victor, but that the winner herself will be awarded. An apportunity is also offered to beginners to improve and win in the tournament for those who have played one year or less. The opportunity is open to all and whenever the weather permits the courts are in shape so that all that is necessary now is practice.

At present, no girl is permitted to play more than one hour a day. Observance of this requirement will be expected to be kept until all the courts are improved. In order to keep the schedule straight and to be assured of a court, the hour can be "signed up for" on the Athletic Association bulletin board.

Amendment to Athletic Association Constitution

At a meeting of the student body it was decided that an award of a chevron will be given to those girls who have won an Old English F and then fill the requirements which would entitle her to another letter. Thus, thsoe who have won their letter have an incentive which will lead them to win something that will be of equal value as the Old English F.

THE MONOGRAM CLUB

In order that there may not be great wailing and gnashing of teeth, the Monogram Club has provided a number of tryouts before the door of opportunity is closed the last of April. It would be very poor economy for those who really want to make the college moongram their own not to grasp these chances. Catch the door before it swings shut and the "Monogramers" will do their best to see you through it.

S. T. C. ON THE SILVER SCREEN

1. "It Must be Love."
—Margaret Mackasey
2. "Ladies at Play"
—Runt Hargrave and Skinny Craft
3. "The Campus Flirt"
—Barbara Willcox
4. "The Whole Town's Talking"
—Bessie Meade Riddle
5. "Obery the Law"
—"V" Vincent
6. "Just Another Blonde"
—Annie Gris McIntosh
7. "Prowlers of the Night"
—Cousin Tommy
8. "Tillie, the Toiler"
—Annie Curtis Higgins
9. "Bad Breaks"
—Phyllis Wood
10. "Midnight Follies"
—Student Council
11. "Dodging Trouble"
—Dot Myers
12. "Love 'em and Leave 'em"
—Martha Chapin

"Good morning, Judge"—the average American's idea of being presented at court.

Huddle System: Three couples in a Ford coupe.

SOCIAL

Miss Gertrude Watkins returned Sunday from Kenbridge where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Among those who returned to attend the Gamma Theta Founders' Day banquet on Saturday were: Misses Virginia Hall, Kitty Morgan, Ruth Creecy, Polly Smith and Polly Riddle, of Norfolk; Misses Alice Moore Armstrong, Dorothy Bratton and Evelyn Peake, of Portsmouth; Misses Virginia Cowherd, Mary Alice Blanton and Lucille Franklin, of Richmond; Misses Frances Jones, of Charlottesville; Ann Smith of Staunton; Louise Parsons, of Petersburg; Katherine Reed, of Roanoke, and Mae Hill Carleton of Newport News.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Hargrave spent several days at her home in Petersburg and returned on Sunday.

* * *

Misses Irene and Mary Bernard, of Petersbur, were the week-end guests of Miss Mildred Smith and attended the Chi Phi dances at Hampden-Sidney.

* * *

Miss Mararget Bryant is spending some time at her home in Newport News on account of the illness of her mother.

* * *

Miss Virginia Ellis had as her guest for the week-end, her mother, Mrs. R. S. Ellis of Alcoma.

* * *

Miss Gertrude Wright has returned after spending the week-end at her former home in Ashland.

* * *

Miss Blanche Murrell had as her guests for the week-end Misses Lucy Harrison Miller and Fanny Penn Ford, students at Sweet Briar College.

* * *

Miss Polly Bagby of Hopewell spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Edith Page.

* * *

Miss Dorothy Watkins spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Keysville.

* * *

Misses Cornelia Dickinson and Evelyn Beckham spent Saturday in Richmond.

* * *

Miss Frances Hamner has returned after spending the week-end at her home in Keysville.

Once upon a time a student took an examination. It was a chemistry exam. One of the questions was, "Give in detail the process for making mercuric bichloride." In answer to which the student wrote, "God made all things even mercuric bichloride." Imagine his surprise when he received his corrected exam book and read, "God gets the credit, you don't."

"He done me wrong"—wailed the handed-in exam paper.

She—"How could you live without me?"
He—"Much easier."

It was visitor's day.

Prof.: "Who signed the Magna Charter, Mr. Cords?"

Cords: "I don't know. It wasn't me."

Prof. (thoroughly disgusted): "That will do—sir—that will do for you."

Member of the Official Board of Visitors: "Here, don't let that fellow off. I don't like his looks. I believe he did sign it."

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

A doctor fell into a well
And broke his collar bone
A doctor should attend the sick
And leave the well alone

Alice Wiley says an echo is the only thing that keeps a woman from having the last word.

With some of them looking like ( ) and some of them looking like this) (, they still wear short skirts.

"What married? Don't make me laugh, stupid. How did you ever get a wife?"

"I just subered up and there she was."

We have found a new version of "In the Spring."—
In the spring a young girl's powers,
Cunningly work for Easter flowers.

Famous Falls

The ——— of man
The night ———
The ——— of the year
Snow — —
Where the shadows ———
Down ———

College Girl (opposed to being kissed) "You brute—where is your chivalry?"

Brute: "Home in the garage."

Mildred Morris: "What's a wind?"
Edith Lamphier: "Air in a hurry."

Margaret Ballard says it is the shoe horn that plays foot notes.

Jackie Woodson wants us to know that you do not have to be fat to be the best all around girl in college.

I Hate Boys

I hate boys
Everytime one
Comes to see me, he
Always grabs me, and
Tries to hang one
On me; you know, this
John Gilbert—Greta
Garbo stuff; I mean
He tries to kiss me
And all that rot; every
Boy I ever saw thought
He was Don Juan and
John Barrymore and
Ramon Navarro all in
One person or
A picture; I mean
I haven't had a
Date in ages
And ages I'm really
Awfully glad, for
I hate boys.

Girls

There are two kinds of girls, the different and the indifferent. You know she is different when she is indifferent. And think she is indifferent because she is different.

If she is different, fall in love with her at first sight so as to save as much time as possible.

And after the marriage you will find that the difference is all the same.

WHAT WE THINK

Most Striking Looking	Anne Deffenbaugh, Mecca Vicars Shepherd
Most Indifferent	Lucy Haile Overbey, Mary Wilson
Most Studious	Virginia Ellis, Kitty Hatch
Most Fascinating	Virginia Vincent, Marion Grimes
Most Individual	Lucy Haile Overbey, Virginia Potts
Most Influential	Virginia Vincent, Rosalind Harrell
4 Cutest Freshmen	Anne Palmer, Beth White, Anna C. Higgins, Blanche Overbey
4 Outstanding Freshmen	Lucille Graves, Mary F. Hatchett Etta Marshall, Blanche Overbey
Most Modest	Miss Reed, Mary Wilson
Biggest Baby	Virginia Gurley, Mabel Fitzpatrick
Most Independent	Lucy Haile Overbey, Anne Irving
Sweetest	Virginia Vincent, Annie G. McIntosh
Biggest Flirt	Tillie Taylor Mattie Lewis B. Willcox
Most Lovable	Virginia Vincent, Annie G. McIntosh
Craziest	Clara Norfleet, Dot Myers
Peppiest	"Red" Foster, Jackie Woodson
Boy Crazy	Polly Aderholt, Margaret Mackasey
Best Gold Digger	Dorothy Myers, Margaret Mackasey "Runt" Hargrave
Most Dependable	Edith Cornwell, Virginia Potts Pearl Etheridge
Wittiest	Lucy Haile Overbey, Marion Grimes
Most Blase'	Evelyn Beckham, Polly Aderholt Lorah Brewer
Daintiest	Anne Irving, Pinkie Shaffner
Deepest	Rosalind Harrell, Pearl Etheridge
Best Time Killer	"Skinny" Craft, Dot Myers
Most Efficient	Edith Cornwell, Virginia Vincent
Best Conversationalist	Frances Sale, Virginia Graves
Best Essayist	Edith Cornwell, Rosalind Harrell Blanche Overeby
Most in Love	Pinkie Shaffner, Bessie M. Riddle Lucy Haile Overbey
Best Natured	Alice Wiley, Elizabeth Ball Annie Gris McIntosh
Biggest Talker	Bessie Meade Riddle
Most Typical Senior	Virginia Potts
Most Typical Junior	Mary Cristian Royall
Most Typical Sophomore	"Red" Foster
Most Typical Freshman	Etta Marshall
5 Most Popular Teachers	Dr. Walmsley, Miss Grenels Mr. Bowman, Mr. McCorkle, Miss Hiner

S. T. C. MUSIC RACK

A is for Annie Gris—"Isn't She the Sweetest Thing?"
B is for Blanche—"Brown Eyes why Are You Blue?"
C is for Crafe—"How Come You Do Me Like You Do, Do, Do?"
D is for Deffenbaugh—"Lovely Eyes."
E is for Etheridge—"On Wings of Love."
F is for Fitzpatrick—"Runnin' Wild."
G is for Grimes—"You-you-you-you tell 'er, 'cause I, I, I, I stutter.."
H is for Hays—"Mabel, Mabel, Pretty Mabel."
I is for Irving—"'Tain't Nobody's Business If I Do."
J is for Jarvis—"Yes, Sir That's My Baby."
K is for Keister—"Nobody Knows."
L is for Lamphier—"All Alone."
M is for Massey—"That Red-Headed Gal."
N is for Norman—"Carolina in the Morning."
O is for Overbey—"It's All the Same to Me."
P is for Palmer—"You're the Kind of a Girl that Men Forget".
Q is for Quiz—"I Never Knew—"
R is for "Runt"—"I Need Loving."
S is for Shaffner—"Deep in My Heart."
T is for Trotter—"Kitten on the Keys."
U is for Updike—"Hard to Get Gertie."
V is for Vincent—"Because We All Love Y."
W is for Willcox, B.—"You'll Never Get to Heaven with those Eyes."
X is for Xcuses—"All Over Nothing at All."
Y is for Young—"I'm Just Wild About Animal Crackers."
Z is for———"What'll I Do?"

WHAT WOULD WE DO IF—

Bessie Meade Riddle stopped talking?
Margaret Fergusson grew thin?
And Sara Cross fat?
Whee! what would you do in a case like that?
'Spose Aderholt couldn't dance?
chance?
If Helen Willcox couldn't cry,
And "Pinky" Shaffner couldn't sigh?
If "griping" wasn't free?
Gosh! Where would excitement be?
What would we do if Mary Vincent tried to boss?
And if "Red" Foster was always cross?
If Miss Read got suddenly fast?
And Anne Ferree developed a past?
If Mackasey wasn't adorable?
And Mabel Fitzpatrick wasn't cute?
If Barbara Willcox hadn't a line?
If Marion Grimes wasn't dizzy?
And Edith Cornwell always busy?
And if Louise McCormick didn't give, give, give?
This wouldn't be a place to live.
If "Skinny" Craft quieted down?
'Spose Anna Burgess wasn't pert?
And Virginia Potts not alert?
If people stopped picking on Mildred Smith
And teasin' Jessie Debnam?
If Ann Palmer made speeches in the dining hall—
This school just wouldn't seem right at all!

SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS WIN VOLLEY BALL GAMES

(Continued from page one)

Pierce	Middleton
Overbey	Henderlite
Gary	French
Armstrong	Hardy
Byrd	Vaughan

Substitutions: Frame for Overbey; Wells for French.

FOR TEN DAYS
STARTING
Wed., March 23rd
A Special Sale of
New Spring Coats
$8.95 TO $25.00
All New Colors and Materials
Many of these coats are worth double.
Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

At The Eaco Next Week

MON.—Conway Tearle, Anna Q. Nilsson and a company of 2,000 others in the cast. A big special production THE GREATER GLORY from the great novel "Viennese Medley." It is great because: with all its tremendous story . . Marvelous settings ..... great cast of world famous actors and actresses, it has that one quality which makes the difference between merely a big picture and a great picture——andthat is a heart. Every minute you behold this wonderful screen drama you feel the throb. Be sure to see this. Also Pathe News.

TUES.—Jacqueline Logan and Cullen Landis in PEACOCK FEATHERS A special production from the celebrated novel by Temple Bailey. A luxurious picture, founded upon the elemental emotions of human, elemental people. It is a brilliant study of dramatic import to everyone. The question invilved is, does the girl of today love hearts of dollars most. Also comedy

WED—Jackie Coogan in the special production JOHNNY GET YOUR HAIR CUT. Crazy over horses—that was little Johnny Daly, the part Jackie Coogan plays in his latest film. And when he suddenly realizes his ambition in a real race—on a broken down 100 to 1 shot—you'll go crazy over Jackie and this picture sensation. You have never seen a better Coogan picture than this one. Also Aesop Fable.

THURS.—Anna Q. Nilsson, Ben Lyon, Viola Dana, Hobart Bosworth and 2,200 extra characters in the big special production WINDS OF CHANCE from the famous Rex Beach novel. Rex Beach takes us to Alaska again—to the stirring days of the gold rush to the big, furious battles with wild tempestuous elements—battles for riht. This is the greatest Alaskan picture ever screened. It is great. Also godo comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—Alice Terry and Antonio Moreno in Rex Ingram's production of Blasco Ibanez' famous novel MARE NOSTRUM. It is a big special production. Here is the thrill marvel of them all, a screen play of power and beauty. Thousands in the cast. You'll never forget such moments as the sinking of the submarine; the beauty facing the firing squad; and a thousand other thrills that Broadway paid $2 admission to see. We urge every one to see this great picture.Also good comedy.

Admission to S. T. C. girls 25c to each show.

ALPHA DELTA RHO ISSUE

THE ROTUNDA

BEST WISHES FOR EASTER HOLIDAYS

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1927 Number 26

ALPHA DELTA RHO CLOSES COLLEGE WEEK

Miss Lula O. Andrews of University and Dean May Keller of Westhampton Speak

The many interesting programs of College Week came to a most impressive close on Saturday evening, when the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho celebrated its first birthday. The large and enthusiastic audience will not soon forget this occasion, for aside from the two splendid addresses was one of those rare hours when all that is finest and best in college life culminates. The entire program occurs elsewhere in this issue of the Rotunda.

Miss Edith Cornwell, chairman, presided over the meeting with grace and dignity. In her introductory remarks she delighted her audience with the announcement of the three honorary members of Alpha Delta Rho—Mrs. Anna Hyatt Huntington, one of America's great sculptors; Miss Ellen Glasgow, one of America's great novelists; and Miss Lula O. Andrews, an eminenty successful teacher, and the "guide, philosopher and friend" to many young women in the South.

Miss Andrews has been a life-long admirer and student of Joan of Arc and as a consequence she talks about this beautiful and unique figure in history as one having authority. She is conversant not only with the history and documentary evidence touching the life of the maid of Orleans, but she knows her as literature has interpreted Joan of Arc to the world. In an effort to compress the life of this immortal child of the spirit into one brick talk, Miss Andrews affirmed that the following acts characterized Joan of Arc.

She was in love with religion;
She was in love with war;
She was in love with France;
She was in love with humanity.
First, she was devout; her soul was reverent.

She obeyed the voice of God, and had unfaltering confidence that she was the maid sent from God to crown the Dauphin King and drive the English from France.

She was in love with war. Hers was the sword of the spirit, but it was also the sword of the soldier. She bears the unique distinction of being the only person since history began who has at the age of seventeen years, held supreme command of the military forces of a nation. Furthermore, she was a great military and political genius, for she was the author of the master strokes that saved France by loosing the grip of England. Her great love for the sweet land of France deprived her of all self-seeking, self-interest, personal ambition. Love for country was with her a passion; she had the genius of patriotism; and may be considered the first great example of the spirit of nationalism.

Continued on page two

JOAN OF ARC

INSTALLATION OF PI GAMMA MU

The coming of Pi Gamma Mu to Farmville is a distinct honor to the institution and a recognition of the quality of the work done here. Organized a few years since as the national honor society in Social Sciences It now has chapters in thirty of the leading universities and colleges of twenty three states.

Its name is the initial letters of the Greek words "politikes gnoseoos mathetai," a phrase meaning learners of political science. Its membership is made up of two classes of members; first Seniors and Juniors in standard colleges, who have taken a required number of courses in Social Science, who have high academic standards, and most important, who give proofs of considering the social phases of education as their predominant interest, and second of members-at-large, who are either well-known scolars or are in public life who have given their time to practical Social Science.

There were in our college two members-at-large President J. L. Jarman and Dr. J. E. Walmsley, one faculty member, Miss Olive E. Thom-

(Continued on last page.)

ALPHA DELTA RHO FOUNDERS DAY PROGRAM

APRIL 9, 1927

Afternoon Program	4:30 P. M.
Presentation	Lucy Haile Overbey
Unveiling	Frances Sale
	Virginia Vincent
Acceptance	Edith Carnwell
Acceptance	Dr. J. L. Jarman
Significance of Gift	Rosalind Harrell
Night Program	Auditorium 8 P. M.
Invocation	Dr. Frederick Diehl
Joan of Arc	Miss Lula O. Andrews
Solo	Marthalea Moomaw
Address	Dr. May L. Keller
Trio	Alice Davis
	Virginia Vincent
	Marthalea Moomaw
	Accompanied by Virginia Potts
Talk	Dr. Jarman

SENIORS CELEBRATE THEIR CLASS DAY

Ye Olde Doll Shoppe and Lantern Parade are Interesting Features

The Senior Class celebrated Class Day Wednesday. After supper a little program was put on entitled "Ye Olde Doll Shoppe." The clown wound

(Continued on last page.)

SOPHOMORES DEFEAT JUNIORS IN FAST GAME

Probably the interest in athletics was at the highest key Thursday night when the Sophomores and Juniors met to play the deciding games in volley ball. The first games had been played on Tuesday night, and these were exciting enough for any volley ball "fan." But Thursday's games surpassed the first ones in excitement and enthusiasm. The Sophomores started out in the lead, but the Juniors would not be left behind, and forged to the front, but while they increased the suspense they could not overcome the Sophomore's lead. The game ended 24—14 for the Sophomores.

The second game, too, was fast and furious, the Sophomores fighting to keep the lead in score and the Juniors to win it. However, it proved the Sophomores' night, and they came out of the second game leading 21—14.

Both teams showed excellent spirit, and good playing. The spectators got a real treat and many thrills as the ball was passed back and forth across the net. M. Henderlite stood out for her splendid work on the

(Continued on last page.)

PRESENTS EQUESTRIAN STATUE OF JOAN OF ARC

Statue Placed in Center of Arcade by Members of Alpha Delta Rho

On account of the inclement weather the program is given in full for the benefit of those who were unable to attend. The program was opened by a member of Alpha Delta Rho.

PRESENTATION

April 9th has finally come and I am more than happy to tell you of the surprise Alpha Delta Rho has had for you since November.

In searching for a gift which would embody the ideals of leadership we finally selected out of all the art portraying Joan of Arc, the equestrian statue by Anne Hyatt Huntington, America's foremost woman sculptor. She is the wife of the author, Archer Milton Huntington. Mrs. Huntington is the author of the praying figure of Joan in the church of St. John the Divine, New York. She has received medals in the United States and in France. Her greatest work is her equestrian statue of Joan of Arc. There are three large statues of this work in the world, one in France, one on Riverside Drive and the other in Mrs. Huntington's native state.

In writing to Mrs. Huntington she referred to the Gorham Company as makers of the statue. They wrote that the statue was published only in bronze and at a sum which scared us. However, in a short time, arrangements were made to buy the statue We decided on the four foot copy in bronze which was the model for the statue on Riverside Drive.

In the mean time a letter was written to Mrs. Huntington. This letter took a great liberty that of embodying all of your faith and assuring the author that this statue would ever be an inspiration to the thousands of girls who would love it and look up to it as embodying the ideals of leadership of life. The fact was also stated that arrangements had been made for buying the statue and we hoped to have it in a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Huntington showed their interest in this letter.

February 18, 1927
New York

In answer to your letter of the 13th I am much intersted and pleased that your Joan Circle has chosen my statue of Joan of Arc out of all the others.

I spoke to my husband about your raising a fund among you to purchase a 4 foot model and he asked me to write to your circle that he would be very glad to present the Joan Circle of Farmville, Virginia with such a bronze copy of the 4 foot model.

I have sent today an order to the Gorham Company to forward the Joan Circle a bronze copy which my hubsand and I hope you will accept with our best wishes to the Joan Circle.

Sincerely yours,
ANNA H. HUNTNGTON

Conttinued on Page 2

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor ..... EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic ..... LOUISE BREWER '27

Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers

Business Manager ..... VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant ..... ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

"SIGNIFICANCE OF JOAN."

On first seeing the statue of Joan of Arc in action

I gazed, breathless—
I saw a figure quivering with emotion,
Loyal to a Voice, with true devotion;
I saw a body tense for eager action,
Eyes heavenward as if by strange attraction.

I breathed, waited—
I felt a heart beating with agony and pain,
Yet daring to advance and suffer again;
I sensed the soul of Joan in the air nearby,
And knew a Dreamer had dared to live and die!

There has grown up in our college an ideal, a spirit, drawing its inspiration from and centering around Joan of Arc.

Joan of Arc in our Alma Mater's Hall is listening. She is in repose physically, yet her eyes are seeing visions, her ears are hearing voices, and her whole soul feels a command from a greater Power. Thoughtful, even in her dreaming, she contemplates the future. In reverence, she seeks an inspiration in God. Carefully she plans for the action of a future time, when she shall lead her country and her people to a victorious day. For years, this Joan of Arc has been dreaming, hoping, planning, building. As in the aspirations of Joan of Arc, our College has grown, and its spirit has enlarged.

Typical of our lives here today is the equestrian statue of "The Maid of France." It signifies power, vitality, and force, impelled by an inward strength and a consciousness of right. With her eyes and her sword pointed upward to the source of her inspiration and power, Jeanne d'Arc's spirit marches triumphantly forward, a symbol of enthusiasm that will never die, a challenge to all of an endless devotion and an inestimable spirit of love. .

We are fortunate to witness the unveiling of this statue. In a short time, however, we shall have passed on, carrying this ideal in our hearts, and giving place to those who come after us.

Not so Joan of Arc!

Here she shall stand throughout all time, years and years may pass. Nature in her wildest moments may beat about the material composition of the statue. But the real Joan of Arc, the spirit we love so well, will remain. Each year as time goes by, new eyes will eagerly search for the truth embodied therein; new faces will reflect the glory of the resplendent figure; the boundless faith of Joan of Arc will permeate the lives of thousands of students who will pass daily; hearts will thrill anew, sensing the vision of the ideal.

For Joan of Arc marches "Forward with God," one "who in the moment of victory remains inaccessible to vanity and hate; who in the midst of popular enthusiasm lives in humility and prayer; who in the universal crush of ambition cares neither for profit nor honours."

ALPHA DELTA RHO CLOSES COLLEGE WEEK

(Continued from page one)

She was in love with humanity. Her love for the afflicted poor of her country was as deep as her devotion to her king. The one boon she asked of the king, when upon his coronatio he told her to ask what she would, was that her poverty-stricken village of Domremy be forever freed from taxes. For two and a half centuries, until Louis XV and the French Revolution, in the tax records opposite the name of the village of Domremy, appeared this entry: "nothing for the sake of the maid."

No wonder the American boys in France in the great war caught the spirit of Joan of Arc. In her extremity France did not call on the spirit of Napoleon, nor of any other warrior nor potentate, but in the spirit of the Maid of Orleans.

In May 1920 she was canonized. Since that time there has been one American Church dedicated to her.

A new conception of Joan of Arc represents her seeing a vision of world peace, and Miss Andrews closed her talk by commending to the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho the consecration of their life energies to this new ideal of their patron saint.

Miss Andrews was followed by Dean Keller who talked on Changing Standards in Our College World. In addressing o group of young college women that are seeking inspiration from the Maid of Orleans, who saw visions and dreamed dreams that she carried through to heroic realties, Dean Kelelr said she felt that this was a most timely occasion to bring before them a vision of the changing standards in colleges today. Some of the most obvious changes are the following: the vast increase in enrollment, thus diminishing the personal touch of professor with pupil; great number of foreigners in colleges, bringing their splendid mentality, but changes in social standards; introduction of vocational courses; substitution in women's colleges of practical courses for cultural subjects, since the high cost of living has driven so many women into the wage-earning classes. She deplored the tendency on the part of college women to reject the more difficult studies for the easy, the unusual, the exciting, the essentially modern; but heartily approved the introduction and consequent popularity of courses in social hygiene and public health. In closing Dean Keiler urged the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho to emulate their patron saint in reverence—so sorely lacking in our day—and in patriotism, the patriotism that proves itself in loyalty to college, to state, to nation, to the world in building up international friendships.

The program of the evening was closed in a brief, but forceful talk by Dr. Jarman, in which he sketched the work of Alpha Delta Rho in its one brief, but fruitful year. He expressed his grateful appreciation of the unselfish service of the organization and the real contribution it has made in developing the sense of citizenship on the part of the individuals who make up ours school community. The Alpha Delta Rho system of self-examination and of squaring conduct by the ideals for which the college stands, Dr. Jarman feels confident will permeate our entire college community until a student will keep the self imposed rules of the body, not because of fear of penalization, but because her college expects this of her.

PRESENTS EQUESTRIAN STATUE OF JOAN OF ARC

Continued from page 1

Mr. and Mrs. Huntinton regret that they cannot be here today. We have this letter from them.

March 22, 1927

Both my wife and myself regret most sincerely that on account of the pressure of work at this time we are unable to act upon your most kind suggestion to be present at the unveing of the Joan, and to have the great pleasure of meeting the committee which has carried the plan to fruition. My wife is happy in the thought that the Joan is to stand in your great state and among those whose devotion to ideals will make its dwelling with you a distinction to the sculptor and a tribute of honor to a great woman.

In sincere appreciation of all your courtesy,

Yours very truly,
ARCHER MILTON HUNTINGTON

It is with great pleasure that I, in the name of

Anna Hyatt Huntington
Archer Milton Huntington

present this beautiful equestrian statue of the Saint Joan of Arc to The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho and to our beloved Alma Mater.

The statue was unveiled midst an ovation seldom witnessed in our school life.

The acceptance by a member of Alpha Delta Rho and Dr. Jarman followed.

ACCEPTANCE

In behalf of the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho it gives me great pleasure to accept this equestrian statue of Joan of Arc, presented by Anna Hyatt Huntington and Archer Milton Hnutington. We greatly appreciate the interest Mr. and Mrs. Huntington have taken in us and the honor they have conferred upon our college by this gift.

Dr. Jarman I speak very, very mildly when I say it has been a constant pleasure and an outstanding joy to have been instrumental in bringing this lovely gift and signal honor upon our beloved Alma Mater. Dr. Jarman opened his talk by saying that the statue was the handsomest gift the school had ever received, not simply in its intrinsic value, but its symbolic spirit of immortal youth. He spoke of how it would stand as an inspiration and guidance along the best lines leading to victory in life. In behalf of the school he expressed the appreciation of the loyalty and unselfish service of Alpha Delta Rho.

HONORARY MEMBER JOAN CIRCLE ALPHA DELTA RHO

Miss Lula O. Andrews, the first honorary member of the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho, received her undergraduate work from Peabody College and her M. S. from Columbia University.

For fourteen years Miss Andrews served our Alma Mater as a member of its faculty, leaving here to take up her work at Peabody, where she was head of the English Department for six years. After that she was connected with the State Teachers College at Milledgeville, Georgia, and left there to become Dean of Women at Winthrop College, Rockhill, S. C.

Miss Andrews is now doing extension work in English at the Universiy of Virginia. She has been a powerful force wherever she worked and an inspiration to all those with whom she came in contact.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink With Us
W-A-D-E-S

WHO'S WHO

Mrs. Anna H. Huntington

Born—Cambridge, Mass., March 10, 1876. ducated at Misses Smith's private school, Cambridge, Mass., and Art Student's League, New York; pupil of H. A. McNeil and Gutzon Borglum. Married Archer M. Huntington 1923.

Works: Small bronzes, Metropolitan, Carnegie, Cleveland and Edenburgh museums; lions, Dayton, Ohio; memorial piece, Lancaster, N. H.; Joan d'Arc, N. Y. City, Gloucester, Mass, and Blois, France; Joan d'Arc, Cathedral of St. John the Divine, N. Y. Honorable mention, Paris salon, 1910; silver medal, San Francisco Exposition, 1915; purple rosette, French government, 1915; Rodin gold medal, Philadelphie 1917; Saltus gold medal 1920 and 1922. N. A.; member of National Sculpture Society; Federation of Arts. Chevalier Legion of Honor (France) 1922.

Archer Milton Huntington

Born New York, March 10, 1870. Educated at private schools in New York and Spain; hon. A. M. Yale, 1897; Harvard, 1904; Litt. D., Columbia, 1907; L. L. D., Kenyon College, 1920, U. of Madrid.

Member American Geo. Soc. (council); Am. Numismatic Soc. (hon. pres.) American Federation of Arts (vice-pres.), New York Chamber of Commerce, Am. Academy of Arts and Letters; Phi Beta Kappa; corr. member Royal Spanish Acad.; acads. of history, and of San Fernando, Atena of Medrid; founder and pres. of Hsipanic Soc., of America; trustee Am. Museum Naturla History, N. Y.

Clubs: Fencers; N. Y. Yacht, N. Y. Athletic Club, Grolier, Nat'l. Arts, Authors, Yale University, India House, Columbia Univ., Harvard, Army and Navy.

Author: A Notebook in Northern Spain.

Editor: Lady Aulnoy's Travels Into Spain, The Poem of the Cid. Various Spanish Texts. Contributor to magazines. Lives in New York City.

Ellen Anderson Glasgow

Born, Richmond, Va., 1874. Privately educated.

Author:

The Descendant
The Voice of the People
The Battle Ground
The Deliverance
The Wheel of Life
The Romance of a Plain Man
Virginia
One Man In His Time
Barren Ground
The Romantic Comedians

Member of Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Colonial Dames of America.

Clubs: Woman's Country (Richmond), Cosmopolitan (New York).

OPEN MEETING OF PI GAMMA MU

On Friday, April 8 the Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu made its first public appearance. Even though Dr. Walsmley was appointed by the National Council as organizer of the chapter at Farmville, we felt our installation would be a rather significant one if Dr. J. F. Peake of the R. M. W. C. faculty and a member of Pi Gamma Mu should deliver the opening address.

Dr. J. L. Jarman welcomed the organization into our college. Following a piano solo by Miss Virginia Vincent Dr. Peake delivered the address of the evening.

The Alpha Chapter of Tri Sigma announces the election of Miss Louise Shoffner, of Roanoke to membership.

THE JOAN CIRCLE

March 5, 1927

"I deeply appreciate your invitation to be with you on your first Founder's Day of the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho, and I regret extremely that it will be impossible for me to be present on that very interesting cocasion.

However, I shall be with you in thought on the ninth of April, and I shall wish for the Joan Circle a position of leadership in the intellectual [illegible] South. If I were a fairy god mother of the intellectual, I should bestow upon your Circle, for tomorrow as well as today, the two greatest gifts of intelligence,—freedom and tolerance. I should ask that this group of young idealists might lead the women of the South in liberal minds, liberal hearts, and in liberal humanity.

Sincerely yours,
ELLEN GLASGOW

DR. WILLIAM PRINCE SPEAKS AT BANQUET

Dean Prince, of Richmond University, made a very interesting talk at The Joan Circle banquet on Saturday night. As national president of Omicron Delta Kappa he spoke of the constructive programs of this organization and the ideals which the assured the members of Alpha Delta Rho of Omicron Delta Kappa's support and interest in The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho.

GYPSIES VISIT S. T. C.

Back of the Student Building four tents were pitched last Thursday night, and Gypsy fortune tellers took their start. Girls thronged out to find the answer to the mystery, and found bright fires burning and a feast of marshmallows in waiting! Then a wagon arrived bringing a caravan of Gypsy lads and maids, who sang and danced and made a merry Gypsy occasion.

Yes, it was only a night of College Week, but the camp fires and costumes and songs made it an unusual night and pretty night!

PI KAPPA OMEGA'S NEW MEMBERS

The Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Omega announces the follwing new members:

Louise Brewer
Carroll Cromwell
Helen Davidson
Daphne Gilliam
Mararet Hansel
Gladys Huband
Mebane Hunt
Mildred Lohr
Louise McCormick
Ella Louise Moore
Bessie Meade Riddle

Honorary Member:

Mrs. Edwards.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

A student standing by the equestrian statue of Joan suggested that the so-called Student Building annex be called Joan Hall.

SOCIAL

Miss Erna Shotwell of Republican Grove spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Edith Cornwell and attended the exercises held on Alpha Delta Rho's Founders Day.

* * *

Miss Lois Westbrook has returned to her home in Portsmouth after spending the week-end with Misses Marjorie Westbrook, Eloise Moore, Marjorie Codd, ad Anna Mae Ellis.

* * *

Miss Louise Everett has returned from Sweet Briar College where she spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Myra Marshall.

* * *

Miss Audrey Chewning of Norfolk was the week-end guest of Miss Edith Cornwell and attended the Alpha Delta Rho's Founders Day exercises held on Saturday.

* * *

Miss Martha Ennis is spending some time at her home in Washington.

* * *

Miss Marion Chewning of Bremo Bluff spent Sunday as the guest of friends. Miss Chewning is a former student at S. T. C.

* * *

Miss Lucille Walton of Danville was the week-end guest of her sister Miss Mararet Walton and attended the Alpha Delta Rho Founders Day exercises held on Saturday.

* * *

Miss Mattie Rogers Smith has returned after spending the week-end in Richmond.

* * *

Among the guests from out of town who attended the Alpha Delta Rho exercises on Founders Day were: Dean Keller of Westhampton College, Miss Lula O. Andrews of the University of Virginia, and Dean Prince of the University of Richmond and Dr. Wilson of Hampden-Sidney.

* * *

Miss Virginia Boxley is spending some time at her home in Orange.

* * *

Miss Mary Tucker returned Monday night after spending the week-end at her home in Blackstone.

* * *

Mrs. W. W. George of Portsmouth was the week-end guest of her daughter Miss Grace George.

* * *

Miss Colleen Maddux has returned from Blackstone where she spent the week-end at her home.

PI GAMMA MU TEA

On Friday afternoon, April 8, the Gamma chapter of Pi Gamma Mu were hosts at a delightful tea served in the Lounge of the Student building. The members of the faculty, home department, Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Omega and the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho were enteratined.

PI GAMMA MU BANQUET

Following the open meeting, or formal installation of the Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, a banquet was given in the Tea Room. The official colors—blue and white—were carried out in the beautiful decorations, place cards and menus. Toasts were proposed to the National Council, Dr. Walmsley, our organizer, and to the Active Chapters.

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

Nancy C.: "Man is wonderful. He has learned to fly like a bird."

Annie P.: "Yes. But he hasn't learned to sit on a barbed wire fence."

If brevity is the soul of wit, it looks as if skirts are civilization's funny-bone.

Solomon, the Collegiate, sez: "All gamblers love a loser. Necessity is the mother of prevention. All things come to he who dates. It's a crip course that nobody flunks. A faint heart never gets a second date. Fools rush out when they ought to be in bed."

Distressed Prof. "Why don't you answer me?"

Frosh: "I did shake my head."

D. P.: "Well, do you expect me to hear it rattle way up here?"

He had spoken to her on the street and she was properly insulted.

"I don't know you from Adam."

"You ought to," he retorted, "I'm dressed differently!"

"Oo-hoo! I saw you kiss sis!" cried one of those small brothers, suddenly materializing from nowhere at all.

"Er-ah—here's a quarter, my little man," offered the embarrased suitor.

"And here's fifteen cents change," countered the little man. "One orice to all—that's the way I do business."

Captain: "Why did you fail to salute me yesterday?"

Rookie: "I'm very sorry sir; I did not see you."

Captain: "Good. I was afriad you were mad with me."

Sailor: "My heavens, the ship's about to go down!"

Seasick passenger: "Thank goodness for that. Nothing else will."

Hiker (waving to motorist): "Hey, I'm going you way."

Motorist (waving back): "So I see; but, I'll get there before you do."

Virgina Boxley wants to know what could be more foolish than a dumb girl turning a deaf ear on a blind date.

"Where are you going—little fleas."

"I'm going to the dogs."

Jackie W.: "Give me a hot dog, please."

Florence McIntyre: "Ten cents, please."

Jackie: "I haven't got but a nickel, —give me a pup."

Definition: A bald cold is one hard blow after another.

H. S. Shiek: "Have you heard the Hurdling Song?"

S. T. C. Sheba: "No—how does it go."

H. S. Shiek: "I can't get over a girl like you."

DR. J. L. JARMAN SPEAKS IN PRAYERS

Friday, April 8, immediately after supper, Dr. Jarman gave a short talk to the students on the nature of College Week and the results which he had noticed thus far. Our president said that, as we knew, College Week was a strictly student affair. It was initiated by the students for the purpose of binding themselves more closely together and binding themselves more closely to their Alma Mater. Dr. Jarman showed us why this week, which was set aside, was such a great success. The students entered into the spirit of the occasion with their usual whole-heartedness. Every student felt that she was an important part in the plans which were made so hopefuly and carried out so successfully. Our president showed us what profit we had already derived from College Week, but the most important part of his address was his explanation of his conception of College Week in its greatest and that our participation in the big affairs of the school prepares us for our future relationship with the world. The manner in which we adapt ourselves to our college life is indicative of the manner in which we will live in the world.

After Dr. Jarman concluded his talk, all the students went to the reception hall, where a surprise had been arranged for them. Glowing lanterns of many colors had been hung from the Rotunda. The other lights had been turned off and the effect of just the lantern light was beautiful. For once, it was permissible to "hang over" the Rotunda. The student body sany many songs; all old favorites, and the general opinion expressed, when the sing came to a close, was that that night was one of the most inspiring of College Week.

SOPHOMORES DEFEAT—

Continued from page 1

Sophomore team, and the entire team backed her up with spirit and good playing. The Junior team also showed good teamwork, the serving of Putney especially standing out.

Everyone is glad that volley ball is an established game here at S. T. C., and we hope to have many more games here on our courts next year. Now all eyes are looking toward baseball, field and track which are to be started in the very near future. Listen and watch the bulletin boards for further announcements.

SENIOR CLASS DAY—

(Continued from page one)

up all the dolls and made them perform; they acted well and the audience liked them. The dolls represented the major offices of this year. A sign, "Sold" marked each doll. The exasperated clown on seeing all of his dolls sold called to his aid the little fancy dress doll who reminded the clown and his audience that all of the dolls were going out of their offices and that the student body must elect very thoughtfuly a new set of dolls.

At ten o'oclock a lantern parade was held. Dr. Jarman and Miss Grenels took part. The seniors carried black lantersn with candle light showing throuh the sides marked S. T. C. and '27. The Junior girl marched with her Senior girl until the figure 27 was made by the Seniors in front of Main Hall. The Seniors then sang to the Juniors. The Juniors answered with a song and as the lantersn were given to the Junior girls.

The effect was very beau'iful and there is no doubt but this will become a yearly custom.

FRESHMEN UNDISPUTED VICTORS OF VOLLEY BALL

There must be a kind of justice that rules everything; certainly such a justice made itself evident in the matches of the second volley ball teams of the four classes which were played in the gym Saturday afternoon. While the games of the first teams made the Sophomores and Juniors victors, with the Sophomores winning out in the final games with the Juniors, the Freshmen and Seniors won over their second team opponents, with the Freshmen coming out on top in the end.

Only two games were necessray to prove that the Freshmen were the stronger than their green and white opponents. The playing was fast and interesting, the scores being 14—9, and 12—9.

In some respects the Junior-Senior games, of which there were only two, were the most interesting of the entire season. Certain it is that they were enjoyed by all the spectators. The second team of the Seniors may have reason to be proud of themselves since they were able to accomplish what their first team couldn't, for they defeated the Juniors by decisive scores: 26—6, 20—8.

Interest waxed great over the final game of the tournament when the Seniors faced the Freshmen. From the technical standpoint these games were perhaps more interesting than those of the Juniors and Seniors. At the end of the second game, the Freshmen stood undisputed champions in the science of "secondary" volley ball, having defeated the Seniors 20—6 and 23—7.

INSTALLATION EXERCISES

(Continued from Page 1)

as, a former member of the chapter at the College of William and Mary. With these was chosen Miss Myrtle Grenels, Head of the Department ot Geography as faculty charter members, and in the future other faculty members will be added. Eighteen members of the Senior and Junior classes were elected as charter members:

Evelyn Beckham
Elizabeth Crute
Helen Davidson
Cornelia Dickinson
Daphne Gilliam
Mildred Lohr
Louise McCormick
Greenhowe Parker
Louise Pruden
Virginia Potts
Mary Christian Royall
Bessie Meade Riddle
Frances Walmsley
Ola Thomas
Agnes Watkins
Alice Wiley
Orline White
Elizabeth Woodson

These twenty-two members make up the chapter which was installed on Friday, April 8, as the Virginia Gamma chapter. Just as Phi Beta Kappa had its beginning a century and a half ago at William and Mary, so on the initial day of Pi Gamma Mu the Virginia Alpha chapter was created at William and Mary. About a year ago the Virginia Beta chapter was installed at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, and now comes Farmville. In future years as the Social Science work at the state universities and colleges in Virginia calls for the organization of new chapters we shall rejoice with them, but it will be a cause of pride to us that our college was honored with the third chapter in the state.

FOR TEN DAYS
STARTING
Wed., March 23rd
A Special Sale of
New Spring Coats
$8.95 TO $25.00
All New Colors and Materials
Many of these coats are worth double.
Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

At The Eaco Next Week

Mon.—John Gilbert, Renee Adoree and Lionel Barrymore in THE SHOW, a big new special production. Women were his prey! An amazing study of a roue, brilliantly acted by John Gilbert, who wins final redemption through a woman's understanding heart. This is a mighty fine production based on "The Day of Souls". Also Pathe News.

Tues.—Jack Hoxie in THE DEMON. They couldn't stop him with ropes or guns or dynamite. No wonder they called him "The Demon." You simply must see him risk his life and perform some of the most thrilling stunts ever seen. Brilliantly supported by the whirlwind horsemen horsemen of hte screen, the famous Universal Ranch Riders. Also comedy

Wed.—Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry in LOVERS. No other star on the screen could fit this role better than Ramon Novarro. As the youth caught in the meshes of scandal, torn between conflicting loves he gives a portrayal never to be forgotten. This is a colorful masterpiece, produced on lavish scale. Also Aesop Fable.

Thurs.—Tom Mix with Tony, his wonder horse in the THE GREAT K. & A. TRAIN ROBBERY. A big special production based on Paul Leicester Ford's novel. You've never seen such hard riding, such deadly shooting or such trick roping as Tom uncorks in this one.It's by far the best that the ace of spades has ever turned out. A thriller that stands alone. Also Comedy.

Fri. & Sat.—John Gilbert Lillian Gish and Renee Adoree and a great cast in the new super special production LA BOHEME produced with the greatest star cast in motion picture history, headed by Lillian Gish and John Gilbert and directed by the man who made "The Big Parade". It is a gorgeous picture of gaiety, beauty, and pathos in the colorful setting of Paris artist life. You too, will be thrilled by its gaiety, its authentic drama, its glimpses of unforgettable beauty and pathos. It is here direct from months of playing of croweded houses n Broadway, at $2 admission prices. Also comedy.

S. T. C. admission prices, Fri. & Sat., 35c, all other shows 25c.

Come Out For Baseball and Field and Track!

THE ROTUNDA

POE

Congratulations, New Office Holders!

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1927 Number 27

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS "QUALITY STREET"

James M. Barrie's Charming Play Given Two Nights at S. T. C. Auditorium

On Friday and Saturday evening the Dramatic Club presented to two large and appreciative audiences Barrie's charming play: "Quality Street." As the curtain rose on the first act, it lifted the curtain of years; the audience accepted and lived again in vivid retrospect the trying days of the Napoleonic wars. The village gossips, so strikingly represented by Misses Lorah Brewer, Betty Hopkins, and Elizabeth Jarman, brought intimately to mind Mrs. Gaskell's ladies of Canford; and thus the stage was set for a familiar presentation of conventional English life in a small village. But it remains for Barrie, with his consumnate genius, to give the touch of the unusual to the commonplace. The petty foibles of these quaint old ladies entertain and amuse us, but underneath the comedy lies the tragedy of dwarfed and empty lives.

In the immaculate blue and white room the Misses Throssel, tea-drinking, knitting, gossips depict in detail the conventional life of maiden ladies of a day when woman lacked the opportunity for the vital expression of her powers such as the new order has brought. Conscious of the simultaneous passing of youth and beauty and of the inevitable approach of impotent old age, in order to postpone the evil day, the Misses Throssel employ serio-comic measures that almost mingle laughter and tears, for despite Barrie's tendency to work within the realm of fancy he is a true realist in his accurate revelation of human nature. The driving force of all his dramas is courage and in the school-room on Quality Street one sees more courage than he feels is being exhibited on the battlefields by the soldiers who are away at the front.

Miss Annie Griswold McIntosh as Phoebe Throssel and Miss Etta Marshall, as her sister Miss Susan, played their different roles with great credit. In her scenes with Captain Brown, Phoebe was most captivating in her artful wiles, which were perforce subtly hounded by the restraint of a native conscience. Miss Susan was particularly appealing in her sympathetic support of her sister, for whose happiness she so deeply yearned, but which must be secured with decorum.

Miss Louise McCormick as Capt. Brown did an unusually good piece of acting, interpreting the character with that tender strength and gentle dignity with which Barrie has endowed him. Capt. Brown's worthy rivals, Ensign Blades and Lieutenant Spicer, were amusingly and admirably presented by Miss Blanche Overbey and Miss Anne Ferree.

Miss Mable Fitzpatrick, as the maid, did a finished piece of work,

Conttinued on Page 2

WEEK OF PRAYERS PROVE INTERESTING TO ALL

The prayers this week have been different from fall prayers, from winter prayers, and every-day prayers. Something of the green and varicolored beauty of the campus seemed to want to steal into our fifteen-minute service, and because we could not bring all we wished of the campus into prayers, we took prayers to the campus.

Tuesday night a dedicating service was held over the tulip bed. The tulips were standing straight and lovely and colorful, and we saw in them the varying color of our dreams and thoughts as the leader talked. Wednesday night prayers were held on front Campus and, somehow, the talk on "Love", and the music, seemed to go deeper because the out-of-doors was trying to tell us, too.

Thursday and Friday nights brought us a bit of South America. Thursday, Mr. Henderlite, who has spent thirty years in Brazil, spoke informally and delightfully of that place. Brazil didnt seem as far away when he had finished introducing us to a kindred religion and a land of kindred people!

Friday night the Spanish Circle portrayed for us a Pan-American Conference.

COME TO THE MAY DAY

May Day program will be given on May 7th in the afternoon. Great will be the gathering of the Lords, Ladies, Knights, Morris men, Robin Hood, Outlaws, Friar Tucks, Peasants, Chimney Sweeps, Shepherdesses, milkmaids, foresters, flowers and lavendar sellers, beggars, friars, gypsies and the whole of the country side of medevial England, all coming to see the crowning of the Queen of May.

The Queen will be entertained by a group of minstrels who will present "A Day in Hellas".

A large number of the costumes will be rented. The others will be made by the girls in the May Day assisted by the sewing department.

The program is to be presented in front of the arcade. A stage with a back ground of greens will be constructed. The street will be closed and there will be enough room for a large audience. Invite your friends to come to a medieval May Day, presented by over a hundred girls in colorful costume.

QUEEN OF MAY

On May the 7th a certain young lady will thrill in singing, "Call Me Early Mother, for I'm to be the Queen of May."

We do hope Mrs. Potts will call Virginia early for if she just forgot to come to be crowned we would all be disappointed. She must bring with her Ann Archer Irving who will be her maid of honor.

Long live the May Queen!
Happy be her reign!

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER AT S. T. C. LAST TUESDAY

Interesting Information Given by Mr. Charles H. Corbett on the Orient

The student body was exceedingly fortunate last Tuesday in hearing Mr. Charles H. Corbett, travelling secretary of the C. C. A.

"Mr. Corbett has spent two-thirds of his life in the Orient where he had most intimate contacts with educational, social, political, religious and business interests in that part of the world. For many years he was a professor in Pekins University and is personally acquainted with the leaders of the Chinese Renaissance. He has watched at close range the political changes which have taken place in the Far East. By active service in famine relief and in other similar enterprises he has acquired a knowledge of the sociological and economic conditions which underlie the political changes. He has been a constant student of Oriental culture, as manifested in literature, art and religion. With two brothers in business in China, he has been able to keep in touch with the point-of-view of business interests and to understand their difficulties at this time. As a teacher of science and author of a text-book of physics for Chinese students he has intimate knowledge of the scientific progress being made in that part of the world."

Mr. Corbett spoke to the student body on Student Movement in China, the problems of these students, and the general conditions and growing change in Chinese national problems. He also spoke to a class studying Political Geography. His information and delightful presentation of the entire situation was deeply appreciated.

SPANISH CLUB PRESENTS PAN-AMERICAN MEETING

Friday night, the stage of the Student Building auditorium became a stately council room filled with delegates from the South American and Central American countries. The representatives brought to us a picture of their respective countries, their occupations, costumes, relations with each other and with the rest of the world, and earnest pleas that we in North America be sympathetic with them in their struggles for advancement.

The delegate from Agentine presented in an exceedingly vivid manner the picture of the great statue of "Christ of the Andes"—a gigantic symbol of the everlasting peace of Chile and Argentine.

It is this spirit of understanding and brotherly love embodied in the Christ that we as American students should strive to cultivate and disseminate among the people of North America.

FIELD AND TRACK OFFERS VARIED RECREATION

If one is to find out how very interesting and delightful field and track events are, one has to really take part in them.

This year we are planning a big Field Day on May 18, which will be crowded to the full with events. However, before we can even hope for such a thing we must have girls trained in the special phases of it.

There are events to suit the ability and the taste of everyone. We can offer, in running events, for instance, the dash, and hurdles; in throwing events, the discus, the shot put, javelin, baseball and basketball throw. Then besides these in jumping we have the running high jump, the hop-step-and-jump, and the running and standing broad jumps.

It is of prime importance that correct form be used and that the practice of these must be from the beginning and regular. For the form the "Handbook of Women's Athletics" on the main bulletin board may be consulted.

There is a practice every afternoon. It is on Wednesday and Friday at 4.15, and on Saturday at 3:15 for Freshmen and Juniors. The Seniors and Sophomores have practice on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday at 4:15. From 4:15 on we have a real play time and recreation, and Field Day we shall have one long, happy day for athletics.

LECTURE ON CHILD WELFARE GIVEN HERE

In chapel, Wednesday morning, April 13, a lecture on "Child Welfare" was given by Mrs. Miller. She had a personality which added to her delivery and made her speech all the more enjoyed by her audiencee.

She first of all impressed her listeners with the importance of the child. Then she showed the care that was the right of all children and the present trend toward special education of mothers so that their children will be better developed. Then the education of the child from the nursery schools on through was discussed by Mrs. Miller. She brought out the point that a child must be healthy to obtain the best from school. She also emphasized the fact that the aim of all education is to develop a child mentally, spiritually and physically. She talked about the constant changes in the methods of teaching and ideas of education and gave many valuable points to her audience of future teachers. Her address was closed by an appeal to everyone to observe May Day as Child Welfare Day; every one looking to see what would help to make the life of the child better and safer.

Both the faculty and the students of the college received much valuable information and also enjoyed it.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY THE STUDENT BODY

Heads of Major Organizations Selected by Largest Vote Ever Polled Here

Elections for the major offices in college were held April 18, immediately following College Week. The number of votes cast was greater than in any other year of the history of the college. The attention of every member of the student body was focused on the elections, which were characterized by careful consideration and forethought.

The results of the election are gratifying to the college. Leaders of ability were elected for all the offices. We stand on the threshold of a most promising year, under the guidonce of splendid leadership, and equally good "fellowship." The girls who will soon take the positions of the present officers will not fill their places, but will make places of their own in the heart of the college.

The following girls were elected:

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

President .... Mary Christian Royall
Vice-President ..... Alice Wiley
Secretary ..... Elizabeth Woodson
Treasurer ..... Alyce Page Adams
Campus League Chmn. Etta Marshall

Y. W. C. A.

President ..... Frances Willis
Vice-President .... Ella Louise Moore
Undergraduate Rep. Blanche Overbey
Secretary ..... Anna May Ellis
Treasurer ..... Gladys Huband
Advisory Board: ..... Miss Rice
Miss Bugg
Mr. Bowman
Miss Camper

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

President ..... Gwendolyn Hardy
Vice-Pres. .... Mary Frances Hatchett
Secretary ..... Juliet Jones
Treasurer ..... Mary Clements

VIRGINIAN

Editor-in-Chief .... Louise McCormick
Business Mgr. ..... Margaret Hansel
Art Editor ..... Louise Costen
Literary Editor ..... Virginia Raine

ROTUNDA

Editor-in-Chief ..... Evelyn Dulaney
Assistant Editor .... Pearl Etheridge
Business Mgr. ..... Kitty Hatch

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor ..... EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic ..... LOUISE BREWER '27

Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers

Business Manager ..... VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant ..... ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

WHO WISHES TO SERVE?

From the list of candidates we have voted upon lately one would know that S. T. C. was not an advocate of the short ballot system. Even with this list there are places which still are left to be filled. For these vacant places—from a part on a small committee to a responsible office—the girls whom we have placed in authority are looking for "the very person" to fill. Many girls especially competent in some line of work have never been found. No girl wishes to "push" herself forward but unless some interest is shown how can these few girls with special ability be chosen from so large a number? Several plans have already been tried and we often hear the suggestion "Why not let the girls write their names on slips of paper, giving the work in which they are interested and the experience which they have perhaps already had and place them in boxes prepared by each organization?" At least this is a plan to think about and certainly we need some thought and suggestions on this problem. If there were some way by which the girls who have ability and who have not had a chance could be brought to the attention of the organizations which need the service of so many, it would be an important step in the progress of our college toward "an efficient democracy."

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

As the year draws to its close and new officers are elected we begin to realize that among our number are girls who will leave us, girls whose places seem hard to fill, and who having spent four years in our College have come to seem a living part of it. Because these girls have not only become a part of the College but have made definite contributions that will long be remembered, every student feels the desire to pay them at least a little tribute. For this reason the Rotunda there will be a column given to these write-ups and called "Among the Caps and Gowns."

If out of all the rest we should have to pick the two people who have held out an inspiration, who have set up ideals and who have contributed through their very actions a very vital part of the school life—these are two upon whom I believe we should all agree, for this reason: these two girls leading our two most important organizations will this week be found among our "Caps and Gowns."

VIRGINIA VINCENT

As I dream dreams of the future and see in my mind's eye realization of fair plans, I see one who has led us through this year—a year of sorrows for many, of trials for all, of failures, of successes, of blue days and gray days, of rosy days, of happiness, of great joy. Such a year it has been! We are older and wiser, perhaps sadder but withal more joyous. We have been led firmly, surely, unfalteringly. Our leader is one with ideals high and true; with purpose strong and sincere, as constant as the stars and as lofty in its heights; of character pure and irreproachable, finer than the finest gold; with personality of infinite charms, magnetic in its power, vizor-like in its grip; of versality unrivaled; a whirlwind of enthusiasm; a paragon of sympathy, understanding, and tact; queenly in demeanor, yet gentle with the humblest of us; not faultless—we would not have her so—yet "made up of loveliness alone." Her name we need not write, but do for the pure pleasure of seeing it—Virginia Vincent.

As the weeks pass swiftly by, only a short time is left in which to follow as you lead, to dream as you, and see your dreams come true. We shall carry with us, though you be many miles away, something of the spirit you gave to us.

ROSALIND HARRELL

It's usually easy to talk about most people—especially when they've been outstanding. One usually talks about their personalities, and the positions they've held. But when we started to say a good-bye and an appreciation to Rosalind, our pen caught with the catch in our hearts. It's like that always when one thinks of Rosalind. For four years we've felt her presence strongly and sweetly and subtely. We have listened to her talk in prayers, in classes, and just with us, and tried, wistfully, to catch some of the beauty of her thoughts and words as she talked. We have read those thoughts that we occasionally caught from her on paper, and we have held them as fragile and meaningful memories in a schedule—time, hurry—time school existence. We have felt the sincerity and strength of her standards in every school problem; we have seen her make the office of Y. W. C. A. president this year, outstanding and all-reaching in its significance.

Good-byes ought not to be long; surely they should not be sad. But the catch in our hearts when we think of Rosalind leaving is poignant, and that is why we grope. She is leaving—yes—but, suggestion of Joan, of a dreamer, of one who lived in our school world but kept tryst with ideal ism and beauty, will stay with us.

WHAT'S IT ALL ABOUT

Some say that this is a Naughty Age we are living in; some claim that it is but a normal transitional period and others that it is just plain normal. We read "Galahad" and delve into "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," both throw new reflections on old traditions. "Black April" lets us into the secret of things as is; "The Romantic Comedians" destroys many of our illusions; and "Elmer Gantry" has been censored. So much for that.

Our music is said to be on the road to canine destruction; our dancing is leading us by a joyous route back to our earliest forefathers in crudeness and primitiveness. Some girls think they would like to be "Beautiful and Damned," while others just paint their lips, feed their line, and don't think at all. Holding hands has given away to an experiment of the so unsavory name "petting party." Whether in spite of or because of Mr. Volstead's attempt, both young and old are taking a delight in the vicious breaking of a perfectly good, bona fide law of these United States.

Now, I ask you, in the face of the above mentioned sad-but-true facts, what is one to do? We have no safe and sane anchor to hold us down. The Past is only a back-ground; the Present a close-up; and the Future, a mystery, a what-not. In spite of the truth of the thing who knows? And who wants to be as pessimistic about it as our old friend "Rose of Washington Square," who claimed a mighty vivid background but laid no claim whatsoever to a what-not. In fact, she said she had none. Imagine such a thought—having no future. Terrible!! Poor old Rose! Certainly she must have had some day dreams about the what-nots of that mysterious thing called the Future.

But who knows? And so with our most quizzical attitude of mind we ask—"What IS it all about?" Which is much easier to ask than to answer. In the meantime, while we are waiting for the Ouija board to ouijet, we will just have to be abstractly broad-minded and accept things as they are.

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS "QUALITY STREET"

Continued from page 1

exhibiting the spirit of the true retainer of the old school.

The entire cast and the staff deserve grat credit for such a successful production of a difficult, yet thoroughly charming play. And again our community is deeply grateful to Miss Wheeler for keeping high and fine the splendid dramatic standards she has set up for us. It is with pride and delight that Farmville audiences look forward to her productions, and they leave her plays feeling with Colley Cibber that "a good play is certainly the most rational and the highest entertainment that human invention can produce."

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink
With Us
W-A-D-E-S

"APPROPRIATE" WORDS

History and fiction would have us believe that, oftener than we think, a mere mortal, under stress of deep emotion, utters an immortal word. Cannot each of us offer at least one story in support of this idea? Very likely you repeat with enthusiasm the one about that courtier of Queen Elizabeth's, who, after he had lost one arm by her royal command, threw the other into the air with, "God save Queen Elizabeth!" But the one freshest in our minds, of course, the finest fittest of such inspired utterances, embodying both promise and fulfillment, was General Pershing's "Lafayette, we are here."

Such great words are rare, and the moments that provoke them most infrequent. The reason is not far to seek. Do not most people usually speak from necessity rather than choice? Who could be inspired if he had to? Take the case of the radio announcer. Recently my family were listening in for Il Travatore, broadcasted from the Chicago Opera House. The announcer related the story of the opera in exhaustive detail. (The stage was not ready.) He named the stars, described the scenery and the costumes. (Still not ready.) He passed to the tours—special trains of thirty coaches—three hundred people—never a costume lost or late. Presently: They're taking pictures; tomorrow they start on a tour . . . . This is most unusual (embarrassed laugh) . . . . Last time I didn't tell half . . . . There! The overture!"

We did not shut off the radio before the impromptu speaker was relieved by the orchestra; but we could have done so, had not the man's predicament amused us. For our sympathy is not often with the author of "appropriate" words. And this is especially true if we are "tied to a stake" and "cannot fly."

Witness our intolerance when the average speaker comes to school. We envelope ourselves in a sort of emotional and intellectual abstraction, whose depths the most experienced platform speaker cannot probe. His first words, "It is with peculiar pleasure," send us into a pleasant reverie. Thereafter, if he does not read his manuscript, or desport himself in some bizarre, outlandish fashion, we do not notice. Our serene detachment rivals that of Tennyson's old northern farmer in church:

"I thowt a 'ad summat to saay,
An' a thowt a said whot a owt to a said an' I coom'd awaay."

Like the preacher, our speaker may be trusted implicitly to say "an appropriate word." He will neither scandalize nor stir us. We know all this, but he doesn't. So one appropriate word after another drops unheeded from his lips. Is a word fitly spoken always 'like apples of gold in pictures of silver"?

One cannot dismiss the subject of appropriate words without some mention of the perennial "Commencement orator." How he thrills to the full house (never guessing that the fond relatives are there to "see Mary get her 'dip'," not to be uplifted). He comes at a time when all whose destinies he might influence are weary beyond the power of words to revive. You have graduated at least once, gentle reader, or you would not be among us. What can you remember of your commencement speaker's message? It's theme? it's diction? it's style? Nothing. And so I say that, if too "appropriate", words are but ephemera—bubbles of a day, an hour, a moment, falling to earth, never to float again. This condition, we believe, did not always exist; it has evolved from our worroied, burried times. Obviously no one is to blame, least of all that bland innocent, the speaker of appropriate words.

M. L. B.

(Written by a student. Submitted to The Rotunda by Miss Davies)

AND EASTER CAME

Regardless of the constant downpour of rain before Easter each of us had all sorts of joy flickering around our heart. In the Training School that flickering may have been caused by ideas of dyed eggs, little chicks and bunnies. But in our own college that holiday meant something vastly different. It brought to us the idea of home; 'cause we were actually allowed to go home. We were able to register all kinds of excitement at the idea of dragging the family hat box over the Farmville hill, or either paying some boy the last dime in order to give the appearance of style and state. It always gives one a superior feeling to dispose of ones hat box for a dime, does it not? Hat boxes may remind one of childhood days and Alice in Wonderland. They grow bigger and heavier at every block. But Alice did get smaller sometimes. Hat boxes have their disadvantages—they don't.

Wasn't it nice sleeping in the morning? We were able to eat the meat, and we had real strawberries, not the kind we occasionally find in so-called preserves—but live ones. And we were able to use our own consciences for Student Government. We wonder what type of government were made. Perhaps there was nothing but an "elastic clause" which we stretched anywhere. Let's hope it stretched upon our return.

But Easter reminded one of flowers. Just "flowers" seems somewhat indefinite. We wonder if anybody ever had associated Easter with buttercups and dandelions. Methinks, "No"! The flowers were always sent by our Him. He never was known to take you in the fields and to confess his love over a daisy. He always sent flowers in a box, all wrapped up in tissue paper, ribbons and love and devotion. He sent orchids (?), or roses or violets or sweetpeas. He sends aristocratic flowers.

We did have so much fun Easter. 'Twas so much fun getting on the train with those lovely things pinned (most uncomfortably) to us. We were so happy. We rode, one mile, two miles, more miles, and more . . . Then —the flowers began to droop. We, as individuals, drooped over our respective "having said it with flowers." Now the flowers are gone— Oftimes we wish we had also withered upon the train. But flowers, although beautiful, have no memories. And we may remember anything we wish. Aren't we glad we aren't rosebuds?

EACO THEATRE NOTICE

Tickets to S. T. C. students are sold at reduced prices at the college. Hereafter unless student purchase tickets at the College Home Office, they must pay regular admission prices at the theatre.

SOCIAL

Miss Charlotte Baxter has returned from her home in Petersburg, where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Misses Jo and Mary Culin of Charlottesville, former students at S. T. C. spent Sunday here as the guests of friends.

* * *

Miss Louise McCormick had as her guests for the week-end her mother, Mrs. T. B. Shannon and her sister, Miss Eleanor McCormick.

* * *

Among the girls who returned Sunday after attending the Easter dances at Virginia Polytechnic Institute were: Misses Margaret Mackasey, Kathleen Giles, Marthalea Moomaw, Elizabeth Sawyer, Polly Aderholt, Elizabeth Ball, Margaret Fowler, Elizabeth White, Louise Marshall, Anna Curtiss Higgins, and Byrd Thompson.

* * *

Miss Marion Grimes returned Sunday from the University of Virginia after attending the Easter dances. While in Charlottesville Miss Grimes was the guest of Miss Jo and Mary Culin.

* * *

Miss Aylwin Hughson has returned from Charlottesville where she attended the Kappa Sigma house party at the University of Virginia.

* * *

Among those who attended the Easter dances at Virginia Military Institute were: Misses Anna Jones, Julia Davis, Frances Willis, Phyllis Wood, Elizabeth Williams and Anne Palmer.

* * *

Miss Mary Rives Richardson, who is teaching in Hopewell this winter spent the week-end at her home here.

* * *

Miss Polly Zimmer spent Sunday night as the guest of Miss Anne Palmer before returning to her home in Petersburg. Miss Zimmer attended the Easter dances at V. M. I. last week-end.

* * *

Misses Anne Deffenbaugh and Virginia Horner have returned from Ashland, where they attended the dances at Randolph-Macon College.

Friends of Miss Virginia Potts are sorry to hear of the death of her sister and extend their deepest sympathy to her and her family.

A LETTER FROM MRS. HUNTINGTON

"My dear President Jarman:

"I am sorry to have allowed so much time to elapse before answering your letter but in trying to finish a hard winter's work I have had little time for letters so my correspondence is far behind.

"My husband and I are greatly pleased if the small statue has given pleasure to your students and I am sure it would not have found anywhere else more congenial atmosphere and surroundings than those which your able leadership has created for the College.

"With our appreciation for your very kind reception of our offering and best wishes to you and the Society,

"Sincerely,

"ANNE H. HUNTINGTON."

April 13, 1927.

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

SQUIRREL NEWS

It takes about 1,500 nuts to hold an automobile together, but it only takes one to scatter it all over the landscape.

Phyllis: "Mackasey, I hear Burton has made the baseball team."

Mac: "Oh, has he? What position does he play?"

Phyllis: "Fly catcher."

Teacher: "Who can give me a sentence using the word 'avaunt'?"

Little Abie: "Avaunt what avaunt when avaunt it."

"To attain happiness," says a lecturer, "one must vibrate in tune with one's environment."

According to that a man with St. Vitus dance at a jazz concert would be in perfect bliss.

"You gave me a nasty look" declared one old man, belligerently.

"Well, you blighter," snarled the second, "so did nature."

Lulu: "What does your father think of your fiancee?"

Belle: "Oh, he sas he's just another American tragedy."

"There ain't no justice", said the accused as he shot the judge.

A young man who had taken his Ford out on a cold wintry day, was covering the engine with a blanket.

Little Boy (looking on): "Don't cover it up, Mister, I saw what it was."

Mary Minor Carter: "Why is a kiss over the telephone like a straw hat?"

Mattie Rogers: "Because it isn't felt."

"The next person to interrupt the proceedings will be sent home," declared the irate judge.

"Hurrah," shouted the prisoner.

"Tell them I'll be gone for the day," sad the lunatic as he woke.

Billy Paris says salt is the stuff that makes potatoes taste bad when you don't put any on.

Eliz. Ferrell says love is like a taking a picture; you never know how it will turn out.

"Hello."

"I beg your pardon! You've made a mistake."

"Aren't you the little girl I kissed last night?"

"Must have been sister. She's sick."

BASEBALL

At last spring with all its glorious days has come. We should welcome her with joy, and go out on the athletic field and prove to Dame Nature that we appreciate her spring by playing baseball and practicing for field and track.

It will not be so very long now before the interclass baseball games must be played, and when that time does come we should all be ready to sock that old ball just like Babe Ruth. We can't do it though without practice.

Some girls will say, "Oh, I don't know anything about baseball, I never have played in my life." This is the very time for those girls to learn, so just come out on the athletic field every afternoon at 4:15 p. m. and you will soon be champions.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ITEMS

The students at the University of Richmond are beginnig to dine in style. At every meal in the cafeteria three students entertain with saxophones and piano.

The Citadel is planning to restore swimming as one of the major sports of the school. Several years ago Citadel was represented by a very creditable aquatic team. This team won meets over such schools as Georgia Tech and College of Charleston.

The Univeristy of Iowa's "college of the air," by which radio fans may obtain college credits by "listening in" on lectures, has been made a permanent institution. Credit may be obtained by both graduate and undergraduate students. Entrance requirements for the radio courses are the same as for any other courses in the liberal arts college.

It is estimated that only 35 per cent of those admitted to college ever achieve the goal of a degree.

—Exchanges

DO YOU REMEMBER?

Sweetheart, do you remember
That troubled day we met?
The smell of a rain-wet pine tree
Comes back when I think of it yet;
The crumbling roar of the thunder,
The sound of the rain-drop's hiss
All swirl away and were nothing,
In the magic of your kiss.

Sweetheart, do you remember
The trailing wild-rose vine
Which shaded the old veranda
Where you said, "Will you be mine?"
The thousand nothings you whispered
How you promised to be true—
Does the scent of a moon-drunk rose-bud
Call them back to you?

Sweetheart, do you remember
How you wrote, when you went away
Such eager, love letters
Often two or three a day?
You spoke of a little cottage
With gay pansies and a lawn,
Where I'd wait in a doorway each evening
In a dress of yellow cretonne.
My love you'll remember these matters
And some things you've forgotten, to boot,
When the Court meets next week to consider
My breach of promise suit.

—California Pelican

"May your parents be absent from you and me
When we are present, one with the other."

THE BOOKWORM.

In a recent conversation a member of the faculty expressed the opinion that the bookworm was the real student and intimated that the salvation of the American higher educational system depended on this particular type of undergraduate. It seems well without attempting to take issue with the man who made thi statement to try to record a few of the observation made by one who has been around the species for a number of years and thus afford a crystallizing agent for student opinion on the incurably studious collegian.

A bookworm will generally be found to fall in one of two classes. The first class is represented by the type usually visualized when the term is applied to a person. He is the man who wears the horn rimmed spectacles, who holds his head backward and to the side, and who when attacked or accosted will throw up an outer defense consisting for the most part of pure verbage. He goes to his classes and from them to his study, this series of events being a good representation of his daily routine. He does not know who Knute Rockne is nor does he know the coach of the local eleven. In fact he does not bother himself with any of the frivolities of life, and does not care to contaminate himself by associating himself with roughnecks, to borrow his own system of reasoning.

But fortunately for the human race there is another type of bookworm. This man is the person to whom the people go when they are in trouble. He can not be distinguished from his fellow students for he is one of them. He knows the contents of the best works of literature and art but he knows in addition the things which the average man knows and usually he has a little better acquaintance with them, for he is in the habit of examining everything to its furtherest depths.

He is also willing to use this knowledge for the benefit of those with whom he comes in contact. And here is another point. This man establishes contacts, much to his own good and to that of those with whom they are established.

Much of our modern philosophy and our present day ideals of social intercourse depend on the individual's adding something to the sum total of the life of society. This is beautiful theory but it depends on the individual's having something within himself to give. The only way that he can accomplish this end is to develop himself to the fullest of his capacities, and diligent study is the best way to effect this development. However, the student who shuts himself up in his own world, perhaps a world made up of his own thouhts, is not advancing. If this type of man is the ideal bookworm then let us be delivered from him. The other type is highly desirable and to the extent that the man quoted in the first part of this editorial means this kind of student, we agree with him.

—The Flat Hat

She plays bridge—but not too well
She talks—but not too much.
She dances, but not too often.
She drinks—but not too many.
She thinks—but not too hard.
She dresses—but not too thoroughly.
She rides—but not too far.
She laughs—but not too soon.
She's nice—but not to me.

She (stuck): "I'd rather dance with you than anybody here.

He (stucker): "Sh! Everybody seems to know it already."

40 inch Washable Flat Crepe

Guaranteed Washable, $2.75 Value

Specially Priced at $1.98

Heavy quality beautiful lustrous finish—Guaranteed Washable—In 25 new spring shades.

Greenberg's Dept. Store

Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store

—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

Prof.: "You haven't learned very much in this class, have you, Mr. Smith?"

Stude: "I admire you for your broad-mindedness in taking the blame like that, professor.

Stranger: "I represent a society for the suppression of profanity. I want to take profanity entirely out of your life and—"

Johnny: "Hey, mother. Here's a man who wants to buy our car.

At the meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars in Atlanta, an Association of Virginia Registrars was formed with nine charter members as follows:

State Teachers College, Farmville, two members; Washington and Lee University; Randolph-Macon Woman's College; College of William and Mary; Hollins College, Martha Washington College, Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Miss Jennie M. Tabb was made president of this State association and Mr. E. S. Mattingly of Washington and Lee, secretary.

Forty-three states were represented in the Atlanta meeting, with two hundred and fourteen registrars in attendance.

AN INVESTMENT

What is life, that I should call it mine?
For 'twas only loaned me by the Great Divine.
Thus should I strive that by my contact,
It may be richer, sweeter when it is given back.

Mary Hanes '30

Mu Omega Sorority wishes to announce the following members:
Margaret Tompkins, Lynchburg, Va.
Mary Hamilton, Richmond, Va.
Mildred Landis, Winchester, Va.
Florence Booton, Orange, Va.
Elizabeth Ferrell, Roanoke, Va.

Destructive Avalanche

Twenty-three years ago at Frank, Alberta, half a square mile of Turtle mountain broke off and came sliding down on the little town, sweeping away great forests as if they were mere handfuls of hay. Over much of the square mile of the township which was buried the chaos of rock lies 400 feet deep.

Diphtheria Is Poisoning

Of all the diseases diphtheria is one of the most remarkable, being caused by bacteria which never get into the blood. The bacteria lodge in the lining of the throat and secrete a poison which is absorbed into the blood in fatal quantities.

LAST ISSUE OF OLD STAFF

THE ROTUNDA

POE

MAY DAY CELEBRATION SATURDAY

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, MAY 5, 1927 Number 28

DR. M. H. LICHLITER LECTURES AT S. T. C.

A great many students have the idea that a lecturer is uninteresting, or is given to high-brow preaching. When a lecturer is announced on the Lyceum Course, the students who maintain this theory stay away, giving various excuses for their absence. Too often they are mistaken and miss something really worthwhile. After all, a lecturer is human, and is interested in humanity, which is nothing more or less than you and I.

OnTuesday night, April twenty-sixth, Dr. M. H. Lichliter, one of the people who are vitally interested in us, proved a fitting close for our Lyceum Course of this year. Dr. Lichliter has the reputation of being the second greatest inspirational lecturer of America. His masterful intellect, poise, and delivery, give him a definite place among lecturers. Had the students, with their erroneous idea of lecturers, known that Dr. Lichliter's subject was to be so individualistic, they would have questioned their theory. All of us have dreams, but "The School Master's Dream," which was Dr. Lichliter's subject, is the capstone of dreams. The importance of one's self, coupled with a constructive personal study is of supreme significance. For really, one's self is the most important thing in one's life. Dr.Lichliter gave us this thought in its unselfish aspect. His dream was composed of four smaller dreams, each one leading up to the next. Competition against one's self, joy in one's work, Accuracy and satisfaction in doing one's work well were the smaller dreams which united to form "The School Master's Dream."

May we hope that in planning our future Lyceum program, Dr. Jarman will reserve a date for Dr.Lichliter

FRESHMAN WEEK OF PRAYERS

The Freshman Class has done many things this year but one of the best was the Week of Prayers put on by this class last week. The prayers were unusual and interesting and were very much enjoyed by the whole student body. The program was as follows:

Monday night—A pageant in the auditorium made up of about thirty girls.

Tuesday night—A talk on "Shadows" given by Elizabeth Newton.

Wednesday afternoon—A most unusual vespers was given in the court. Poetry was read from 5:30 to 6 o'clock.

Thursday night—Etta Marshall led prayers. The subject of her talk was "Seeing Nature." Special music was a part of the program.

Friday night the subject of prayers led by Mary Frances Hatchett was the "Y. W. C. A. Spirit Prevails in every Sport."

PROGRAM FOR MAY DAY EXERCISES

The following is the program for the May Day exercises which will be presented in form of an English Medieval May Day during the time of the reign of Richard I. These exercises will begin Saturday at 5:30.

ORDER OF EVENTS

PART I

Contest of Knights
Gatherng of the People
The Contest
The Combat
Victorious Knight Chooses His Lady

PART II

Game of Children
Gypsy Dance
Folk Dances

PART III

Court Procession of Queen
Coronation
Court Minuet
Jester Dance
Scotch
Dance of Shepherdesses
Wandering Minstrels Present a Greek Dance Pantomime

"DAPHNE AND APOLLO"

Apollo and his steeds—Zephyrs dance at the joy of Spring—Daphne and her butterflies—Apollo plays upon his harp of gold—Daphne becomes frightened and flees from Apollo—He chases Daphne until the River God transforms her into a laurel tree—Vestal virgins offer sacrifice for restoration of Daphne finding their prayers of no avail they go into thee forest gleam.

THE MAY POLE DANCE

Recessional

CAST

Robin Hood ..... Lucile Hilton
Friar Tuck ..... Alice Wiley
Little John ..... Anne Ferree
Men—Dorothy Myers, Frances Volk, Virginia Keister, Margaret Cobb.
Begging Friars—Mignonne Griggs, Margaret Ballard, Beulah Jarvis, Mildred Lohr. bara Willcox.
Flower Seller—Virginia Boxley.
Chapin.
Children of the First Grade in Training School
Milkmaids—Flora Edwards, Hazel Carter, Helen Costen, Gretchin Mayo, Carolyn Sinclair, Blanche Rodesky, Ida White, Laura Hurt, Hilda Shannon, Lavalette Morton, Frances Smtih, Virginia Bowers, Edith Page, Helen Spital, Lorice Carter, Bessie Trimm.
Morris Men—Gladys Huband, Gertrude Shepperd, Thelma Williams, Louise McCormick, Elizabeth Williams, Ella Louise Moore, Mary Christian Royal, Mary Carrington.
Swordmen—Frances Morgan, Grace Johns, Frances Brightwell, Ellen Babb, Katherine Davis, Anne Palmer, Robbie Claud, Elva Hedly.
Chimney Sweeps—Juliet Jones, Julia Middleton, Florence Booten, Mary Frances Hatchett, Kathryn Bully. Irene Halpin, Sammy Scott, Hilda Ligon.
Shepherdesses—Katherine Bentley, Mary Lee Malbon, William Paris, Mary Rigby, Dorothy Baldwin. Rachel Royal, Lois Fraser, Eleanor Hogan.
Gypsy Dance ..... Bessie Meade Riddle
Scotch—Nancy Cole, Frances Allen, Grace George, Lucretia Province Elizabeth Wilkernson, Virginia Gurley, Elizabeth Hargrave, Margaret Lifsey.
Knights—Gwendolyn Hardy, Isabel McDonnell, Lucile Graves, Elizabeth Crute, Virginia Updike, Mary Brownly, Sara Williams.
Victorious Knight ..... Louise Foster
Lord of Contest ..... Rosalind Harrell
Heralds—Florence McIntyre, Cornelia McIntyre.

(Continued on last page)

THE ROTUNDA STAFF IS CHOSEN FOR NEXT YEAR

The following girls will compose the Rounda staff for next year.

Editor-in-chief ..... Evelyn Dulaney
Assistant Editor .... Pearl Etheridge
Literary editor ..... Lorah Brewer
News editor ..... Edith Lamphier
Humorous editor ..... Beulah Jarvis
Athletic editor ..... Lucille Graves
Reporters ..... Louise Foster
Isabelle McDonald
Proof Reader ..... Helen Davidson
Business Manager, Katherine Hatch
Asst. Business Mgr., Peggy Walton
Circulation Mgr. ..... Billie Booth
Asst. Cir. Mgr. ..... Minerva Evans

It will be noticed that only two reporters have been appointed rather than a larger number. This was done to give all girls who are interested in this work an opportunity to "try-out" for the reporter's ponsition. Any girl who has done work of this kind or is interested in doing this type of work is invited (or requested if this word is more emphatic) to indicate this interest to any member of the staff.

CAST FOR COMMENCEMENT PLAY IS CHOSEN

The commencement play this year will be "The Romantic Age" by A. A. Milne. The cast has been chosen as follows.:

Mrs. Knowle Bessie Meade Riddle
Melissande (her daughter)
Frances Sale
Jane Bagot (her niece)
Peggy Barham
Alice ..... Sue Sebrell
Mr. Knowle ..... Virginia Graves
Bobby ..... Lucy Haile Overbey
Gervase Mallory ..... Louise Brewer
Ern ..... Elizabeth Hargrave
Master Susan ..... Betty Hopkins

SING A SURPRISE SATURDAY NIGHT

Last week the Freshman Class had charge of prayers for the whole week. They were very interesting and indeed a success. As a finish to their week of interesting the student body, they took charge of Sing Saturday night and entertained S. T. C. Sing has always been entertaining, but this Saturday night it was more than that; it was a surprise and a very laughable one at that Practically the whole student body assembled in the auditorium after supper to enjoy themselves, and did,—by laughing heartily at the ten "darkies" and their interlocuter who sprung joke after joke and sang several songs attractively. How it was possible that these black-faced girls were respectable members of the Freshman Class only that afternoon was quite too much and until after it was over and the black began to come off in degrees could we recognize "who was who." It was enjoyed by everyone and those who missed it lost quite a treat.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF Y. W. C. A. HELD MAY 1ST

The annual week-end Y. W. C. A. conference, composed of representatives of new cabinets, was held at State Teachers College, Fredericksburg, April 29—May 1.

Fifty students met to discuss their common problems, to share experiences, and to gain both practical and inspirational guidance.

A part of the conference time was spent in discussing the various aspects of the "Advancing South", interracial, industrial and cultural. The students attempted to find a solution to these problems that would be synonomous with the solution of personal and campus problems; that it, that sympathetic understanding, tolerance, and love of other people is, after all, the great creative principle of life.

Technicalities in the advancement of a great student movement were discussed. Conferences, and particularly Blue Ridge, had an important place on the program, as did world movements for the betterment of humanity.

Miss Stella Scurlock, student secretary in the South, and Dr. James E. Walmsley of our own college, were an invaluable aid to the group of Virginia students, for in the personalities of both, students found that which they so desire—an understanding on the part of those whose experience has been more far-reaching, and whose friendship and frankness are so charmingly shared.

The visiting delegates were conducted on a sight-seeing trip through the historic town of Fredericksburg on Saturday afternoon. In spite of inclement weather, every building that had housed a famous personage was viewed with wide-eyed interest and enthusiasm. Oh, yes! Fredericksburg's hospitality was delightful.

Farmville's representatives were Frances Willis, Ella L. Moore, Jackie Woodson, Lorah Brewer, Etta Marshall, Anna Burgess, Frances Walmsley, and Rosalind Harrell.

MAY DAY TO BE HELD ON THE FRONT CAMPUS

The stage for the May Day Festival will be the campus in front of Main building. The ground will be roped off and the audience will be in the street and on the side walks around the front campus. Dr. Jarman has requested that the girls not take furniture of any description out of the school. The only seats prepared will be the campus benches and chairs from the gymn.

The girls on Main Hall are requested to close all blinds and sit with the audience rather than on the porches as this will spoil the effect of the stage. The support of every girl is needed to carry out a successful program.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — EDITH CORNWELL '27
Assistant Editor — EVELYN DULANEY '28

Board of Editors

Literary — LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
News — LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous — MARION GRIMES '29
Athletic — LOUISE BREWER '27

Reporters

FRANCES SALE '27 — VIRGINIA BURKES '29
CARROLL CROMWELL '29 — BESSIE MEADE RIDDLE '27

Proof Reader

EDITH LAMPHIER '29

Managers

Business Manager — VIRGINIA W. BOXLEY '29
Assistant — ELIZABETH HARGRAVE '29
Circulation Manager — KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant — MARGARET BARHAM '29

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

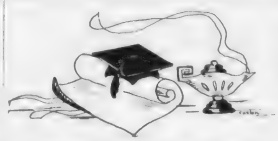
We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

AN APPRECIATION.

Before taking the bold step into the office of editor of our school paper, many were the dire predictions which came to my ears. Almost I expected to be completely "mowed down," ere the year was over. Many times I nearly came to the conclusion that people were right. Many times I've been on the verge of tearing hair in real anguish—but always its been almost and someone has come to the rescue. Such success as has been attained by the Rotunda this year has been due to the splendid cooperation of every member of the staff, to some loyal reporters, and some loyal contributors. The staff has worked tirelessly and have given not only thought but a great deal of time to each of the Rotundas. The reporters have given their cooperation and helped make the editing far easier by their help.



As this, the last Rotunda of the 1926-1927 staff goes to press I should like to take this opportunity to thank the nstaff, the reporters, and the contributors without whose constant cooperation the publication of our current issues would have been impossible. I should also like to thank the several members of the faculty who have contributed from time to time articles which have added to the attractiveness of our paper. The English department has been most loyal in its support of the literary column and to them I wish to express my thanks for their interest.

Edith Cornwell, Editor

WHY SCRIBBLE?

Why are we born with that inane desire to scribble? Why do we scribble on every desk we sit down to? Why do we scribble on the nice clean walls of the State Teachers College? Why do we scribble on the base of both of our statues of Joan of Arc?

Why do we scribble on the post office walls while we wait for mail? Why do we scribble our names and the names of others in all our books? Why do we scribble on property of our school? Why can't we put a stop to it? Why can't someone be ready with a crowbar to crown the obnoxious scribbler?

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

VIRGINIA POTTS

To every Senior the name of one Senior is most dear—for during the year which is perhaps the happiest the fullest, the most important of our college life—she has been our leader. Somehow when we stop to realize that Virginia has been with us only two years it seems impossible, so truly has she imbibed the spirit of our Alma Mater.

Perhaps no person on the campus has felt her way more truly into the very hearts of the school than has "Pottie". This is true from every side of our school life. Socially "Pottie" is always ready for a good time, always ready to make things go, and a moving spirit at any gathing, and as an athelte she has done her part for her class. "Pottie" has proven a leader who has had a definite and wakening effect upon those with whom she came in contact.

"Pottie" has led because she herself followed the best there was to follow.

In no instance has she been afraid to work, and on all occasions she has beens willing to accomodate whenever it was possible.

Perhaps no person will leave behind them a more beautiful tribute to their Alma Mater than Virginia Potts has in her tune to the Alma Mater nsong. A leader, a thinker, a helper, and a friend are the various ways in which we as students regard "Pottie."

EVELYN BECKHAM

"You must look into people, as well as at them," said Lord Chesterfield, and when thinking of Evelyn we should follow his advice that we may really know her for her true self. So often we are superficial in our estiamte of our friends and classmates and in this we are indeed unfair to ourselves as well as them, for then we miss the spirit and real character of those whom we think we know.

Evelyn is small, yes, and it follows that she is valuable. She is indeed valuable to our college, her class and her friends. She has done well all that she has undertaken and has accomplished much during her four years at S. T. C. From the time the Debate Club was on its first feet and struggling to be a success Evelyn has been using her powers to make it a successful organization and much of its success has been due to her efforts in its behalf.

Someone, at the beginning of the year, remarked that she knew The Virginian would be a success because Evelyn Beckham was going to be editor for the next year. This has indeed been true. Evelyn has so well guided her staff that it is thought that the 1927 Virginian will be the best that has ever been issued here. Much of Evelyn's work is not known for she does not care for ostentation. Some of the most important accomplishments have been those for which she has received no recognition and this is as she would have it.

Though Evelyn has entered into varied activities and has had many duties while at our college, we must not forget her scholastic attainments. She has received recognition and honor from time to time for her high intellectual ability.

Lord Chesterfield has said "Solid knowledge ..... is the first and great foundation of your future fortune and character." We are sure that this will prove true of Evelyn and we are looking forward with interest to following her career in the future and feel sure that she will continue in the future as she has in the past to reflect honor on our college in all that she may undertake.

ELIZABETH JARMAN

When some big event in our school life happens we often wonder how in all the confusion which only girls are capable of that the event ever passed so successfully. It is not always those who stand prominently in the foreground who do the really hard work which puts the program over. You can always trace a big part of it back to some individual who has had the wisdom of a Solomom, the patience of a Job, a faith and that modesty which characterizes the true person of service. All this and more we have seen over and over again in Elizabeth Jarman.

STUDENT COMMITTEE INSTALLED MONDAY

Monday night in the auditorium the usual installation services of the new student committee was held. The service is a very beautiful and impressive one.

Monday night the stage was simply decorated in baskets of flowers. The old members of the committee and the new member who was to take her place, came down the aisle side by side to the tune of Alma Mater.

Vrginia Vincent as the retiring president presided. "V", as always gave a simple, but expressive talk in which she expressed her appreciation for the cooperation given the committee. She then gave to Mary Christian Royall the oath of office and placed upon her the cap and gown, symbolic of office.

Lydia Clarke gave a very delightful solo, which made the program very attractive.

Following the solo by Lydia Clarke the new members of the committee took their oath of office. Here somethng new was introduced to the program, when the student body stood by classes, and pledged their loyalty to the incoming committee.

Following these pledges of allegiance came the recessional singing of the Alma Mater song by the student body. It was hard to see the old committee go out of office for they have given their time and service to the college. However as the new committee took their places we could not help feeling that they were worthy successors.

DELTA KAPPA HAS FOUNDER'S BANQUET

On Saturday evening, May the thirtieth at six-thirty o'clcok, Delta Kappa Sorority had its Founder's Day banquet in the banquet hall of the tea room.

The soroity colors, yellow and white, were effectively carride out in the decorations and menu.

The following guests and old members were present.:

Mrs. Herbert Stokes

Miss Grenels

Miss Iler

Margaret Jordan.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink
With Us
W-A-D-E-S

THE JUNGLE CALL

I have been just reading Kipling's Jungle Book. By that, I mean that I have been reveiwing it in my mind, for truth to tell, my last reading of it was several years ago; yet I can truthfully say that I have just been readng it, because so much of it remains in a corner of my brain that it is possible at times, to take it out and revolve it around in my mind for closer consderation. That is what I have just been doing; and it started a long train of reflection that begins with this—Have you ever heard the Jungle Call?

Maybe you have never been to the Jungle. I never have; but I have heard the Jungle Call! Sometime it comes to you in the howl of a dog on a clear night, sometimes it comes to you in a single expresson, such as, "Jungle Trail," "unexplored regions beyond the Amazon," etc.; but, more often than in any other way, the Jungle Call comes clear and strong, out of the pages of a book, or between the lines of a poem.

There are doubtless many poems, and there ar many books, whence comes the Jungle Call; but the only book I ever found it in was Kipling's Jungle Book, and the only poems, Kipling's, with one exception—Vachel Lindsay's Congo. I cannot say that the Jungle Call is in the whole of The Congo, for the strongest influence in the poem is the call of primitive man, but this call and that of the Jungle itself seem intermingled at times. At any rate, I have never heard the Jungle Call more compelling than in the refrain of The Congo.

"Then I saw the Congo, creeping through the black,
Cutting through the Jungle with a golden track."

I have often wondered why it is that primitive things hold so strong an appeal for civilized peoples, and that pagan ideas and ceremonies never call more strongly than to people brought up surrounded by Christian influences. If you can explain these phenomena, you can explain the Jungle Call. Psychologists perhaps would explain it as partly due to the attraction of apposites; but instinct tells me thati t goes deeper. Far, far deepre! People were prmitive before they became civilized; they were pagan before they became Christian. Onhe in a while you see a "backslider" from civilization who becomes again the primitive man, or a "backslider" from Christianity who becomes again the pagan; anr once in a very, very long while you see a man who answers the JIngle Call and returns to the primitive and the pagan. But, remember this whether he answers or not, although he probably never even hears it, somwhere deep in the hart of every man who walks on earth, there is the instinct that answers to the Jungle Call. It is a call that pulls and compels; it fathers dissatisfaction; it breeds restlessness; in its strongest formss it induces a roving disposition. Yet it is Romance incarnate; it is adventure, excitement, thrill, magic, beauty, happiness, and glory. It is a symbol of the most vital thing in life; it lives on and on forever. And, though I may never see the Jungle itself, the think within me that rises, thrills, and burns to the call.

"Good hunting, Little Brother."

M. W. O. '27

ALUMNAE NEWS

The following article appeared in "Zest," a children's paper published by the Metropolitan Savings Bank of New York City.

"On February 25, the Junior Anssembly in Public School No. 15 had a rare treat in the form of a playlet given by pupils of 4B2 on the subject of thrft, entitled "Two Choices."

The characters were "Helen Smith" "Extravagance" and Thrift." She wonders what she shall do with the money.

Extravagance appears and tries to persuade Helen to spend it, telling her of the beautiful things that can be bought and the gay sights to be seen for a dollar. Just as Helen is about to follow Extravagance's advice, Thrift comes upon the scene and advises Helen not to listen to Extravagance. She explains the foolishness of the ways of Extravagance, who does not look beyond today. Thrift shows Helen how much wiser it is to put some of the money away for future pleasure, and still have some for the need and pleasures of today. Helen sees the wisdom of this and together they go off to put the money in the school bank."

This poem play was written by Mildred Folston, a graduate of the College in '26 and now a teacher in the New York City schools.

* * *

Dr. Jarman recently received a letter from a former student, Clara M. Edmunds, who is secretary to The Highland Institution of the Executive Committee of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church. She lives at Guerrant, Kentucky.

Miss Edmunds enclosed a clipping from a Bluefield paper. he clipping contained an interesting letter from Lillian Wall '11 who is now attending the session of the League of Nations at Geneva, Switzerland. Lillian is High Secretary to -the United States War Department. Before entering the government service Miss Wall was a popular and successful teacher in Bluefield, Tazewell and Beaver High Schools.

* * *

News of the marriage of Sallie K. Hardy '24 has just reached the alumnae office. She is now Mrs. Wendel Coles of Air Point, Va.

* * *

On April 18, 1927, Estelle Vaughan '25 was married to Mr. Herman, Buckingham County. They will make their home at that place.

* * *

On the same day Annie Violet Wilson '26 was married to Mr. Walter Crymes, a young business man of Keysville, Va.

STUDENT COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

The class elections are now complete for next years student committee representatives. The Freshman class of this year, or Sophomores of next year will have as its representatives.:

Blanche Overbey
Lucille Graves

The Sophomore class or next years Junior Class,:

Louise Foster
Gladys Huband

The Junior Class or next years Senior Class will be represented by:

Helen Davidson
Louise Costen

SOCIAL

Mrs. N. W. Sebrell and Miss Josephine Thornton were the guests of Miss Virginia Sebrell Saturday and Sunday.

* * *

Miss Louise Everett returned Sunday from Alberta where she was the week-end guest of Miss Katherine Johnston.

* * *

Miss Margaret Mackasey has returned from Salem where she attended the dances at Roanoke College.

* * *

Miss Louise Shoffner spent the week-end at her home in Roanoke and attended the Easter dances at Roanoke College.

* * *

Miss Henrietta Binford has returned from Richmond where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Mary Banks, former student at S. T. C., returned Sunday night to her home in Norfolk after spending a week as the guest of Miss Kitty Hatch and attending the Mu Omega banquet on Friday night.

* * *

Miss Josephine Lynee returned on Sunday after spending tht week-end at her home in Orange. Miss Lyne had as her week-end guests, Misses Elizabeth Sawyer, Elizabeth Scott, Rachael Patton, Frances Malbon, and Florence and Cornelia McIntyre.

* * *

Miss Amonette de Mott, former student at S. T. C. returned Sunday to Edenton, after spending the week-end as the guest of Misses Mary Duncan and Margaret Barham. Miss de Mott attended the Mu Omega banquet on Friday night

* * *

Miss Sue Sebrell has returned after spending the week-end in Fredericksburg as the guest of Miss Miss Elizabeth Clismond.

* * *

Miss Annie Griswold McIntosh spent the week-end in Salem, where she attended the Easter dances at Roanoke College.

* * *

Miss Jsabelle McDonald has returned from her home at Ocean View where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Edna Brown was the week-end guest of Miss Frances Hamner at the latter's home in Keysville.

* * *

Miss Margaret Jordan of Suffolk, former student at S. T. C., spent the week-end as the guest of friends and attended the Delta Kappa banquet on Saturday.

* * *

Miss Mary Tucker spent the week-end at her home in Blackstone.

* * *

Misses Rosalind Harrell, Frances Willis, Anna Burgess, Frances Walmsley, Etta Marshall and Ella Louise Moore returned from Fredericksburg, where they attended the Y. W. C. A. conference held at the State Teachers College.

* * *

Miss Jacqueline Irby spent the week-end at her home in Blackstone

* * *

Miss Colleen Maddux has returned from Richmond where she spent the week-end.

Continued on last page

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

High: "Al,—are the headlights on?"

Higher (examining the lights): "Just one's burning, n' it's red (A moment later with great astonishment)—"n' we got two white tail lights!"

—o—

He.: "Didn't you say there was something about me that you liked?"

She.: "Yes, but you've spent it all."

The waiter was taking the order. He had a blank look upon his long narrow face.

"Tea or coffee'? '

"Coffee without cream."

"We're out of cream, sir. Will you take it without milk?"

Mother.: "Do you want to hear a story about a good little girl?"

Small Daughter.: "Maybe—what was she good at?"

"Hell hath no fury like a woman so popular everybody thought it was no use to ask her."

Customer.: "Chicken croquettes, please."

Waiter.: "Fowl ball!"

"Be yourself, Bill, be yourself!"

"That's what I am being, Baby."

"Well, for Pete's sake, be somebody else, then."

"A man can count uncounted gold,
And land and buildings tall;
But love is just to give away
It can't be owned at all."

Nurse.: "Professor, a boy has arrived."

Professor (great admired) "Ask him what he wants."

"I didn't know you had met Mary before."

"Oh, yes, we went to college together."

"Old friends, eh?"

"No roommates!"

Beulah Jarvis says a humbug is a person who fools no one but himself and other fools.

Advice is like kissing. It is very pleasant to give or take, costs nothing and amounts to nothing.

The Real Decline of Man—Falling in Love!

An egotist is a person who knows himself so little that he admires himself—so Clara Norfleet tells us.

"There's my girl. What do you think of her?"

"I can't say."

"Why?"

"She is your girl.'

MAY DAY PROGRAM

Continued from page 1

COURT

QUEEN OF MAY ..... VIRGINIA POTTS
MAID OF HONOR ..... ANN ARCHER IRVING

Lords—Mary Duncan, Dorothy Watkins, Virginia Vincent, Mattie Rogers Smith, Frances Davis, Virginia Snyder, Edith Asher.

Ladies—Louise Shoffner, Sue Sebrell, Nannie Rawls, Elizabeth Elmo, Jacqueline Irby, Mary Page Archer, Etta Marshall, Mabel Hayes.

Jester ..... Lucy Haile Overbey

Greek Dancers

Apollo—Grisby Peck Daphne—Elizabeth Sawyer

Attendants of Apollo—Elizabeth Truitt, Marion Fitchett, Mildred Morris, Elia Putney.

Butterflies—Margaret Draper, Mae Marshall, Cornelia Dickinson.

Zephyrs—Elizabeth White, Monroe Vincent, Carolyn Mattox, Mary Tucker, Margaret Hansel, Virginia Graves, Agnes Watkins, Frances Walmsley, Elizabeth Hutt, Dorothy Smith.

Vestal Virgins—Ethel Forehand, Frances Woodhouse, Louise Costen, Marguetite Warriner, Ola Thomas, Maude English, Mary Jane Wilkerson, Elizabeth Rucker.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
Under Direction of
LUCY HAILE OVERBEY
Director of Dances
MISS MARY BARLOW

Assistants—Miss Ester Thomas, Miss Olive Iler
Costumes ..... Elizabeth Jarman
Assistant ..... Frances Walmsley
Music—Nancy Denit, Elizabeth Winston, Virginia Burkes, Virginia Vincent.
Stage ..... Edith Cornwell
Assistants—Frances Willis, Elizabeth Ferrell, Viola Woodson.
Festival—Miss Leola Wheeler's Class in Drama.

THREE ORGANIZATIONS GO ON SPRING JAUNT

Wednesday a large part of the school seemed to depart for foreign parts in numerous "U Drive It" cars. Mysterious packages were loaded in also, and some suggestion of a spring outing shone from everybody's face. In reality, it was merely the Y. W. C. A., Student Government Council, and the Athletic Association officers leaving for Farmville Lake and a camp fire supper. Woodson and Vincent as chauffers were hair raisers; Blanche Overbey as a marshmallow consumer indefatigable, and Pannie Willis as an Indian chief the bravest one! There was the camp fire, the hampers of food, the smell of pine to give everyone that "glad I'm alive feeling." It was altogether a jolly and different type of supper from the usual one.

MU OMEGA HOLDS FOUNDER'S DAY BANQUET

Mu Omega Sorority held its Founder's Day Banquet Friday, April 29, 1927. The color scheme of black and white was effectively carried carried out in Pierrot and Pierret style. Besides the actve members the guests included Miss Mary Banks of Norfolk, Miss Amonette de Mott of Edenton, N. C., Miss Myrtle Grenels, and Miss Leola Wheeler, faculty advisor.

Big Day in History

On December 22 1620 according to the New Calendar, the Pilgrims landed. It was also on this day about two hundred years later 1.07 that congress passed the embargo act, which prohibited all foreign commerce.

Important Elements

Vitamins is a term created by C Funk to include the peculiar health giving and disease prevent principle in the rice grain. It is probable that other vitamins will be discovered by future investigations.

SOCIAL

Continued from page two

Saturday night Misses Ann Meredith and Frances Newman entertained most delightfully in their home with a dance. The following couples attended.

Miss Polly Aderholt Archie Hardy.
Miss Florence Booten with Owen Jones.
Miss Leola Carter with Tom Humphries.
Miss Anne Chapin with Henry Simmerman.
Miss Elaine Goode with Howard Gilmer.
Miss Ivy Hart with David Squires.
Miss Frances Lewis with Bill Williams.
Miss Marthalea Moomaw with Burton Dechert.
Miss May Marshall with Mr. Crawley
Miss Dorothy Palmer with "Slick" Strater.
Miss Ellen Smith with Ed Harvey.
Miss Muriel Thompson with Ernest Garland.
Miss Dorothy Townsend with "Nick" Carter.
Miss Mary Taliaferro with Robert Hudson.
Miss Girlie Wright with "Spritter" Adkins.
Miss Mary Wilson with Perry Howe.
Miss Virginie Boxley with Jimmie Ayres.

The Zeta Tau Sorority wishes to announce the following new members:

Mabel Hayes ..... Norfolk
Bettie L. Hall .... Great Bridge, Va.
Elizabeth Bevans ..... Enfield, N. C.
Louise Ellis ..... Orange, Va.

Uplifting Contemplation

The contemplation of celestial things will make a man both speak and think more sublimely and magnificently when he descends to human affairs.—Cicero

40 inch Washable Flat Crepe

Guaranteed Washable, $2.75 Value

Specially Priced at $1.98

Heavy quality beautiful lustrous finish—Guaranteed Washable—In 25 new spring shades.

Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

Aporisms

Favorite.: The person who flatters us oftenest and most skillfully.

Ignoramus.: A fellow upon whom our arguments take no hold.

Lover.: A person at whom the whole world laughs.

Monomaniac.: A person who is always talking some subject we don't like.

Rebel.: A person who wants what you don't want bad enough to fight for it.

Vagrant: A gentle man of leisure minus an income.

Waster: A person who spends more than we do.

Early Millionaire

Reazin Gordon of Falmouth, Va. who is said to have made a fortune by the sudden rise in the price of tobacco when the War of 1812 threatened to cut off Europe's supply of Virginia tobacco, may be said to have been the first American millionaire. Gordon is credited with the possession of the first million dollars in cash, although several earlier Americans were worth more than that amount in lands or merchandise.

Grateful to Say the Least

The funniest wedding I ever attended was the one when, after the ceremony, the father of the bride walked up to the bridegroom to congratulate him, and being rather excited and a bit rattled, he grasped his hand and said: "Much obliged."—Capper's Weekly.

Old Musical Instrument

The Jewish shophar, a ram's horn usually straightened and flattened, is the only ancient musical instrument actually preserved in the Mosaic ritual and the oldest wind instrument known to be retained in present use in the world. It is still sounded by the Jews on the New Year and on the Day of Atonement. It is first named in the Bible as sounding when the Lord descended upon Mount Sinai.

Japanese Laundry Work

Much of the washing of garments in Japan is done out of doors with plenty of cold water and no soap. Cotton garments are hung up on bamboo poles passed through the armholes, and are pulled smooth and straight before they dry. Usually silken garments are taken to pieces before washing, are smoothed out on a long board while wet, then are set up on the board in the sun to dry. Ironing is unnecessary.

In the Old Town Tonight

We read that thyme was used by the Romans as a cure for low spirits. Hot thyme, doubtless.—Arkansas Gazette.

CHAMPIONSHIP BASEBALL GAMES THURS.

THE ROTUNDA

CONGRATULATIONS DEBATORS!

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1927 Number 29

FARMVILLE PARTICIPATES IN INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATES

Wins From W. & M. and Harrisonburg; Loses to Radford

The inter-collegiate debating season at S. T. C. began on Friday night, April 29, when our Freshmen met the William and Mary Freshmen girls on the question, Resolved, That colleges should train the superoir mind. Frances Wilson and Elizabeth Eichelberger of S. T. C. composed the negative team. Nella Lawson and Margaret Morris of William and Mary composed the affirmative. Decision of the judges was two to one in favor of the negative. This is the first inter-collegiate freshman debate we have ever had at S. T. C., but we are looking forward to more in the future.

On Thursday night, May 5, three of the State Teachers Colleges, Harrisonburg, Radford and Farmville, debated the question, Resolved: That Virginia Municipalities should be financially independent. Each college kept an affirmative team at home and sent a negative team to one of the other colleges. This debate is an annual event. Last year is the first time it was tried but the three colleges all seem anxious to make the triangular debate a custom. The final results of the debate are the same this year as they were last. Radford wont two; Farmville, one; and Harrisonburg lost two.

Farmville's negative was composed of Daphne Gilliam and Edith Asher. They won over Harrisonburg at Harrisonburg with a two to one decision. The most outstanding feature of the debate was the rebuttals of the Farmville girls which were made without previous preparatoin. The Harrisonburg girls entertained our team quite hospitably and they returned from their trip with much enthusiasm.

The affirmative side of the question was defended here by Elizabeth Hutt and Ella Louise Moore against Helen Chumley and Edna Haynes of Radford. The subject which is one of especial interest at present was well handled by all the speakers.

The affirmative speakers emphasized the need of financial independence as well as expressed the fact that state control does not lessen corruption. They argued that experts should be allowed to carry on the work for municipal government, for it is as important as other systems that require experts.

The movement was stated to be revolutionary, impracticable and unjust by the negative speakers, who considered that it would be a detriment to the municipalities rather than a help. It would have a wrong effect on the State as a whole.

These speeches were well prepared and well delivered so when the decision was three votes for the negative we did not feel as if we had lost but were equally proud of all participants.

THE MAY QUEEN AND HER COURT

PI KAPPA OMEGA HOLDS REUNION

National Officers and Aluumnae Return for Annual Meetings

Saturday evening marked the close of one of the most eventful and successful of the annual reunions of Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Omega. The reunion was a particularly significant one because the following national officers were present:

President, Miss Mary Dinwiddie, of Bluefield, West Virginia.

Secretary, Miss Mary Lacey of Oak Park, Virginia.

Treasurer, Miss Julia Alexander, of Norfolk, Virginia.

Alpha Chapter Director, Miss Helen Draper, of Farmville.

Beta Chapter President, Miss Elizabeth Thompson, of Harrisonburg, Virginia.

Many alumnae also returned.

At 2 o'clock the National officers and members of Pi Kappa Omega assembled in the Senior Parlor for the initiation ceremony of Gladys Huband, Grace Chambers and Mrs. Mae Marshall Edwards.

Immediately following the initiation the annual business meeting was held in the Student Council room of the Student Building. The business meeting adjourned to be followed by a meeting of the National Council. The main problem to be solved at this meeting was the adjustment of the scholastic requirement for admission into the society. Believing that Pi Kappa Omega is an ideal rather than a set of mechanical requiremnts, the constitution was amended giving the privilege to each chapter to establish its own standards of admission requirements.

There was an open meeting in the evening which the student body was invited to attend. Miss Evelyn Beckham, chairman, welcomed the members of the audience as guests of Pi Kappa Omega. Her annoucement of the honorary members recently elect-

(Continued on last page)

HONOR GRADUATES ARE ANNOUNCED

As commencement draws near the honors which have been won by the students in the diploma and degree classes are decided upon. Wednesday morning in chapel Dr. Jarman announced the honor graduates for this year.

The honor graduates from the degree class are:

First Honor .... Rosalind Harrell
Second Honor, Evelyn Beckham

The honor graduates from the diploma class are:

First Honor .... Pearl Etheridge
Second Honor, Margaret Hansel

As first honor graduates of the degree class, Rosalind Harrell will be valedictorian, as first honor graduate of the diploma class Learl Etheridge will be salutatorian.

Y. W. C. A. INSTALLATION SERVICES HELD HERE

Avery impressive service was held in the auditorium Wednesday night when the officers of the Y. W. C. A. for 1927-1928 were installed. The darkened auditorium was lighted by numerous white cadles which flickered on the white dresses of the choir and of the officers as they entered singing a hymn.

Each new officer was accompanied by this year's officer for that particular place on the cabinet They marched slowly on the stage and there formed a semi-circle of white.

This year's president, Rosalind Harrell made a short speech of farewell and of best wishes to the new officers. Then each old girl in turn lighted the candle of a new officer by the light of her own candle. After all the officers had been installed, the new president, Frances Willis, pledged her efforts and those of her cabinet to the work of the Y. W. C. A. for the coming year. Both the old and new cabinet members marched out bearing their gleaming candles, while the audience with full hearts

Continued on page two

FARMVILLE TIES DEBATE WITH NORTH CAROLINA

Louise McCormick and Evelyn Beckham Represent S. T. C.

On Friday night, May 6, 1927 two members of our Debating Club, Miss Evelyn Beckham and Miss Louise McCormick debated with Mr. W. B. Kilgore and Mr. R. H. Dunlap of North Carolina State College in Portsmouth, Virginia.

The question for discussion was most interesting: Resolved: That this house deplores the tendency toward political, economic, and social equality of the seres. Each debator was allowed fifteen minutes in which to present argument "pro" and "con", and every minute of the time was used most advantageously.

Miss McCormick, as first speaker of the negative, stated that it was indeed a pleasure to meet and discuss such vitally interesting problems, and she expressed the appreciation of the Farmville girls for the splendid courtesy shown them by the North Caroline boys from the very moment of their arrival in Norfolk.

The following extract is taken from an article in the Virgnian-Pilot concerning the debate:

"Despite the estimable and worthy endeavors of four convincing orators, representing opposing sides and disputing the great modern question of sex equality, that question still remains unsettled. This was clearly indicated last night at the conclusion of formal and enlightenng debate between representatives of the Virginia State Teachers College at Farmville and the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering at Raleigh. Wilson B. Kilgore of Norfolk and Robert H. Dunlap of Charlotte, N. C., staunchly upheld the affirmative of the question.

Opposition to the North Carolina forensic champions was furnished in

Continued on page three

S. T. COLLEGE ENJOYS BEAUTIFUL MAY DAY

Virginia Potts Makes a Lovely Queen.—Costumes Very Colorful

"Merry it is in good greenwood."

Merry it was on our campus last Saturday evening when we found ourselves transported to Olde England in the days of the reign of His Majesty King Richard I. Here assembled loyal subjects for the celebration of the May Festival. They were all there: Robn Hood and his band, Friar Tuck, Little John, the Begging Friars, the Scotch, the Morris men, swordmen, chimney sweeps, milkmaids, shepherdesses, the flower seller, and the gypsy.

Events opened with the contest of the knights, and after the final combat, the victor, "Sir" Louise Foster, chose his lady.

Next on the program was a game in which the children of the realm took part under the direction of Lorah Brewer and Margaret Cobb. This was followed by folk dancing; first, by the Morris men, and then, by swordmen, and by a beautiful gypsy dance by Bessie Meade Riddle.

The great event of every May Day is the crowning of the Queen. This year our Queen was Virginia Potts. In stately manner her procession entered Before her went her heralds; behind her came the ladies of her court. She herself, in a flower-covered sedan was borne on the shoulders of six of her lords. Her path was strewn with flowers and her crown was carried by a dainty little page, Anne Cox. Just in front of the Main entrance stood her throne; here she was crowned, and here she sat to receive the homage of her people, and to view the events of the day. The lords and ladies danced a lovely minuet before her, and the Court Jester, Lucy Haile Overbey, entertained her wth his "gambols on the greensward." The Scotch added to her pleasure by giving one of their own delightful dances, and the sheperdesses with their crooks, gay-colored frocks, and graceful movements charmed her with their beauty.

A classic touch was given the occasion by the wandering minstrels, who in pantomime reproduced from Greek mythology the story of "Daphne and Apollo." The dance of the Zephyrs was truly ethereal, and Elizabeth Sawyer, as Dahpne, held us spell-bound with her own dancing, and with that of her artistic black-and-yellow butterflies. There was genuine sorrow for her fright, caused by the pursuit of the glorious Sun God, Grsby Peck, and her sad fate, from which not even the supplications of the Vestal Virgins could release her.

The program ended with a beautiful May-pole dance in which the Milkmaids and Morriss men participated. A genuine medieval atmosphere surrounded the lads and lassies as they skipped happily around the

Continued on page two

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LORAH BREWER '29
News ..... EDITH LAMPHIER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... LUCILLE GRAVES '30

Reporters

LOUISE FOSTER '29
ISABELLE McDONALD '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

UNSELFISH HAPPINESS.

Unselfish happiness is one of the gifts that God has offered to all of us; a gift of inestimable value. No life is successful without happness, nor is happiness complete without the golden strain of unselfishness, of service of love. This state of unselfish happiness is an ideal. It is a goal of success which we in this school, as well as our friends elsewhere, are seeking.

In order to make the plan complete a definite place is provided for each member of this student body through which our service, if given with our hearts and to the best of our ability, is a real necessity and a vital part of the closely interwoven organizations here. We may have a minor place or a major place in the Y. W. C. A. on the student council, in dramatics, in some phase of literary work, or in some phase of athletics. However all parts are so closely interrelated that if the ability or willingness of the holder of a minor office is overestmated and she proves a failure, the complete unselfish happiness of all the members will be altered. We all have a place to fill. If we don't fill it properly the progress of the school is somewhat checked.

We, the Rotunda staff for the coming year, appreciate the confidence that has been placed in us as the ones who will be trusted to reflect the school in print. "We understand." The place we hold may be a minor one in school but we realize that we are to make it our major place in order to make our part a success for our Alma Mater. That is our desire. We wish to give our best and ask for criticsm and advice whenever one sees a need. Thus, with unselfish happiness through service as our goal, we pledge ourselves to fill to the best o four ability, the position entrusted to us by the school.

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

EDITH CORNWELL

There is a Senior in our College, four years of whose activity and energetic progress have been dedicated to the service, betterment, and advancement of Alma Mater Hers is, and shall always be, a life of unselfish service, of aiding and ably advising all persons with whom she works and plays.

Her loyalty to her friends, her class, and her college is indescribable. One can only say that she has worked with tireless effort toward creating a spirit of love that can never die, of boosting with a spirit of cooperation, of striving toward the ideal of perfection.

Edith has surmounted difficulties with an assurance that comes from renewed efforts and an eternal hope and faith in people and things. She has made decided contributions to many phases of college lfe; and always this has been done efficiently, gladly, with a desire of service. These are material things—symbols of her thoughts of service. However, many of us know that back of all these things there is a girl with a heart whose sympathy and understanding knows no bounds; whose thoughts are as fine and as true-blue as her eyes; whose cheerfulness radiates with her smile; and whose idealism, constantly struggling for expression, has been an inestimable factor and creative force in making Alma Mater a finer, more beautiful community, proud to claim her among its most efficient and outstanding citizens.

BETTY HOPKINS

Every campus has its "Happy Girl." Every senior class, though, hasn't a Betty, who can smile as ours. And when she smiles we think of the clouds that started to be gray but decided to smile back; we think of a first grade song we skipped to "When Betty's Heart is Happy"; we think of the character behind her little girl happy smile. But somehow it hasn't been when Betty was caricaturing faculty members, on being Miss Willoughby, or playing "let's pretend." that we have loved her most. It has been in occasions of clear thinking, fearless standards, and frank opinioning that we have felt her strength. It has been in her relationship to little children that we have seen her imagination and gentleness.

One can't see a smile come and go for four years without feeling something grow. And because we do know that, and because she is Betty, we're keeping a sunshine—yellow memory of a crinkly smile!

Of Spanish Origin

The word "Pickaninny" came from Cuba where it was "piequinini," from the Spanish words meaning "little child," according to an answered question in Liberty.

Nowhere to Be

Our idea of nowhere to be is on the one-hundred-and-tenth floor of that proposed new New York skyscraper when a sign goes up saying: "Elevators temporarily out of order."

S. T. C. OBSERVES NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK

During the first week in May the Student Body was entertained at chapel by special programs arranged for the celebration of Music Week. The programs were well-adapted to meet the various tastes of the students, and were artisticaly given.

On Tuesday morning, the High School Choral Club of the Training School sang for the students, under the direction of Miss Virginia Vincent. The Choral Club of the College, led by Miss Mary Vaughan, entertained on Wednesday morning with songs which the breath of Spring was delicately woven. Thursday afternoon stands out as the most successful day of the week, because of the memorable recital executed by the students of Mrs. William Gills. As a part of the program Mrs. Watkins, of Hampden Sidney gave an interesting and enlightening talk on Beethoven. This talk was a fitting instroduction to the selections, which were so skillfully rendered by Misses Mary Vaughan and Virginia Vincent. The program was a triumph of esthetic art. On Friday morning the students were given an opportunity to appreciate the ability of the junior branch of the Training School Choral Club. This division of the Choral Club is composed of members from the sixth and seventh grades, and is a worthy addition to the Choral Club.

Music Week at S. T. C. was a distinct success, thoroughly enjoyed by every member of the school.

Saturday morning, Virginia Vincent, Elizabeth Hairston, Agnes Trotter and Mary Vaughan successfully completed Music Week by giving a remarkable version of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony as a two piano quartet.

Y. W. C. A. OFFICERS

(Continued on last page)

sang that inspiring song of the Y. W. C. A. "Follow the Gleam."

The officers for the following year are:

President ..... Frances Willis
Vice-Pres. ..... Ella Louise Moore
Secretary ..... Anna Mae Ellis
Treasurer ..... Gladys Huband
Undergrad. Rep. ..... Blanche Overbey
Committee Chairmen
Alumnae ..... Lucille Graves
Music ..... Anna Burgess
Social ..... Pearl Etheridge
Frances Walmsley
Bible Study ..... Sammy Scott
Publicity ..... Helen Williams
Service ..... Lucy Thompson
Conference and Convention
Margaret Leonard
Religious Meetings .... Lorah Brewer
World Fellowship .... Etta Marshall
Freshman Student Councellor
Viola Wodson
Reporter ..... Anne Ferree

MAY DAY AT S. T. C.

Continued from page 1

pole, twining and untwining its bright streamers.

To determine which one of the events was most lovely is impossible. Each of itself was perfect, and each contributed to the completeness of the whole. Like praise and thanks are due to all who took part in any way, to those who furnished the delightful music, and to all who labored untiringly to make the festival a success. The evening was glorious; the setting, the events, hte dancing, the costumes, ideal. When our beautiful Queen and her court had marched away, it gave us quite a shock to find ourselves amid familiar scenes, and to realize that one of the happiest and most beautiful events of this college year now only a pleasant memory.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink With Us
W-A-D-E-S

TREES AT NIGHT

I could see it from the bridge, or from the road, or from the top of the hill—that lone ash tree But, somehow, I never stopped to look at it except at night—for in the daytime it looked just like other trees. I remember one night in particular—my first night at home during the Christmas holidays. The night was as cold as a white hill looks, but the ash tree didn't seem to mind. Its arms were just as outstretched as they had ever been, and its head was held back in the same wistful manner. It looked lovely, and I wondered what it thought as it stood night after night gazing at white stars from a white hill. I wondered if it knew that it was a very beautiful tree; if it knew that its body was as slender and as graceful as that of a young girl; and I wondered if sometime I might stay with the lone ash and stretch my arms to the sky.

Trees at night! Why do they look different—each of them? The sycamore looks white and shining; it sends a glow to the heart of dark pools and rushes down by the old mill-pond. The birch looks like a dancing girl as it sways and sweeps to the music played by the pine trees. The oak looks as wise as the owl, and I wonder why he doesn't speak. The cedar seems to nod and understand as the sparks from the camp fire sail through its branches.

Trees have a queer language at night. Still nights they whisper; windy nights they cry and shout or sing madly Sometimes I am going to talk to the trees at night.

V. G. W.

SPRING SNOW

Last night a fragile Spring breath
Fanned by in a startled snow scene
But morning——a silent snow scene
Brought but a haunting hush.

Last night a torrent of warm words
And the Spring of the heart of you;
But morning——a blanket of silence,
My blundering wading through

You think some day
To melt the snow
And warm my smile
You do not know!
I've grown so cold
That Spring all-fair
Will find me silent
And unaware.

L. B.

Use the trash cans!

SOCIAL

Miss Emily Morrisette has returned from Lynchburg where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Ethel Miles spent the week-end at her home in Norfolk

* * *

Miss Louise Everett returned Sunday from her home in Portsmouth, where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Charlotte Baxter has returned after attending the week-end dances at Washington and Lee University.

* * *

Miss Marion Grimes spent the week-end in Charlottesville where she attended the dances.

* * *

Miss Lelia Smith had as her guest this week-end her mother, Mrs. F. W. Smith.

* * *

Mss Barbara Willcox spent the week-end at her home in Petersburg.

* * *

Miss Mildred Morris had as her guest Saturday for the May Day program Miss Russell of Waynesboro.

* * *

Miss Edith Asher had as her guest for the week-end her mother, Mrs. J .G. Asher.

* * *

Mrs. W. M. Jarman visited her daughters, Elizabeth and Gertrude this week-end.

* * *

Miss Grace Reeves returned Sunday night after spending the week-end at her home in Roanoke.

* * *

Miss "Billy" Paris spent the week-end at her home in Crewe.

* * *

Miss Josephine Culin of Charlotte was the guest of Miss Dorothy Myers for the week-end.

* * *

Miss Mary Page Archer had as her guests Saturday, her father, Dr. W. C. Archer and her sister, Rosa Archer.

* * *

Miss Helen Hodges who spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Virginia Boxley attended the Kappa Sigma festival at Hampden-Sidney.

* * *

Miss Katherine Hatch is at her home in Wakefield on account of illness.

* * *

Miss Jacqueline Irby has returned from a week-end visit to her home in Blackstone.

* * *

Miss Josephine Peters had as her geusts May Day, her mother, Mrs. J. Sidnly Peters, her sister, Agnes, and her brother, Sidney.

* * *

Miss Mildred Smith who went home on account of illness was operated on for appendicitis last Thursday.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Munn has had as her guest for the week-end Miss Julia Howe Hughes of Richmond.

* * *

Miss Nancy Nelms of Roanoke was the guest of Miss Louise Shoffner for the week-end.

MISS EDITH V. CORNWELL

DEDICATION

In appreciation of her sincere loyalty and inestimable service to Alma Mater as former editor of The Rotunda, we, the new staff, dedicate this issue of The Rotunda to Edith Cornwell.

TEA IS GIVEN TO PI KAPPA OMEGA

On last Tuesday afternoon from five to six o'clock the faculty members of P. K. O. entertained the student members at a delightful tea. The Student Building lounge, where the tea was served, was especially lovely with the addition of bowls of roses and other flowers, and the soft illumination of tall rose tapers in silver candle sticks.

Among guests, in addition to the members of the society included Dr. Jarman, Mr. McCorkle, Mrs. McCorkle and Miss Coulling.

PI GAMMA MU ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu announces the election of the following new members:

Louise Bondurant

Lillian Minor

Carrie Spencer

P. K. O. FOUNDERS DAY BANQUET

The Founders Day banquet of the Pi Kappa Omega society was held in the tea room May 7, 1927 immediately following the open meeting. Miss Rosalind Harrell acted as toastmistress. The toasts carried the guests through a rose garden at dawn, each flower being used symbolically

The local chapter had the pleasure of entertaining at this time members of the National Council, members of the Beta Chapter, the alumnae, Dr. Jarman and Dr. Charles R. Brown, dean of Roanoke College.

FARMVILLE TIES N. C.

(Continued from page one)

vigorous, entertaining and quite profound arguments by Miss Louise McCormick of Roanoke and by Miss Evelyn Beckham, of Farmville, who strongly advocated the negative to the question in controversy. The debate took place before an audience of about 150 persons in the Woodrow Wlison High School auditorium. Professor C. C. Cunningham, of the North Carolina State College, acted as master of ceremonies and arbiter, declared the contest a tie".

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF OA TS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

Humpty: "Who was that boy I saw you with last night?"

Bibby: "That's what's been puzzling me, too."

Miss Bugg: "What's that flower we smell?"

P. Aderholt: "Oh, that's me! I'm a blooming idiot this spring."

Jac Draper wants to know who found the Scotchman who was so tight, he breathed through his nose to keep his teeth from wearing out."

Libby Williams: "What was Louis XVI doing when they cut his head off."

Sally"Why, sticking his neck out, of course."

Clerk: "Good afternoon, madame; thank you, call again."

K. Giles: "All right I will; and you come to see us, too."

C. Baxter: "Now would you believe it; I once fell from the fifth story."

M. Morris: "What, and weren't killed!"

Baxter: "Who told you?"

D. Palmer "How many apples were eaten in the garden of Eden?"

E. Smith: "One!"

D. Palmer: "No—eleven. Eve ate, Adam, too, and the Devil won."

All Gaul is divided into three parts —poor thing.

M. Hewitt: "Did it take you long to learn the Black Bottom?"

I. Carver: "No—I already didn't knowhow to dance."

"Do you girls like conceited men better than the other kind."

"What other kind."

A. Gris: "Why do they call Burton 'Bacon'?"

Mac: "Because someone's always bringing him home."

Dope: "My man's divine."

Jeanette: "Yours may be de vine, but mine's de berries."

Padre: "You take this woman for butter or wurst?"

Hardre: "Oh, liver alone, I never sausage nerve."

G. Wright: "Cannibals are very ambitious."

K. Owen: "Yes, they're always trying to get ahead."

P. Shoffner: "Why is the library closed?"

S. Sebrell: "Because they found small pox in the dictionary."

A. M. P.: "Where are you from?"

M. Lewis: Salem."

A. M. P.: "What part?"

M. Lewis: "All of me, of course."

ATHLETIC COUNCIL INSTALLATION IS UNIQUE

Friday night, in front of an altar of pine boughs and evergreens lighted by tall candles, the old Athletic Council passed on the charge to the new. "Jackie" Woodson, the retiring president, charged Gwendolyn Hardy to keep the altar ever green and growing. Blue and white candles symbolized a school spirit in athletics, rather than a class spirit. Each member of the old council pinned a blue and white band upon the new members. The altar of pine, the tall white candles, and the symbolic charges made the installation an impressive and unusual one.

MONOGRAM CLUB ELECTIONS

The Monogram Club had a special meeting Monday night at which time the following officers were elected for the year 1927-1928:

President	Elizabeth Armfield
Vice-President	Elia Putney
Secretary	Elizabeth Atwater
Treasurer	Mary Frame
Reporter	Julia Wilson

The Monogram Club has played an important part in the athletic life of students of S. T. C and has now become an indispensable organization of the school. The increasing membership enlivens the interest and means that bigger and better things can be hoped for next year.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS ELECTED FOR 1928

At a meeting of the Junior Class Tuesday night the following officers were elected to lead the class next year:

President	Virginia Updike
Vice-President	Virginia Ellis
Secretary	Elizabeth Hutt
Treasurer	Elizabeth Armfield

NEWS TWENTY YEARS IN ADVANCE

Blanche Murrell has succeeded in her ambition to become a slender person.

Helen Davidson is giving lessons on How to Get Fat.

Mail is delivered at each girl's door by our post mistress.

Marion Grimes is giving vocal lessons.

There are no vacant seats in the auditorium when a lecturer comes.

The general cry of "sandwiches," "Hot Dogs!" is not heard at 10 o'clock.

There is an immediate response to Mr McCorkle's plea for Annual dues.

Lucy Haile Overbey has become an asthetic dancer of great renown.

"Sh-h-h-h!" is not the watchword of the school.

The rising bell of old has been replaced by quiet soothing chimes.

Margaret Ferguson and Louise Brewer have become critics of the younger generation.

Mabel Hayes is giving classes in The Newest Ways to Keep That School Girl Complexion.

Explains Lack of Fossils

The geological survey says that the sandhills of Nebraska are mostly wind-blown sands derived from the Tertiary formations. It may be possible for fossils to have been washed by streams to this section, but the lack of fossils is due to the fact that they are too heavy to be carried by winds.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HOLDS ELECTIONS

The Sophomores held a special meeting Thursday night for the purpose of electing officers for the Junior Class. The election was carried on by those Sophomores who expect to return.

The following girls will be the officers for the Junior Class of next year:

President	"Red" Foster
Vice-President	Emma Woods
Secretary	Anne Ferree
Treasurer	Maude Baptist
Reporter	Julia Wilson

ALUMNAE RETURN FOR P. K. O. BANQUET

The following alumnae returned for the Pi Kappa Omega reunion:

Daisy Allen Mitchel
Marion Chewning
Mrs. Mae Marshall Edwards
Grace Chambers
Ida Hill.
Polly Riddle
Katherine Riddle
Mrs. Bovine
Madeline McMurdo
Julia Alexander
Mary Dinwiddie
Mary Lacey
Margaret Lewis Stearnes
Sarah Elizabeth Thompson

P. K. O. HOLDS REUNION

Continued from page 1

ed was very pleasing. The new members are Miss Alice E. Carter, Miss Ada Bierbower, of Farmville, and Miss Mary Du Puy, of Kentucky. Formal announcement of the projects of the society was made. Each member selects one task to perform which is not required of any other office she holds in school. The project of the society as a whole is to fill a corner in the library with books of letters and biography, since our library has only a small number of books of this type.

Miss Beckham introduced the officers of the National Council. Miss Mary Dinwiddie talked for a few minutes on Pi Kappa Omega, its significance and value in the college. The members of Pi Kappa Omega are the ideal students of the college. They have attained the highest standards of scholarship, which is the long recognized achievement for merit in colleges. They are students who have proved themselves to be leaders, who have rendered willing service to the college, and who have set for themselves the highest ideals of character. Miss Dinwiddie congratulated the college upon its present members and those in the student body who are to be members.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Charles R. Brown, Dean of Roanoge College. Dr Jarman, who introduced Dr. Brown, stated that he had all the requisites for membership in the society. He is oustanding in scholarshp, leadership, service and character.

The message of Dr. Brown's address was to create a passion for excellency. The tendency of today is to think and to act en masse. Somewhere in the crowd has been lost the ideal of excellency in individual attainment. Seek to do that which you can best do, and pitch your wory at the highest level.

Dr. Brown's address was characterized by his wise selection of a theme for such an occasion and the force with which it was presented.

40 inch Washable Flat Crepe

Guaranteed Washable, $2.75 Value

Specially Priced at $1.98

Heavy quality beautiful lustrous finish—Guaranteed Washable—In 25 new spring shades.

Greenberg's Dept. Store

Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store

—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

AT THE EACO NEXT WEEK

MON.—Viola Dana in SALVATION JAN, A brand new production by the creator of "Abraham Lnicoln." A rollicking, spee-packed tale of a girl with quick wits and nimble fingers, who nevertheless flopped as a crook! Clyclonic action—surging drama—torrentail emotions—Love, Hate, Romance, and comedy, welded into an entertainng obmbshell. Pathe News

TUES.—Anita Stewart in WHISPERING WIRES, a brand new special production. The greatest thrillier ever flashed on a screen! Here's one that'll show you what holding your breath really means. Broadway gasped for nearly a year at the stage play. The screen version goes the original one better. There is a most excellent supporting cast in this picture. Also comedy.

WED.—Bessie Love in GOING CROOKED, a special production. Love and romance in a smashing, nerve-tingling, suspense-filled story of adventure—with laughs to chase the thrills—mystery to keep you guessing—action swift and furious and Bessie Love at her lovliest as the young adventuress playing contrasting orles. Also Aesop Fable.

THURS.—Marceline Day, Bert Lytell, Eleen Percy and Miss Du Pont in THAT MODEL FROM PARIS. A special porduction suggested by the Gouveneur Morris story, "The Rght to Live." She could speak English, but didn't—He couldn't talk French—but studied it to make love. Masquerading as a famous French model, Jane became the rage—men beseeched her—and all sh could say to them was no—until the real one came along—and then things began to happen. Also good comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—Here it s at last—THE VOLGA BOATMAN the big Super special Cecil B. DeMille production that the management of the theatre has been trying to book for a year past. This is the masterpiece of a master producer—a triumph that adds lustre to the annals of American screen. The gripping story of a great overwhelming love, an uprising of grave perils and the strangely tangled lives of a fair-haired Titanic boatman, a beautiful Princess and a Prince—fast moving, colorful, and appealing—preeminently the greatest cinema achevement of the decade. This is a truly wonderful production. Prices regulated by contract. Also comedy

Admission to S. T. C. girls Fri. & Sat. 35c, other shows 25c if tickets are purchased at college. Regular admission prices at the theatre.

ATHLETIC ISSUE NEXT WEEK

THE ROTUNDA

HAVE YOU THOUGHT OF BLUE RIDGE?

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 18, 1927 Number 30

S. T. C. PROUD OF FACULTY'S INTEREST IN OUTSIDE ACTIVITES

Many Teachers Set Example For S. T. C. Students To Follow

This year has been a very active one for the faculty of our College as well as the students. They have a broader field and are busy with numerous outside activities. It is to our credit to have such a faculty to remind the people of Virginia and of the United States that we at S. T. C. are moving "ever forward."

Dr. Jarman attended the Virginia Educatoinal Conference in Richmond in November. In February he went to Richmond where he attended the meeting of The Citizens Association in interest of higher education.

The Association of Virginia Colleges held their meeting in Richmond in February. It will be of interest to the student body to know that Dr. Jarman is president of this association which includes all the colleges of Virginia. Dr. Jarman also attended the meeting of the American Association of Teachers Colleges which necessitated his taking perhaps the longest trip of the year, this meeting being held in Dallas, Texas.

Miss Tabb attended in February, the Association of Virginia Colleges which met in Richmond. At this meeting she read a paper, "The Non-Clerical Side of Registration."

In April we find "Miss Jenny" "going South" to Atlanta, where she attended one of the longest meetings of its kind ever held. Ths was the meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars. Two hundred and fourteen Registrars form as many different colleges in forty-two state and Canada were present. Miss Tabb read a paper in the Teachers Colleeg section "The Qualitative Grading of Prospective Student Teachers."

Recently Miss Tabb visited the registrar's offices at Radford S. T. C. and V. P. I., Blacksburg.

Everyone fees a great pride in the fact that Columbia Teachers College recently conferred the degree of Doctor of Philosophy on our Director of the Training School, and his title is now Dr. Wynne.

The annal meeting of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs was held in Lynchburg in May. Miss Von Schilling, the vice-president of the Federation attended and presented two speeches at the meeting.

Dr. Field, Mr. Jeffers and Mr. McCorkle attended the meeting of the American Chemical Society in Richmond during the Easter holidays.

Mr. Jeffers was one of the members of the faculty who attended the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Scence in Philadelphia during Christmas holidays.

Miss Grenels gave a talk before the National Council of Geography Teachers in Philadelphia during

Continued on page two

STUDENTS ATTEND LECTURES AT CLINIC

We have been fortunate during the past week in being able to attend the features at the Child Welfare Clinic which conductd its program daily at the court house under the auspices of the Woman's Club.

Lectures on mother and child care, both before and after the brith of the child were given by Miss Rice, County Nurse and Mrs. Bennett, a member of the State Board of Health.

A large feature of the program were the daily lectures by Mrs. Croxton of the Sex Education Bureau of the State Board of Health, on Social Hygiene. Mrs. Croxton stressed the importance of the right attitude toward social hygiene and sex problems and her lectures were highly beneficial and interesting.

The climax of the program came in the form of a lecture on Friday night by Dr. Preston of the Childrens Memorial Clinic in Richmond. Dr. Preston addressed a large audience on the parent's responsibility and the home as a molder of child behavior.

1927 VIRGINIANS HAVE ARRIVED

Yes, the Annuals are here and are impatiently waiting to be distributed to the girls. But there is something that must happen before they can be given out and that is—all fees must be paid. There are always calls for money, but this demand is by far the most important because it is for your own satisfaction as well as that of your classmates. Will you be the one who will keep the other girls from getting their Annuals?

The other side of the question is that every one wants her "girl friends" to write in her Annual—and so, pay the money you owe for the Virginian so that there will be time for each and all of the girl friends to write their messages. If you don't have the money write home for it or make it in some way. In other words, get the money from somewhere and pay for your Virginian now!

A PICNIC SUPPER

Friday, the thirteenth, may be an unlucky day for some people, but not for the S. T. C. girls living in Main Building and Student Building. The freshmen in the cottages invited those girls to have supper with them at their different cottages. When the supper bell rang Friday night, all of the girls began to drift away from the Main Building and out toward the cottages. The freshmen were most gracious hostesses and served a delightful picnic supper, consisting of sandwiches, cakes, pickle, fruit and iced tea, out on the porches and lawns of their cottages.

LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYS "UP TO FREDDIE"

Mr. Moss Is a Dashing Lover In Charmingly Rendered One-Act Play

The one-act play Up to Freddie given on Thursday night was greatly enjoyed by a large audience. Mr. Moss, as the most attractive and much sought afetr hero, found himself suddenly accepted by six girls. The entangling alliances were solved only by a run away on the part of the pursued lover. Dr. Walmsley, as uncle, ran off with one of the girls who was lucky enough to catch him first.

The little play was a credit to those who presented it and it was attractively added to by a Spanish and Pierot and Pierette dance.

BLUE RIDGE CALL

As soon as June approaches, the words Blue Ridge begin to become general talk and general thought in every organization and group. It is the custom for every class and organization that can afford it, to send some representation for the ten days sojourn at Blue Ridge. Blue Ridge, to those who have been there, is a place apart from all places and lovelier than all places; it is not just a place but a spirit and a life in itself. Blue Ridge, to girls who have heard their friends talk of it, is the one place that they hope one day to go to and learn to think, and grow, and dream as do all who ever go.

Of course organizations have to consider finances carefully, but knowing as they do the new life and ideas that Blue Ridge girls bring back the following year, they stretch every resources to send at least one girl. We need the contact with other girls and other colleges that Blue Ridge gives; we need the impetus that group thinking in a spot like Blue Ridge gives; we need a breath of Blue Ridge wholsomeness and sincerity and beauty of thinking brought back to our campus.

The Blue Ridge call is a challenge to each organization in school. Whom are you sending? Who is going to contrbute strength, ideas and the force of Blue Ridge thinking to your group or class next year?

VIRGINIAN STAFF CHOSEN

The staff for the anual next year, will be composed of the following girls:

Edtor-in-chief	Louise McCormick
Asst. Editor	Lucille Norman
Literary Editor	Virginia Raine
Asst. Literary Ed.,	Elzabeth Newton
Business Mgr.	Margaret Hansel
Asst. Bus. Mgr.	Mildred Smith
Advertising Mgr.	Anna Burgess
Asst. Adv. Mgr.	Page Archer
Art Editor	Louise Costen
Asst. Art Editor	Elizabeth Ferrell
Photographic Mgr.:	Greenhow Parker
Typist	Lucy Thompson

MISS HELEN KELLER SPEAKS IN COLLEGE AUDITORIUM

A Record - Breaking Audience Crowded Building to Hear Wonderful Address

On Saturday morning we were given an unusual opportunity, and one for which we owe to the Lions Club our sincerest thanks. Instead of our regular chapel exercises we were invited to the Loins meeting whch was held in our auditorium.

Dr. Jarman opened the meeting by introducing Col. T. Gilbert Wood, district governor of the Virginia Lions. Col. Wood gave only a short address in which he in turn introduced Dr. Jarman not as our college president, but as an unusally active member of the Lions Club.

To Dr. Jarman fell the opportunity of introducing to us Helen, which he did with only a few remarks.

Miss Thompson, who was with Miss Keller, in order that we might be better able to understand just the accomplishment that Helen Keller had made, gave us a brief history of the life of Helen Keller. Most of us had heard something of the wonderful work of Miss Sullivan and the constant efforts of Helen Keller in order that she might speak as other people speak, but few had realized the slow, tedious process.

After the short introduction by Miss Thomson, we were given the rare privilege of hearing Helen Keller speak. The audience sat almost spellbound, while Miss Keller told us of the work for the blind in America, its growth, but the still constant need for help, both financial and otherwise. Miss Keller appealed to the Lions as an organization to help with the work of the blind in Virginia.

So thoroughly were the hearts of the Lions won by the appeal made by Helen Keller that she was elected to honorary membership in the Virginia Lions.

To few of us has there ever come an opportunity to hear a more impressive talk, and the students of this college and the citizens of Farmville, express their sincere appreciation of the Lions Club for the opportunity of hearing of the wonderful work that is being accomplished.

FRESHMEN DEFEAT SOPHOMORES IN BASEBALL

Thursday afternoon the familiar red jerseys of the Freshmen made their appearance again on the athletic field, this time to prove themselves superior to the Sophomores—as far as skill in baseball is concerned.

The Sophomores brought in two runs in the first two innings before the Freshmen scored at all, but in the third inning the Freshmen rallied. They held their opponents scoreless during the rest of the game, while they themselves rolled up ten runs.

This was the best baseball game that has ever been played at S. T. C. Edrie Brinkley and Ida Wells "made spectacular catches which would have thrilled even the spectators of a big league game," and the pitching for both sides was unusually good.

The line-up was os follows:

Freshmen	Position	Sophomores
Frame	C	Holmes
Hatchett	P	Wells
L. Smith	1 b.	M. Grimes
Brinkley	2 b.	M. Elder
Fisher	3 b.	E. Joyner
Pierce	ss.	K. French
McKann	l. f.	Whitehurst
Byrd	c. f.	V. Rucker
Overbey	r. f.	E. Warriner

Substitutes—Atwater, Wilkerson M. Cousins.

FRESHMAN FOLLIES TO BE GIVEN SATURDAY NIGHT

"Hey, Mickey! Goin' to the show Saturday night?" "Am I? Betcha life I am! Whatcha say Joe? Farina's got no money? Well, it aint but two bits anyway. We can bluff the girl at the door while Farina crawls past. Not even the King of England hisself could keep us away from that show! Yeh, boy! it's gonna be great Mary sez she saw some of the ladies 'n gents what's in the Fashion Show 'n she sez they shore are steppin' sisters 'n brothers. Oh, and Clarence sez that the "little bluffers" got lustrious ability, but I don't see what histry's got to do with a show.

"And they say Rudolph Valentino hisself couldn't have done the tango better 'n there's an honest to goodness masquerade ball. Let's go, gang! Don't forget Saturday night. Meet you at eight o'clock. Save us some seats, Joe."

May we introduce "Our Gang"! Of course, you know them, those delightful children who recall our childhood pranks to us. Presto, we are kids together again. Ah, those days of pirates, playhouses, "injuns" and apple pie!!

Now however, all is changed and our gang has become quite sophisticated. So much so that we find them inviting us to see the Follies. Let's

Continued on page three

DOING OUR BIT FOR THE FLOOD SUFFERERS

On Wednesday night, the talent of our school gave a musical, the proceeds of which were to go to the sufferers in the stricken area of the Mississippi River.

Our old favorite troupe, the Dancing Dolls, was on hand to start the program with their usual amusing tricks. This act was followed by an especially good solo dance by Miss Elizabeth Sawyer, who gave a version of "Farmer John". Equally good were the songs Misses Martha-

Continued on page two

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LORAH BREWER '29
News ..... EDITH LAMPHIER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... LUCILLE GRAVES '30

Reporters

LOUISE FOSTER '29
ISABELLE McDONALD '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY FUND.

Little did we realize here in our little world of contentment that those about us were calling loudly for our symnathy and aid. Soon within the walls of the college there came an echo of those calls. It sounded thoughout the vacant halls—it sounded in the colonades, and soon it stirred within the depths of human hearts —the heart of the college;—it had been head.

We, the heart of the college, do not want a thanks. A "Thank you" would hurt our pride, for did not we answer that call because of love—and is love to be thanked?

We are poud that our student body heard the call from the Mississippi valley and responded so readily. It is another world, untroubled by misfortune, and yet, just next door there are thousands facing starvation, death; and they homelessly wander about a once beautiful land in search of a place of rest. How weary they must be, and yet, I believe a smile of hope flitted past the placid faces when the heart of a student bod ygaves them its love.

F. W.

FOR SOPHOMORES ONLY

Sophomores! are you going to let the chance of becoming dignified seniors slip away? There are all sorts, kinds, and degrees of reasons why you should return for your degree. The first and one of the most important reasons is that it might be possible that you will have to teach longer than you have planned and possibly in your old age it will be necessary to take some required work. Of course, that is a rather pessimistic attitude to take, but is it not best to always be prepared for the worst?

Then too, the fads of men are consantly changing. During the nineteenth century the beautiful but dumb girl was the center of attraction in the matrimonial enterprises; gradually men became more particular about the education of their wives. Now a man does not want a wife who has not had some collegiate experience; it is very probable that in a few years men will require degrees for all wives. Do not let the lack of such a requirment serve as your only handicap.

The third cause for your returning to S. T. C. is that the two year girls are so numerous throughout the country there will have to be some elimination; naturally the girls with degrees will be the centers of attraction and those girls with certificates will be given a dismissal. Then—what will happen?

And last, but by no means the least, there are things that happen at S. T. C. that no one can afford to miss; for instance, the entire four years of college and all of the accompanying excitement, the conventions, game, and most of all the friends. So, Sophomores, we need you and want you back next year. Instead of signing an application blan k for a school, sign one for a room at S. T. C.

M. W. '30

S. T. C. PROUD OF FACULTY'S INTEREST IN OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES

Continued from page one

Christmas. In February she went to Columbia University where she talked on "The Ideal Course of Study in Geography for a Two Year Normal School."

The Southern Council of Geography Teachers met in Nashville, Tennessee in April. Miss Greness gave another talk on "Professionalized Subject Matter in a Normal School Curriculum.

Dr. Walmsley has made several trips in the direct interest of the students. He conducted discussion groups at Fredericksburg when our delegates of the Y. W. C. A. event there recently. Dr. Walmsley also accompanied our debators to Portsmouth where they tied North Carolina. Here we have a faculty member always working with us as he works for us.

Miss Sutherlin spoke recently at Cape Charles to the English Teachers of Northhampton County. She also attended the meeting of the Association of Virginia Schools and Colleges in Richmond in February.

At the State Teachers meeting in Roanoke, Miss Peck spoke for the History Department. Miss Peck also talked at Hopewell to the High School Teachers of the Fifth District. She next went to Cape Charles where she talked to the History Teachers and Principals of Northampton County.

Miss Carter attended the meeting in Hopewell an also the Teachers Meeting in Dinwiddie County.

Misses Jeter and Mix have been active in Womans Club work here and in the State.

Miss Stubbs has been to three important meetings in Richmond. The Board of Directors of the Cooperative Education Association met there in January, Miss Stubbs is a director on this board. The Executive Committee meeting of the Social Science Association met there and Miss Stubbs read a survey report at this meeting. The third meeting in Richmond which Miss Stubbs attended was the Interdenominational Church Conference of Church Leaders. Miss Stubbs went to Lynchburg in April to attend the Virginia Conference of Woman's Missionary Society. She gave a talk at this meeting. In May she again went to Lynchburg where she attended the meeting of the State Federation of Womans Clubs. The State meeting of the Virginia Social Science Association was held at V. P. I. and East Radford. Miss Stubbs read a report at this meeting.

This is not a complete list, by far, of faculty activities but will no doubt prove of interest to us, in whom they are most interested, since it is for our Alma Mater that they are so faithfully working.

ANNE FERREE ELECTED TO STUDENT COUNCIL

At a meeting of the Sophomore Class Tuesday night Anne Ferree was elected representative to Student Council. Gladys Huband was elected several weeks ago for this position, but resigned when she left school on account of illness. We sincerely regret the circumstances which forced Gladys to leave almost at the end of her course, and we hope that she will soon be entirely well.

COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL FIELD DAY HELD

The College High School Field Day was held on the Athletic Field, May 11, 1926. The High School was divided into two teams, the reds and the blues. The object of each contestant was to win a place for her team. A ribbon was awarded after each event to the winner of the first second, and third places. The outcome of the Field Day was a victory for the Red team scoring 50 points while the Blue team scored 46 points.

Events	1st Place
Dash	Irene Pratt
Basket ball distance	Edith Coleman
Baseball accuracy	Leora Matherly
S. broad jump	Louise Moore
Baseball distance	Virginia Sanford
R. high jump	Cecil Upton
Flag race	Irene Pratt

TRAINING SCHOOL CONDUCTS CAMPAIGN

The Training School, cooperating as usual, is conducting a campaign to raise money for the Mississippi Flood Relief. So far,they have $19 of $20 which they set as their goal and the campaign is still "going strong."

PRAYERS DEDICATED TO VASES

One of the most beautiful and impressive services witnessed this year in prayers was held Tuesday night, May 10th. Lelia Clarke opened the service by singing the "Rosary."

Lorah Brewer talked on the significance of vases, different kinds of vases, and what our vases mean to us. She made a very beautiful comparison of our student body,watched over and guarded by our Alma Mater, to a work shop filled with different kinds of vases, watched over and guarded by the shop keeper.

In closing she quoted the following lines from "A Broken Vase" by Virginia McCormick:

"Only my lips may smile,
My inner shelf
Is like the cracked old jar
Upon the mantel shelf:
A thing whose beauty was too frail to stand
The touch of an unsympathetic hand.

Quiet is all I ask and not a stir
Of old emotions I have held and bound.
Make of me anything you will for I
Shall be beyond all passion in profound
Unknowing and unthinking, find
Of life itself,—
My soul a broken vase
Upon your shelf."

FLOOD SUFFERERS

Continued from page 1

lea Moomaw and Lucy Marstellar sang for us. The audience also enjoyed the selections which Miss Sue Sebrell, in her usual delightful manner, played; although it was quite a dissappointment that she did not sing. Further evidence of the dramatic talent of our school were shown by Misses Sammy Scott and Etta Marshall, who gave highly amusing readings. The program was a worthy one for a needy cause, and it made our duty a pleasant one.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink With Us
W-A-D-E-S

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

LUCY HAILE OVERBEY

In Lucy Haile we have found a senior who possesses unusual talent and ability. Not only does she possess these attributes, but she has given them gladly and unselfishly to the service of her Alma Mater.

Unlike many seniors Lucy Haile's career began in the very part of her freshman year, and her career has continued to grow steadily during her four years here. The positons that we think of Lucy Haile filling are many and varied. Perhaps most of us will remember her as "Our dramatic lady", for from the stage she has delighted us many times in the interpretation of various roles.

All of us who know Lucy Haile are bound to think always of her witty side. On many occasions has her wit made a thing "go", and this is one instance when the wit has been a real contribution for she acted as humorous editor of The Rotunda for one year and gave in this capacity to the entire school.

Besides her most attractive personal side Lucy Haile has a very definite literary gift. She has written many clean and worthwhile things since she has been in college and as editor of The Rotunda she made a decided contribution in the improvement of the paper.

As a friend we can always depend on her, as a worker she's usually there, and as a director, well May Day proved the results. To sum things up it need only be said that for four years Lucy Haile has given time, effort, originality and enthusiasm to her Alma Mater.

VIRGINIA GRAVES

Some of us are serious nearly always—and some of us are nearly always playful, but it is rarely that we find an individual with exactly the right amount of each. Our campus is always complete if we can find someone always ready to "fill in" at sing, just for fun, or anytime to make things go. Virginia has done this, with her clever mimicing, reading and acting she has delighted both large and small groups many times.

Along with this attractive personality of wit and conversation we find a mind filled with ideas and constantly awake. For in three years, and two summers in summer school Virginia is getting her degree and not merely as a mediocre student—but with high scholastic attainments.

In many ways time and energy have been put forth to make of various plans of school activities a success by this senior. Her work has been done quietly and efficiently. Always if in need of one to help call on Virginia. Virginia is rather retiring but she is always ready to be a friend, a helper, and always ready to work for her college. According to David Jordan, Virginia's life will be full of sunshine for he says—

"Who brings sunshnie into the life of another, has sunshine in his own."

Misses Margaret Cobb, Betty Hopkins, Mary Blackwell Parker, and Katherine Jones accompanied Miss Mary Vaughan to Lynchburg Saturday. While there they attended the concert given by Marion Talley.

S. T. C.'s MEN BEAUTIFUL SELECTED

Do ladies prefer blondes? The newly aroused question was settled Thursday evening when three handsome brunetes were selected in the Men's Beauty Contest held in the faculty room. The assortmnet of "males" varied from the movie hero type down (or up (?)) to a modern college lad.

The first place was awarded to Clarence Christian, entered by "Dot" Townsend, the second place to Walter Woodson, entered by Annie Leigh Bodwen; and the third place to William Norman, entered by Doris Fogg.

ALPHA DELTA RHO ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho wishes to announce the following members:

Virginia Ellis
Louise Foster
Gwendolyn Hardy
Fances Willis

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA FOUNDER'S DAY BANQUET

The Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma held its Founder's Day Banquet Saturday, May 14th in the banquet hall of the college. The theme of the decorations and toasts was the comparison of the council, alumnae, active chapter members to a tree; its roots, trunk, branches, and fruit. There were a large number of the almuni present.

DEBATING CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Debating Club Wednesday night the officers of the club for the coming year were elected. These are as follows:

President	Elizabeth Hutt
Vice-President	Nancy Holt
Secretary	Elizabeth Eichleberger
Treasurer	Ella Loise Moore
Reporter	Frances Wilson
	Catherine Bentley
Debating Council	Nellie Talley
	Louise McCormick

SOCIAL

Miss Louise Foster returned Sunday from Columbia, Virginia, where she acted as maid-of-honor for her aunt, whose wedding took place Saturday evening.

* * *

Miss Anna Burgess had as her guest for the week-end her mother, Mrs. W. F. M. Burgess.

* * *

Misses Mattie Rogers Smith and Virginia Ellis spent the week-end in Oxford, North Carolina.

* * *

Miss Eleanor Bennett, a former student of S. T. C., spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Margaret Barham.

* * *

Misses Anna Cahoon and Ada Thomas Williamson returned Sunday from Lynchburg, where they spent the week-end as the guests of Miss Lois Bell.

* * *

Misses Mary Tucker and Coleen Maddux returned Sunday from visiting their homes in Blackstone.

* * *

Miss Mary Darden spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Margaret Fowler. While here she attended the Kappa Alpha Masquerade Dance at Hampden-Sidney.

LIONS CLUB HOLDS CONVENTION HERE

Last week-end, May 13 and 14, the Lions Club held their annual State convention here in Farmville. They, of course, were given the use of the auditoriums or any other part of S. T. C. that they needed to carry on their business and meetings.

Friday night they had a banquet in the dining room of the college. After the banquet there was a dance in the Recreation Hall of the school, which they all attended.

Saturday morning there was a large assembling in the auditorium of S. T. C. because Helen Keller, the guest and honorary member of the Lions at their convention, gave an address on the needs of the blind.

Saturday afternoon the convention came to a close with a meeting, deciding the officers for next year. It was also agreed upon that the convention next year would be held in Petersburg.

Among those who attended the dance Friday night were S. T. C. girls. They were as follows: Misses Polly Aderholt, Grace Baker, Marie Butterworth, Dorothy Baldwin, Nancy Cole, Anne Chapin, Virginia Cogbill, Sara Cross, Marjorie Elmore, Elizabeth Ferrell, Anne Ferree, Ann Gwaltney, Virginia Gurley, Elaine Goode, Mabel Hayes, Alice Hoy, Beoulah Jarvis, Gertrude Jarman, Helen Jones, Ruth Love, Lucille Logan, Elsie Milan, Cornelia McIntyre, Margaret Mackasey, Annie Griswold McIntosh, Ann Palmer, Elizabeth Sawyer, Louise Shoffner, Mattie Rogers Smith, Sue Sebrell, Ida Wells, Gertrude Wright, Elizabeth White, Margaret Lucas and Margaret Draper.

CABINET ENTERTAINS COMMITTEES

The pretty new Y. W. C. A. reception room was christened Thursday night, May 5, when the cabinet delightfully entertained the members of the committees at an informal reception. Dr. Jarman. Dr, Walmsley and other members of the Advisory Board were also present.

A short, but enjoyable program was given. One of the attractive numbers was a Spanish dance by Martha Ennis while Alice Davis sang. Everyone took part in the final number of the program which was the singing of Blue Ridge song.

FRESHMAN FOLLIES

(Continued from Page 1)

take a peep behind the curtain with them.

First, your eyes shall gaze upon,
The signs of Fashion's whim for man and maid. Then, with our gang
The next scene is laid.
The "Little Bluffer" next we see
'Tis true, don't let it out
She'll bluff thru all enternity;
Of this we have no doubt
A glimpse of red, a Spanish shawl,
Is that not then enough to say
We have with us—a "Cabaret."
The "Amateur" comes tripping in, her part to say
She'll cause you many a laugh and smile!
An amateur, but does she act that way?

"Muddy W—a—t—e—r—s
Let them fall
We're all invited now to see
The Masquerade Ball
Bizarre, mysterious, the dance delirious—
Oh, come and see the Follies
With our Gang!

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring - - -
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

Ye Olde Tyme School

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY DANCE HAS DISASTROUS CLIMAX

Little did the maidens of the institution who left for the dance Friday night realize what an eventful night it would be. Miss Mary had given them special permission to stay until ten o'clock, but was quite distraught when at ten thirty, two of the buggies had not returned. Masters Atkins and Gills, respectively were the drivers, and the maidens were the Misses Reba Hill, Ida Wells, Margaret Holmes, Margaret Fergusson and Humpty Jones. Cousin Tommy, the youthful policeman, new on the police beat, proved his efficency by finding and aiding the distressed ladies and gentlemen. It was discovered that the axle of a wheel on one of the buggies had broken, and that the other had stopped to render assistance. The rumor that there was no chaperone is absolutely erroneous. Mr. Coyner and Miss Coulling, recent additions to our faculty, served in that capacity. In spite of the accident, and the alarm caused by this late return, all those who attended declare they had a delightful evening.

Bits of Humor

"Henry, there's a hair on your coat!"

"Yes, dear, it's one of yours."

"But it's a blonde hair, and my hair is black."

"I know dear, but you must remember, I haven't worn this coat before in a month!"

Little Willie Rose
Sat on a tack
Little Willie rose.

"Doesn't your choir sing at the prison, any more?"

"No, several of the prisoners objected on the ground that it wasn't included in their sentences."

Hunting Squire—"Murphy, you told me there was good hunting on your land. Why, we've been here an hour, and haven't even seen any game."

Murphy "Just so, sir, but the less game the more hunting you have."

Wife—"Oh, George, dear, do order a rat trap to be sent home today."

George—"But you bought one last week."

Wife—"Yes, dear, but there's a rat in that."

L. Graves—"Lend me ten dollars, Mayo, I give you the word of a lady to pay it back Monday."

Mayo—"Bring the lady around and let me see her." Maury Jester.

The curly haired little sprite of the house came running to her father on the study and throwing her arms about his neck, whispered confidentially in his ear

"Oh, papa, it's raining."

Papa was writing on a subject that occupied his mind to the exclusion of matters outside, so he said, rather hurriedly:

"Well, let it rain."

"Yes, papa! I was going to," was her quick response.

OVER THE TEACUPS

"Yes, thank you my dear, I always take two cups. There's nothing like a cup of tea before dinner for an appetizer.. I never could do without mine. What did you say you had to tell me about Chris Royall?..... Yes, I have seen her latest dress; fully six inches from the ground and it almost shows her ank—.....! Gracious! Now did she say that? The cat! I pay every bit as much for my clothes as she does—"Skinny" Watkins has nothing on me. Yes, of course she dresses well, but then—oh you know crinoline has gone up..... By the way, how are Girlie and "Spritter?" That's a young man with a very magnetic personality.... What's that? You say he shows it by the way he draws girls to him! Oh, goodness—that's a good 'un!..... Did you hear that awful story going around about Annie Gris?.....Well, my dear you'll never guess in the world. Last night when Henry was telling her good night he actually held her hand! But don't breathe it to a soul..... Why, of course, I'm sure of it. Aunt Lucy saw them with her own eyes. Besides the whole school knows it by now..... I declare the way some girls behave is a disgrace to this institution. The other day Betty Hopkins was down town and she positively skipped across the street!..... Truly disgusting, and three boys stopped to look at her..... They say Marion Grimes' mother is keeping her home at nights now because, when she asked Marion if she wouldn't need a coat one night, Marion said, "Oh, no, mother, I'm going out with Humpty tonight....." Yes, I wonder what she meant..... No, thanks, no more tea, I very seldom take more than one cup..... What? Not empty?..... But I've enjoyed it so much. Do ask me to come again, for I just get hungry for a good hot cup of tea."

Miss Mary Rigby returned Sunday night from Blackstnoe where she visited for the week-end.

EVENTS OF THE SCHOOL

Monday—Candy pull in School .....kitchen at 4:30 P. M.

Tuesday—Meeting of "Quilting Party" in Social Room at 4 P. M.

Wednesday—The Sewing Club will meet in Room 25 and tea will be served. Miss Craft will act as hostess.

Thursday—The French Club will entertain the Latin Club in Class Room 19 at 5:30 P. M.

Friday—Monthly meeting of Fine Arts Circle in Drawing Room at 7:00 P. M. President Woodson requests all members to be present.

Saturday—The Minuet Club will entertain at their annual party. A number of guests are attending from Hampden-Sidney Virginia Reel Club.

ANNUAL CROQUET MATCH AFFORDS EXCITEMENT

Th annual croquet match which was played on Monday afternoon was thrilling and spectacular. The players were Misses Lucy Haile Overbey, Edith Cornwell, Evelyn Beckham, Ann Archer Irving, and Ellen Smith. The athletic young ladies looked stunning in their costumes of plaited skirts, ankle length, and puffed sleeve shirt waists. The game was stately and dignified, though it was feared at one time that Miss Overbey would suffer serious injuries from a fall incurred by tripping on her skirt. The number of spectators has been been excelled. The Hampden-Sidney supporters were in their usual place across the field from the girls of the normal school.

The match was played rapidly and well. There were only six periods for time out. Miss Cornwell attracted attention by the new stroke she practiced, closely rivalling Miss Irving in skill, but the latter was ahead at the close of the match. We proclaim Miss Irving our best athlete of the year—our star in croquet.

After the game the croquet players were the guests of honor at a dance given by the students. As usual Mr. Bristow furnished lively music with his banjo. The Virginia reel, minuet, and Paul Jones were greatly enjoyed.

A DEPARTURE FROM DELICACY

It is with deepest regrets that the editor makes mention of a deplorable event of the last fortnight. One of our schoolmates, apparently obsessed with the indelicate ferver of suffrage for women, declared that she contained a leaning towards student government in this institute. Following volumes of pleading, persuasion, and plenty of weeping, the miserable girl denounced any such feelings. For a moment she was swayed by an impulse, we rather fear, of unreasoning revolt.

The incident, bordering on the tragic, if of such importance as to renounce emotions of loyalty. We consider it unpardonably ridiculous to assume that young ladies of culture and refinement should harbor an idea of governing themselves. It is sincerely hoped that no woman of the normal will again give utterance to such a feeling that shows indubitable evidence of lack of retiring instinct of all ladies of good manners.

TO AN OLD-FASHIONED GIRL

I talk about my privileges
And all the modern love,
I laugh at maiden clinging vines
And say they are "no more"—

Yet all the time I stride like this
I'd like to trip like you.....
I'd like to let my hair grow out
And tie my curls wth blue.

And all the time I fill my speech
With clever word—and rare,
I see you take my audience
With just a baby stare!

POOR HEN!

She sits while she sets.
She cannot set without sitting.
Poor Hen!

I. M. M.

40 inch Washable Flat Crepe

Guaranteed Washable, $2.75 Value

Specially Priced at $1.98

Heavy quality beautiful lustrous finish—Guaranteed Washable—In 25 new spring shades.

Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

AT THE EACO NEXT WEEK

MON.—Majorie Daw, Raymond Hitchcock and Theo Von Eltz in the special production RED HANDS PRFFERRED. He preferred Red heads to Blondes—See what happened to the hubby who took a night off. A picture that will chase away the blues. To prove that there is something in the name of a picture, we are going to let ALL RED HEAD LADIES go to this show free. Also Pathe News.

TEUS.—Virginia Valli and J. Farrell McDonald in THE FAMILY UPSTAIRS. A special production. A story of what takes place behind the closed doors of half of the homes of America. They loved each other but he could not afford the luxuries she never had. Almost any girl can get a sweetheart but if you want to know how to keep one see "The Family Upstairs. Also comedy.

WED.—May Allison and Walter McGrail in THE CITY, a special production, based on the play by Clyde Fitch. A tensely gripping story of the city's challenge to youth and ambition—pulsating with suspense—sparkling with laughter. A powerful picture based on the masterpiece of America's most distinguished playright. Also Aesop Fable.

THURS.—Mae Busch, Marceline Day, Theodore Von Eltz and Hedda Hopper in FOOLS OF FASHION, a special production suggested by the story, "The Other Woman". He demanded to know the truth about her pretty clothes. A story of a young wife a meagre pocketbook, a Roue's wiles, and a husband's awakening. Also comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—Marceline Day with a great cast and 25 university football stars in COLLEGE DAYS, a specail production written by the author of "Brown of Harvard". A sweet, wholesome epic of college life and youthful romance with a great football game in the picture. A college love story that will set your nerves a-tingling. Youth—lov—beauty—romance. "Brown of Harvard" was good but you will agree that this is better. Also good comedy each day.

S. T. C. Admission prices—25c to each show if tickets are purchased at college. Regular prese at the theatre.

1927 THE ROTUNDA 1928

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1927 Number 31

FRESHMEN DEFEATS JUNIORS IN CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Game Started Thursday and Rain Caused Postponement Until Friday

The championship game between the Freshmen and Juniors was quite thrilling. The game started Thursday, 4:30 P. M., but at the end of the third inning it was postponed until Friday at 4:30 P. M., on account of rain, and the people in the grandstand clung to their rain checks grimly. Friday finally came, and the game started again. The score was tight at first, but the Freshmen rallied in the sixth inning and the final score was 25—6 in their favor.

Hurrah for the Freshmen!

Line-up—

Freshmen	Pos.	Juniors
Frame	C.	Woodson
Hatchett	P.	Dulaney
Smith	1 b.	Armfield
Humphries	2 b.	Dunn
Fisher	3 b.	Le Cato
Pierce	s. s.	Putney
Byrd	r. f.	Hutt
Palmer	c. f.	McClenny
McKann	l. f.	Woodson, E.

Substitutes—Overbey for Palmer.

INTER-COLLEGIATE MEET WITH FREDERICKSBURG

This year Farmville and Fredericksburg decided to compare the results of their respective field days. Due to the fact that both schools did not use the same kind of equipment comparisons can only be made in seven events. Out of those seven Farmville comes first in five. Since Fredericksburg specializes in physical education, we are particularly proud to have made such an showing against them.

The events and records are as follows. Only the best record of each school is given.

Baseball

Farmville ..... 188 ft. 4 in.
Fredericksburg ..... 182 ft.

Javelin

Farmville ..... 65 ft. 9 in.
Fredericksburg ..... 61 ft.

High Jump

Fredericsburg ..... 4 ft. 10 in.
Farmville ..... 4 ft. 4 in.

Running Broad

Fredericksburg ..... 14 ft. 3 3-4 in.
Farmville ..... 14 ft.

Hurdles

Farmville ..... 9 sec.
Fredericksburg ..... 10 sec.

75 Yard Dash

Farmville ..... 9 sec.
Fredericksburg ..... 9 2-5 sec.

Shuttle Relay

Farmville ..... 1 min. 12 sec.
Fredericksburg ..... 1 min. 16 sec

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS AT S. T. C.

DEDICATION

—0—

We dedicate this—the athletic issue of The Rotunda—to Miss Iler, who, as Director of Athletics for the coming year, will have new opporunities to instill into the girls the ideals which have made her admired as a teacher and loved as a friend.

ATHLETIC MEET

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Farmville, Virginia, May, 1927

	EVENT	RECORD	WINNER	SECOND	THIRD	FOURTH
1.	Dash	9 sec.	J. Jones	E. Chappell	V. Spain	M. Lohr
2.	Running Broad Jump	14 ft.	V. Pierce	J. Talley	G. Hardy	K. Bully
3.	Shot Put	30 ft.	E. Woods	L. Smith	V. Pierce	K. French
4.	Hop-step-jump	28 ft. 8 in.	J. Jones	K. Bully	E. Warriner	G. Hardy
5.	Javelin	65 ft. 9 in.	M. Hatchett	G. Jarman	M. Lohr	V. Woodson
6.	Hurdles	9 sec.	J. Talley	E. Chappell	E. Woodson	P. Byrd
7.	Running Hgh Jump	4 ft. 4 in.	V. Gurley	K. French	E. Dunn
8.	Baseball Throw	188 ft. 4 in.	V. Pierce	M. Hatchett	E. Warriner	M. Cousins
9.	Relay	1 min. 12 sec.	Sophomores	Freshmen	Juniors	Seniors

COTILLION CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY PICNIC

Last Wednesday the new members of the Cotillion Club gave the old girls a jolly good time by taking them to Farmville Lake on a picnic. This time the girls did everything but dance; they hiked, they "rode and rowed" they sang and best of all, they ate and ate some more.

Everyone enjoyed the change and expressed a desire to "take in" some more new members if they will treat them as royally as these did.

GREEN AND WHITE ON CUP FIRST TIME IN FIVE YEARS

During the school year 1927-28, the green and white will wave from the cup presented by the Athletic Association to the colors having the highest number of points. As this is the first time this has happened in five years, it is quite an event. The red and white lost only by a narrow margin, having won forty out of the hundred points.

HATCHETT INDIVIDUAL CUP WINNER FOR 1927

Mary Frances Hatchett, one of the contributions which the Freshmen gave to athletics this year, is the winner of the individual cup with a total of fifty-eight points.

Congratulations from the student body, Mary Frances!

The next in line are—

Second ..... Laura Smith, 53 points
Third—Mary Jane Wilkinson and Mary Clements ..... 50 points

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE LOSES TO HAMPDEN-SIDNEY

Resolved, "That Sex Equality is Detrimental to Society" is Subject

The subject of the annual debate held between Hampden-Sidney and our College, Tuesday night was, Resolved: "That Sex Equality is Detrimental to Society." The debators from Hampden-Sidney, Messrs Lacy, Carpenter and Harrison, respectively, upheld the affirmative side of the question in a very dramatic style. They reviewed the present status of woman stating that her place is in the home, that she should not mingle with man in the sordid affairs of the world but should maintain her place upon a pedestal, etc. Our debators took the question seriously, showing the progress woman has made, and the hopes she has of making equality of opportunity in every field. The negative was upheld by Rosalind Harerll, Louise McCormick, and Evelyn Beckham. The rebuttals were given by Rosalind Harrell and Mr. Harrison.

The decision was two to one in favor of the affirmative.

FACULTY DEFEATS FRESHMEN IN EXCITING BASEBALL GAME (Farce)

Monday afternoon at four o'clock members of the faculty defeated the Freshman baseball team in a hotly contested game. The score was six to one.

Mr. Bell, as pitcher, fanned out man after man on the Freshman team. He was ably helped by the catcher, Miss Carrie Brown Taliaferro, and the basemen, Miss Davis, Dr. Walmsley and Miss Jones.

The Freshman team fought bravely but it was outplayed from the start. "Punk" Hatchett made one run because Mr. Bell, after having picked up a fast grounder, forgot to throw it to first. Virginia Pierce nobly batted at the ball and when she finally hit it Mr. Jeffers insisted upon catching it on its downward path.

The line-up was as follows—

Faculty	Pos.	Freshman
Miss Taliaferro	c.	Murrell, B.
Mr. Bell	p.	Hatchett, M. F.
Miss Davis	1 b.	Wilcox, B.
Dr. Walmsley	2 b.	Massey, B. P.
Miss Jones	3 b.	Jarvis, B.
Miss Millican	s. s.	Shoffner, P.
Mr. Jeffers	r. f.	Burgess, A.
Miss Stubbs	l. f.	Sawyer, E.
Miss Lewis	c. f.	Pierce, V.

1929 1930

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LORAH BREWER '29
News ..... EDITH LAMPHIER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... LUCILLE GRAVES '30

Reporters

LOUISE FOSTER '29
ISABELLE McDONALD '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

THE FOUNDATION

When the people who inhabited the earth before the days of written history first felt an urge for some kind of activity beyond the work which furnished them with their daily food, a certain code of ethics was laid down which, though unwritten, was yet followed in their play. Today we still have a fundamental code which underlies the organization of our games and sports. They are laid on a basis of good sportsmanship, and if in anyway we take away this foundation the purpose of all athletics is defeated, for games were organized in the first place not to cover certain players with glory, but to develop them physically, mentally, and morally into desirable citizens.

Perhaps we do not realize that always we are showing what kind of sportsmanship is ours, but it is such an essential part of us that we give some evidence of it in everything we do. To make good sportsmanship the foundation on which we build the whole edifice of our lives—this is a high idael, and one that is well worthwhile.

As a proof that athletics and the finer things of life are not incongruous, there is the Amateur Sports Bay in the nave of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. It is there to teach cleaner living, higher ideals and broader fellowship and to link sport more closely with religion.

—0—

VICTORY VS. DEFEAT

When a team goes into a game it is natural that it should want to win, and that it should put forth its best efforts to accomplish that end, but there are other things which matter beside the mere winning of a game. There are times when victory may be bitter, for if it is not fairly won it is worth nothing. If, to win a game, a team takes an unfair advantage of its opponents, then victory is a hollow mockery to all true lovers of sport. Victory is not the greaaest thing after all, for it does not profit us if we win a game and lose our self-respect.

To be able to win is a wonderful thing; to guide all our actions by the standards of good sportsmanship is a still more wonderful thing. If we take the two and combine them, we have the most wonderful thing of all—a spirit that through its sportsmanship is invincible.

Always play the game to win
Then, when you win, be glad,
But if you lose, feel no chagrin
You gave the best you had.

The Sportswoman

TENNIS AT S. T. C.

Some of us play tennis at one time and some of us play at another time, but nearly everybody either got out her racket or sent home for it in time to enter th tennis tournament last fall. Ninety good sports rallied to the call, "To rackets" and most of them turned out to be good tennis players, too, which is sometimes quite another question.

After much preliminary scrimmaging, the Seniors launched the semi-finals in a double match with the Juniors. Margaret Cobb and Betty Hopkins upheld the honor of the Seniors while "Dulittle" and Jackie Woodson, undaunted by the dignity of their opponents stepped forth with a determination to win which could not be downed. Then "Dulittle" alone tackled the Senior, La Boyteuax, and defeated her, but the Sophomores retaliated by defeating the Freshman in doubles.

Later on the victorious Junior doubles met their match in the equally victorious Sophomore team for the finals. Three sets were necessary to prove that the Sophomores, Henderlite and Orgain, could defeat the Juniors.

The Freshman-Sophomore singles were played between Laura Smith and Mildred Morris. Smith lost to Morris, and so the final battle was between Dulaney and Morris. Morris won on the strength of her hard serve, and so the green and white got the ten points which champoinship in tennis gives toward the cup.

During the spring it was thought that an individual tournament would help to foster interest in tennis, so one was arranged. It has not been completed as yet so we are still in the dark as to who will prove herself champion.

Tennis has always been popular at S. T. C. but probably more interst has been shown in it this year than ever before. The courts have been greatly in demand in fair weather always, and it has even been darkly rumored that girls have been known to play in the rain. Be that is it may, the fact remains that tennis has a place of its own in the hearts of the girls, and has served to make many of them happier during the school year.

FIELD AND TRACK

When the field and track season first started it seemed that it would not be much of a success, for there were only a few out to practices. But when Field Day came off we found that it was a success after all, for we broke four school records, and came up to the record on two other events. The contestants were limited to three events, and so the number of points which an individual could carry off was fifteen. Virginia Pierce walked off with the honors, having won a total of twelve points. Juliet Jones was second with ten points, and Mary Frances Hatchett and Jettie Talley tied for third place with eight points to their credit.

Field Day ended the athletic year with a grand splurge, and we are proud of our athletes!

HOCKEY AT S. T. C.

Once upon a time—no this isn't a fairy story—wait a bit—once upon a time the students at S. T. C. knew nothing of hockey except that it was a game that was played by the English people and some of our big colleges, but it really meant nothing more than girls' polo would to us. However, last fall when the hockey games were played there had been such an intrest awakened in this sport thta it even rivalled the time-honoredgame of basketball for popularity among the whole student body. Hockey at S. T. C. was a new game. Nobody knew anything more about it than anybody else so all the girls who were at all interested felt that they had equal chances to make good. And they did make good as the Thanksgiving games showed us cearly. The inter-class games were played on Thanksgiving Day; the Sophomores playing the Freshmen and the Juniors playing the Seniors. After a hard fight on the part of all teams concerned, the final scores were 2—0 in favor of the Sophomores and 1—0 for the Juniors. The final game between the Sophomores and Juniors was played December 2, ending with a score of 2—1 in favor of the Sophomores.

Since the sport was so enthusiastically received by the student body it was decided by them that the Physical Education Department should select from all the class teams one best team to be called the honorary hockey varsity. This was done and the hockey varsity received block F's with tips. The majority of varsity players were green and white, thus giving them 10 more points in their race for the cup.

Hockey went over big this year, and we hope in the near future to be able to have an intercollegiate hockey varsity and to give hockey the credit and recognition it so richly deserves.

BASEBALL

Baseball season was quite a success this year, although "Old Jinks", the weather man, certainly tried his best to gyp us. The championship game was delayed two days on his account.

There were quite a few Ty Cobbs and "Babe" Ruths discovered at S. T. C. that were hidden before. When it came to socking the old ball around the diamond, there were few who could come up to Virginia Pierce; "Babe" himself would have to watch his step to beat her.

The Juniors and Seniors showed us that they were good sports by gathering together enough recruits to play a warm game. The Juniors were the victors.

The Freshman-Sophomore game was a hot one. It was so exciting that Dr. Walmlsey and Mr. McCorkle almost ruined their straw bonnets by throwing them up in the air and catching them. There was much betting going on, but it was almost evenly divided because the game was so close. The Freshmen finally came out with the laurels, but exhausted.

The championship game was an-

Continued page 3, Col. 3

Comparison of Last Three Field-Days

EVENT	1925	1926	1927
Hurdles	10 25 sec.	9 sec.	9 sec.
75 yd. dash			9 sec.
Hop step & jump	28 ft. 9 1-2 in.	30 ft. 3 1-4 in.	28 ft. 8 in.
Running broad	13 ft. 10 1-4 in.	14 ft. 11 in.	14 ft.
Running high	4 ft. 1 3-4 in.	4 ft. 4 3-4 in.	4 ft. 4 in.
Javelin	64 ft. 1 1-4 in.	59 ft. 10 1-2 in.	65 ft. 9 in.
Baseball throw	162 ft. 7 1-2 in.	178 ft. 5 1-2 in	188 ft. 4 in.
Shot put	23 ft. 5 in.	25 ft. 9 in.	30 ft.
Relay 500 yd.	1 min. 24 4-5	1 min. 14 sec.	1 min. 12 sec.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. F. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink With Us
W-A-D-E-S

AWARDS FOR 1927

F

Gwendolyn Hardy
Mary Jane Wilkinson
Virgina Gurley
Anne Palmer
Mary Frances Hatchett

Orline White
Madeline Gary

BASKETBALL RESUME

As we look back upon our basketball season for this year and add up the scores, we might say, without much thought, "This has perhaps been the worst year that S. T. C. has ever had." On the other hand, if we stop and consider we realize that it has been the best and mostsuccessful year from the standpoint of good sportsmanship both from the student body and from the team. Although the Farmville varsity may not have been a winnig team, acocrding to the scores, the splendid spirit shown by the entire student body and the team, in spite of defeats, deserves th highest praise..

Farmville, 9	Fredericksburg 23
Farmville, 9	Radford, 22
Farmville, 29	Fredericksburg, 15
Farmville, 20	Radford, 35
Farmville, 6	Harrisonburg, 39
Farmville, 7	Harrisonburg, 27

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL RESUME OF S. T. C.

The inter-class basketball games were played in December, just after the hockey class games. In the first game of the season, the Freshmen proved a little too strong for the Sophomores, winning by the close score of 21 to 19.

The Seniors seemed more determined than ever to keep the green and white on top after the Freshman-Sophomores game. With this determination, they won the victory from the Juniors, the score being 20 to 13.

The finals had to be played between the Seniors and the Freshmen. This was the most exciting game of the season. The teams were evenly matched and fought vigorously to the end. The first half ended with the Freshmen leading 9—6. In the third and last quarters, however, the Seniors fought harder than ever. When the final score was announced which was 16—13 in favor of the Seniors, the ten points toward the class cup went to the green and white.

This is the first time the Seniors have ever won the championship in any sport and we are especially proud of them, because it means that the Junior and Senior classes are becoming real factors in athletics at S. T. C. It means that these classes have not allowed the dignity of their high standing to lessen their interest and proficiency in athletics.

STC

Mildred Lohr
Elizabeth Armfield
Mary Frances Hatchett
Mary Frame
Mildred Morris
Elizabeth Atwater
Maude English
Elia Putney
Frances Sutton
Katharine Rhodes
Julia Wilson
Laura Smith
Mary Clements
Emma Woods
Margaret Holmes
Grigsby Pecy
Elizabeth Truitt
Marie Elder
Nellie Whitehurst
Katharine Bully
Katharine Wilkinson
Eloise Warriner
Jeanette Johnston
Mary Edwards
Permele Byrd
Anne Palmer
Laura Smith
Mary Frances Shepard
Virginia Pierce
Evelyn Dulaney

J

Virginia Vincent
Cornelia Dickinson
Frances Rucker
Frances Volk
Evelyn Dulaney
Elizabeth Armfield
Elia Putney
Jettie Talley
Mary Jane Wilkinson
Juliet Jones
Katherine French
Lucille Graves
Rosalind Harrell
Edith Asher
Mary Clements
Elizabeth Woodson
Laura Smith
Mary Frances Hatchett

THE MONOGRAM CLUB

The year 1926-27 has been a successful one for the Monogram Club in every respect. The Monogram is the highest award a girl can win to show that she is an all-round athlete. It is a badge of her athletic achievements and her high standing in sportsmanship. It is within the reach of every girl, unless she is physically defective, but only those who are willing to work have the honor of receiving the monogram.

Through this organization, a high feeling of responsibility has been given the girls and they have become acquainted with various phases of athletics. They have conducted the try-outs themselves, and have awarded twenty-nine monograms during the year.

So, with an assured feeling of the graudal development of our organization, we look forward to next year when we may again begin our work in the Monogram Club.

F

Juliet Jones
Laura Smith
Mary Jane Wilkinson
Jettie Talley
Katharine Rhodes
Marie Elder
Mary Clements
Agnes Watkins
Lucille Graves
Ethel Fisher
Edith Asher

V

Orline White
Madeline Gary
Mildred Lohr
Viola Woodson

VOLLEY BALL RESUME

This season's volley ball schedule was an especially successful one. More girls came out for this sport than for any other in the memory of the girls who are at present students of S. T. C. The Juniors and Seniors were able to produce both a first and second team, while the Freshmen and Sophomores had, at least, four or more teams each.

Due to the large number of Freshmen out a Freshman tournament was held before the final games in order to select the best players.

The first inter-class games were played during the first part of College Week. There were two sets of games: the Seniors versus Juniors and Sophomores versus Freshmen. Each class played for the best two out of three games. Of the former the Juniors won, and of the latter the Sophomores, leaving the final game to be played between these two classes. This game was played later in the week and the Sophomores won, thus securing the volley ball championship for the green and white.

In order to give a larger number of girls a chance to play, a second team tournament was held; the Freshmen playing the Sophomores and the Juniors the Seniors. The Freshmen won the best two out of three games in their set and the Seniors in theirs; and the tie was played off between the Seniors and Freshmen. The Freshmen spunk overcame the Senior dignity and they won the second team championship.

Bryn Mawr has a fencing team. It is said that in order to become proficient in this art the fencers have to practice behind the Luxemburg at dawn. They also have inter-collegiate meets at other hours.

BASEBALL

Continued from page two

other triumph for the Freshmen and so they are undisputed champions of baseball at S. T. C. We are proud of you, Freshmen!

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU
HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES
and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Spring ~ ~ ~
—gaily demonstrates "newess" in woman's apparel. 'Tis truly said of spring, "the season of rebirth." And each new thing from the tiniest leaf of new green, is an influence of the mode.

DISPLAYING
Dresses
Coats
Suits
Hosiery
Millinery
Slippers
Lingere etc.
AT POPULAR PRICES
BALDWINS
FARMVILLE, VA.

JOKES

Pastor (addressing church fair)—My dear friends, I will not call you "Ladies and gentlemen" since I know you too well.

We have heard of the woman who lived in a shoe
And had so many children she knew not what to do.
Her troubles were grievous, but pity those who Carry nine or ten kinds in a Ford built for two.

Motorist—I killed your cat. I shall replace the animal.

Old Maid—This is so sudden, but I'm afraid you can't catch rats.

Found on a Freshman's registration card—
Question—Give your parents' names
Answer—Mamma and Papa.

Mary Frances Hatchett—Will you lend me two dimes?

Mary Frame—With pleasure.

Mary Frances—Then make it four and thoroughly enjoy yourself!

How many students are there studying at Farmville?

About one out of every ten, Virginia Gurley says.

HOW TO KEEP THE FLY OUT OF SUGAR BOWL

Lecture fly on rights of property. Will work hard. Get home of its own. Die respected rich.

Put good real estate proposition up to fly. Fly will lose money, die of shame.

Give fly tips on stock market. Fly will get rich. Will leave sugar bowl. Run for Senate.

Tell fly it is getting fat. Fly will try to reduce.

Persuade fly to fight to end war. Fly will give its all. Be buried with honors as "Unknown Fly."

Put up sign "Free Beach" sign in sugar bowl. Fly won't associate with hoi polloi. Will go home. Good riddance!

A LETTER

Dear Jim (Gym)—

Please do not be crosse with me for not having written to you sooner. We had a bully trip over except for one bad storm. My, but the boat did pitch and roll. When we arrived the weather was foul. While we were making the landing the captain had to use the fog horn continually and we would have hit the dock an awful blow if the engineer hadn't used the reverse so quickly. It certainly is great over here in the fall. We have squash sometimes here for lunch as you do in America, and evenings we sometimes go off on wild bats. However, there are no big balls such as we used to go to arriving home in the late hours of the morning. Last night I was entertained in a box at the opera. My, but the score was beautiful. However, the leading lady was an awful dumbell. She didn't have any voice at all and everbody around us was kicking because the company had such an old stick-in-the-mud for a heroine.

It seems that over here the English women think it's America's one aim to beat them in hockey. They don't see why we take it so seriously and are awfully sorry to be such an obstruction to us.

Oh, dast it! My pen's giving out. Do right back soon.

Yours,
Charlie Horse
The Sportswoman

FACULTY FIELD DAY

Not to be Out-Done By Students Faculty Hold Meet

Mr. Moss's HIGH JUMP goes over big

* * *

Miss Draper puts one over on us in the SHOT PUT

As CHEER LEADER Mr Coyner is a knock out

* * *

Mr. Bell recalls just in time that he is to do the 75 YD. DASH

* * *

Miss Davis clears several of the HURDLES

DO YOU BELIEVE IN FAIRIES?

The fairy, Tinker Bell, lay a-dying. Peter Pan knew what alone could keep her alive. If people really believed in fairies Tinker Bell would never die. He turns to the audience with the question, insistent and yet more insistent, "You believe in fairies? You do believe? If you do clap your hands. Clap louder, louder!" And in an instant the whole theatre, men, women and, children alike are all rocking with the enthusiasm of their belief, waving their hands and clapping louder and still louder that Tinker Bell, that small ball of light, may not die. Tinker Bell hears, her light that had almost died out grows stronger and stronger as she once again harts vigorously about the stage with her twinking light.

Do you believe in athletics here in college?

You do believe? You believe that athletics, if kept on a basis of good sportsmanship, can really be of benefit to you? You believe that athletics teach you to be fairer and squarer with your fellow-stduents? You believe that what you learn on the field is not left behind you when you leave that field either beaten or victorius, but that it goes with you when you no longer take part in athletics?

Then won't you clap your hands and prove that you really are in sympathy with the athletic association of your college? and keep on clapping during your years in school and keep on being young in after years through your interest in athletics?

And the good sports fairy "Elan Vital" will hear and will never lie a-dying.

I WISH I WERE ATHLETIC

I wish I were athletic. You will probably say that I could be if I added a little action to my wishes. You don't know me if you say that. Dear old Mother Nature, who has molded and developed us all, put an overdose of awkwardness and "un-athletic-ness" into my make-up, and of that fact I am positive. Such tried and true maxims as "Actions speak louder than words" and "Experience is the best teacher" bear me out in that statement.

I have been told by some people that I ought to be good at high jumping—that I have such long legs that it ought to be easy for me, but those same people fail to take into consideration that my long legs and the "Suitcase Simpson"-like appendages thereto are just so many more obstacles in the way of my jumping.

If there are other girls who suffer from this malady of "un-athleticness"—and my observation assures me that there are such—I would like to pass on a few words of consolation. Girls, take all of this "speechifying" about the advantages of athletics with a grain of salt. I room with an athlete, and I know. I had the experience some time ago of being awakened by a bell when I was still so sleepy that it didn't seem possible for it to be time to get up. However, when I succeeded in opening my eyes I was startled. There was my roommate fully dressed, and I thought instantly that it must have been the breakfast bell that woke me. I looked at the watch hastily and on my word of honor, it was only six oclock! Upon questioning as to her rashness, my roommate informed me that she was just going out "to practiece." Call you such a horror as rising at six o'clock an advantage? To the athletes such doings may be very satisfactory, but to people such as I, the reactions are not accompanied by enough of a satisfying state of affairs—speaking psychologically—to justify it.

Dorothy Hudson

FRESHMEN ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

The officers of the Sophomore class of 1927-1928 have been elecetd and will be as fololws—

President	Etta Marshall
Vice-President	Lucille Graves
Secretary	Margaret Leonard
Treasurer	Phyllis Pedigo

40 inch Washable Flat Crepe

Guaranteed Washable, $2.75 Value

Specially Priced at $1.98

Heavy quality beautiful lustrous finish—Guaranteed Washable—In 25 new spring shades.

Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

AT THE EACO NEXT WEEK

TUES.—Madge Bellamy in "Bertha the Sewing Machine Girll," a special production from the famous stage play. A breath taking story of a young girl's struggle against tremendous odds and temptations. A romance of youth and love—teeming with thrills—pulsing with suspense—sparkling with laughter. It is a love and lingerie edtion of the great melodrama. Also comedy.

WED.—George O'Brien, Janet Gaynor, Margaret Livingston and William Russell in THE BLUE EAGLE a special production. Don't see this if you have a weak heart. For your blood will race through your veins from the first scene right through to the crushing climax. After you see this you'll not only be using all the adjectives in your vocatbulary but you'll be justified in so doing! For among other things, your favorite, George O'Brien, has never appeared in sch a role. Also Aesop Fable.

THURS.—Viola Dana and Alan Brooks in HOMESTRUCK a special production.: A glistening story of the night life of New York. Throbbing with glamour and heart ache of the stage! In this picture we have the heart of reality! Splendid human drama in the tinsel of the theatre. Also comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—THE FOURTH COMMANDMENT A big new superspecial production featuring Belle Bennett, Mary Carr, Robert Agnew and Kathleen Myers. The greatest emotional treat of the season—gripping, tense brilliant acting that marks Belle Bennett as the screen's finest actress. A sensational theme so vividly presented, that it goes straight to the heart! A powerful and beautiful drama of love—sweetheart love—married love—mother love—that you will always remember with the keenest delight. It is the heart-throbbing story of a woman who sacrificed her husband's love for all that money could buy,a nd found the price too low. Also good comedy

S. T. C. Admissoin prices—25c to each show if tickets are bought at the College. Regular prices at the theatre.

THE ROTUNDA

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Volume VII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1927 Number 32

HENDERLITE WINS TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Many Girls Participate in the Tournament

The tennis tournament is over! There was a great deal of interest and enthusiasm shown in tennis this year. This was proved by the number of girls who signed up for both the amatuer and "professional" tournaments.

The preliminaries were played off and then came the semi-finals. The "one-year players" who fought for the championship were Emma Woods and Mary Frances Shepherd. Emma was the winner of the first two sets—and thus the champion.

In the tournament for the more experienced players there was a great deal of questioning and wondering as to who would be the best man. Finally, there were only four players left. Dulaney lost to Henderlite—there were only three left. Morris met Henderlite, but in the second set she became overheated and fainted. She was unable to play again. Now, the players were narrowed to two! Jackie Woodson met Henderlite and was defeated 9—7, 6—1. Congratulations to the tennis champion, Henderlite.

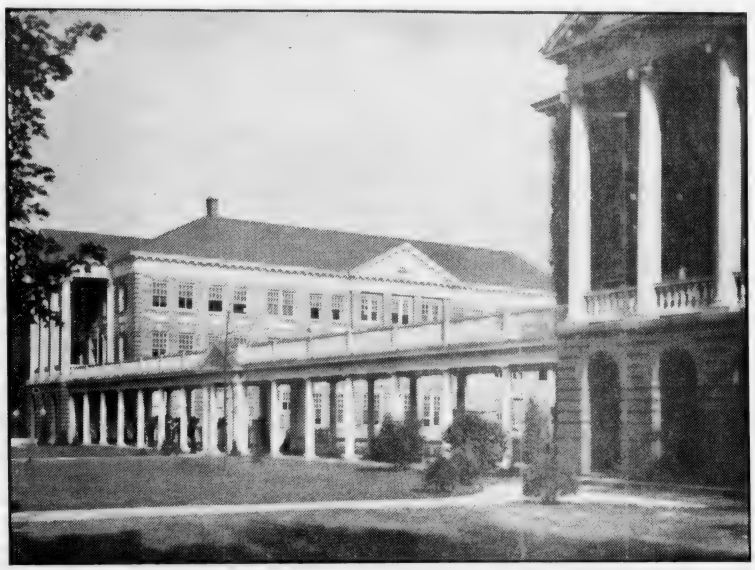
All of the games were well played, and all of the players showed a spirit of true sportmanship.

The two winners were presented with bronze medals by the Athletic Association.

Tennis has meant more to the school and the girls this year than ever before; next year we hope it climbs even higher in the realm of sports.

THE FASHION SHOW

The annual fashion show of the sewing department of S. T. C. was given in the auditorium last Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Training School was represented in this as well as the college.



The first half of the program was given over to the students of the Training School who received much applause for the success that they had achieved in making their very pretty frocks.

Just as lovely were the dresses displayed by the S. T. C. girls who were quite charming in their roles as models.

MISS JENNIE M. TABB'S VERSE IS PUBLISHED

Word has been received that the Stratford Company of Boston, which published "Father Tabb; His Life and Work" is now editing a small volume of original verse by our Miss Jennie M. Tabb. This book will be off the press early in June. We are proud to be able to claim Miss Tabb as one of our own and we congratulate her on her continued success.

"Lefty"—"Je t'adore!"
"Shut the door yourself."

The Senior and Sophomore Classes of 1927 dedicate this, the final issue of The Rotunda, to ALMA MATER

"QUALITY STREET" TO BE PRESENTED DURING COMMENCEMENT

Due to the fact that several members of the cast, which were to compose the Senior-Sophomore play "The Romantic Age," were unable to take the parts assigned, it was found that this play would have to be dispensed with.

In place of this play, the Dramatic Club has kindly consented to repeat Barrie's "Quality Street" on Monday, June 6, as the graduation play. The school appreciates the willingness of the Dramatic Club to cooperate with the classes or with the school in making commencement a success.

There will be a few changes in the cast. They are as follows:

Charlotte Parrott .... Mary Hamilton
Ensign Blades .. Bessie Meade Riddle
Old Soldier ..... Mildred Lohr
Harriet ..... Carol Cromwell
Children—Margaret Johnston, Grace George, Nannie May Bradshaw, Cornelia Dickinson.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

SATURDAY, JUNE 4
5:00 P. M. Dances on the Campus
8:00 P. M. Alumnae Reunion.
9:00 P. M. Reception
SUNDAY, JUNE 5
6:45 P. M. Senior Vesper Service.
8:00 P. M. Baccalaureate Sermon
MONDAY, JUNE 6
10:30 A. M. Sophomore Class Day Exercises.
4:30 P. M. Senior Class Day Exercises.
8:00 P. M. Senior-Sophomore Play
TUESDAY, JUNE 7
10:30 A. M. Commencement Ex-

MANY GUESTS TO BE HERE DURING COMMENCEMENT

S. T. C. Welcomes Alumnae, Families, and Friends of Students

There are so many memorable things that occur at commencement time. Among the best of them is the presence of almunae, parents, and friends who return to enjoy all the different phases of the commencement program.

The girls of S. T. C. love to have visitors—especially when they are the kind of visitors who always contribute toward the success of the exercises so dear to each and every girl's heart. That is why we are writing this little article. We want to take this front page space to welcome all the visitors who are coming back for our commencement exercises. The alumnae know how dear these are to us because they have participated in them when they were leaving our Alma Mater; the friends will realize how much they mean—when they have seen.

It has been rumored that there will be more guests this year than there has ever been. Isn't that fine? We love our college so much—its inspiration, its lasting influence, its friends—that we always love for as many people as can to meet and enjoy the things that mean the most to us.

Gracie Cofer Betts was married to Mr. Henry Oliver Gwaltney of Smithfield in April.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Ida Sharp Cox, '01.

DRAMATIC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

After a successful year the Dramatic Club wishes to announce the fololwing officers for the coming year, 1927-1928—

President ..... Anne Ferree
Vice-President ..... Virginia Raine
Business Mgr. ..... Beulah Jarvis
Secretary ..... Lorah Brewer

CHORAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

At the meeting of the Choral Club which was held Thursday afternoon, the officers for the coming year were elected. They are—

President ..... Alice Page Adams
Vice-President ..... Nancy Denit
Secretary ..... Katheryn Jones
Treasurer ..... Marion Fitchett
Reporter ..... Virginia Rice

The Choral Club is an organization composed of girls who have tried-out and have been selected by the officers and director of the club. One of the biggest and most important of the activities of the Choral Club is furnishing the commencement music.

NEXT YEAR'S ROTUNDA SUBSCRIPTION

Below is a blank which all girls, who are not returning next year and wish to receive the Rotunda, may fill in. The price for one year is $1.50. The money and address can be put in an envelope and dropped in The Rotunda box or given to the editor or business manager.

Name .....
Next Year's Address .....
.....
.....
.....

S. T. C. COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Governor Byrd Will Deliver the Address

Plans have been started and are well underway for the annual commencement exercises which begin on Saturday, June 4th and end on Tuesday, June 7th. On Saturday afternoon at five o'clock interpretations of classic Greek dances will take place on the campus for the entertainment of the students ond their guests. On Saturday night following the alumnae reunion, a reception will be given in honor of the graduates.

The exercises on Sunday will be of a religious nature. The regular Morning Watch service will be conducted by the Sophomore class and the Seniors will hold a Vesper service at 6:45 o'clock. At eight o'clock the baccalaureate sermon will be held in the auditorium at which time the annual address will be delivered.

The regular Class Day exercises will be held on Monday; the Sophomores' at 10;30 and the Seniors' at 4:30 in the afternoon. At this time many pretty customs will be observed, one of which will bet he annual daisy chain, formed on the campus by the Seniors' little sisters. At eight o'clock in the auditorium the Senior - Sophomore play "Quality Street" will be presented by members of the two classes and the Dramatic Club.

The conferring of degrees and the presenting of diplomas, which will take place on Tuesday, completes the program and concludes a most eventful and successful year at S. T. C.

RUFFNER LITERARY SOCIETY

Spring was the theme of an interesting open meeting held by the Ruffner Literary Society, Tuesday evening in the Student Building auditorium. The program consisted of the following numbers—

Introduction ..... Carolea Harris
Drinkwater's "Introduction" ..... Marjorie Codd
"Gardens" ..... Lorah Brewer
Solo ..... Virginia Rice accompanied by Lelia Clark
Two Painters ..... Anne Ferree

This is the first program the Ruffner has given since it was newly organized however, it promises to become a thriving society next year.

KINDERGARTEN CLUB NEWS

The regular meeting of the Kindergarten Club was held in the Student Building Lounge. After the old business had been taken care of the new officers were elected as follows—

President ..... Margaret Hansel
Vice-Pres. ..... Blanche Overbey
Secretary ..... Nancy Cole
Treasurer ..... Lorah Brewer
Reporter ..... Phyllis Pedigo

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LORAH BREWER '29
News ..... EDITH LAMPHIER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... LUCILLE GRAVES '30

Reporters

LOUISE FOSTER '29
ISABELLE McDONALD '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

MISS IDA BIERBOWER, Alumnae Editor

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

THE BEATEN TRACK.

Those of us who this week leave Farmville and our college days are told that we stand on the threshold of a new life, that we will soon take the eventful step that will end our period of apprenticeship for life and begin life in the real. Before we advance we would pause for a moment to consider just how and where we shall go. There will be no definite break in our lives; there will be adjustment so gradual that we will hardly perceive the changes in ourselves. And so it is necessary that we consciously direct the course of inevitable change.

Today we are spectators of the throng of people whom we shall soon join. Will we be lost in the crowd? Will be be among those who follow blindly, aimlessly, precedents of others who have been equally blind? We have had opportunities for surpassing those of the throngs. What will we have gained if we join the mad rush without forethought? Join it, yes, but lead it, direct it. Use our influence to transform it from a purposeless crowd to a busy, happy, progressive people. Avoid the beaten track, if the way leads to stagnation. Explore the new roads and the hard ones in the strength of our preparation, and with the realization of our responsibility in making the world a better place in which ti live. Stop and think: the new road is the hard road, but at the end is achievement.

P. E.

ONE OF S. T. C.'S "BONES OF CONTENTION."

Ever since time began, I imagine there have been little "bones of contention", so to speak, everywhere, and schools prove no exceptions. This seems only natural, though, because no matter what is done, never will you find that everyone is pleased.

The "bone of contention" at S. T. C. is cuts. This subject is alwas being discussed. I think that cuts, like everyhing else of which so many people disapprove, have their advantages. When a girl enters college, it seems to me that she should be able to use her own discretion,and be able to decide whether or not she can afford to miss a class. Let her miss the classes if she wants to as the universities do, and if she fails her examinations, I am sure she will realize that it was her own fault. If the girls at S. T. C. are too young to do that then at least a certain number of cuts taken at any time the girl desires, would help.

The reason I say this is that I believe if a girl is going to study at all she will she will be able to find time for her studies, whereas, if she is not going to study, going to class is not going to make her study.

Blanche Murrell

EXAMINATIONS.

June and examinations are here. How nice the air would be without the other! But the fact that they are so correlated teaches us one great lesson that we must learn before we can make a success of life. This universal truth is that every good thing has to be paid for, that we value only those things for which we pay dearly.And thus, although it is inevitable that for some of us, June can not come without examinations, we shall enjoy June all the more because we have done our duty with the examinations. There is satisfaction in having done a thing well, and we enjoy our vacation more when we feel that we have earned it. Therefore let us think of examinations as "stepping stones" to a happy vacation.

Anne V. Jones

AMONG THE SOPHOMORES

For the past month some recognition has been made of those seniors who have given their time, thought and best efforts towards the promotion of the leading activities of the leading activities for the success of our Alma Mater. However no mention has been made of the sophomores who are taking a two year course and are not returning. We are glad to know that many of the leaders of the class of '29 will be back next year; yet, we will miss those who have in any way served the school.

"Runt" Hargrave will be missed by the class, the Rotunda staff and by everyone who knows her. She is so much fun, so peppy. And how will the Rotunda staff get along without Virginia Boxley with her original style of writing and Peggy Barham with her willingness to help?

Where will they look for a heroine next year with Annie Griswold McIntosh away? She won't be easy to duplicate in the Dramatic Club or anywhere else.: She is so fine, so sincere, so lovable.

Katherine French, Mildred Morris and Jettie Talley have made a contribution in athletics which will be missed next year. We will be glad when they all come back next year and join us in "a family reunion,"

OUR SENIOR ATHLETICS

Our list of Seniors is incomplete; we realize this because we know that every girl has some definite spot to fill in our school. However, special mention should be made of a few of our athletes who have kept this standard high for S. T. C. Among these are Elizabeth Crute, Madeline Gary, Mildred Lohr and Orline White. All four have served—not only on the basket-ball floor, but also in practically ever class activity, baseball, volley ball, hocky, and track. All four have contributed an inestimable amount of service to the school as well as in other phases of activity.

FOOTSTEPS

Footsteps have long been used in ghost stories to produce a weird, haunting effect. Often in plays one hears fottsteps just outside the door — a dernice to create "atmosphere." However, the footsteps in which I am interested, at present, produce no weird, haunting effect. Neither are they essentially a dernice to create atmosphere. They are just the footsteps I hear on the corridor outside of my door. (Corridor is a word much more in harmony with the word footsteps than are Infirmary Hall or White House Hall.) If you are the kind of person who is inclined to sit, at times, thinking of nothing particularly, you will probably find entertainment in doing what I sometimes find myself doing—listening to footsteps.

My attention is usually drawn by a firm, determined step belonging to—oh, I haven't time to think about her, for behind there is a slow, easy step, and yet, none the less a determined one, which sends me flying to straighten the many out-of-place articles which one of my roommates left. (It is always one's roommate who leaves the room disordered.) How nice it would be to lie in bed and listen to footsteps, were it not for that one footstep which means inspection.

Continued on page five

MISS VIRGINIA REYNOLDS

There are many alumnae and Farmville touwspeople who will feel genuine sorrow upon hearing of the death on May 8 of Miss Virginia Reynolds, for nineteen years head of the department of Geography and Physiology in Farmville State Teachers College, then the State Normal School. Miss Reynolds became a member of the faculty in 1887 and was soon recognized as a teacher of unusual power, learning and enthusiasm. Her pupils were most diligent and interested. Her forceful and winning personality attracted a large circle of devoted friends and her activities carried her far outside the bounds of her classroom.

In October, 1896, when President John A. Cunninghma died, the Normal School Board made her head of the Academic Department. She served as Head until the appointment of Dr. Robert Frazer to the presidency in Fbruary, 1897. When she resigned her position in 1906, the Secretary of the Board was "authorized to send Miss Reynolds a suitable testimonial in recognition of her long and faithful services."

From Farmville, Miss Reynolds went to East Stronudsburg, Pennsylvania, becoming the Principal of the Training School in the Normal School there. Three years later she retired from teaching and made her home witha friend in Warren, Rhode Island. Through twenty-one years she kept her affection for Farmville, corresponding with friends in the Presbyterian Church in this time.

In spite of frequent illnesses in recent years, Miss Reynolds continued her intellectual pursuits, meeting twice a week in her home a class in Old Testament History, and writing a book on Prophets of the Old Testament.

A close student of nature; a reverential student of the Bible, a friend of humanity, Miss Reynolds was instrumental in bringing into many lives aspirations after the truth.

MOOD

I'm tired of being kind,
I'm tired of drying tears,
Of sympathizing and loving
And stilling others' fears.

Yes—I'm supposed to be young—
But my heart—it feels old, old—
And the sky above, and all the world,
Is cold, cold!

I'm tired of being kind, I say,
As tired as I can be;
But—I'm not tired of kindness!—
Why can't someone be kind to me?

R. A. '30

To members of Faculty and the Student Body—

We appreciate the business you have given us this year, and hope for each and every one of you a pleasant summer.—G. F. BUTCHER CO., The Convenient Store.

"Tommy, if you are pretending to be an automobile, I wish you'd run over to the store and get me some butter."

"I'm sorry, mother, I'm out of gasoline."

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for -:-
S. T. C. Girls
Come In And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
Noted for
QUALITY

McINTOSH & CANADA Inc.
Headquarters for Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Kodaks And Films
Farmville : : : Virginia

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville : : : Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers In
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery, and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all -:-:-
FOOTWEAR
To S. T. C. Students-:-:-

HUBBARD & CASSADA
Sandwiches Home-made Pies
Hot Dogs
Best Fountain Service In Town
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest Toilette Requisites, drugs and Stationery

S. T. C. GIRLS:—
Eat and Drink
With Us
W-A-D-E-S

LITERATURE

REMEMBERING, ON LEAVING SCHOOL

I shall forget the big events, the crises, the vivio occasion; I shall even forget people.

It is not these that shall linger with me when I am gone.

I shall remember a white sweet peony laid upon my book in a class-room.

I shall remember how I never walked passively by the side of one friend, but clasped hands high as if I would touch the same star with her.

I shall remember, breathlessly, Joan uncovered.

I shall remember restless hands, startling questions of little children whom I taught; I shall remember the eyes of one, and how I wanted to answer all they asked.

I shall remember laughter in a still room; tears thats hould have come in a still room, but that came with laughter.

I shall remember breakfast on a hill and the pine trees that seemed to hold candles as a late Christmas tree.

I shall remember honesuckle and yellow daises in a vase by my bed.

Why do I talk like this?

I shall remember every living, breathing moment here, and little that came before!

L. B. '29

I HOPE—I LOVE—I BELIEVE

I. I HOPE

To me there is nothing in all the world so reassuring, so challenging, as hope. No matter how low one sinks in the scale, no matter what sorrow grief, dissappointment, may struggle to thwart one's nature, an individual may always hope for the better. And with hope comes a sense of renewed faith and courage.

Hope brings the gleam of faith and trust is in human beings and in the Divine. Fortunate, indeed, shall I be if I am able to follow the gleam of hope forever, for only in honing shall one plan creatively, and grow.

II. I LOVE

I love.

I love beauty in all its forms.

I love the great God and His Universe. I love all His creatures.

I love the physical beauty of the body, the groping mind, the quivering, sensitive soul of the individual.

I love love, for it is the elemental, creative force of the universe.

I love life, because it is the vital spirit of the earth, and because I am living.

III. I BELIEVE

I believe in God, because He believed in me. Surely when He gave me the most precious of all things, life; when he gave me a physical self with which to express my thoughts and desires; when He gave me a mind to think and expand as its experience broadened; when He made my heart love and appreciate the beautiful, He believed in me. He trusted me to use my faculties, not only as a symbol of my inherent right to be a part of the Divine, but as a creative force in the world. God believed in me, trusted me, helped me grow. I believe in God and His trust in me.

I believe in people because they believe in me. When I have been most depressed and wondered if living were as glorious as poets would have me believe; when I have been disappointed and disillusioned to the point of pain growing into an unbearable ache; when faith in myself has almost slipped from my grasp, has been well nigh crowded out by an inferiority complex and a sense of hopelessness and utter dejection; after all of this, when one person said, "I believe you can do it", my own belief went soaring.

I believe people think and work, hope and realize dreams in so far as others believe in them. If I had only one wish in all the world, I think I should say, "Let me always trust and believe in people."

R. H. '27

You can know it is yellow—when you meet those ashamed to show their colors.

A YOUNG TEACHER PRAYS

The children, the dear young children
With round and questioning eyes,
And half-parted lips, and a lovely look,
Innocently wise;
The children, with soiled and restless hands,
And eagerly moving feet—
The dear little children,
So young, so pure, so sweet!

Dear God, am I to guide them?
Am I to teach them the way?
Before I start, I falter
Just long enough to pray.

Ah, God, not for the sake of self—
Do I beseech—
For the sake of the dear young children—
Teach me how to teach!

R. A. '30

ON SEEING A ROSE

Blood-red fruit of the rose-vine,
I am wondering if a thousand microbes move within your cells,
Or if your feelings would be hurt the least
If I should turn and curse you.
Is your beauty just for pollination?
Nature may have meant it for that,
But God meant it to be more.
I crush you in my embrace.
Are you silent through pain?
I hear no sound. I only breathe your fragrance.

M. H. '30

MORNING

Slowly over the hill
Where daises slept
And crickets dreamed
There rose a pale, gray light
The dawn had come.

EVENING

The sun was sinking low
Its rays cast a red glow over the earth
A soul was happy—
A kind word had been spoken and passed on—
The days was done.

R. C. '30

VAGABONDS

In the balmy air of springtime
When the wood-nymphs whisper, "Maytime,"
To the shades across the hill
How my heart delights in playtime
And I whisper back, "It's Maytime—
Can my restless feet be still?"

Down the deepening trails of woodland,
How the spell of nature lures!
I, like ancient Arabs, wandering,
Leaves the paths where man pursues,
Leave and lose myself in roaming,
Learn the haunts of Vagabonds.

M. H. '30

THE PASTURE

I'm going out to clean the pasture spring;
I'll only stop to rake the leaves away
(And wait to watch the water clear, I may):
I sha'n't be gone long.—You come, too.

I'm going out to fetch the little calf
That's standing by the mother; it's so young,
It totters when she licks it with her tongue.
I shan't be gone long.—You come, too.

—Robert Frost, North of Boston

Suggested by the Foregoing

Like Frost, I've cleaned out meadow springs,
And watched young calves to tottering too' -
I'd like to take you there with me today,
But that's a thing I cannot do.

The old path now with reeds is overgrown,
Alas, I could not find the way for you,
And all my baby calves are long since gone;—
You'll have to go with Frost;—besides, he's asked you to.

WIND FLOWERS

At dawning I will come to you
And bring you wind flowers
With the odor of damp black earth
Still clinging to their stems
And the smell of a fresh April wind
About them.
They will be faintly sweet
From a kiss of the morning—
These wind flowers.

At dawning I will come to you
And bring you wind flowers -
And my heart's love.

J.: W.

FISHIN'

Com' on fishes, nibble, bite,
Befo' de sun puts out de light;
Sun's fast fallin' wid de breeze
Behin' dat clump ob cypuss trees
De whippo'will has start' he song.
Com' up here, don' be so long.

'S'matter fish, don' wanna cam'?
If's bait yo' want, I gibbed yo' som'.
Oh! dere yo' ar ea-nibblin' sho'.
If you's a fish you'll bite som' mo'.
Ha! Ha! de cork's gone out ob sight,
An' now I'll pull wid all my might.

A hard ol' fight—I'll tell de worl'
Wid cork and line all in a swirl;
But two hard jerks and up you fly,
A sivver flash agin de sky.
A waste o' time, and sorry? No!
A fish like di's worf waitin' fo'.

Mary Frances Shepard

THE MURDER OF BARTHOLOMEW GILBERT

"O Debedeavon, King of the Accomacs, I, Prince of the Gingaskins, am here to pay our yearly tribute of grain, and to take my place in the Legislative Assembly."

Just at this point, the skin at the door of the hut was pulled aside, and a beautiful maiden entered. About her body was draped a cloth of silks and about her neck was a string of glass beads—the prized possessions of this princess brought to her by her uncle, Piccicanoe, on his return from his last visit to the court of Powhatan.

For a moment her eyes rested upon her Gingaskin lover before she turned to her father and said, "Outside there is a runner from the Chincoteagues who has, he says, an important message for you, my father."

"I will see him at once."

• • •

"Most high King, you know the legends among our people—how once strange men with white skins came in great canoes to our land, and did much damage to our crops and homes; and how with their thunder and lightning they killed our bravest warrior. And lo, this morning as I stood watching the sun rise in the East, I beheld a strange and great canoe, even like unto that one our fathers tell us of. Oh, King, this great canoe was going southward along our shore, as though looking for a bay. I come from my chief to warn you, that you may protect your people."

Then old Debedeavon rose up, and with such an expression of hate on his face as his subjects had never before seen, said, "Long have you wooed my daughter. Go, and when you bring me the skulls of these white devils, you shall have her!"

• • •

Bartholomew Gilbert, after exploring the coast of Maine, decided to go southward. By the time that he had reached the coast off the Eastern Shore of Virgnia, he was much in need of water and fresh food. Accordingly, when he reached the mouth of the bay he entered it, and anchored near what is now Cheritan, in the southern part of the peninsula.

Taking with him several men, he went ashore, and there found such profusion of fruits as he had nowhere before seen. The men became so interested in their picking that they did not notice the sly movement of the Indians until they found themselves imprisoned by grips of steel.

The Englishmen were led on and on through that dense forest, knowing that every step was carrying them closer to a death of torture. What agony on the part of the captives! What coolness on the part of the captors! Ever onward to a doom the horribleness of which they could not imagine.

• • •

A lovely Indian maiden, her body draped in a cloth of silk, a string of glass beads about her neck, stood upon the bank of the beautiful Nussawadox West. Behind her, camp fires gleamed brightly; on her left lay the graves of her ancestors—kings.

The red of the sky paled. Upon the rippling water soft shades were reflected. A strong man clasped the hand of the princess; a strong man looked, with her, at the sinking sun, and forgot the tortured, white faces.

A. B. '30

The whale gets into trouble only when he starts to blow.

Good work advertises itself.

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

MARGARET COBB

"Cobbie" has the divine gift of doing things so tastefully, and unselfishly that people do not know, or understand, how much she has done for them. For four years she has served through the Y. W., through her class, and to her friends, and she has given with self-forgetfulness and happy humor. On the tennis courts, talking at prayers, eulogizing on Blue Ridge, or playing with her kindergarten children, we see her always, always moving. And as she moved, and we heard one of her droll remarks of two, and heard her laugh, we caught an elusive warmth for her aliveness, and her playing, and her working.

If a Senior ever loevd her Alma Mater, it is "Cobbie", and because she has given to the school and to her friends with the loveliest and truest of spirits, life owes her kindliness and warmth and beauty.

LOUISE BREWER

Where is a girl whom we can depend on? This question is often in debate at S. T. C. In a number of cases Louise Brewer has been the answer. Louise has been "moon fixer" of the Senior Class in more ways than one. She has ever served the class and school in all the offices she has held and in those situations which arise and call for a girl with initiative and judgment. Louise's work in the Dramatic Club has been notable and many times she has pelased the audience. The memory of her interpretation of The Prince Chap will stay with us for a long time.

CORNELIA DICKINSON

When one of the Seniors looks back over the four years she has spent here at S. T. C., one seems to stand apart from the rest. Since her very first day here in September, Cornelia has found a place in college activities. Not only did she find a place, but she has maintained her position among others, and that is the true test of real leadership and of genuine ability.

Even though Cornelia has held important positions on the staff of The Rotunda and Virginian, she has not scorned the little activties and services that seem to count for nothing—in fact, she has as willing and as conscientiously done the "little things" as she has others.

It seems that Cornelia is the embodiment of one of our college ideals—that of a well-rounded personality. Not only has she an enviable scholarship record, but we find her in athletics, debating, literary and executive work, and all forms of extra curricula activities. Above all, though, stands Cornelia's personality. There is something strangely appealing in her open, frank, and straightforward manner; we admire her unbiased interpretations and foresight in all matters; we almost envy her standard of unselfish service to those around her. Into this being has been brought the beauty of intelligent womanhood and the truth of sacrificial service.

FAREWELL SENIORS!

ENTRANCE TO MAIN BUILDING

MANY PARTIES ARE CROWDED INTO FINAL COLLEGE DAYS

MISS MARY ENTERTAINS THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Perhaps all of us have at some time in our lives wished to see the end of the rainbow, or to take a flying trip right into the sunset. Tuesday night when the members of the old and new Student Councils went to the Recreation Hall to a buffet supper given them by Miss Mary, they thought that surely they had entered a sunset palace. Sunset colors of rose, lavendar, and palest pink graced the lights. Everywhere one looked it seemed that there were sweet peas, huge baskets of deep pink ones, of rusty purple ones, and of dainty flesh-colored ones. Miss Mary, herself, seemed part of the sunset in a dress of pale pink.

Then there was the supper. Such a supper it was—fried chicken, hot biscuits, refreshing iced tea, and all imaginable kinds of "goodies."

Never had the members of the Student Council attended a lovlier party than this one given by our own Miss Mary.

ALPHA DELTA RHO PICNIC

Last Wednesday the members of the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho put aside their work and journeyed to Li.lia Springs to enjoy an afternoon of food, fun, and friendship, none of which were lacking to the fullest extent. Speaking of food if fried chicken and ice cream accompanied by all the picnic food one could think of, doesn't hit the spot, it can't be hit. Speaking of fun, if Willis' foolishness, Vincent's remarks, Woodson's "overseeing" and Ovreby's matter of fact dry wit couldn't insure fun it can't be found. And referring to friendship,—that's what always makes a thing a success and this final part of the year was a marked success.

Price of liberty frequently depends upon the judge.

Some faces have a very striking appearance—clock faces, for instance.

THE BLUE RIDGE BANQUET

That Monday night! It was one to be remembered a long time. The subject was Blue Ridge. The feelings were of three kinds—one of remembrances; one of anxiety for the time to go to that wonderful Blue Ridge; and the other a feeling that comes when one wants to do something which she knows to be an impossibility. But I am sure that when every one left she had hovering over her something of the spirit which Blue Ridge creates. Why, she could not have helped it—just because of the things which were said there. Pannie—our dear Pannie—gave a welcome which lit the torch for what was to follow. The main factors in making us "feel at Blue Ridge" were Lucy Haile Overbey, Margaret Cobb, Ola Thomas, Jackie Woodson, and Rosalind Harrell. Each gave a different aspect of the life there. Their talks were interspersed with songs of Blue Ridge. And we all came away with a desire to be closer to God's own works.

PORTSMOUTH CLUB SETS SAIL

It was a jolly crew which set sail for Farmville Lake on Saturday afternoon. All the gobs from the city by-the-sea were on deck and were happy to feel once more the bounding main. Captain George was in charge, ably assisted by First Mate Vaughan, appointed to Job ship by the crew.

The Good Ship dropped anchor at one bell and the crewe was called for a supper fine enough for any Gob. The salt air was much enjoyed and even inspired the crew to sailing songs. Shortly after seven the Good Ship pulled up anchor and set sail for the home port. The evening sail was rolling in fun for the Gobs sick for the sea.

Some people grow under responsibility; others merely grow.

Hard luck is a sweet name for the sleeping sickness.

SOCIAL

SENIOR SHIP IS LAUNCHED

On Saturday night in the Tri Sigma Chapter room the girls that are returning next year gave the girls that are not returning a farewell party.

At 10:30 o'clock the fun began. The hostesses, dressed as sailors, with sailor caps and purple ties, called for the honor guests and escorted them to the chapter room.

A delicious salad course was spread on the floor in the shape of the triangle, with white cathedral candles at each point. In the center of the triangle was a ship laden with cargo. The ship was symbolic of these girls sailing out on the sea of life, their cargo being love and truth tempered by knowledge. The ship itself was laden with gifts representative of the individual girls and they were presented by Ensign Louise Craft (one of the sea-sick sailors).

Throughout the course individual toasts were given to these almost old maid school teachers and at 11:30 the party broke up 'mid smiles, songs tears and laughter.

PI GAMMA MU ENTERTAINS

Last Tuesday afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 Pi Gamma Mu entertained the Social Science majors and minors and a few additional friends.

Mr. Hart, a member of Pi Gamma Mu, from Hampden-Sidney, gave a short talk after which tea was served in the Student Building lounge.

GOVERNOR BYRD, MEMBER OF PI GAMMA MU

Recently Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu has had the pleasure and honor of announcing as a member, Harry Flood Byrd, Governor of Virginia.

The following members were recently elected from the student body.

Frances Brightwell
Ella Louise Moore
Frances Volk
Frances Woodhouse

DEBATING CLUB PICNIC

On Saturday afternoon, May 21, the Debating Club went to Willis mountain in a truck, on a picnic. In it were about twenty-five girls and Mr. Bowman and Mr. Moss. Dr. Walmsley and still more debators followed with the food. Most of the party climbed the dizzy heights of the highest peak of the mountain, but several stayed at the foot and kept the fire burning to roast the weenies and marshmallows. After th country had been surveyed thoroughly from the top of the mountain and all the caves and grottoes had been explored, there was a hasty descent and supper at the cafeteria. Everything was quite correct. The picnicers passed down the cafeteria line and selected their favorite "dishes."

After everyone had helped extinguish the fire and the sun began to retreat, the truck reloaded and to S. T. C. amid singing and laughter started back.

A lie may slip through the telephone while the truth lingers to get itself typewritten.

A girl has a young man twisted around her finger when he circles it with an engagement ring.

Many speak of their rights, but few of their duty.

Y. W. C. A.

WELCOME THE FRESHMEN!

When a freshman steps off the train at Farmville, the first girl who greets her is a Y. W. C. A. girl. The first girl who tell her where to go, what to do, where she will live, is a Y. W. girl. The initial work of the Y. W. C. A. is to care for freshmen, to instill within their hearts on their arrival a spark of that feeling which will grow into the spirit of Alma Mater which each one of us has. The Y. W. C. A. makes definite plans to help all new girls, and so many girls are saved from that first overpowering sense of nostalgia that besets some.

This year's freshmen in September will be seriously sophisticated sophomores. Sophomores and juniors will have advanced to greater dignity and wider knowledge. And how useful you may make your new dignity and vast knowledge if you impart to a homesick freshman enough to give her self confidence and make her happy! Don't forget your predicament one or two or three years ago.

The Y. W. C. A. is sending this S. O. S. to all old girls on behalf of the freshmen of next year. Though you may not wear a blue and white ribbon, you are nevertheless a part of that organization. Make it your duty and pleasure to welcome every new girl to S. T. C. at your first meeting. Remember that upon your shoulders rests the responsibility of a freshman's first impressions of our college.

BLUE RIDGE PAGEANT PRESENTED

Monday night a pageant portraying the spirit of Blue Ridge was presented by the girls who are going to the conference. The following girls were characters in the pageant:

Rosalind Harrell .... Spirit of Blue Ridge
Lorah Brewer ..... Youth
Blanche Overbey, Anna Burgess ..... Chines Youths
Elva Hedley, Mabel Hayes ..... Brazilian Youths
Jack Woodson, Virginia Updike ..... Spirit of Athletics

The scene was set on the steps of Lee Hall at Blue Ridge. All delegates sang conference songs.

Y. W. C. A. CABINET HAS EARLY BREAKFAST

Six o'clock does not seem so early when one goes out and cooks breakfast. On Thursday morning the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet went out in the pines and cooked the loveliest breakfast.

Wood was gathered, a hot fire made, and delicious eggs, bacon, and coffee were prepared. Can you imagine how wonderful it tasted after the long walk in the early morning air?

After the breakfast the Cabinet retired to an adjoining pine slope and were led in Morning Watch by Frances Willis.

He who only hopes is hopeless.

Yesterday is dead; forget it. Tomorrow has not come, don't worry, but remember it. Today is here—use it.

THE CALL TO THE MOUNTAIN HEIGHTS

Listen, wait—do you not hear the sound of many pulsing feet? Faint is the sound at first, but now it grows stronger; surer—fair and away the stirring, spreading like the sound of wind in the grasses, in the waving cornfields, like wings in the waiting forest.

Nearer the come, and you hear the strains of singing—gay at times, then discouraged, then gay and proud and exultant.

On and on, and closer.

They are the feet—they are the voices of Youth.

What do they come to seek?

Not a refuge from the world, but a mountain height from which they may view the world, its peoples and its needs, that they may see farther, more clearly and more wisely the part the world calls on them to play. in its vast drama.

What do they come to seek?

No selfish pleasures—but dompanionships with other fellows, that, with the strength that comes of seeing through many eyes, they may go down from the mountain refreshed, sure and readier for the tasks they are to do.

O you, who are seeking too, will you not come with them?

—Southern Division National Student Council.

The spirit of Blue Ridge calls. "And Jesus goeth up into a mountain and calleth unto him whom he would, and they came to him." The call to Christian youth come again today, and Youth goes out and up to meet the call. Up to the mountain heights, among the clouds; spirits free, unfettered; soul lifted up to God; hearts turned to mankind at the foot of the mountain. Youth returns, still Youth, but again inspired, hopeful anew, joyous, uplifted, with courage and strength to love and life, alight with the spirit of a glimpse of God. We who seek, we come, we present ourselves for enrichment.

Many go, many answer the call. Others there are who feel the call; others would go, but are deterred. Those who go, then, bear the charge of those who hear but cannot come.

To a small number of our girls has been given the trust to answer the call for all. Many have made it possible for these to go. S. T. C. sends the following girls to Blue Ridge—

Y. W. C. A.
Frances Willis
Rosalind Harrell
Blanche Overbey
Anna Burgess
Pearl Etheridge
Lorah Brewer

Athletic Association
Gwendolyn Hardy
Mary Frances Hatchett

Student Government
Elizabeth Woodson

Rotunda
Evelyn Dulaney

Margaret Leonard
Edith Cornwell
Margaret Hansel
Jack Woodson
Miss Florence Stubbs
Miss Grace Mix

PERSONALS

Miss Mary White Cox had as her guests here at school Saturday Mrs. John Morris and Miss Page Howlett, of Richmond, Mrs. Charles Turnbull, and Miss Telen Turnbull of Lawrenceville, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hayes, Miss Sarah Hayes and Miss Margaret Wilkie of Newport News.

* * *

Miss May White of Roanoke is the guest of Miss Lucy Haile Overbey for several days.

* * *

Miss Grace Reeves had as her guest for the week-end Miss Elsie Bell of Roanoke.

* * *

Misses Florence Stubbs, Edith Cornwell, Frances Willis, Lucille Graves and Carroll Cromwell went to Richmond Thursday for the afternoon.

* * *

Miss Virginia Ellis had as her guest Sunday her mother, Mrs. Richard Ellis.

* * *

Miss Mary Rigby spent the week-end at Blackstone.

* * *

Miss Phyllis Wood had as her guests Sunday her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wood.

* * *

Of great interest to the students here are the anouncements of the marriages of Emma Mebane Hunt to Henry Landon Cabell, June 18, 1927.

Elva Hedly to Cecil Franzen De La Barre, June 25, 1927.

* * *

Miss Evelyn Hood, of Roanoke, a former student of S. T. C. is spending a few days as the guest of Miss Louise Shoffner.

FOOTSTEPS

Continued from page two

One "charm" of footsteps lies in the different directions in which they lead my fancy. Why I think I might spend half an hour providing destinations for those footsteps. For instance, it is time for the last bell. At least a dozen different steps are heard casually wending their way to class. Undoubtedly they belong to juniors and seniors, and they are going to Dr. Walmsley's class. Several others are on their way to the post-office, eagerly anticipating a letter. As one light, quick step which I recognize is heard, I wonder whether or not it will come into my room. No, it goes into the room across the hall.

I like to sit and visualize the people to whom those footsteps belong. Here my imagination may roam most freely. If I have become weary of seeing the same girls, day in and day out, I may banish them without a word to anyone. What beautiful girls may take their places! It would be a simple matter to choose the May Court from these.

In the midst of my delightfully foolish pastime there comes a very familiar footstep—that of my roommate, a sweet girl, but so practical. How absurd to be caught engaged in such a frivolous reflection, if so idle a train of fancies may even be called reflection! Immediately I take up my book, and as my roommate enters I am deeply absorbed in the study of economics.

H. T.

TO FRYING PANS!. FORWARD MARCH!!

Thursday afternoon this cry was heard from the Rotunda staff on their way to do battle against an army of hamberger, rolls, dopes and other "goodies." Everyone felt "rosey" so the leaders of the march, Captain Dulaney and Sergeant Brewer led the followers five hunred miles from school, not realizing they had walked this short distance with a cord of wood, from Butcher's, in their arms. An ideal spot was chosen among the tall grass and short pine trees by Privates Lamphier and Booth. While Captain Dulaney made a roaring fire to rival that of Nero's Privates Hatch, McDonald and Evans peeled the potatoes. Corporal Etheridge assisted Captain Dulaney in browning the hamburger to perfection. At last both sides were prepared for battle and how it did taste.

Privates Walton and Sergeant Brewer were given the guard house for eating nine people's share too much. A second charge against them was they took advantage of Private Jarvis' size and did not allow her to even have one chance at a hamberger. They were marched to the guard house to the tune of "Frying Pan Blues" by Hot Greece. While marching the line Private Walton dropped a bottle of coca cola and broke it, which added up to be her 14th one.

The brave staff returned to the headquarters at 7:20 sharp.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Miss Constance Rumbough, who is doing missionary work in Russian Manchuria, is not in the war area and is apparently untouched by the excitement prevailing in the other parts of the Orient.

Miss Kellogg Holland and Mr. Edward T. Marshall were married in Washington on Saturday, March 5. Mr. Marshall is a great-grandson of Chief Justice Marshall.

Miss Annie Belle Lockard was married at her home in Covington on May 7, to Mr. Morris Strock, formarly of San Diego, Ca. Mr.: and Mrs. Strock will be at home to their friends in Washington, D. C., where Mr. Strock is employed in the U. S. Bureau of Standards.

Mrs. J. D. Walker of Emporia, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Etta Belle, to Mr. Oscar F. Northington, of LaCrosse. The wedding will take place in June.

Mrs. G. G. Jeter has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Carey Jeter to William Gist Finley, of York, S. C.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Burton Nowlin announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellis, to George Harris Cosby, Jr., formerly of Lynchburg, but now of Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. E. H. Old of Roanoke was elected a district chairman at the same meeting at which Mrs. Morehead was elected president.

Among Virginians reported safe from the ravages of the Chinese at Nanking are Mrs. J. R. Graham and three children of Frederick Hall. Mrs. Graham will be remembered as M. Louise Garrett '19. Her husband is "Ching" Graham, former athlete at Hampden-Sidney and V. P. I.

THE 1927 VIRGINIAN

The publication of The Virginian is an annual event to which we always look forward with much pleasure. Now the book is here, and we are indeed enjoying it. The great thing about our Annual is that it does not afford a transitory pleasure only, but it is something that we can keep always, and enjoy more and more in the days to come, for it is a very treasure house of pleasant memories.

We are especially proud of the issue this year; the dark-red binding, trimmed in gold and stamped with the picture of our college is very attractive, as are also the frontispiece, the drawing and the captions of the various sections.

The volume is dedicated to Mr. McCorkle, who has proven himself always to be the friend and helper of us all, and who has labored untiringly to make this work a success. No publication from S. T. C. would be complete without Dr. Jarman and "Miss Mary," and their pictures are both here.

After "open sesame" we find Joan whose image guards our threshold, and whose spirit is symbolic of the ideals of our school. There are pictures of the buildings, of the campus, of the members of our faculty, the Home Department, and Business Office, the seniors, the juniors, sopohomores, freshmen and of the members of the various sororities and other organizations.

Among the literary contributions are "Thither" by A. J.; "Dominus Mutationum" by Virginia Potts; "Neighborhood Gossip" by Adrienne Richards; "The Lasting Boon" by Rosalind Harrell; "Reading the Idylls by Firelight" by Alice Stringfelolw; "Gifts" by Aylwin Hughson; "Vanity Fair" by Julia Wilson.

The book is a comprehensive study of our college life; its literary, social, religious and athletic activities. We appreciate the work of Mr. McCorkle, of Evelyn Beckham, editor-in-chief, of Virginia Graves, the business manager and of the entire staff who have spared neither time nor effort. We congratulate them on the great success they have achieved. We thank them now, and when in years to come we shall turn the pages of The 1927 Virginian, we shall again thank them that they have given us "a sparkle to touch and light again our past."

MU OMEGA WINS SCHOLASTIC CUP

At the meeting of Pan-Hellenic yesterday it was announced that Mu Omega obtained the highest scholastic average for the winter term. Grading on the basis of 11 for A, 8 for B, 6 for C, 4 for D and 2 for E, the averages were as follows—

Mu Omega	7.97
Gamma Theta	7.96
Zeta Tau	7.76
Sigma Sigma Sigma	7.56
Delta Kappa	7.22
Delta Sigma Chi	7.20

TO SPRING

I love the trees that bud,
The beauty that they bring;
I love the little barefoot boys and girls:
In short, I love the spring.

I love the sun rays, coolish warm,
I love the birds that sing;
I love you, too, but don't be flattered, dear,
'Cause I love pigs in spring.

B. G. '28

Just one Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
THE CONVENIENT STORE
For Good Things to Eat
And Drink

MILLINERY
Up-to-the-Minute Styles
And Creations Always
On Display
MRS. CRENSHAW'S
328 Main Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS OF
ALL KINDS

Ogden Studio
328 MAIN STREET
Portraits: All Sizes and Styles.
School Work a Specialty.
Amateur Work Finished.
"Satisfied Customers"
Our Motto:

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Affiliated With S. T. C. Since 1907
Gives Instruction In—
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Announcing
SPRING'S FIRST SHOWING
OF
COATS, DRESSES and SHOES
For Every Occasion
WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville's Largest and Most Progressive Store

That proud moment—a vision in white, her head in the clouds, her feet in filmy, snowy Humming Birds. For "our" girl graduates.

The New Style 60
Humming Bird
Full Fashioned Chiffon
Silk to the top and through the sole
$1.95 Per Pair

AND HUMMING BIRDS WEAR LONGER
F. G. BALDWIN CO.
Farmville, Virginia

SEEING OURSELVES AS THE FURNITURE SEES US

The midnight oil of the Rotunda light burned low; silence reigned supreme along the corridors. While the inmates of S. T. C. were wrapped close in the arms of Morpheus, the following conversation might have been overheard by some poor individual, afflicted with insomnia accompanied by overpowering curiosity.

"A few dates gathered here tonight, didn't they, twin," spoke the settee.

"Certainly were and Aunt Lucy almost has to pull her hair to get them to leave," replied the twin settee from the other side of the door. "We see everything here and some times more."

"We sho' do, but the other night Rebe Hill and her date, Morris, turned me facing this corner and I couldn't see a thing. After a time I got so tired listening to the same line of chatter."

"Oh, settee, speaking of funny experiences, mine was the best ever! Tonight Peg Lucas and Dick chose men and from all I could understand, love must be an awful worrysome thing—"

"Why settee! Don't you know about love. You told me you loved me and now you speak as though you know nothing about it."

"Oh, Miss Chair, of course I love you. How could I help it? Do you think I'd care if the the girls backed you by the radiator, or piled all over your weak arm if I didn't love you. Our love, my dear, must be secret for Miss Shelton would not approve of you by my side day in and out or your arm locked in mine."

"Did I hear you all talking over the nightly happenings, Mr. Settee?"

"Yes, Miss Rocker, come over."

"Thank you, I am unusually tired tinight. Mr. Broadus chose me before dates to wait for Miss Helen and she's always late. Then after church I had to listen to a line of conversation from Mr. Harris and Miss McIntosh 'made believe' she believed him, I wonder if she did?"

"That line of conversation couldn't have been as interesting yet as funny as one I overheard," chimed in another chair. "I heard Miss Mabel and Mr. "Put" talking. They would have made "Turtle doves" feel uneducated had the two been compared."

"Now, Misses Chairs, Mrs. Rocker, and twin Settee, we dearly love these girls, don't we?"

"We do—heartily," they replied in a chorus.

"In a little while these girls are leaving us. Some will not return; we will miss them. As chairs we can only hope, for chairs have little chance for more than that they will always have as fond, dear memories of us as we of them. May success and happiness be always theirs and some day as we ride away with the "junk man," may we too carry as lasting a love for our Alma Mater as they do. Day is breaking so come, friends, let's have one waltz before our home folks awake for the day."

B. Wilcox—Why is your face so red?

Ferree—'Cause.

Wilcox—'Cause why?

Ferree—Causemetics.

Bucknell Bell Hop

Ridley—"How must I start a letter to this girl at S. T. C.?"

T. Hodges—"Just say, 'Unaccustomed as I am to public speaking.'"

"Do I bore you?" asked the mosquito as he sank a deep shaft into the man's leg.

"Not at all!" replied the man, smashing the mosquito gently over the head with a book. "And how do I strike you."

Maid—"Shall I shake this rug?"

L. Marstellar—"That ain't no rug; that my roommate's bath towel."

"Elmo" calls his girl hinges because she is something to adore.

E. Asher—"I feel like a piano."

M. Nance—"How's that?"

Edith—"Grand."

Grimes—"I never want to see a tennis ball again."

Pannie—"No, I suppose not—you seem to play just as well without them." —Goblin

---

Nurse Girl—"You mustn't ask so many delicate questions, Johnny. Don't you know that curiosity once killed a cat?"

Johnny—"What did the cat want to know?"

Peg Barham wants to know if a college graduate is one who can count up to twenty without taking his shoes off. —Red Cat

---

Mr. Moss—"I believe you missed my class yesterday."

Mary Duncan—"Why, no, I didn't, Mr. Moss, not in the least."

"Can you imagine anyone going to bed with his shoes on?"

"Who was that?"

"A horse."

—College Humor

Judge—"Rastus, take the witness stand."

Rastus—"Yes sir,—where to?"

"Little girls should be seen and not heard."

"What do you think I am, a movie actress." —Brain Teaser

S. B. Webber—"Are you going to the fair?"

Grace R.—"I didn't know there was one."

S. B. Webber—"The paper says —'Fair here today and tomorrow."

"Look, papa, Abie's cold is cured and we still have a box of cough drops left."

"Oo, vot extravagance. Tell Herman to go out and get his feet wet."

Va. Cogwell had four minutes to catch her train.

"Can't you go faster than this?" she asked the driver.

"Yes," the driver answered, "but I have to stay with my carriage."

MONOGRAM CLUB PICNIC

To some girls six o'clock in the morning meant profound sleep, but to others it had quite a different meaning. On Saturday morning the Monogram Club, shouldered with pans, boxes and bags, started on an early morning hike to find a spot suitable for the forth-coming event. The spot was found and a fire quickly prepared to cook the breakfast, which, in turn, was quickly consumed. Needless to say, the pans were the only burden on the wayback.

As always, the true sportsmanship spirit prevailed and the breakfast was a pleasant farewell to the club members who are leaving at the end of the term, and an introductory greeting to the new members.

(It might be added, just for fun, to say that each monogrammer came back with a face many shades darker than they were when they started).

The editor of the joke column wishes to apologize to the ladies of the institute for any unseeming or unlady-like jokes.

A little girl was asked how old she was—"I was four" she replied, "but one day I got five."

Clever young Penelope attempting her first joke to admirer—"Why does a chicken cross the road?"

Shy William—"To get on the other side."

He—"Are you happy, dear?"

She—"I'm within a hat and two gowns and a parasol of bingso!"

"The clock of life is wound but once
And no man has the power
To tell just when the hands will stop
At a late or early hour.
Now is the only time you own:
Live, love, toil with a will—
Place no faith in tomorrow for
The clock may then be still."

—Selected

A. Jones—"What is a free thinker?"

L. Marshall—"A free thinker is any man who isn't married."

Waiter—How did you find the steak, sir?

Jovial Soul—Easily, waiter, easily! But then I'm a devil at hunt-the-thimble.—Humorist.

"See that talking machine in the corner?"

"Sh, don't speak that way of the hostess."—Exchange

"There was a little girl that had a little curl which hung down over her forehead, and when she was good she was very, very good, but when she was bad she was popular.' —Exchange.

Prof.: I believe you might talk more intelligently if you had a little more sleep before coming to class.

Stude. But, you see, I have only one class before this one.

—Vanderbilt Masquerader

Oh Yesa

A dance, a data,
Percahnce out lata.
A class, a quiza.
No passo, gee whizza.

—Exchange

SHE WAS ONLY
—Adam's wife, but she raised Cain.
Exchange

Mary Rigby says eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow we diet."

40 inch Washable Flat Crepe

Guaranteed Washable, $2.75 Value

Specially Priced at $1.98

Heavy quality beautiful lustrous finish—Guaranteed Washable—In 25 new spring shades.

Greenberg's Dept. Store
Farmville's Newest and Lowest Priced Store
—ALWAYS RELIABLE—

See Us For Your
STATIONERY
Sorority and Schol Seals
In Many
:: Attractive Styles and Colors ::
Samples Shown By
Eleanor Bennett, Lucy Haile Overbey
S. B. 23 S. B. 18
Agents For
FARMVILLE HERALD PRINTING CO.

Continental Hotel
J. O. Hardaway, Prop.
American or European Plan
REASONABLE RATES
New, Modern and Up-to-date
COFFEE SHOP
Our Motto:
Comfort Food Service

WEYANOKE
BEAUTY SHOP
Ladies and Children Only
REAL BEAUTY FOR
S. T. C. GIRLS
Hotel Weyanoke Basement

SHANNON'S
Headquarters For
S. T. C. GIRLS
Good Things
To Eat

AT THE EACO NEXT WEEK

MON. & TUES.—THE FLAMING FRONTIER a super special production. This is the mightiest, most thrilling Western drama ever conceived It was three years in the making—the finest entertainment of the kind in the world. It has a cast of thousands—with Hoot Gibson, Dustin Farnum and Anne Cornwall. Spectacular—Romantic—Thrilling. There aren't words enough in the dictionary to tell of the glorious entertainment provided for you in this epic drama of America's last frontier—or describe the astounding climax—Custer's last stand. Also Pathee News.

WED.—Ralph Graves, Kathryn Perry, Margaret Livingston and Lou Tellegen in WOMAN POWER, a special production. From the beginning of time until the end of the world—from birth through life—the greatest force has been and always will be—Womanpower. And "Womanpower is the theme and title of one of the most interesting photodramas of the present eason. It is based on Harold McGraths' Red Book story "You Can't Always Tell. Also Aesop Fable.

THURS. & FRI.—Olive Borden, Ralph Graves, Gertrude Astor, J. Farrell MacDonald and Fred Kohler in THE COUNTRY BEYOND, a big special production of James Oliver Curwood's greatest novel of Broadway and the Northwest. Joy and laughter—thrills and tears—romance and youth—you will find them all in this picture. Remeber, this is a most excellent production. No theatre, anywhere is providing better entertainment than this. This is a soul gripping romance of love and adventure—from the cloud piercing peaks of the Northwest to the skyscrapers of New York. Comedy. each night.

SAT.—Nancy Nash, Earle Fox, Raymond Hitchcock and Francis Ford in UPSTREAM, a special production. An absorbing story beating with the pulse of life—sparling with laughter—brimming with tears— A comedy drama supreme—one you will long remember. A fascinating picture of the River of Life called Broadway. Also good comedy.

Every picture in this program is a special production and you miss excellent entertainment, if you miss any one of them.

WELCOME FRESHMEN!

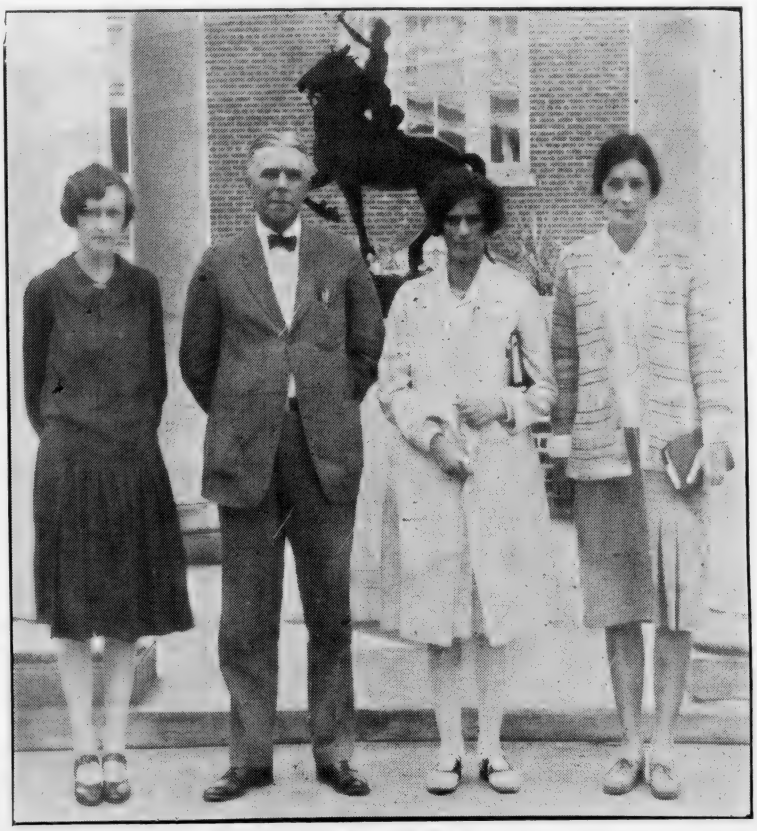
THE ROTUNDA

SUPPORT THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1927 Number 1

ECHOES FROM THE BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE



Farmville Delegation Reports Experiences in the Mountains

It seems so completely inadequate—this trying to tell a student body, with a bit of paper and print, what we who lived ten days in the blue mountains saw, and felt, and assimilated. It isn't hard to tell because it happened several months ago, because Blue Ridge stays blue—vivid and blue—remembering in one's self, always. It is hard to tell though, because we want to give you all of the beauty, and strength, and heighth, and blueness of our experiences, and we're afraid our telling will stop short of the mountain-tops and blue skyline. We, who were fortunate enough to be your representatives, want to tell you this first of all—that you, whom we represented, were constantly in our minds. We, consciously and unconsciously, absorbed every idea unusual, original, or finely strong suggested by other students, that we might be encyclopedia unfolders for our own student body. It doesn't seem fair, somehow, that we can't give you the best of our mountain top experience. We can't give you the hill-strength and the blue blueness that steeped into our souls those few days, but all year, perhaps, we can give you the little concrete corners and cubes from the whole of Blue Ridge!

Of course, Farmville had a cottage—we shared it with the Fredericksburg delegation, and held our nightly "gathering loose end" chats around the jolly fireplace there. It was a congenial and a most bohemian crowd! Dulittle, Jackie, Gwen, and Hatchett "humming" many, many miles with a wanderlust fever; Pannie walking in warm rain dressed in inimitable blue overalls; "Miss Meredith," now Mrs. Jeffers, following streams and taking pictures; Rosalind seeing across and beyond mountains while we saw only—the mountains, the whole crowd, silent and in tune queerly with the hill-tops, while we listened to "taps" or "The End of a Perfect Day" waft to us on bugle notes. . . . these are the pitcures we see when we try to tell you of Blue Ridge.

The conference was an unusually well planned and well-rounded one Worship periods, recreational periods technical hours in which we threshed out and thoroughly discussed almost every type of school problem or activity—all worked into a well-balanced day of events. The Indus-

(Continued on last page.)

THE BIG FOUR

From left to right—Mary Christian Royall, president of Student Government Association; Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of State Teachers College; Frances Willis, president of Y. W. C. A.; Gwendolyn Hardy, president of Athletic Association.

OUR COLLEGE PRESIDENTS WELCOME FRESHMEN

BIG INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT AT S. T. C.

With very little confusion and excitement, considering everything, S. T. C. has settled down to work with a new high mark in enrollment. So far 1025 girls have matriculated. Each class is naturally larger than ever before. Miss Mary reported difficulty in rooming the Freshmen who number around 600, even with an additional small dormitory. Mrs. Richardson's home on Buffalo Street has been converted into dormitory M with Miss E. Myrtle Grenels as chaperone. Several new chaperones have taken over other small dormitories— Misses Draper, Vaughan,

Continued on page 3

To all who are entering college with us for the first time, we extend just as cordial a welcome as to those who have been with us before.

We hope you will feel from the very first that this is your college, that her reputation is in your hands and that you are going to do everything in your power to uphold the spirit of the institution; and if you should ask any old student what this spirit is, she will tell you in one word—"Cooperation."

The sooner you catch this, the true college spirit, the happier will be your stay and the more you will get out of your course.

Once more, we bid you welcome; everyone here is here to serve you to

Continued on page two

Y. W. C. A. TRAVELING SECRETARY VISITS S. T. C.

Miss Edna Johnson, traveling secretary from national headquarters of Y. W. C. A. visited Farmville September 28—30. Miss Johnson is making a tour of colleges in six southern states for the purpose of bringing data on the National Student Conference to be held in December, and interviewing girls individually and in groups.

Miss Johnson talked to the student body in chapel and at vespers Thursday. The subject of her chapel talk was "The Christian Challenge to Youth." She spoke of the awakening interest among students in the vital

(Continued on last page.)

ORGANIZATIONS OPEN TO THE FRESHMEN

Extra- Curricular Activities For For New Girls' Ben fit

Now that we are here, settled and happy, since our classes have fallen into regular routine, and everybody knows what they have to do and when to do it, we discover that we still have a considerable amount of leisure time. No doubt the new girls are wondering when the far-famed school activities begin. Last week they started, and will continue with increased importance as the year advances.

Every girl is a member of the Student Government Association. Some of the freshmen have already signed their honor cards. The Association, as the name implies, is made by the student and composed of the students, for the purpose of maintaining the ideals of our college. It is the very heart of the college.

The Y. W. C. A. is open for membership to every girl. In a few days you will have the opportunity to join the Y. W. Everyone has noticed its activities; the opening reception, vespers, posters. Until this time work has been done by the cabinet and the old girls on committees. There is a big place for new girls to serve in the spirit of Christian fellowship, on committees, at vespers, or by participating in general activities. The Freshman Commission, the group which connects the freshman class with Y. W. C. A., will soon be elected.

Freshman athletics have already begun with such promise that upper classmen will have to work hard to keep a place in the ranks. Hockey and tennis are now in progress. There will be class basketball, valley ball, basball, and track teams, and varsity basket ball teams. Here is a chance for every one to play and by so doing bring honor to her class. Monogram practice will soon start. With sufficient effort every girl in school can win an athletic monogram.

Try outs for Dramatic Club, Choral Club and Glee Club have begun. The nature of these organizations is self evident. If you have ever worked in such an organization, or if you are interested, sign up for a tryout. There is a great need for new girls.

Literary societies, for the first time, are open to the student body. They are planning to set a new standard this year, and are anxious for all new students to participate. Debating Club is also eager for new

Continued on page 3

Welcome Freshmen!

J. Wilson

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE McDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EVELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager — KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant — MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager — FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant — MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

A WORD TO UPPER CLASSMEN

Freshman training classes have been held, exams taken and filed for reference. The response of the freshmen was exceedingly gratifying. We know that the freshman class, having received due instruction, is ready to assume the responsibility of its position as one-half the student body. We are now concerned about the other half, for the atmosphere of the college made by the old girls, is strengthened by the new.

There is a time for everything, long ago we were told, and there is also a place for everything. There are people who are concerned with particular cares. Remembering this we will avoid disturbance, confusion, thoughtlessness. We will receive all with cheerfulness, not complaining. If things are wrong we will right them with a smile. We are fortunate almost beyond our understanding in having a college as beautiful as ours. Our appreciation can best be expressed by using it constantly, enjoying it all the while, and using it carefully.

The use of our College, consideration of others, the standard of our student body are the concerns of upper classmen. Let us not fail the freshmen!

TO THE FARMVILLE HERALD

Farmville, we appreciate the welcome which you so graciously extended to us on our return to your city and our Alma Mater. It, as always, made the old girls glad to return, and aided in eliminating that homesick feeling which Freshman always have.

We enjoy your hospitality during our school year. We thoughtlessly monopolize your stores in the afternoon, and your streets all the time but you very kindly tolerate us. We are welcomed into your churches and organizations, and made to feel a part of you by being given a place in your community life.

We wish to show our appreciation for your service and courtesy by cooperating with you and in this way may we prove ourselves worthy of your town and its people.

THE PRESENT LOCATION OF FACES WE MISS

Even with so many new faces among us we miss the girls of the class of 1927, who are finding broader fields in their chosen profession. The following is a partial list of these graduates and where they are teaching this year—

In Norfolk—
Bessie Meade Riddle
Marion Grimes
Peggy Barham
Carroll Cromwell
Alberta Collins
Grace Chambers
Ada Thomas Williamson
Helen Lane
Betty Hopkins
Margaret Cobb

In Portsmouth—
Betty Jernigan
Katherine Dashiel
Margaret Burton
Daphne Gilliam

In Roanoke—
Virginia Graves
Grace Reeves

In Newport News—
Louise Pruden
Elizabeth Jarman

In Winston-Salem, N. C.—
Sue Babbit
Peg Fowler

In Chukatuck—Charline Martin
In Stuart, Va.—Frances Taylor
In Portlock, Va.—Rosalind Harrell
In Hampton, Va.—Katherine Roach
In Matoaka, W. Va.—Lorah Brewer
In Salem, Va.—Martha Chapin
In Callends, Va.—Cornelia Dickinson
In Hopewell, Va.—Evelyn Beckham
In Newsome, Va.—Carrie Spencer
In Alexandria, Va.—Elizbeth Crute
In Staunton, Va.—Virginia Potts
In Cleveland, Va.—Edith Asher
In Dinwiddie, Va.—Orline White
In Bowling Green —Rebecca Reams
In Darvills, Va.—Katherine Wilkinson.
In Reams, Va.—Marie Butterworth
In Great Bridge, Va.—Sarah Spiers
In Big Stone Gap, Va.—Ollie Gillespie.
In Appalachia, Va.—Louise Ford
In Leesville, Va.—Mary M. Carter
In Craddock, Va.—Margaret Wallace

Lillian Minor is supervisor in Norfolk County and Mabel Grossclose at Dinwiddie.

Virginia Vincent is continuing her study of music in Washington.

WELCOME, FRESHMEN

Hello, Freshmen, howdeedo!
We're so glad to welcome you.
We know you'll make our school, so dear
A better place because you're here.
No matter what your type may be
You have a place at S. T. C.
For there's a place for everyone
A place for work, a place for fun;
We're happy when we're busy here,
(We never like a loafer near,)
So get to work and do your best,
And you'll be sure to find success.

—Your Editor

EDITOR OF THE ROTUNDA:

May I use your paper to express my appreciation of the patience, consideration and orderly behavior of the entire student body during the rush of assigning boxes and selling books and to ask that we may have a continuance of the same through the session.

The Post Office Hall is a "National Highway". I, therefore, ask that the "Rules of the Road" be observed. "Keep to the Right" and "Keep Moving" to avoid congestion and to give fellow students an opportunity to get their mail.

Cordially yours,
M. K. TALIAFERRO

H. N. WHEELER LECTURES ON FOREST PRESERVATION

On Friday night, September 23 in the auditorium of our college, Mr. H. N. Wheeler, a former forester of Washington and Colorado, gave an illustrated lecture on forest preservation. The subject was discussed from the standpoints of economic value, watershed protection, protection of wild animals, and training in beauty. The lecturer especially stressed the need of education in forest conservation.

Mr. Wheeler's wide knowledge of the subject was gained through personal experiences and his statements of facts were comprehensive and enlightening. He showed us that timber both before cutting and after, is an important part of our every day life. By citing specific cases in which he showed us the great loss in life, property, and wealth from devastating fires, his plea against carelessness was made more forceful. The preservation of natural beauty was another point which Mr. Wheeler urged is to consider. Animal life would disappear with the forests. Aside from their usefulness, our forests contribute beauty to our lives that is an important factor. The appeal of every landscape is augmented by the presence of trees

Mr. Wheeler closed his address by reciting one of the most beautiful poems of its kind, "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer.

WELCOME

Continued from page 1

the best of their ability and we hope that your year will be a happy and satisfactory one in every way.

Sincerely your friend,
J. L. JARMAN

It is with a great deal of pleasture that I as a representative of the Student Government Association welcome the new girls to our college. We are glad to have you and we are expecting great things of you. We are depending on you to make our honor system and every phase of student government a success.

Your co-worker,
MARY CHRISTIAN ROYALL

The Athletic Association invites you to participate in every activity which it offers. Come out and support your class, and remember that we are backing you and wishing for you the greatest success.

GWEN HARDY
President Athletic Association

To say we're glad you're here doesn't half express just how we feel about your being with us, Freshmen. Every old girl at Farmville wants you to know that she is really glad you are one of us. We want you to feel that this is your college and of course want you to love it as we do. Won't you let us help you make this the happiest year you have ever spent by giving us your friendship, service and cooperation in our work?

THE "Y" CABINET
Frances Willis

JUNIORS HOLD THEIR FIRST CLASS MEETING

The Junior Class held a meeting on Thursday night, September 29th, at which time the President, "Red" Foster, welcomed in behalf of all the Juniors those new girls who are entering our class for the first time.

Sammy Scott was unanimously elected treasurer of the class, that office being left vacant by Maude Baptist, who did not return this year.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville —:: —:: —Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

WADE'S
Visit our PARLOR for best DRINKS and SANDWICHES In Town!
WADES

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

SPIRIT OF S. T. C.

I think that it must have started with the Handbook, for the first thing I saw when I opened it was Miss Jennie's Friendly Greeting. As I read those cheering words of welcome something came over me—a something indefinable—I did not know what it was then; now I should say it was—Spirit of S. T. C.

I guess I must have read the Handbook until I knew it by heart. I thought it was fun to learn the Alma Mater and my parents were nearly distracted because I insisted upon singing it all around the house from morning 'til night.

Coming over on the train to Farmville I was so interested in watching the girls that I forgot to be homesick—for the time being.

Two girls sitting in front of me were talking very eagerly and occasionally I caught a few words of their conersation, but it did not enlighten me a bit about S. T. C.

"I'm going to Rice this term," said one.

"You are!" exclaimed the other, "Well, I went to John Randolph, but had to sign up for Prospect."

I first thought they were discussing vegetables, but upon mention of John Randolph, decided they were referring to some boy whom they both knew. However, I never knew what Prospect had to do with it, but I was saved from worrying over the situation by a call from the conductor—"Fa-arm-vi-ille!"

Then such a bustle there was in that train. Down from the racks came hat-boxes and hats; up from their seats bobbed dozens of girls and all pushed madly down the aisle toward the door. Outside there were girls and more girls, all eagerly looking for their friends and jumping up and down and all of them were excitedly exclaiming—

"Oh, there she is! Peg, oh Peg—hey there!"

"Oh, I'm so glad to see you!"

"Why there's Mary Frances—"

"You should see our room. It's perfectly——"

"Oh, I can't wait!"

"And the school! All painted so nice—"

And so they raved on—these girls raved on about a place called S. T. C.

"Gee!" I thought, "S T. C. must be a wonderful school."

I climbed two long hills, just following a crowd of girls. "Where is the college?" I kept wondering.

Somebody touched my arm. I looked around and saw a girl walking beside me and she was smiling.

"Hello, there!" she said "tired?"

"Not much," I grinned, "but aren't we nearly there?"

"We are that" said she "look—there's dear ole S. T. C.—isn't it pretty?"

I looked ahead and saw through the trees, a long, low, brick building half-hidden by huge trees.

"Oh", I said—and took a deep breath.

S. T. C.!!

"Follow me, kiddo," said my new friend, "and I'll show you where to go." And then we entered the door and I found myself in—college!

"Those are the Freshmen over there. And when the supper bell rings just follow everybody else, and you'll get to the dining room. See?" She squeezed my hand. "I'm coming to

(Continued on last page)

POETRY

THE PASSING GLIMPSE

(To Ridgely Torrence on last looking into his Hesperides)

I often see flowers from a passing car
That are gone before I can tell what they are.

I want to get out of the train and go back
To see what they were beside the track.

I name all the kinds I am sure they weren't:
Nor fireweed loving where woods have burnt—

Nor Bluebells gracing a tunnel mouth
Nor Lupine living on sand and drouth

Was something brushed across my mind
That no one on earth will ever find?

Heaven gives it's glimpses only to those
Not in position to look too close.

—Robert Frost

SCHEDULES

"Have you made your schedule yet?" "Where may I get my schedule approved?" These were some of the dozens of questions asked the first two days of school. Every girl was in a rush and bustle to get her schedule arranged. The classification and schedule committees were doing their best for the students. and the students were doing their best for themselves. The freshmen looked bewildered, and upper classmen looked wise. The members of the faculty never lost patience even though their tasks seemd endless.

In many cases schedules and class cards had to be changed again and again, and extra sections of classes had to be arranged. S. T. C. was a little world of confusion. The students ran from one professor to another for advice. The faculty members rushed from one class to another, and to be in place to help the students. Schedule making is a task which no one can leave undone or delay doing.

Now, classes have started and we have settled down, so to speak. The storm of schedule making is practically over, and some realization comes to us of the tasks of the members of the committees who helped us. They had the responsibility of making a thousand schedules while we had the responsibility of only one apiece. Let's thank them for their cooperation and patience!

ORGANIZATIONS OPEN TO THE FRESHMEN

Continued from page 1

girls. Tryouts will be announced soon.

There are a number of vacancies on the Rotunda staff that must be filled immediately. Girls who can write are wanted.

It almost seems that this is a want column. Truly, freshman, you are needed. Decide where you will most enjoy spending your leisure time, and become an active member of the organization of your choice.

Watch bulletin boards and listen for announcements about all activities. There is no room for non-active members, but every organization wants freshmen, green though they are, to work and play with them in carrying on the spirit of S. T. C.

PERSONALS

Misses Annie Griswold and Mary McIntosh of Orange, former students at S. T. C., spent the week-end as the guests of Misses Florence Booten and Lucile Graves.

• • •

Miss Elizabeth Sawyer has returned from her home in Norfolk where she has been spending some time.

• • •

Miss Mildred Jackson spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

• • •

Miss Anne Ferree had as her guest for the week-end her mother, Mrs. J. R. Ferree of Danville.

• • •

Miss Anna Curtis Higgins has returned from Lynchburg where she spent the week-end at her home. Miss Higgins had as her guest for the week-end Miss Ellen Folkes.

• • •

Miss Virginia Rice is spending some time at her home in Portsmouth.

• • •

Miss Virginia Thompson spent Saturday and Sunday in Richmond as the guest of Miss Mildred Jackson.

• • •

Miss Phyllis Wood has retuned after spending the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

• • •

Miss Louise Foster spent Saturday and Sunday in Richmond as the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. William Foster.

• • •

Misses Helen Willcox, Elizabeth Hargrave, and Mildred Smith, former students at S. T. C. spent the week-end with friends here.

• • •

Miss Louise Shoffner returned Sunday from Roanoke where she attended the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Jennings to Mr. Quimby Hines.

• • •

Miss Elizabeth Houchins has returned from Lyncburg, where she attended the dances at Virginia Episcopal School.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Raine and Miss Marion Raine of Danville spent Sunday as the guests of Miss Virginia Raine.

• • •

Miss Virginia Rankin returned Sunday from Lynchburg where she spent the week-end at Randolph-Macon.

BIG INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT

Continued from page 1

Davis, Wright and Mrs. Hurt and Brown having been added to the list.

At the first regular assembly hour last Friday morning, Mr. White of the Methodist Church conducted devotionals and extended the students a welcome from the churches of the town.

Every old girl felt "back at home" and the new girls "more at home" after Dr. Jarman's cordial welcome and advice.

ATHLETICS

With such a vast number of homesick freshmen, who declare that they have nothing to do, the prospects for the athletic season at S. T. C. are very promising. The Athletic Association is always wide-awake and on the lookout for new girls who show athletic ability. However, it is impossible to find every one, and so it is up to every girl, as a member of the Athletic Association, to come out to all practices and bring others along with her.

No girl should refuse to go out for any team just because she has never played before, for hockey and volley ball are usually new to every girl who comes to S. T. C. Hockey is a new sport even with the old girls, for the first interclass games were played last Thanksgiving Day.

TENNIS

Work in tennis will begin next week. Everyone who wishes to play should sign up at once on the bulletin board in the hall. Only singles will be played this fall because the freshmen don't know each other well enough to play doubles. In the spring doubles will be played off. Five points will be awarded for the winner in singles and five points for the winner in doubles. A numeral in tennis is given to the girl who plays in the finals in singles or doubles.

HOCKEY

Hockey practice began with a bang, when nearly one hundred freshmen went out for practice Wednesday afternoon. Hockey is new to every girl, so it is as easy for one to learn to play as another. A double-header will be played Thanksgiving Day between the Juniors and Sophomores. The winners of the championship receive ten points towards the cup. Every girl playing in 60 per cent of the games wins a numeral.

MONOGRAM

Fir girls with sportmanship, patience and pep, the monogram stands always ready to be worn. Any girl who shows herself efficient in vari-

(Continued on last page)

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

Please send The Rotunda to the address below, for which I am enclosing one dollar and a half ($1.50) which pays my subscription until June, 1928.

Name _____

Address _____

_____

Send blank to Katherine Hatch, Business Manager of The Rotunda

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

Correct Clothes
For the Round of
College Life

Shoes
Dresses
Hats
Coats
Millinery
Gloves
Underwear
Sweaters
Negligees
And All Necessities

DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

SATURDAY NIGHT SING

Our first Sing at S. T. C. thrilled not only the new girls, but also the old girls because the numbers were unusually good. Blanche Overbey gave several selections on the piano, and then "Liz" Sawyer danced, accompanied on the piano by Lucille Graves. The next number seemed to hold everybody's attention because of its originality, and the skill with which it was given. "Jackie" Woodson and Beulah Jarvis gave an imitation of "Two Black Crows" with some additional, original jokes and sayings. For the last number Etta Marshall sang. This, like the others was good.

Our second Sing pleased the audience no less than the first. Nancy Denit gave some piano selections. Martha Innis danced, Sammy Scott read, and Nancy Nelms sang, accompanying herself on the banjo.

Freshmen! Don't you like Sing? And we have them every Saturday night immediately after supper! We know that you will need no persuasion to come to the rest of them, for they will be equally as good.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Soph. White—"Rat, what are you taking up?"

Rat Rankin—"Space."

Lady—"Are you sure this will grow hair?"

Salesman—"Will it! I spilled some on the oil cloth last night, and this morning it was a rug."—Va. Tech.

"Ma, can I go out an' play?"

"What, Willie? With those holes in your trousers?"

Naw, with the kids across the street.—Va. Tech.

"Where yo' all goin', niggah?"

"Ah's bein' rushed by Tri Kappa."

"What yo' all mean, Tri Kappa?"

"K. K. K. niggah."

Alice W.—"Do you want to go on a sleighing party?"

Virginia G.—"Sure, who are you going to slay?"

Waitress—"Order, please."

Eliz Ferrell—"What's the matter—I'm not making any noise."

Ann P.—"What's your roommate like?"

Pannie—"Most everything I've got."

Hamden—What's that lint all over your coat?"

Sidney—"Oh, that darn sweater you gave your girl sheds."

Julia D.—"What are you doing?"

Millie L.—"Don't bother me. I'm adding up some figures and every time I look at you I put down zero."

Ann D.—"Mabel."

Mabel—"Yes."

Ann D.—"Why does a piston ring?"

Alice C.—"Who invented the hole in the doughnut?"

Grimes—"Some fresh air fiend, I suppose."—College Humor.

Flo—"I just bought a banjo for ten bucks."

Lo—"Must be a tenner banjo."

Helen Myers says some girls leave school because they can't take it with them.

Dot Palmer says a watch on the wrist is worth two on the Rhine.

OPENING DAYS AT S. T. C.

Toot! Toot! The two-forty-nine trains are coming! Did you ever see such a crowd of girls? Old girls, new girls, pretty girls, ugly girls, fat girls, thin girls, every kind and type of girl and all yelling and screaming, and no one being understood.

"Baggage, Miss—quarter!" "Right this way to the Normal School!" These and many other exclamations are heard as the girls throng toward the school. See the freshmen looking first a little scared and wondering what it's all about and if they'll lie through it.

When the girls arrrive at school they must be assigned to rooms. Imagine assigning rooms to nearly eleven hundred girls, the largest number we have ever had. With the aid of the Y. W. C. A. girls, the freshman, six hundred strong, are sent to the right rooms and are made to feel a little more at home.

Next schedules are made, post office boxes rented, the first chapel is held and the new faculty is introduced and commented on.

Finally the dinner bell rings, the girls file in. Cheese! Another school year has begun.

TO THE ALUMNAE

We miss you this year and we know you miss us because we realize that no one can attend S. T. C. without wanting to keep in touch with our Alma Mater as much as possible. That is why we are printing a subscription blank for the Rotunda in this issue. Fill it out and send it to us so you won't miss an issue.

ECHOES FROM BLUE RIDGE

Continued from page one

trial phase of the conference was stressed rather effectively. The student contacts were the most vitalizing to us. The air seemed electric and tense for thinking. Minds touched, opinions clashed or meshed, and new viewpoints were moulded. Truly, that seemed the end of the conference to us—to give it our strongest—and to bring from it that thinking which was unbiased, clear, and future-reaching. Suggestions for the annual, the Rotunda, athletics, Y. W. C. A. tumbled in upon us in such a medley we had to keep our multi-colored notebooks always busy!

There are other pictures we keep seeing, feeling that we want to give you. Singing on the steps of Lee Hall; white columns straight and colossal behind us, the sky behind blue mountain ridges in front of us, and singing on our lips and in our beings. Streams that one never could find the end of their winding ways, mountain laurel and rhododendrun startlingly and palely lovely; the lantern parade of vividly glowing colors; the installation service of white candles in a blue, blue atmosphere; friendships pledged across the steady and glowing light of a candle; healthy ladies climbing, swimming, rowing, living; minds keenly broadening; and hearts wondering if they could steep in enough of blue beauty to keep them so for all time!

We, whom you sent to the mountain-tops, would like to bring you blue-beauty, blue-strength and hill-top height. We can only give you now our sincere thanks for the trust you gave us—that tryst in the Blue Land. Perhaps, the year can tell you some of the things that are lying inarticulate and strangely silent in us now.

ROTUNDA STAFF VACANCIES FOR THE FRESHMEN

The Rotunda is your school paper. Contribute to it. There are five or six vacancies that are being saved for freshmen who have had experience of this type in high school. We can't always find you because your class is so large, but it is easy enough for you to find the Rotunda office in the Student Building. If you would like to "try-out" for the staff any present staff member would be glad to help you.

All contributions or criticisms are appreciated. Write whenever you have something of interest and sign your name to your article. Nothing is accepted that is not signed. The name, however, will not be printed if there is an objection.

Y. W. C. A. SECRETARY

Continued from page 1

connection between their Christian religions and world situation. She expressed the belief that through student activities the day would draw nearer when the Christian idea should be realized. Miss Johnson's talk at vespers on "The Way of the Christian Life" was the most inspirational service of the year. Her life long story, as she told it touched the hearts of all in the audience.

Miss Johnson met with the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, the Student Volunteer group, and talked personally with about fifty girls.

The youth, the faith, the charm of Miss Johnson's personality made an appeal seldom equaled. Her beautiful Christian character left an imprint upon all the girls with whom she talked.

ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

Continued from page three

ous phases of athetics and sportsmanship receives the monogram.

OLD ENGLISH F

Girls receiving four sets of class numerals are given the old English F, and for every additional set of numerals a chevron is awarded.

OTHER SPORTS

Other sports are participated in during the entire year. Class championship games are played in volley ball, basketball and baseball, and the season ends in May with field and track. The class winning in each sport receives ten points towards the class cup and a girl who plays in 60 per cent of the games in each sport receives a numeral. For a numeral in track five points must be made. Out of six sports, there is at least one for every girl. Don't fail to find it.

SPIRIT OF S. T. C.

Continued from page three

see you soon. In case you need anything, I want you to come up to my room, 147, and I'll help you. Now don't forget!"

And then she was gone and I didn't even know her name; but no matter, I felt as if I had one friend already.

We were all herded like sheep into a classroom and were given blanks to fill out. We had to wait several minutes before we got over room number, but in the meanwhile we were all making friends.

And we are still talking and laughing and making friends. It began on the first day; it has been that way ever since—

It's the Spirit of S. T. C.!

—Julia E. Wilson—'29

OVER THE TEACUPS

My dear, I'm all out of breath. I just had to rush up and tell you right away. Phyllis Wood is all broken out. With what? you ask—Why with new clothes. I've just come from her room. She was unpacking her trunk and such clothes!—of course any young lady that spent the summer in Mexico! . . .

Have you seen the bats? Why the place is swarming with them. I do feel sorry and sympathetic because Mary Francis Hatchett is on the committee of persecution and you know her. . . . Did you know Blanche Overbey was wearing a—sh-sh! diamond ring—and an absent-minded in love look. All the other girls look at the ring an' sigh. I wonder why!

Oh, a cup of tea; thank you! and one of those little sandwiches, if you please. There is something about this Farmville air that keeps the groceryman in business and me hungry all the time. Have I seen Mary Rigby since I got back? Yes,, and she grows more like the absent-minded professor every day. The other day she was in class and when Mr. Grainger called the roll she looked up and said "Ma'am?"

Don't you love to see "Bugs" Rivercomb and Dolly Latine "do" their faces when they talk? Its very fascinating to watch. I always wonder what's coming next.

You know Anne Palmer, that sugar-talking girl? Well, she's teaching out in the country and the other day she was teaching her class, and one little boy didn't know his lesson so Anne told him to stay in. After everyone left the little boy spoke up and said, "Miss Palmer, I thought you came to school to learn, but after you get here you get kept in because you don't know." For once Anne had nothing to say to a male.

Do you mean to tell me it's ten minutes to six? Why, I haven't dressed for supper. I must run. Come to see me. I enjoyed the tea. "Goobie."

Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION

The Y. W. C. A. held its annual reception Friday night, September 23 and, as usual, this event is one that will be retained by the freshmen as a good beginning for a successful colleg year. Eech enjoyed the hour because of new friendships, delightful entertainments and good refreshments.

The musical program consisted of a piano solo by Margaret Hubbard; vocal solos by Mildred Kauffman and Alice Davis; a piano solo by Elsa Gudheim and banjo solos by Nancy Nelms.

MR. McCORKLE IS SENIOR CLASS MAN

Mr. T. A. McCorkle was unanimously re-elected at the first meeting of the present senior class as "Class Man" for this year. From past experience the class realizes the value of Mr. McCorkle's advice and friendship.

The senior installation service will probably be held some time this week after which the seniors will march into chapel exercises every Saturday in caps and gowns.

Get Your Needs at

Greenberg's
Department Store

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE GIRLS

We invite your charge account

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor

"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"

Let us Supply Your Wants

Corner Main and High Streets

FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
Phone 221 610 Main St.

AT THE EACO

Thurs.—Joan Crawford and Owen Moore in "The Taxi Dancer" a special production that has been shown here before. Do you know what a taxi dancer is? Well, she's new, she's different. Make her acquaintance. Also Wisecracker comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

Fri. & Sat.—Ramon Novarro and Marceline Day in "The Road to Romance, a brand new special production. The star of "Ben Hur" in his newest film romance. A glorious love story played against the flamorous background of buccaneering days! Novarro in a part that fits him perfectly, as the youth who braved the perils of seven seas because a snorita smiled on him. Adapted from the novel by Joseph Conrad and Ford Maddox Heuffer. Also good comedy. Matinee Friday at 4 o'clock. Two shows Saturday night, first at 7;30, second about 9:15.

Mon., Tues., and Wed.—The Lewis Players with Dick Lewis will play at the theatre. Monday night they will present "So this is Alaska", a comedy drama of the North woods. A play affording each member of the Lewis Players a part calling for talent. It is a great story with comedy galore. Tuesday night they will present "Change Partners", a sure fire farce of great costume play. Wednesday night they will present "The Revelations of a Wife", a mystery play in three acts and a prologue. This play has attracted and pleased large audiences everywhere. You all know the Lewis Players, you all know Dick Lewis so it isn't necessary to go into details about these shows. Shows begin at eight o'clock. All tickets sold at .aco Theatre.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE FRESHMEN

Friendliness Responsibility
Energy
Sincerity
Happiness
Manners
Enthusiasm
Naturalness

SENIOR STUNT
MONDAY

THE ROTUNDA

FACULTY
ISSUE

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1927 Number 2

FRESHMAN SING IS A BIG SUCCESS

Enthusiastic Applause Greets Performance of Rats

The freshmen made their first public appearance at S. T. C. Saturday night when they gave a "Sing" by command of the Sophomores. The performance was directed by four freshmen; Elizabeth Munn, Nancy Nelms, Mary Beasley and Elsie Clements. They gave an entertaining and original Sing which was as follows—

Orchestra Selections .... Directed by Elizabeth Munn.
Song ..... Rena Robertson
Clog Dance ..... Adele Hutchinson
Piano Solos ..... Elsa Godheim
Chorus ..... Twenty-two Girls
Negro Dialect Reading ..... Lillian Sturgis
Reading ..... Elsie Clements
Song ..... Marguerite Foster
Duet ..... Nancy Nelms and Elizabeth Antrim.
Freshie ... Bess Thompson and Jesse Smith.
Orchestra Selections—
Piano ..... Piggy Cuthin
Traps ..... "Bobby" Gleason
Banjo ..... Nancy Nelms
Violin ..... Aurdey Frank
Guitar ..... Francis Guthrie
Gazook—Margaret Foster and Adele Hutchinson
Director ..... Elizabeth Munn

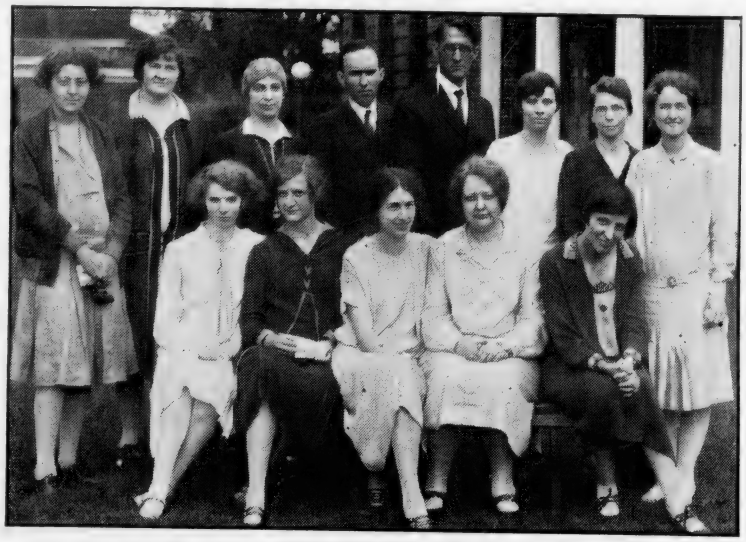
S. T. C. GIRLS ATTEND EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, D. D., of Norfolk, Va., has been conducting a series of evangelistic services at the Presbyterian Church for the past week. The S. T. C. girls have had the privilege of attending his inspiring sermons.

Dr. Thacker conducted the devotional exercises in assembly Thursday morning. He made a beautiful talk on the Twenty-third Pslam, pointing out the verses of contentment, confidence, and courage.

MRS. J. ERNEST THACKER SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

On Friday at the evening vespers Mrs. Thacker, wife of the well-known evangelist, J. Ernest Thacker, who is conducting a series of evangelistic meetings here, gave a most inspiring lecture to an auditorium of four hundred girls.



Mrs. Thacker's dominant personality and charming manner completely won her audience.

Her subject was "The Daughter of the King." Those who were there know of its force, but to those who did not hear Mrs. Thacker we say you have lost an opportunity. The Daughter of the King lived in the twilight of vespers—lived because of words spoken by one who dreamed her.

Sunday afternoon the Baptist Church was crowded with those who did not wish to lose another opportunity of hearing Mrs. Thacker.

Continued on page 3

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Standing—Miss Eggleston, Miss Davis, Miss Super, Dr. Simkins, Mr. Grainger, Miss Pettit, Miss Count, Miss Dickinson.
Sitting—Miss Truitt, Miss Cooper, Miss Browning, Miss Turner, Miss Foster.
Misses Cleaveland, Stone, Stephenson and Kennedy were not present when the picture was taken.

S. T. C. WELCOMES MANY NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

S T. C. welcomes to her campus fourteen new teachers, and three who are returning after absences. The students and faculty extend a hearty welcome to the newcomers.

MR. JAMES M. GRAINGER

We have with us again as the head of our English department Mr. James M. Grainger.

Mr. Grainger came to us in 1910 from the University of North Carolina where he received his M. A. degree and where he served as associate in English.

Mr. Grainger returns to us this year after a year's leave of absence spent at Columbia University. While there Mr. Grainger finished his resident requirement for his Ph. D. degree.

We are glad to have Mr. Grainger with us again.

MISS HELEN M. TURNER

Among the many new additions to our faculty this year is Miss Helen M. Turner, who is to act as head of the Department of Music.

For the past few years Miss Turner has been engaged in teaching and supervision work in various schools throughout the country. Her training in music was received at Cornell University, University of Pennsylvania, and New York University, and she has made a special study of piano and voice under the direction of Charles Lee Tracy in New York

Before coming to our school Miss Turner was an instructor in the music departments at North Tonananda; Franklin, New Jersey, and Ridley Park, Pennsylvania.

Miss Turner hopes to be able to accomplish much in the Glee Club and Choral Club in our school. Her especial interest, however, is in connection with concert and orchestra work. One of the orchestras in the northern part of the United States which was organized and directed by Miss Turner received much recognition and many requests to broadcast over the radio. She is anxious to succeed as well here as she has done in the other schools where she has taught.

DR. FRANCIS SIMKINS

A new addition to our faculty this year is Dr. Francis Simkins, associate in History and Social Sciences. Dr. Simkins is a native of South Carolina and took an A. B. degree at the university of that State. He has also received the degrees of A. M. and Ph. D. at Columbia College, New York. Our new faculty member has traveled in Spain, Portugal, and various countries of Latin America. He has taught at the University of North Carolina and comes to us from Emory College, Georgia.

MISS NANCY FOSTER

Among the new teachers whom we are privileged to welcome to our faculty is Miss Nancy Foster. Miss Foster received her B. A. degree from Mississippi State College for Women, an institution similar to our own S. T. C. After completing her work there she taught high school English for several years. During this time Miss Foster attended the summer session at George Peabody College for Teachers. In 1927 she received her M. A. degre from the University of Virginia. We already feel that we are quite fortunate in having Miss Foster as a member of our English department.

MISS MILDRED DICKINSON

Among the new members of our faculty is Miss Mildred Dickinson. In introducing Miss Dickinson it will be interesting to note that she has been one of us. She received her B. S. degree here in '22, and her name was among the honor graduates. In '23 we find her teaching in Roanoke, Va. The two years following she taught in Porto Rico. Next, we find her at the University of Virginia where she received her M. A. degree last June.—And finally she returns to us again—a member of our English department.

Continued on page two

FACULTY ENJOY THEIR SUMMER VACATIONS

Seek Many Different Diversions During Vacation

With the coming of June and vacation the faculty and students are literally scattered to the four corners of the earth. Because student interest in the faculty does not cease with the school year, this article, giving the notable events during the vacations of our faculty friends is published.

So great is the love of some of our teachers for S. T. C. that we find them continuing their work during the summer session. Mr. and Mrs. Coyner, and Dr. Walmsley were among this number. Later Mr. and Mrs. Coyner vacationed at Asheville, N. C. Miss Taliaferro worked in the classification office here, and attended Columbia University for one term. Mr. McCorkle spent the latter part of the summer working on our schedules. During the first part of his vacation Mr. McCorkle lectured in the western part of Virginia.

Many of our teachers taught in other colleges. Miss Pauline Camper and Miss Helen Draper taught at Roanoke College, Salem, Va.; Miss von Schilling at University of Virginia; Miss Grenels did demonstration teaching at Penn State College,

Continued on page3

CHANGES SINCE LAST SPRING

Will S. T. C. ever stop growing? Will Dr. Jarman ever stop making it more beautiful? With each new improvement those of us who have been here for one, two or three years, and have seen the changes which occur ever so often, look with wonder on every little thing and ask each other how he does it all.

Starting with the campus, if any girl has failed to look out of a back window and see our new road curving around, then she has missed something. It looks practical and serviceable during the day, but it looks very beautiful under white moonlight.

Then there's the Tea Room! Of course we've all noticed that. How could any girl with ever a thought of doing any interior decorating (and they say we all have those thoughts) fail to see the soft gray walls, the colorful draperies and the gaily painted chairs of our newly decorated tea room?

Don't we all feel a thrill of pride when we see the office suite of our president? We'll let you freshmen in on a little secret. You'll never guess that Dr. Jarman's new waiting room evolved from our old faculty room, would you? Well, it did, and isn't it so much nicer now?

Have you noticed that we have heard no familiar complaints from Whitehouse Hall about the scratched soiled walls? No wonder we haven't

(Continued on last page.)

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE McDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EVELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

FACULTY AND STUDENTS

Just what relationship exists between the faculty and the students in our college? May this relationship be characterized by an air of restraint and an impenetrable barrier impossible to dissolve? Or does there exist a feeling of friendly helpfulness and a desire to enter into our school activities? The Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors will agree that a feeling of comraderie maintains itself that is unusual in most of our colleges. Perhaps just at first these new members of our college family, who are just beginning to come under the influences and personalities of our faculty, fail to realize the fact that at S. T. C. we count the members of the faculty among our msot valued friends. In our classes we are considered as individuals with an individual's right to self expression, and we are not as you might suppose, lost in the mob. Our thoughts and differences of opinion are respected by our instructors and always we find them eager to help either personally or professionally.

THE MANTLE OF SERVICE

Friday night Mrs. Thacker gave a very wonderful talk at prayers. In it she described "a daughter of the King, all glorious within". Upon her she placed the snow white mantle of service. Inspired by her words, all of us wished that we might have such a mantle upon our shoulders and wondered if there was one who wore it. There it one among us who is always serving. She does not publish the fact, but day after day over a thousand girls demand her time and energy. She gives of the best she has, unselfishly and abundantly. Those whom she is serving sometimes do not even realize her work and efforts. This is because her service is given quietly with no display, but constantly and beautifully.

We are set a worthy example and there are few of us who would not strive to live up to it. Are we not fortunate in having such an example? We appreciate the fact that we have Miss Mary White Cox to giude us and help us. It is she, among us, who has always worn the snow white mantle of unselfish service.

S. T. C. Welcomes New Faculty Members

Continued from page 1

MISS ELIZABETH EGGLESTON

Miss Elizabeth Eggleston, a new associate on our English faculty, comes to Farmville after teaching a year at Winthrop College in South Carolina. She hasheld teaching opsitions at Chatham Institute and Worsham High School. She graduated from Sweet Briar College, has attended summer sessions at Harvard and at William and Mary, and was a teaching fellow at Syracuse University. For two years she studied at Oxford University, England, where, in August, 1926, she received a B. A. dgree in the Honor School of English. Because of her experiences studying and traveling abroad Miss Eggleston's classes appear unusually promising.

MISS PHILOMENA SUPER

Miss Philomena Super succeeds Miss Blanche Graham as a member of our faculty in the department of Health Educatoin and Anatomy. Miss Super is a graduate of Saint Josephs Hospital in Philadelphia, which is a training school for nurses. Miss Supper received her A. B. degree from the University of Denver, and her M. A. from Teachers College, Columbia University. Before coming to us she was engaged as an instructor in Public Health Nursing and Social Service work.

MISS OLIVE B. COUNTS

Miss Olive B. Counts is another new member of the faculty, and we are glad to welcome her as our librarian. She comes to S. T. C. from Prosperity, S. C. to take the place of Miss Sarah MacDonald. We are fortunate in securing the services of Miss Counts as she has had experience in library work, and we are confident that the S. T. C. library will have a very successful year under her guidance. Miss Counts received both her B. S. and M. A. degrees from Columbia College, Columbia, S. C. She was a teacher in the Preparatory School at Columbia for a time; then she taught in the public schools at various places in South Carolina. Miss Counts again returned to Columbia College where she served as an assistant in English until she accepted the position as librarian in the same college. Later she took courses in Library Science at the University of South Carolina. Miss Counts also attended Carnegie School, Atlanta, Ga., where she was graduated last year.

MISS LUCY DAVIS

When we think of the members of our faculty this year we almost fail to include Miss Lucy Davis among those classed as "new". So closely was she associated with the mathematics department last year that we felt that she indeed was a part of it.

Miss Davis received her diploma here in nineteen hundred and seventeen, and since that time has been teaching in various localities of the State, holding positons both as assistant principal and as principal. Meanwhile she attended for several summers, the University of Virginia.

Miss Davis received her Bachelor of Science degree in our college last June, and is planning to continue work on a Master of Science degree in the near future, perhaps next year.

MISS MARY F. PETTIT

Miss Mary F. Pettit comes from Roseland, Va. After finishing high school there she came to Farmville for two years, then went to Duke University where she received her A. B. degree. After this she attended Columbia University where she received her M. A. Then she taught in Birmingham, Alabama, and from there she comes to us. We are glad to have Miss Pettit and we are sure she wil prove an excellent addition to our History department.

MISS GEORGIANA STEPHENSON

Most of Miss Georgiana Stephenson's early education was under the guidance of private teachers. Her first teaching experience was in a one room school.

In 1903 Miss Stephenson came to Farmville where she received a diploma. In September, 1906 she went to Covington, Va. where she taught the eighth grade for eleven years. During the two succeeding years she was teacher of Government and History at Johnson City, Tenn. She was principal of the Waterman's School at Harrisonburg, Va. from 1919 to 1924. Since then Miss Stephenson has attended Columbia University one year, taught at Columbia S. C. one year, and spent the school term of 1926-27 studying again at Farmville.

Now in the year of 1927-28 we, the students of Farmville extend to her a hearty welcome, as a new member of our faculty.

MISS MARGARET KENNEDY

Among the new members of our faculty is Miss Katherine Kennedy who comes to us after having taught in Prince Edward County, and in Fredericksburg for several years. Miss Kennedy's native state is Minnesota, and she attended Macalester College in St. Paul. Since then, she has attended summer schools at the University of Virginia and at our own State Teachers College. Miss Kennedy is now assistant to Mr. McCorkle in the Chemistry department, and a supervisor in the Training School.

Welcome, Miss Kennedy, into our midst! We are glad to have you.

MISS KATHERINE D. CLEAVELAND

We are glad to welcome to our faculty, Miss Katherine Douglas Cleaveland, who is a graduate of State Normal School, San Diego, California. She has also attended Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee; Summer School at the University of Maine, and Chautauqua Institute, Chautauqua, New York. Her former experience has been in Colorado, where she did grade work.

The rural school at Worsham is exceedingly fortunate in obtaining Miss Cleaveland as its supervisor.

MISS FLEETA COOPER

We are glad to welcome Miss Fleeta Cooper back to our faculty after a leave of absence on account of illness. Miss Cooper formerly supervised at Rice and is now a supervisor of History n the Training School.

Continued on page3

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches--
Phone 110 — Third St.

WADE'S
Visit our PARLOR for best
DRINKS and SANDWICHES
In Town!
WADES

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

AUTUMNAL NIGHTS --

A thousand winged things are on
October's breeze;
A thousand tiny, furry things
That fell, last night
From weeds and trees.
And now they drift, like tiny planes,
Skyward, and back to earth again,
To lie in somber shroud,
Until the thawing ground, in spring,
Shall wake the slumbering, vital
spark,
And from the tomb bring forth a living thing!

M. H.—'30

DREAMING

Whispering wind of the springtime
Softly blowing,
Lifting the leaves of the poplar
Lightly, lightly,
Wafting the fragrance of wild cherry blossoms
To me in the twilight
I linger yet in the garden
Dreaming—dreaming—

• • •

The thin crescent moon is a dream
Too lovely and young to be true
Am I to dream thus forever—
Just to go on dreaming of you?

J. W.—'29

NOSTAGALIA

Black shadows—
And outside the rain is an elegy
Drifting tears,
Moaning with heartbreak,
Through a night
As hopeless as Eternity.

M. B. B.—'31

A PRINCESS PASSES

Sunlight across the grass
Is a pathway for your feet,—
And over your head the woodthrush
Carols a herald sweet;—
And the rose bends yearningly closer
To touch you as you pass,
Your joyous face uplifted
As you walk o'er our garden grass.

M. B. B.—'31

TO THE ONES WHO PASS—OBLIVIOUS

O, blind of the earth
Can you not see
The living grace
Of a dying tree?

In the early morn
Do you not care
When the song of a bird
Thrills the dewy air?
Do you not hear
What the flowers say
When as their lover winds touch
They tremble and sway?

When on the twilight sky
The limb of a tree
Is etched for a moment,
Do you not see?

Oh, I pity the blind
Who can neither hear nor see
The song of a bird, or the love of a flower
Or the picture of a tree.

M. B. B.—'31

Yesterday is dead; forget it. To-morrow has not come, don't worry, but remember it. Today is here—use it.

DRAMATIC CLUB ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

The Dramatic Club wishes to announce the following new members—

Seigburn Hayatt
Julia Davis
Elsie Clements
Elizabeth Turner
Jane Hunt Martin
Irene Stone
Virginia Pedigrew
Nettie Boynton
Mary Ellen Cato
Margaret Pumphrey
Mary Duncan
Mable Yantcy Brookin
Frances Steele
Virginia Walker

NEW MEMBERS OF THE CHORAL CLUB

The Choral Club takes pleasure in announcing the following new members—

First Soprano

Elizabeth Carver
Virginia Cogbill
Marion Cole
Anne Deffenbaugh
Mattie Doyle
Lois Fraser
Juanita Gray
Mignonne Griggs
Mildred Holleman
Jennie Jones
Isabell MacDonald
Hazel Ramsey
Sarah Rowthbatham
Elizabeth Sawyer
Virginia Spain
Doris Steere
Lola Tisdale
Kathleen Townes

Second Soprano

Pauline Aderholt
Bertha Beazley
Elizabeth Bryant
Josephine Burger
Mildred Coffman
Margaret Cousins
Louise Currie
Mary Duncan
Midred Goodman
Frances Haden
Gwendolyn Hardy
Mable Hayes
Elva Humphries
Helen Johnson
Virginia Keister
Virginia Marshall
Gretchen Obershein
Dorothy Palmer
Nettie Rodgers
Frances Sutton
Virginia Thompson
Nellie White
Phyllis Wood

Altos

Etta Camden
Lucille Campbell
Beulah Jarvis
Louise McCormick

CABINET MORNING WATCH

On Thursday morning the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet held their morning watch serivce in "the meadow."

The party left school about six o'clock and climbed the hill behind the new hospital. There, a large camp fire was built over which a delightful breakfast was prepared.

Devotionals were led by "Jack" Woodson. After a very impressive prayer the Cabinet started on their return journey, arriving at school at eight o'cock.

MARGARET FINCH IS SECRETARY Y. W. C. A.

Margaret Finch was elected secretary of the Y. W. C. A. for this year in place of Annie Mae Ellis who did not return to school. Margaret has made her record at S. T. C. before and because of her known ability we are sure that she will make a success of this place.

MISS WHEELER HOSTESS TO MU OMEGA SORORITY

Last Wednesday afternoon Miss Leola Wheeler entertained the girls of Mu Omega Sorority with a delightful tea. Miss Wheeler's teas are always looked forward to with keen anticipation and this one made the girls forget that they were only about two blocks from school.

Mu Omega sorority takes pleasure in announcing "Jackie" Woodson as a new member.

FACULTY ENJOY THEIR SUMMER VACATIONS

Continued from page 1

Pennsylvania. At the close of summer school she visited Niagara and New York. Miss Craddock and Miss Coulling taught at Emory and Henry College. Miss Davis and Miss Hiner taught one term at State Teachers College, Greenville, N. C. Then Miss Davis spent eight weeks with friends on long Island.

Miss Waters spent one month in Tennessee, one month in New York, and two weeks in Colorado, probably testing the veracity of the geography texts.

For two weeks Miss Wheeler traveled through New York for the New York Tribune. The rest of the summer she was in New York City, taking in all the theatres had to offer, we may be sure.

Miss Bugg and Miss Iler worked and played together. They worked as faculty members of Chautauqua Institution, Chautauqua Lake, N. Y. They played while motoring to Boston and Cape Cod.

Mr. Jeffers spent the summer at Raleigh, Newfoundland, doing research work for the Biology Board of Canada. Miss Meredith, after attending Blue Ridge Conference went to Radford Teachers College to teach. At the close of the summer, we find these two meeting in Richmond, and returning to S. T. C. as Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers.

Miss Haynes attended Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. Misses Carter, Taliaferro, Barlow, and Penney were at Columbia for summer courses.

Miss Mary P. Jones remained the entire summer at her home in Florence, Ala. Miss Vaughan also spent her vacation at her home in Amherst.

Miss Barnes was abroad for two months. She traveled through Italy, France, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland, and England. During her visit to England Miss Barnes attended the first term of summer session at Oxford University.

Miss Norris spent several weeks at Myrtle Beach, S. C., after attending the University of South Carolina for six weeks.

MRS. J. ERNEST THACKER SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Continued from page one

Her address was on the "Human Touch," that vital essential that creates a perfect home, community, and world.

We are fortunate in having Mrs. Thacker in our communtiy and we appreciate the interest she has shared in the girls of the college.

Come out for tennis and hockey!

Many speak of their rights, but few of their duty.

Good work advertises itself.

A WEEK OF ATHLETICS

During the past week athletic enthusiasm reach a high point and appears to be rapidly rising.

TENNIS

Fifty girls have entered the tennis tournament, being probably the largest number of contestants in the history of tennis at S. T. C. Finals will be played off next week, just as soon as the preliminary games are over.

HOCKEY

Large numbers of girls have been coming out for hockey at every practice and there are bright prospects of two very fast and exciting games for Thanksgiving Day. The schedule for hockey practices is being changed each week, in order to get all other practices in. Watch the bulletin board for the schedule which will be posted there each week and after seeing the schedules, come out and play!

BASKETBALL

The first call for basketball came Monday at five o'clock when all beginners were called together for instruction. This meeting was for the benefit of those girls who have never played before, but who feel that they would like to learn. Practices will be held each week from now on until the end of the basketball season.

So—Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors—come out for practice, support your classes and your colors, and keep the "pep" of the athletic thermometer up to its one hundred per cent mark!

S. T. C. WELCOMES NEW FACULTY

Continued from page 2

MISS ANNIE LAURIE STONE

We are glad to welcome another of our own girls, Miss Annie Laurie Stone, into the faculty of S. T. C. Miss Stone is not a stranger to many of us as she, for the past two sistant Supervisor at John Randolph. This winter she is taking Miss Bierbower's place as Grammar Grade Supervisor of this same school. Miss Stone comes to us efficiently prepared, having received her education at S. T.C. and through summer courses at Columbia.

MISS ELIZABETH TRUITT

Miss Truitt comes to us from the Eastern Shore of Virginia. To quote Dr. Jarman, she is one of "our own girls." She was recommended for her present position by Miss Millican, Head of the Industrial Arts Department. Prior to her four years at S. T. C. Miss Truitt attended the Dickenson Seminary at Williamsport, Pa., and studied music in Albany, N. Y. We are proud to welcome Miss Truitt back into our ranks.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Grenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs
and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat
and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

Correct Clothes
For the Round of
College Life
Shoes
Dresses
Hats
Coats
Millinery
Gloves
Underwear
Sweaters
Negligees
And All Necessities
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Craft—"Do you like college?"
Massey—"Yes, as an object of conversation in my home town."

G. Parker—"Why are football men so hard?"
L. Marshall—"Probably because they play on the gridiron."

J. Woodson—"What was the name of that show?"
G. Hardy—"I beg your pardon!"
J. Wodson—"I say, what was the name of that show?"
G. Hardy—"I beg your pardon!"
J. Woodson—"Oh, I beg your pardon."

"Lady, please help me recover my child."
"Dear me, is he lost?"
"No lady, but his clothes are all worn out."

B. White—"What's on your mind?"
P. Wood—"Thoughts."
B. White—"Treat 'em kindly, they are in a strange place."

B. Paris—"Did you hear about George? He got Phi Beta Kappa?"
F. Lewis—"What's that? Some Green station?"

Barber—"Trying to raise a mustache, are you sonny?"
Willie—"Well—er—you see, it's this way—after cutting my hair I want you barbers to say, "Thank you sir," instead of "Thank you Miss."

KUTE COLLEGE KIDS

Red says when Cupid hits the mark he generally Mrs. it.

Gurley says a woman never knows what she can do until she cries.

Rat Griffin says the old fashioned girl makes good material for song writers, but the modern one gets invited to the party.

Webber says late to bed and early to rise makes a college girl sleepy but wise.

AUNT CINTHIE-- REMONSTRATES

When walking through the campus,
I saw a curious sight—
Maidens with their hair slicked back,
And dressed in middies white.

I thought, sure this cannot be true,
Their faces from rouge so free!
The powder and the lip stick,
Have taken flight I see.

Why surely I am dreaming
Of an age that has gone by;
I paused to meditate awhile—
To shake my head, and sigh.

Then I saw another girl
Dressed different from the rest.
"Rat go make my bed," she said,
"And do your very best!"

Ah! 'tis plain as it can be.
I had been quite a fool.
For this was not Utopia
But Freshmen new at school!

—V. Walker

GILLIAM'S ENLARGED

Girls have you seen Gilliam's? Would you have ever recognized it? One old girl walked in, looked around and said, "Pardon me, I must be in the wrong place; do you know where Mr. Gilliam has moved his store?" What's changed? Why he has enlarged it, only six feet, but oh, what a difference it made! It is no longer the little store we left last June. There's so much extra room. Now when girls fly over all out of breath between classes and want a sandwich and Coca Cola, they have plenty of room to digest it. No longer on Saturday night will it be so crowded we can hardly breathe. There's room for the old girls and the freshmen too, whose feet just naturally get the habit of turning toward Gilliam's at all hours of the day.

"There's 'eats' for the old
There's 'eats' for the new
There's 'eats' for me
And 'eats' for you."

And with the enlarged store is an enlarged heart, where S. T. C. girls may find a spot that is refuge from worries and cares and where you may larger and larger grow.

MIDDIES AND SKIRTS

If an old grad should suddenly descend into our midst, no doubt, she'd feel entirely at home. One can almost hear her remark, "O it's just like the old days. Why I had no idea college girls of today wore middies and skirts. The skirts are shorter than they were when I wore them, but the dear old middy blouses are just the same!"

Anyone would think we had "reverted to type" to see the numerous girls rushing around with a costume on, long ago consigned to gym classes exclusively.

Don't we see a variety? As the old grad would say the blouses are much the same, but look at the skirts! Blue ones, black ones, tan, green, yellow, red, just every color. Some are long and tight, others pleated, some rather crumpled, others trim. Fifty-seven varieties wouldn't begin to classify them. Then there are the ties. They're all black, but look at the sizes. A tiny little girl rushes by with quite an imposing black sailor's knot. Then here will come a tall, slim specimen with a black bow so small that it looks more like a boudoir pillow bow than a middy tie. One little freshman, who no doubt has no separate skirt, triumphantly wears her blouse over a bright green dress. The fact that the dress is high necked and the blouse low, seems to bother her not at all.

Even seniors look on the work of the sophomores and feel very "sophomorish." The best part of it all is that most every where we see a middy we see a smile. We're all proud of their sportsmanship and we're tempted to hand them back the compliment they gave the president of their sister class Saturday night, "Ain't they sweet?"

FRENCH CIRCLE HAS FIRST MEETING

The first meeting of the French Circle was held after dinner on Wednesday, October 5th. The only business attended to was the election of officers for the coming year. The selection of these girls forecasts a good year for the organization.

President	Catherine Bentley
Vice-President	Marjorie Codd
Secretary	Louise Vaughan
Treasurer	Frances Brightwell
Reporter	Harriet Booker

A FRESHMAN SAYS:

"It's terribly funny to me that we have to buy 'rat' caps! The Sophomores say they can't recognize us unless we wear those dinky little old things. Yet, how's this? They always say they can recognize a freshman by her 'green and frightened mein.' Then I'd like to know what's the use of two signs of recognition!!

"I'll confess I'm pretty green though I can't say I'm frightened, and I don't mind being called a 'rat' or a 'freshie', because—that's what I am, but I'll tell you exactly what I do hate about this 'rat' cap business; it's the forty cents!!!

"When you've got a mother who said, 'Now daughter, remember this is your allowance for this month, and you will not get another check before next month. Don't spend your money for unnecessary things,' and she looked very severe! Is a 'rat' cap necessary?

"Wouldn't forty cents come in good when there's a dandy picture on Saturday night at the movies, and after buying the 'rat' cap, there is only fifteen cents left? Now, I want to ask you, wouldn't that make you mad even if you are a Junior, a Senior or a———Sophomore??"

A Freshman

WEAR THAT RAT CAP!

How foolish it is for a freshman to ask why she is forced to wear a rat cap? Is it not customary for all rats to wear caps?

That little blue and white creation perched on the side of your head thoroughly does away with the air of sophistication which so many of you freshmen are trying so hard to assume. It keeps you from displaying an over abundance of freshness.

As for the pecuniary side of the question—I'm sure if Dad would see you with blue and white colors flying from that precious head of yours, he would send the forty cents without delay.

Freshmen, before making further complaints about rat caps, remember the old saying that "little girls should be seen and not heard."

THE SOPHOMORES

COMING—SENIOR STUNT

Stop for the Senior stunt! Look for the chorus's! Listen to the music! It's coming, the biggest stunt of the year. The whole Senior class is participating in it. Chorus's, a ragtime court scene, vaudeville; everything you could wish for in line of fun and frolic and to make an evening complete. One last fling before the installation of the Seniors. Come and see them as they really are before they put on that traditional air of dignity. Come Monday night, the seventeenth, and prepared for a jolly good time.

MR. T. A. McCORKLE -- RETURNS TO S. T. C.

At last the S. T. C. girl feels completely at home. Mr. T. A. McCorkle, a beloved member of our faculty, has returned to resume his duties, after having been absent on account of sickness. We have missed him greatly during our attempts to get settled. The new girls, too, have been deprived of one of the most precious recollections of S. T. C., for the first impression of our college is not complete without the familiar smile and cheery words of Mr. McCorkle. We are glad to welcome him back.

Come out for tennis and hockey!

THE FRESHMEN'S RESPONSE

If all the freshmen read the first issue of The Rotunda then we should feel more satisfied and contented with our new home. After the welcome expressed in the school paper along with the entire student body's interest in us, we ar going to settle down and do great things.

Everyone will have to admit that the first few days of college life as a freshman are hard, but after we get into the spirit of it—gee! but it's great. A remark common among the freshmen is—

"If I ever get to be an upper classman I will never forget how a "rat" feels," and we meant it too—for when an elder student smiled or spoke as we passed them, it sure made us feel good.

Freshmen, have you noticed the different organizations open to us? The Dramatic Club, Choral Club, Debating Society, Literary Society, Tennis, Hockey, etc. Let's join in and work. Then we won't have time to get homesick and blue.

A Freshman

OUR FRESHMEN

What a loss it would be, if suddenly the freshman class would vanish! Yes, the student body would have a rather vacant feeling. In fact, it would be a spineless affair, because the freshman class is the backbone of S. T. C. A class that makes up half of the student body must necessarily feel its importance—and so we find the newcomers, important beyond words. We are glad though that we have a wide-awake bunch to work with. They are enthusiastically interested in all of the school activities. Already we are feeling the effect of their presence on the athletic field.

To the old students the freshmen mean new life. Some of their vitality have put new vigor into our organizations. The willingness of the class to help in any way has made an impression on the upper classes. Those that have had direct contact with the class know how responsive it is.

Freshmen, the upper classes are looking to you for support. Success this year depends upon you. We feel that our faith in you is more than justified.

FORMER S. T. C. GIRL HIGHLY HONORED

Miss Adrienne Richards, a former S. T. C. girl and member of the Rotunda staff, has made her Alma Mater proud of her. Miss Richards was winner of the Visitors and Governors Medal for the session of 1926-27 at Washington College, Chestertown, Maryland. This medal is awarded annually to the member of the Junior class, Washington College, who makes the highest average during the school year.

CHANGES SINCE LAST SPRING

(Continued from page one)

for the walls have been beautifully done over and new light fixtures put in.

The new paint on the columns at the main entrance is another improvement which adds much to the appearance of the school.

We all appreciate these things which add to our comfort and pleasure. Let us hope that the girls entering next fall will find everything still as lovely as it is now and not marred by careless hands.

Get Your Needs at

Greenberg's
Department Store

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE GIRLS

We invite your charge account

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor

"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"

Let us Supply Your Wants

Corner Main and High Streets

FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
Phone 221 610 Main St.

AT THE EACO

Mon.—"Lightning" a vivid picturization of the Zane Gray story with a brilliant cast and a remarkable performing house. It is a special production. The story of a magnificent horse, his defiance of his enemy, Man. And how through his courting of "Bess" was snared and domesticated. The romance of two men from the West and a couple of cabaret singers. Also Pathe News and a comedy. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

Tues.—Pete Morrison in "Bucking the Truth". Do you love an exciting Western picture? Then don't miss Pete's latest—the most marvelous exhibition of horsemanship ever shown on the screen. Assisted by his famous horse—"Lightning," the wonder horse. Also comedy.

Wed.—Lon Chaney, Allan Hale, Dagmar Godowsky, Irene Rich and others in "The Trap". A special production. A miracle picture of conflicting emotions. A tortured soul in the grip of a seven year hate. A picture of a man who was caught in his own trap. Also comedy and Aesop Fable. Matinee at 4 o'clock. S. T. C. girls admission price 25c to each show, if tickets are gotten at college.

Come to matinees and save 10c and with each 25c matinee ticket purchased at theatre, we give a ticket good for a free drink at Shannon's or Capp's.

MISS ALMA BROWNING

State Teachers College girls are glad to welcome Miss Alma Browning back as supervisor of the sixth grade after a year's absence while attending Peabody College at Nashville, Tennessee. Miss Browning did demonstration work in the fourth grade at this school during the past year.

Jack—"Have you heard the new swan song?"
Will—"Why, no."
Jack—"Ha, that's swan on you."
—Va. Reel.

THE ROTUNDA

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1927 Number 3

SENIOR STUNT PRESENTED MONDAY NIGHT

First Senior Performance a Big Success

On Monday night, the 17th, after prayers, the senior class presented a delightful program which combined musical revue numbers and burlesque with comedy and tragedy.

The opening chorus, consisting of a number of girls and our own S. T. C. "boys," initiated the audience in the rythmn of one of the latest song hits, "Under the Moon." Our old favorite, "A Tragedy in Three Acts," which was accepted with as much enthusiasm as ever, was followed by a second chorus telling you exactly how to ascertain that "It's a Million to One You're in Love!" The audience thoroughly enjoyed the burlesque that succeeded this number for it recognized many of the most dignified members of the senior class as characters in the courtroom scene. One of the most popular numbers on the program was a skit giving a supposedly true and intimate crosss-section of Hampden-Sidney life, even to the entrance of "Cousin Tommy." One feels sure that the audience went away with the feeling that the seniors are as clever as they are studious and not half as serious as one would suppose.

The senior class wishes to thank all girls who helped to make the Senior Stunt a success and especially Beulah Jarvis, Lucille Graves and Nancy Nelms.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

Literary societies are organizations that no school could well do without. They occupy a place that is unique. This is true of the two literary societies at Farmville, the Ruffner and the Cunningham.

They have a real purpose in College life, thus their existence is justified. It is their purpose to develop all who are members, in a literary way, to give them opportunity to express their literary interests, to gain poise and ease of language, and to grow in an appreciation of the best in literature.

This purpose was emphasized in the joint program of the two societies last Wednesday night. The Cunningham presented a series of lifelike reproductions of famous paintings. The Ruffner showed the various phases of its work in Shakespearean setting. Chris Royall in an impersonation of the Spirit of Literature, concluded the program.

The remainder of last week, the societies put on a membership campaign. Membership boxes were placed in the halls and many students showed a live interest in them. Interesting program are being planned for the coming year.

BRAZILIAN ADMINSTRATOR STUDIES S. T. C.

During the week-end Ansiro L. Teixeina, of Bahia, Brazil, made a study of S. T. C. He was sent to Farmville by Dr. des Manzo, director of the International Institute of Columbia University, and Miss Mabel Carney, also of Columbia, who selected Farmville as one of the best teacher training colleges in the United States. Mr. Teixeira, director of instruction of Brazil, is studying teacher training institutes in this country, so that he may improve educational facilties in his own country. His especial interest is in rural elementary education.

Mr. Teixeira inspected our buildings and visited several classes on Saturday. Monday he inspected the training school at Prospect and observed student teaching. He was interested in our departments of drawing, industrial arts and home economics, because of their practical value.

Mr. Teixeira was impressed with the freedom of the girls in American colleges as contrasted with Brazilian girls, who are never permitted to leave their chaperone. He found Americans almost too thoughtless and impulsive in action, whereas he said that his own countrymen are too meditative and slow to move.

VARIED LYCEUM COURSE OFFERED THIS YEAR

We, at S. T. C. are fortunate this year in having an entertainment course which includes only the best numbers that could be obtained for college girls. These entertainments have not only been carefully selected, but have also been arranged so that we will have various types throughout the year.

Every girl at S. T. C. should make good this opportunity to attend every entertainment, for all the numbers will be of some real benefit and will be well worth the time spent.

The year's entertainment course is as follows—

October 18—"Cotter's Saturday Night."

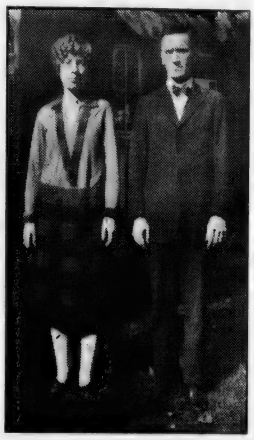
October 20—M. H. H. Joachim, (Lecture).

November 19—Renee Chemet, (Music).

-November 22—Capt. Roald Amundsen, (Lecture).

January 24—Sue Hasting's Marionettes.

February —Sir Cecil Roberts, (Lecture).



February 14—Russian Cathedral Quartette.

February —Glee Club Concert.

March 13—Walter McNally and Sorelle, (Music).

April —Dramatic Club Play.

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT AND CLASS MAN

Miss Virginia Updike and Mr. T. A. McCorkle

PRESENTATION OF SENIOR CLASS MAN

On Saturday morning, October 15, the seniors marched in chapel for the first time this year. It was a most elevated and delightful feeling that the seniors experienced marching down the aisle in cap and gown following in the wake of the class president and Mr. McCorkle, the class man. Dignity is a word which does not express the quality of feeling experienced, "elation" more nearly expresses it. Mr. McCorkle was presented to the assembly as the senior man by Virginia Updike.

SENIOR CLASS WELCOMES NEW MEMBERS

In our midst on the night of our first class meeting we found a few strange faces. But those faces are no longer strange so pronounced has been their interest and loyal spirit. In order that they may be well aware of our appreciation and ever mindful of our delight in having them, we take this opportunity to welcome again the new members to the senior class.

These new members are—

Harriet Elizabeth Brown
Virginia Bull
Margaret Crawley
Edith May Marshall
Mary Bailey Watkins

JACKIE WOODSON DEDICATES PRAYER WEEK

Jackie Woodson, freshman counselor, led Sunday evening vespers, the first service of freshman week of prayers. The purpose of the service was the dedication of the freshman class to the altar of worship in our college. Three candles burned on the altar, the symbols of the faith of the three upper classes. From these was lighted the new candle, the symbol of the freshmen. The

(Continued on last page.)

PRESIDENT McKENNEY SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

RECOGNITION SERVICE OF THE Y. W. C. A.

One of the most impressive ceremonies at S. T. C. is the Y. W. C. A. recognition Tuesday night. The solemnity, the candle light, the lovely strains of "Follow the Gleam," and "Pannie's" inspiring message all blended together to make the spirit of Y. W. C. A. so real that we could feel it about us. The new members lighted their candles from those of the cabinet, and, then, headed by the cabinet, they marched out singing "Follow the Gleam," and formed a circle on the campus.

They raised their candles, like myriads of stars, to the skies, because God loves candles, and all they signify. Then, they lowered them across their hearts, because we love candles, and all they signify.

New members of the Y. W. C. A., the cabinet welcomes you, and wishes for you a year full of joy and service through the Y. W. C. A.

SENIORS INSTALLED

On Friday night, October fourteenth, the class of '28, to the tune of the Alma Mater, marched slowly down the aisle of the auditorium with their little sisters and became full fledged seniors, for they can now wear the cap and gown. After Dr. Jarman had installed every senior he gave them a talk on senior dignity and mediocrity. Dr. Jarman told them that some were born with dignity and some acquired it, but it was very necessary that a senior have dignity. Inspired by his takl the whole senior class made a silent promise toc ultivate poise and to be something more than a mediocre student. Following the talk Mae Marshall sang Berceuse from Jocelyn by Goddard. The recessional was played and the seniors marched out with a dignity that could not be surpassed.

THE VIRGINIAN

Girls! Have you become excited about The Virginian? You remember how fine it was last year. Well, its going to be even better this year.

The staff members have made great plans for it. But they alone can't make it succeed. They need the "cooperation" of the whole student body of this college. Play your part and back it up. Let's make it a true Virginian, one that we'll all be proud of!

Sarting with October appointments for pictures can be made by signing up on the bulletin board. Pictures will be taken by Mr. Ogden beginning Wednesday, October 19. Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen are asked to leave Saturday appointments for seniors.

The first picture costs $1.65, extra cuts 25 cents each.

Students Are Interested in "Phil-osophy of Life"

Last Wednesday morning at essembly Dr. Charles McKenney spoke on "The Philosophy of Life." Dr. McKenney is president of Ypsilante State Normal College, Ypsilante, Michigan, and chairman of the committee of the American Association of Teachers Colleges.

Dr. McKenney briefly sketeched the history of civilization. "The secret of modern civilization," he said, "is the scientific method." If all that civilization has brought to us were sudednly swept away, we would rise again, provided that the attitude of open-mindedness and the method of scientific research and experimentation were saved.

Dr. McKenney visited S. T. C. for the purpose of studying our college; its buildings and equipment, organization, training schools, library, curriculum, methods of teaching and the spirit of the college. Dr. McKenney is making a study of all state supported colleges, as part of the survey of state schools which is in progress in Virginia. Dr. Jarman was well pleased that Dr. McKenney was selected to visit the colleges, because he is a man of wide experience and sound judgment. After hearing Dr. McKenney, the student body added its approval to Dr. Jarman. We found in Dr. McKenney a speaker of ability and a gentleman of rare personality.

MISS MARY WHITE COX SPEAKS TO STUDENT BODY

Last Monday evening after prayers Miss Mary White Cox talked to the upper-classmen about the general spirit that she wished to pervade the school and about the ways in which they could develop and promote this same spirit.

Miss Mary said that since the day of the arrival of the girls at S. T. C. she had carefully observed and studied their various needs and she brought to the attentin of the girls those points in which they seemed weakest. The entire talk seemed to be the result of careful investigation and prompted by keen interest on the part of Miss Mary. On Tuesday Miss Mary repeated her talk to the freshmen. It is hoped that the girls will profit by the essential things Miss Mary called to mind on that occasion.

Y. W. C. A. NEWS NOTES

Miss Florence Booton has been appointed chairman of the alumnae committee of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Rosalind Harrell, president of the Y. W. C. A., 1926-1927, visited S. T. C. the past week-end, and led the devotional exercise at cabinet meeting She also led morning watch on Sunday morning.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 ..... EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 ..... MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

SENIORS

Seniors have so much to be proud of—so much for which to really be thankful. They have at last ascended to the realm of seniorhood, a goal that all have strived toward for three years, a title that is spoken of almost with reverence by lower-classmen. Seniorhood is a lower-classman's aspiration and now there are seventy-five aspirants who have lately climbed one step higher and are now the wearers of the senior cap and gown. They seem a little different; they seem to have acquired a distinctive air of superior individuality. They have now assumed every dignity that becomes a senior and they rightly deserve every senior recognition.

Some may ask,—"What recognition is due a senior by lower classmen?" The answer seems to be so understood, so taken for granted that it is never listed. Yet, those little recognitions that are given and taken for granted are the very things that show the distinction and elevation of the senior class. The recognition is the proper respect of the lower-classmen in every little thing. A senior deserves to be respected and should be respected.

With privileges and distinctions come responsibilities. To be an ideal senior means to be a senior with the highest ideals, good grades, a keen interest in all school activities, a willingness to use every talent for the betterment of the class and the upholding of the standards of Alma Mater. One's best is always required and one's best is the only thing that could possibly be accepted as the standards for seniors at S. T. C. An inclination to become lax is an indication that the senior class of 1928 will fail to set the highest standards possible for those who admire or those who follow. And so, the seniors expect and deserve privileges and distinction. Yet, they must live their best and give their best in order to gain the best.

The following poem by Corine Roosevelt Robinson might be considered as a challenge for the class of '28:

"Stretch out your hand and take the world's wide gift
Of joy and beauty. Open wide your soul
Down to its utmost depths, and bare the whole
To earth's prophetic dower of clouds that lift
Their clinging shadows from the sunlight's rift,—
The saphire symphony of seas that roll
Full-breasted auguries from deep to shoal,
Borne from dim caverns on the salt spray's drift.
Open the windows of your wondering heart
To God's supreme Creation; make it yours,
And give to other hearts your ample store;
For when the whole of you is but a part
Of joyous beauty such as e'er endures.
Only by giving can you gain the more!"

HOW TO USE THE LIBRARY

Our new librarian, Miss Counts, wishes to enlist the cooperation and help of the student body in attaining order in the library. All students do not seem to understand just how and when to check out books, and consequently, a number have been misplaced. This has caused no little inconvenience and worry on the part of the librarian and her assistants. The following rules have been drawn up in regard to the use of our library, and all students are requested to abide by them.

1. Return reserve books to desk.
2. Place correct reserve card in book and check off name.
3. Return reserve books promptly at 8-05 A. M.
4. Read rules.
5. Bring fine when book is returned.
6. Return books to their proper places on shelves.
7. Return encyclopedias to shelf as soon as finished with.
8. Books will not be checked out after bell rings.
9. Sign full name on reserve card
10. Check out books which are placed on tables—Geography, Birds, History.
11. Absolute silence at all times.
12. Freshmen must leave the library at 8-30 P. M.

Sophomores must leave the library at 10-30 P. M.

14. Juniors and Seniors must leave at 11-00 P. M.

THE PLACE OF SILENCE

Bustle, rustle, bustle; that is the continuous stream of excitement that is an S. T. C. life. Seldom are we free from the conscious excitement around us. We are never alone during the school day, seldom alone in our rooms and upon very few occasions may we even sit alone on campus. This constant companionship has made its demands on our personalities and has caused us to forget the wonderful powers of silence, quiet and relaxation.

Silence brings our greatest, deepest and best thoughts. tI is only when we are alone that we can take an actual census of ourselves and find where we stand when free from group influence. Our conduct, almost at all times, is governed by fear of results. Only when we are alone is it possible for us to see a situation as it is, read it clearly, and then make our decision for ourselves or others. This very silence, that means so much in our lives, has heretofore been offered little encouragement on our campus. Perhaps our closed study hour has been an attempt to fill this need of girls, but even then, one has roommates.

Beautiful surroundings, quietness and a restful atmosphere are the very things that lift us from the every day demands of school life. For where everything is beautiful worried, cramped thoughts lose their places.

Have you ever thought that there is one place in school that is provided for such a purpose? There is the place of the new Y. W. C. A. reception room. This room would serve as a reception room for overthought. We want this room to typify beauty and rest to the girls of this school. It is here that we may find our room

Continued on page three

ALUMNAE NOTES

It will be of interest to students to know that officers of the Alumnae Association of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, are—

President, Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner, Farmville; first vice-president, Mrs. Mary A. Holt, Hampton; second vice-president, Miss Kate Trent, Fredericksburg; directors, Mrs. Martha King Newbill, Richmond; Miss Anne F. Smith, Staunton; secretary-treasurer, Miss Alice E. Carter, Farmville.

The Farmville Alumnae Chapter held its first meeting of this session on Friday, October 7. The officers of the chapter are—

President ..... Miss Elizabeth Bugg
Vice-Pres., Mrs. Thomas McIlwaine
Secretary ..... Mrs. John Garnett
Treasurer ..... Miss Virgilia Bugg

Many persons in the college and in town will be delighted to hear that the chapter is bringing to Farmville for the second time the Carolina Playmakers, who will present three one-act plays on November 14.

Miss Ada Bierbower, retiring president of the Alumnae Association and alumnae editor of the Rotunda has leave of absence for 1927-1928 and is studying at Columbia University.

Anouncements were made during the summer of many former students. June was the preferred month. The wedding in which the largest number of Rotunda readers will be interested is that of Miss Emma Mebane Hunt of Roanoke, on June 18, to Henry Landon Cabell, Jr. of Richmond. Mrs. Cabell's attractive personality and gift of song won for her an unusual place in the life of the college and the community.

A double wedding occurs very seldom. A very pretty one was that of Miss Lelia Peebles Burrow to Emmete Davis, of Greenwood, S. C., and Miss Mary Sue Burrow to W. Francis Binford, of Petersburg,

Miss Carey Jeter, of Lynchburg, was a teacher in the Home Economics Department at S. T. C. in 1923-24. Last year she was at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C. This year she returns to that State as the bride of William Gist Finley, of York, S. C.

Miss Etta Bell Walker, of Emporia was married to Oscar Fitzallen Northington, Jr., of La Crosse, Va. Mss Addie Cato Walker was maid of honor, and Misses Louise Doyle and Janie Potter were two of the bridesmaids.

The sun shone upon the bridal day of Miss Josephine Harris of Suffolk and Sherman G. Howell, of Holland, Virginia, and the ceremony was performed upon the beautiful lawn at the home of the bride.

Miss Thelma Michael and Leland Henry Lucy, of Dolphin, were quietly married on June 25 at William Byrd Hotel, Richmond.

Miss Marietta Allen and James Watson Elloitt, both of Darlington Heights, Virginia, were married June 23.

Other marriages of the month were those of Miss Ruth Carwile of Pamplin to George McDuff Blake, of Norton; Miss Hlah Anne Butler to George Knox Crutchfield, Jr., and Miss Alma Tucker to Wilson Woodhouse.

Miss Elizabeth Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bell, is attending Randolph-Macon Womans College for her senior year. At the commencement in June she was awarded the honor of a scholarship of $235. for attaining the highest grade in her class of nearly two hundred for the college year. Elizabeth spent six weeks of the summer vacation among relatives and friends in New England and attended the second term of the summer quarter at the University of Virginia.

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches--
Phone 110 Third St.

WADE'S
Visit our PARLOR for best
DRINKS and SANDWICHES
In Town!
WADES

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

TO THE SENIOR CLASS

You're near the mountain top,
While we are struggling slowly up the slope.
We dare not pause, nor turn aside, nor stop.
Upward we climb, in faith, and love, and hope,
That soon our glorious dreams will all come true,
As we move onward in your track,
And keep our faces lifted upward, too,
And with you forward move, not once turn back!

—J. E. W. '29

ISOLATION

A kaliedoscope of color
A babel of sound
And like a noisy rushing sea
Twirling, whirling about me
The crowd hurries round.

And my chair is an island
Where I am alone
And all the while
I smile—because—
My thoughts are all my own.....

M. B. B.—'31

ANTS

Someone said that there was a reason for everything. Maybe there is, but I doubt it seriously. If the aforesaid somebody can give me a useful and practical reason for the creation of the ant I'll give him a cake like the one they ate last week. Of course I realize that they are the symbol of close attention to duty and of perserverance. Yet the duty they apply themselves to so closely is usually destructiev, especially when concerned with food. I admit that ants are persevering little pests, I've used everything frm borax and hot water to violent personal warfare upon them, and still they are flourishing healthily. It is an obsolute impossibility to keep anything out of their reach. Last week I wrapped some candy in oil paper, put it in a small tin box and then put that box in another one. I thought certainly my candy was safe, but it wasn't. Can you imagine my dismay when I opened the box to find whole armies of ants marching all over my candy?

I hate ants! Why the ants in my room even eat soap. Now any sane insect ought to know that soap is not considered the best diet for either reducing or gaining or for any of the other things you diet for. Yet ants thrive on it. Evidently ants aren't sane. I wish someone would start an Anti-Ant Society, for I hate ants.

THE PALACE OF SILENCE

Continued from page two

for silent communication with self and where we may think our own thoughts. Each one of us needs to set aside a few minutes of our day as dedicated to silence. Let us dedicate this silence in our reception room of thoughts—to let them man the silver dream ship there and to sail forward into future horizons or else—in this room we may let our real self be discovered through the pathway of our own thoughts.

THE FIRST DAY O F SENIOR DIGNITY

We, at S. T. C., extend sympathy to Elizabeth Munn, whose father died last week.

* * *

Among those who attended the opening dances at Virginia Polytechnic Institute are misses Bernan Jarvis, Polly Aderhold, Mary Rigby, Dorothy Baldwin, Beth White, Elsa Gudheim and Elizabeth Bacot.

* * *

Misses Dorothy Myers and Alice Carter of Danville were the week-end guests of Misses Anne Ferree and Louise Foster.

* * *

Misses Helen Wilcox, Elizabeth Hargrave and Sarah Cross, former students at S. T. C., spent the week-end with friends here and attended the opening dances at Hampden-Sidney College.

* * *

Miss Helen Jones, accompanied by Miss Jeanette Morris spent the week-end at her home in Charlottesville and attended the V. M. I-Virginia football game on Saturday afternoon.

* * *

Misses Virginia Raine and Anne Withers returned Sunday from their homes in Danville where they spent the week-end.

* * *

Misses Irene Briggs and Virginia Cowherd of Richmond spent the week-end as guests of friends here. Miss Cowherd attended the opening dances at Hampden-Sidney College.

* * *

Miss Mabel Fitzpatrick has returned after attending the game and dances at the University of Virginia.

* * *

Miss Lucille Graves returned Sunday from her home in Roanoke where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss "Jackie" Woodson had as her week-end guest Miss Rosalind Harrell of Norfolk.

* * *

Among those who attended the game and dances at the University of Virginia this week-end were Misses Anne Palmer, Frances Willis, Frances Malbon and "Sammy" Scott.

* * *

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Blanche Overbey to Mr. John Westbrook of Atlanta, Georgia. The wedding took place at the home of the bride in Chatham, Virginia, on Saturday, October the fifteenth. Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook will make their home in Atlanta.

Miss Mary Duncan returned last week from Richmond where she spent several days on account of illness.

ON BEING A SENIOR

Four years is a long time, isn't it? But as we look back over them we wonder what has become of the time. It has gone so fast, and now we've at last reached the goal that we've worked for since 1924. As we marched down the aisle to Dr. Jarman we all had so many queer feelings that we could hardly analyze them. First, we were so full of joy oevr being seniors that we wanted to Charleston down the aisle instead of stepping slowly to the rhythm of the Alma Mater. But along with our joy was a sadness that made us want to lag behind and put off the donning of the cap and gown. It is our last year; no more can we think of coming back next year. The future is open ahead of us, and we must take up responsibilities and cares and become citizens of the world. We are no longer college girls. We will never sing college songs with the same pep and zest, because we won't be a part of them. They don't apply to us at all.

When Dr. Jarman talked to us we all wanted to go back and start over again. So few of us have done our best, and so many of us are in the mediocre class. It is a queer feeling to be a senior. It is different from any emotion you've had. You will be glad and sad, all at the same time. But you will be as proud of being seniors as we are. With the cap and gown and the acquisition of senior dignity comes a challenge from the future that we are all anxious to accept. We make many resolutions, but one we all make is in whatever work we take up, to try to be a credit to the school we leave behind us.

ON SEEING A SENIOR

There you stand, seniors! Wisdom and dignity are yours. Experience has taught you tolerance and understanding. Through three long years you have kept your ideal before, clear and bright. Your ideal of Joan of Arc—the spirt of Alma Mater! From her you have earned respect and reverence cooperation and industry. As we see you standing there in your cap and gown we wonder what you are thinking. Are

(Continued on last page.)

ATHLETICS

"In the spring a young man's fancy gaily turns to the thoughts of love," but

In the fall an S. T. C. girl quickly turns to thoughts of—basket ball and hockey, if we are to judge from the large amount of enthusiasm and pep exhibited on the athletic field each afternoon.

Girls, who before arriving at "this institute" neevr had heard of such a thing as hockey, may be seen dashing up and down the hockey field, panting for breath, but declaring that they are having the "grandest time."

However, whether due to "Rat" initiation, cross-English tests, or choir installations there has been a decline in the number of girls out.

The schedule for practices is made with a view for giving everyone a chance to play. It is posted on the bulletin board where everyone may see it. So look at the bulletin board, and see when your class is to practice. Then come out and help win that game on Thanksgiving Day. Your class needs you and you need the exercise.

Work has begun on basket ball and from the enthusiasm shown at the first practice there will be some hard, fast, and exciting games before the basket ball championshij is decided. A schedule of basket ball practices will be posted on the bulletin board, also.

Finals in tennis will be played off as soon as all peliminary games are over. The interests in tennis has even extended into the realm of the faculty for they have challenged the tennis champion of the student body to a contest as soon as arrangements can be made.

TENNIS FOR TEACHERS

Teachers like students and students like tennis, therefore teachers like tennis. This is the natural conclusion to which one comes after viewing the placard one the bulletin board. Upon that poster are inscribed the names of those brave pioneers of the faculty who with trepidation have ventured forth to conquer the tennis champion of S. T. C.

It is quite hard for some of the students to decide which side they want to win. Must you root for your favorite teacher or for your student body representative? Decide now and then root!

Muscles, you know, have a way of feeling very uncomfortable if they are used strenuously after a period of rest. Many of our tennis playing faculty members have discovered this and have resorted to Sloan's liniment for tired muscles.

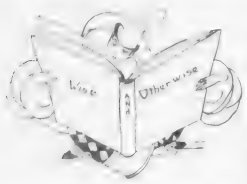
Many tennis requets have come out of dark closets for this interesting tournament and many unknown tennis stars have suddenly appeared to startle the faculty and the student body with their knowlege of the art of tennis playing.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
128 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS



WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

Correct Clothes
For the Round of
College Life
Shoes
Dresses
Hats
Coats
Millinery
Gloves
Underwear
Sweaters
Negligees
And All Necessities
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Attend prayers every night after supper.

Observe the student government rules.

He who only hopes is hopeless.

Some people grow under responsibilities; others merely grow.

Hard luck is a sweet name for the leaping sickness.

Some faces have a very striking appearance—clock faces, for instance.

You can know it is yellow when you meet those ashamed to show their colors.

Freshman Wilson—"You look stunned, Harry."

Harry C. H.—"You look stunned."

Kollege Kids Kicks

Mattie Lewis says she's only a dairyman's daughter, but her face owed many a man.

Billy Booth says when louder clothes are made, S. T. C. girls will wear 'em.

NOTICE TO FRESHMEN!!

There is no Santa Claus.

Chapel seats are no longer for sale. All freshmen should join the S. T. C. Tuition Club.

Just because a H.-S. lad carries your picture in his watch is no sign you are the only girl in the case.

The penalty for bigamy is two mother-in-laws.

Life is not so short but there is always time for courtesy.

Your elders,
THE SENIORS!

Alice Wiley—"This Vanishing cream's a joke."

Druggist—"How come?"

Alice Wiley—"I have used it on my feet every night for two weeks and they are just as large as they ever were."—Va. Reel.

There was a young man named Mose
Who laid on the beach for a doze
When up came a crab,
And his foot did grab
And now there's a gap in his toes.

Farmer to boy in cherry tree—"Hey what are you doing up in my cherry tree?"

Boy—"There was a notice down there to keep off the grass."

OUR SENIORS

Obstinate never Unequalled ever
Really magnetic

Sympathetic
Ever wittie
Never giddie
Idealistic
Optimistic
Resourceful in classes
Studious lassies
That's our Seniors!

A. R. S.

1928 MODEL

Body, Alice Wiley, Helen Davidson.

Finish, that which gives lustre to the car—Juniors.

Wheels, always on the go—Greenhow Parker, Nancy Holt, Louise Costen.

Runningboard—Juliet Jones.

Lights, very illuminating—Eloise Moore.

Horn, source of noise—Elizabeth Hutt.

Springs, often broke—All of us.

Windshield, easily seen through—No senior.

Cut-out, worse than horn—Phyllis Wood.

Tires, a source of trouble—Exams.

Steering wheel, that by which we ar guided—Mr. T. A. McCorkle.

Chaperon—Virginia Ellis.

Tail light, always behind—Frances Walmsley.

Cushions, far from soft—Lessons.

Gas, keeps the car going—Virginia Updike.

Radiator, often hot—Marguerite Warriner.

Rotary brush, can't run without it—Evelyn Dulaney.

Key, small, but necessary—"Jackie" Woodson.

Exhaust, gives off hot air—Betty LeCato.

Brakes, useful in emergencies—Mary Christian Royall.

The newest accessories—Wright, Bull, Souder, and Oliver.

Drivers, the ones who manage us—Faculty.

FRESHMAN ORCHESTRA

Have you heard the Freshman Orchestra? If you have you know how good it is and if you haven't you have something in store for you. We are quite proud of the accomplishment of our "baby" class. They made their first public appearance at Freshman Sing. This was only after one week's practice. From the way they played we were tempted to ask if they took lessons from Kike Keyser. This week we hear they are adding another laurel to their crown, by giving a dance I hear they are booking engagements and dates are being rapidly filled. Engage this coming orchestra while there is time.

SENIORS AND SONGS

There's Something Nice About Everyone—The Seniors
—But, There's Everything Nice About You—Virginia Updike.
Pretty Girl Stomp—Ragtime Court Scene
Side by Side—Seniors and Little Sisters
C'est Vous—Chris Royall
Ain't She Sweet—Jack Woodson
My Dream of the Big Parade—Margaret Ferguson.
It All Depends On You—Mr. McCorkle
Sometimes I'm Happy—Alice Wiley
Baby Face—Phyllis Wood
I Said I'd Never Come Back—But Here I Am—"Liz Armfield
Of't On a Stilly Night (voices)—Weesie Moore and Frances Brightwell
Whereever You Go—Whatever You Do—Liz Woodson, Helen Davidson, Alice Wiley, Chris Royall, Alice Page Adams, and Louise Costen.
I Can't Get Over a Girl Like You—Louise McCormick.
Someone to Love—Virginia Ellis
The Dawn of Tomorrow—June

A girl has a young man twisted around her finger when he circles it with an engagement ring.

TEST FOR UPPER CLASSMEN

In the modern writers of today we have an open field of the intellectual and the sensational. Before us spreads a panorama of famous writers of this time. Can you with your knowledge of the books of today tell wro wrote these? Concentrate! "The Plutocrat," "The Red Lamp," "Sorrell and Son," "Martha," "Doomsday," "Young Men in Love," "Helen of Troy", "Gallahad," "The Tree of Heaven," "Barren Ground," "Main Street," "Elmer Gantry," "Fire Crackers," "Adam and Eve," and "Arrowsmith."

I just jumbled these together to test your knowledge of the literature of today. I know that in various college courses you are required to read and study the inspiring masterpieces of old and of course there are some few courses which deal with modern writers. We college students are judged, not alone by that which the professors instill into our minds, but by that which we ourselves acquire. I am just a freshman, and yet I have a fair knowledge of every book and author listed.

Hhere is a warning, upper classmen. Don't let us Froshies become more wise than you; read these modern writers for the great realism and beauty of thought that they express. The jokes in College Humor are quite invigorating; but, for culture and sophistication try my fascinating friends, The Modern Writers.

TO SENIORS

Honor to all our seniors;
They whose lives must be immortal,
Lest all wisdom shall die with them.

They whose minds are all celestial,
They whose feet spurn things terrestrial
As them upon their shoesoles.

Haste the day when we are seniors;
We shall follow in their footsteps;
We shall rat the under-classmen,

Have the wisdom of immortals,
Give our knowledge to the people,
Clothed in big words, cried from housetops.

Great it is to be a senior.

ON SEEING A SENIOR

Continued from page three

you thinking of days that were or days that are to be? We wonder. Are you glad to be seniors or would you like to start over as Freshmen. We, the freshmen, look to you, seniors, for an example—a guide for us to follow. You have traveled the path before us. You have that for which we are striving—knowledge, reverence and understanding.

—A Freshman

Robert fell down and tore his pants. His mother asked, "Did you fall down in your good pants, Robert?"

"Yes'm; I didn't have time to take them off."

E. L. Moore says the modern girl doesn't mind a fellow knowing his onions if only he doesn't eat them.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Now that all we seniors are together with no lower-classmen to interfere we can have a nice, quiet, dignified afternoon. Really, my dear, when those foolish, flighty girls are around I cannot enjoy my tea.

Tell me what were you and Frances Walmsley doing chasing each other down the hall the other day. Oh! You wanted a bit of her candy? I quite understand. Speaking of running. Next time you see "Chris" Royall ask her why she ran all the way up to school the other day from down town.

You know Alice Wiley is going to make a place for herself in the Hall of Fame one of these days. Why the way she rendered Mark Anthony's speech the other night, and the forceful manner in which she reads notes in the dining room is direct proof of brilliant future.

Has Evelyn been playing much tennis lately? You don't know who I'm talking about? Why, Dulittle, of course. I hope she wins for the seniors. You know I really think that now that we're seniors we should call each other by our given names, but tell me this; Who would know Jackie Woodson as Viola, or Dulittle as Evelyn? It would cause complications, I think.

I agree with you that we are a dignified and sedate class and if we keep up this attitude everyone will remain properly impressed.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

There are certain stores in Farmville that cooperate with us in making our paper a success. Cooperate with them by patronizing the following—

Greenberg's Department Store
Southside Drug Store
Thomas Jeffries—pressing, dyeing and repairing
The Eaco Theatre
Mrs. Crenshaw's Millinery
Schemmel Conservatory of Music
Capp,s Store—toasted sandwiches, candies and sodas.
White Drug Company
G. F. Butcher Company
Lovelace Shoe Shop
Gilliams
Davidson's Department Store
Gray's Drug Store
Shannon's
Martin the Jeweler
McIntosh and Canada
S. R. Legus—tailoring, cleaning and pressing.
C. E. Chappell Company, school supplies.
Electric Shoe Shop
Rice's Shoe Store
Beauty Shop—connected with Mack's Barber Shop.
The Cash and Carry Store
Wade's—drinks and sandwiches
Ogden Studio
Robbie Foster—cleaning, pressing and dyeing.

JACKIE WOODSON DEDICATES PRAYER WEEK

(Continued from page one)

candles, glowing as one bright light were as the classes who find happiness in worship inspired by the spirit of Alma Mater.

Freshmen will lead evening prayers during this week.

Get Your Needs at

Greenberg's
Department Store

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE GIRLS

We invite your charge account

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor
"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"
Let us Supply Your Wants
Corner Main and High Streets
FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
Phone 221 610 Main St.

AT THE EACO

Thursday—Pat O'Malley, Helen Ferguson and George Hackathorne in "Cheaters", a special production. A gripping story of a couple who went straight until they were discovered and forced to bow to the will of their temptor.An up to date young couple who overcame many obstacles to follow the straight and narrow path. Also Wisecracker comedy.

Fri. and Sat.—Constance Talmadge and Antonio Moreno in "Venus of Venice", a special production. America was too dry—so he came to of Venice. This is a great comedy the only thing he could draw was a check in six figures. He painted a rosy future with his little girl from home, but that was before he met the wildest, witchingest little water of Venice. This is a great comedy, greater romance. Don't miss it. Also good comedy. Matinee Friday at 4 o'clock.

Mon., Tues., Wed., & Thurs. we will present the greatest of all great pictures "THE GREAT PARADE" featuring John Gilbert and Renee Adoree. Astonishment, awe, world-shaking laughter, sweetest romance, tears, thrills and throbs—in a picture epochal in film history. In its second year in New York, playing to over fiev million people in its record-breaking runs the wolrd over, here is the most spectacular success in the annals of stage or screen. Think of the greatest picture you've eevr seen! "The Big Parade" is so much finer, more truly thrilling and big, that there is no comparison.. It is a film that you will see again and again. Millions have paid $2 and more to see it. There will be a matinee Mon., Tues. & Wed at 4 o'clock. Pathe news will be shown with the picture.

Admission to S. T. C. girls 50c to see THE BIG PARADE; 35c to see CAMILLE. Buy tickets at theatre to see THE BIG PARADE.

After you have seen these two great productions, you can look forward to seeing WHAT PRICE GLORY at the theatre Nov. 4, 5, and 6. ome say it is better than "The Big Parade."

WEAR THAT RAT CAP!

THE ROTUNDA

OBSERVE CHAPEL REGULATIONS

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, OCT. 20, 1927 Number 4

M. H. H. JOACHIM LECTURES ON INDIA

Native Indian Discusses Sociological Problems

Thursday night, October twentieth, will be remembeed by many as the date of their awakening interest in one of the greatest countries of the world. On that night, Mr. M. H. H. Joachim, a native of India and a brilliant and well-known lecturer, spoke on "India, Her People and Their Problems." Mr. Joachim, having been reared and educated in Calcutta, and, having made an intensive study of the needs of his country, was able to give us first-hand knowledge of his subject.

The greatest drawback to the progress of India, as Mr. Joachim views it, is the fact that custom rules. He said, "India, today, is exaggerating her past glory and letting the present and future go. Everything is built on the caste system and custom is all powerful. The caste of an Indian determines his whole life. He can never hope to better himself; his attitude towards life is fatalistic. One can realize the condition of India when one learns that sixty-seven millions are in the lowest class and have no hope of improving that condition. India will never progress," says Mr. Joachim, "until the position of its women is changed. She is virtually a slave, marrying at the early age of nine or ten, and continuing her life as the devoted and reverent servant of her husband."

Mr. Joachim said that the political future of India is colored by her religious life. India was the cradle of two great religions, Buddhism, and Hinduism, and today, her lack of unity is due to the jealousies of religious factions. Mr. Joachim, in his lecture, reviewed the Indian nationalist movement and discussed the principles and methods of Mahatma Gandhi, the original leader of this movement. Mr. Joachim explained the passive resistance movement and Gandhi's belief in the freedom of the soul rather than the cooperation and progress of the world.

The lecturer showed a remarkable keeness of analysis and a delight-

(Continued on last page.)

DR. JARMAN ATTENDS PUBLIC HEALTH MEETING

Dr. Jarman returned on Thursday from the meeting of the American Public Health Association which met in Cincinnati on Monday, October 17. The convention met to discuss the problem of Public Health Education.

It was learned that in spite of the fact that Virginia is wealthier than many states in the Union she is not paying as much attention to this phase of education as she should. The teachers of the State are the ones on whom the extension of health education depends.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

From left to right—Nancy Nelms, Virginia Robertson, Elizabeth Munn, Alice Covington, Marguerite Foster, Adele Hutchinson.

"COTTER'S SATURDAY NIGHT" PRESENTED

A thousand girls crowded the auditorium to its capacity Tuesday night to hear the first number of the Lyceum Course. A Scotch musical company, which has been here several times before, gave an unusually attractive program of Scotch folk-lore and music. The play was based on Burn's poem Cotter's Saturday Night and depicted a Saturday night about 1790 in an old Scotch home of the lower class.

All the members of the company skillfully acted their parts. Perhaps the favorites of the audience were Edward McHugh who played the Cotter, and William Wilson who took the part of Tammas, his neighbor. The play, will no doubt, give everyone who heard it a finer sense of appreciation of the beauty of the old Scotch poems and songs for the music rendered by this group was unusually characteristic.

"RAT" INITIATION

The "rats" of S. T. C. were formally presented at sophomore court, Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. The court was magnificent with its many famous statues, and gorgeous decorations. Whenever "King" Marshall became bored with the formality of the proceedings, the court jesters and the pet dog of the king performed for his amusement, or osme of the latest records were played on a "Nelms" Victrola.

"Judge" Graves called the offending "rats" before the court, and justice was meted out to them by the king. The first offender to be called up was "Rat" Munn, the leader of the whole band of offenders She delivered an oration on "The Splendid Sophomores at S. T. C." At its end she was given her "rat" cap, and released. Several others of the worst offenders were "called

(Continued on last page.)

FRESHMEN ELECT CLASS OFFICERS

The freshmen elected Elizabeth Munn as president of their class last Wednesday night in an election held by the president of the junior class, "Red" Foster. On Thursday and Friday Elizabeth Munn conducted the election of the other class officers which were as follows—

Nancy Nelms ..... Vice-President
Adele Hutchinson ..... Secretary
Alice Covington ..... Treasurer
Mary Brockenborough .... Treasurer
Virginia Robinson ..... Reporter

As is customary in our school, the president of the junior class called the freshmen together to make nominations for the president of their class. Then, after the freshmen had had time to consider the nominees, the junior class president conducted the election.

GRAND-DAUGHTER'S CLUB ORGANIZED

The Grand-daughter's Club was organized last Tuesday night. This club is composed of girls whose mothers attended our Alma Mater in preceding years. This organization has caused much interest on the part of Dr. Jarman and members of the faculty.

The following officers were elected—

President ..... Virginia Sebreil
Vice-President ..... Elizabeth Hutt
Sec. and Treas. ..... Gladys Oliver

Twenty-one girls have joined this club up to the present time. All other girls whose mothers attended Farmvill S. T. C. are invited to join.

The present membership is composed of Catherine Bentley, Elizabeth Eicheiberger, Parke Leigh Orgain, Elizabeth Woodson, Alma Woodson, Marguerite Richardson, Miriam Bray, Elizabeth Hutt, French Hutt, Catherine Stevens,

(Continued on last page)

FARMVILLE HOLDS ELEVENTH PLACE AMONG TEACHERS COLLEGES

S. T. C. is Rated First in the South

Prof. H. J. McGinnis of the East Carolina Teachers College at Greenville, N. C. recently made a study of the Teachers Colleges in the United States in order to determine which were considered, by competent judges, to be the outstanding ones.

The selection was made in the following manner: the list of colleges was compiled from that of the U. S. Bureau of Education and submitted to thirty-three leading educators of the country, with the request that which they considered to be outstanding ones. These educators were carefully selected—on the basis of these criteria:

1. He must now occupy, or must have recently occupied, a position in which a knowledge of these institutions is demanded or is highly desirable—i. e.:, (a) a dean of the department of education in a university or college offering courses in the administration of teachers colleges; (b) or he must be an instructor in such a department and offering or having offered recently courses in the administration of teachers colleges.

2.: Or he must occupy, or have occupied previously, an official position in the American Association of Teachers Colleges, but he must not be in the employ of any of the institutions to be considered in this study.

3. Or he must have made a recent study in education demanding a critical knowledge of state teachers colleges.

4. Or he must have published standard and aceptable articles, bulletins, or books that indicate a comprehensive knowledge of state teachers colleges.

Two exceptions were made in applying the second criterion in order to include two men of such high standing in the teacher-training field and of such wide acquaintance with the institutions under consideration that their inclusion seemed highly desirable.

The men who checked the list and indicated the schools which they be-

Continued on page three

FRESHMAN-ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION DANCE

On Saturday, October 22, the freshman class was given a dance in the gymnasium by the Athletic Association. The "Gym" was decorated in orange and black. The color scheme was even carried out in the refreshments.

Anyone dropping in at the dance would have thought that half of the freshman class was composed of boys for almost every girl had an escort, supposedly of the opposite sex. After dancing for a while each couple was asked to file by the master of ceremonies, Mary Frances Hatchett, and receive a number. At the end of the next dance a number was called and the lucky couple, Miriam Bray and Virginia Gibbs, were given prizes. In the elimination contest for the cutest couple on the floor, it was found that Miss Mary Christian Royall and her escort "Mr." Elizabeth Munn were the prize winners.

To judge from snatches of conversations heard at the dance everyone had a splendid time. The music, furnished by the Hampden-Sidney Orchestra, was good.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE "TRELAWNEY OF THE WELLS" BY PINERO

"Trelawney of the Wells", by A. W. Pinero, is to be presented as the fall play of the Dramatic Club. This play was presented in New York and was considered quite a success. Under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, who is well-known as a director of plays, it is predicted that this play will have the usual success of the Dramatic Club plays.

The cast is as follows—

Theatrical Folk

Tom Wrench ..... Elizabeth Turner
Ferdinand Gadd,— ..... Margaret Pumphrey
James Telfer ..... Nettie Boynton
Augustus Colpoys ..... Alice Wiley
Rose Trelawney ..... Mary E. Cato
Avonia Bunn ..... Beulah Jarvis
Mrs. Telfer ..... Elsie Clements
Imogen Parrott .... Leyburn Hyatt
O'Dwyer ..... Evelyn Dulaney
Mr. Denpit ..... Gertrude Jarman
Miss Brewster .... Frances A. Wilson

Non Theatrical Folk

Vice-Chancellor Sir William Gower Kt ..... Etta Marshall
Arthur Gower ..... Virginia Gurley
Clara de Foenix, Virginia Pettigrew
Clara de Foenix, Virginia Pedigrew
Miss Trafalgar Gower (Sir William's daughter)— ..... Mabel Fitzpatrick
Captain de Foenix (Clara's husband ..... Anne Ferree
Mrs. Mossop (a landlady)— ..... Mabel Yancy Brookin
Mr. Abbett (a grocer)— ..... Virginia Walker
Charles (a butler) .... Frances Davis

DR. PRICE IS NEW PHYSICIAN AT S. T. C.

Dr. Susie A. Price is filling the position of college physician until Dr. Susan W. Field returns. Since Dr. Price held this position several years ago, she is not a stranger to S. T. C. Since she left here, she has been practicing at the State Hospital in Williamsburg.

Dr. Field is at home this fall on account of the illness of her father. She plans to resume her duties at S. T. C. after Christmas.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

"BE THERE"

An expert newspaper man says that the reporter who writes the best account of an incident is one who observes the slogan "be there" and get the facts first hand. This axium may be applied in a vital way to our athletics.

We can not expect to have teams that are worthy of S. T. C. unless we are on hand to help make them so. Have you ever tried to make a thoroughly capable team out of a handful of loyal souls? If you have, you know something of the task which Miss Iler is facing. Do we expect her to do the impossible? It seems so. We can not find a more capable coach, but she can not make a team if we are not there to supply the material.

Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, Freshmen, we need you all. When the next practice is called, "be there" and help make this year's athletic record the cleanest and best in the history of your school.

WHAT IS YOUR VIEW OF RULES?

Webster defines "law" as "a rule of action established by recognized authority to enforce justice and prescribe duty or obligation." This definition carries with it he idea of benefit for the observaton of laws. Any decree published by those capable of governing plans for the well-being of the followers of these leaders.

Viewing our attitude towards some of the rules or laws established by the governing body of our school, one would be tempted to say that we do not consider those whom we elected to lead, capable of that duty. It is not that they are unable to perform their work, but that each student does not feel that the violation of rules by others has any bearing on her own conduct. It has. Example is a great determining factor in our lives. We may think that there can be no great harm in breaking minor rules and we may never do more than that, but, after we leave school there will be many minor duties in our daily life that can be easily shirked without any immediate effect. Yet that one failure to observe an obligation may be similar to a pebble cast into a smooth pool of water. Ripples of that action continue to widen and to exert their influence on other things. Are rules made simply to restrict our private desires or are they made for the good of the whole? Are rules made only to furnish the chance to us to break them or are they made to furnish the chance to us to develope character? What is your view of rules?

CHAPEL UNDER STUDENT CONTROL.

The Student Council now has charge of chapel, its conduct, and chapel attendance, and this has started a move toward improvement in chapel. The student body can carry on this movement and make chapel what the word itself means. Juniors and Seniors have learned to respect and appreciate chapel They enjoy it; it is hardly necessary to have compulsory attendance, because they go of their own accord. Freshmen and sophomores have not been here long enough to catch the spirit of our chapel exercises and attend voluntarily.

Chapel is for the purpose of bringing the student body together, and for giving a few minutes of the day oves to God. If the Juniors and Seniors would help in creating such an atmosphere that the Freshmen and Sophomores would realize that it is chapel they are attending, then they would hesitate to create a diversion. They may do this by cooperating with the monitors, by being reverent during the exercises, and assuming an air of polite interest all during chapel. This would make faculty and students enjoy chapel.

IDEAL COLLEGE PAPER

True Test is in General Spirit it Portrays

(Reprinted)

The subject, The Ideal College Paper is broad, but is receiving the hopeful thought of numbers of students in college here and elsewhere. These students are concerned with the problem, how to make their college paper better and more representative of the school life. The fact is, howeevr, that there are too few students concerned over this problem.

It is difficult to define what constitutes an ideal college paper, for there seems to be in such a publication an abstract quality—one that is difficult to express. It seems that there are three phases of the subject which we might consider with profit; the material used in the paper, the organization and the general spirit reflected therein.

In discussing the material for the paper, we first think of the scope. Is it broad enough to include the various activities of the school? Will it make a paper that will be in after days a true picture of the best life of the college as we shall love to remember that life? Certainly this material should include the school news,—what has happened of general interest. Then, too, there are editorials. Do they freely express the thought of the students? Are they of real value? All college students, practically, are interested in athletics. They want their victories, and defeats, too, written up in their school paper, so that in after days on re-reading the paper, they will have pleasant memories of the spirit shown by their Alma Mater. Can you imagine a school paper without jokes? Certainly not! Jokes should not be lacking, and should give a distinctive flavor to the school paper. It should be a matter of pride that this flavor be delicate rather than coarse, for the quality of humor one enjoys is a very sure index of refinement, or its lack. All of the material should, of course, be written in a vivid and pleasing manner—the ideal college paper is worthy of being kept.

A few words, only, are necessary as to the organization of the school paper. As a rule, the paper should have certain sections in it devoted to particular kinds of material; viz: articles of general interest on the front page, special columns rigidly reserved for the news notes, alumnae interests, athletics, jokes, (etc., respectively.: When this plan is carried into execution, the readers become accustomed to looking to a certain part of the paper for particular news, and their college paper becomes doubly endeared to them through its familiar aspect.

The true test of a college paper

(Continued on last page.)

ALUMNAE NOTES

It is very encouraging to the executive board of the Association of Alumnae to hear of alumnae activities throughout the State. On September 17 a Farmville Alumnae Chapter of Prince William County was organized with fourteen charter members. The officers are Miss Selina Hindle, of Haymarket, president; Mrs. Grace Loftis Hite, of Nokesville, secretary and treasurer. There are many former students in the county, and the membership will doubtless be enlarged.

Miss Mary E. Peck, member of the History Department and supervisor of History and Social Science in S. T. C. High School, has leave of absence and is studying at the Uuniversity of Virginia this session.

The past week has brought news of more weddings. Miss Reva Willis Graves, of Lynchburg, and Mark Hanna Gregory, of Drakes Branch, Charlotte County, were married October 15.

On the same day, Miss Lorena Gladys Wilcox and James Carey Leath were married at the home of the bride in Carsley. They will make their home in Raleigh, N. C. Since her graduation, Mrs. Leath has been teaching in the high schools of Kenbridge and Sussex County.

Many guests from other parts of Virginia were present in Salem at the wedding, in July, of Miss Georgine Willis Logan, and Wallace Lawrence, both of that city.

A marriage of interest in Richmond and througout Virginia was that of Miss Sophie Huff Harris of Brunswick County, and George Tarry Bryson of New York City, and Mecklenburg County, which took place quietly in Norfolk in July. Mr. and Mrs. Bryson are living at 816 Park Avenue, Richmond.

Two other July weddings were those of Miss Inez Eugenia Bailey and Herbert James Drewry, both of Waverly, Va., and Miss Kathleen Guerrant Cousins, of Danville, and Kenneth Ices Deans of Portsmouth.

DEBATING CLUB TRY-OUTS

On Friday, October 21 the Debating Club held its first try outs for freshmen and sophomores. The following new members were added at this meeting—

Jessie C. Smith
Jeanette Luther
Mary Baskerville

Another try out for upper-classmen and those girls who were unable to participate in the first try out will be held in the near future.

The Debate Council has arranged a very interesting program for the coming year. In one of the most interesting debates scheduled is a dual debate with North Carolina State College for Men. The debate with this college last year was said to have been one of the best of the year.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 Third St.

WADE'S
Visit our PARLOR for best
DRINKS and SANDWICHES
In Town!
WADES

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

OCTOBER'S MAGIC

October's gypsy fingers touch the trembling leaves;
Her passions burn them—sensitive,
frail.
They blush to see her reckless cruelty,
But lose their hold upon strong trees
And follow where the wind's weird music leads.

—C. M. H. '30

AT NIGHT

When the lights are out
And the weary house
Is folded in velvet night
The stars come close to my window
And twinkle with friendly light.

Then my heart is warm and happy
For I know the stars are true
And they can see farther than I can see—
They are watching over you.

M. B. B.—'31

"A TIME FOR ALL THINGS"

Black chile, wha' fo' yo' bawlin'?
Shet right up an' stop dat squawlin'.
Humph! Dat chile is sho' de limit!
'Taint lak he's skairt or timit.—
Ef yo' ain't glad yo' oughta be,
'Cause yo's plum lucky, "pears to me.
Now I's got cause fo' discontentment,
Yit I ain't got no resentment.
I'se gotta go an' fix dat plow,
An' den I'se gotta milk de cow.
Hit's harvest up or hoe or sow,
An' dat ain't all—it's mo' an' mo'.
Dere's time to grumble—yes, it 'tis—
W'en you's as ole as yo' uncle is.

—Mary Frances Shepard '30

THE OLD MAN WITH A WHITE BEARD

He was a friend of mine once—this old man with the long white beard. It was long, long ago, and yet I have not forgotten him. He is not easily forgotten—this funny old man in a dark blue suit, worn with age and shapless with lack of pressing. And yet he was not in any way remarkable. His face was lined with long-forgotten cares, and his brow was smooth with release from thought. He walked slowly with the help of a cane, and spoke but seldom, and then in a voice bereft of expression. The lost traces of a once square set chin were hidden by his beard, and the ends of his hair were never out of his eyes.

His eyes—there you have it! They were the only remarkably beautiful thing about him, filled as they were with the light of another world,—a light that never failed to conjure up thoughts of an old fashioned flower garden. Pink and white hyacinths bloomed between rows of lilies-of-the-valley under a French-blue sky, beneath which walked stately, old-fashioned ladies, in "stiff brocaded gowns," with silly corkscrew curls, and heavenly-sweet faces, that probably smiled, long, long ago—on this dear old man with the heavenly light in his eyes.

—M. O. '27

Miss Mayo Bass spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

* * *

Some people grow under responsibilities; others merely grow.

OUTSTANDNG TEACHERS COLLEGES IN U. S. A.

(Continued from page one)

lieve to be the most outstanding were about equalyl distributed in the Northern, Southern, Eastern and Western sections of the country.

The list of seventy-seven schools was sent to thirty-seven men, with the request that they check the twenty schools which in their opinion ranked among the most outstanding of the teachers colleges. Thirty-seven lists were returned. Four did not check because of "insufficient knowledge of the institutions"; three checked fewer than twenty schools, and four checked one school each which was not included in the original list, but no such school was suggested by more than one man. The schools were listed alphabetically by states, to avoid a suggestion of importance by position on the list.

It is significant that, when ranked by frequency of checking, the twelve schools at the head of the list receievd practically fifty per cent of the frequencies: i. e., 315 out of 640. These institutions are teachers colleges at—

Ypsilante, Michigan
Emporia, Kansas
Greeley, Colorado
Cedar Fall, Iowa
Normal, Illinois
Kalamazoo, Michigan
Terre Haute, Indiana
Albany, New York
Warrensburg, Missouri
Charleston, Illinois
Farmville, Virginia
Kirksville, Missouri

The first twenty-five include, in addition to those already named, the colleges at—

Denton, Texas
Aberdeen, South Dakota
Nachitoches, Louisiana
Greenville, North Carolina
San Jose, California
Santa Barbara, California
Bowling Green, Kentucky
Bridgewater, Massachusetts
Springfield, Missouri
San Francisco, California
Salem, Massachusetts
Macomb, Illinois
Kearney, Nebraska

The twenty-five schools named received 485, of the 640, frequencies in the checking, or seventy-five per cent; hence the remaining frequencies, amounting to 155, were distributed among the other fifty-six schools.: Thirteen schools received no mention from the judges consulted and fourteen others were checked but once each.: It will be observed that thirteen of the first twenty-five schools are in the North Central section of the United States, three are in the Eastern section, five in the Southern section and three are in the Pacific Coast section.

An outstanding state teachers college as considered in such an inquiry as this, is probably—

1.: A school with a well-known, well-trained, experienced, and aggressive president.

2. Or a school that has had recently an able president, of the above sort, or who in his time developed the school to a high degree of efficiency in the training of teachers.

3. Or a school that is known for the thoroughness with which it supplies well-trained teachers to its legitimate field.

4. Or a school that has been constantly aggressive in developing its plant, its curriculum, its faculty, and its students through the co-or-

(Continued on last page.)

SOCIAL

Misses Anne Ferree, Harriet Booker, Mabel Fitzpatrick, and Virginia Goode spent Saturday in Lynchburg and attended the Hampden-Sidney-Lynchburg College game.

* * *

Misses Evelyn Beckham and Mary Rives Richardson, former students at S. T. C., have returned to Hopewell after spending the week-end here.

* * *

Miss Helen Jones returned Sunday from Richmond where she spent the week - end with Miss Virginia Cowherd and attended the William and Mary College football game on Saturday.

* * *

Miss Doll Latane returned Sunday night after spending the week-end at her home in Richmond and attending the opening dance of the University of Richmond.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Lacy spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

* * *

Misses Margaret Leonard and Lucile Field have returned after spending Saturday and Sunday at their homes in Richmond. Miss Leonard had as her guest Miss Alice Covington.

* * *

Miss Frankie Roberts has returned after attending the football game and week-end dances at William and Mary College.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Ball returned Sunday from her home in Norfolk, where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Among those who attended the opening dances and football game at the University of Virginia were Miss Louise Craft, Anne Palmer, Virginia Walker and Mary Bernard.

* * *

Miss Genieve Grimes spent the week-end at her home in Norfolk.

* * *

Misses Mildred Jackson and Sarah Johnson have returned from Richmond where they spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Louise Foster returned Sunday night from Richmond where she attended the opening dances of the University of Richmond and the V. M. I.-Maryland game.

OUR SPORTY TEACHERS

Sportsmanship is an indescribable something; yet, it is something that is easily recognized. It seems to be a state or condition that is recognized by anyone and everyone if it is present. That is why we know that our faculty at S. T. C. is composed of many, many excellent sports. Those qualities that make up a good sport are so quickly discovered in our favorite teachers—or in the others for that matter—that we have decided that sportsmanship is another thing that can be taught to us by them through their actions as well as their words.

At present many of our teachers have entered a teacher's tennis tournament after which the winner of that will play the winner of the girls' tournament that is now in process. It is hard to tell just who will win this match because it is rumored that there is a freshman tennis champion here this year. We are also aware of the fact that a few of our teachers can play tennis as efficiently as they can grade test papers or give surprise written lessons.

ATHLETICS

As the winter season draws near thoughts of Thanksgiving Day "pop" into the mind of every S. T. C. girl. Thanksgiving Day at S. T. C. may not mean spell "turkey", but it does spell "hockey".

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, have been practicing for the past three weeks with those games in view, but such a few of each class have come out that it is sometimes hard to make two teams and, a team certainly can't play without opponents. Whether a girl has played before or not should never keep her back. Every little bit of practicing she does will strengthen her team and give it a better chance of winning the game.

All of the preliminary tennis games have not been played off yet, but as the number dwindles down, members of all four classes have been seen anxiously eyeing the results. The day for the finals approaches, and soon will be here.

The faculty, too, is waiting for that day, for the faculty champion has challenged the winner of the student body to a game.

Basketball practices have been held and large numbers have been out to try their skill at tossing the ball.

Schedules for all practices will be posted on the bulletin board for the week and eevry girl should come out for some practice to do her part toward putting here colors on the cup.

TENNIS DON'TS

1. Don't use two hands on the racquet.
2. Don't fool.
3. Don't lose your temper.
4. Don't quit.
5. Don't grouch.
6. Don't argue.
7. Don't dispute decisions.
8. Don't be late for appointments.
9. Don't look away from the ball.
10. Don't underestimate the other fellow.
11. Don't overestimate yourself.
12. DON'T OFFER ALIBIS FOR LOSING POINTS.
13. Don't face the net when making a stroke.
14. Don't throw your racquet about
15. Don't stand around heated after playing.
16. Don't smoke.
17. Don't worry if you get "licked."
18. Don't think you are champion every time you win a match.

FOOTWORK

The five errors the average player makes are—

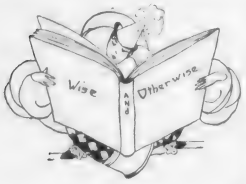
1. Being caught off balance.
2. Being caught on the flat of his feet instead of "on his toes."
3. The weight being on the wrong foot.
4. The player being out of position.
5. The player executing his stroke off the wrong foot.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS



WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century ....
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

Correct Clothes
For the Round of
College Life
Shoes
Dresses
Hats
Coats
Millinery
Gloves
Underwear
Sweaters
Negligees
And All Necessities
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Chris—"Can you drive with one hand?"

Harry—"Of course I can." (waits breathlessly).

Chris—"Then have an apple."—Va. Tech.

The window song—"As through this world we window way."

L. Costen—"When I get married I'm going to live close to a hospital."

Eliz. Woodson—"What's the big idea."

L. Costen—"For convenience, my dearie, faint in a department store while shopping and get a free ride to my very door."—Red Cat.

Jack—"Have you heard the new swan song?"

Will—"Why, no."

Jack—"Ha, that's swan on you."—Va. Reel.

Anna B.—"Henry, why aren't you writing?"

Henry—"I ain't got no pen."

Anna B.—"Where's your grammar?"

Henry—"She's dead."

Barbara W.—"Tommy, compare the adjective "ill".

Tommy—"Yes'm, ill, sicker, dead."

Sue Webb—"I wish I were like the rivers."

Paris—"Why?"

Sue—"So I could follow my course without leaving my bed."

H.-S.—I love you—love you—love you. I want you for my own! By the way, what's your name?

Peg Walton said somebody said that exercises will kill all germs. But the trouble is to get the things to exercise.

Lucille G.—"Ferree sure is fashionable, huh?"

Florence—"I'll say—she gets the spring fever in October she's so up-to-date."

Red Foster—Many times a room mate but seldom ever a bride.

C. Jones—"What do you say we tie up for life?"

Gurlie—"I can't—I'm not your bow."

Chris—"Want to do something big?"

Eliz. Munn—"Yea—"

Chris—"Go wash an elephant."

Cogbill says if she ever got eight hours sleep she'd die of sleeping sickness.

Harvey—"You know, I'm funny like that—I always throw myself into anything I undertake."

M. Pumphrey—"How splendid! Why don't you dig a well."

Father—"I do not approve of your acquaintance with that telephone girl."

Son—"Why not! She's connected with some of the best families."

Va. Gurlie says summer hotels—and some aren't.

GIRLS AND GIRLS

There are many different kinds of girls
Some with straight hair, some with curls,
Some are awkward, some are bold,
Some who ne'er do as they are told.
Girls who are bashful and painfully shy
Who when you tease them, will always cry.
Girls who are dumb and girls who are bright.
Some look "the thing", some look a fright.
Some are quite pretty, some are neat,
Some are dignified, some are sweet;
Some girls are happy, some are blue;
But the question is—"What kind are you?"

JUST BECAUSE

Just because a girl doesn't act
Just like you, or
Just like you think she should act;
Just because her clothes don't look
Just like yours, or
Just like you think they ought to look;
Just because she doesn't talk
Just like you, or
Just like you think she should talk;
Just because a girl's herself instead of
Just like you, or
Just like you think she ought to be;
Is no reason she isn't
Just like she ought to be.

POST OFFICE REACTIONS

The usual crowd is gathered in the Past Office. Everyone is in a fever of excitement and anticipation. Suddenly the familiar "sh" passes over the entire group and a tense silence reigns for Miss Taliaferro has begun to distribute the mail.

The eyes of every girl are focused upon the various boxes eagerly and anxiously waiting to see a letter slip into the particular box bearing her own number.

At last the door behind the rows of boxes closes as a signal that Miss Taliaferro has finished her work, and the spell is broken. Hurriedly, combinations are worked and with groans, laughter, squeals of delight, and sighs, the doors are opened, the mail extracted and the doors slammed again.

The crowd files out. Some are happy; others wear expressions of deep disappointment; but upon the faces of all, in capital letters is written "RELIEF."

IDEAL COLLEGE PAPER

Continued from page two

lies in the general spirit it portrays. A college is judged by its paper—by the spirit shown therein. How may a school have an ideal paper without having the help of every student? In this respect, a school paper should be democratic—everybody's paper. It is often said that the staff has to do most of the editing. This is true in many instances. A school cannot hope to have an ideal paper unless it has the co-operation of every student. If it fails in this, the paper cannot possibly reflect the spirit of the school. If the paper is to be a trues tory of school life, then everyone must do her bit—must support the staff, must make the staff's cause her own, must make the cause an ideal supreme.

"It's not the individual
Nor the school as a whole,
But the everlasting team work,
Of every single soul."

(Adapted from Rudyard Kipling)

M. H. H. JOACHIM LECTURES ON INDIA

Continued from page one

fully quiet humor in his efforts to impress his subject on the mind of his audience. His unique personality and his power of expression in a foreign idiom held the attention of his listeners without a break. Those students who missed Mr. Joachim's lecture can only hope that he will return again, soon, so that they may have the opportunity of hearing him.

MISS JENNIE'S "FOR YOU"

Have you been fortunate enough to read a little blue volume of delightful verse called "For You"? As far as the girls of the school are concerned the answer will be almost unanimous "Yes!" Almost all the girls have not only read the book, but have already chosen their favorites from among the beautiful little poems.

The author of For You is Miss Jennie M. Tabb. For a number of years Miss Tabb has written verse and the best of it is contained in this collection. On the cover of the book there is a criticism by Miss Mary Clay Hiner:

"Lyrics in different moods all marked by simplicity, brevity, clarity; all of them friendly, personal intimate; some of them reflect the reverent mood, some the philosophic, and too few the humor that is so delightfully characteristic of the author at her best. One wishes the group including Grandpa! and Cupid in Distress might have been extended though the brief, tender lyrics like Home, My Lover and Lovers are as truly representative. Miss Tabb's small volume will be welcomed because of the varied appeal —to the playful fancy as well as to one's more serious thoughts and feelings."

We are proud to have a poet among us who so beautifully spreads her Alma Mater's fame.

COUSIN TOMMY

A cheerful "Good evening," a smile from a thin weather-beaten face accompanied by a wave of his billy—that's Cousin Tommy.

For seventeen years, during winter and summer, Cousin Tommy has been on this beat, a faithful and constant watchman with over a thousand girl friends who unhesitatingly call on him when in need. Especially when the need arises for procuring food is Cousin Tommy a popular and much sought after man. Is there anyone else around school who would so willingly get us dopes and other good things to eat and can't escape the confines of the dormitory walls? Cousin Tommy is certainly a charitable man for he is always ready to help those suffering from hunger.

Then oftentimes on cold wintry nights we hear his footsteps echoing on the pavement as he makes his nightly rounds and we snuggle down in our warm beds with a feeling of comfort and safety, for Cousin Tommy is on duty, watching out for fires and intruders. It must be cold and tiresome for him to tread the same paths so often, but nevertheless he never fails his duty.

Cousin Tommy is also always on hand to walk with us to our cottages when it is dark and we are somewhat nervous. The gloom of the night vanish with his bright, happy feeling that in this man we possess a staunch friend and helper.

Yes, for seventeen years Cousin Tommy has been fulfilling his duty in service for S. T. C. Do we appreciate his service? In answer to this question his thousand friends raise their voices in a loud "We do!"

POETRY

LOVE'S PRAYER

Dear Lord! Kind Lord!
Gracious Lord! I pray
Thou wilt look on all I love,
Tenderly today!
Weed their hearts of weariness;
Scatter every care,
Down a wake of Angel's wings
Winnowing the air.
Bring unto the sorrowing
All release from pain;
Let the lips of laughter
Overflow again;
And with all the needy
O divide, I pray,
This vast treasure of content
That is mine today!

—James Whitcomb Riley

SMILE

When the joke is on you, can you smile too? or do you get angry and pout? If this is the case with you, lets stop it right now and smile.

It's wonderful what a smile can do. It a person is rather down hearted, a smile will help so much to change the grey clouds to blue.

The most common excuse for not smiling when you should is, "I have n't time." But just try keeping a record of what you actually do with your time and youw ill be astonished at the amount of time you waste, which could just as well be used for smiling and making others happy.

A smile is a funny thing—
It wrinkles up your face,
And when it's gone you never fine
It's secret hiding place.
But far more wonderful it is
To see what smiles can do;
You smile at one, he smiles at you,
And so one smile makes two.
He smiles at someone, since you smile,
And then that one smiles back,
And that one smiles, until in truth
You fail in keeping track.
And since a smile can do a great good
By cheering hearts of care,
Let's smile and smile and not forget
That smiles go everywhere.

—Exchange

GRAND-DAUGHTERS CLUB ORGANIZED

Continued from page one

Mary Alice Bristow, Mary Rose Wood, Gladys Stevens, Etnel Rowley, Mary Seaborn, Maggie Baker, Vintle Stevenson, Virginia Pettigrew, Allie Oliver, and Gladys Oliver.

OUTSTANDNG TEACHERS COLLEGES IN U. S. A.

Continued from page three

dination of all the forces that should be concentrated on that important task.

Measured by these standards, it is probable that not all the outstanding state teachers colleges are included in the above list. The designation of the schools here named may, however, furnish some stimulation to the others and give them "something to shoot at." In fact, the whole point of the discussion is to commend worthy efforts that have been made by state teacher-training colleges and to stimulate wholesome emulation.

"RAT" INITIATION

Continued from page one

up," and made to perform for the amusement of the court and the rest of the sophomores.

After all the "rats" had received their caps "King" Marshall issued the decree that they must be worn on week days from 4 to 7:30 o'clock. They were also forbidden to speak a word during supper that night, in order that they might be duly impressed with the dignity and superiority of the Honorable Sophomores.

Get Your Needs at

Greenberg's
Department Store

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE GIRLS

We invite your charge account

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor

"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"

Let us Supply Your Wants

Corner Main and High Streets

FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
Phone 221 610 Main St.

AT THE EACO

Fri. and Sat.—Norma Talmadge in her greatest picture "Camille."

Parisian gowns of the most gorgeous type were imported for Norma Talmadge in her role of "Camille," in the modernized version of the classic produced by Joseph M. Schenck fr First National as Miss Talmadge's latest starring vehicle. While hte picture retains the plot of the famous story by the young Alexandre Dumas, the settings and costumes are all modern in character. Fred Niblo is the director. Adv

Mon.—William Collier, Jr. Barbara Bedford, Eileen Percy and many others in "Backstage" a special prdocution. A vidid picture of life behind the scenes. An enthralling human story of life as lived by the Care-Free Chorus Girl. Her loves her struggles, her tragedies. Unusally good. Also Pathe News and a comedy. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

Tues.—Madge Bellamy, J. Farrell MacDonald and a great cast in the speccial production "Colleen." A joyous, rollicking picture, with touches of rare pathos and tense drama with the great flapper star, Madge Bellmy, in the rle oaf an Irish lassie, taken against the background of rural Ireland and Metropolitan America. This is a big special. Also 1st episode of our great new serial. "Fighting with Buffalo Bill." Mat. at 4 o'clock.

Admission to S. T. C. girls purchasing tickets at college, Mon., Tues, 25c; Thurs., Fri., and Sat., 35 cents.

THE ROTUNDA

POE

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMEBER 2, 1927 Number 5

CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS COMING TO S. T. C.

Will Present Plays November 14th

On Monday night, November 14, Professor Koch and his Carolina Playmakers will stake several of their plays at S. T. C. Their repertoire for this season will include Fixins' by Paul and Emma Green, The Scuffletown Outlaws by Wililam Norment Cox, Lighted Candles by Miss Margaret Bland and Wilbur Stauts attractive comedy On Dixon's Porch. Those members of the student body who were fortunate enough to attend their performance here last year realize the great opportunity which their return offers.

This body of Chapel Hill students, under the direction of Prof. Frederick Koch, write, produce and act their own plays. The scenery is also designed and made by the Playmakers. The themes of their plays are chosen from traditions, historical incidents and customs well-known in North Carolina. After the characters are real people- friends of the author. Using these themes and these characters the Playmakers have given to America a truly native drama—significant and strikest sense of the word. Professor Koch has instilled in his students an absolute familiarity with dramatic technique. Their plays are truthful portrayal of Carolinian folk life written beautifuly and simply.

DR. JARMAN'S OFFICE ENLARGED; ROOMS NEWLY DECORATED

A suite of rooms for Dr. Jarman's own use has been made this year by combining the faculty room and the president's old office. This apartment consists of three rooms; a waiting room, the office proper and an inner office. These have been tastefully decorated with rugs of subdued colors and furniture of a simple and attractive pattern. The inner room is furnished especially with an eye towards comfort. A large cosy Morris chair and a footstool are arranged in one corner in such a way as to give easy access to the bookshelves against the walls.

The need for these rooms has been felt for a long time both by the president and by those who wished to transact business with him. The waiting room with its pleasant surroundings, not only eliminates the line that formerly was seen outside Dr. Jarman's door, but it also makes waiting less tiresome. The combination of rooms gives the extra space needed and adds another spot of beauty to our college.

STUDENT COUNCIL CONTROLS CHAPEL REGULATIONS

Due to the request of Dr. Jarman the student council has taken charge of chapel exercises Monitors have been appointed who are responsible for the conduct, ventilation, and chapel attendance. Excuses for chapel absences are taken to one of these monitors. A committee has been appointed to work with a faculty committee on the chapel program. Chapel seats have been assigned and we are sure that the monitors with the cooperation of the student body will bring about a great improvement in chapel.

MISS ELIZABETH BUGG IS FRESHMAN CLASS "MAN"

Elsie Clements and Jane Cotton Are Elected Student Council Representatives

At the first Freshman class meeting held since the election of the class officers, Miss Elizabeth Bugg, a former member of the student body and graduate of the class of 1925, was elected Freshman class "man." Elsie Clements and Jane Cotton were elected as Freshman representatives of the Student Council. Three Freshmen cheer leaders were also elected who are Nancy Nelms, Alice Covington, and Virginia Robertson. After other minor details of the year being discussed the meeting was adjourned.

ROTUNDA OFFICE HAS NEW FURNISHINGS

The Rotunda office has recently been changed from a typical publication headquarters to an ideal working center through the addition of new equipment.

Shades, curtains, and a rug of attractive colors were bought by Dr. Jarman and given to the Rotunda office. A new mahogony cabinet and a typewriting chair were also added to the new equipment. The Rotunda staff is grateful to Dr. Jarman for these additions and wishes to take this opportunity to thank him for them. Surroundings have a big influence on one's moods and also indirectly on one's abilities. With such favorable conditions the staff hopes to publish a better paper in the future.

WHO'S WHO AT S. T. S.

As all of the old girls at S. T. C. know, and as all of the new girls should know, we have a section in the Virginian called "Vanity Fair." This section consists of the pictures of the most outstanding girls, such as the most popular, the most beautiful, the most intellectual, the most athletic, etc. In a short while we will have to vote for girls for "Vanity Fair," so be thinking about who you are going to vote for, then, when the time comes you can vote intelligently.

DEBATING CLUB MAKES EXTENSIVE PLANS FOR YEAR

Unusual Number of Intercollegiate Debates

At the meeting of the Debating Club held on Friday night, October 28, an extensive program for the coming year was planned. Sometime this term there is to be a Freshman-Sophomore debate in the auditorium to which everyone is cordially invited. The date of this contest will be announced later. The subject is one in which everyone is interested at present and one which will probably cause no doubts in the mind of anyone again after the "pros" and "cons" have been brought to light and thoroughly considered The Freshmen will champion the natural side for Freshmen to champion and the Sophomores will uphold the side which all loyal Sophomores honestly belive in when the are in the presence only of each other. We suppose the "gentle reader" would like to know what the subject is, but in view of several most important considerations that, will be announced with the date.

In the club there are three ranks or degrees. Names for these degrees were chosen by the club at th last meeting. These are—

Collegiate—Any member of the club who has participated in at least one public debate and, in addition, has met certain requirements with regard to knowledge of debating technique.

Intercollegiate—Any member of the club who has made one of the intercollegiate debating teams.

It was decided to hold the class debate for the cup some time in the spring. The teams for this debate will consist of a Senior and a Sophomore against a Junior and a Freshman, or possibly, there will be more than two members each. Red and White will debate aaginst Green and White and the winning colors will be placed on the cup! The debators for this contest will be chosen from those showing most ability during the fall and winter.

More debates with other colleges are planned for this year than last year. Several of the colleges we debated last year will meet us again and, in addition, others will meet us for the first time. The whole schedule will be announced at a later date. Most of the intercollegiate debates will occur in the winter .Some will be held away from home, but there will, in most cases, be a team from the same college here on the same night.

from time to time during the session,

There will be other public debates to which the faculty and the whole student body are cordially invited.

REWARD

To the class having all of their pictures taken soonest for the annal. Support your class by having your picture taken!

MISS ILER PRESENTED AS JUNIOR CLASS MAN

October twenty-ninth was a glad day for the jolly Juniors for on that morning they presented Miss Olive T. Iler as their class "man."

With a joyful song in their hearts and a happy smile on their faces, the Juniors marched in dressed in white, for it was a great occasion. After "Red" Foster had presented Miss Iler to the faculty and student body, the whole Junior class sang, "To You, Miss Iler." They sang like they meant it, too—that Junior class—for they were pledging their love and loyalty to their sponsor, who has for the past two years, led and guided them to the honor of the Green and White.

GLEE CLUB UNITES WITH CHORAL CLUB

Miss Turner is the New Director

This year the Glee Club, at the suggestion of Miss Turner, our new musical director, has voted to combine with the Choral Club, feeling that a better organization, capable of better work, will grow out of this union of two choruses. This merging of the two clubs can be managed easily due to the similar purposes of each. In place of the Glee Club, Miss Turner has suggested a double quartette, consisting of the best voices of the new Choral Club. This change will result in a more effective organization with the ability to enter a wider field of work. In view of this change we may safely predict a very successful musical year for our school.

STAGE MAKE-UP CLASSES GIVEN DRAMATIC CLUB

If you should happen to drop in the auditorium most any Wednesday night around 7:30, you'd see that some of the S. T. C. girls are learning secrets—beauty hints! They file in and close the doors behind them posting many notices not to be disturbed. But confidentially I'm lettin' you in on the inside dope: Miss Wheeler as chief director and beauty culturist gives explicit directions on "make-up." She shows one how to look old, young, surprised, wrinkled, and other ways. Half of the girls drape themselves longuidly in chairs, while others plaster them with cold cream, powder, lip-stick and eye brow pencil. Getting a close view of the cosmetic victims we feel as if we might be surrounded by a band of cut throats —so wild-eyed and desperate do they look. But to get the perspective one must stand back at a distance to regard the finished products. You feel that at last you found the land of beautiful women, and if Miss Wheeler can do that for us, the Dramatic Club will probably be overrushed in the future with girls who wish to "try-out."

STUDENT BODY ENJOYS HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATIONS

Freshmen in Cottages Entertain

Amid shouts and shrieks of varying degrees, the girls of the Main and Sudent buildings were entertained at supper on Saturday, October 29, by the girls of the small dormatories.

The rooms of the cottages were ingeniously decorated by corn stalks jack-o'-lanterns, autumn leaves, pumpkins, and other obejcts suggestive of Hallowe'en. Wierd sounds issued from some dormatories while now and then one would catch a glimpse of fluttering ghosts and other strange creatures. A ghostly effect was achieved by means of a meager use of lights.

A variety of entertainment was offered by the hostesses of the cottages. "Spooky" stunts, stories, dancing contests, "apple - bobbing" and fortune telling were presented for the amusement of the guests. Spontaneous bursts of laughter echoed through the rooms as the guests joined in the stunts and games of the evening. In the midst of this hilarity a delightful supper was served—one, at the sight of which any ghost or witch would have danced with glee.

The supper was served by the Y. W. C. A. under the direction of the social committee.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS FIRST OPEN CABINET MEETING

The first open Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting of the year was held Saturday afternoon in the student building lounge. Dr. Jarman, advisers, committee members, and cabinet members, attended.

Dr. Jarman talked about his convictions concerning the Y. W. C. A. and its work in this college. He stated that few people have really found Christ, and the only way He may be found is by living according to His principles. The purpose of the college Y. W. C. A., Dr. Jarman said, is to lead the student body to a deeper spiritual life. As a constant source for spiritual inspiration, however, nothing takes the place of the church.

The monthly reports of the comtee chairmen were read, summarizing the work of the Y. W. C. A. since the opening of school.

At the end of the business session there was a social hour during which tea was served.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

FIRST THINGS FIRST

We read in our Great Book of Wisdom that there is a time for all things. Everyone realizes the truth of this statement, but with the realization seems to come cessation of interest.

In any organized life such as we must live in college, it seems that it would be easy to put first things first. We have a time for everything, but the important part of organizations—the time spent on each phase of work or play, is left with the student. This is where we make our mistakes. Even the most conscientious student is prone to skip over the important things and over emphasize the supercilious, light things of our daily lives.

What will these things which assume such grave importance today amount to ten years from now? What will they amount to tomorrow? When we go out to teach, which will count the most for us—our social standing for two or even four years in college, or our academic rating for that same period of time?

Are we serious enough to accept the responsibilities as they come, or must we be excused forever with the expression "We must remember that they are young"?

On the other hand, are we missing the best part of college life by allowing our attitude to become too serious? Are we allowing grades, honors, positions, to mean too much? Do we constantly worry ourselves and others with tomorrow's lesson or next week's test?

In this mechanical age, if someone could only invent a time budgeting machine for college students which would also deal with state of mind, wouldn't our college life be ideal?

Yes, first things must come first, but how long do they take? How much time can we devote to lighter things?

The most serious one would give too serious an answer to the problem. One more frivolous would be too frivolous with her answer.

It seems, then that it must be left with the individual. Granting that,—the problem remains before us without solution.

GOSSIP

"Believe not each accusing tongue
As most weak people do;
But still believe that story wrong
Which ought not to be true."

I pass a statue who sits listening in a hall—listening it seems to the heart of a sudent body that is breaking because of false and unfair accusaions. Hearts have allowed great barriers to grow into their very beings, caused by misunderstandings, mistakes, and mistrusts. The things we say!

And again that meaning smile, the uplifted eyebrow, the curious look and the dubious nod. The things we do! And in doing we find ours ouls have grown pitty from idle talk—the latest story—GOSSIP.

The statue sits listening—listening always, but never does she speak. Little Maid of Orleans could we but learn a lesson from your silent watch, the lesson of respect of other's feelings. We need your spirit to take us "forward" and in going forward we will leave our pettiness of speech and action.

BY THE FIRESIDE

Did you ever sit in front of an open fire and watch the flames go roaring up the chimney? In those flames you see pitcures, and all your dreams and castles in the air come true. Everyone dreams, and it is a beautiful thing to watch those dreams come true, if only in the flames of a fire. A mother dreams of her children growing up and becoming famous, returning to her great men and women. A boy sees himself as a great general, or perhaps as a cow boy of the plains; he dreams of the mighty deeds he will do and he sees the town paying him homage. A little girl sees herself at court, dancing with a prince, or again as a Red Cross nurse in the battlefields, sacrificing herself for the good of humanity. The gallant young man sees his sweetheart in the scarlet flames leaping upward and he plans their future. The aged sit there for it is they who dream most, they have more time for dreaming, their life has been lived. In the cold winter it is the grandmothers and grandfathers who sit by the fire and live their lives over again. They dream of the past, not of the future; their future is short and they are content in living in the reflections of their past glory.

From the primitive times fires have been the centralizing force of the home. The dearest word we know is home, and fireside is almost a synonymous term. It has been the confidant of little children with their fairy stories, of young people with their dreams, of middle aged people and their ambitions, and of the old people and their past, and it has yet to reveal a secret whispered on its hearth.

MYSELF

I have to live with myself, and so
I want to be fit for myself to know.
I want to be able, as days go by,
Always to look myself straight in the eye;
I don't want to stand with the setting sun
And hate myself for things I've done.

I don't want to keep on a closet shelf
A lot of secrets about myself,
And fool myself, as I come and go,
Into thinking that nobody else will know
The kind of a man I really am;
I don't want to dress up myself in a sham.

I want to go out with my head erect,
I want to deserve all men's respect;
But here in the struggle for fame and self
I want to be able to like myself.
I don't want to look at myself and know
That I'm bluster and bluff and empty show.

I can never hide myself from me;
I see what others may never see;
I know what others may never know;
I never can fool myself, and so
Whatever happens. I want to be Self-respecting and conscience-free.

—Edgar A. Guest

ALUMNAE NEWS

Miss Jennie Tabb attended the wedding on Saturday, October 22, of Miss Ann Archer Irving and Reginald H. Potts, Jr., which took place at the home of the bride in Amelia was of interest to friends at S. T.C. Dr. R. H. Potts of Farmville, father of the groom, performed the ceremony, at which only members of the two families were present. The music was played by Miss Virginia Potts, sister of the groom, and Miss Agnes Venable Watkins, of Farmville, was the maid of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Potts will spend the winter at Kenbridge, Va.

A very elaborate and beautiful wedding occured at McKenny on October 15, when Miss Mary Louise Doyle, became the bride of Clarence Watkins Rigdon, of New Bern, N. C. A recent issue of the Richmond Times-Dispatch contained a picture of Mrs. Rigdon. Mr. and Mrs. Rigdon will be at home this winter at 2107 Myrtle Avenue, Raleigh, N. C.

Miss Georgia McMath and G. S. Tignall formed one couple in a double wedding on October 19 at Onley. Mr. and Mrs. Tignall will make their home at Onancock.

Miss Ethel Marian Camper of Orange and London Edward Fuller of Danville, were married August 4 at the University of Virginia. They will reside in Blacksburg, where Mr. Fuller is professor of English at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Miss Bessie Randolph, formerly a member of the History and Social Science department here, spent last summer in Europe and attended the meeting of the League of Nations. She is head of the department of History and Economics at the Florida State College for Women, in Tallahassee and holds the chair of International Law.

Miss Mildred Lohr, B. S. 1927, has been in a hospital for several weeks, receiving treatment for an injury to her arm sustained in an automobile accident.

Miss Ola Mae Kidwell of Burkeville and Whitmer Jefferson of Fredericksburg were married at the home of the bride on October 23. Miss Margaret Petty of Portsmouth was maid of honor. Both girls are Farmville alumnae, class of 1926.

SUPPORTING YOUR ANNUAL

How many girls have been watching the notices concerning The Virginian? We must do this if it is to be a fine publication.. Let's play our part and help the members of the staff along. How much better they can work if they know that we are supporting them! This is our publication. We want it to represent the best that is in us. Others often judge our student body by our annual. Let's not be falsely judged.

A good thing to remember
And a better thing to do
Is to work with the construction gang
Not with the wrecking crew.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches--
Phone 110 Third St.

WADE'S
Visit our PARLOR for best
DRINKS and SANDWICHES
In Town!
WADES

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

THE SPIRIT OF HALLOWE'EN

As the autumn leaves begin to fall, and the air chills with the twang we know so well, our thoughts turn instinctively to Hallowe'en.

Hallowe'en—the night of witches, ghosts, and practical jokes; the season for cats, bats, and pumpkins. How strongly it appeals to all of us, and how eagerly we respond to its pagon call!

Up and down the street in every little town, gaunt, toothless witches may be seen, riding their broomsticks and wailing aloud, while great black cats hiss and claw at unseen "hants", and weirdly fearsome objects creep or dance grotesquely by.

Now a loud and piercing shriek is heard—perhaps a smother wail—then a sudden whirr of bats' wings, as the dip and spin and soar. What a night of horrors! What a night of thrills! Hallowe'en.

ON MY WAY HOME

The engine throbs a song to me
Over and over again
The bright leaves shout it
The wind is a sweet refrain
The whole world is gay with me
And deep in my heart
The beats make a symphony
With each joyous thing a part.

—M. B. B.

RELIABILITY

God, give me bread to
Help me to see
Beyond this narrow sphere
Of weary days
Help me to know the Infinite
That I may meet with calm unquestioning
Life's every petty sting
And smile, with face uplifted
Seeing Beyond

—M. B. B.

SONG

"I sang a song to you last evening—
Ah, you were sleeping, dear.
I stood beneath your window;
You must have felt me near.
I sang to you all things sweet—
Of all things sweet and fair,
I longed to see you waken, love,
And see me standing there,
But though I sang a lengthened strain,
You never heard my song—"

"Ah, yes, I did! I dreamed of you
The whole night long!"

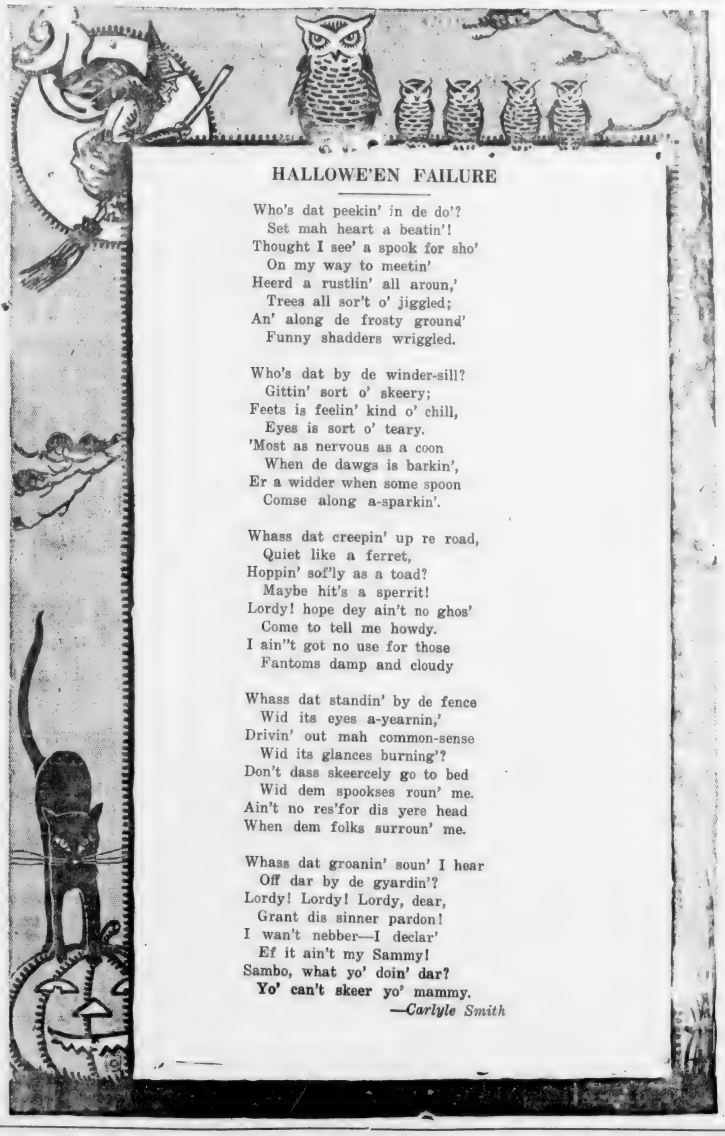
J. E. W. '29

Miss Betty Randall spent the week-end at her home in Smithfield.

* * *

Miss Martha Lanier was the week-end guest of Miss Flora Martin at her home in Petersburg.

* * *



Miss Etta Marshall has returned after spending the week-end at her home in Portsmouth.

* * *

Mrs. Hatch of Wakefield was the week-end guest of her daughter Miss Katherine Hatch.

* * *

Miss Ida Wright Chapman returned Sunday night from Smithfield where she spent the week-end at her home.

HALLOWE'EN FAILURE

Who's dat peekin' in de do'?
Set mah heart a beatin'!
Thought I see' a spook for sho'
On my way to meetin'
Heerd a rustlin' all aroun,'
Trees all sor't o' jiggled;
An' along de frosty ground'
Funny shadders wriggled.

Who's dat by de winder-sill?
Gittin' sort o' skeery;
Feets is feelin' kind o' chill,
Eyes is sort o' teary.
'Most as nervous as a coon
When de dawgs is barkin',
Er a widder when some spoon
Comse along a-sparkin'.

Whass dat creepin' up re road,
Quiet like a ferret,
Hoppin' sof'ly as a toad?
Maybe hit's a sperrit!
Lordy! hope dey ain't no ghos'
Come to tell me howdy.
I ain"t got no use for those
Fantoms damp and cloudy

Whass dat standin' by de fence
Wid its eyes a-yearnin,'
Drivin' out mah common-sense
Wid its glances burning'?
Don't dass skeercely go to bed
Wid dem spookses roun' me.
Ain't no res'for dis yere head
When dem folks surroun' me.

Whass dat groanin' soun' I hear
Off dar by de gyardin'?
Lordy! Lordy! Lordy, dear,
Grant dis sinner pardon!
I wan't nebber—I declar'
Ef it ain't my Sammy!
Sambo, what yo' doin' dar?
Yo' can't skeer yo' mammy.

—Carlyle Smith

TIT FOR TAT

Once upon a time there was an old witch who was left out of the Hallowe'en party. And she decided to have one of her own, and invite all the nice, kind, Brownies. "I shall have soup for refreshments," she said, so she gathered all the left over pumpkins and corn to make the soup. When the pumpkins and corn found out they were to be put in the soup they asked the old witch if they could entertain her with their dance of death. She consented and they whirled away into a mad frenzy of rythmn. When they had finished their dance, in rushed the Brownies, each one catching up a pumpkin or an ear of corn, and with a great deal of celerity pitched them into the soup. The old witch began to chant as she stirred the soup,

"Boil water, boil so quick
To make our soup nice and thick
The Brownies are waiting to gobble you up,
So boil, water, and bring us luck."

The soup was not satisfactory, so the old witch, to make it more tasty, decided to put one of the nice, fat Brwnies in the pot. But the Brownies were quick-thinking little people and they guessed that she might try this, so as they were doing a merry dance around the pot and the old witch was stirring, watching her chance to catch a Brownie, they formed a ring around her, and drawing closer and closer they with one accord rushed in and pitched the greedy old witch in the soup. Then they ran away to sup off of cider and ginger bread and feast with the fairies.

SOCIAL

Misses Anne Ferree and Mabel Fitzpatrick have returned after spending the week-end as guests of Miss Anne Deffenbaugh at her home in Petersburg.

* * *

Miss Florence McIntyre has returned after spending Saturday and Sunday at her home in Bennettsville, South Carolina, and attending the game at Davidson College on Saturday.

* * *

Miss Beth White spent the week end at her home in Brookneal. She had as her guest Miss Beulah Jarvis.

* * *

Miss Jeanette Morris has returned from Sweetbriar College whereshe spent the week-end.

she spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Mary Moss.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Turner returned Sunday from her home in Martinsville where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Frances Booth spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

* * *

Miss Frances Malbon has returned from Norfolk where she spent several days and acted as bridesmaid in her sister's wedding which took place on Saturday afternoon.

* * *

Miss Minerva Evans spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg. She had as her guest, Miss Gertrude Wright.

* * *

Miss Anne Chapin has returned from Petersburg where she spent the week-end as the guest of Misses Barbara and Helen Willcox.

* * *

Mrs. J. W. Cotten of Richmond was the week-end guest of her daughter, Miss Jane Cotten.

* * *

Miss Kitty Whyte has returned from her home in Norfolk where

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

Correct Clothes
For the Round of
College Life
Shoes
Dresses
Hats
Coats
Millinery
Gloves
Underwear
Sweaters
Negligees
And All Necessities
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Bibby—"How did you make out at the glee club try-out?"

Red—"Made first bass on four bawls."

Billy B.—"How many lumps will you have in your tea?"

Minerva—"I'll take mine smooth, please."

Banna Price—"Give me back my amusement tax."

Manager—"Why?"

Banna Price—"'Cause I wasn't amused."

Here's one to twiddle your thumbs over—

"Watchagotna packidge?"

"Sabook."

"Wassanimvitt?"

"Sadickshunery, fulla naims. Wife's gonna getta plecedog angottagetta-naimferim."

Waitress—"Order, please."

McIntyre—"What's the matter—I'm not making any noise."

He—"Say, how do you like my new pipe?"

Him—"Kinda cheap. Where'd you get the dough? I thought you were broke."

He—"Oh, I sold a slicker."

Him—"Slicker! You didn't have one."

He—"No. But you used to have."

Phyllis—"You know this poem just made me think that—"

Beth—"What! You mean you actually gave vent to a thought?"

Phyllis—"'sfact!"

Beth—"Now aren't you glad you came to college?"

Anne F.—"Would you marry for money?"

Pinkey—"I hope Cupid aims at me with a Pierce-Arrow."

Wanted—To know whether water which condenses on the outside of a pitcher really soaks through the glass—Sarah Johnson.

Willie (to his father who had recently married the second time) "Theres a shop on High street just like you, Daddy."

Father—"Shop just like me? What do you mean?"

Willie—"Why, it's under entirely new management."

Eliz. Turner—"What are the things that count most in life?"

Peg H.—"Adding machines."

Humpty—"Surely you know what the word "mirror" means, Tommy. After you've washed your face, what do you look at to see if it is clean?"

Tommy—"The towel, madam."

"How do you like married life?"

"Well, my wife's like an umpire. She never thinks I'm safe when I'm out."

Dulaney—"Is it Luke?"

Wiley—"Luke who?"

Dulaney—"Luke Warm."

H.-S.—"Are you single?"

S. T. C.—"Do I look like twins?"

PI GAMMA MU ENTERTAINS

On Monday night at eight o'clock the Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu entertained Dr. J. P. Wynne, Miss Ilma von Schilling and Miss Annie Alvis, who were elected as members at large by the national council. The meeting was held in the student building lounge. Dr. T. F. Hart, professor of social science at Hampden-Sidney College, talked to the chapter. Later in the evening refreshments were served. which carried out the Pi Gamma Mu colors.

The Debating Club wishes to announce the following new members:

Mary Christian Royall
Alice Wiley
Frances Morgan
Sammy Scott
Virginia Pettigrew
French Hutt
Gladys Oliver
Martha Ann Laing
Mary Wright
Aileen McClenny
Mary Page White
Mildred Maddrey
Hilda Cobbs
Carolyn Roberts
Mary Rose Wood
Eloise Wood

Dr. L. R. Geissler, head of the department of Philosophy of Randolph Macon Womens College, with his family and Miss Elizabeth Bell and Miss Virginia Gaines motored from Lynchburg Sunday and took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Bell. Dr. D. M. Allan of the Philosophy department at Hampden-Sidney College was also a guest. Dr. Geissler spoke in terms of the highest praise of S. T. C. after a tour of inspection.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth J. Freeborn of Warren, R. I., a former supervisor of the kindergarten of this college, made a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Bell the first of last week.

THESE MAKE HAPPINESS

Six things necessary for a normal happy life, Dr. William S. Sadler believes after 20 years of study are

1. Good health.
2. Congenial work.
3. Discipline or self-control.
4. Human companionship.
5. Reasonable leisure.
6. Religion.

Hard to improve this list. Yet many achieve happiness with less.

—Capper's Weekly

ELECTRICITY FEMINIZED

Why not handle a woman Electrically?

If she is willing to come half way—Meter.

If she will come all the way—Receiver.

If she wants to go still further—Dispatcher.

If she gets too excited—Controller.

If she talks too long—Interrupter.

If her way of thinking is not yours—Converter.

If she picks your pockets—Detector.

If she sings inharmoniously—Tuner.

If she wants chocolates—Feeder.

If she gossips too much—Regulator.

If she is wrong—Rectifier.

I am a dime.

I am not on speaking terms with the butcher.

I am too small to buy a pint of ice cream.

I am not large enough to purchase a box of candy.

I am hardly fit for a tip—but, when I go to church on Sunday I am considered some money.

COTILLION CLUB DANCE

"Who are you taking to the dance?"

"I'm so excited, I'm taking a boy from V. P. I. and I'm wearing Mabel's blue dress with the long skirt."

"Oh, I'm taking Duroc and am wearing my yellow dress."

"Gee, I wish the 19th would come in a hurry."

This line of chin music may be heard from most any group gathered in the halls or whereabouts of S. T. C. Everyone is so excited over the fall cotillion club dance on November 19, to be given in the recreation hall. Music will be furnished by the Hampden-Sidney Orchestra and each member will be allowed to invite two girls for stags.

Make your dates early, to avoid the rush!

OVER THE TEACUPS

OVER THE TEA-CUPS

I was so scared, I declare, my cup rattles now when I think of it. Monday night I was walking down White House hall in the wee small hours and suddenly a head came floating down the hall. I was too scared to run, so I just stood there and quacked. The head kept humming a low, droney tune and as it came close to me I recognized the tune. It was "I ain't Got Nobody!" Gee, I felt relievd because then I realized that it was Hallowe'e'n and the voice was Clara Norfleet's.

Didn't a huge amount of funny things happen that night? When I begin thinking of them I get so tickled—I'll tell you something really funny that happened if you wont tell a soul outside of just us because I promised I wouldn't tell on her—All right, I'm telling you as fast as I can. You know those dark steps that lead backstage in the auditorium? Well, Monday night at precisely 12 o'clock I saw Anna Burgess walking down those stairs backward and she was carrying a mirror in one hand and candle in the other, and do you know what she was doing—? She was trying to see Tommy's face (the Annapolis boy friend) in that mirror. She has lots of faith in the transportation power of the Navy.

Mildred Landis was running all over school trying to find someone to tell her fortune because she wanted to see which one of her boy friends liked her best. She had decided that she was going to be in love with the one that paid her the most time.

You did? You know I heard that groaning and screaming too, but I went you one better, I investigated. It was Louise McCormick telling ghost stories and she had scared everyone half to death. Oh, after that I got sleepy and went to bed 'cause I had an 8:15 Tuesday morning.

Life is a measure to be filled, not a cup to be drained.

It isn't your position but your disposition that makes you happy or unhappy.

ATHLETICS

Are the Green and White classes going to keep their colors on the cup this year? Or are the upholders of the Red and White going to capture this much prized trophy? Are the Freshmen going to walk away with the championship in the various sports or will the Seniors prove themselves to be supreme on the athletic field.

These are questions which are uppermost in the mind of every student as Thanksgiving Day draws nearer and nearer.

The student has had the pleasure of watching the Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores play but it is the Freshman class on which our interest is centered. Yet, may not our upperclassmen surprise us by bringing new material out on the court?

While number of girls from all classes have reported for hockey and basbetball there is much room for the undiscovered stars. So come out, support your team and learn the pleasure derived from participation in sports.

It is hoped that all preliminary tennis games will be played off this week. After the finals, the faculty champion will play the student body champions. Everyone anticipates an exciting game at this time.

AUNT LUCY

"Got anything to eat?" drawled a voice at my door, and in came Aunt Lucy hunting food as usual. "No, Aunt Lucy," I said, "but can you tell me what county Farmville is in?" "No, honey, I don't know, but look in your arithmetic book, it will tell you," and Aunt Lucy drifted out still in quest of food.

I sat there thinking about her after she left. How long had she been at this school? How many pupils had she seen come in as freshmen, and go out with diplomas in their hands, and a look in their eyes that told of wondrous things for the future?

How many romances had she seen begin, develop, and end abruptly as school romances do, though some few end in the bonds of matrimony?

Aunt Lucy knows all the gossip and scandal of the school, not only about the girls, but about the faculty. She can tell the newest joke or sing the latest song. She knows each girl's sweetheart and just how to handle them so as to get the biggest tip. Girls, she's a regular gold digger, but we couldn't do without her, could we? She's a landmark and there would be something lacking around the school if we didn't have Aunt Lucy.

Zeta Tau Sorority wishes to announce the following new pledges—

Marjorie Goodwin, Portsmouth, Va.
Katharine Jones, Danville, Va.

Knowing that you don't know much is knowing a lot.

Get Your Needs at

Greenberg's
Department Store

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
GIRLS

We invite your charge account

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor

"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"

Let us Supply Your Wants

Corner Main and High Streets

FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
Phone 221 610 Main St.

AT THE EACO

Wed.—The theatre is rented this night to Beam and Plummer, who will present a picture entitled "The Reason of Why". This production is said to deal with what every mother, father, son and daughter should know. I do not know what admission prices will be charged. 4 o'clock Mat. will be for women only. Night show will be for men only.

Thurs., Fri., and Sat.—We will present that great superspecial production "WHAT PRICE GLORY". It will take the pen of a master to be able to describe faithfully the effect "What Price Glory" has upon one's emotions. There are situations in which the spectator is so thrilled so electrified, that he feels as if he ought to get up and run; where, no one not even himself knows—perhaps to fight. These are great moments that cannot be easily forgotten. Lolores Del Rio and Victor McLaglen are the featured players and there are thousands in the supporting cast. It is the same type of picture as "The Big Parade" and milloins who have seen both say "What Price Glory" is better. See it and when you do you too will say that it is bigger and better than "The Big Parade" There will be a 4 o'clock matinee on this picture each day. Pathe News is added feature.

Mon. Maria Corda, piquant foreign beauty in "Madam Wants No Children" A sophisticated comedy drama of a childless wife and her child-loving husband and a mother-in-law who didn't want to be a grandmother An up-to-the-minute comedy of domestic difficulties. Also Pathe News Mat. at 4 o'clock.

Tues.—Lou Telegen, Margaret Livingston, Clair Adamsand Marcella Daly in "Maried Alive." The hilarious story of the shy professor who preached polygamy and the amiable rascal who carried it into practice. An absorbing picture starred with laughs and crowded with mirth provoking episodes. It is a special production. Also 2nd episode of "Fighting With Buffalo Bill. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

S. T. C. girls admission price—35c to "What Price Glory; 25c to other shows, if tickets are purchased at the college.

ARMISTICE DAY
NOVEMBER 11

THE ROTUNDA

HOCKEY
VARSITY IS INTRODUCED

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1927 Number 6

CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS TO RETURN TO S. T. C.

En Route to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York

On November 14, the Caroina Playmakers will pay their second visit to our school, at which time they will present four original one-act plays, namely; Fixins by Paul Green, assisted by his sister Emma Green; The Scuffletown Outlaws by William Norment Cox, Lighted Candles by Miss Margaret Bland, and On Dixon's Porch, a comedy by Wilbur Stauts.

This group of college students are beginning on November the eleventh an extended tour which will include visits to Hollins, Va., Farmville, Va., Towson, Md., Frederick, Md., Reading, Pa., New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Richmond, Va., and Williamsburg, Va. The trip will last nine days in addition to the regular Thanksgiving holidays.

The company of players is made up entirely of members of the student body, or faculty of the University, with the exception of one juvenile player. Their bill offered during the tour consists in three tragedies and one comedy written by members of the troupe. Their plays deal with North Carolina people and settings. Perhaps the most interesting and typical of the four is William Norment Cox's tragedy of the Lowrie gang The Scuffletown Outlaws. The author of this play was born in Rowland and he has lived near the Scuffletown vicinity in which the notorious Henry Berry Lowrie and his gang terrorized the early Scotch-Irish settlers of lower Robeson County.

For the first time since the Playmakers were organized into a company, they will appear before the theatrical-hardened, cynical and critical New York audience. Southern dramatic circles, on this account, are eagerly awaiting the event, and wondering just how students acting in classroom written plays will be received by the sophisticated metropolitans.

The New York engagement marks a decided step in the development of the progress that the Carolina Playmakers have made. For seven long years they have pioneered on the simple platform stage at Chapel Hill. They have been as far north as Baltimore and as far South as Savannah, and the fact that at last their plays are to be presented in New York is indeed significant.

Farmville is fortunate in again having this ambitious and successful troupe present their own performances here and it is to be hoped that many people will attend their plays on November 14.

FRESHMAN ORCHESTRA TO PLAY FOR FOR ENTERTAINMENTS

At a business meeting held recently the Freshmen orchestra elected the following officers—

Elizabeth Munn ..... Director
"Bobby" Gleason ..... Business Mgr.
Frances Howard ..... Utility Man
Gwendolyn Hardy ..... Sponsor

The orchestra has already been engaged to play at a number of entertainments. On Wednesday night, November 9 they will play at Curdsville High School. On Thursday they will play for a dance in the Recreation Hall. They have also been asked to play for The Carolina Playmakers when they visit here.

At the try-outs held on Thursday, November 2, the following line-up was decided upon—

Pianists ..... Elsa Gudheim
Peggy Cutchins
Banjos ..... Nancy Nelms
Louise Batte
Violin ..... Audrey Frank
Guitar ..... Frances Guthrie
Gazooks ..... Marguerite Foster
Jane Cotton
Traps ..... "Bobby" Gleason

The orchestra was started to entertain the Sophomores at Freshman Sing and proved to be so popular that the class voted to make it a permanent organization.

REPRESENTATIVES ATTEND LECTURE

On special invitation of Dr. Gee of the University of Virginia faculty, Dr. J. E. Walmsley, accompanied by five student-members of Pi Gamma Mu, Ella Louise Moore, Frances Brightwell, Agnes Watkins, Frances Walmsley and Alice Wiley, drove through the country on the afternoon of November 2, to hear a lecture on Anthropology. Dr. Wissler, the lecturer, is curator of the museum of Natural History in New York City, and is a member of the department of Psychology at Yale University. His lecture aroused a great deal of interest in the subject and gave his audience a clearer idea of the importance of this study in the history of civilization.

STATISTICS IN "VANITY FAIR" FOR VIRGINIAN

We are all curious to know whose picture will be one of the eight in the "Vanity Fair" section of our annual. These girls are elected by the whole student body. Every girl is expected to vote, and vote intelligently. The ballot which you will receive will have the following statistics. Vote for the girl that you think is the—

Most Beautiful
Most Popular

(Continued on last page.)

VARSITY HOCKEY

Team Will Play William and Mary on the 19th of this Month

Farmville S. T. C. has advanced another step in the athletic phase of activities by adding to the present list a hockey varsity. A squad, composed of about twenty-five girls who were selected either because of their unusual interest or because of their capability on the hockey field, was selected by Miss Iler. From this squad will be selected a hockey varsity team which will play William and Mary College on the 19th of this month at Williamsburg.

Although hockey is practically new at Farmville it has rapidly grown in popularity until it is recognized as one of the most outstanding of sports. It was introduced on this campus for the first time last year at which season inter-class games in this sport were played. After these games only an honorary varsity was selected. This year's popularity has advanced this sport until now Farmvile S. T. C. is proud to have the opportunity to claim a hockey varsity all its own.

SORORITY BIDS ISSUED

Thirty Eight Girls Receive Bids

November 1, 1927 marked the end of "rush" season at S. T. C. Thirty-eightt girls received bids and the six sororities take pleasure in announcing these girls. During the later part of "rush" season a party was given by each of the sororities to the girls they were rushing. On bid day a little party was given by each sorority in the chapter rooms. The new "promises" are as follows—

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Mary Bernard, Petersburg, Va.
Virginia Walker, University, Va.
Ida W. Chapman, Smithfield, Va.
Virginia Goode, Boydton, Va,
Anne Withers, Danville, Va.
Frances Millican, Greensboro, N. C.
Elizabeth Turner, Martinsville, Va.
Margaret Huyett, Charlottesville.

Gamma Theta

Mary Fielding Taliaferro, Orange.
Genevieve Grimes, Norfolk, Va.
Florence Reed, Norfolk, Va.
Dorothy Latane, Richmond, Va.
Elizabeth Rivercomb, Covington, Va.

Delta Sigma Chi

Ethel Weld, Roanoke, Va.
Mamie Preston, Roanoke, Va.
Elizabeth Houchins, Roanoke, Va.
May Baldwin, Roanoke, Va.
Blanche Taylor, Raleigh, N. C.
Ann Guy, Hampton, Va.
Katherine Wayt, Staunton, Va.
Elizabeth Brokenborough, Staunton
Elsa Gudheim, Blacksburg, Va.
Margaret Pumphrey, Richmond, Va.
Elizabeth Lacy, Richmond, Va.
Louise Author, Bedford, Va.
Margaret Haskins, Ashland, Va.
Virginia Cobb,, Blackstone, Va.

Mu Omega

Elizabeth Munn, Richmond, Va.
Jane Cotten, Richmond, Va.

(Continued on last page.)

THREE HONOR SOCIETIES ISSUE BIDS DURING WEEK

Only Seven College Girls Receive Bids

Pi Kappa Omega, Alpha Delta Rho and Pi Gamma Mu, the three honor fraternities of S. T. C. have all three issued bids within the past week. The new members with the aims of the organizations are as follows—

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu wishes to announce new members who have complied with the following requirements of the organization.

1. Twenty-one term hours in Social Science.
2. Grades on all subjects nearer B than C.
3. Grades on all Social Science subjects nearer A than B.
4. A distinct interest in Social Science.

New Active Student Members

Alice Bolling Carter
Evelyn Virginia Dulaney
Ethel Mae Forehand
Lois Gertrude Fraser
Juliet Lightfoot Mann
Miss Mary Mc. Reed

New Associate Faculty Members

Miss Fleeta Cooper
Miss Florence H. Stubbs
Dr. Francis C. Simpkins

Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Omega announces the following new members—

Katherine Hatch
Elva Hedly De La Barre
Lorah Brewer
Louise Bondurant

These girls have complied with the requirements of the chapter which are—

1. Grades averaging within the highest ten per cent for any three out of four consecutive quarters.
2. Distinct qualities of leadership and service and the highest type of character.

The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho takes pleasure in announcing as a new member—

Margaret Finch

The purpose of this organization is to foster the spirit for which this school stands by bringing together the leaders in the faculty and student body for the solution of problems, and to encourage the cooperation of various activities.

VIRGINIA MARYLAND BAPTIST STUDENT CONFERENCE OCT. 28-30

The Spirit of Youth walked the streets of historic Williamsburg, envloped the city, and permeated the meetings October 28—30 when Baptist students from the colleges of Maryland and Virginia gathered at Williamsburg, Virginia, in the first great Baptist Student Conference held in Virginia, to discuss frankly and purposefully the great problem of religious life, Christian life, on the college campuses of today.

The keynote of the conference was struck when Mr. C. R. Angell of the Charlottesville Baptist Church in his address, "Keeping Step With the Master Soul Winner," pointed out Christ's life as an example of unselfishness and sacrifice. Thinking youth was stirred and moved to higher unselfish living and to a desire to balance their life "as far as in them lieth" with that of the master who gave his life for the world. Unselfishness can come only when Christ, our ideal, has come into our life.

Miss Mary White Cox, Dr. J. A. Jarman, and the member of the Farmville Baptist Church, who made it possible for the college girls to go, are gratefully thanked. May this gratitude be proven and may they be rewarded by more earnest work, through the group which attended the conference, than that which has been realized before.

FRESHMEN ENTERTAINED, BY Y. W. C. A.

Saturday afternoon, from five to six, the Y. W. C. A. entertained for the Freshmen who live in the main dormtories in the recreation hall. The hall was very artistically decorated with autumn leaves, fading from red to brown.

Everyone played games, danced, and had a "good ole time." One of the outstanding events was a story by "Pannie" Willis. It was a very exciting story full of ghosts and goblins, but to keep it from being a tragedy a beautiful princess was introduced who ended it happily.

This is the first of a series of parties given by the Y. W. C. A. for the freshmen. These parties will continue until every freshman has been included. However, those who were entertained last Saturday claim that no group will enjoy the fun and refreshments as much as they did.

THOMPSON ELECTED STUDENT COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVE

Due to the vacancy left by Blanche Overbey in the office of Sophomore Representative on the Student Council, a new representative had to be elected. At the classmeeting held last Tuesday, Lucy Thompson was elected. The class is assured that they have a true representative in her and she has their firm support.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

HONOR SOCIETIES FROM THE POINT OF VIEW OF AN AN OUTSIDER

When reading the catalogue of our college before coming to Farmville, the sections about the Honor Societies often impresses one more than anything else. To "make" one of these societies has always been one of my highest ambitions, and is of every ambitious girl at S. T. C.

We have a great respect and admiration for the members of either Pi Kappa Omega, Alpha Delta Rho, or Pi Gamma Mu. They represent the highest type of students at S. T. C., for a girl has to have leadership, scholarship, and character to be a member of any of them.

Such societies furnish an incentive to students to cultivate whatever talents they have along these several lines. "Only those students who make an average which is nearer A than B on all their professional work and show ability in leadership and desire to be of service, are eligible to membership." (Pi Kappa Omega.)

"Only Juniors and Seniors who have been outstanding in college activities are eligible." (Alpha Delta Rho)

(Pi Gamma Mu) "Its membership is made up of two classes of members; first, Seniors and Juniors who have taken a required number of courses in Social Science, who have had high academic standards, and most important, who give proofs of considering the social phases of education as their predominant interest; and second, members-at-large, who are either well known scholars in public life or have given their time to practical Social Science."

Such societies are an asset to the college. It is an honor to belong to any one of the three of them. They are for the students so it is possible for anyone with determination to become eligible for any one or more of these honor societies. What a challenge this is; what a goal toward which to work!

"INSIDER'S" OPINION

An outsider's viewpoint seems to be widely different from that of one in an Honor Society.

It might be surprising to find upon becoming a member of a society that there is much work to be done. This work is enjoyed by the members. They feel privileged to have the opportunity to do it. Ones membership in these organizations is always considered with pride. After once becoming a member of such a society and working in one it is easy to forget the attitude of those who are not members. Every one wonders if honor societies seem a vital part of the school to those who are not members. We know that those on the inside feel banded together in their common ideals and purposes. They feel that having acquired their membership they have acquired a real distinction.

Before the girls who compose the three honor societies of our school the challenge of the "outer circle" burns ever brightly. Not for worlds would one single member have the student body think that she was failing to live up to the ideals of Alpha Delta Rho, Pi Gamma Mu, or Pi Kappa Omega.

On the other hand does the challenge of the honor societies burn ever brightly before the student body? Does the desire for membership in these societies serve as an inspiration to better scholastic standing, higher ideals and greater service among those who are not members? If those in the societies felt that this was true, then they would feel fully satisfied.

OUR PART

On Armistice Day, when we honor those who gave their lives for our safety, we should not think of the suffering and the loss of precious life as a circumstance only distantly connected with our lives, but rather, we should look ahead in an effort to plan for the avoidance of such another conflict.

To us students of today, who lead a rather sheltered life within the protection of our home and of our college, the far-reaching significance of war is not wholly apparent. Yet if we stop to consider that we, the prospective teachers of a future generation, will have a large part in direcing young students' thoughts and in molding their character, we would see that the consequences of war touch everyone.

The glory and romance of a soldier's life has had its appeal from time immemorial and those who fail to think of the horrors of battle must be guided towards a better understanding of all that war can mean. The supreme sacrifice of the men who fought through the Great War must not be allowed to go to naught. Those who are to come to lead the world, whether towards progress or towards barbarism are cautioned:—

"To you with failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep tho' poppies grow
In Flanders Fields."

MR. COYNER—THE HERO

One bright morning in October a tiny little bee in a very indifferent manner entered a window in Mr. Coyner's class room. He flew around unnoticed for a while, but soon spied the bright colors of the dresses of the girls. Probably the bee took these to be bright colored flowers, and so he started out in quest of honey. He first visited the litle girl dressed in pink, sitting on the front row; she seemed very calm, but as the bee drew nearer and nearer she began to dodge and occasionally a little squeal would escape her lips. Not receiving a very warm reception here, the bee wended its way on towards the back of the room. As it passed each row, the girls would bend and dodge trying to evade the little bee which was entirely unconscious of all the disturbance he was causing. Again changing his direction, he retraced his journey, coming back to the front of the room. Mr. Coyner, rising to the situation, knocked the innocent intrduer to the floor and instantly mashed it to death. With a profound sigh of relief and a fond look of admiraion on her face, each member of the class proclaimed Mr. Coyner the hero.

POST OFFICE STATISTICS

It might be of interest to know that since college opened six weeks ago approximately 36,932 pieces of mail have been sent out, 31,000 being letters and, presumably, as much coming in. 3,398 parcel post packages have been delivered and about $4800 worth of books sold.

It takes diligence, concentration and system on the part of the one in charge and care, consideration and patience on the part of the community served to make this work possible. Correct box number on all mail prevents mistakes and delay in putting up the mail. Full return address on all outgoing mail insures undeliverable mail being returned to the sender instead of to the Dead Letter Office and in case stamps have not been affixed to letters, cards or papers they can be returned to the sender instead of the delay of sending a notice to the addressee for the postage due.

Attend prayers every night after supper.

ALUMNAE NOTES

May Brinkley of uffolk and one of S. T. C.'s alumnae is author of attractive volume.

Of interest is the announcement of "A Handful of Life," a book of poems by May Brinkley of Suffolk, which will be published November 1. A special feature of the limited first edition will be three illustrations by John Funk, Jr., young Southern artist.

Miss Brinkley has published poems in the Literary Lantern, the New York World, the Commonweal, the Lyric, Bozart, the Bi-Monthly Poetry Review, Muse and Mirror, Extension and other magazines and anthologies, including Braithwaite's Anthology.

Miss Brinkley has received much favorable criticism of her work. John R. Moreland has said of her—

"May Brinkley is a lyric poet and her work is thoughtful, introspective and at times striking. In many of the poems there is a true, but bitter note of life, and these poems are painted as it were, in sombre tones of oil rather than in the pastel of water color medium of the younger poets. There is a sincerity and simplicity in these poems that makes them very appealing."—Richmond Times-Dispatch, October 23.

Miss Carrie Sutherlin, for a long time associated with the English deparment, is now teaching at a new junior college, Arlington Hall, near Washington, D. C. Here she is head of the English department and academic dean.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville —:: —:: —Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

ON THINKING OF CHATEAU THIERY

Liquid moonlight over the field
Shows white crosses—
Wood-slabs, set in rows,
To mark the slumbering soldier's bed
All summer, the grass has grown green,
There over our dead.
And the sun has shone warmer than ever,
Thinking to comfort,
Though the grieved heart is not soothed.

Tonight, the frost has slain the grasses
And laid them on these tombs.
The winds sing low dirges
And the mounds, encasing the dead,
Cleave in the cold, gray moonlight—
Inanimate heaps of soil,
Covering a senseless body
Once alive to hopes and fears.

—C. M. H. '30

BOON

God of the Solitudes,
Maker of all things,
Thou, by whose mighty hand
Ocean is calmned;
Ruler of moon and stars,
Giver of all Life,
Grant to my trembling soul
One needed boon.

Grant me one millionth part
Of this Thy solitude,
That I may rest, alone,
Thinking on Thee!
Grant me, one precious hour,
Vast ocean's loneliness,
Washing the strand
Of a far desert shore.
Oh, give me solitude!
Silence of stretching plain,
Stillness of forest dark,
Sound of Thy voice!

Ruler of mountain-tops!
Grant me Thy peacefulness,
Writ with Thy pen
In the language of stars!

—C. H. '29

THE GARDEN OF ALMA MATER

The campus blossoms bright and gay-
Youth is the flower
That's blooming there today.
There wisdom stands with dignity,
Love and smiles between,
And at every corner
The service plant is seen.
In the month of June
Blue-eyed forget-me-nots
Sprinkled with dew—
Dear Alma Mater,
All, all bloom for you!

—G. E. R. '29

EMPTINESS

The empty blackness holds me down tonight
I am crushed under by the Infinite
There is not a star to be a guiding light;
My heart aches with the thought of it.
I've gazed across the darkening hills for days
It seemed that all the earth was dull and sere—
This sordid world—I do not know its ways—
But ah! how different if you were here!

—J. W. '29

COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL CONTRIBUTIONS

Near to us and in fact, part of us is the College Training School. The following selections were written by college high school girls and are considered worthy of publication—

SUNRISE ON THE LAKE

The glooms of the forests are woven
Into intricate shadows and shades
And the sombre pine-trees are cloven
Into myriad dark, dusky glades.

And virginal twilights are hidden
In gray closets of lonely desire,
Where lovers of solitude, bidden,
Come to dream, and to hope, and aspire....

On the edge of the lake, in long lines,
Stand drab cat-tails and dull, broken reeds,
And bright berries gleam forth from the vines
Like clusters of red coral beads.

Then a delicate, bluish-gray mist
Mounts to flocculent clouds, that lie
At the gates of the dawn ,and are kissed
By the primrose suffusing the sky.

Now gold with the primrose is blending;
I watch the soft pink fade away—
The pale night is rapidly ending
To make place for the radiant day.

—Alice Harrison

THE SEASON

Once more the golden days are here. The Master Painter with pallet and brush is retouching the landscape of old mother earth. He, with His master touch, painted His glory on mountain and glen, with the gold of the sun, the blue of the skies and a store of the rainbow's most exquisite hues.

On the other hand the days present a different picture to us. Autumn has passed, the cold winter days are approaching. Old man winter will soon spread his large, icy fingers over us. Jack Frost paints his pictures on the window panes. The cold North wind comes whistling through the bare branches of the trees. All out doors is getting cold and icy.

—Louise Morgan

PADERESKI'S MUSIC

And he played,—and as the music came from his fingers, I could see the land of which he was playing. There were beautiful green valleys with bubbling springs, and violet-eyed children ran laughing about. Flowering vines enmeshed the gnarled old trees, from whose boughs hung festoons of dull, Spanish moss. Barefooted, merry boys grasped the writhing grape-vines entwined about the old oaks, and swung far over the sparkling waves and the water-lilies. Farther up on the hills, half-way hidden by the golden-leaved trees, were happy mothers with joyful, rosy-cheeked babies toddling over the grass. Grown-up little girls and boys came to them for advice, and then went away through the forest hand in hand, and the mothers smiled just a little wistfully after them, and sewed filmy white garments for the girls....

Then the music changed and instantly I became depressed, for it was beginnig to mist. The sky turned gray, and sullen mist-wreaths overhung the lake. Then it began to rain. Some of the drops were long and slender and like pearl ear-rings, and others were like round sapphires

Continued on page four

MONOGRAM REQUIREMENTS

The S. T. C. Monogram is awarded those girls who measure up to a certain standard f efficiency in the various phases of athletics and sportsmanship. It is an emblem which any girl should be proud to wear for it stands not only for abliity in any form of athletic work, but also for that desired quality in everyone—sportsmanship.

We have letters and numerals which are awarded for ability in each sport at S. T. C., but the Monogram is the only award we have which requires that its wearer be proficient in all phases of athletics. Therefore it is the emblem of the all-round athlete.

The Monogram Club membership is composed of those girls who have won their monograms. In order to build up the club, to raise its standard and to cause it to stand out in the school activities, a committee meetng with the Athletic Council has revised the constitution of the Monogram Club.

For the benfit of the freshman class and all other girls interested in athletics, monogram requirements are being published. They are as follows—

Monogram Club Membership Requirements

1. Sportsmanship—Passed by a unanimous vote.
2. Health—Individual must be physically fit.
3. Scholarship—"C" average with one failure or one condition.
4. Eligibility for club includes one, two, and three above and 400 points earned.
5. Club members must earn 250 points each year to remain in club.
6. Any member failing to keep up to the standards of the club will be automatically dropped from the club and deprived of the privilege of wearing the monogram.

Physical Efficiency Test

1. Badge Test—Potato Race, Balance Beam, Baskeball goal shooting.
2. High Jump—3 feet, 6 inches.
3. Basketball throw— for distance—45 feet.
4. Volley ball serve—5 out of 8.
5. Basketball goal shooting— per minute—20.
6. Target throw—3 out of 5.
7. Hike—10 miles.
8. Stunts—(any four)
   1. Through the stick
   2. Cart wheel
   3. Hand stand
   4. Head stand
   5. Elephant walk
   6. Forward and backward somersault
   7. Forward somersault to upright stand.
9. Track and Field Events (any 4)
   1. Javeline throw—45 feet
   2. Shot put—25 feet
   3. Hurdles—10 seconds
   4. Hop-step-jump—20 feet
   5. Dash (50 yds.)—9 seconds
   6. Running board jump—11 feet
   7. Basketball throw—(for distance)—100 feet

Points

I. Physical Efficieny Test
9 events with 4 stunts and 4 field and track events 75
9 events with 7 stunts and 7 field and track events 100
II. Teams
(1) Ist class team in any sport Having played two games .... 100 pts.
(2) 2nd class team in any sport Having played 2 games ..... 75 pts.
(3) Attendance at 60 per cent practices of each sport ..... 50 pts.
(4) Championship team ..... 50 pts.
(5) Runner up ..... 25 pts.
III. Honorary varisty ..... 25 pts.

(Continued on last page)

CONSTITUTION OF ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Council proposes to adopt the revised constitution which is present below. They ask that every student read it carefully, and be ready to vote upon it at a meeting of the student body after chapel on Friday. It is as follows—

Article I.—Name, Purpose, Colors.

Section 1.—This association shall be known as the Athletic Association of the State Teachers College at Farmville, Virginia.

Section 2.—The purpose of this Association is to stimulate an interest in the right types of athletics for recreative and social benefits; to promote interest in health programs and general physical efficiency; to appeal to the many instead of the few; to create wider friednships and a friendly rivalry; and to develope the highest type of sportsmanship that can be put into the life of a girl as a citizen.

Section 3—Class Colors
Odds—green and white
Evens—red and white
School colors—Navy blue and white

Article II. Membership, Elegibility.

Section 1—All students of the College who have paid their campus fees are members of the Association.

Section 2—Eligibility for teams shall be based on physical fitness, attendance at practices and games, sportsmanship, and skill.

Section 3.—A girl shall play on her class team according to her listing in the registrar's office.

Section 4—No girl shall make a team, or earn an award unless she has a passing grade for the preceding semester, or an average of C with one flunk or one condition.

Section 5.—No girl shall make a team unless she has been present at sixty per cent of the practices for that team.

Article III.—Officers.

Section1.—The officers of the Association shall be a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. These officers compose the Athletic Council, of which the president is chairman. There shall also be a head of each interclass sport.

Section 2.—The Executive Board shall consist of the president who shall act as chairman, other officers, and the heads of sports. The faculty of the Physical Education department shall be advisory members, one of whom shall act as the director of the organization.

Section 3—If an officer of the Association fails a subject she shall resign.

Article IV.—Duties of the Officers.

Section 1.—President—It shall be the duty of the president to call and preside at all meetings of the Association, Executive Board, and Council. She shall appoint all committees and be an ex-officio member of each.

Section 2.—Vice-president—It shall be the duty of the vice-president to perform all the duties of the president in her absence. She shall also act as chairman of all social affiairs, and as publicity chairman.

Section 3.—Secretary—It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep the minutes of each meeting of the Council and Executive Board; to keep these minutes where they shall be accessible to all members at any time; to attend to all the correspondence of the Association; to keep a record of all points made by individual girls and classes; to keep a record of all awards given by the Association; to notify members of Board and Council of meetings in ample time; to prepare a report of terms work to be given at open meeting; and to notify persons of their ap-

(Continued on last page.)

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

Correct Clothes
For the Round of
College Life
Shoes
Dresses
Hats
Coats
Millinery
Gloves
Underwear
Sweaters
Negligees
And All Necessities
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

CAN YOU IMAGINE—

Skinny Craft not chewing gum?

"Red" without a daily book from "Cotton"?

Ann Deffenbaugh president of Student Government?

Jackie Woodson studying voice?

Lelia Smith on time for class?

Mable Fitzpatrick without a date?

Phyllis Wood doing the clog?

S. T. C. without Mary Page?

A good sleep on Tuesday night?

"Dot" Palmer not hungry?

Mattie Lewis not talking?

S. T. C. with elevators in each building?

Sunday morning breakfast served in rooms at S. T. C.

Mary Page Archer not smiling?

S. T. C. without The Rotunda?

Anne Palmer refusing to go to V. M. I.?

Leonard—"What are you writing?"

Ann P.—"A joke."

Leonard—"Well, give him my regards."

Barber (to thirteen year old girl)—"Are you sure you want your hair shingled that far up, little girl?"

Little Girl—"You're right. And, snap into it; I gotta dinner date at seven."

Jo Lyon—"Wonder what makes the grass grow so green in the spring?"

Frankie R.—"That's easy. It has not been around all winter."

Blanche M.—"That is a beautiful dress you have on."

Rachel R.—"Do you really like it?"

Blanche—"No, not really, I'm just being conventional."

Henry H.—"Where did you get those wonderful eyes?"

Louise A.—"They come with my face."

A little rouge, a little curl,
A powder box—a pretty girl,
A little rain and off it goes—
An S. T. C. girl with a freckled nose.

Va. Gurley—"I know Shad loves me. He said I was one girl in a million."

Wiley—"Ah, but he said I was one in five."

Eliz. A.—"Whom are you working for, now?"

Helen D.—"I'm working for my Master's."

Eliz.—"Legree."

Helen—"No, degree!"

Billy Booth says when louder clothes are made, S. T. C. girls will wear 'em.

VIRGINIAN VANITY FAIR

Continued from page one

Most Stylish
Most Intellectual
Most Cultured
Most Winsome
Most Modest
Best All Round

SOCIAL

Miss Margaret Barham, former student at S. T. C. returned Sunday to her home in Norfolk after spending the week-end with Misses Beulah Jarvis and Beth White.

* * *

Misses Anne Withers and Anne Ferree have returned from Danville where they spent the week-end at their homes.

* * *

Miss Virginia Hall, former student at S. T. C. has returned to her home in Norfolk after spending the week-end with Miss Frances Willis.

* * *

Misses Katherine Hatch and Mary Duncan spent the week-end in Richmond and Wakefield.

* * *

Miss Mable Fitzpatrick has returned from Lexington where she attended the informal dance at Washington and Lee University.

* * *

Miss Banna Price Massey spent the week-end at her home at Hampden-Sidney.

* * *

Miss Charline Williams has returned after spending the week-end at Lexington and attending the games and dances there.

* * *

Miss Rosalind Harrell of Norfolk spent Sunday as the guest of Miss Viola Woodson.

* * *

Miss Helen Jones has returned from Lexington where she attended the games and dances Saturday.

* * *

Miss Margaret Hyett spent the week-end in Petersburg as the guest of Miss Barbara Willcox.

* * *

Miss Jeanette Morris attended the games and dances at Lexington last week-end.

* * *

Mrs. Cecil De La Barre, nee Miss Elva Hedley of Norfolk spent the week-end as the guest of Misses Pearl Etheridge and Viola Woodson.

* * *

Miss Virginia Raine returned Sunday night after spending the week-end at her home in Danville.

Among others who attednded the week-end games and dances at Lexington were Misses Alice Covington, Genevieve Grimes and Mattie Lewis.

* * *

SORORITY BIDS ISSUED

Continued from page one

Elizabeth Antrim, Roanoke, Va.
Adele Hutchinson, Charleston, W. Va.
Elizabeth Miller, Hampton, Va.

Delta Kappa

Mabel Yancie Brookin, Tampa, Fla.
Virginia Pettigrew, Florence, S. C.
Sara Bailey, Mullens, S. C.
Marion Cobb, Franklin, Va.
Blanche Price, Salem, Va.

Zeta Tau

Margeurite Foster, Lynchburg, Va.

PADERESKI'S MUSIC

Continued from page 3

which rolled away as soon as they touched the ground. And they formed into rushing streams and flowed through the brown hills down, down, down,—to where the vast and mighty ocean roared dismally upon the lonely shore....

—Alice Harrison

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION CONSTITUTION OF

Continued from page three

pointment to committees, election, and ineligibility.

Section 4.—Treasurer—It shall be the duty of the treasurer to take charge of the funds of th. Association, but she shall not pay out any money except on the approval of the president and faculty advisor. She shall also keep account of all bills and prepare a report to be given at last meeting of year, and her accounts shall be audited by the business manager of the College.

Section 5.—Heads of Sports—It shall be the duty of the heads of sports to meet with the Council to discuss schedule for each sport; to see that there are referees and other officials for all games played; to take charge of and care for all apparatus used.

Article V. Election of Officers.

Section 1.—Eligibility—Only active members who have proven their interest in sports and hold an average of C in academic work shall be eligible for nomination and election to office.

Section 2.—A nominating committee appointed by the president and, including toe Council and the Athletic Director shall select two persons for each office from nominations made by all members of the Association. The following officers shall be elected—president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and heads of sports.

Article VI.—Installation.

Section 1.—The officers shall be installed as soon after the election as possible.

Section 2.Each officer, before entering upon the duties of her office, shall be required to take an oath of office.

Article VII.—Meetings.

Section 1.—Council—The Council shall meet once a week, time and place set by the president.

Section 2.—Executive Board—The Executive Board shall meet when called by the president.

Section 3. — Open Meeting— An open meeting for all those interested once a term, date to be set at the most convenient time.

Section 4.—A quorum of open meetings shall consist of two-thirds of the Executive Board and one-third representation of the Association.

Article VIII.—Point System.

Section 1.—The Association shall use the following point system—

Physical efficiency tests	100 pts.
Teams
Class 1st teams,	100 pts.
Championship team	50 pts.
Honorary varsities, each	25 pts.
Varsities, each	50 pts.
Field and Track
1st place in individual event	50 pts.
Breaking college record	50pts.
1st place in meet	100 pts.
1st place in relay	10 pts.
Tournaments
Tennis, singles	75 pts.
Tennis, doubles	50 pts.
Archery
Scholarship average of A	75 pts.
Scholarship average of B	50 pts.
Scholarship average of C	25 pts.
Hiking, 3 10-mile hikes 1 year	50 pts

Article IX—Championship teams, Varsities, Honorary Varsities, Class Teams

Section 1.—Championship teams shall bethose teams who have the highest total number of games in each sport offered.

Section 2.—Honorary varsity teams shall be chosen by the coach ad the members of the Physical Education department at the end of each seasonal sport.

Section 3.—Class and varsity teams shall be chosen by the coach and captain of each team.

Article X.—Awards

Section 1.—Individual—Blazers.

1. Class colored, red with white, green with white	600 pts.
2. Class colored with numerals	900 pts.
3. Colored with S. T. C.	1200 pts.
4. Navy blue with S. T. C.	1500 pts.
5. Navy blue with College seal	2000 pts.

There shall be no other individual award with the exception of the college monogram.

Section 2. The color cup shall be held by the color whose supporters shall have earned the highest total number of points awarded. The cup shall remain in the possession of the color once having earned it as long as it is able to earn the highest total number of points each year.

The points toward this cup shall be awarded in the following manner—

1. Championship in any class sport	10 pts.
2. Highest total score on Field Day	10 pts.
3. Highest number of monograms awarded	10 pts.
4. Highest number of girls making basketball varsity	10 pts.
5.Highest number of girls making hockey varsity	10 pts.

In case of a tie in Field and Track events the points shall be equally divided.

Section 3.—Awarding of Honors. All awards of the Association shall be presented by the president.

Article XI.—Amendments.

Section 1.—This constitution may be amended by a two thirds vote of the membership. Proposed amendments must be published in The Rotunda before being voted upon.

Article XII.—Enacting Clause.

Section 1.—This constitution shall take effect and be in force from and after November, 1927.

MONOGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Continued from page 3

IV. Varsity team	50 pts.
Varsity squad	25 pts.
V. Hiking
Three ten-mile hikes per yr.	50 pts.
VI. Field Day.
1. First place in any individual event	100 pts.
2. Second place in any individual event	75 pts.
3. Third place in any individual event	50 pts.
4. First place in any relay	10 pts.
5. Second place in any relay	5 pts.
6. Breaking a college record	50 pts.
7. Participating in meet	5 pts.
VII. Tournaments (Tennis, Archery)
1. Championship	75 pts.
2. Runners up	50 pts.
3. Third	25 pts.
4. Those in after first round	5 pts.
VIII. Scholarship.
1. "C" average—no failures	25 pts.
2. "B" average—nothing below "C"	50 pts
3. "A" average—nothing below "B"	75 pts
IX Eligibility.
First year	400 pts.
Secnd, Third and Fourth years—each year	250 pts.

Attention Teachers and Students

Why lose your personal property by FIRE or THEFT?
Get a policy covering against these perils. Sold at a small cost.

F. W. HUBBARD
Planters Bank Building
Farmville ---------- Virginia

Get Your Needs at

Greenberg's Department Store

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE GIRLS

We invite your charge account

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor

"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"

Let us Supply Your Wants

Corner Main and High Streets
FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

AT THE EACO

Wed.—Tom Mix and Marjorie Daw and Tony, the wonder horse in "Outlaws of Red River" a special production. Action! thrills! suspense, laughter, and a romance of love and adventure among the cloud capped mountains of California. In a breath taking story of the Fighting Texas Rangers led by the Phantom Falcon of the law—Tom Mix. Also Aesop Fable and a good comedy. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

Thurs. Olive Borden in "The Monkey Talks" a big special production directed by Raoul Walsh, the director of "What Price Glory." A fascinating mystery drama of the Big Top. The strange romance of a dainty follies Begeres performer & the monkey who talked. Pathos and humor, suspense and thrills, in a story of absorbing interest. A sensational romance. Also comedy. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

Friday and Sat.—Edmund Lowe, Lila Lee, May Allison, Huntley Gordon, Jan Navak and many others in "One Increasing purpose. A big special production from the latest and greatest novel by A. S. M. Hutchinson. A masterly screen version of a master novelist's greatest work—with a cast of stars—against backgrounds of rural England and London's historic landmarks. A great story greatly screened. This is a picture carrying a message to millions. It took six months to make this big production. Also a good comedy. Mat. Friday at 4 o'clock.

Mon., Tues., Wed. and Thurs., we present "Ben Hur," the most stupendous production ever screened. All the world loves a lover—and all the world is enamored of this mightiest of all thrilling romances. Come! with Ben Hur through the death-daring chariot race—Fight with hiem in the thrilling sea battles—Exult with him in a thousand and one glamorous, gorgeous, breath taking scenes—Come and see the most stupendous picture ever screened. Three years in the making—150,000 people in the cast—At a cost of over $4,000,000 —You can't afford to miss it. From the great novel by Gen. Lew Wallace. The featured players are Ramon Novarro, Francis X. Bushman, May McAvoy, Betty Bronson, Kathleen Key and Carmel Myers. Many scenes in beautiful colors. Matinee each day at 3-50 o'clock. Pathe News is added feature.

Admission to SS. T. C. student for "Ben Hur" 50 cents other shows 25 cents.

(ON GUARD)

FARMVILLE!

THE ROTUNDA

POE

HAPPY BIRTH-DAY, DR. JARMAN!

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1927 Number 7

HOCKEY VARSITY TO PLAY WILLIAMSBURG

First Intercollegiate Hockey Game Scheduled Saturday

On Friday afternoon the hockey varsity will leave Farmville for Williamsburg, where, for the first time in the history of the college, S. T. C. will battle with another college for honors in hockey.

At the Monday afternoon practice Laura Smith '30was chosen as varsity captain for the year. Anyone who attended the Thanksgiving games last year will remember Laura's speedy team work in hockey. An enthusiastic athletic worker, a born leader and with a thorough knowledge of the game, Laura meets all requirements for a good captain. The squad, under her leadership, is looking forward to a fast and hotly contested battle on Saturday.

All other practices are being given over to varsity and the squad is putting out every ounce of energy and grit into a mighty effort to win the victory from William and Mary.

Though hockey is not new at William and Mary and only made its anitial appearance at S. T. C. last year on Thanksgiving Day,—the student body is assured that the hockey varsity will make no poor showing in Williamsburg on Saturday.

DR. JARMAN: A BRIEF ACCOUNT OF AN EVENTFUL LIFE

Dr. Joseph Leonard Jarman, the fourth president of S. T. C., was born in Charlottesville, Virginia on November 19, 1867. His parents, William Dabney Jarman and Catherine Goodloe Lindsay, died before he was fourteen. In 1881 he was sent to Miller Manual Training School. He won the Miller Scholarship to the University of Virginia in a competitive examination at this institution in 1886. As a student at the University he specailized in the Natural and Physical Sciences. In 1889 he returned to Miller School as a member of the faculty. He taught there only one year, for in 1890 he was called to Emory and Henry College as head of the Natural Science Department. Twelve years later he came to Farmville as the fourth president of the State Normal School. At that time the school was small—small in the size of the student body and in the number of school build-

Seek-Lovi-
Want-

ecause of Dr. Jarman's work as ducator Emory and Henry Col- conferred upon him an A. B. . After he came to Farmville, den-Sidney awarded him the degree. In 1925 in acknowl- of his contrbution to the al progress of the State the Kappa at the University elected him to member-

Lucil-
three ce-bottle—w-
Eliz.—"I-Lucille—"

man came to S. T.

on last page.)

Joseph Leonard Jarman

To our own President, trusted friend, respected adviser, beloved leader we give our best wishes for a very happy birthday

ARMISTICE DAY IS OBSERVED IN CHAPEL

On November 11, when everyone in the country from President Coolidge, who placed a wreath on the Unknown Soldier's Tomb, to the humblest factory laborer who paused for two minutes in his work to remember, we, at S. T. C., devoted a few minutes of our busy school life to pay tribute to those who lie in Flander's fields.

The chapel exercises were conducted entirely by Dr. Jarman and the students. Mary Christian Royall presided and opened chapel with a few preliminary remarks on "The Observance of Armistice Day." This was followed by the singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" by the student body. Frances Willis beautifully expressed the sentiment of the student body with the following tri- te.

"Eight years ago—eight long years

Continued on page two

J. L. J.—A PORTRAIT

With cane hooped on his arm, he walked quickly down the street—
Head bent a little forward, and a-puffing his cigar.
I waited on the corner, for I hoped that we might meet;
I longed to walk to school with him—it wasn't very far.
He smiled, and spoke to me, and then I soon forgot;
I told him of a funny joke I'd heard the day before
We laughed and laughed, and like as not
We'd be laughing yet, but we had reached the door.
And as he turned to go, I still could see his smile—
And I thought then, as I think now—
"He's happy all the while!"

—J. E. W. '29

EXERCISES FOR HOSPITAL HELD IN AUDITORIUM HERE

On Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Jarman presided at the exercises held in the auditoruim of the college, which celebrated the formal opening of the new Southside Community Hospital.

The auditorium was filled with the people of the community who are vitally interested in their new hospital. A section of front rows on the right of the auditorium were reserved for the doctors of the Central District Medical Association—while the front rows on the left were reserved for the Lions Club of Farmville.

The small number of girls who were able to attend the exercises were as interested as the community people, because they feel that, for a time at least, Farmville is their home and they realize the wonderfully progessive step the community has taken in the building of the hospital.

(Continued on last page.)

CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS PRESENT PLAYS AT S. T. C.

University Students Play Well in Three Tragedies

On Monday night the Carolina Playmakers of Chapel Hill, sponsored by the Farmville Alumnae Association, presented three of their original folk plays in our auditorium. The first of these plays, "The Scuffletown Outlaws," written by William Norment Cox was a vivid drama centering around the notorious Henry Berry Lowrie and his band of outlaws. The scenes were laid in a swampy region in Robeson County known as Scuffletown. The leading feminine rle was taken by Miss Katherine Batts, while Norment Cox and Howard Bailey were the leading male characters.

The second play, a tragedy of a tenant-farm woman, was written by Paul and Emma Green. The story was a modern one and the scenes were laid in Eastern North Carolina. The leading roles were played by Miss Katherine Batts, Mr. John Hardin and Mr. Hubert Heffner. This play, "Fixin's" was orginally produced on the Playmakers State, Chapel Hill, on February 7thh and 8th, 1924.

The scene of the last play which was a tragedy of the Carolina highlands, was laid in a remote valley

(Continued on last page.)

STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN DECEMBER

December is coming hurriedly, bringing Christmas and home! December also brings something of vital importance to our campus. It is the Tenth Quadrennial Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement in America. This year it is to be held in Detroit, Michigan from December the twenty-eighth to January the second.

These conventions are held every four years. They are unique not only in the number of students attending, but in the number of schools represented, and in the world-embracing range of their thought. This year the cabinet hopes to send several representatives in order that our college may gain the spiritual value of such a meeting. This side of our lives is as essentially in need of education as our minds.

Who will go has not yet been decided. The cabinet is thinking in terms of one whose character is strong, and who will bring back a breath of that meeting which will stimulate those who are facing campus problems—problems for the junior going into her scenior-ship and looking up from the portals of her college upon "a new age which stands as yet half built against the sky."

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30

CATHERINE BENTLEY '29
Proof Reader
HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

THE HONOR SYSTEM AND GOSSIP

Since the first week of school the thinking girls of the student body have joined with the Council, in their concern over rumors and gossip which are spreading like wild fire over the school from day to day.

In a student body of a thousand plus, there are fifteen girls on the Student Council. Although it should not be true, it is a deplorable fact that with a few exceptions, these fifteen girls are the only ones in the student body who feel any responsibility whatever in reporting the misconduct which they see. In other schools in which the Honor System is effective, everyone feels that she is a member of the Student Association and lives up to her duties. Here, it seems, that no one is willing to help make our Honor System function. There is a general opinion that only Council girls will report one, and as long as they are not around, although other girls see things which they know are against the rule and are hurting the reputation of the school, their duty seems to end with starting gossip and helping to exaggerate the rumors, which are unfairly overworking and worrying those who have a true interest in the College.

If the whole responsibility of rule breaking and misconduct is put upon the Council, then to what must they resort in order to see that the rules are kept? Must they be policemen? Must they stoop to "snooping"? If this must be done, then hadn't the Honor System better be done away with entirely?

Wake up, girls to your responsibility. Help the Council keep the standing of your Alma Mater from being lowered by petty or major law breakers. Realize what the Honor System means, and act accordingly.

If there is no foundation for the gossip and rumors you hear, then ignore them. Do not pass them on in order to make interesting conversation. Think how the reputation of each girl in school influences the reputation of the College as a whole.

The Council loses enough sleep over the cases they have. Don't let your savor of a "choice bit" make them waste more time and energy over cases which they are afraid they should have and haven't.

If things you hear and know have foundation, take them to your Council. If they have no foundation, then for the good of the school, help to stop the circulating stories, which must be hurting someone and which certainly are not helping anyone.

CHANGES IN THE LIBRARY

Several changes have been made recently in the library, and the entire student body has been asked to co-operate with the librarian in carrying out these changes. The alterations have been made primarily for the convenience of the students, so it is up to them to make this new system successful. The new rules have been posted in various places in the library, but there are still a few girls who do not seem to understand just what they are supposed to do.

All of the books on special reserve have been placed on the shelves so that each girl may get her own book, thus doing away with the old method of waiting at the desk to call for the book. However, the reference cards in the books must be signed and placed in the correct section of the box on the table. When a girl has finished with a book, she should return it to the desk instead of the shelf. In this way the librarian is able to keep track of each book, and it is also possible for her to keep the books in the right place on the shelf so that they may be found easily by others.

When using a book that is not on reserve, it is not necessary to sign a card unless the book is to be checked out of the library. After using one of these books, the girls are asked to return it to the proper place on on the shelf.

The general conditions in the library have improved a great deal. There is less noise and confusion, and most of the students are observing the new rules splendidly. If each girl will just remember that she is just one of a thousand who has to use the library, then everything will work out just fine and the librarian will be more than pleased with the result.

GARDNERS AND FLOWERS

Of all the places on our campus, one of the most interesting is Miss Mary's tulip-bed. Miss Mary always takes a great deal of pleasure in guessing what kind of tulips will come from those little brown bulbs. Miss Mary, the chief gardener, tends her flowers with care and thought, for she loves her tulip-bed.

And so it is with teaching and our teachers. They, too, have beautiful flowers of all kinds to work with. Some that are beautiful at the start; some, that they make beautiful. And they, too, are wondering just what kinds of flowers will blossom from the little bulbs that are planted in their classroom gardens.

In their class room flower beds—weeds also grow—weeds of distrust, of indifference and of dislike. The teacher gardener must tend her flowers with love, understanding, and sympathy, in order to kill the weeds of distrust. She must pluck with personal interest the weeds of indifference.

Our gardener teachers break up the clods of earth—environment—around their human flowers. They nourish their flower beds with understanding and with sympathy, until they see from the dark brown bulbs that were planted four years before, beautiful flowers bloom.

Do these flowers realize what their gardener-teacher has done for them while they were bulbs in her class-room gardens? I think they do.

Nelms—"Gosh, they're advertising shoe-shines now for five cents,—let's get one."

Houchins—"Aw! They're probably no good and besides I've got on my roommate's shoes."

ALUMNAE NOTES

Many faculty members and students will read with interest the account of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Lewis copied from the Farmville Herald. Miss Lewis is a graduate of S. T. C. and Randolph Macon Womans College, and was for two years a member of the English Department here.

Battle—Lewis

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lewis, Sr., was the scene yesterday of a lovely wedding when their daughter Elizabeth, became the bride of James M. Battle, of Charlottesville.

The ceremony was solemnized before an improvised altar of cathedral candles, ferns and white chrysanthemums, at high noon. Rev. C. F. Rankin performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

Master John Stewart Battle and Master Billie Battle, nephews of the groom opened the doors presenting a tableau grouping. The bride wore a handsome dress of brown transparent velvet, with a metalic hat and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses. She was attended by Miss Laura Anderson, who wore a gown of hunters green satin and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

John Battle, brother of the groom was best man.

Immediately after the ceremony, a luncheon was served to the bridal party at the home of the bride, after which Mr. and Mrs. Battle left for a motor trip through Florida.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Battle and sons, John and Billy, and Dr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Wood of Charlottesville.

The alumnae of the State Teachers College are represented on the staff of the Southside Community Hospital which opened so auspciously on Wednesday, last. Mrs. W. M. Holladay is bookkeeper and record clerk. Mrs. Alpha O. Bullock is dietician.

Miss Florence Buford has been elected secretary of the Virginia League of Women Voters of Albemarle County.

Mrs. Edith Estep Gray has been appointed postmistress at Signpine, Gloucester County.

ARMISTICE DAY IS OBSERVED IN CHAPEL

Continued from page one

and yet the memory comes back as vivid as if it were yesterday. The memory of crowded streets all over the world celebrating the first blooming of the popies—which bloomed a vivid red in Flanders field,—the memory of an auditorium filled with girls hoping, praying . . . and then bursting into wild happiness. Back again across the ages comes the memory of S. T. C.'s 7 in 1 campaign; work and more work . . . hopes and prayers, and then the winning, the thrill of going over the top. Parades, flags, music, cheering, the march of a student body . . . this was victory eight years ago . . . this was Armistice day eight years ago.

"The poppies bloom again for the eighth time; the same auditorium holds the same spirited girls. There are no flags or parades, there is no music, no cheering. Have they forgotten?

"No, they are rememberig in a different way. They are remembering those who did not cheer, those for whom no music played . . . no music, save the whining of an autumn wind,

(Continued on last page)

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville — Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO
ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing, repairing. Ladies' work a specialty.
"Your satisfaction is our aim."
Special Prices to S. T. C. student for 412 Main St. — other shows 25

SONG

Breezes of spring—
Sing to me now
In the cool of the twilight,
While I am dreaming.

Blow me the whispering songs
From her heart.

The blue-black of night
Has enraptured my soul,
But I long for the music
To set my heart going.

On a spring night
When the world loves to dream,
And the breezes are playing
For all hearts to sing—
Bring to me then,
O breezes of evening—
The songs from her heart.

J. E. W. '29

THOSE OTHER DAYS

Once, very long ago,
(When only the moon could see)
You held me close in your arms
And told wonderful lies to me.

You said I was beautiful . . wonderful!
(That was back in those other days)
You said I was all the world to you;
You said that you'd love me always.

I listended to those stories
With doubt that was almost pain—
But now—I'd give the world, my dear,
To hear those lies again!

—L. R. A. '30

THE SOUL OF THE UNIVERSE

(College High School, 1928)

I am a pagan moon, but I have a soul. Fearlessly, intrepidly, and swiftly I dance through the hazy heavens. Free! Free! At last free! I laugh, I dance, I sing. You mock me and say I am wan and pallid, for ere long I shall be the great soul of the universe. My song is the love paean.

—R. P.

SHADOWS

Candlelight
And the soft strains of a violin
Permeates the room
Tears me.....
Thrills me.....
'Till reality is gone
And there are only.....
Shadows.

—M. B. B.

TO——

My tenderest thoughts are soft birds
Winging thru' the rain
Seeking you
Wanting you again.

As the rain falls softly
Do you feel me near?
Seeking you.....
Loving you.....
Wanting you—my dear—

—M. B. B.

Lucille—"If you have thirty-three cents, a cork and then buy a bottle—what is in the bottle?"

Eliz.—"I'll bite, what is it?"

Lucille—"The cork."

HISTORY CLASSES VISIT POINTS OF INTEREST

Miss Pettit's classes in History of Virginia left here Saturday morning on a tour to various points of historical interest in this State.

There first stop was Richmond, where they visited Battle Abbey, Confederate Museum, Poe's Shrine, the Capitol, and Saint John's Church. The battle grounds at Seven Pines just outside of Richmond, were next viewed. From there the students went to Jamestown; then, to Williamsburg, and Yorktown. In each of these places, sites of importance in settlement and early development were visited. The party returned to school on Sunday night.

This trip was planned in order that the girls might gain a better understanding and appreciation of their study of Virginia History.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION IS ELECTED

The Freshman Class met Tuesday nght in the auditorium for the purpose of electing the Freshman Commission. Those elected were—

Margaret Farris
Elizabeth Lacy
Jeanette Luther
Elizabeth Antrim
Jane Gray Irby
Virginia Pettigrew
Elsie Clements
Mary Ellen Cato
Rena Roberson
Helen Adams
Margaret Pumphrey
Adele Hutchinson

DR. WALMSLEY ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Dr. Walmsley attended the Methodist Church Conference which was held in Danville, Virginia November 10th—13th.

This was the annual business conference of the Methodist Church, and plans were made for the work of the church during the coming year.

The suggestion was offered that a socialogical study of rural Sunday Schools be made as a basis for formulating a plan by which they may do more constructive work.

Dr. Walmsley thinks that rural Sunday Schools will eventually be consolidated as the rural schools have been.

FRESHMAN ORCHESTRA PLAYS AT CURDSVILLE

The Freshman Orchestra went to Cursdville last Thursday night to furnish music between acts of a play which was given at Curdsville High School.

After the play an entertainment was given, and refreshments were served to the members of the orchestra.

The Freshman Orchestra has already become well known at S. T. C., but its popularity does not end here. Other engagements to play outside the school are being scheduled.

NORTH CAROLINA CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The North Carolina Club met and elected officers for the year of 1927-28. They are—

President	Lucille Norman
Vice-Pres.	Ruth Abbey
Secretary	Elizabeth Beavens
Treaurer	Blanch Taylor
Reporter	Odell Smith

Miss Mary F. Petitt was unanimously elected Sponsor.

SOCIAL

Miss Nancy Cole, of Washington, former student at S. T. C., spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Helen Jones.

* * *

Miss Virginia Bull has returned from Charlottesville where she spent the week-end and attended the game and dances.

* * *

Miss Katherine Carter of Charlottesville spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Ann Palmer.

* * *

Among those who attended the dances and Hampden-Sidney-University of Richmond game last week-end were Misses Gertrude Wright, Elizabeth Lacy, Margaret Pumphrey, Leora Carter, Ellen Smith, Lucille Field, Anna Burgess, Dorothy Latane, Mayo Bass, Alice Covington, Genevieve Grimes, and Louise Foster.

* * *

Miss Lucille Graves returned Sunday from Lynchburg where she spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Frances Booth.

* * *

Misses Frances Malbon and Mary Fielding Taliaferro spent the week-end in Charlottesville and attended the game and dances at the University of Virginia.

* * *

Misses Nellie and Katherine Chambers spent the week-end in Richmond and attended the Hampden-Sidney-University of Richmond game.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Armfield spent the week-end at her home in Richmond and attended the football game.

PANHELLENIC ASSOCIATION .ENTERTAINS

The members of the Panhellenic Association were hostesses at a ten dansant given in the recreation hall from five to six on last Wednesday afternoon. The hall was decorated with fall flowers, Japanese lanterns, and balloons.

Those receiving were the members of the Panhellenic Council and Miss Myrtle Grenels, Panhellenic advisor.

Music for dancing was furnished by the Freshman Orchestra. From time to time during the afternoon the guests were enetrtained by feature numbers, consisting of two musical readings by Mabel Yancey Brooking, a piano solo by Margaret Hubbard, a duet by Nancy Nelms and Elizabeth Antrim, and a dancing number, the Mrry Widow Waltz by Polly Aderholt and Ellen Smith.

During the programme refreshments were served to the members of Panhellenic and their guests.

WOULD YOU KNOW—

"Frankie" Roberts as Frances.
"Bits" Marshall as Elizabeth.
"Beth" White as Lillian.
"Jackie" Woodson as Viola.
"Red" Foster as Louise.
"Pannie" Willis as Frances
"Humpty" Jones as Helen.
"Dulittle" Dulaney as Evelyn.
"Chris" Royall as Mary
"Blunder" Folkes as Ellen.
"Jinx" Grimes as Genevieve.
"Ginna" Rankin as Virginia.
"Millie" Landis as Mildred.
"Baby" Fitzpatrick as Mabel.
"Greenie" Parker as Greenhow.
"Liz" Munn as Elizabeth.
"Skinny" Craft as Louise.
"Pinkey" Shoffner as Louise.

BASKET BALL PRACTICE STARTS

Although hockey is the leading phase of athletics at present, basket ball practice has now begun and is again beginning to demand recognition from the athletes as one of the most popular sports at S. T. C.

Although no varsity games will be scheduled until after Christmas, Coach Iler realizes the necessity of working girls together immediately in order to make interesting class teams. From these will come the Varsity material.

Dr. Jarman has kindly consented to allow Miss Iler to schedule basket ball practices at night from nine-thirty until ten-thirty during hockey season. Practices for the Freshmen and Juniors are scheduled on Mondays and Wednesdays; the Sophomores and Seniors practice, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, Fridays are devoted to a general practice. It is necessary that every girl cooperate to the fullest extent in order to make Farmville's basket ball team capable of successfully competing with other teams of the state.

SIXTEEN GIRLS HIKE TOWARD MONOGRAMS

Sixteen girls have taken "the plunge" and have been quite thrilled with the result. "There's nothing like it," so they say, and they just "can't wait" to go again.

"What is it all about?"—Simply this. On Saturday afternoon sixteen girls went on a hike to Farmville Lake, which is their first start toward earning a monogram. There was much excitement along the way, but to cap the climax, they had a "sumptuous" feast of "hog dogs" when they reached the lake. "Dogs" because they were tired and "panting"; "hot" because the "dogs" were roasted over a "sure-nuff" fire.

GEOGRAPHY CLASS VISITS TOBACCO MART

Last Thursday the class in Geography of North America, which is taught by Miss Wtaers, went to the local tobacco market to see how tobacco is auctioned off. Only two or three of the entire class had witnessed the selling of tobacco before in spite of the fact thhat Virginia is rated as a tobacco state.

Everything was noticed in detail by the entier class. They noticed how the tobacco was placed in baskets, how the name of the planter, the grade of the tobacco and the weight was on each basket; and how the auctioneer followed by the buyers went up and down row transacting the necessary business. The classes gain was a practical experience which is better than a lesson in a class room many times.

Attend prayers every night after supper.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

Correct Clothes
For the Round of
College Life
Shoes
Dresses
Hats
Coats
Millinery
Gloves
Underwear
Sweaters
Negligees
And All Necessities
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

KUTE KOLLEGE KIDS

Dot Baldwin says time tells on a man, but it shouts at a woman.

Cogbill said Zack spoke with his mind, but his voice was cracked.

Gin Jones says man is but a worm. He comes along, wiggles about a bit, then some chicken gets him.

Mabel Bradshaw says sympathy is what one girl offers another in exchange for details.

Etta Marshall agrees that the only difference between an S. T. C. girl's voice and music is that music can be shut off.

Virginia Walker says it isn't what a girl knows that bothers us, but how she learned it.

Helen Ward says most women try to prove their love by talking about it, and most men by spending money.

No, Hogan, a divorcee is not always a Peach O' Reno.

Elizabeth Ferrell says men are like fish, neither would get into trouble if they would keep their mouths shut.

Elizabeth Munn tells us the driest day in history was when an Irishman and a Scotchman went in for a drink and the Irishman didn't have any money.

THE SPOTLIGHT

Heen Myers was heard to say its surprising how often a love triangle develops into a wrecktangle.

Anna Cahoon says most girls go out for track so they'll be prepared for being run out of school.

No, Mary Fielding, fifty volts would never be cashed as United States money.

Could you really laugh, Frances M. at your humor?

Really,Reba,do you honestly think the course of true love is covered with no parking signs?

Well, Eliz. Sawyer, if you want to sleep in open air get a job on the police force.

Virginia Keister agrees that it is better to smoke here than hereafter.

Speaker—"I have only ten minutes and I hardly know where to begin."

Ann Guy—"Begin at the ninth minute."

—Tawney Cat

Joe Peters—"Are they the goal posts?"

Bessie B.—"No, them posts ain't gold."

Frances D.—"Ho, but haven't seen you since we got back from V. M. I."

Anna J.—"Aw, isn't it funny, I ain't seen you since there either."

MRS. G. B. V. HOLLADAY RESIGNS FROM S. T. C.

Although no mention has been made of the fact in our paper, yet we have all noticed the absence of one who endeared herself in the hearts of all the girls,—Mrs. G. B. V. Holladay, former assistant in the Registrar's Office.

A week after the opening of school Mrs. Holladay resigned her position at S. T. C. to take up a new and fascinating work at the Southside Community Hospital. While we miss her greatly at S. T. C. our best wishes go out to her in her new work.

Because of the vacancy made by Mrs. Holladay, it has been necessary to add two new assistants to the staff in the Registrar's office. We gladly welcome Misses Rachel Hendrickte and Mollie Blanton, former Students of S. T. C. who are Miss Jennie's new assistants.

MR. LATIMER TALKS TO JOURNALISM CLASS

Mr. J. C. Latimer of the Farmville Herald gave an interesting talk to the class in journalism last Friday, Novembzer 11th. Mr. Latimer has had a great deal of experience in newspaper work and his talk to the class was very instructive. He spoke of the importance of journalism; its place in the eyes of the public, and the vast field open for new journalists. It was a privilege to have a journalist of experience to talk to the class and each member received information that will be of value in future work.

THE "MERRYMAKERS" ORGANIZE

If you hear the low strumming of guitars and other musical instruments issuing from Miss Jennie's room, you will know that the "Merrymakers" are at work. they organized last Tuesday night with pep and enthusiasm and elected the following officers—

Marion Fitchett (guitar) ..... Pres.
Beatrice Carico (mandolin) Vice-P.
Margaret Campbell (guitar) Sec.-T.
Evelyn Thompson (guitar) Reporter

Other members of the club are—

Trixie Murphy ..... Guitar
Frances Guthrie ..... Guitar
Elizabeth Weaver ..... Mandolin
Grace Rose ..... Mandolin
Louise Batte ..... Banjo
Nancy Nelms ..... Banjo
Elizabeth Levike ..... Ukelele
Peggy Cutchins ..... Ukelele
Lucille Campbell ..... Ukelele

The new organization hopes to provide fun for its own members and others in the school.

DR. JARMAN

Continued from page one

C., the college has grown from a normal school to a modern teachers' college. He has raised the standard of the college until it ranks twelfth in line of all the teachers' colleges in the United States and first in the South.

The development of the college has not been in buildings, curriculum, faculty, and students alone. There has been born a spirit of loyalty to school, vocation and ideals—a spirit which strengthens the characters of all that come in contact with its originator—Dr. Joseph Leonard Jarman.

Other colleges and organizations may give him great honors, such as the world calls great, but we, the students of his own S. T. C. pledge to him our loyalty, love and devotion.

UNUSUAL SERVICES AT PRAYERS DURING WEEK

Prayers during last week were of particular interest to the students in college,, who attended in unusually large numbers.

Tuesday night Margaret Leonard talked on autumn, its beauty and inspiration.

A choir composed of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and girls who have attended conferences at Blue Ridge furnished music during the service on Wednesday. They sang "Follow the Gleam,"and several Negro spirituals, closing with the words written to "Taps," familiar to those who have known the inspiration of a campfire.

Frances Willis, who led prayers on Thursday applied to life the thought of a poem—

All that we need to do
Be we low or high
Is to see that we grow
Nearer the sky.

The special program for Armistice Day was led by Miss Myrtle Grenels. She stated that the peace of the world rested in the hands of teachers. If they would teach the children who will be the leaders of the next generation, respect, understanding, and sympathy for all people of the earth, war would cease and the ideal of peace on earth would prevail.

The World Week of Prayer will be observed with appropriate service all this week.

EXERCISES FOR SOUTHSIDE HOSPITAL

Continued from page one

Five speakers were on the program. Each one was interesting and each gave effective speeches.

Dr. Douglas F. Freeman, editor of the News-Leader, Richmond; Dr. Ennion G. Williams, State Health Commissioner; Dr. Edward H. Richardson, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, who was introduced by Mr. R. K. Brock, and Dr. A. W. Freeman, of Johns Hopkins University were the speakers for the afternoon.

Between the speeches a double quartette from the college, Virginia Spain, Mae Marshall, and Margaret Hubbard entertained the audience with music which was greatly appreciated.

The Five-point chhildren from the Training school and town school marched across the stage just to show what a healthy group of school children we really have in Farmville.

Mayor E. W. Sanford in his speech expressing the appreciation of this community for what the Commonwealth Fund has done for this section of Virginia also paid a beautiful tribute to the work done by Dr. Jarman. The enthusiastic applause showed that the people of Farmville and surrounding counties appreciate our president almost as much as his "own girls." Dr. Jarman is president of the local board.

Besides the speakers, the members of the Board of Directors, the superintendent and the nursing staff of hospital and representatives of the Community Fund sat on the stage and were presented by Dr. Jarman.

Dr. Frederick Diehl closed the exercises with prayer.

You can know it is yellow when you meet those ashamed to show their colors.

Observe the student government rules.

CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS PRESENT PLAYS AT S. T. C.

Continued from page one

of Western North Carolina. Miss Batts again took the leading feminine part while the two prominent male characters were interpreted by John Hardin and Hubert Heffner. The latter, as the mountain preached lent a humorous note to the otherwise tragic play. "Lighted Candls" was written by Miss Margaret Bland and was originally produced on the Carolina Playmakers stage on February 10 and 11, 1927.

Between the first and second plays Professor Frederick H. Koch, director, spoke briefly on the work of the Playmakers and during the other termissions the Freshman orchestra played.

The Playmakers are now on their eighteenth tour. They came here from Hollins, Virginia, and will go next to Williamsburg, Virginia.

THE AMBITIOUS HAIRDRESSER

Maggie of the funny paper has a characteristic hairdress that makes her Maggie. Although she bobs it or puts it back behind her ears in today's popular fashion she is always imitated or characterized as the one with the "stovepipe hairdress." A boyish bob always reminds me of one with athletic inclination, or else a "most convenient" hair cut in order to save time that could be used in some other way. All that has to be done is to dash a comb through the abbreviated tresses with a lick and a promise, and the hair looks its best. What a time saving device that is!

Long flowng tresses of the present day which are carefully tucked up suggest patience, surplus energy, a usual neat appearance, and the goal toward which so many are struggling. The possessors of this long hair are just (and justly) as proud of it as was Sampson of old. They should

Then comes the happy medium and Oh,what a happy medium we do have! Maybe it should be called the unhappy medium. We have characteristic boyish bobs; we have characteristic long hair; but what could be said of the happy medium, the stage between the long and short? It is indeed the age of worry and discovery. One worries over the possible duration of this awkward age, and in the meantime discovers various ways of mastering the unmasterable stage. Some buy hair pins by the thousands and use them to hold up the three of four extra inches of hair. Others decide to go back to the age of innocence—minus the hair ribbon—and leave the hair as mother nature intended it, loose and flowing. Could we characterize this group? Yes; we'll call them the ambitious.

ARMISTICE DAY IS OBSERVED

Continued from page two

the whirling of the rain . . . in Flanders field. 'Tis of them we think this morning, for it is their message that the world must hear . . . and we are its future. 'Tis the message of world fellowship, which can be gained only through understanding, and love. This is the message of the poppies which bloom in Flander's field . . . the poppies of vivid red. We must dream of a day when poppies bloom a lily white in Flanders field."

Dr. Jarman gave us a splendid talk on "Service." Elsie Clements read "In Flanders Field". The student body then bowed their heads in two minutes of silent prayer.

Get Your Needs at

Greenberg's
Department Store

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE GIRLS

We invite your charge account

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor

"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"

Let us Supply Your Wants

Corner Main and High Streets

FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

Attenttion Teachers and Students

Why lose your personal property by FIRE or THEFT?
Get a policy covering against these perils. Sold at a small cost.

F. W. HUBBARD
Planters Bank Building
Farmville ---------- Virginia

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
Phone 221 610 Main St.

AT THE EACO

Fri. and Sat.—Dolores Del Rio and Victor McLaglen, the "What Price Glory" stars in "The Loves of Carmen", a big special production. The devil was bored and he summoned his henchmen. "Pour for me", he said "into one mould, the heart of a child, the body of a wanton and the soul of a woman. Let us see what will happend." The result was "Carmen," the wild rose of old Seville. The most daring picture of a daring heroine and her reckless lover. A great lavish production. Also good comedy. Mat. Fri. and Sat. at 4

Mon.—Tim McCoy and Dorothy Sebastian in Peter B. Kyne's "California" A big special production. A forgeous film romance of early pioneering days in California. Action all the way, in a yarn by America'e greatest story teller. Also Pathe News. Please remember this is a big special. At 3-45 o'clock matinee Davidsons will have Buster Brown and famous dog Tige on the stage to entertain the children. Matinee is free if tickets are gotten at Davidson's store.

Tues. and Wed.—Karl Dane ("Slim of the Big Parade") and Marceline Day in "Rookies." A big special production written by Byron Morgan. Prepare to laugh! He didn't know one end of a rifle from the other—but of girls how he could make love! Complications, romance, thrills, and laughs, laughs—in the funniest picture ever made. I just know that everyone will enjoy this picture, and I urge you to go and take a friend with you. If you go the first day, you will tell your friends to go the second day. At both days we will show the third and fourth episode of "Fighting With Buffalo Bill." Matinee each day at 4 o'clock.

Admission to S. T. C. girls 25c, if tickets are purchased at the college.

THE ROTUNDA

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1927 Number 8

INTERESTING PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED FOR THE OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING DAY

Classes Eager for Color Contests

The Thanksgiving Day program this year will begin at six-thirty instead of six o'clock.From six-thirty to seven-fifteen the classes will be allowed to hang their colors, but no colors may be hung after seven-fifteen. Each class, instead of tryng to put their colors up the highest will try to make them the most beautiful. The athletic field must not be decorated. No paint is to be used, for paper and ribbon can be taken down, but paint is permanent. If any class colors disappear the classes responsible for the disappearance will be requested to take their colors down. The Rotunda is to be decorated by a special committee. If both teams of one color are victorious their colors remain hanging, but if the victory is split the colors remain as they are.

At seven-fifteen a short Thanksgiving service will be held in the auditorium. The service will last until seven-thirty when breakfast will be served as usual.

The games are called for nine o'clock. The first half of the Freshman-Sophomore game will be played, and then the Juniors and Seniors will play the first half of their game. The games will be finished in the same order.

Thanksgiving church services will be held in the Episcopal Church at eleven o'clock. At one dinner will be served. The afternoon from dinner until supper will be left free so that the student body may rest from the excitement of the morning.

After supper the Freshman Class and the visiting alumnae will be the guests of honor at a party given by the Juniors.

FRENCH VIOLINIST PRESENTS PROGRAM

S. T. C. was fortunate in having the French violinist, Mme. Renee Chemet, appear on our Lyceum platform, November 19. The audience was held spell-bound. Her selections were varied, some familiar, some not so familiar, but all equally lovely.

The pianist, Anca Seidlova, deserves special mention. She showed splendid ability and fine talent in her solos as well as in her accompaniments.

"Such sweep and power and lyric loveliness of tone calls only for superlatives. Mme. Chemet has that rare combinations of swinging smooth ness and turbulent, unreserved fire; there is lightning from under her bow, and in turn golden floods of the sort of music men dream of hearing."—New York World.

DR. WALMSLEY WINS TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

The faculty tennis tournament which has been running on for several weeks was brought to a close on Tuesday of last week, when Dr. Walmsley defeated Mr. Coyner with the score of 6-4, 4-6,6-4.

The student body has been very interested in this match and has received many big surprises in regard to the ability of various members of our faculty.

The faculty as well as the students, are proud of Dr. Walmsley, and each faculty member will support him to the utmost when he goes forth to meet the champion of the student body.

LET US GIVE THANKS

Let us give thanks for a life of the most favored nation among nations; we who are the most powerful people among peoples; we who should be happiest among the happy, who laugh and sing, free from bondage.

Let us give thanks, women of the twentieth century, honored, as no women have been honored; inspired as no women have been inspired; free, as no women have been free.

Let us give thanks, students, we who are blessed with opportunities for which our fellow beings yearn; opportunities such as no students have ever had.

Let us give thaks for a life of wonder, for a world of beauty, for a God of love, and let us pray for mercy.

MRS. BUCHANAN SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Mrs. Buchanan, who is a representative of the Federation of Music, spoke in chapel last Saturday.

Mrs. Buchanan is fostering a movement for having music included in the State course of study. She spoke of the fact that other State Teachers Coleges in Virginia were affiliated with the Federation of Music and invited our own college to join with them.

After Mrs. Buchanan's talk, Mrs. Chamberlain rendered two piano selections from MacDowell and the Song of Life from Cadman.

DR. WALMSLEY LEADS DISCUSSION OF NEW STANDARDS

Dr. Walmsley talked to us two nights last week at prayers on the new standards of living which have come from inquiring and enthusiastic youth who demand the "why" as well as the "what". The new standards of honesty that will bring frankness and open-mindnedness and the new social standards which will give every one a fairer chance were discussed. It was generally agreed that we do need new standards, definitely established, before we can come nearer the real truth.

Dr. Walmsley concluded the series Monday night with a discussion of new religious standards. From the discussion it was concluded that the new standards of religion will necessarily do away with intellectual conceptions but hold to certain fundamental truths, place God on a plane infinitely higher than human possibilities, and have a philosophy of life that will give forth the spirit of Christianity unconsciously because of the escape of "imprisoned splendor" which radiates from within.

We feel that these discussions have invoked thought that will lead to change and development.

WILLIAM AND MARY DEFEATS FARMVILLE IN FIRST VARSITY HOCKEY GAME

Final Score is 9—4

Last Saturday William and Mary College girls defeated Farmville in a spirited and well fought hockey game with a score of 9—4 although Farmville won a moral victory and proved successful in introducing a hockey varsity at S. T. C. Although age is no alibi and although William and Mary was the better of the two teams a great amount of credit is due the Farmville girls who with only two weeks practice, held William and Mary's more experienced team to a close score of 9—4. Although the opponent's motto seemed to be "49", as judged by their yells, the number was split and we took the "4" while they gained the "9"

The beginning of the game is another point to be remembered. When the whistle sounded and the first bully had been played, S. T. C. gained possession of the ball and after a series of successful passes and excellent team work, carried the ball down the athletic field and into the goal. In less than five minutes after the game had begun the first goal had been made by S. T. C. However. William and Mary soon regained the ball and succeeded in making five goals within the next twenty-five minutes which ended the first half with a score of 5—1.

During the second half the teams were more evenly matched. William and Mary succeeded in making four more goals while S. T. C. made three.

From beginning to end the game was hotly contested but William and Mary proved to be too fast for the Farmville girls. However, the game was hard fought and under the lead-

Continued on last page

DR NELSON'S PORTRAIT PRESENTED TO COLLEGE

No.ed Educator and Benefactor to Have Lasting Memory in Our College

At the chapel exercises on November 16th, President Jarman accepted on behalf of the faculty, students and alumnae of the college, a handsome portrait of Rev. James Nelson, D. D., the gift of Mr. William Nelson (son of Dr. Nelson) and his wife The painting is the work of Duncan Smith of New York City, who married a daughter of Mr. Wlliam Nelson.

Dr. James Nelson was a member of the Board of Trustees of the college from the year of its establishment until the Board was abolished in 1914 and the institution went under the Virginia Normal School Board which had charge of the four teachers colleges—a period of thirty years of constant and faithful service.

When the State Female Normal School was established in 1884, the first teacher-training institution in Virginia, Dr. Nelson was deeply interested and largely instrumental in convincing the Virginia Legislature that Farmville was the best place for the location. The town presented to the State buildings and grounds of Farmville College and from the day on which this gift was accepted to the day of his death, the institution had no truer friend than Dr. Nelson.

The portrait will hang in the President's office of the College.

Y. W. C. A. OBSERVES WORLD WEEK OF PRAYER AT VESPERS LAST TUESDAY NIGHT

On Tuesday night the auditorium was lighted by candles for prayers. When everyone was seated music by a vested choir of five girls was heard at the rear of the auditorium. The choir marched slowly down the aisle singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and formed a line across the front of the chapel. Another selection was sung by the choir.

Pannie Willis made an inspiring talk on the World Week of Prayer telling that someone in every country in the world was at that time bowed in proyer. Some may be worshipping the man of Gallilee in huge cathedrals or luxuriant and costly furnished churches and temples, while others may show their devotion in a simple chapel or when about their daily duties in home or business. But wherever they are they are praying and in this way each is talking with God. Because this week had been set aside as a World Week of Prayer, all the world was joining together in one common bond by prayer. She then asked us to bow our heads and join with the world in prayer. Everyone silently offered up their petitions while the choir softly sang a prayer. This was followed by a verse of "Lead On O Holy Spirit," at the beginning of the second verse the choir slowly marched up the aisle. The music became faiter and fainter as the singers reached the door and left the chapel. Pannie led in the Y. W. C. A. benediction which closed one of the most spiritually uplifting services of the year.

CLASSES WILL COMPETE FOR MOST BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS ON THANKSGIVING

We are expecting Thanksgiving Day this year to be more enjoyable than ever before because of a few changes and suggestions that have been made by the Athletic Council concerning the decorating. The success of Thanksgiving depends on each member of the student body, and we are quite sure that each girl is going to do her share. The Athletic Council is supporting us and we must not fail them.

Heretofore, all the classes have attempted to get their colors just a little higher than their rivals. This has been fun but what about the results of this wide scattering of colors? Strips of paper float from every coceivable place and our campus represents a confusion of color rather than an attractive scene of beautiful designs in the class colors. This year it has been decided that each class work out banners in its own colors—banners that are original and will be a credit to the class. The aim of the classes this year will be to arrange their colors more attractively than their rival classes rather than to put them in the highest places.

The athletic field must not be decorated in any way, for this may attract the attention of the players. Then we must remember that on paint is to be used anywhere on the campus. Paper can be taken down when it has served its purpose, but paint has to remain for months and ruins the general appearance of our

(Continued on last page.)

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

OUR THANKFULNESS

Of all our holidays there is something about Thanksgiving which no other holiday has. Maybe it is because it is distinctly American. We have rather a thrill of pride when we think back to those sturdy ancestors of ours, who started the custom. In our day of ease and plenty, we remember them with a touch of sympathy, too. We realize how little, yet how much they had to be thankful for.

What does the anticipation of Thanksgiving call up before the minds of the young people of today? Football surely! Thanksgiving has become the day of days for big football games. The word seems actually aromatic with good odors too. There are aways visions of pumpkin pie, roast turkey, toasted nuts, and luscious fruits in our minds just before Thanksgiving Day.

We stop and wonder, having remembered these material things which we always think of first, if we manifested any true spirit of thankfulness. I believe we do. True we do not celebrate Thanksgiving in exactly the same way it was originally celebrated. Maybe we do not realize the goodness of God as our ancestors did when they gathered in their bountiful crops.

In our happiness though, during the day, in our vigorous wholesome interest in sports, in our keen appetites for the food which we are given, without realizing it, we show our thankfulness to God.

May Thanksgiving always mean to us all the joy and peace and happiness that it does today!

FIVE MORE WEEKS BEFORE CHRISTMAS

The days have come and gone, and now we have only five weeks until Christmas. The Christmas we have been looking forward to is really and truly on its way.

Already the by word—"Do your Christmas shopping early," is being passed on from one to another. Even though Thanksgiving is tomorrow the very thought of Christmas following close on its heels, is enough to fill us with rousing good cheer.

We talk Christmas; we think Christmas; everything leads up to Christmas. It seems to be uppermost in every S. T. C. girls' mind.

Can five weeks pass fast or slowly? It all depends on how we use our time, and the valuation we give each minute of the day—each day of the week, until the whole time has past? If we fill each spare moment with something worth while the days that seem long will pass by much more quickly than they will if we sit by and wait for time to pass. Try this one fact of utilizing your time, so when Christmas does come, you can look back and see that your time at S. T. C. has been spent profitably, and you will be able to enjoy the holidays much more.

THE PRESIDENT'S THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

By the President of the United States of America.

A proclamation:

Under the guidance and watchful care of a Divine and Beneficent Providence this country has been carried safely through another year. Amighty God has continued to bestow upon us the light of His countenance and we have prospered. Not only have we enjoyed material success but we have advanced in wisdom and in spiritual understanding. The products of our fields and our factories and of our manifold activities have been maintained on a high level. We have gained in knowledge of the higher values of life. There has been advancement in our physical well being. We have increased our desire for the things that minister to the mind and to the soul. We have raised the mental and moral standards of life.

BLESSINGS OF PEACE

We have the blessings of peace and of honorable and friendly relations with our sister nations throughout the world. Disasters have visited certain of our states and have touched the heart of a sympathetic nation, which has responded generously out of its abundance. In continuing to remember those in affliction we should rejoice in our ability to give them relief.

Now that these twelve months are drawing to a close, it is fitting that as a nation and as individuals in accordance with time honored sacred custom, we should consider the manifold blessings granted to us.: While in gratitude we rejoice, we should humbly pray that we may be worthy of a continuance of Divine favor.

Wherefore, I, Cavin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby set apart and designate Thursday, the 24th day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and recommend and urge that on that day our people lay aside their usual tasks, and by the family fireside and in their accustomed place of public worship, give thanks to Him who holds all in the hollow of His hand.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 26th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundrd and fifty-second.

CALVIN COOLIDGE,
By the President,
FRANK B. KELLOGG
Secretary of State

ALUMNAE NOTES

There is a small Farmville colony at Columbia University this winter. Besides Miss Ada Bierbower, Misses Mary Dinwiddie, Kathleen Savillle, and Etta Bailey are students there. Miss Bess Rush is one of the assistants in the second grade of Horace Mann School. Miss Flementine Pierce has a position in Whittier Hall.

Miss Mary D. Pierce, former member of Farmville S. T. C. faculty, has a leave of absence from her position as elementary supervisor of the State of Alabama and is studying at New York University.

Miss Anna L. Blauveet, at one time in charge of Industrial Arts here, has written a book which has just been published by the Macmillan Company. It is called The Piece Bag Book, and is for little girls who are taking their first lessons in sewing and weaving. The pubishers say, "Miss Blauveet is a New York school teacher who at present is developing a most important and interesting work in the Industrial Arts Cooperative Service."

Announcement has been made of the marriage at Mt. Washington, Md., of Miss Mozelle Braden, formerly of Purcellville, but now of Washington and O. Leeland Hunt.

The marriage of Miss Lucy Ellen Barlow of Bowling Green, to Hubert Melbourne Evans of Baltimore Md., took place September 3 at Annapolis, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Evans will make their home for the winter in Boonton, N. J.

Miss Lucile Ann Carner, of Miller School and John Moore Kessler, of Blacksburg, were married in September. The groom is cashier of the National Bank of Blacksburg.

On Wednesday, August 10, Miss Lillie Henderson Hening became the bride of Frank Newman Conant, of Springfield, Mass. The ceremony was performed at the home of her sister in Richmond.

PUNCTUALITY

Punctuality is a trait, the possession of which is one of the greatest assets to an individual. To be punctual is to be reliable, and reliability is a characteristic most to be desired.

Being on time should be considered essential and one should feel that it is a part of his daily life. Without this virtue of punctuality one will hardly attain the greatest success in life. A man who would hold a responsible position is required to be punctual at all times.

Those men whose names have come down to us in history have been renowned for the possession of this trait of character as much as for any other. The failure of an engineer to be on time has caused serious train wrecks and the loss of many lives.

An important question to be considered, however, is, how to be punctual. In order to be punctual one must be methodical. Time should be allotted to the performance of one's duties, and each duty should be done in its own time. Procrastination has caused much valuable time to be lost forever to the one delaying.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

My lawd, dis day I raise my voice
To dee in grateful praise
Fer all dy blessin's to us.
De corn mos' fills de barn-loft flo';
De 'taters piles up mo' an' mo';
An' pumpkins gettin' juicy fer us.

I 'ow dat I has worked enuf
An' dat don't matter. Here's de thing—
Now Thanksgivin' Day done come
An' turkey's cookin' an' pies is done
I'se gonna put away my cares
An' sing an' eat an' have my fun.
—M. H. '30

THE CAPTIVE

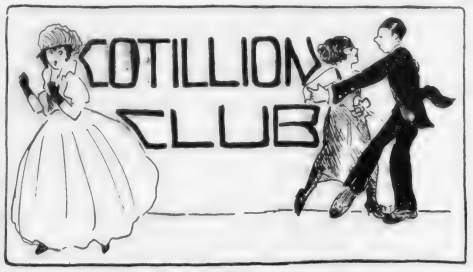
Perhaps the mystery of it all would be revealed to him soon. Fervently he hoped so. It was maddening! He would go crazy—hopelessly insane—unless something happened, either for better or for worse.

Not that he was treated harshly or cruelly by his captors. They had never spoken an unkind word to him—in fact, they had never spoken to him at all. That was the dreadful part of it. Why did they bring him such delicious meals, and seem almost kind to him, and yet ignore him so completely in other respects? It was all so vague and mysterious. Should he try to escape, or trust to the kindness of fate?

Time passed, and the day for his execution arrived, for thus fate had decreed it. But to the end, he never understood the reason for his death—poor innocent— because he was only a turkey gobbler who was being fattened to grace a Thanksgiving dinner table.

—V. G. '27

BILLY'S THANKSGIVING



It was just a few days before Thanksgiving, and no other little boy in the world could have been more excited than Billy was, because he was going 'way up North to spend Thanksgiving with his grandmother. He had just received a letter from her, telling him that deep snow had fallen, and that he must hurry and come. Billy lived in South Florida, and had never seen any snow; naturally, he could hardly wait for the time to come for him to start on the journey North.

Early the next morning Billy's mother came into his room to help him dress; but how surprised she looked as she gazed at him. He had developed chicken pox. Poor little Billy cried all day long because he could not go, but his mother comforted him a bit by telling him that he could have his Thanksgiving some other time. His eyes brightened as he asked her if he really might. Then, absent mindedly, she finally said, as he insisted, that she wasn't sure, after all, since the governor set the day for Thanksgiving, and perhaps it wouldn't be quite right to celebrate it on another day than the one he had picked out. Billy said nothing, but after Mother had left the room he found a piece of paper and an envelope and stamp, and prepared the following letter—

"Dear Govner—please make another Thanksgivin cause I was sick and couldn go to see my granma of the snow."

This letter he persuaded his sister

(Continued on last page.)

THE COTILLION CLUB DANCE

The Cotillion Club gave their first dance of the year in the recreation hall, Saturday, November 19. Each Cotillion Club girl had the privilege of inviting two girls, and one boy.

The recreation hall had never looked so lovely. Pastel tints hanging from the ceiling, girls in lacy, fluffy dresses, created an air of enchanted beauty.

The Hampden-Sidney orchestra completed the atmosphere for without it the dance would not have been a success.

It was a novelty to have so many out-of-town guests. The boys seemed to have had fun, but did they have half as good a time being "rushed," as the girls had rushing them?

There was only one bad feature—it could not last long enough.

The following is a list of the Cotillion Club girls and their escorts—
Irene Stone—Norman Dixen.
Dorothy Baldwin—Charles Strickler.
Mary Rigby—Harry B. Stone.
Mary Tucker—Johnnie Waddell.
Louise Shoffner—Bab Ninninger.
Frances Davis—Bill Davis.
Bessie Brodie—Carter Whitehead.
Anna Jones—Crocket Cheers.
Dorthy Watkins—Jack Brightwell.
Colleen Maddux—Joe Hardy.
Jeanette Morris—Roy Lively.
Elizabeth Ball—Alfred Brittingham.
Frances Lewis—Merritt Brown.
Mary B. Parker—Henry Sykeks
Louise McCormick—Curtis Jarvis.
Polly Aderholt—J. W. Scales.
Lucille Graves—Dick Alvey.
Elizabeth Sawyer—Campbell Pancake.
Ellen Smith—Ed Hornie.
Dorothy Palmer—Ward Palmer.
Louise Foster—John Landrum.
Mayo Bass—Slick Strader.
Curtis Higgins—Hugh Hunt.
Helen Myers—Bob Myers.
Billy Booth—David Evans.
Julia Davis—Tredway Gravely
Beth White—Cornelius Penzold.
Girlie Wright—Doug Barham.
Mattie Lewis—Lloyd Myers.
Billie Paris—Babe Scotts.
Alice Garner—Sam Snedegar.
Susie Webber—Tug Wilson.
Helen Jones—"Tiny" Andrews.
Kathleen Giles—Dick Dickinson.
Eleanor Hogan—Pendleton Hogan.
Phyllis Wood—Elmo Goodwin.
Virginia Cogbill—Johns Hillsman.
Frances Malbon—Perry Moore.
Anne Palmer—Howard Gilmer.
Beulah Jarvis—Harold Putney.
Mary Duncan—Bill Nelms.
Mabel Fitzpatrick—walter Putney.
Anna Burgess—Bill Coleman.
Louise Craft—"Mat" Daniels
Lucille Graves Archie Duke.
Ann Feree—Bartlett Roper.
Margaret Huyett—Jack Watton.
Virginia Raine—Alexander Hamilton
Barbara Wilcox—Harvey Pummer.
Harriett Booker—"Tip" Myles.
Elizabeth Antrim—Prior Fitzgerald.

Due to an error in printing Claudia Fleming's name was omitted from the Delta Sigma Chi Sorority bids.

SOCIAL

Miss Eleanor Zacharias of Roanoke, former student at S. T. C., spent the week-end wth Miss Barbara Willcox and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Katherine Palmer of Suffolk spent the week-end as the guest of her sister and attended the Cotillion Club dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Misses Helen Willcox, Elizabeth Hargrave and Mildred Smith former students at S. T. C. spent the week-end as the guests of friends here and attended the Cotillion Club dance.

* * *

Miss Isabelle MacDonald has returned from her home at Ocean View where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Misses Sue Sebrell and Agnes Walker spent Saturday and Sunday with friends here and attended the Cotillion Club dance.

* * *

Miss Temple Bass of Lynchburg spent the week-end as the guest of her sister, Miss Mayo Bass and attended the dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Lemma Starling, a student at Randolph-Macon Womans College and Miss Agnes Withers of Danville spent the week-end with the latter's sister Miss Anne Withers and attended the Cotillion Club dance.

* * *

Miss Alice Wimbish, former student at S. T. C. spent the week-end as the guest of friends here and attended the dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Among the alumnae who returned to attend the Gamma Theta banquet on Saturday night were—Misses Polly and Bessie Meade Riddle, Carroll Cromwell and Virginia Hall, of Norfolk; Misses Eilzabeth Scott, Katherine Franklin, Mary Alice Blanton, of Richmond; Miss Frances Jones of Charlottesville; Miss Ann Smith of Staunton; Miss Mae Hill Carleton of Newport News; Miss Nancy Lyne of Raleigh; Miss Louise Parsons of Petersburg, and Miss Katherine Reed of Roanoke.

* * *

Miss Sarah Cross of Suffolk, former student at S. T. C. spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Anne Chapin and attended the dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Mary Catherine Willis of Norfolk spent the week-end with her sister Miss Frances Willis and attended the Cotillion Club dance.

* * *

Miss Margaret Barham of Norfolk former student at S. T. C. spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of friends here and attended the dance on Saturday night.

* * *

Miss Cornelia Dickinson, former student at S. T. C. spent Sunday as the guest of friends here. Miss Dickenson is teaching in Callands this winter.

POETRY

A PRAYER ON THANKSGIVING

By Margaret E. Sangster

Not for the joys that I have known,
Not for the past that has been sweet—
Today, I kneel, God, at your feet.
I kneel, though tired and alone,,
To thank you for the mystery
Of hours to come and that the fire
Of youth still burns . . . For the desire
To meet the years that are to be!

The path—it may be hard to go,
I may know poverty and pain;
I may be bowed by springtime rain
Beneath the weight of winter snow.
I may find loss and sore distress,
Vague disappointment may be mine;
But still the far horizon's line
Will hold frail dreams for me to guess!

And with a drifting, keen delight,
My eager, searching eyes may glance
Upon an autumn tree's romance;
I may be sure that stars, at night,
Will shine for me when all the way
Is hard to go; that there is mirth
To veil the sorrows of the earth.
So, Father, not for yesterday.

Do I give thanks . . . although it made
My heart and soul know rapture's thrill;
For, God, tomorrow waits me still.
Oh! may I meet it unafraid!
The past is done,—its tapestry
Is background for new scenes that shift;
Today I thank you for the gift
Of all that you have planned for me.
—Good Housekeeping

ROTUNDA STAFF ENJOYS FEAST

Just because the staff works every Wednesday night on the paper is no sign they don't have a good time. They have surprises for the school and for themselves. Last Wednesday night after the meeting what a grand surprise the members had to see all quantities of food being brought in to give a finishing touch to the occasion. The best kind of cakes, fruits and dopes were laid before them, soon to be enjoyed. Laughter, food and business were mixed up and everyone had a lovely time.

DRAMATIC CLUB IS ENTERTAINED AT TEA

If you saw all the Dramatic Club girls last Tuesday afternoon at four thirty in their Sunday clothes and very best smiles you could almost have guessed where they were going—Why to Miss Wheeler's to tea, of course, for Miss Wheelr's teas are famed among the Dramatic Club girls. Over their tea cups they talked and planned plays and casts far in the future. It was a congenial group gathered with a charming hostess and when time came to go the new girls left, glad that they had not missed anything so delightful while old girls left with a feeling of regret, because it was the last Dramatic Club tea they would ever attend at Miss Wheeler's.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Cronshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

Correct Clothes
For the Round of
College Life
Shoes
Dresses
Hats
Coats
Millinery
Gloves
Underwear
Sweaters
Negligees
And All Necessities
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHAT WE'D LIKE TO KNOW

If Skinny's a Craft is Pickey a Shoffner?

If Phyllis is Wood is Beth White?

If Tee's a Webb then why is Reba Hill?

Do you suppose Ann's a tough Guy?

If Mary's a Tucker is Tilly a Taylor?

If Ruth's an Abbey is Elizabeth a Sawyer?

If Elizabeth is Lacy is Chris Royall?

If Irene is Stone is Virginia Raine?

If Billy's a Booth is Billy from Paris?

If Ethel is a Well will Lucille dig Graves?

If Mary Frances is a Hatchett is Helen a Ward?

If Eizabeth is a Miller is Katherine a long Wayt?

If Mary Page is an Archer is Detty a Reed?

If Elizabeth is a Turner is Virginia a Walker?

If Jane is Cotton is Mary Blackwell a Parker?

Does Jane Hunt a Martin?

L. Norman—"Are you the great animal painter?"

D. Baldwin—"Yes, did you wish to sit for a portrait?"—The Hi-Po.

Chicago Mother—And now, my dear, go in and shoot Father good night.—Yellow Jacket.

H. Myers—"What a wonderful diamond! Are you engaged?"

L. Arthur—"Naw, I've just been out-playing glassies for keeps."—Va. Tech.

M. Pumphrey—"Why didn't you help that girl when she fell down?"

Tom P.—"My father told me not to pick up women."—Va. Tech.

Reba Hill—"I don't want to put my light out at 10-30. I can't sleep in the dark."

Chris—"Why not?"

Reba Hill—"'Cause I'm a light sleeper."—The Breeze.

"Bits"—"I just adore foreign languages."

S. Johnson—"I am rather fond of Scotch myself."

F. Lewis—"What's the greatest water power known to man?"

Tee Webb—"Woman's tears."—Old Gold and Black.

Nelms—"Virginia has a funny growth behind her nose."

Dulaney—"Where did she get it?"

Nelms—"I don't know, but she calls it her face."—Old Gold and Black.

Munn—"Why does a woman put her hands to her chin when she is in deep thought?"

Woodson—"To keep from interrupting herself with conversation."—Old Gold and Black.

Va. Raine—"What is steam?"

Millican—"Steam is water gone crazy with the heat.—Va. Intermont Cauldron.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION ELECTS OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of the Freshman Commission the following officers were elected—

Chairman ..... Elizabeth Lacy
Sec.-Treas. ..... Rena Roberson
Reporter ..... Margaret Pumphrey

A committee was appointed which drew up and later submitted the 1927-'28 policy for the approval of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and the Commission.

The policy reads—

Verse—Therefore all things ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them for this is the law and the prophets. (Math. 7: 12.

Motto—Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit saith the Lord of Hosts.

Objective—The objective of the Freshman Commission for the coming year will be to raise money for the Student Building Fund.

Purpose—The purpose of the Freshman Commission is as follows—

1.—To aid the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet in promoting any plans which they may wish to further, by presenting them to the Freshman Class.

2.—To assume responsibility of conducting morning watch and to conduct prayers one evening of each week.

3.—Through personal contact and cooperation to make each Freshman feel that she is a vital part of the Y. W C. A.

4.—To encourage any attitude of cooperation toward student activities and organizations for the purpose of developing a more friendly relation

BY-LAWS

1.—The Freshman Commission is composed of twelve gils elected from the Freshman Class by the class.

2.—The officers of the Freshman Commission shall consist of a chairman, a secretary and treasurer, and a reporter.

3.—The chairman of the Freshman Commission will represent the Freshman Commission on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.

4.—The regular meetings are held at 6-45 every Wednesday night.

5.—A penalty of being asked to resign will be imposed upon any member who is absent from two consecutive meetings without an approved excuse.

ROTUNDA STAFF HAS NEW LITERARY EDITOR

The Rotunda staff is very glad to have as its new Literary Editor Miss Louise Currie. She is a capable girl and we know that under her guidance the literary department will grow.

SUBCRIBE FOR VIRGINIAN

Everyone has heard the girls at the table in the hall asking "Have you gotten your annual?" Now one thing you must not fail to do is to get a Virginian this year. It's to be the very best one—it holds heaps of surprises for everyone!

And there really is an advantage in getting your annual now; later on you will be saving all the pennies for your "Santa Claus"! A good idea would be to prolong your Christmas and let Santa give you an annual for next spring.

Don't let the order for Virginians go in without your order among them.

Headlines in paper "Make Pin Money"', but Rebecca Liebman says that's too "pricky" a job.

JOURNALISM CLASS TO ISSUE NEXT ROTUNDA

The Journalism Class which is under the direction of Miss Barnes, will issue the next Rotunda. This class has devoted the entire time to the principles and practices of journalism and has greatly aided the Rotunda staff by contributing articles for publication.

PROGRAM GIVEN AT CUMBERLAND HIGH

On Friday, November 17th after weeks of practicing twenty-six girls, who had given their time and energy, drove to Cumberland High School to give a program consisting of fine acts.

The proceeds were for the benefit of slat boards in the school. The Dramatic Club was asked to give the program, however, all the girls taking part were not members.

Songs and laughter made the ride there and back a short and happy one. After the program sandwiches, ice cream and candy were served to the cast.

MISS TABB IS ADVISOR OF GRAND-DAUGHTERS CLUB

Mss Jennie M. Tabb was unanimousy elected by the Grand-daughters Club as its advisor. She has been in the college during the school life of all the mothers represented in the club, and has a particular interest in it. The grand-daughters are very happy to have Miss Jennie associated with them and their work.

Two new members were welcomed into this organization at the last meeting, Harriett Booker and Jane Gray Irby.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Did you see those turkeys down town in the widows? Gee! if Thanksgiving doesn't get here in a hurry I don't know what I shall do— Are you hungry, too? Somehow, even if I've just eaten and I know that Thanksgiving comes tomorrow, I get hungry. Helen Davidson told me this morning that she hadn't eaten for two days. She said that she must save up for Thursday. Minerva Evans chuckled and chuckled 'cause she always feels like eating; she runs all the time anyway so she needs more food than the rest of us— Poor "Red"—She's in love so the subject "Food", so dear to the hearts of all of us, fails to interest her . . . Yes, I do want another sandwich.

Mr. dear, I do positively freeze to death but I've found one person who gets colder than I do and that's Alice Covington. The poor child is getting thin from the weight of the cover she sleeps under.

Blanche Murrell has lost her voice again.— Why will that girl talk so much. She doesn't even give me a chance. So you know she can talk.—No, I've simply got to go and study I need a little education. Au revoir!

Webber—"This butter is so strong it walks over and says "hello" to the coffee."

Paris—"Yeh, but the coffee's too weak to answer."—The Critograph.

THE TURKEY'S OPINION

"What dost thou think of drumsticks?"
We asked the barnyard bird.
He grinned a turkey grin, and then
He answered us this word—
"They're good to eat, they're good to beat,
But sure as I am living,
They're best to run away with
The week before Thanksgiving."
—Anna N. Pratt, in "Christian Observer."

THANKSGIVING FABLE

It was a hungry pussy cat upon Thanksgiving morn,
And she watched a thankful little mouse that ate an ear of corn.
"If I ate that thankful little mouse, how thankful he should be
When he has made a meal himself to make a meal for me!
Then with his thanks for having fed and his thanks for feeding me,
With all his thankfulness inside, how thankful I shall be!"
Thus mused the happy pussy cat upon Thanksgiving Doy;
But the little mouse had overheard and declined with thanks to stay.
—Oliver Hereford in "Christian Advocate."

W. & M. WINS FIRST HOCKEY GAME

Continued from page one

ership of Captain Laura Smith each member of the team put up a great fight. Gwen Hardy as right half back did especially good work. Her continuous hard playing seemed to be an inspiration to others on the team. She, with the other two half backs, "fed" the ball to the forwards who put up a hard fight for the goals. To the defense also, is due praise, for the work at the goal prevented a higher score being made by William and Mary girls.

The line-up is as follows—

Reed	L. Wing	King
Woodson	L. Inside	Tanner
Hatchett	C. Forward	Sinclair
Smith	R. Inside	Deshazo
Parks	R. Wing	Fidler
Campbell	L. Halfback	Zimmerman
Clements	C. Halfback	Chewning
Hardy	R. Halfback	Hofman
Elder	L. Fullback	Miles
Dulaney	R. Fullback	Osmond
Putney	Goal Keeper	Moffet

Goals —Farmville— Smith and Woodson.

W. & M.—Sinclair (5), Tanner (3), Deshazo (1).

Substitutions—W. & M. —Buston for Osmond, Wilkins for King.

SOPHOMORES PRESENT THEIR CLASSMAN

The Sophomore Class presented their classman in chapel last Saturday.

The Sophomores marched into the auditorium singing "Sophomores Ready". After a short talk in which Etta Marshall, president of the class, presented Dr. Walmsley as classman, the class sang an original song dedicated to him.

BILLY'S THANKSGIVING

Continued from page 3

to post for him in the mail box on their street corner.

In a few days Blly receivedt a letter from the Governor, stating that he would set apart December 3 as a special Thanksgiving Day for Billy and any other children in the state who had been sick and could not celebrate Thanksgiving at the regular time.

How happy Billy was! Of course, his mother was shocked when she learned what Billy had done, but she let him go to see his grandmother (and the snow) as soon as he was well enough; and the December Thanksgiving turned out to be the happiest Billy had ever spent.

—M. A. '27

THE THANKSGIVING DAY DECORATING

Continued from page one

college.

Each girl is asked to remain in her room Wednesday night instead of sleeping on a roof, a porch, or in a classroom. The bell will ring at 6-30 Thanksgiving morning and this will be the signal for the hanging of the colors. Stay in your room until that bell rings; be a good sport; work for your class; and respect your rival classes.

Y. W. C. A. ENTERTAINS FRESHMEN

On Monday afternoon at five o'clock the Y. W. C. A. entertained cottages A. B. C. D. and M. at an informal tea in the recreation hall. On their arrival the guests were presented with little turkeys, on which were printed the "Y's Conversation." After the guests had assembled the conversation program was carried out and several games were played. This was followed by delicious refreshments which were served by the Y. W. C. A. cabinet girls.

Get Your Needs at

Greenberg's
Department Store

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE GIRLS

We invite your charge account

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor

"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"

Let us Supply Your Wants

Corner Main and High Streets
FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

Attenttion Teachers and Students

Why lose your personal property by FIRE or THEFT?
Get a policy covering against these perils. Sold at a small cost.

F. W. HUBBARD
Planters Bank Building
Farmville ---------- Virginia

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
Phone 221 610 Main St.

ONLY THREE MORE WEEKS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

THE ROTUNDA

JOURNALISMN. CLASS ISSUE

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1927 Number 9

BIG HOCKEY GAME AT STATE TEACHERS COLLLEGE

Hampden-Sidney Goes Down Before S. T. C. Varsity

With Gladys Sledd acting as referee, one of the fastest hockey games of the season was played Monday afternoon between the varsity of Hampden-Sidney and a picked team of the State Teachers College. The score was seventeen to nothing in favor of S. T. C., an unusually high score for hockey. The perfect teamwork of Margaret Ferguson and "Becky" Liebman and the ever-sure aim of Mary Reed, who sent the ball time after time into the goal, determined the victory. Helen Davidson who starred in the first half as draw-back and in the second half as left-out, also helped bring the victorious team to glory.

The bleachers rocked because of the vociferous cheering and gesticulations of the crowd, led by Frances Walmsley.

The turning point of the game was when Blanche Murrell lost her voice and had to be carried off the field. The crowd went mad when Phyllis Wood dribbled the ball thirty yards down the field and made a goal in the last minute of the game. The line-up for S. T. C., was as follows—

Right Wing ..... Margaret Ferguson
Right Inside ..... Anne Phipps
Center Forward .... Blanche Murrell
Left Inside ..... Elizabeth Sawyer
Left Wing ..... Ann Withers
Right Half-back ..... Phyllis Wood
Left Half-back .... Rebekah Liebman
Center Half-back ..... Mary Reed
Right Full-back .... Helen Davidson
Left Full-back ..... Beulah Jarvis
Goal Keeper ..... Anne Deffenbaugh

MEMBERS OF FACULTY IN RICHMOND

Dr. Jarman, Mss Tabb and many members of the faculty attended the Virginia Educational Association held in Richmond during Thanksgiving week.

This was the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the organization, which had its origin in a movement started during the War between the States. It now has a local branch in every county and city all of which were represented in the 1927 session. This Association is striving toward further correlation of educational interests in Virginia.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN FRESHMAN CLASS

The program for Thanksgiving closed Thursday evening at eight o'clock with a party given by the Junior Class in honor of the Freshmen.

The recreation hall, where the party was given was attractively decorated in the class colors, green and white, and the Thanksgiving banners were hung at one end of the hall and on the balcony.

During the evening refreshments were served and a program was given. Miss Lorah Brewer, an alumna, gave two short readings and Miss Nancy Nelms sang several popular songs accompanying herself on the banjo.

DELEGATES ELECTED FOR DETROIT CONFERENCE

At a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Saturday, Frances Willis and Etta Marshall were elected to attend the Student Volunteer Conference which will be held December 28—January 2 at Detroit, Michigan. These conventions, which are held every four years, are considered the most inspirational and influential ever held for students. Students from the four corners of the earth assemble for worship and discussion of student problems and students in world problems. S. T. C. is sending two of her strongest girls who will return with deeper feeling and aroused enthusiasm for Christian work.

TO MISS OLIVE ILER

Hockey this year has been a success. It has been successfully introduced as a varsity game and it has been greatly improved as an interclass game. This success is due to the untiring interest and coaching of Miss Olive Iler, who has devoted hours each day to hockey coaching. She has not only improved the technique of the game and organized a hockey varsity but she has also raised the standard of true sportsmanship among the players as well as throughout the school. She has developed good individual players, she has developed good team-work. We thank Miss Iler for the knowledge and pleasure she has given the student body through hockey.

SING

The Saturday night sings lately have been unusually interesting and entertaining. On the 19th everyone enjoyed the request sing given by the Freshman Cass, the main feature of which was selections given by the Freshman Orchestra. Last Saturday night the program consisted of piano solos, singing, accompanied by banjo and guitar, duets, solo dancing, and a reading by Lorah Brewer, one of our alumnae.

THANKSGIVING VESPERS

There were no chimes, no tolling of bells, no bugle calls to announce the little service of thanksgiving in our chapel on Thanksgiving morning; but slowly as if touched by a spirit of reverence the "Thanksgiving color celebrators" walked into a chapel lighted by candles, clothed in greens, surrounded by a spirit of thankfulness. We wonder what was in the heart of each girl as she sat in the flickering glow of the candles. Ours is not the task to name it, for it is too deep for a name, but we believe there existed the true meaning of Thanksgiving.

For the first time our chapel experienced a service dedicated to this holiday. One could not help but feel the spirit of the day radiating from each personality present. The vested choir slowly entered the chapel singing and took their places around an altar of Thanksgiving. During the singing of a Thanksgiving hymn a representative from each major organization in school placed symbols of their work around the altar symbolizing the uniting of all organizations in a spirit of thanksgiving. Pearl Etheridge followed this with a talk in which she enumerated the many things we have to be thankful for. Each member of the student body was then given the opportunity to express their particular thankfulness through sentence prayers. The service closed with the recessional of the choir.

DEDICATION

To Miss Mary H. Barnes, instructor, advisor, friend, the class in Journalism is happy to dedicate this, our issue of the Rotunda.

STAFF PUBLISHING THIS ISSUE

Editor-in-Chief ..... Helen Davidson
Assistant Editor ..... Alice Wiley

Board of Editors

Literary ..... Emelyn Mills
News ..... Evelyn Thompson
Social ..... Mary Duncan
Humorous ..... Rebekah Liebman
Athletic ..... Evelyn Dulaney
Devotional ..... Frances Willis
Alumnae ..... Catherine Bentley

Reporters

Louise Foster ..... Edna Terry
Isabell Macdonald Bessie Brodie
Ruby Ramsey Edna Atkins
Ruth Snellings Evelyn Wisecarver

Proof-Reader

Pearl Etheridge

Circulation Mgr. .. Gladys Wilkinson
Assistant ..... Irene Gills

CIRCUS TO BE PRESENTED IN SCHOOL

The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho is busy at work upon a circus which will take place on December 10 in the gymnasium.

Many committees are making elaborate plans for this entertainment. Every organization in the school has been requested to participate and its is expected that each will try to outdo the others in an effort to put on the best ring performance, since a prize is to be offered to the organization presenting the most original and attractive stunt.

The circus will be a circus in every sense of the word. There will be a parade, side shows, freaks, ring performances and all of the animals which anyone might expect to see at a circus.

BREAKS CONTRACT AND RETURNS TO NORWAY

Captain Roald Amundsen, the first bi-polar aviator and first northwest passage explorer, has broken all his lecture contracts in America, and gone back to Norway. He had come to this country, and a banquet had been given in his honor. All at once his contract with W. D. Page Company was broken and he returned to Norway, his native land. The real reason for the cancelling of his engagements has not been ascertained, but many have been conjectured.

Captain Amundsen was to have lectured in our College auditorium Tuesday evening, November the twenty-second. In place of this number of the Lyceum Course, a concert by the Russian Cossack Chorus is to be given December, the first. The chorus consists of twelve men who have been singing as a group since 1920. Because of their fame and experience, we are looking forward with a great deal of delight to their coming.

PRESENTATION OF THE FRESHMAN CLASS MAN

The Freshman Class man was presented in chapel Saturday morning, November 26.

The Freshmen, dressed in white and wearing their rat caps, marched in two by two singing "Here's to Grand Old Farmville." Elizabeth Munn, president of the class, helped Miss Elizabeth Bugg out of a large blue and white rat cap and presented her as the Freshman class man. After this, all of the Freshmen sang "Here's to You, Miss Bugg."

SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS WIN THANKSGIVING GAME

Sophomores 6—3
Junior 1—0

As a result of two hotly contested games which were fought Thanksgiving morning the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen with a 6—3 victory while the Juniors "nosed" the game from the Seniors by making the one goal which placed the score 1—0. These two victories left one question unsettled and that was the dispute over whose colors should "wave on high". Both the red and white and the green and white classes fought with the determination to win. However, the result was locked with a tie for the red and white Sophomores doubled the score on their green and white opponents while the green and white Juniors doubled the score on their red and white competitors. The school is anxiously waiting to witness the final fight between the Sophomores and Juniors which will decide on the rightful claimers of the hockey points.

The outstanding characteristic of this entire game was the speed with which the ball was passed down the field—often to return immediately to the other end of the field with no goal made on either side.

After completing a pretty pass down the field the Sophomores made the first goal. However, this was soon balanced by a goal made by the Freshmen only a few minutes later. The Freshmen found that Sophomore defense was one that was hard to pass. Campbell, Hatchett and Brinkley played an outstanding game for the defense often stopping a hard ball and returning it down toward the opposite goal with equal speed and force. Competing with these Sophomore defenders were Parks, Reed and Hutchinson who played a good game for the "freshies". Thornhill, Howard and Flynt

Continued on last page

THANKSGIVING DAY PROGRAM

A. M.
6:30—Hanging of the Colors supervised by General Disorder.
7:15—Morning Prayers.
7:30—Breakfast.
8:00—"Pep" meetings.
9:00—Hockey Games.
11:00—Thanksgiving Day Service—Episcopal Church.
P. M.
1:00—Turkey and Trimmings.
2:00-6:00—Freedom and rest!
6:00—Supper.
8:00—Junior Party in Honor of Freshman Class.
10-30—Light bell, comparative quiet

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

SPORTSMANSHIP

Another Thanksgiving has passed. The recorder of events at S. T. C. may add another instance of display of good sportsmanship at our College to the list. There seemed to be less noise and confusion during the hanging of the colors, and, from the result, both sides had about equal advantages. The orderly display of beautiful decorations was certainly more attractive than it has ever been before.

The interval between the hanging of colors and the breakfast bell was a welcome break which we have not had before. Each girl caught much of the deeper spirit of the day from the inspiring Thanksgiving services held then, in the auditorium.

There can be no criticism of the sportsmanship at the game, either of the players or the two sections of "rooters." The players fought hard and they were backed by the student body.

Having seen the good results of the lesson learned in "game etiquette," we must remember that soon we will be meeting other schools, and we must not forget what we have learned. Rather, we must be even more careful, because players from other schools are naturally not as tolerant and can more readily see our faults than we can see the faults of each other.

During the other class games may each girl practice and observe and profit by her own mistakes, so that when we back the blue and white our reputation will go back to the schools of our opponents as we would have it go.

—0—

THE RETURN OF THE ALUMNAE

A ship set out to sea last June—a silver ship with a cargo of beautiful characters. We who saw it go called it a senior ship and those who heard it pass murmured of a future of hope! And so she sailed on stately, more beautiful than a Spanish galleon, around the bend in the River of Life, and out of sight. We have remembered this sailing and wondered about this small ship. Every day has brought a yearning for its cargo.

Then came Thanksgiving Day, and into the portals of Alma Mater came familiar voices. The ship had not returned, but some of the cargo had ventured into the "home port." Was it the faith of a sudent body that brought them back? No, it was that common tie, that spirit that love for Alma Mater that brought them back from their sailing, to linger awhile with memories at the port which built them their rover ship. And others will come back and find us waiting, always—waiting for the silver ship that sails away each June.

MR. BRISTOW

"Good morning. How are you this morning?"

"Just fine, thank you! And how are you getting on?"

A smile and a friendly greeting for everyone, no matter how busy he may be! Could we possibly get along without Mr. Bristow? Would the dark halls brighten up half as much if someone else besides Mr. Bristow came down them smoking that inevitable cigar? In some instances, that's the way some of us locate him when we want him—by the lingering traces of tobacco fumes. And do we run after him? Well, really! He's about the most sought after person in school! It's Mr. Bristow here! and Mr. Bristow there! Sometimes we wonder if he ever manages to get all the things done that we ask him to do. Each one of us thinks our request is most important and should be attended to first. What a memory our friend has, too! Do we ever see him consulting a memorandum book? I should say not! He could hardly find one big enough to hold all his appointments. He just listens to our "tales of woe," and then at the first opportunity sees that the work is done.

We love him not only because he picks up all the loose ends around school. He may have many things to do and many things on his mind, but he never seems harassed or ill-humored. There's that familiar friendly smile lighting up his face whenever we see him. How valuable is the example of tolerance and good humor that he sets for us!

WILLIAM

"William, will you fix my light?" "William, will you put my dresser together? It just fell to pieces." It is William here, Wiliam there, if any one gets into trouble they run to William. He always helps, he knows what to do and best of all, he never forgets.

You have seen the Dramatic Club plays, with their lovely scenery, and the rapid changes between acts. Miss Wheeler, with all her capability and splendid coaching, would be helpless without the strong right arm of William. He attends the Dramatic Club plays and picnics. In fact he is an honorary member.

If you see Mr. Bristow going around with a lost look and a puzzled frown, you will know it is William he wants and no other. William has no substitute. There are not two like him.

William is the school's assistant, and we work him mighty hard, but we appreciate him.

CHRISTMAS

Far from the class-room crowded throng,
My mind has wandered apart
To the days to come, just a few weeks off,
The Christmas spirit is in my heart.

This Christmas spirit is always there,
A feeling glorious and gay,
That's why my mind goes wandering,
From the class-room far away.

A few weeks more of the class-room throng,
Then study will be of the past,
A few weeks more 'til those glorious days,
When the holidays are here at last.

—E. A.

STUDY HOUR PROBLEM

Music! Melodies! Sparkling sweet strains of violins; an ever crooning voice reminding one of just a while ago, yesterday—tomorrow! Out of the prized possessions, a small portable victrola, comes the words, the favorite words of "Thinking," while in the corner of the room a certain "member of the student body, with a dreamy stare, puzzles and puzzles." Perhaps it is history that perplexes our victim for opened in her lap is a work on Political History. A sigh now! It is not of the days of the Jeffersonian Administration she is dreaming or even of political problems. She has changed her schedule for a brief spell and is studying "personal history." Others enter the situation—why couldn't "society" be closer together? Psychology enters her problem solving, for by the method of recall—which to us is just every day remembering—she finds herself back in another month, summer—with a moon—water—stars and someone! Who, 'well, families do count—but!

So this is studying! The proctor's knock brings Miss "Student Body" bumping back to earth, and she places "Just Another Day Wasted Away" on the table 'til ten. Then, music, melodious, soft strains of a violin and "Thinking" will reign again! Ignorance is bliss!

Peacock

Whenever she's invited out
Like a tall peacock stiff with pride
Whose loveliness is all outside,
She preens herself and struts about.

Content that pleasure is her goal,
She makes her skin as white as milk
And spreads her plumage of bright silk
To hide a dark and narrow soul.

—M. B.

LIFE-BOOKS

Our lives are as books, which are read by our friends and our enemies, but from different points of view.

Every day we are compiling this books of life, and every day we are forming our characters. The days of our lives represent the pages of these books, and between the lines character may be read.

Some Life-Books are edged in gold because of the services those lives have rendered. Some are interesting because of their simplicity and earnestness. Some thrill the readers because of the daring deeds which are recorded. Some are dull and uninteresting because they go on and on, never reaching a climax.

The Life-Books of other generations are completed; the Life-Books of the last generation are nearing completion; our Life-Books are in their making. What shall they be?

—V. E. M. '29

THANKSGIVING CHAPEL PROGRAM

The Thanksgiving spirit permeated the student body at the chapel exercises last Wednesday morning. Mr. Grainger, who led the devotionals, chose a hymn appropriate to the season, and the double quartet, which is to take the place of the Glee Club since the latter has merged with the Choral Club, rendered a special Thanksgiving anthem, "Thanks Be to God." This service though brief left a definite impression on the minds of those present and proved conclusively that with little effort we could make our exercises worth while.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches--
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Installing new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

INDEPENDENCE

Softly burning through the mist
Of the autumn chill
The moon was silver in the dusk
Beyond the hill.

It cast a glow about the trees
But it did not shine
Upon one scraggy tree afar—
A lonely pine.

But limned against the autumn sky
That pine stood bold and clear.
I think it didn't care—it knew
That God was near.

—Julia E. Wilson, '29

STARDUST

I wandered into darkness
To lose myself from care—
And I felt a bit of stardust
Fall on my rumpled hair.
I wondered who had sent it
As I ambled through the hills;
For I didn't remember the keeper of the stars—
Dusting his window sills.

—F. W. '29

COLORS

Blue is the heaven above me;
Orange the setting sun.
But gray is the sky
As it breaks into
A day that has fast begun!

—F. W. '29

Sunset and evening on the river.
I took your hand in mine;
You hummed a song;
The song of a whip-po'-will,
And since that time
The song of a whip-po'-will
Has been to me
A touch of your hand, and a
Setting sun and evening on the river.

—V. E. M. '29

RETROSPECTION

Months have passed since surges bore
Foaming ridges to the shore
Where we waited side by side,
Brooding o'er the rising tide.
On your face I kept my eyes;
You—you watched the full moon rise.
Now and then you shook your head
At the tender things I said.

Callously you chuckled o'er
Ancient, ardent things I swore.
I remember I was blighted
When my promises you slighted.
I recall thesighs I heaved
When my words you disbelieved.
Now, I sit and think of you—
Sit and wonder how you knew!

—Frederic F. Van de Water

TOMORROW

Tomorrow is the day that never comes;
It never lights the skies,
But ever in our mind it lives
And there it never dies;
It keeps before us dreams of bliss,
And lifts our hopes on high;
For life itself is but a point
In that far-distant sky—

—Tomorrow

—I. C.

ALUMNAE NOTES

Miss Eleanor Bennett was a popular member of last year's degree class whose dancing and singing were features of many entertainments. A recent issue of the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch contains this account of her wedding—

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bennett announce the marriage of their daughter, Eleanor, to William Anthony Ryder, both of this city. This marriage took place at the home of the bride this afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. E. Ruffin Jones officiating. The maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Irma Bennett, a sister of the bride. The best man was Douglas W. Bennett, a brother of the bride.

The bride wore an Alice blue canton crepe dress with accessories to match and carried an arm bouquet of Russell roses.

The music was played by Mrs. D. W. Bennett.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ryder left for a northern trip, after which they will reside in the Hampton apartments.

Miss Bennett is a 1926 degree graduate of the Farmville State Teachers College, and the groom is a graduate of V. P. I., class of 1924.

A committee of the Richmond alumnae arranged a most delightful tea for Dr. and Mrs. Jarman, faculty and alumnae, attending the meeting of the State Teachers Association last week. About fifty from both early and recent classes were present and enjoyed talking to old friends while partaking of refreshments and listening to the music provided for their entertainment. As usual Dr. Jarman was the center of attraction and in a short talked expressed most happily and cordially his pleasure at being there and his desire that the alumnae visit their Alma Mater as frequently as possible.

The following alumnae were guests in school for the holidays—Misses Rosalind Harrell, Elva Hedly De La Barre, Lorah Brewer, Betty Hopkins, Margaret Cobb, Dean Cox, Louise Brewer, Anne Robertson, Virginia Potts, Lucy Haile Overbey, Agnes Riddick, Margaret Burton, Betty Jernigan, Louise Bondurant, Lucille Hilton, Kate Trent, Clara Mae Spraker, Louise Duke, Stella Lotts and Elsie Daughtery.

* * *

Miss Jane Wiley of Saltville, visiter her sister, Miss Alice Wiley during the holidays.

* * *

Miss Margaret Finch was at her home in Chase City for the holidays.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Antrim spent the holidays at her home in Roanoke.

* * *

Misses Elizabeth Houchins, Ethel Weld, Virginia Day, Elizabeth Miller, Anne Guy, Lucille Graves, Susie Bell Webber, Mignonne Griggs and Rose Smith spent the holidays in Roanoke.

* * *

Miss Greenhow Parker spent the holidays at her home in Franklin.

* * *

Miss Mary Will Vincent spent the holidays at her home in Emporia.

* * *

Miss Virginia Raine had as her guest her sister, Miss Marian Raine forthe holidays.

* * *

Mrs. Thornhill, from Bluefield, W. Va. visited her daughter Miss Dora Thornhill, over the holidays.

SOCIAL

The following girls attended dances over the holiday—

At Washington and Lee—Misses Alice Covington, Mary Tucker and Louise Arthur.

At Chapel Hill, N. C.—Misses Frances Willis, Florence McIntyre, Mabel Fitzpatrick.

At V. M. I.—Misses Helen Jones, Elizabeth Ball, Anne Palmer, Phyllis Wood.

At Virginia—Misses Virginia Walker and Martha Lanier.

At V. P. I.—Misses Dorothy Latane, Polly Aderholt, Ethel Weld, Louise Marshall.

Miss Mary Christian and Rachel Royall spent Thanksgiving at their home in Tazewell.

* * *

Miss Mary Sue Parker spent the Thanksgiving holiday with Margaret Cousins.

* * *

Miss Mary Hardy spent the holidays with her sister in Richmond.

* * *

Miss Barbara Willcox spent the holiday at her home in Petersburg.

* * *

Miss Mabel Hayes spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents at her home in Norfolk.

* * *

Miss Alberta Collings spent the holidays with her sister, Miss Alfreda Collings.

* * *

Miss Lucy Thompson spent the holidays at her home in Emporia and had as her guest Miss Grigsby Peck.

* * *

Misses Carrie and Helen Ward spent the holidays at their home in Roanoke.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Brockenborough had as her guest her sister, Burnley of Staunton.

* * *

Miss Katherine Jones spent the holidays at her home in Danville.

Miss Majorie Thomas spent the holidays at her home in South Hill, Virginia.

* * *

Miss Minnie Brown spent the holidays in Martinsville, Va.

Miss Jeanette Morris spent the holidays in Norfolk.

* * *

Miss Mary Ellen Cato was at home for the week-end.

* * *

Miss S. Elizabeth Davis, of the faculty, is with her brother who is seriously ill in Milwaukee.

Miss Mary Claire Boothe spent the holidays with her sister Frances Boothe.

* * *

Misses Mayo Bass, Blanche Murrell, Heth White, Phyllis Wood, Emily Tucker spent the holidays in Lynchburg.

* * *

Miss Jane Cotten had as her guest her mother, from Richmond.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Farris were the guests of their daughters Martha and Margaret Farris.

* * *

Miss Virginia Preston was the guest of her sister, Louise Preston during the holidays.

"PEP"

"Ray, Ray, Rah, Rah, Team! Team! Team!" and S. T. C. knew that Thanksgiving and the games were coming.

Our first outburst of enthusiasm was on Monday nght. Just a little before ten o'clock many dark figures could be seen running in the direction of the gym. With the first peal of the bell the crowd burst forth, yelling and singing.

These snake dances were followed by pep meetings every night until Thanksgiving.

The Freshmen experienced their first taste of S. T. C. pep and the upper classmen experienced a bigger taste of S. T. C. pep than ever before.

Let's keep up this pep girls, in our inter-collegiate games and help put "Ole S. T. C. on top".

"Skinny" Craft wants to know why Kitty didn't answer when Miss Iler kept on calling "Bully" at the games.

The Junior and Freshman class-song should be The Wearing of the Green.

Kitty Rhodes says "Mississippi Mud" may be slippery, but it can't compare with ou home grown variety.

Hatchett says she wishes they wouldn't ring so many bells on Thanksgiving. They get her all mixed up.

The student body thinks Gwen Hardy and Liz Woodson "fell too hard" for hockey.

Dulittle's "nickname" doesn't apply at all to her action in a hockey game, either.

Jack Woodson might be little but she is surely loud when she's after the ball.

Alice Wiley is one of those people who does her good work quietly.

SCHEDULE FOR DEBATES 1928

Bridgewater College (dual) January 27 (?)

Westhampton College (dual) February 3.

Randolph-Macon Men's College (dual) Febuary 10.

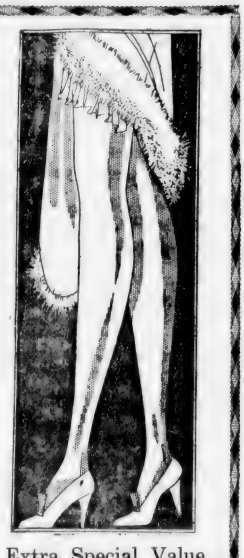
North Carolina State College (dual) February 24.

Wake Forest College (at Wake Forest) February 25.

We appreciate the good rooting and constructive comments contributed by a few H. S. C. "intelligentia" who attended the games. We might be tempted to return the compliment if we support their games in our gym this winter.

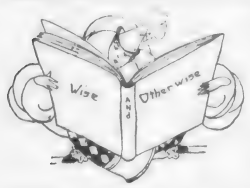
—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES



CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS



WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century ....
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

Extra Special Value
ROLLINS SILK HOSE
All Shades–All Sizes
98c pr.
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Dulittle (taking Alice Wiley's picture) "Look pleasant please." After snapping the picture—"It's all over Now you may resume your natural expression."

Baby Fitzpatrick—"Your dress is beautiful. Where did you get it?"

Anne Def.—"Over at the Student Building."

There was once a girl at S. T. C. who was so modest she wouldn't even work improper fractions.

Just because you get a note from your teacher every two weeks is no sign he is in love with you.

H. S. C.—"Shall we talk or dance?"
S. T. C.—"I'm so tired, let's dance."

Gertrude Jarman—"A Hampden-Sidney boy followed me the other day."

Updike—"How do you know?"

Jarman—"Well he kept looking around to see if I was coming."

Frosh—"Do you have trouble in meeting expenses?"

Soph—"Dear me, no! I meet them wherever I turn."

I have a little roommate
Who goes in and out my door
But you wouldn't think she rooms with me
For she never sweeps the floor.

Liza Woodson—"Did you ever take anti-toxin?"

Helen Davidson—"No, who teaches it?"

Annie P.—"What did Cotton give you for your birthday?"

Red—"You know those good-looking leather covered "Vics"?

Annie P. (excitedly)—"Yeah, boy! Didi he giev you one?"

Red—"Nope, just a handkerchief."

Just after the bleachers fell at Richmond the following conve sation was heard—

Dumbell—"I hope Virginia didn't fall into the river."

Ditto—"Wouldn't it be awful?"

Dumbell—"Yep, You just don't know!She had on my only hat!"

AS ADVERTISED

"Such popularity must be deserved"—"Chris" Royall.

"The Skin You Love to Touch"—Anne Deffenbaugh.

"There's Only One Answer" for Frances Smith to "Cobby."

"Right to the Dot"—A V. P. I. boy to "Dot" Baldwin.

"Keep that School Girl Complexion"—Mary Tucker.

"Tried and True"—"Pig" Lifsey.

"O Henry" Simmerman—Barbara Wilcox.

"Big Bill" Abbit—Mabel Hayes.

"Ne Hi"—Beulah Jarvis.

"Baby Ruth" Shively.

"Oh, Mabel!" Fitzpatrick.

"Demity Anne" Chapin.

"Mary Jane" Wilkerson

"Too Good to Miss"—Mrs. Jeffers.

"A Guide to Youthful Chic—"Red" Foster.

"Wherever She Goes that Smile Wins"—Alice Wiley.

SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS WIN THANKSGIVING GAME

Continued from page one

also proved to be good guards of the Freshman goal against the advance of Burger, Byrd, and Smith.

The entire game was one of good team-work. The final score of 6—3 was made through a continuous hard fight for both sides.

The line-up—

Freshmen—3		Sophomores—6
Hardy	C. forward	Smith
Oliver	L. inside	Byrd
Newton	L. wing	Burger
Lohr	R. inside	Cousin
Parks	R. wing	Shepherd
Reed	C. halfback	Hatchett
Seaborn	L. halfback	Campbell
Hutchinson	R. halfback	Armstrong
Flynt	L. fullback	Mattox
Thornhill	R. fullback	Brinkley
Howard	Goal Keeper	Carter

The Junior-Senior Game

The first part of the Junor-Senior game proved to be much slower than the preceding one. The Seniors seemed to lack the team-work which is necessary for a successful team. During the first half of the game the ball remained near the Junior goal most of the time. The battle was almost entirely between the Senior defense and the Junior forwards. One goal—the only one— was made a short while after the beginning of the game.

The second half of this game proved to be the most exciting of the day. The Seniors rallied and put forth every effort to contribute what they lacked in the first half. The battle was a hard and furious one with a scoreless result.

For the Juniors, Rhodes and Hardy proved to be the quickest players. The defense was unusually good. Their team-work was their outstanding characteristic.

Clements played a good game for the Seniors. Jones, Woodson and Putney also fought a hard game. To the defense is credited the lack of Junior score during the last half.

The line-up—

Juniors—1		Seniors—1
Elder	C. forward	Putney
Scott	L. inside	V. Woodson
Wilson	L. wing	Jones
Bully	R. inside	Lifsey
Rhodes	R. wing	Le Cato
Hardy	C. haifback	Clements
Wilkinson	L. halfback	McClenny
Woods	R. halfback	Armfield
Atwater	L. fullback	E. Woodson
Jarman	R. fullback	Dulaney
Vaughan	Goal Keeper	Wiley

Substitution—Bentley for Hardy.

DR. JARMAN GIVEN BANQUET BY STUDENTS

On Friday night, November 18th, the Council, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Jennie Tabb and Mrs. Jarman enjoyed a birthday banquet with Dr. Jarman in honor of his birthday.

The decorations were carried out in pink and white. The favors were tiny birthday cakes filled with candy and the place cards were especially attractive Japanese ones given by Miss Mary for the occasion.

Between the courses the Council sang songs to Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary and Miss Jennie, Alice Page Adams sang a solo, Frances Willis read an original poem to Miss Mary and Elsie Clements recited "A Debutante Gets Ready for the Opera."

Miss Waters—"Does the moon affect the tide?"

Chris (sighing) "No, only the untied."

"THE OLD FAMILY ALBUM"

Wednesday night, December 5, in the auditorium, the girls at S. T. C. will be offered the opportunity to gaze over the shoulder of an old fashioned lady and look through an old family album with her. This famous album contains the portraits of about fifty-nine old-fashioned people. The kind witty lady as she turns through the album, will relate the interesting events in the life of each character represented.

Since there is a large number of college girls, the old lady has agreed to charge only twenty-five cents admission. However, the experience will be worth much more to us.

You will be almost unconscious of the fact that the characters are only our faculty members, disguised in old-fashioned clothes, and the pages upon which they are pictured are in reality the auditorium stage.

After the "old-timey" lady has told something of their lives, the characters will act their parts. You will have a chance to listen to an old-fashioned village choir and to hear about Innocence Abroad. This is the only program the faculty expects to "put on" this year. Every member of the faculty has been asked to participate. The entertainment is going to be attractive and exceedingly amusing. Don't miss it.

VAUDEVILLE .PRESENTED

The debating club presented Keith Vaudeville Friday night, November 18th in the auditorium. The program consisted of five acts: The Tourist's Chorus, Two Black Crows, A Hall Scene—duriny study hour, The Making of the American Flag, and was concluded with a dance by Elizabeth Hutt.

The debating club has always been successful in the programs it give, and this one was pronounced better than ever before, because of its originality and unique character.

SONG HITS

"I'm In Love Again"—Mayo Bass.

"My Idea of Heaven" (Richmond)—"Red" Foster.

"I Wonder How I Look When I'm Asleep?"—Anne Ferree.

"Oh, How She Could Play a Ukelele."—Nancy Nelms.

"Who's That Pretty Baby"—"Pinkie" Shoffner.

"Traveling Blues"—Anne Palmer.

"Yes, Sir, That's My Baby"—(Spotts) "Bugs" Rivercomb.

"She's Got It"—Mabel Fitzpatrick Overbey.

"Ain't She Sweet?"—Chris Royall.

"Is It Possible?"—Only Four Weeks 'til Christmas.

"Me and My Shadow"—Etta Marshall and Jeanette Luther.

"Side by Side"—Margaret and Martha Ferris.

"Just a Memory"—Summer Vacation.

"Tech Triumph"—Elsa Goodheim.

I sat me down to worry,
To study for an exam,
And came to a final conclusion
That it does no good to cram.

For though I lost my beauty sleep,
A thing I aught never to do,
I flunked the old exam at last
'Cause I forgot the things I knew.

—I. C.

SHENANDOAH CLUB ORGANIZES

The Shenandoah Club has been reorganized by twenty-five enthusiastic girls from the Valley. The following officers were elected—

President ..... Evelyn Thompson
Vice-Pres. Elizabeth Brockenborough
Sec.-Treas. ..... Margaret Hansel
Reporter ..... Mildred Coffman

With Miss Mary Clay and Miss Winnie Hiner as honorary members and advisors, the club is looking forward to an interesting and enjoyable year.

GRAND-DAUGHTER'S CLUB PRESENTS PROGRAM

The Grand-daughter's Club, recently organized, plans to present a program at sing Saturday night. This program will represent a literary society meeting of 1892. As is known, the purpose of this club is to keep alive the old traditions of the school. This presentation promises to be very entertaining.

A GOOD JOURNALISTIC PUBLICATION

J—ourneys for
O—rganizes facts
U—rges fellowship
R—ights wrongs
N—ourishes the mind
A—ssists in broad-minded thinking
L—ooks to the future
I—nsists upon accuracy and truth
S—anctions intellectual development
M—irrors public opinion

JOURNALISTIC DAY

Journalists none of us claim to be,
Although we have, as you plainly see
Turned out some work that we think is fine.
We've made a good start and will improve all the time,
For under Miss Barnes' able direction
Our articles cease to be just a selection
Of papers that bring not least bit of fame.
Write for publication is this class' aim.
To the faults of our work we are certainly not blind,
But who knows, of our fates should be kind
That some day a member if this very class
A journalist might become at last.

—A. R. S. '28

CAR FARE

For hours they had been together on her front porch. The moon cast its tender gleam down on the young and handsome couple who had sat strangely apart. He sighed. She sighed. Finally—

"I wish I had money," he said. "I'd travel."

Impulsively she slapped her hand in his, rising swiftly she sped into the house. Aghast, he looked at his hand. On his palm lay a nickel.

—Exchange

A TEST

I was so happy today,
'Cause I knew what to say,
Exactly how to tell it.
But to my dismay—
It is always the way—
When I know what to say
And exactly how to tell it
That I know what to say,
But I just can't spell it.

—I. G. '29

JUST ARRIVED
500 prs. French Kid Gloves
to go on Sale at
$2.25 to $2.95
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor
"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"
Let us Supply Your Wants
Corner Main and High Streets
FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At Eaco Theatre

Thurs.—George O'Brien, Edmund Lowe, and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in "Is Zat So" A nerve tingling and screamingly funny comedy drama. Throbbing with action and suspense. Crammed with laughter, sarred with love scenes tender and pathetic. Is based on the play hit that is the talk of Broadway. Also good romedy. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

Fri. & Sat.—Louize Fazenda, J. Farrell MacDonald and a great cast in "The Cradle Snatchers" a special production. A laughter picture of weary wives who taught their wandering husbands a lesson in fidelity by hiring three college shieks to play the parts of loving Romeos. If husbands play around—why not wives! They do. In this rollicking mirth-fest of hilarious situations, jammed with suspense and excitement. Also good cmedy. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

MON.—LARS HANSON, PAULINE STARKE, MARCELINE DAY and ERNEST TORRENCE in the special Cosmopolitan producton "CAPTAIN SALVATION." A glamoous love story played against the sweep and surge of the Seven Seas! Never have you seen a picture with the power and punch of this one! The spectacular storm and wreck alone will make it memorable! And there are a thousand and one other thrills tumbling over each other. Also Pathe News. Mat at 4 o'clock.

TUES. & WED.—LON CHANEY, NORMAN KERRY and JOAN CRAWFORD in "THE UNKNOWN, a big special production. Against a background of colorful circus life, and the sinister shadow of the underworld, is played a drama of love and revenge that will grip you! And through it stalks the mysterious figure of a deformed circus performed—The Unknown—a role just made for the brilliant Lon Chaney. The man of a thousand faces here gives a characterization surpassing anythig he has done previously for sustained thrills, mystery, dramatic surprise! Also 5th episode of "FIGHTING WITH BUFFALO BILL." Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

Admission S. T. C. girls 25c, if tickets are purchased at college.

AFTER EXAMS

—CHRISTMAS

THE ROTUNDA

BEAR IN MIND

THE CIRCUS

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1927 Number 10

SPECTACULAR COLLEGE CIRCUS TO BE PRESENTED SATURDAY

Queen Elected by Student Body Will Be Crowned

Saturday night at 7:30 P. M. the S. T. C. gymnasium will be transformed, as if by magic, from a regular, ordinary "gym" to a real, sure-enough circus with side shows, freaks, animals, clowns, ring performances, circus food and trinkets, and continuous music. In fact, there will even be a ring-master with a big silk hat.

In the center of the gymnasium will be a regular circus ring in which will be staged around fifteen different performances. Practically every outstanding organization in school has charge of one stunt which will be given here. This section will also be devoted to acrobatic stunts and wild animal performances.

Side shows will be located both to the right and left of the ring. Among these will be found such things as "The Chamber of Horrors", "The Fortune Teller," "Bluebeard's Wives" "The Curiosity Shop," "Funny Paper Characters,' "The Ventriloquist," "The Snake Charmer" and "The Show." All offer unusual entertainment.

Circus Queen to be Crowned

One of the outstanding events of the evening will be the crowning of the queen of the circus. She will make her mysterious attractive appearance in an unusual way which will be suitable for a circus queen's entrance. This queen will be (or rather, is being) elected by the student body. The revelation of the winner will not be given until Saturday night at the circus.

For those who wish, there will be

(Continued on last page.)

MISS FLEETA COOPER RECEIVES STATE HONOR

Three standing committees of the Virginia Social Science Association of which Dr. Wilson Gee, of University of Virginia is president, were announced recently by Dabney S. Lancaster, secretary-treasurer. The students of the State Teachers College, Farmville will be interested in knowing that Miss Fleeta Cooper, supervisor of history in the Training School, was elected chairman of the Course of Study Commitee.

DR. JARMAN ATTENDS MEETING IN FLORIDA

Dr. Jarman attended a meeting of the Association of Southern Colleges and Secondary Schools, in Jacksonville, Florida, last week. On Tuesday, November 29, he apepared before this meeting, and requested that our college be put on their list. The request was granted. The whole school is very proud of this fact. Dr. Jarman arrived home Thursday night, December 1.

FACULTY TAKES ACTIVE PART IN CONFERENCE

Professors Lecture to State Teachers

In the rural supervisor's section Miss Bessie Gordon Jones talked on "Supervised Study Periods."

Miss Wilhelmina London presided in the english teachers section.

Dr. J. E. Walmsley gave "A Survey of Conditions in Virginia Under Our Present Program" in the history teachers department.

These papers were prepared by the faculty at the expense of much time and hard work. Many of them, (among this number Dr. Walmsley's and Mr. McCorkle's' contained original results of long research. The college feels a just pride in the fact that the faculty sets the students a worthy example, both in school, and in such worth while wrok as this, in the broader field outside.

In nearly every section of the convention the college was represent-

(Continued on last page.)

TENNIS TOURNAMENT POSTPONED UNTIL SPRING

The tennis finals have been postponed until the spring term due to the ilness of Martha Henderlite, one of the winners of the semi-finals.

A great deal of interest has been exhibited in tennis this year. When the tournament was announced at the beginning of the year, fifty grils signed up to compete, that being the largest number of contestants ever known at S. T. C.

For a time interest lagged at little but as the finals drew nearer and nearer, the interest was rekindled and the games were hurriedly played off. In the semi-finals Reed won from Maddrey and Henderlite defeated Dulany. The finals were to have been played off this week but owing to Henderlite's illness the game has been called off until spring when Reed and Henderlite will combat for the school championship.

The student body, however, is not to be disappointed for the long promised treat the faculty-student tournament will also be played next spring. Dr. Walmsley, the faculty champion. still declares his intention of competing with the student champion for the honors of the school.

TEA DANCE

A Tea Dance was given by the College High School last Saturday afternoon in the Recreation Hall for the benefit of the high school.

The Recreation Hall was decorated in black and white for the occasion and the Hampden-Sidney Orchestra furnished the music.

STUDENTS PLEDGE $500 FOR SOUTHSIDE HOSPITAL

We want five hundred dollars and we are going to get it; because each member of the student body wants to feel that she had a part in equipping the room in the new hospital. This is to be our room. On the door of this room is to be a brass plate stating that the room was furnished by the student body of 1927-28. We have already selected the room and it has been christened. Martha Henderlite is at present in our room in the hospital and is getting along famously. Maybe her rapid recovery is due somewhat to our brand new room that we furnished for her.

The five hundred dollars average about fifty cents per head. At this writing only the Junior Class has reported. Every member of the Junior Class pledged something, and they averaged slightly above fifty cents. Freshmen, you can't let your sister class beat you. Sophomores and Seniors, the Freshmen and the Juniors are your ancient rivals. We must work up and keep in step with them.

Already we can feel the Christmas spirit in the air. Christmas is a time for giving. Two thousand, five hundred years ago, the shepherds brought their gifts to the Christ Child. Let us bring our gifts to the hospital and make our Christmas one of service as well as of rejoicing.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS OPEN CABINET MEETING

An open cabinet meeting for the Y. W. C. A. was held last Saturday at which time committee members were entitled to attend.

Devotionals, led by Etta Marshall, dealt with friendship and the possibilities of true friendship.

The outstanding thing decided at this meeting was that the cabinet would make a gift to the Student Voltunteer group of one-half of the expenses needed to send their delegate to the Detroit Conference and a loan of the rest of their expenses which will be returned to the Y. W. C.A. in June.

PHILIP SHAW SPEAKS AT SUNDAY VESPERS

At vespers Sunday evening Philip Shaw, of England, gave an inpiring account of his life. Mr. Shaw's youth his attractive personality, and the earnestness with which he spoke won the hearts of every member of the audience. He said that he had come to America on faith without friends or funds, and that his work was directed of God. It seemed almost impossible that a person so young should have had the experiences he related.

Mr. Shaw came to S. T. C. from Hampden-Sidney, where he was attending a religious house party.

RUSSIAN COSSACK CHORUS ENTERTAINS LARGE AUDIENCE AT S. T. C.

Splendid Program Presented by Male Chorus

On Thursday night, December the first, the students of S. T. C. were entertained by The Russian Cossack Chorus, under the direction of Sergei Socoloff. The program, consisting of selections from Davidovsky,, Tchaikovsky and Kolatin, was characterized by the deep power and contrasting sweetness typical of Russian music. The choir won the hearts of those present when they sang, as encore, popular favorites, such as "My Wild Irish Rose," "Smiling Thru," and "Dixie."

This chorus of twelve voices was organized, shortly after the World War, by Sergie Socoloff, who had received his musical education, previous to the war, at the Imperial Conservatory of Moscow. Under this director, the chorus has met great success throughout Europe. These singers have been welcomed with appreciation by the best critics of Italy and have been praised by the royal family of Spain. Their concerts won for them first place in Paris during 1923-1924. They have toured Latin-America and are now in the United States for the first time.

The audience was given a chance to admire the artistry of these singers in their interpretation of characteristic Russian melodies. The beauty and variety of shading was equalled by the clarity and purity of tone. Their versality is unique, enabling them to interpret with warmth and color, vvarious types of songs. The students who attended the enterttainment are unanimous in their hope for a return engagement of The Cossack Chorus.

DR. SIMKINS ADDRESSES THE SPANISH CLUB

Interesting Lecture on Brazilian Novel

On Tuesday night, November the 29th, El Circulo Espanol, held its monthly meeting in the Student Building auditorium. Due to the large number of new members the meeting was conducted in English. The main feature of the evening's program was a talk, given by Dr. Francis Simkins, on "The Novel of Brazilian Literature." His lecture dealt with the type of novel characteristic of Brazilian literature, with short accounts of the stories of the more prominent books. The authors and their individual style were also commented on by the speaker. His lecture was enjoyed by the members of the club, bringing to them, a very interesting but little known phase of the current history of literature. El Circulo Espanol hopes to have Dr. Simkins as a guest again soon.

FACULTY FAMILY ALBUM A SUCCESS

The faculty of S. T. C. presented "The Family Album" in the auditorium on Monday night, December 5. Those students who only see their faculty as teachers were given an opportunity to view them in a new light for they threw aside their work-a-day attitude and became belles, beauxs, college presidents, dancers and missionaries.

There was Mr. Bell as the dignified and intellectual college president with Miss Grenels as his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers made an interesting picture as Miss Mix' parents on their wedding day. Her cousins (Mr. and Mrs. Coyner) were truly devout missionaries. Surely they would give their lives for the cannibals, if necessary. The patriotic members of the family were Dr. Wynne, Mr. Grainger and Mr. McCorkle. Another phase of public service was represented in the family album by Dr. Walmsley as a very judicial looking judge. The judge and the suffragette (Miss Barlow) must have had many arguments over women's right. Miss Iler was the tomboy of the family and the athlete of the town. She even rode a bicycle.

There was one of the family which thought that traveling broadened the mind; so they went abroad. Dr. Simkins chaperoned the party.

No dance in town was complete unless the belle (Miss Maude K. Taliaferro was there.

Besides the pictures of these fascinating relatives Miss Mix showed Mrs. Newcome the portraits of many other interesting friends, cousins, aunts and uncles. There was the rich

Continued on page four

ROTUNDA TO HAVE NEW DEPARTMENTS

Three new departments have been added and will be included in the Rotunda during the remaining issues. One department, edited by Lois Fraser, will be devoted to a brief account of the main affairs of the world for the week. Another department, headed by Evelyn Thompson, will contain extracts from exchanges or comments on the affairs of interest in other colleges that would probably interest our school. Alice Wiley was also appointed to keep the students posted as to the affairs of the home department and alumnae, The Rotunda staff wishes to do all that is possible to broaden the scope of the paper. It is hoped that these new departments will link our student body more closely with other colleges and also with the affairs of the world at large.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

FARMVILLE AND OUR COLLEGE

There was a time not so many years ago when S. T. C. was in great ned of money. Our Farmville friends appreciated our situation and contributed a sum which numbered thousands of dollars. And so the need for funds for the Student Building was alleviated in part by the generous response of the town of Farmville.

There was a time not so many days ago when the town of Farmville was in need of money. The students of our college were glad for opportunity to share in the project of completing the new hospital. So every girl found within her purse a gift which, when placed in a pile with all the others, made a sum just large enough to furnish one room in the hospital.

We look upon these incidents as outward expression of the feeling of good-will and cooperation that exists between the town people and the students. At the close of a year we look back upon the fellowship we have had with town friends and call it good. We are sincere in the hope that the close next year will find us even better friends.

DECEMBER

December! The month of carols; December the month of colors and green-wreaths and candles. December the month of Christmas! December the month of happiness is here. Already we are think ing in the terms of red and green string, white tissue paper and tiny Santa Claus stickers in which we will wrap small remembrances to those we love the best. Already we are humming in our hearts Christmas carols; already we are remembering the old, old stores we have heard so often and which always seems so wonderful to us. And why? Because the spirit of Christmas has filtered into our hearts and minds though it be only in its earliest stages. Christmas means happiness and happiness means youth. We are youth, Christmas is our season. Let us remember it always and put into it our finest selves. Let us put aside our pettiness, our jealouss and idle speeches, our conceits, our selfish dreams, and think of OTHERS and our season will be as it was intended many hundred years ago—a season of love!

BUSY WORLD BITS

With the first Monday in December "the long session" of the 70th Congress, elected in November 1926, begun. It will give its attention to a variety of subjects of national and international interest as is inevitable in any year preceding a presidential campaign. The Smith-Vare case will be presented. A naval building program seems inevitable since the failure of Geneva conference last summer. Losses of life in attempted transoceanic flights and long-distance flights may lead to legislation to extend the regulatory authority of Department of Commerce over aeronautical activities. Another problem to come before Congress is that of flood control.

Last week a new Italo-Albanian treaty was signed in the Albanian capital Tirana. Il Duce considers it "one of the greatest coup of diplomacy yet achieved by the Facist government."

Reports from Algeria reveal that the floods have taken five hundred lives, and damage done is about $20,000,000. Many Europeans have been listed with those dead.

Eskimos from Greenland will accompany Commander Richard E. Byrd on his South Pole expedition. So far as is known this will be the first time that Eskimos familiar with the rigors of life in the Arctic will be taken to the Anarctic where conditions are even more severe. Six will be taken.

Premier Jon Brationo, the great statesman who doubled the area of Roumania during his eleven years premiership, was claimed by death a few days ago. Ventila Brationo, his brother, has been commanded by the cabinet to assume the premiership. Some thought that the death of Brationo, Carol's enemy, would cause Carol to return at once to Bucharest but as yet no statement has been made to the effect that he will do it.

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED

When the other fellow acts that way, he is ugly; when you do, it's nerves?

When the other fellow is set in his way, he's obstinate; when you are, it is just firmness?

When the other fellow doesn't like your friend, he's prejudiced; when you don't like his, you are simply showing that you are a good judge of human nature?

When the other fellow tries to treat someone especially well, he's lading; when yu try the same game you are using tact?

When the other fellow takes time to do things, he's dead slow; when you do it, you are deliberate?

When the other fellow spends a lot he is a spendthrift; when you do, you are generous?

When the other fellow picks flaws in things he's cranky; when you do, you are discrinminating?

When the other fellow is mild in his manners, he is mush of concession; when you are, it is being gracious?

When the other fellow gets destructive, it is toughess; with you it is forcefulness?

When the other fellow dresses extra well, he's a dude; when you do it, it is simply a duty one owes to society?

When the oher fellw runs great risks in business, he's foolhardy; when you do, you are a great financier?

When the other fellow says what he thinks, he's spiteful; when you do, you are frank?

When the other fellow won't get caught in a new scheme, he's backwoodsy; when you won't, you are conservative?—Florida Flambeau.

COLLEGE CHRONICLES

President Harry A. Garfield, of Williams College, in a talk to New England executive and national educational leaders said, "The student who gives all his time to one subject sees nothing of the world around him. He is not a scholar, except in one thing. Too often he ends as a narrow, dried up pedant." President Garfield advocates that a college should give its men two things. First, it should open the door to a technical training. Second, it should give him "the something more"—an approach to a philosophy of life. —The New Student.

Gertrude Ederle, upon being asked what she thought of American college boys and girls, answered, "Theyr'e just great!"—The New Student.

The Spartan Spirit

To be loyal, to play the game hard, to be fair and square, to endure, and attain the highest standard of skill and sportsmanship. — California State Teachers Times.

It is interesting to note that at Lynchburg College "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream" has been skillfully dramatized and successfully presented by amateurs.—The Critograph.

At the annual hockey tournament at Lynchburg College the seniors and sophomores were victorious over the freshmen and juniors.—The Critograph.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE VIRGINIAN NOW!

Support your annual by subscribing to it, and by suscribing immediately! It will save much time and worry for all concerned if you will do so now, and not wait until the last minute. Of course you are going to buy a Virginian, so why keep putting it off? Subscribe before you go home Christmas, and get it off your mind!

ALUMNAE NEWS

Miss Norma Fuqua of Radford, Va., will sing the leading part in "Babes in Toyland," to be presented at William and Mary by the Women's Glee Club, acocrding to a newspaper announcement from Williamsburg. The article further states, "Her popularity as a singer has grown rapidly since her entrance into William and Mary, and this appearance will be the climax of her dramatic work here as well as her last appearance in a William and Mary show."

Miss Dorothy Askew is now Mrs. J. DeJarnette Gayle, and her home is 578 Madison Avenue, Albany, New York.

In the Farmville Herald of December 2, Mrs. A. B. Armstrong announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Christine Haynes Armstrong, to Harmon Lee Jones of Portsmouth, formerly of Kennansville, N. C. Miss Armstrong is residing with her sister, Mrs. Robert Roberston, of Norfolk. The weddng will take place the latter part of December.

GRAY'S DRUG ST
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Gi
Come in And Get Acquain
We're Glad to Have Y

Shannon
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farr
Sodas 10c Short Stir

MARTI
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUG

McINTOSH & CANA
For
Cara Nome Face Powd
and Compacts

S. A. LEGU
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pres
Farmville --:: --:: --Virg

C. E. CHAPPELL. C
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, B
Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SH
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STO
10 Per Cent Discount on
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water W
Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Stud
Strictly private, competent ope in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STO
Groceries, Fruits and Vegeta
Everything for Sandwich
Phone 110 Third

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidair
Fountain and up to date
Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDI
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and pairing. Ladies' work a specia
"Your satisfaction is our succ
Special Prices to S. T. C. Stu
412 Main St. Phone

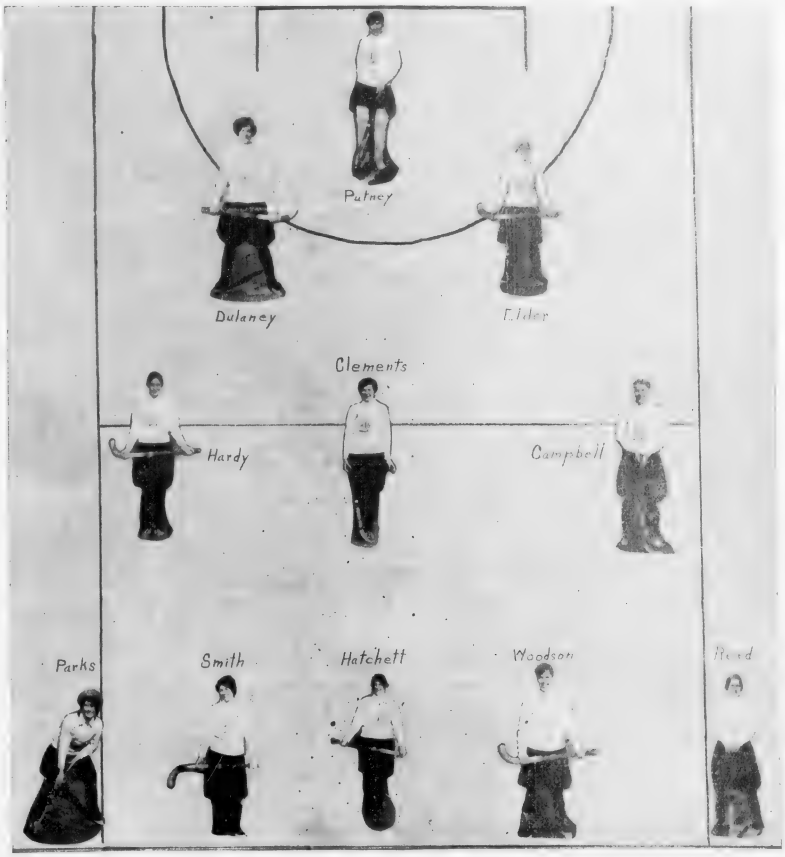
THE EVOLUTION OF MY WISHING

I suppose that even to the time when "the memory of man runneth not to the contrary," little children wish a long desired wish on finding a four leaf clover, and on breaking that fascinating part of the anatomy of a fowl called the wish-bone. And I'm equally sure that eevry person in the world must have, at some time in the span of years, gazed into the heavens and repeated in an enrapturced tone to the evening star,

"Star light, star bright,
First star I've seen to-night
Wish I may, wish I might
Have the wish I wish to-night."

All the times I've wished on that childish rhyme, I've made two wishes the regular one, and a secret one—a queer, hopeless desire to touch the star. That desire started when I was so very small, I hardly remember. I know Mother taught me the little rhyme, and I loved it, and I loved all "wishing things." In fact, for some years, my childish vista of the world widened in relation to the number of new "wishing things" I learned.

I was quite familiar with the proverbial category of children's "wishing things." At the passage of every white horse I would stamp the palm of one hand with the tightly clenched fist of the other in a most serious manner, and wish for an ice cream cone or balloon. A pin glittering in the crack of a pavement meant absolutely that a wish would come true within the next hour, if only that pin were stuck in the coat lapel, head downward. The first snowflake in winter, the first violet in April, and every rainbow entitled the beholder to a most precious wish.



Did they come true—all of these wishes? Why, sometimes. But one forgot when she was so very small and made innumerable wishes in one short day. It didn't matter particularly, except that one experienced the joy of wishing.

Wishes, like children, and in company with heildren, grow up. I passed through the stage of "white-horse" wishes, and left behind the profound desire to have the World War postponed until I should be old enough to serve as a nurse in the conflict. —R. H.' '27

THE ENGLISH SPARROW

Little sparrow in the sun,
Don't you know that summer's done
Don't you know that winter's near?
You will starve or freeze I fear.
I will feed and care for you
All the long, cold winter through.
If you leave that thorny hedge
And fly up to my window ledge,
You can stay all winter long
For you cheer me with your song.
Here you'll be safe from wind and rain
Till the spring shall come again.
Dear sparrow, you don't even stop,
As on the ground you lightly hop,
To listen to my invitation.
You fill me full of mild vexation.
You don't even pause to say,
"Thank you!" as you fly away
Swift and straight as any arrow,
You saucy, little English sparrow.
—A. R. S. '28

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE HOCKEY VARSITY

The above is a picture of the varsity hockey team placed in the positions they play. It might be interesting to notice that of the eleven players four are Seniors, two Juniors, three Sophomores and two Freshmen. Each girl represented here plays a good hockey game as was noticed in the inter-class games played Thanksgiving day. Among the outstanding players were always found the varsity girls;—as well as others, of course.

GIRLS ATTEND PAN-HELLENIC DANCE

The following girls attended the Pan-Hellenic dance given in the Recreation Hall Friday, December 2. Music was furnished by the Southern Serenaders from Petersburg. The hall was beautifully decorated in a color scheme of black and white while the various fraternity banners were placed on the wall.

Following are the couples attending.

Elizabeth Rivercomb with Howard Gilmer.

Louise Shoffner with "Nick" Carter.

Mary Rigby with Harry B. Stone.

Lelia Smith with George Bowers.

Frances Thornton with "Nick" Carter.

Mary Taliaferro with Bob Hudson.

Virginia Whipple with Henry McLaughlin.

Virginia Walker with Jack Goodman.

Gertude Wright with Hugh Hunt.

Barbara Willcox with Frank McConnell.

Helen Jones with Henry Beattie.

Dolly Latane with Owen Jones.

Polly Aderholt with Billie Lacy

Dot Baldwin with Harry Stone.

Mary Bernard with Joe Hay.

Mayo Bass with Richard Alvey

Alice Covington with Elam Toone

Leola Carter with Campbell Pancake.

Ann Deffenbaugh with "Brute" Lyons.

Louise Foster with Grant Harrison.

Anne Ferree with Tom Peach

Mabel Fitzpatrick with Cecil Jones

Genevieve Grimes with William Baker.

Virginia Gurley with "Shad" Watkins.

Reba Hill with John Montgomery.

Beulah Jarvis with "Duroc" Putney.

Martha Lanier with Bill Finch

Flora Martin with Red Lancaster

Elizabeth Marshall with E. Baker

Margaret Pumphrey with Bob Fry

Ann Palmer with Howard Gilmer.

Dorothy Lee Palmer with Charles Jett.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION ENTERTAINS Y. W.

All work and no play would make any organization dull. Consequently, on Tuesday, November 29, from five to six the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet was entertained by the Freshman Commission in the Student Building lounge. Food plus fun made the tea a real success. The Freshmen hope, in the future, to be able to express their appreciation of the Cabinet in many other ways.

SHENANDOAH CLUB ENTERTAINS AT TEA

The Shenandoah Club entertained at an informal tea at five o'clock on Friday evening in the recreation hall. Everyone enjoyed the program, which consisted mostly of music, and the delicious refreshments which were served.

RESUME OF THE HOCKEY VARSITY

On Thanksgiving Day of the year 1926 the student body of S. T. C. saw its first hockey game. Because the students were not familiar with the sport, there was a doubtful feeling as to the success of hockey at S. T. C. This feeling was unwarranted, for the students like new things and they received the the new sport enthusiastically. The Sophomores and Junoirs were victorious in the two very exciting games which were played on Thanksgiving. Several days later these two teams played each other to determine the championship. The Sophomores won.

To arouse more interest in hockey an honorary varsity was selected. The members of this team were chosen from all of the class teams. They were chosen because of their keen knowldge of the game and their ability to play it.

This year S. T. C. advanced another step in athletics, far on November 9 an official hockey varsity was sent to Williamsburg to play William and Mary. In spite of our hard playing William and Mary won with a score of 9—4.

Hockey is now firmly established at S. T. C. With the past two years experience as a background it is expected that the hockey varsity next year will be a winning team.

At Davidson College the Y. M. C. A. has been doing splendid work in establishing mission schools in the surrounding vicinity.—The Davidsonian.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

Correct Clothes
For the Round of
College Life
Shoes
Dresses
Hats
Coats
Millinery
Gloves
Sweaters
Underwear
Negligees
and all other necessities
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

NEW BOOKS IN LIBRARY

"Th Campus Girl" by Anne Deffenbaugh.

"How to Keep That School Girl Complexion" by Mary F. Taliaferro.

"Dancing Taught in Two Hours" by Humpty Jones.

"The Art of Getting a Letter a Day From Norfolk," by Beth White.

"The Perfect Blonde" by Elizabeth Houchins.

"Late Mysterious Hours" by Student Government.

"He Who Talks is Heard" by Mary Blackwell Parker.

"Abie's S. T. C. Rose" by Frances Lewis.

"Vocal Lessons" by Clara Norfleet.

"A Direct Route to V. M. I. and Lectures to Bradley" by Anne Palmer.

"Why Tredie is the Pride of H.-S. C." by Julia Davis.

"The Winning Smile" by Nancy Nelms.

"The Friendly Hand" by Sammy Scott.

Joe Peters—"Why is the milk so weak?"

Blanche M.—"The cow got caught in the rain."

V. Faino—"Have you seen my belt around the room?"

P. Shoffner—"Oh, did you put it around the room?"

"Look, papa, Abie's cold is cured and we still have left a box of cough drops!"

"Oo, vot extravagance. Tell Herman to go out and get his feet wet."

Women's faults are many;
Men have only two—
Everything they say, and
Everything they do.

"In the 'rec', of my darling,
When the lights are dim and low,
That your face is thickly powdered,
How am I, sweetheart, to know?
Every week I have to carry
Every coat that I possess
To the cleaners—won't you darlin'
Love me more—and powder less?"

We would like to know why Margaruite Warner thinks the third floor main, has been changed to the second floor?

Would S. T. C. be the same if Elizabeth Ferrell couldn't laugh.

Do you really think Becky Liebman believes corn meal is a bootlegger's diet?

Black is black and white is white—until the government says it's black.

Only twelve more days and then we won't hear that cry, "Lights off, in there!" "Is it possible?"

A Good Thing to Remember
And a Better Thing to Do.
Is to Work With the Construction Gang—
Not With the Wrecking Crew.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ATHLETIC CONSTITUTION

"No girl shall make a team unless she has an average of C with one condition or flunk; or unless she has passed all work taken the preceding semester, when she may earn her points. Although she may not receive any award until her record is clear."

The Athletic Council feels that this amendment will give each girl a fairer chance to get the most from the athletic activities in college, since there are some cases when a girl, failing a class one term, may be kept out of athletics a whole year because that particular subject is given only one term out of each school year. This seems unfair, and so the Council suggests that this amendment be made a part of the constitution. You will have a chance to express your opinion at a student body meeting after chapel Friday.

NUB

"I'm worn to a nub," "I'm a nub", ::You're a nub." How these nubs are creeping into use. No, not creeping, but galloping into use. If you stand in the hall and get the scraps of conversation, you will more than likely hear more about nubs than anything else, even examinations.

You will hear about girls being worn to nubs before they go to sleep, after they wake up before they go to class, before they have dates, after they have dates. They are worn to nubs by eating, dancing, laughing and perhaps sleeping.

You'll hear one say she's about worn to a nub—and still another out worn a nub—and still another says she's past the nub stage. And don't be at all surprised if some fair young lady doesn't say that all the nubs are worn off of her."

Now if pencils are nubs and S. T. C. girls are nubs, by applying a little psychology we find that our student body is composed of pencils, for according to mathematics things equal to the same thing are equal to each other.

—R. L. '29

A GEOGRAPHICAL LOVE SONG

In the State of Mass.
There lives a lass
I love to go N. C.
No other Miss.
Can c'er, I Wis.
Be half so dear to Me.
R. I. is blue
And her cheeks the hue
Of shells where waters swash;
On her pinkwhite phiz
Ther Nev. Ariz.
The least complexion Wash.
La! could I win the heart of Minn.
I'd ask for nothing more,
But I dream upon the theme
And Conn. it o'er and Ore.
Why is it I pray,
I can't Ala.
This love makes me Ill.,
N. Y., O Wy. Kann. Nev. Ver.
I propose to her my will,
I shun the task
'Twould be to ask this gentle maid to wed.
And so to press
My suit, I guess
Alaska Pa. instead.

—The Breeze.

Miss Temple Bass of Lynchburg has returned to her home after spending several days as the guest of her sister Miss Mayo Bass, and attending the Pan-Hellenic dance on Friday night.

EXAMS, BLUEBOOKS —CHRISTMAS

What's all the noise about? Exams are just a few days off? Why, certainly. Almost every far-thinking girl has been saving up for weeks to buy blue books. It is hard to do with the Christmas spirit in the air which keeps mentioning girl friends who just must be given a "hanky." But this is one time when we can obey our worst impulse and say, "Nothing doing." Just imagine then, six big, nice fresh blue books. Who, with any "orderly" instincts, could resist arranging everythnig they know and much they don't know in these six nice new books, numbered and labled "accordingly"?

Now, comes the nice part. Six nickles have been sacrificed for these six new books. But—aren't they presents after all?

What "august" faculty member does not covet a nice blue memory book autographed by the favorite pupil? No doubt, too, he could use it the next year as a guide to his lectures! Just to make those books a little nicer presents let's wrap them in the gay holly paper of optimism and tie them with the broad ribbon of good hard, well-organized study.

Come on, Exams! Santa is close behind and Mama wants an Honor Roll Card in her "stocking" on December 25.

PERSONALS

Miss Eilzabeth Lacy has returned from her home in Richmond where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Mary Duncan returned Sunday after spending several days in Richmond. t

* * *

Misses Elizabeth Sawyer, Mary Beasley, Mary Rigby and Margaret Haskins spent the week-end in Ashland and attended the dances at Randolph-Macon College.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Hargrave of Petersburg, former student at S. T. C., spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Barbara Willcox and attended the Pan-Hellenic dance.

* * *

Miss Katherine Bentley spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Turner returned Sunday from her home in Martinsville where she spent the week-end.

* * *

Miss Jack Simpson of Richmond has returned to her home after spending the week-end as the guest of Miss Ellen Smith and attending the Pan-Hellenic dance on Friday night.

* * *

Miss Helen Davidson has returned from Norfolk after spending the week-end at her home.

* * *

Other alumnae of S. T. C. who returned for the week-end and attended the Pan-Hellenic dance were, Misses Frances Sale, Alwyn Hughson, Elizabeth Scott, Mary Darden and Mary Johns.

FACULTY FAMILY ALBUM A SUCCESS

Continued from page one

aunt who lived in the city, the country cousin, the frail, young maid who died of lingering consumption, the girl who had the stage as her ambition, the cousin who had a degree, the village prima donna and oh, so many others.

Much of the credit for the artistic poses belongs to Miss Wheeler who supervised this phase of the entertainment.

IMPROMPTU SING SATURDAY NIGHT

Saturday night sing was impromptu, but this made it none the less varied and entertaining. Mayo Bass sang "Down by the Winegar Works." Mignonne Griggs played "Mississippi Mud" on the piano. Nancy Denitt then sang "Are You Thinking of Me Tonight", followed by a reading from "Seventeen" by Etta Marshall. Alice Davis sang "At Dawning." In conclusion Lucille Graves and Frankie Roberts played a duet, "I Ain't Got Nobody."

MUSIC!

My room is situated in the same wing of Main Hall as the music room and just across a court from the auditorium. From this strategic position I am entertained day and night by varied musical programs. Some are soothing and some painful to my auditory senses. Solos, duets, choruses, the Freshman Orchestra, the school orchestra, the faint strains of some victrola are all wafted on the breeze straight to my abode. The other morning I had to study for a test to the tune of "Last Night A Nightin-gale Awoke Me." Being a lover of harmony I usually enjoy the melodies that issue at the proper time from these perpetual music boxes, but imagine how you would like being serenaded before rising bell with that delightful, well konwn ditty, "Where Oh, Where Has My Lttle Dog Gone?" Does the so-called music of today always sooth the savage breast? I doubt it seriously.

FACULTY TAKES ACTIVE PART IN CONFERENCE

Continued from page one

ed by a member of the faculty of S. T. C.

In the rural supervisor's section Miss Lila London was first on the program speaking on "Teaching Arithmetic in the grammar grades."

Mr. T. A. McCorkle read a paper in the science teachers section entitled, "Adjustment of Students Who Have Had High School Chemistry, to College Chemistry."

In the geography teachers section Miss Browning gave a demonstration of a sand table project, "The Panama Canal."

Dr. J. L. Jarman presided in the Department of Secondary Schools and Colleges. In this section Miss E. Myrtle Grenels presented a paper, "Why Geography Should be Taught in Elementary Schools."

November 22—23 found many of the faculty of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, in Richmond taking an active part in the Virginia Education Association"s twenty-first annual convention.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR COLLEGE CIRCUS

Continued from page one

a section "roped off" and devoted to dancing. Music will be furnished by the Freshman Orchestra.

Food will not be lacking for all kinds of circus food will be "on hand." No circus would be complete without food.

Girls can come with their dates, Hampden-Sidney boys, town people and high school children will all be present. No college girl can afford to miss this final chance to have one big final celebration before "exams" start.

JUST ARRIVED
500 prs. French Kid Gloves
to go on Sale at
$2.25 to $2.95
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
JACK E.. PEARLOVE
Proprietor
"YOUR PERSONAL DRUGGIST"
Let us Supply Your Wants
Corner Main and High Streets
FARMVILLE, — VIRGINIA

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At Eaco Theatre

THURS.—ALMA RUBENS in MARRIAGE LICENSE, a big special production. Not a problem play, yet answering the most vital questionof the day; not a sex drama, yet pulsating with violent emotions; not a "thriller" in the accepted sense of the word, yet replete with exciting situations; not a pink tea society drama, yet dealing with the "upper half"; not ocmedy, yet offering many a smile—it's a story as big as life and just as true. Also comedy. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

FRI. & SAT.—EMIL JANNINGS with BELLE BENNETT, PHYLLIS HAVER and DONALD KEITH in "THE WAY OF ALL FLESH" a big special Paramount picture. You ask for strong drama, fine actinf,, powerful direction. Well, here is Jannings, the screen's most emotional giant, as he who dared to defy—a man who goes the way of all flesh. A characterization you'll never forget. The editor of The Los Angeles Express said "This is the greatest dramatic characterization in the greatest drama ever made by any motion picture company. It is nearly the perfect picture." One of the finest pictures produced in 1927. Also Comedy. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

MON.—LAURA LA PLANTE, TON MOORE and BRYANT WASHBURN n "The Lve Thrill" a special productoin. He didn't think much of the idea of being thought dead—unt ilhe found out what an attractive widow hehad.This is a breezy and diverting up to the minute farce comedy with the greatest reverse comdey twist you've ever seen. Also Path News. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

TUES.—Ethel Clayton and Lou Tellegen in "THE PRINCESS OF HOBOKEN". Hee fell in love with the Princess—and he didn't know half of it. A fast moving picture depicting the adventures of a little Hoboken waitress in the realm of aristocracy. A special production with an excellent cast. Also serial. Mat. 4 o'clock.

THE ROTUNDA

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1927 Number 11

JUNIORS WIN INTER-CLASS HOCKEY

Sophomores are Defeated 2—0 in a Hotly Contested Game

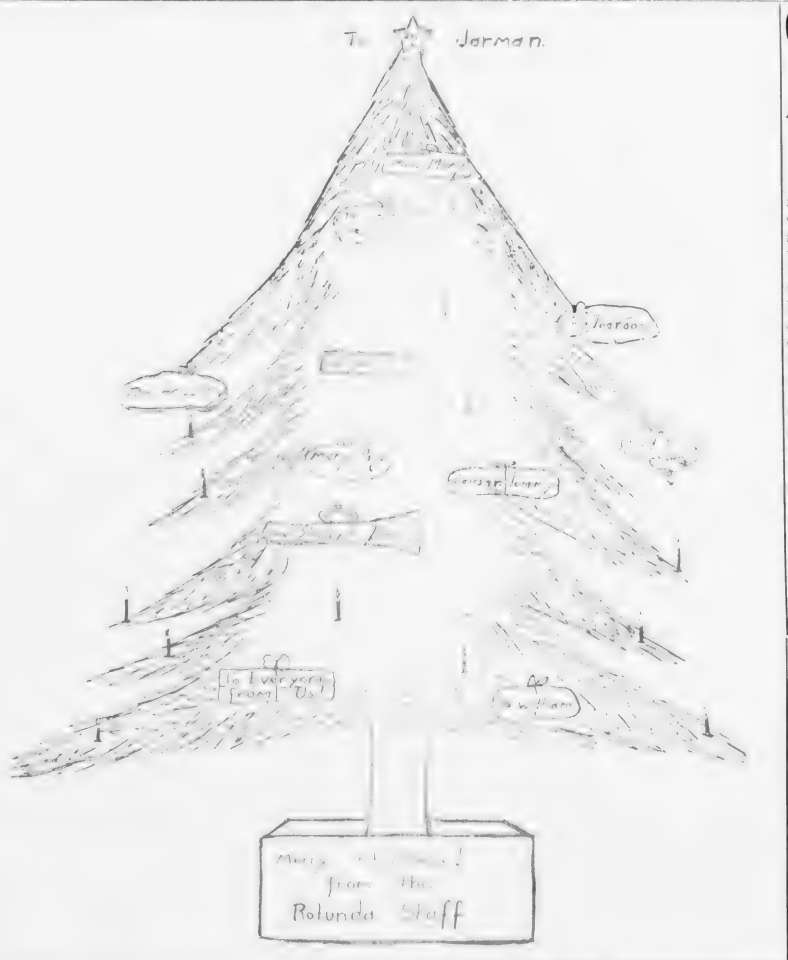
....Friday afternoon when the whistle blew two team— the Sophomores and the Juniors—entered the field with an equal determination to p ut out every ounce of effort to win a game that would contribute ten points to ward the class championship cup. This determination caused the teams to contribute to the school an exhibition of a fast, evenly contested game that anyone would thoroughly enjoy witnessing.

The first half of the game offered many exciting moments for both sides. One minute the ball would tantalize the Sophomore goal by playing around it from one side to the other and then the next minute it would be quickly passed down the field to play around the Junior goal in the same fashion. This continued throughout the entire half which ended in a pointless score. During this half both teams seeemed to be unusually evenly matched.

The second half told another story. At this time the Junior team successfully outplayed the Sophomores to the extent that they made two goals. However, these goals were not easily won and it was no easy job to keep the Sophomores from matching up this score. Both teams fought hard and deserve credit for playing such a good hockey game.

The line-up:

Sophomores 0		Juniors 2
Smith	C.	S. Scott
Cousins	R. I.	Bully
Spain	R. W.	Rhodes
Burger	L. I.	Bentley
Byrd	L. W.	Wilson
Hatchett	C. H.	Hardy
Armstrong	R. H.	Woods
Campbell	L. H.	Wilkerson
Brinkley	R. F.	Jarman
Mattox	L. F.	Atwater
Carter	G.	Vaughan



FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE DEBATE IS HELD

Thursday morning during chapel the first inter-class debate took place between the Freshmen and the Sophomores.

The question which was debated was, Resolved: That S. T. C. Freshmen should be initiated. The Freshmen team, Martha Ann Laing and Virginia Pettigrew, upheld the affirmative side of the question, and the Sophomores, Beulah Jarvis and Nellie Talley, upheld the negative.

The judges, Dr. Simkins, Miss Hiner and Mr. Jeffers, decided two to one in favor of the affirmative.

This year the Debating Club is offering three degrees. Those who take the first degree become members of the club. The second degree girls participate in inter-class debates, and the member of the third degree are inter-collegiate debaters. Those girls who debated Thursday morning had taken the second degree.

SPANISH AND FRENCH BAZAAR GIVEN

On Tuesday afternoon from four until six the drawing room was the scene of the annual bazaar given jointly by the French and Spanish clubs.

One side of the room was arranged to represent France, and the other Spain; the two being separated by a row of pine trees which stood for the Pyrenees Mountains.

The French side was decorated in red, white, and blue, and the girls wore white dresses with French caps, and spoke in French. In the same way the Spanish side was decorated in red and orange, and the girls wore Spanish shawls and mantillas and spoke the native language.

At the door American coin was changed into French and Spanish money, with which one bought fancy articles, hot chocolate and candy.

During the afternoon several songs were sung in both France and Spain, in their respective languages, and a French doll dance was rendered by

Continued on last page

PIANO CONCERT BY RUSSIAN ARTIST

(Contributed)

Last Thursday evening, December 8, in the auditorium of the State Teachers College, the music lovers of Farmville, had th privilege and pleasure of hearing the famous Russian pianist, Alexander Skarevski, who came under the auspices of the Woman's Club.

After a distinguished European career which culminated in his being made director of the Imperial Conservatory of Music, he came to this country and is now instructor at Peabody, a concert artist.

Mr. Sklarevski gave a varied and interesting program. In each number the perfection of his technique was beyond criticism—it was broad and rich, or exquisitely delicate—at will. Many of his interpretations were new to his audience. One soon realized that music made its appeal to him and spoke through him as a poet rather than as a dramatist.

There was a marvelous response from his audience which paid hi m the

(Continued on last page.)

VESPER PROGRAM FOR CHRISTMAS WEEK

I am the spirit of Happiness, I am the spirit of Youth, I am the spirit of Christmas. This spirit permeated the hearts of a college and out of it grew a programme we call a Christmas week. It began with Miss Rice's story . . . the same old story, yet so new, for in it we found a new sweetness which we had missed before. The White Christmas on Wednesday night symbolized the love of a student body for little children; remembering it was a little child, the Wise men sought and found in a manger. The gifts to the Cripple Children's Hospital in Richmond. Something for others—is not this the true meaning of Christmas? Thursday night brought us the hanging of the green —an old custom, yet so beautifully significant in its meaning. The hanging of evergreen—evergreen unselfishness to stay with us through a year. Friday brought the most beautiful of all; a pageant "Why the Chimes Rang," bringing to the student body Christmas in all its glory—

Continued on page three

COLLEGE CIRCUS IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Animals, Clowns and Stunts Delight Large Audience

Pink, blue, green and yellow programs waved in enthusiasm from over a thousand hands in the S. T. C. gymnasium Saturday night from 7:30 to 11 when town people, Hampden-Sidney boys, and nearly every girl of the State Teachers College student body attended the College Circus. Dr. and Mrs. Jarman and many members of the faculty attended and seemed to enjoy "the sights and side shows," along with the rest.

The World outside was left behind while everyone watched the Komical, Krazy and Kare-free Clowns, country man with his spouse, and all the other characters who created the real atmosphere of the saw dust ring.

There was a buzz of anticipation as the handsome red-coated, black-booted ring master (they say "his" name was L. McCormick) cleared the ring and announced the first big performance listed as:

I.—Klever Klass Performers.
Something beautiful .... Smilin' Thru
Something musical ..... The Goofus
Something sentimental .... Evolution
Something sensational ..... Trained Ponies

The other numbers followed:
II.—Wild Animal Act.
III.—The Tight Ropes charm
IV—Madame Fifi.
V.—A Dance Surprise.
VI.—The Rollicking Rope Revue
VII.—The Cowboy Show.
VIII.—Madame Abradaba.
IX.—A Humanly Possible Act.
X.—Klever Klowns
XI.—Acrobats.
XII.—The Crowning of the Circus Queen.

The Grand Parade

At intermissions the crowd bought balloons, pink lemonade, hot dogs, confetti, novelties, ice cream, and all the other circus "gee jaws" from the gaily decorated booths.

The side shows offered other fea-

(Continued on last page.)

"THE HUMANLY POSSIBLE ACT" WINS CIRCUS PRIZE

At the conclusion of the circus performance, immediately preceding the crowning of the queen, the ring-master announced the winner of the stunt contest. Delta Sigma Chi received the prize of five dollars for putting on the cleverest and most attractive of the ring performances.

The judges gave honorable mention to the Choral Club presentation, "A Dance Surprise" as being the most beautiful an dto the French Circle's act as being the most amusing.

There were two acts, the animal act and the tumblers that did not compete for the prize. Both of these were unusually good. However, they were not organization stunts, but were contributed as part of the circus.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Assistant Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '28

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

JOAN SPEAKS

Joan speaks, and a hush falls on the campus, for it seems as if her spirit has come riding, riding back over the white cold snow which is silvered by the moon beams. Why do you come back through the ages, Joan , to pause for a while by a college sleeping perhaps dreaming, while the white snow falls? Whom do you seek, Maid of Orleans? Joan speaks, for she senses the needs of her children and she pauses a while in her ride of dreams—her rides of dreams in the white snow, to linger a while near her children and whisper dreams of a future, a future of hope as painted on the snow by the moonbeams as they tumble down to earth. Joan speaks and we sense the spirit of Christmas; as the Christmas years ago. We remember the wise men bringing their gifts from afar t o the sleeping babe. "It is of them I speak for you, my daughters, you are as the wise men bringing your gifts from afar. It matters not the gift you bring; it is the spirit in which you bring it. That applies to material gifts, my daughters. There are other gifts, also; the gift of a heart, tears, hands; the heart is the gift of gold, the tears of tinkling silver, and the hands of purest pearl. These gifts are God gifts; it matters not to whom they go, for there is God in all and to Him will go His own." Joan speaks—and the sleeping colleges wakes to find the Christmas spirit symbolized by the white, drifted snow.

WORD REFLECTIONS

It has often been said that actions speak louder than words —that actions reveal ones character while words play only a minor part. Actions, actions, actions, the press, the individual thoughts, the world has much to say about actions. A man is great because he has done "that," he is little because he has or has not done "this." But how about the words! In this little school-world of ours where no one is great and where we are in the making of character and where over a thousand girls are present, how could an occasional good or bad deed be ones judgment of a girl when we know that one often builds on mistakes. However, again, how about the language she uses? Does careless use of speech ever lead to higher things?

A girl is judged by words she uses, she can't be a girl of the highest character and use the lowest language, she can't think high thoughts and say low things—not if she knows better. Ignorance is a forgiveness or at least an alibi for many things, but lack of the highest type of refinement—whether one be a prince or a pauper, a social leader or an outcast—is the only thing that can account for vulgarism. God gave us a language,—beautiful, expressive, clean, and pure. Those of a lower order supplied words because their thoughts were not high enough to be expressed with God-given words. So there are words and words; we are judged by the words we use, and one word can often tear down the effect on others of a dozen good actions.

BUSY WORLD BITS

President Coolidge informed the Republican Party and the country on December 6 that he regards himself as eliminated from the presidential campaign of 1928. This announcement was made in a speech delivered by the President to members of the National Republican Committee, who called on him at the White House. He advised his party to set itself seriously to the task of selecting another candidate.

President Coolidge December 6 sent to Congress a lengthy message on the state of union. He reported that the state of the union is good and the country as a whole has had a prosperity never exceeded.

When President Coolidge is taken by battleship Texas from Key West to Havana for the Pan-American conference which will convene on January 16, he will be the first American President to travel on a battle ship for seventeen years, according to Navy Department record. On November 10, 1910 President Taft went on the battleship Tennessee.

Ever since the signing of the Treaty of Versailes jealousies and resentments have been growing in Europe's two historic trouble centers, the Balkans and the Baltic. The gravest of the two situations, according to The World Review, is the Polish-Lithuanian quarrel. This is now before the League of Nation's Council which is meeting in Geneva on its regular December session. The Balkans, the other danger spot which is likely to disrupt world peace, has often been referred to as "the powder keg of wars" and it still holds true.

ALUMNAE NOTES

An interesting message has come to the Rotunda from one of the alumnae chapters through Mrs. Grace Loftis Hite, secretary- treasurer:

On November 16 the Farmville Alumnae Chapter of Prince William County held a business meeting in the Bennet School, Manassas. Miss Selina Hindle, of Haymarket, was appointed to represent our chapter at the meeting of Farmville alumnae in Richmond. There is a promise of a social feature in the near future. We are looking forward to this event.

The "girls" in Prince William who belong to the F. S. T. C. alumnae wish the readers of the Rotunda to know that they are boosters for their Alma Mater.

The following telegram has been received by Mrs. D. E. Strain, president of the Mary Custis Lee, U. D. C. Chapter, Lexington, Va., from Mrs. W. A. Roberts, president Virginia Division, U. D. C.

"The Virginia Division congratulates you on the honor which Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy has brought to your chapter and to our division by her brilliant essay on Admiral Raphael Semmes, for which she has won the $50 prize, the highest historical prize offered by the general U. D. C."

Mrs. Flournoy was Miss Mary Hannah (Birdie) Boyd. She has won many prizes through her articles on Southern history, and has delivered several addresses on similar topics.

Miss Ruth Elfreth Friend was married in August to Dr. Palmer Augustine Shelbourne, of Baltimore, Md. After her graduation from Farmville S. T. C., Mrs. Shelbourne taught in the primary grades of the public schools of Richmond. Dr. Shelbourne is a native of Richmond, and is now located with the United States Marine Hospital in Baltimore.

Honest bread is very well—it's the butter that makes the temptation.—Jerrold.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

It is interesting to note that $105,000 has been appropriated to the Fredericksburg State Teachers College for the erection of a new training school. —The Bullet.

The College Orchestra at William and Mary is planning an extensive trip to Europe for this coming summer. Two summers ago the orchestra made a tour of the Continent where it won quite a reputation and brought considerable publicity to William and Mary.—The Flat Hat. Congratulations W. & M.!

With the conclusion of the hockey season at William and Mary, soccer will become the outstanding sport until the end of December.—The Flat Hat.

In 1775 the V. P. I. campus was the scene of an Indian massacre when a band of Shawnee Indians came upon Drapers Meadow, now the campus, and totally destroyed a small settlement. An inscription on a small bridge indicates the approximate scene of the massacre.—The Virginia Tech.

It is said that the origin of football dates back to the tenth century when the victorious Danes, using the skulls of vanquished Englishmen, played the first known game.—The Virginia Tech.

The annual Thanksgiving fox hunt was an event of much interest and excitement at Sweet Briar.—The Sweet Briar News.

Harvard University has entered into a contract with the Pathe Exchange, Inc., of New York, for preparing a series of pictures dealing with different scientific subjects, to be known as the Pathe Science series. —Erskine Mirror.

Freedom in the use of cars at Oxford has been limited by a new code of rules recently made. Freshmen are denied the ownership of cars and Sophomores can own them only by a special license with limted privileges. Their cars cannot be marked by cartoons and drawings which usually cover cars of American students.—The Breeze.

A WEEK BEFORE CHRISTMAS

'Tis a week before Christmas,
And all through the school
We pay no attention
To one single rule.
Each girl's heart grows lighter
As her thoughts homeward fly,
Ands he sighs with relief
As each long day goes by.
Examinations are here,
But you can tell by our groans
That it's useless to study
With Christmas filled bones.
If we are asked who is President,
Or who won the great wars,
Can we be blamed much
If we say, "Santa Claus"?
Every girl and the faculty
Of dear S. T. C.
Are as brim full of Christmas
Cheer as can be.
So if we hear some queer squeals
Or a strange vocal outburst,
We know it just heralds
The immortal tyenty-first!

A Christmas carol service will be given Monday night December 19, by the Choral Club and the Training School in the auditorium. Everyone is invited to come.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches...
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

VISION

The falling snowflakes are a veil
Of misted Time
Through which I dimly see
The Christmas days of all the years
The loves, the hopes, the fears
Of Time

Three trudging figures then I see
The Holy Three
Wise men following the star
To the lowly bed afar
The Christ—

A gleam of silver light I see
The guiding star
The light grows brighter as I gaze
The vision calls and I must go
I must follow through the snow
The Star—

—M. B. B.

STAR

Christmas Eve—
A midnight sky
Lit by a thousand stras.
Low in the East one star
Rises—
Begins its march
Across the sky,
Behold! it moves no more.
Slowly it reaches down
To bless the earth—
God's watchful eye
Above a lowly inn.

—C. H. '29

CHRISTMAS NIGHT

Night covers the city;
The snow lies like a blanket;
Ugly houses become beautiful;
Romance covers the world;
It is Christmas.

In the meanest house
There is happiness,
For the spirit of the Christ Child
Brings Peace.

—L. M. B.

SILVER TINSEL

Silver tinsel—shining like a tiny rainbow, beneath the rays of Christmas lights—blue, green and red.

Silver tinsel—rumpled and crushed in a paste-board box, tucked in a dusty attic corner waiting the gayeties of December festivities.

Hearts—happy with the love of someone, the knowledge—the sweetness of knowing "someone" is caring always.

Hearts, like silver tinsel in the dark attic corner, tucked away on a shelf till someone comes along claiming them for their own.

—F. W. '29

VESPER PROGRAM FOR CHRISTMAS WEEK

Continued from page one

the glory of living for others.
The Carpenter of Galilee
Comes down the street again.
In every land, in every age,
He sill is building men.
On Christmas Eve we hear Him! knock—
He goes f rom door to door:
"Are any workmen out of work?
The Carpenter needs more."

Just think, in three more weeks we will be back at school again.

PLANS ON SANTA'S VISIT BY THE OLD MAN AND HIS WIFE

Well, Mrs. Claus, I remember that there's a State Teachers College down in old Virginia. I hear they call it Farmville and that the faculty works so-o-o-o hard. I'm going to see that they have a nice Christmas. Call off their names so I can plan what to take them.

Yes, Dr. Walmsley, is first on the list. My dear, I'm going to bring him a nice big chair for his desk. Why a chair? Every time I have ever gone scouting down there I've seen him lecturing to his classes. He always has to stand and he gets so tired he leans on a little cabinet. Oh, I know he'd enjoy a deck chair.

Mr. Jeffers is next? Who are those boys he runs around with? Dr. Simkins and Mr. McGorkle? I'm going to bring them a puddle jumper to ride down to Shannon's on. They have to go every day after chapel and I know they get worn out.

Miss Barnes? Oh, what must I take her? Something to interest her future classes in Journalism in the text book? That's the very thing, I'll take her.

Yes, there is Mr. Bell too. Don't you think a little aeroplane to ride to and from classes would be nice He always has to walk so fast and he said himself that a student of philosophy must walk deliberately.

Mrs. Claus, I won't take Miss Grenels a geography book. She already ha too many. I intend to take her a stop watch so she can always tell when to let her classes go. She has the awful habit of keeping them overtime—perfectly innocent I assure you, so I know she'll like the stop watch.

While we are thinking about geography, I'm certainly going to take Miss Waters an automatic "map puller." She has so much trouble "see-sawing" her maps up and down.

I certainly am going to take Miss Maude K. Taliaferro a package of chewing gum, and a tin drum. She loves gum and noise.

Mrs. Claus, go collect many dainty powder puffs and frilly dresses for Miss Iler. I'm going to take her some bright red lip stick flavored with good old cinnamon, too. She just loves such things.

I'm going to take Miss Turner a Choral Club who will watch her face instead of the music while singing. Then, there's Assembly, too. I'm going to take her a hymn book with not a single familiar hymn in it. She says its so much nicer to sing new ones.

Miss Barlow wrote me a letter

(Continued on last page)

CIRCUS MENAGERIE

NEW MEMBERS OF THE COTILLION CLUB

The Cotillion Club wishes to announces the following girls as new members:

Frances Davidson
Jane Hunt Martin
Lelia Smith
Mabel Bradshaw
Lula Turner
Jane Venable
Caroline DeWitt
Harriett DeWitt
Sarah Williams
Beth Brockenborough
Mary Ellington
Dolly Latane
Mary Beasley
Martha Lanier
Elizabeth Ferrell
Jinx Grimes
Alice Covington
Virginia Bull
Mary Bernard
Mildred Jackson
Margaret Hoskins
Elizabeth Rivercomb
Virginia Keister
Margaret Pumphrey
Elsa Gudheim
Elizabeth Munn
Dolly Reed
Mary Taliaferro
Florence McIntyre
Chris Royall
Elizabeth Lacy
Elizabeth Miller
Virginia Goode
Vivian Young
Frankie Roberts
Eleanor Webb
Elizabeth Peake
Flora Martin
Betty Randall
Sarah Baker
Frances Millican
Elizabeth Houchins
Claudia Fleming
Frances Thornton
Ann Withers
Elizabeth Turner
Yancie Brooking
Mildred Landis
Mary Simmerman
Virginia Walker
Margaret Tompkins
Minnie Mae Brown
Blanche Price
Virginia Cobb
Banna Price Massey
Ida Chapman
Sarah Chapman
Emily Gale
Ethel Weld

ANNIE'S CHRISTMAS

Before the show-window of a small shop on a narrow street stood a ragged little figure, nose flattened against the frosty glass. It was Christmas Eve, but Annie had forgotten the cold in the delightful display before her eyes. To those in better circumstances the articles might have appeared shabby, for their values suited the pocketbooks of the shop's customers. To her, they were wonderful. She had gone to the grocery store, and the small package under her arm contained Christmas dinner for her mother and herself. The glitter of the Christmas things had compelled her to stop on the way back, as it had so many times before.

There were all sorts of things on display in the window, but the dolls especially attracted her. Oh, how she longed for one of those dolls! Even the one whose nose was a littlemis-shapen was beautiful. If she could just hold it for a little while! She wondered why Santa Claus never brought her a doll. She knew of little girls to whom he did bring dolls. Once, a long time ago, he had even brought her one. Now, every year he always brought her a pair of inexpensive shoes and sometimes a dress, but never a doll. Didn't he know that the other one was gone?

Suddenly Annie realized that it was getting late, and she must hurry. With one last look at the window she faced the wind and trudged on. Arriving at the old tenement which she knew as home, she ran upstairs to repeat to Mother, who worked so hard, the glories of the shop window.

After a scanty meal Annie went to bed and dreamed she went on a journey with Santa Claus. It was a delightful trip! The bells on the reindeer jingled and jingled louder and louder until Annie awoke to hear the church bells pealing forth their message of good cheer.

There, at the foot of the bed, were a new pair of shoes and a new dress. They were nicer than the ones she'd gotten on other Christmases. She jumped out of bed and eagerly put them on.

She was gaily prancing around before her mother, who though cheerful, seemed just a little sad, when there was a knock at the door. Annie rushed to open it, and then stepped back in surprise. Two beautiful ladies were standing there with a large basket. Annie thought she had never seen such pretty ladies with such rosy cheeks. And she could tell that the basket was ful of lovely things.

With a cheery "Merry Christmas", the two ladies set the basket in the middle of the floor at Annie's feet. After Annie's mother had thanked them with tears in her eyes, they left, saying they had other packages to deliver.

What a fine time Annie and her mother had opening presents! There were clothes, food, fruit, and candy! Mother grew as happy and gay as Annie. But when Annie opened the last package she squealed with delight. It was a doll! And such a pretty doll! And it had clothes besides those it wore!

If the two ladies could have seen would have felt fully repaid for what they had done.

—M. M. '31

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century ....
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

We wish you
A Merry Christmas

May joyousness and well-being be yours in fullest measure on this gladsome holiday.

DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Mary Tucker: "Do you use Colgate's tooth paste?"
Billy Booth: "No, I don't room with her this year."

Pannie: "That boy you are going with is a bad egg."
Red: "Yes, I know. That's the reason I'm afraid to drop him."

Mary Rigby really thinks Roman numerals are athletic awards at the University of Rome.

Bradley: "You're a girl after my own heart."
Ann P.: "Good."
Bradley: "But that's no sign you'll get it."

Another bed time story—Once upon a time two Scotchmen made a bet.

Someone said: "Silence is golden," but Billie and Susie Belle don't believe it.—Do you?

Morris: "Is he stingy?"
Sawyer: "Stingy? He wouldn't give you a peep if he owned Lookout Mountain."

Stewpan: "I hear you got caught in the rain, Mr. Bell?
Bell: "Yes, and I got ringing wet."

Humpty: "A little bird told me you were going to buy me a diamond brooch for Christmas?"
Abe: "It must have been a little cuckoo."

Munn: "What are you thinking about?"
Tompkins: "Thanks for the compliment."

Merry: "You know what the Gold Dust Twins said, don't you?"
Christmas: "No, what?"
Merry: "Lux against us!"

Happy: "What do you say, huh?"
New: "I say huh. What do you say, huh?"
Year: "Huh!"

Voice over phone: "Is this the lady who washes?"
Society Sweet: "Indeed! I should say not."
Voice: "Oh, you dirty thing."

Jane Hunt: "Do you have Prince Albert in a can?"
Service: "Yes, madame, we do."
Jane Hunt: "Let him out."
—The Pointer

"Have one?"
"Don't care to."
"I didn't say two."

Merry Christmas to all and no joking.

A little knowledge scattered o'er,
A period of four years or more,
Then what is it that you create?
A wise S. T. C. Graduate.

APPRECIATION FROM ALPHA DELTA RHO

The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho wishes to thank every individual and every organization that contributed and helped make the College Circus a success. Miss Thomas, Miss Barlow, and Miss Tupper deserve special thanks for their cooperation. It would be impossible to specify further, because everybody contributed everything necessary for success. Every minute of work was appreciated.

PIANO CONCERT BY RUSSIAN ARTIST

Continued from page one

tribute of breathless silence. He is a true artist.

It is difficult to make selections from such a consistently high order of merit, but one feels impelled to mention the Beethoven's Turkish March, Ginka's Lark, and the Campanella by Liszt. The writer has heard Chopin's Valse, D flat major, played by three of the world's famous artists, but Mr. Sklarevski's beautiful rendition of this surpassed them all.

SPANISH AND FRENCH BAZAAR HELD

Continued from page one

Jane Read Venable.

In the Pyrenees Mountains there was a Bureau de Penseignement, where English was spoken, and where visitors were given information concerning France and Spain.

The whole affair was attractively arranged and the desired effect was cleverly carried out.

PLANS ON SANTA'S VISIT BY THE OLD MAN AND HIS WIFE

saying how much she liked extremely high heeled slippers. I'm going to take her a pair of nice cut out sandals with rhinestone studded, three and one-half inch heels.

Mrs. Claus, I'm tired of working on this list. The others aren't so particular, I know, so I'm just going to take them the first thing I think of, candy and oranges, and things.

You say Mr. Coyner is very particular? Mrs. Claus, you would have a last word. If you insist I'll take him that tricycle. He might speed terrably, but I guess I'll have to risk it. Children just won't think of danger.

Certainly, but Mr. Grainger is the last one I'll list. I'll just take him a speedometer. He just doesn't realize how fast he talks. One hundred and eighty words a minute is his slowest. He'll improve though, I'm sure. He's just carefree. Good night, Mrs. Claus, he lost his sentence at faculty meeting the other night he was going so fast. Good night, pleasant dreams.

* * * *

Mrs. Claus, why wake me up at this time of a night? Are there burglars in the house? You just wanted to remind me of Dr. Wynne's present? Yes, of course, I intend to take him his usual book of jokes. The girls must have something to laugh at in his class next term and he's used up all he knew. Don't worry, Mrs. Claus, I'll look about for that faculty. I won't forget a one of them. I must remind them, too, that the student body asked me to wish them a Merry, Merry Christmas!

Education is the chief defense of nations.—Burke.

Our acts make or mar us—we are the children of our deed.—V. Hugo.

S. T. C. GIRLS' LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

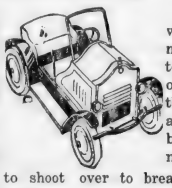
Dearest Mr. Santa Claus:

There are many things we need for Christmas, but most of all I want some nice, healthy girls who won't be getting sick and then wanting excuses.

MISS MARY

Dear Sir:

I appreciated your visit last year. Inclosed you will find one wish. Please bring me a sled so I can coast all the way to Annapolis.



Thanking you, I remain,
Very truly yours,
ANNA BURGESS

Santa Claus, My Dear:

How is Mrs. Claus? We have thought of something unselfish we want for Christmas. Won't you please bring us sound-proof walls, so when we talk all night we won't keep the whole hall awake.

Give our love to the little Clauses.
"WEISIE" AND "TOOTSIE"

Dearest Mr. Clause:

I have the worst habit of never getting to breakfast on time, so I thought I'd ask you to bring me a nice little car to shoot over to breakfast in by 7:30.

As ever,
GLADYS SLEDD

Dear Santa:

As you know next year is leap year, so we thought we would like a little Ford truck to go around and try to find a husband. We felt sure we should take advantage of next leap year as leap years come so seldom.

Gratefully yours,
ANN DEFFENBAUGH
MABEL FITZPATRICK

Dear Santy:

I want you to bring me an interpreter, so my friends and teachers can understand me. I am not a foreigner, but I talk so very fast that people can not catch what I say.

EMMA WOODS

Dearest Mr. Claus:

I have been very busy in my store this year so have not had much time to spare. I want you to bring me a new hat. I have to wear mine all the time, and it is a little worn from use.

You must come over and buy some of our sandwiches sometime.

MR. DANNY GILLIAM

Dearest Santa Claus:

Won't you please bring us something that will make us look like the other S. T. C. girls.

HELEN DAVIDSON
MARGARET FERGUSON
BLANCHE MURRELL
ALICE WILEY

Dear Santa Claus:

Won't you please bring me some nice Hampden-Sidney boys who won't take our girls out riding. We are so tired and sleepy.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Dearest Santa Claus:

Will you please bring us a good excuse to go down town. You might add a wheel barrow to ride up and down the campus, for we are so tired of walking.

Yours until campus becomes a thing of the past at S. T. C.

MIGNONNE AND DOT

COLLEGE CIRCUS A GREAT SUCCESS

Continued from page one

ures to enjoy—The Chamber of Horors, Fortune Teller, Funny Paper Characters, Bluebeard's Wives, Curiosity Shop, Ventriloquist, Snake Charmer, the Big Freak Show, and Madame Jolly's Waxworks.

Every act was very good and was well presented. The Wild Animal Act was one of the cleverest features Elephants, monkeys, dogs, an alligator (awful to behold) a giraffe, a trained seal (an excellent performer) and other animals bounced balls, stood on small pedestals, and acted generally under the "remarkable demonstration of human control" of ring master, McCormick.

The Cowboys rode their wild horses well and displayed great skill in riding stunts.

The Acrobats deserved the applause with which each of their stunts was greeted. Acrobats, "Jackie" Woodson, "Punk" Hatchett, M. Finch and E. Moore, showed special facility in the crowd of well trained "tumblers". One faculty member so far forgot herself as to cry excitedly, "O, I'm so afraid the girls will break their necks. It's really dangerous."

Ferree Crowned Queen

The last big event was the crowning of the Queen. Voting was carried on for several days and great curiosity was aroused as to who the queen would be. She was carried in on the shoulders of attendants and followed by the whole circus retinue. Every circus must have a queen, so Ringmaster McCormick crowned Anne Ferree queen of the College Circus.

After the grand parade, informal dancing was enjoyed until eleven. The costumes of the performers, the balloons and confetti gave the hour of dancing a true carnival air. Music for dancing and for the whole circus was furnished by the Hampden-Sidney Orchestra.

Circus Success Result of Cooperation

Every girl who took part in the circus worked hard. Not one called upon, failed to put forth her best efforts and everyone worked together. Both organizations and individuals were brought to feel that they were a part of the big project. Alpha Delta Rho honor society carried out its purpose well in presenting successfully for the benefit of the student body the first big cooperative project which has been given in the school.

JUST ARRIVED
500 prs. French Kid Gloves
to go on Sale at
$2.25 to $2.95
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At Eaco Theatre

MON.—Pete Morrison and his wonder horse "Lightning" in "THE ESCAPE" the most spectacular riding picture ever filmed! Rocky mountains, steep trails, daring horsemen, a bank robbery followed by a whirl of hoofs as the plucky cowboy thunders in pursuit until he meets his quarry upon a high cliff and—but you simply must see this picture to learn how it turns out. Also Pathe News. Mat. at 4.

TUES.—Frances X Bushman, Billie Dove and an excellent supporting cast in 'THE MARRIAGE CLAUSE' a big special production. A powerful dramatic story of a woman's love so that she might win stage fame—and broke her heart. This is no ordinary picture. It is a great production, lavishly produced. Also serial. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

WED.—Tom Mix and Tony the wonder horse in 'THE CIRCUS ACE' A special production. A colorful romance of a beautiful circus performer and a dare-devil rider of the old plains. All the fun, excitement, suspense, and thrills of a western rodeo and a circus combined in the best picture Tom Mix ever made. Also an Aesop Fable, and a Buster Brown comedy. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—Marguerite de la Motte in "HELD BY THE LAW" a big special production. You'll feel the chills creeping up and down your spine. Your heart will pound. Your eyes will pop. Your brain will hum with perplexity. For this is the most fascinating mystery melodrama of the year. Do not miss this one. Also comedy.

FRI.—House Peters in the big special production "PRISONERS OF THE STORM" from the great James Oliver Curwood novel. If you were buried alive behind a wall of ice and snow with three men who loved you—if one were suspected of your father's murder—which would you choose? Also comedy.

SAT.—Marion Nixon, Robert Agnew and Otis Harlan in "DOWN THE STRETCH" a special production. The lure of the track, the call of speed and sport, fying hoofs, the jockey who starved to win. Thrilling drama in ever yfoot of this great race track epic, a picture that'll stay in your memory for months. Also good comedy.

INTER-CLASS GAMES SATURDAY NIGHT

THE ROTUNDA

POE

SING WITH THE JUNIORS MONDAY

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1928 NO. 12

INTERCOLLEGIATE PRESS ASSOCIATION TO BE ORGANIZED IN VIRGINIA

S. T. C. and H. S. C. to Be Joint Host and Hostess

The result of work that has been going on for some time is now coming to a head in an Intercollegiate Press Association of the State of Virginia which is being organized and will meet on the 10th and 11th of February at Farmville. At this time the representatives of the publications of all the leading A-1 colleges in Virginia will be the guests of the editors of the publications of Farmville State Teachers College and Hampden-Sidney College. This first meeting will not only be for the purpose of organizing but will also derive other benefits. Capable speakers are being obtained who will aid editors, business managers and other members of weekly and bi-monthly papers, magazines and annuals.

Encouragement has been met on every side concerning plans for this organization. Mr. J. B. Wall, former president of the State Press Association is behind the movement while the Lion's Club has promised its support. All the leading colleges have expressed an interest or a desire to become a member.

Such an organization has proven to be of great benefit in other states. Virginia colleges will soon be reaping those beenfits derived from an Intercollegiate Press Association which has heretofore been denied them.

COMING—"MIXINS"

Have you ever seen two men fight over a girl and then see the girl get the laugh on both of them? Have you ever seen an absent-minded physician make a big mistake? And how about a dumb thief out-doing a judge? They're three of the ten stunts that are going to be given in "Mixens" Friday night right after supper. It is rumored that there will be ten continuous performances, six of which are taken from the 1927 Tricky Review given in Roanoke last summer. It will be snappy and different.

WELL, WELL, WELL

The S. T. C. Dramatic Club takes pleasure in announcing the first play of the season, "Trelawney of the Wells," by PINERO, which will be given Friday, January 20 at 8 P. M. in the auditorium. To the old girls this is an announcement of joy; to the new, one of anticipation.

Miss Trelawney is an actress at the Wells. She marries a wealthy aristocrat, but finds it hard to fit into his life. She leaves him and goes back to the stage in search of love and happiness. However, the best way to enjoy the story is to see the play.

COMMISSION ON VIRGINIA EDUCATION REPORTS

Much interest has been aroused throughout the State over the report made public December 30, by the Commission to Survey the Education System of Virginia.

The Commission recommended, along with other suggestions, the discontinuance of V. M. I. as a State military institution, the abolition of all State scholarships, the appointment of a chancellor as the head of all State institutions of higher learning, coordination of the work of all institutions of higher learning into a single unified system and the establishment of a separate college for women in the undergraduate field of liberal arts. The Commission reports that there is duplication of work at the ten State institutions, causing unnecessary expense.

The State Teachers College at Harrisonburg was chosen by the Commission to be made into a liberal arts college, [illegible] of Virginia.

The University of Virginia was given the field of all graduate instruction work and all liberal art work was restricted to University of Virginia and William and Mary in the recommendations.

The Commission suggested the abolition of pre-medical courses at the

(Continued on last page)

TO THE NEW GIRLS

The New Year brings with it many nice things, and this year it brought to us thirty new girls. We don't know them all yet but we are learning them fast, and we hope they are beginning to know and like us. We are indeed glad to have them and hope they will soon feel at home. We also have some old girls who returned to us, and whom we are glad to welcome back.

The new students registered up to date are:

Grace Mahon
Venna Grubb
Margaret Ames
Edna Booker
Louise Glass
Dona Simmons
Lucille Simmons
Ruth Blackard
Clayton Fields
Alma Langford
Esther Gary
Martha E. Bass
Mrs. Blanford Anderson
Margaret Northcross
Frances Bell
Mildred Steed
Ruby Phillips
Myra Reese
Mary Cox
Mary Farrier
Ella Osborne
Maude English
Alice Wimbish
Elizabeth Hairston

VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Feb. 3—Harrisonburg	there
Feb. 11—Fredericksburg	here
Feb. 17—Radford	there
Mar. 3—Radford	here
Mar. 9—Fredericksburg	there

'eanette: "Oh, I'm sorry. Was it

BASKET BALL VARSITY SELECTED

The fall quarter has left and carried with it Thanksgiving Day and its college synonym—hockey, but the winter quarter is here bringing with it the most popular of sports for girls—basketball. And with the coming of the winter quarter the thoughts of all S. T. C. girls naturally turn to the intercollegiate and interclass basketball games.

Practices have been held for some time and much interest has been shown in all the classes. The final test will come on Saturday night when the Sophomores will meet the Freshmen and the Juniors will combat the Seniors for the points toward the athletic cup.

The varsity squad has been picked and is practicing hard to meet Harrisonburg on February 3 at Harrisonburg. The squad is composed of the following girls:

Hardy (f)	J. Jones (j. c.)
Frame (g)	E. Coleman (g)
Hatchett (g)	A. Hutchinson (j. c.)
Erdman (g)	L. N. Smith (f.—j. c.)
A. Oliver (s. c.)	L. M. Smith (f.)
Wilkerson (f.)	Atwater (s. c.)
Palmer (s. c.)	Roundtree (g)
Gurley (j. c.)	Sturgis (f)
Clements (j. c.)	March (s. c.)

ROTUNDA CLASS ISSUES BEGIN NEXT WEEK

There is much rivalry between classes in athletics, but once every year the classes have a hot literary contest. Each class edits one issue of the Rotunda. These class issues are always looked forward to with much interest.

The Freshman class will publish the first issue, which will come out January 18. After that the Sophomore class will edit the next one, and then the Junior class, and the Senior class.

The judges have not been chosen yet, but they will come from the faculty. The issues will be judged according to the material, the originality, and the arrangement of material on the page.

No member of the present Rotunda staff can serve on the class staffs. This will eliminate any hard feelings, whatsoever, between classes, and will give each one an equal chance.

The Senior issue last year was judged as the best. Who will get it this year?

The following class editors-in-chief have been elected:

Freshman ..... Virginia Pettigrew
Sophomores .. Mary Frances Shepard
Junior ..... Julia Wilson
Senior ..... Ella Louise Moore

S. T. C. DELEGATES ATTEND STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE IN DETROIT

Christian Leaders Discuss the World's Problems

A delegation of seven people from S. T. C. attended the Tenth Quadrennial Student Volunteer Conference at Detroit, Mich., December 28—January 1. The Conference was held for the purpose of discussing foreign missions in the light of the teachings of Jesus Christ. The purpose was realized through the Conference program consisting of lectures, sermons, discussion groups, plays, formal and informal social contacts.

Four thousand people most of whom were students attended the conference. Practically every nation and race on earth were represented.

The programs of the conference were planned to concentrate the attention of many minds upon some of the most difficult questions connected with the Christian world enterprise. People from many lands spoke about Christianity in their lands, and their personal experiences with Christ. Na[illegible] China Japan, India, Africa, Phillippines, and South America did much to increase the understanding and sympathy of many ignorant and misinformed Americans.

One of the dominant notes of the conference was the expression of dissatisfaction with Christianity as it is today as opposed to the infinite satisfaction of realism of "life abundant"

Continued on page three

VIRGINIA'S TOWER OF SINGING BELLS

In the coming session of General Assembly, ten years after the Armistice, the question of Virginia's memorial to her men of the World War will be brought up. The memorial committee after a campaign to determine what the public preferred decided in favor of a carillon. The carillon is indeed a fitting memorial. If a monument were erected only those people who could see it could enjoy it by means of the radio the music of the carillon can be broadcast all over Virginia and the United States. It is quite fair that those people who sent their boys to war should hear the music from "the tower of singing bells." To them the carillon will bring back memories of those days of pain and peace, those days of disaster and triumphs. Every gold star mother will hear in the music of the bells the voice of the boy she lost, every veteran will be stirred by the familiar [illegible] of 1917.

The carillon has been designed. All that remains now is to get the necessary funds for its construction. It is understood that during this session of Congress the General Assembly will be in a position to appropiate the funds for the memorial. If the people of Virginia cooperate with the Carillon Committee the carillon will perhaps be a thing of the near future.

PEP MEETINGS

Pep meetings will begin next week and will continue throughout the basketball season. For the past few years pep meetings have lagged and have not been interesting. Now an effort is being made to raise the school pep and spirit up to its standard.

Cheer leaders will be on hand at the games Saturday night to lead their classes in cheering the teams on to victory. From the class cheer leaders, those for the college will be chosen and they will conduct pep meetings for the season.

Our teams must be sent away with pep and enthusiasm when they leave for another college; and they must be supported at home by yells and more school spirit. The only way in which enthusiasm of the student body can be shown is through regular pep meetings.

In order to keep these meetings going and backed by the proper spirit it is necessary to have the best cheer leaders possible.

The student body's support is needed to back the cheer leaders and make this year a record breaker in enthusiasm, spirit, and pep.

THE DEEP SECRET IS OUT

It leaked out gradually; now it's all over school and everyone is talking about "it." We heard someone say that there would be some fine solo dances, a violin solo, and a musical reading. We just can't wait! Just yesterday in the hall some one remarked that "Red" and "Pannie" were going to sing a duet, so of course we can't miss that! It is rumored that the Freshman Orchestra will be on hand and everyone knows that they are Paul Whitman's rivals. Of course, you yourself have heard that the "Tumblers" are going to do their famous "Tumbling Act," and right now we'll let you in on a secret.

The Tumblers 'way last fall began to practice, and they became famous over night. In fact, the Circus leaders heard about their tumbling and immediately hired the whole troupe. To night we heard that there was to be the cutest grotesque dance and a Spanish dance. We are wondering now what we'll hear tomorrow. Well, whatever it is we know it will be good because the Juniors are giving it. Don't tell us you haven't heard! What!

Why, the "Junior Sing" is to be given Monday night and it's all over school. What they're going to have? —We never heard of quite so much for just a nickel and a dime, but it's the truth—the admission, is only 15 CENTS.

Going! Well, I reckon I am!

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

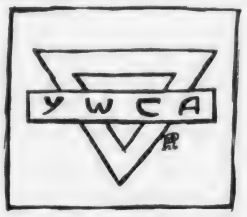
Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials



DISILLUSIONMENT

It's strange how so many people talk about being disillusioned in people and things, itsn't it? First, some girl confesses to be disillusioned in some other girl, while some other girl is sadly disillusioned in a group of girls, or in some existing condition. Just like so many other words, this one seems often to be used in excess. Often that attitude is due to the girl herself and not to an existing condition. It is often the result of a superiority complex. Of course some of these feelings are logical, but yet many more are states of mind. The younger generation, especially the type that becomes disillusioned is idealistic, perhaps too much so at times. When we see a few of these ideals shattered, we at once become discontented and rather disappointed in things. What we need to do is to get ourselves down to a more realistic attitude with a desire to do what little improvement we can in the small circle we can influence. We will become more satisfied that way and we will find that things aren't quite as bad as they seemed after all. After all, happiness is a big thing in our lives and we can't be happy if we are always becoming disillusioned and disappointed in people and things. We just have to do the best we can and look at this old world as a grand old place to live after all. That's a theory that has worked for me. Try it.

0

THE LINE OF DEMARCATION

There is an invisible line of demarcation which divides the students of S. T. C. into two divisions. During certain seasons of the school year it seems to be very decided and during others isn't quite so obvious. It doesn't class students according to race, sex, color, previous school attended or anything like that. It doesn't even divide them according to their class colors. In fact, it seems to cut in among the classes and seek out individuals, quite a number of individuals, and holds them divided from the others away from pep meetings. All last year the cheer leader called pep meetings and very few people came. How disheartening it was to the teams to see such a few people and to see always the same ones at pep meetings. How can they play their best games whe the student body doesn't seem to be backing them? It takes cooperation on all sides to put out a winning team. That line of demarcation isn't necessary and it isn't wanted. Let's not have it this year.

Welcome to the newcomers!

The Y. W. C. A. wishes to extend a hearty welcome to the new students entering school this term. We feel sure that there is a great deal of new material and talent to be found among these students. We are glad to have you with us.

A note of thanks has been received from the Cripple Childrens Hospital at Richmond, acknowledging the gift sent them before Christmas. Sincere appreciation and enthusiasm was expressed over the interest shown by the S. T. C. girls. The money sent will be used to clothe a little cripple girl during the coming year.

The head of the hospital extended an invitation to any member of the student body to visit their hospital and see the work they are doing.

BUSY WORLD BITS

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is on another good-will flight. He made the first non-stop flight between Washington, D. C., and Mexico City and is now on a tour of good-will of the Pan-American countries. Everyone, from president to peon, hailed him with jubilant welcome. He hopes to reach Havana, Cuba in time to take part in the sixth Pan-American Congress which opens there, January 16.

It is said that the largest naval building program in United States history is before Congress with the calls for an expenditure of approximately $725,000,000 within the next five years. What does this mean?

President Coolidge has appointed Henry L. Stimpson to the important post of Governor-General of Philippines. Mr. Stimson's appointment is looked upon favorably by Filipinos and Americans alike.

"The Dawn" with Mrs. Grayson and and three other passengers on Dec. 23 left Roosevelt field for England. With its disappearance four more lives have been added to the list of "missing at sea."

The naval investigations into the sinking of the submarine S-4 by the coast guard destroyer Pauling off Provincetown on Dec. 17, with the loss of forty lives was begun January 4. A great deal has been said and written about this disaster.

Nicaragua is having trouble again Emergency orders dispatching 1,000 additional marines to Nicaragua has been issued. Washington government intends to carry out the terms of the Stimson agreement.

ALUMNAE NOTES

Miss Alice Taylor was recently married to Edwin Whitfield of Rock Castle, Virginia. Mrs. Whitfield has been teaching in Powhatan High school.

The engagement of Miss Annie Griswold McIntosh, of Orange, to Bruce V. Boxley, of Louisa, has been announced. The wedding will take place in the early summer.

Last fall the alumnae who are teaching in Dinwiddie County, organized a chapter with Miss Mabel Groseclose president; Miss Emma Moss, treasurer. The new chapter has a large and interested membership.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

A total of 2,835 visitors to the Lee Memorial Chapel at Lexington are recorded for the month of November, showing a gain of 1,427 over the same month last year. Among these visitors are tourists from every state in the Union and many from abroad.—The Yellow Jacket Weekly.

Due to the quarantine for infantile paralysis at V. M. I. during Christmas, the cadets are now enjoying their delayed holidays at home. They will return January 11.

Hansel and Gretel, a fairy opera, was presented at Harrisonburg State Teachers College last month. The story was taken from Grimm's well-known fairy tale and adapted to music of the highest type.—The Breeze.

It is interesting to note that eight leading writers of today who never attended college are: Sherwood Anderson, Edith Wharton, Edna Ferber, Frank Craven, Marc Conneley, Harry Leon Wilson, H. L. Mencken, and Robert Davis—The Flat Hat.

Announcement has been made that old time Colonial splendor and will old time Colonial splendior and will be presented as a gift to the college. The cost of the project is estimated between $1,000,000 and $3,000,000.—The Flat Hat.

The co-educational "Floating University" will not sail this year because of insufficient enrollment.—The Cadet.

Dr. J. H. Gorrell, head of the modern language department at Wake Forest, says that the Southerners use of "you all" is but the natural remedying of a fault in the language. He encourages the use of this expression. —Old Gold and Black.

Emory and Henry University won over Randolph-Macon, debating the question, "Resolved, That There Should be a Uniform Marriage and Divorce Law in the United States." It is remembered that Hampden-Sidney lost to Roanoke College in bebating this same que stion—The Yellow Jacket.

FACULTY NEWS

On December 22, Miss Mary Alice Curry, a member of the faculty in Fredericksburg State Teachers College, and Dr. John P. Wynne, a member of our faculty, were married in Washington, D. C.

We, the students of S. T. C., wish them much success and happiness.

We are glad to have Miss Millican, who is head of the Industrial Arts Department, back with us this term after an illness of several months.

During the Christmas holidays, Miss Myrtle Grenels attended a meeting of the American Association for Advancement of Science in Nashville, Tennessee. She talked on "A Year's Course in Geography for Normal Schools and Teachers Colleges," before the National Council of Geopraphy Teachers which is a department of the association. After the meeting adjourned she spent the remaining holidays with her mother in Sharptown, Maryland. We are indeed fortunate to have Miss Grenels head of our Geography Department.

Miss Mary Clay Hiner attended the Student Volunteer Conference held at Detroit, Mich., during the Christmas holidays, as a delegate from the advisory board of the Y. W. C. A.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches...
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

TO A NARCISSUS

The mellow sunshine's filled your cup
With golden light. I see you smiling
From afar; your snowy petals—
Angel's wings! Ah, how I love you!
Your fragrance soothes my soul
And keeps your memory sweet
Down in my heart for you.
—J. E. W. '29

IN A GARDEN

I wandered in a lovely garden
With flowers of every hue,
A garden with a beauty
That brought me thoughts of you.

There were roses in that garden.
Timid violets rare,
And as I plucked a yellow rose
I longed to have you there.

I stopped to gaze at a butterfly,
Flitting among the flowers
It seemed to bring a joy
To those leafy bowers.

When I left the garden
In the purple night
I saw the flowers shining
Beneath the moon's soft light.
—L. S. '28

ISLE OF DEATH

A stretch of white sand and beyond . .
The deep green shadow of a palm,
Scent of orange blossoms . . . exotic, compelling.
But in the midst of beauty . . death.
A living, cursing death mocking . . . leering,
Staring with livid eyes through small windows in filthy huts.
Some gone mad with pain, others
Swarthy guards . . . with grim unfathomed faces, watch . . .
To see that none escape or kill themselves.
The curse . . . it's always there
Horrid and slow-consuming them bit by bit
The lepers. —F. S. '31

UNEXPRESSED POETRY

I am one of the voiceless. I see beauty in so many places; I love beauty; yet I am unable to express the many ideas that rise in my mind. God is a great poet. His poetry is scattered widely. Each place in some way makes up for whit it lacks.

A tiny crystal of water clinging to a pink rose, perfect in form and color glittering in the late afternoon sun, a magic gem . . . A gentle breeze sighs, and I long to weep over destroyed loveliness.

Long rolls and banks of flame and rose clouds, dull gray farther way, green gold sky tucked in here and there . . . Moments pass and only dark ashes remain. I have just a memory that will dim as time goes on.

Bare woods covered with a sparkling coat of white, frosty vapors arising, a big moon spreading a delicate silver sheet . . . A breath of spring—dripping, naked trees and mud. Was the other just a dream?

A flock of birds dark against a pale opal sky, purple-blue mountains rising in sublime grandeur, a solitary, wind-blown tree on the crest of a hill . . . I could go on for hours and hours. I admire them, I love them, for they are a part of me, but I am speechless when I want to say more about them.

GIRLS LEAVING SCHOOL

The following girls left school at the end of last term. They will be missed, and we wish them much success wherever they go.

Margaret Cousins
Virginia Spain
Gladys Giddens
Beth White
Julia Davis
Kathleen Giles
Dorley Bain
Gertrude Batte
Ann Brent
Ruby Everly
Alice Hammock
Annie Lucile Mapp
Mary Moss

S. T. C. DELEGATES ATTEND CONFERENCE

Continued from page one

through Christ. Missions were defined as the expression of the desire to spread the message of Christ throughout the earth. There was a growing feeling of the joint responsibility of all nations in bringing about the realization of the Christ: that the so-called heathen nations must share with the nominal Christian nations the task of making Christ known to all people.

The conference was not concerned with denominationalism, except to regret the existence of sects among the Christian peoples that have retarded rather than contributed to the success of the Christian movement. There was expressed many times the fact that doctrines and creeds developed in the Christian Church have been mistaken for the true expression of Christianity, and such dogma must be left behind if the unenlightened peoples of the earth are to accept Christ as their own.

Student delegates were astonished at their lack of knowledge for specific facts about questions under discussion. There was no lack of concern about issues of vital importance, but there was a great handicap because of lack of information. This deficiency was the more marked with the growing conviction toward the end of the conference that the Christian movement cannot escape dealing with questions of war, industrial and race relations, international policies of nations, and all problems affecting the lives of people.

The speakers and leaders of the conference were selected from the best in this nation and many others. Henry I. Hodgkins, John R. Mott, Francis Wei, Max Yergan, W. E. S. Holland, Richard Roberts, Mordecai Johnson, Reinhold Niebuhr, Sherwood Eddy, Henry P. Van Dusen, and Robert E. Speer were among the lecturers.

The afternoon features of the conference were very interesting. "Kerbala", a religious play adapted from the Persian Moslem miracle play was presented. "The Color Line," a one-act play written by a student, proved so interesting to the Farmville delegation that it is soon to be reproduced on this campus. International teas at which foreign students were hosts and hostesses were held every afternoon.

The conference may possibly be summarized by naming two forces the power of which was constantly felt: infinite satisfaction in the realization of Christ, and relentless dissatisfaction with the conditions in the world today in nominal Christian and non-Christian lands.

The people who attended the conference from S. T. C., were Miss Mary Clay Hiner, Frances Willis, Etta Marshall, Eloise Davis, Margaret Lifsey, Emelyn Mills, and Pearl Etheridge.

PERSONALS

Miss Beth White of Brookneal, a former student at S. T. C., spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Phyllis Wood.

* * *

Miss Frances Willis has returned from her home in Norfolk where she spent several days.

* * *

Miss Etta Marshall has returned after spending the week-end at her home in Portsmouth.

* * *

Miss Helen Jones spent the week-end in Richmond as the guest of Miss Mary Alice Blanton.

* * *

Miss Mary Darden of Blackstone, former S. T. C. student, spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of friends here.

* * *

Miss Jeannette Morris has returned from Richmond where she spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Mary Alice Blanton.

* * *

Miss Tillie Hendricks of Lynchburg spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Mayo Bass.

* * *

Miss Gladys Huband of Chester is spending a week as the guest of friends here. Miss Huband will return in March to attend school at S. T. C.

* * *

Miss Margaret Leanord has returned from Richmond where she spent Saturday and Sunday at her home.

* * *

Friends of Miss Lucille Feild express deep sympathy on account of the death of her father.

* * * *

The following alumnae spent the past week-end at S. T. C. and attended the Zeta Tau banquet on Saturday night: Jean West, Norfolk, Va.; Gladys Huband, Chester, Va.; Ellen Smith, Ashland, Va.; and Jeannette Johnston, Emporia, Va.

CHRISTMAS REMINISCENCES

Christmas with its dances, teas and parties is over and school routine has begun again. Classes meet and students attend. I suppose you might call them physically present, but that is all. One young lady looks at the gorgeous diamond which sparkles up at her from the correct finger and away she goes back to her dreams. Another one, poor girl, is thinking perhaps of the ring she gave back and the empty, lonely ache in her heart. Others sit idly gazing at the teacher, dreaming of moonlight and soft music. The bridge fiend counts over the numerous teas and luncheons she attended and all the prizes she collected. The little freshman in the corner who had just recovered from her homesickness when Christmas came, is as blue as she can be. Perhaps the teacher has her dreams too. Dreams of freedom from books, students, lessons, tests and school. Dreams of home, open fires and peace. There they all sit each with her dreams and none of them alike.

Christmas, they say has gone, but the Christmas dreams live on for many days.

STAR NIGHT

I could not touch the stars tonight
In the vastness of blue space
But a red one, near the dark hilltop,
Cast a glow upon my face.
—P. E. '29

Zeta Tau Sorority takes pleasure in announcing the following new pledge:

Virginia Robertson, Norfolk, Va.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Just let me get my breath and wake up and then I'll tell you everything you want to know. Did you have as grand a time as I did Christmas? Yes, I stayed at home but I didn't miss a thing that happened. Did you get a bracelet from your truelove? I think everyone did. I know Beulah Jarvis and "Curtis" Higgins got 'em and they were plenty and good looking too. I believe boys have one track minds. One year everyone of them give their G. F. dorines, then the next year they become violently attached to bracelets. Humpty Jones got two dorines as well as a bracelet. She's popular.

I came back on that late eariy morning train. That's why I'm so sleepy, that and not getting any sleep all during Christmas. I wasn't by myself though. Lucille Graves was on the train, but she might as well have been in Egypt. She has decided that she is temporarily in love and you know how she behaves when she's in love. She wasn't very entertaining; and anyway, she slept most of the time. Everyone had much candy and heavy hat boxes. Gee! I wish this was Christmas again. Do you feel like you've ever been away? I don't. When "Chris" stood up in the dining room and started reading notices the other day I felt that I had been here since September. Half the school hasn't arrived yet. It is remarkable how many people become ill over Christmas. Poor Miss Mary, will be writing and listening to excuses from now until June just for Christmas.

COLLEGE VOCABULARY

A—Acts of providence
B—Bluffs.
C—Cuts
D—Dinner
E—Exams
F—Flunk notes (received every two weeks.
G—Guilty (campused)
H—Hungry (what we claim to be)
I—Intuition (used when text books fail).
J—Junk (collected every year)
K—Knocks (what we give and receive)
L—Lessons (the bane of our existance)
M—Money (needed by all)
N—Nonsense (often heard)
O—Opinions
P—Pep (what we all have)
Q—Queer (adjectives used to describe people differing from you.
R—Rats and Rest (none for the weary)
S—System.
T—Trig (feared by all)
U—Unexcused absences
V—Vanity and Varsity
W—Work (dodged by most of us)
X—Xmas
Y—Yoke (placed on us daily)
Z—Zero
—The Critograph

DON'T PUT IT ON PAY-PER

Say it with flowers,
Say it with sweets,
Say it with kisses,
Say it with eats,
Say it with jewelry,
Say it with drink,
But always be careful
Not to say it with INK.
—Florida Flambeau

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

SPALDING
SWEAT SHIRTS
IN
Tan - Grey - White
Sizes 30 to 40
Price $1.50
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Hugh: "The first time you contradict me I'm going to kiss you."
Mayo: "You are not."

Walter: "May I hold your hand?"
Mabel: "Why, of course not! This isn't Palm Sunday."
Walter: "It isn't Independence Day, either."

Ann P.: "What in the world did you tell him I was a fool for?"
Jeannette: "Oh, I'm sorry. Was it a secret?"

Polly: "What makes a girl close her eyes whe she kisses a boy?"
Clara: "She can imagine herself in heaven if she doesn't see the devil."

Zach: "You know that I love you and will be true to the last."
Virginia: "But how long shall I be last?"

He: "They say that people who marry soon grow to look alike."
She: "Then you may consider my refusal as final."

Gin Jones says why pay a doctor's bill when you can go to the window and remove the pane.

Lodger: "This steak is like a cold day in June, Mrs. Smith, very rare."
Landlady: "And your bill as like March weather. Unsettled."

Hogan:" It took me several hours to read my monthly mail today."
Ferrell: "Miss Popularity."
Hogan: "Just a monthly magazine."

She: "I'm all run down."
He: "But you'll wind up in my arms."

Paris says she's such an expense at college, her mother calls her Bill.

"Say, niggah, did you all join one of them there frat clubs?"
"No, sah, black boy, I done got whiteballed."

H. S.: "You girls are all alike."
S. T. C.: "Then why do you boys want three or four?"

Peg Walton says a few years ago being knock-kneed was a misfortune. Now it's a drama.

Chris: "He's just a prince of a fellow.'"
Wiley: "I've often wanted to crown him myself."

Pinkey: "Is he a nice boy?"
Skinny: "No, he's from W & L., but I think you'll like him."

COMMISSION REPORTS

Continued from page one

Medical College of Virginia, at Richmond, stating that this work was well covered at other schools.

It was recommended that East Radford and Fredericksburg State Teachers Colleges devote their entire resources to training teachers for the rural and elementary city schools, and that all State Teachers Colleges establish a one year training course for rural teachers.

It is a significant fact that no changes or criticism of Farmville State Teachers College were suggested. If the recommendations should be accepted and carried out, Farmville would stand alone in the State in the training of city junior, high and high school teachers.

The Commission states that Virginia has not been liberal with her schools. It points out that for this reason Virginia teachers and students are being attracted to other states.

CAN YOU FEATURE WHY—

Alice Wiley loves to tell time?
Phyllis Wood talks so much?
Ann Palmer waves her hands above her head?
Becky Liebman knows all the gossip?
Elizabeth Ferrell laughs all the time?
Humpty Jones loves V. M. I.?
Mabel Fitzpatrick's left hand is so conspicuous?
Clara Norfleet doesn't take vocal?
Hele Ward doesn't blame Grant for staying close to Richmond?
Jeanne Morris adores Mondays?
Letters from home bring fear this week?
Chirstmas is gone but not forgotten?
Eleanor Hogan is so athletic?
Elizabeth Miller is so unconscious?
Virginia Keister is always hungry?
Helen Myers is witty?

THOUGHTS ON TRYING TO GET UP EARLY

I had every good intention of getting up at six o'clock this morning, yet I didn't do it. I wonder why. It wasn't that I didn't hear the bell. Oh, no! I heard that all right, but I was so sleepy when it rang I just couldn't make myself get up. I suppose my failure is a sign of the lack of willpower. Maybe so, but that knowledge didn't help. I thought of every conceivable excuse for staying in bed, but for some reason I just couldn't satisfy myself. I tried to persuade myself that I would wake my room-mate. That wouldn't do, because all the time I knew that I could practice for my clogging exam in the very room with her and she would never hear it. The next reason I tried to make myself accept w as that I would bother the maid. Bother the maid when she was not even there. That was bright wasn't it? After a while I found that that thing called conscience just wouldn't be satisfied, so I turned over—and went back to sleep.

MONOGRAM CLUB GIVES A HIKE

The Monogram Club has begun the New Year right, for on Saturday last, is sponsored a hike for those girls who aspire to win monograms. Twenty girls headed by Juliet Jones and Gwen Hardy started off on the ten-mile hike in a hearty and enthusiastic manner. As the miles went by, they became tired and not a little thirsty. Imagine if you can, their relief when at the end of five miles they spied a "filling" station. The way had been rugged and dusty, but those brave S. T. C. girls knew that they would come into their own at last.

The moral of this tale is simply this:

If one wants a monogram bad enough she'll hike to get it, and remember that every hike has its little surprise at the end of five miles!

IDIOSYNCRASY

We'll begin with box; the plural is boxes,
But the plural of ox should be oxen, not oxes.
One fowl is a goose, but two are called geese,
Yet the plural mouse should never be meese.
You may find a lone mouse, or a whole nest of mice,
But the plural of house is houses, not hice.
If the plural of man is always called men,
Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?
The cow in the plural may be called cows or kine;
But a bow, if repeated, is never called bine;
And the plural of vow is vows, never vine.
If I speak of a foot and you show me two feet
And I give you a boot, would a pair be called beet?
If one tooth and a whole set are teeth,
Why shouldn't the plural of booth be called beeth?
If the singular's this, and the plural is these,
Should the plural of kiss ever be written keese?
Then one may be that, and the two would be those,
Yet hat in the plural would never be hose,
And the plural of cat is cats, and not cose.
We speak of a brother, and also of brethren,
But though we say mother, we never say methren.
Then the masculine pronouns are he, his and him.
But imagine the feminine, she, shis, and shim!
So the English, I think you all will agree,
Is the funniest language you ever did see. —Exchange

Good work advertises itself.

THE NEW POINT SYSTEM

After going over the point system once more and making all necessary changes the Athletic Association has decided upon the following system:

I. Physical Efficiency Test
9 events with 4 stunts and 4 field and track events ..... 75 pts.
9 events with 7 stunts and 7 field and track events ..... 100 pts.
II. Teams.
(1) First class team in any sport having participated in 60% of games played ..... 50 pts.
(2) Second class team in any sport having participated in 60% of games played ..... 25 pts.
(3) Attendance at 60% practises in each sport 25 pts.
(4) Championship team 50 pts.
(5) Runner up 25 pts.
III Honorary Varsity 25 pts.
IV. Varsity team 50 pts.
Varsity squad 25 pts.
V. Hiking—
3-ten mile hikes per yr. 50 pts.
VI. Field Day
(1) 1st place in any individual event 25 pts.
(2) 2nd place in any individual event 15 pts.
(3) 3rd place in any individual event 10 pts.
(4) First place in relay 10 pts.
(5) Second place in relay 5 pts.
(6) Breaking college record 50 pts.
(7) Participating in meet ... 5 pts.
(8) First place in meet 100 pts.
VII. Tournaments
(1) Championship
Singles 50 pts.
Doubles 25 pts.
(2) Runners up in 3rd place
Singles ..... 25 pts.
Doubles ..... 15 pts.
(3) Those in after 1st match 5 pts.
VIII. Scholarship
(1) C average—no failures 25 pts.
(2) B average—nothing below C ..... 50 pts.
(3) A average—nothing below B ..... 75 pts.

SONG

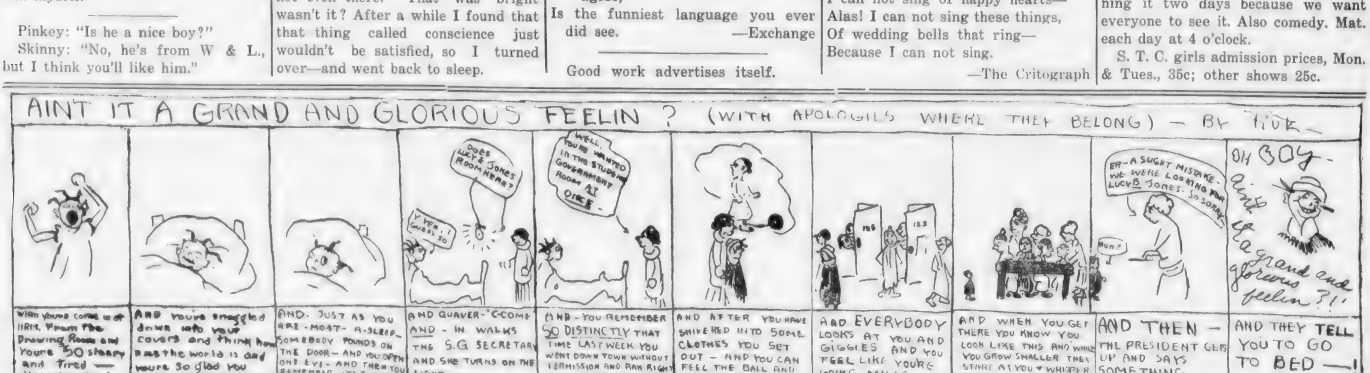
I can not sing of autumn nights
Nor lovers neath the moon—
I can not sing of perfumed winds
That kiss the still lagoon.
I can not sing of happy hearts—
Alas! I can not sing these things,
Of wedding bells that ring—
Because I can not sing.

—The Critograph

JUST ARRIVED
500 prs. French Kid Gloves
to go on Sale at
$2.25 to $2.95
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS



At Eaco Theatre

MON.—Jack Mulhall and Dorothy MasKail in "SMILE BROTHER, SMILE", a special production. Learn about beauty froh mi! Travel the road to romance with tihs dispenser of charm! He'll show you some new beauty treatments everybody will want to see. It's funnier than the sauciest salesman joke you've ever heard—But Much Nicer! Also Pathe News and FOSTAIRE the great transformist and his own big company who will present a massive mystery production and vaudeville acts.

TUES.—Ken Maynard in "THE RED RAIDERS" with his wonder white horse Tarzan. You've never seen such riding, because—Ken has never done anything so daring before. It is by far the greatest classic of Western adventure ever screened. This is a big special production. As added attractions we show second episode of SILENT FLYER and FOSTAIRE and his company who will entertain you with magic and vaudeville. Mat. at 3:45.

WED. & THURS.—Billie Dove and Ben Lyon in "THE TENDER HOUR" a big special production. If you were a beautiful young American girl in Paris—and you were tricked into thinking your sweetheart dead—and your father "sold" you into marriage to an old man you loathed—and then the boy you loved came back to claim you—How much would you pay for one "Tender Hour. This is a super special production. A lavish pageant of romance and luxury. We are running it two days because we want everyone to see it. Also comedy. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

S. T. C. girls admission prices, Mon. & Tues., 35c; other shows 25c.

THE ROTUNDA

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1928 No. 13

HISTORY AND TRADITIONS OF STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

It was in October in 1884 that many girls of the Virginian families embarked upon the very unique career in the coveted position of a "schoolmarm." It was exciting and ultra-modern for the home-guarded girl, dressed in crinolines, to venture forth —properly chaperoned by Mother— to study for so many months at the so-called "State Female Normal School." In those days they probably had a charming "Miss Mary White Cox," too, to direct their feet in the paths of demeanor.

By 1914 the former name of the school became quite ridiculous and it was therefore changed to the "State Normal School for Women." During this epoch of the school's history, the starched white shirt waist and long skirts became the mode. Bicycles were the "last word" in popular riding. The war brought on its changes—its chaos—its new ideas and ventures.

In 1924 our school became a college and was renamed "State Teachers College" at Farmville. There was the introduction of the four-year course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education, along with the regular two-year course. The modern girl with jazz skirts and bobbed hair took charge. Joan of Arc became the ideal of every true S. T. C. girl. Dr. Jarman was a model college president; Miss Mary continued as our very lovely and sweet matron. Aunt Lucy and William gave their services. Cousin Tommy was our faithful guard. And last, but far from least, the faculty with its wisdom and understanding made it a college of traditions, love, honor, and friendships.

A MESSAGE DEAR TO OUR HEARTS

"All hail, Alma Mater, dear mother to thee;
Thy daughters, true, faithful and loyal will be."

There is a song that invariably brings a message that is dear to the hearts of us all. It is our "Alma Mater" song. Since each time we sing the melody little memories of failure and success drift back to us, and since each event of our college life, be it ever so small, had a part in forming and strengthening the unchangeable love for our Alma Mater, we will always cherish it.
fail at any time to show outwardly the honor, love and respect that we hold in our hearts for our Alma Mater?

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Freshman Staff wishes to express its appreciation to Willie Savage, Katherine Shroeder, Virginia Walker, Martha Ann Laing, Jessie Smith, Gilberta Knight, Martha Earp, French Hutt, Frances Stephenson, Frances Steele, Margaret Pumphrey, Martha Lanier, Cora Womeldoy, Jane Reid Venable, and all other contributors, who so willingly cooperated in editing this issue of "The Rotunda."

DEDICATION

We, the members of the Freshman Class, as a token of admiration for the "gentle instruction" and "influence so sweet" of our Alma Mater, dedicate this issue of "The Rotunda" to our State Teachers College, which means most in our lives today and which will mean much in our lives to-morrow!

DISILLUSIONMENTS OF S. T. C.

All my life I have observed that people make fairy palaces out of reality—and they invariably expect the impossible. Perhaps some of the Froshs' minds were filled with those moving pictures of college life that made one think it was a continuous round of teas, dances, athletics, and no studying (did you ever see a college picture with any class room scenes? Decidedly no!)

Then—about "the roommate." You may not be quite satisfied with her. Probably "Sis" back home did lots of your work for you and helped you get your lessons. "Roommate" will not, and you feel that she doesn't co-operate. Just think a moment and figure out if your plan is the 50—50 idea,—or the usual 99—1 proposition that even "Sis" balked at occasionally.

Our faculty is ideal and so is Dr. Jarman. If you could but have some of the professors at the university I attended last year, you would realize my statement. They were absolutely impersonal, unconcerned, and unsympathetic. If you made your marks, it was all right; and if you didn't, they were not going to instill into you new ambition. I feel the difference here: the faculty is willing to help you always.

I cannot find a single disillusion-

(Continued on Page Two)

LEST WE FORGET

Though the freshman issue of "The Rotunda" is dedicated to S. T. C., we, as freshmen, wish to express our love and respect for the faculty, home department and upperclassmen.

DR. J. L. JARMAN,
President of State Teachers College

WHAT S. T. C. MEANS TO ME

Crowds of girls, auditorium assemblies, classes, and teachers constituted my vague first impression of S. T. C. The college was to me an institution of intangible knowledge.

Then came freshman initiation and I, with my sister classmates, felt utterly submerged in a sea of fun, school spirit, and the humaness of inhuman sophomores; for without realizing it in the least, our would-be torturers performed a beneficial act when they opened our eyes to the fact that we were accepted in a spirit of fun and good natured sallies intermingled with a spirit of seriousness.

Now S. T. C. means crowds of girls, who are not just crowds, but individuals; classes, that do not present intangible loads of knowledge, but an exchange of ideas; teachers, who are not brain houses, but kind assistants in the process; and auditorium assemblies, which do not make annoying intrusions upon one's time, but immerse one in the true spirit of S. T. C.—the love, consideration, humor, and seriousness characteristic of an ideal family.

WEEK-ENDS AT S. T. C. HOLD JOY FOR ALL

Week-ends at S. T. C. are looked forward to with great joy and expectation by the students and, we imagine, with dread and a sigh by Miss Mary. The week is hardly half over before everyone is talking of how she is going to spend the week-end. One girl says that her mother and sister are coming. Another is expecting a friend. Two juniors are telling their classmates what a wonderful time they expect to have at the dance. In another group can be heard the excited talk of two freshmen who are going home, each trying to tell whom she will see, what she will do, and what she will get to eat. Ethel, as we may call her, seems very happy. Is she going somewhere, too, or is she looking forward to seeing mother or dad, or maybe John? No, she says she is not going away and she expects no company. But why does she look so happy and excited? Sh! It's a secret. She is expecting a box from home and she can hardly wait. Several friends have been asked to share it with her. Thus it is all over the school. Everyone is happy and smiling—both those who go and those who stay.

PRAYERS AT S. T. C.

In the evening when the busy day is coming to a close and the shadows of night are falling upon us, where shall our wondering thoughts turn? Should we not pause for a few moments and thank Him who has kept us so safely and bestowed so many blessings upon us?

Just a few minutes of sweet repose and talk with our Heavenly Father will comfort and refresh many a weary one.

Just to listen to the sweet strains of music that touch the very depths of our hearts will bring back memories of the many things He has done for us.

If you feel weary and tired and blue
Remember that Prayers are meant for you.

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief:
Virginia Wade Pettigrew
Assistant Editor:
Elsie Graham Clements
News Editor:
Jeannette Ballard Luther
Social Editor:
Flora Douglas Martin
Joke Editor:
Elizabeth Rivercomb
Athletic Editor:
Allie Oliver
Art Editor:
Virginia Robertson
Business Manager:
Frances Howard
Circulation Manager:
Jane Cotten
Assistant Circulation Manager:
Rena Robertson

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

EDITORIALS

MY ALARM CLOCK

Tick-tock goes the clock,
Still I sleep like a rock.
Ding-dong goes the gong,
It wakes me so early in the morn
Sometimes I wish I had never been born.

You have an alarm clock, I have an alarm clock, and so have many others of the millions of people that inhabit this great globe called the "world." But, I wonder, does the alarm clock, the poor as well as the rich man's friend, have the same significance to you as it does to me? It's a friendly old soul; in fact, it is the only friend that is not changeable, not given to moods, but always remains the same. No matter whether its heart and soul are embodied in the most costly of garments or the cheapest of tin-ware, it is the same old staunch friend. Be it from Tiffany's or from our new "5 and 10" 'tios the same old good morning I'm-so-glad-to-see-you-tick-tock- that greets us each morning as we arise.

And yet, alas, we are all human, and often we greet the six-thirty ding-dong of our companion with a frown and a desire to kick it out into eternity. But think twice; our friend is only dutifully obeying your wishes of awakening you that you may not be late to class or that the inevitable "note-day" may roll around without your receiving one of these little reminders.

Yes, it is true; we owe our joys, our triumphs, our greatest success, in part, to the tick-tock and ding-dong of our alarm clock.

If perchance, I have instilled in you the desire to make a new friend, or to take note of the really big, though apparently small, things in life, then the time devoted to this tribute has not been wasted. And this tribute is dedicated, with genuine appreciation to none other than my true friend, my own alarm clock.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

"The Spectator" reports that at the Detroit conference foreign students made this statement: "It is harder for us to live Christian lives on the American campus than it was back home." Could a foreign student say that about our S. T. C. campus? Let's accept their statement as a challenge and strive harder to live up to the standards of our college.

Dr. John Erskine, noted American author, critic, and lecturer, is to speak to the students at the Mississippi State College for Women in the spring. We consider them fortunate in bringing one of the most sought after speakers in America to their school. Many of us have read with interest Dr. Erskine's "Galahad" and "Helen of Troy."—The Spectator.

From "The Sweet Briar News" it is noted that a bridge tournament will be held in February at that school.

The Wasp Basketeers of Emory and Henry began their basketball season with three victories. Keep up the good work, Wasps!—The White Topper.

We would recommend to Dr. Price that interesting machine, the Schematograph, which is b eing used with much success at M. S. C. W. to detect bumps and lordosis in making the physical inspection of the students. Perhaps it might also be a splendid device to detect pediculosis and halitosis, who knows?

Girls, how many of you have read the new college comic, "The V. P. I. Skipper"? Watch out for the next issue which will be published in March.

Have you ever heard of anything as unromantic as a real Russian prince going to V. P. I. "The Virginia Tech" says that in spite of this terrible experience he can smile and he is determined to become a real Techman.

"The Davidsonian" reports that a college education is worth $72,000. This is a profit of 1,200 per cent on an original investment of $6,000 which is the average total cost of a four years' course in college.

The University of Virginia is to have a new stadium with seating capacity of approximately 25,000. The dedication of the stadium is scheduled for next Thanksgiving, when Virginia plays her traditional rival, North Carolina.—The Virginia Tech.

Hampden-Sidney lost to George Washington University Thursday night with a score of 28 to 15. Cheer up, boys, you'll win the next one!

WHAT!

Stop! Look! And listen! Something is going to happen. What? Be very nice and I will tell you. First of all, I will warn you that it is to be the biggest event of the month, so begin saving your pennies now! The "14 Club" will present a "sing" on January 28. Start early and reserve that date for the important event!

DISILLUSIONMENTS

Continued from page one

ment in the school. It is and has been the small fraction of the student body that pulls the "other way." The school is, in its way, as perfect as it can be and is worthy of the highest compliments.

ALUMNAE NOTES

Miss Elizabeth Clark Bruce, of Prince Edward County, has been appointed deputy clerk of Prince Edward County. Miss Bruce is a graduate of the Rice High School and holds a diploma from Farmville S. T. C. She taught school for one year after graduation and later studied at the Smithdeal Business College, Richmond. Miss Bruce took charge of her official duties January 1, 1928.

Francis Nathaniel Watkins, of Farmville, and Miss Mary J. Wisely, of Waynesboro, were married in Staunton December 29. Mr. Watkins is assistant principal of the Farmville High School. Mrs. Watkins will complete the session in Amelia where she is teaching in the high school.

Farmville Presbyterian Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Saturday evening, December 31, at six o'clock, when Miss Christine Armstrong became the bride of Harmon Lee Jones, of Portsmouth, Va. The church was attractively decorated with palms, ferns and English and Cathedral candles. Just before the ceremony a solo, "All for You", was sung by Miss Alice Creasy Moss, of Richmond. Mrs. F. S. Blanton, of Farmville, played the wedding music.

The bride was attended by her four sisters, Miss Katherine Armstrong as maid of honor, Mrs. Robert Robertson as matron of honor, Misses Jennie and Irving Armstrong as brides maids. Their gowns of blue, green, peach and orchid made a colorful setting for the bride in her robe of white satin.

An informal reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride on First Avenue, after which Mr. and Mrs. Jones left for a motor trip through the South. They will be at home in Norfolk after February 15.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hunt in Farmville Wednesday afternoon, January 11, when their daughter Mary Elizabeth, became the bride of James Joseph Stump, of Norton, Va. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stump left for a motor trip through the northern states. They will be at home in Norton after February 1.

BUSY WORLD BITS

According to the forecast of Col. Leonard P. Ayres, Cleveland banker, the year of 1928 will be a good business year. He says that a new cycle is dawning and the present prospects are that the conditions of general business will improve.

General Jose Maria Moncada, official head of the Liberal party in Nicaragua and candidate for President in this year's elections, endorsed the presence and the activities of American marines as Nicaragua's only guarantee of liberty and safety. General Morcada feels confident that the marines will act impartially in their supervision of national elections, as provided for under Henry L. Stimpson.

President and Mrs. Coolidge left for Havana, Cuba, January 13, where on January 16 he will deliver an address to the Pan American Conference. Delegates from 21 Latin American countries will be present. Mr. Coolidge's trip will mark the first time any American President has visited Latin America and the third time in history that any president ever left the continental limits of the United States.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville —:: —:: —Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches—
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Installilng new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

RAT NIBBLES

Virginia and Elsie: "We sent suggestions telling you how to make The Rotunda more interesting. Have you carried out any of our ideas?"

Dulaney: "Did you meet the maid with the waste paper basket, as you came upstairs?"

Virgiina and Elsie: "Yes, we did."

Dulaney: "Well, she was carrying out your ideas."—Adapted from The Eye Opener.

Poesey

Walter and Mabel went
to pick some flowers,— but Mabel's little brother came along—
and so they picked flowers
—adapted from Sniper.

Miss Davis: "Ann, is that story original?"

Ann Phipps: "No, ma'am, I just made that one up."

Archie: "Have you heard the song that is only a line?"

Lucille: "No, what is it?"

Archie: "Falling in Love With You."

Miss Bugg: "Don't make so much noise; you will disturb the train of thought."

Liz Lacy: "Yes, ma'am, but that train hasn't arrived yet."

Beulah Layne (teaching Sunday school): "Now, children, when you put your collection in the plate, I want each of you to say a verse."

Little Johnnie (after much deep thought): "A fool and his money are soon parted."

Va. Walker: "I was a beauty in my day."

Mary Bernard: "Just another day wasted away."

F. Guthrie: "Joan was put there for a noble cause."

Gin Cobb: "What does it stand for?"

F. Guthrie: "Because it would look silly lying down."—Adapted from Reserve Red Cat.

Mayo: "You told me that if I put this wedding cake under my pillow, I'd dream about my future husband."

Anne P: "Well, what's the matter?"

Mayo: "The only difficulty is that I dreamed about all Hampden-Sidney."

"Gin" Jones: "There are lots of toe dancers these days."

"Becky": "Yes, but most of 'em dance on everybody's toes, but their own."—adapted from The Household Journal.

Some one gave us the definition for an educated man—"The person who does the thing he doesn't want to do at the time he doesn't want to do it." It sounds to us more like the definition of a freshman.

VICTORY FOR GREEN AND WHITE IN TENNIS

On account of Martha Henderlite's inability to play the final game in the tennis tournament at any time this year the game is forfeited to Dolly Reed. Seventy-five points go to Dolly Reed as winner and fifty points to Martha Henderlite as runner-up.

Five points toward the cup will be awarded to the green and white.

SOPHOMORES & JUNIORS WIN IN BASKET BALL

Sophomores 21—5
Juniors 35—17

Not since Thanksgiving has the student body been so excited. Saturday night in the gym these two hotly contested games were fought; the Sophomores won from the Freshmen by a score of 21—5, while the Juniors defeated the Seniors by a score of 35—17. The deciding game for points toward the cup will be played b ythe Juniors and Sophomores. Everyone is anxiously awaiting to see whose colors will hang from the cup, the red and white or green and white.

The line-up:

Freshmen 5		Sophomores 21
Peake	forward	Smith
Bernard	forward	Byrd
Coleman	guard	Hatchett
Roundtree	guard	Frame
Hutchinson	J. C.	Gurley
A. Oliver	S. C.	Palmer

Substitution—Smith for Bernard.

Goals

Peake	1 field goal
Peake	1 foul goal
Smith	1 field goal
Smith	5 field goals
Byrd	5 field goals
Byrd	1 foul goal

Junior-Senior Game

The Junior-Senior game proved to be much faster than the preceding one.

The line-up:

Juniors 35		Seniors 17
Hardy	forward	Putney
Wilkinson	forward	Woodson
Wood	guards	Dulaney
Warriner	guard	Weston
Dunton	J. C.	Clements
Atwater	S. C.	Jones

Goals

Wilkinson	6 field goals
Wilkinson	1 foul goal
Hardy	12 field goals
Putney	6 field goals
Putney	1 foul goal
Wood	2 field goals

A HECTIC TRIP TO HAMPDEN-SIDNEY

Leap year has begun most certainly to play havoc at S. T. C. Why, last Saturday night what did some of the girls do, but have dates with Hampden-Sidney boys out at Hampden-Sidney! As the older people would say "What is this world coming to?"; that party would have answered, "To an end."

The girls went out in the boys' cars, driven by chauffers, professors and just plain, everyday boys! Wonder which one was most interesting to the girls?

After the destination, which was Hampden-Sidney in this case, was reached, the girls found their dates and went to the basket ball game held in the gym. After seeing a most exciting and interesting game, the girls (I mean most of them) lamented the fact that the University of Richmond won.

But, as I have heard, the most interesting part of the entire trip was the eats which consisted of ice cream, cake, peanuts and mints. Then the time was left for—oh, yes—time was

(Continued on last page)

MISS MARY WHITE COX

Here's to the one
Upon whom all rely,
To whom everyone goes
And none wish to defy.

"TRELAWNEY OF THE WELLS" WILL BE GIVEN

On Friday, January 30 at 8 p. m. the Dramatic Club will present Pinero's "Trelawney of the Wells" in the college auditorium.

A brilliant kaliedoscope of pathos and comedy, the play grips your attention throughout. It concerns the old-fashioned theatre world with its gay, irresponsible characters, and contrasts it with the conventional, repressed life of the aristocracy. Rose Trelawney, a beautiful, young actress from the Wells Company, endeavors to change her harum-scarum life and fit it into that of her lover's, young Arthur Gower. It can't be done, however, as she soon discovers!

The climax of the comic mishap is reached when a troupe of the actors take refuge in Sir William Gower's house one stormy night, and are there discovered by the terrifying old man. Powdered hair and lovely ladies, many laughs and much love—all are embodied in "Trelawney."

Members of the cast are as follows:

Rose Trelawney	Mary Ellen Cato
Arthur Gower	Virginia Gurley
Sir William Gower	Etta Marshall
Miss Trafalger Gower—	Yancy Brooking
Mrs. Mossop	Frances Wilson
Mr. Ablett	Virginia Walker
Imogene Parrot	Nettie Boyton
Tom Wrench	Elizabeth Turner
Avonia Bunn	Beulah Jarvis
Colpoys	Alice Wiley
Mr. Telfer	Alice Davis
Mrs. Telfer	Elsie Clements
Gadd	Gertrude Jarman
Capt. de Foenix	Jane Hunt Martin
Clara de Foenix	Leyburn Hyatt
Charles	Jane Cotten
Sarah	Dolly Latane
O'Dyer	Evelyn Dulaney
Lady	Mary Rigby
Gentleman	Polly Aderholt

Tickets may be procured from any member of the Dramatic Club. Students of S. T. C., H. S. C., and the faculty members, 50c; all others, $1.

PERSONALS

Anne Deffenbaugh and Louise Shoffner have returned to school after being detained at their homes by sickness.

• • • •

Betty Randle and Ida Wright Chapman spent a part of the holidays in New York City.

• • •

The students of S. T. C. are sorry to know that Beth White did not return to school after Christmas.

• • •

Anne Palmer and Genevieve Grimes have returned to school after being kept at their homes after the holidays.

• • •

We are sorry to hear that Josephine Burger and Nellie Chambers are confined to the Infirmary with mumps.

• • •

Miss Craddock had a delightful tea Monday afternoon from four to six. Those present were Blanche Murrell, Elizabeth Smitherman, Betty Randle, Ida Wright Chapman, Jo Peters, Elizabeth Bowers, and Virginia Goode.

• • •

Barbara Willcox and Anne Palmer are planning to s pend the week-end at the Jeffer son Hotel in Richmond with their parents.

• • •

Mildred Smith and Elizabeth Hargrave spent the week-end here as the guests of Banna Price Massey.

• • •

Miss Elizabeth Smitherman spent last week-end at Westhampton College, Richmond.

SCHEDULE OF DEBATES

The schedule for the debates between S. T. C. and other colleges will be closed as soon as the dates are received from Bridgewater, Radford, and Harrisonburg.

The first dual debate which will be with Westhampton College, will be held on February 3. The subject for the debate will be as follows: That there should be a Department of Aviation with its secretary, a member of the President's cabinet." Grigsby Peck and Sammy Scott will uphold the affirmative side while Frances Wilson and Catherine Bentley will uphold the negative side.

On February 10, our team will debate with Randolph-Macon's Men's College on the following subject—Resolved: "That the United States should cease to protect by force the capital of its citizens abroad." Nancy Holt and Mary Christian Royall are the defenders of the affirmative. Louise McCormick, Ella Louise Moore, and Alice Wiley will uphold the negative side.

February 23, the dual debate with Wake Forest will be held. Following this debate, February 24, there will be a second dual debate with North Carolina State College. The same question and team used for the Randolph-Macon debate will be used.

March 9, the question, "That we disapprove of the Latin American policy of the United States," will be debated. The affirmative team will consist of Mary L. Wright and Gladys Oliver. Frances Morgan and Elizabeth Woodson will defend the negative side of the question.

I have known the friendliness of rain,
Touching the heart of the earth
And the soul of its people.
Falling gently, roughly,
As it wills,
At youthful runrise,
Cheerful noon day,
Or reminiscent twilight,
Embracing the needs of the earth,
And soothing the hearts of its people.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

SPALDING
SWEAT SHIRTS
IN
Tan - Grey - White
Sizes 30 to 40
Price $1.50
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

ELIZABETH MUNN

Here's to the president,
The freshman's delight,
Who leads with a vim
And a pep that's just right.

WAVE ON HIGH THE GREEN AND WHITE

Before I entered the sacred portals of S. T. C., green and white had no especial significance to me,—they were mere colors! The pulsations of my heart did not palpitate quicker when I beheld them on high than when I saw any other colors of the spectrum. Am I guilty of the same attitude now? Are they still meaningless to me? Emphatically, no! I now cherish and love my green and white; and, when I see them waving in the breeze, they seem to be a guiding star to spur me on to gre ater endeavors in behalf of my class and "dear old Farmville."

"Victorious or defeated
We will always fight
For our Alma Mater
And the green and white."

A FRESHMAN'S CONCEPTION OF A SOPHOMORE

Some people write fine poems
About the birds and bees,
Or sometimes poets rave about
The tall and stately trees.

But they've an inspiration
Which is quite plain to see,
But to write about the Sophomores—
A task too hard for me!

We took the "ratting" in the fall,
Wore the caps and middies;
Void of rouge and lipstick,
We looked like little kiddies.

Although they are our rivals,
We really think they're fine,—
So hats off to our Sophomores,
A long and hearty line!

THE RATS' MARCH OF EVENTS

September 20, 1927—
"There was once a freshman named Leep,
Whose story should make you weep,
On the first night, you see,
Of her schooling, she
Got up and walked home in her sleep."

October 6, 1927—Sophs call a class meeting! Everyone knows what it is about; our sisterly juniors express their heartfelt sympathy for us. Initiation is to begin Monday!

October 10, 1927—
When walking through the campus,
I saw a curious sight,
Maidens with their hair slicked back
And dressed in middies white.

I thought, sure this cannot be true,
Their faces from rouge so free!
The powder and the lip stick,
Have taken flight I see.

Why surely I am dreaming
Of an age that has gone by,
I paused to meditate awhile
To shake my head and sigh.

Then I saw another girl,
Dressed different from the rest:
"Rat, go make my bed," she said
"And do your very best!"

Ah, 'tis plain as it can be
I had been quite a fool
For this was not Utopia
But freshmen new at school.

October 17,1927—The pain of our plight is alleviated to a certain extent by our junior sisters who proved their sympathy for us by cladding themselves in an outfit similar to ours.

November 24, 1927—Turkey 'n everything! Quite a big day for the sophs and seniors,—their coolrs wave majestically in the highest and most conspicuous places. The junior-Senior and the Freshman-Sophomore hockey games are played.

December 16, 1927—Exams begin! Many rats groan pitifully when the bell tolls out the hour of eleven, and many long feverishly to be permitted to bur the midnight oil.

December 21, 1927—Homeward bound!

January 2, 1928—Classes begin! How hard it is to adapt ourselves to college life again after the hilarious holidays.

January 10, 1928—Reports! The blow that killed father!

January 14, 1928—Our issue of The Rotunda goes to press.

RAT CAP HO!

Freaks of nature we were! Blue and white caps were propped lopsided or zig-zagged on the very collegiate rats' heads, and prim and nice on the rats that had not yet relinquished their dignity gained in their senior year at high school.

Yes, why shouldn't they laugh at us? We afforded fun for those around us because they enjoyed the heart-rending catastrophe of seeing us mess up our cork-screws and waves that we had laboriously toiled over the night before.

But someone had the pleasure of sniggering at us! And now since the torture of donning the caps is over, we delight in the puzzled reminiscenses of our rat cap days that often tug at the chords of our memory.

So—RAT-CAPS—HO!

SADLY WE MOURN

"Give me a drink", the old man cried.
They gave him water—the old man died.

SQUEAKS AND SQUAWKS REMINISCENSES

The dizzy or sizzling syncopaters otherwise the Freshman Orchestra made their initial appeaarnce to the tune of "Red Lips" on Saturday night October 8, when the Freshman Class gave their first sing. A crash of cymbols and a cry of "Get Hot!" sent us winding down the lane of jazz. Feet moved and heads swayed. This was enough to assure us that we had found some response and that our first attempt was not a failure. With this bit of success we decided to push forward with the work and to make it a class organization. From thence on our motto has been "Get Hot! C'mon —Ride 'Em Rough!"

On November the fourth we gave a dance in the Recreation Hall. The orchestra announced as the sponsor Miss Gwendolyn Hardy. On November the fifth we elected officers and the line up of these are as follows:

Director ..... Elizabeth Munn
Bus. Mgr. ..... Bobby Gleason
Sponsor ..... Gwendolyn Hardy
Utility Man ..... Frances Howard

At this time or shortly afterward we had formal tryouts for the orchestra and the formal line-up was announced as follows:

Pianists ..... Elsa Gudheim
Peggy Cutchins
Banjos ..... Nancy Nelms
Louise Batte
Violin ..... Audrey Frank
Guitar ..... Frances Guthrie
Gazooks ..... Marguerite Foster
Jane Cotten
Traps ..... Bobby Gleason

On November the ninth we journeyed to Curdsville to play for an agriculture entertainment at the Curdsville school. November the ninth was one of the busiest days in our history, for prior to filling our Curdsville engagement, we played for the Pan Hellenic dance on the afternoon of the ninth.

On November the fourteenth the Carolina Playmakers presented three one-act plays at S. T. C. and we were overjoyed when we received an invitation to play before the performance and between the acts.

As time rolled on we found ourselves playing for sings and successive stunts. After our return from the holidays we started in with hard practices; for you see we represent the Freshman class; therefore it is quite necessary for us to put forth our best to be worthy of our representation.

January the seventh, another engagement—The Balloon Dance. I must say we had an overwhelming amount of competition when "Red" and Alice Covington started popping baloons. It was really a "Dance O'-Mania."

O, yes, and for the game we were right there, to help put across the songs for the Green and Whites. Nelms yelled, Foster blew and Bobby crashed at frequent intervals. Say, we didn't make some noise.

The Juniors have had their stunt night and we've done our part in telling you the four reasons why girls leave home.

There are several little things that happen during practices and just before playing for our engagements, that no one ever knows about; for instance, whose head Munn breaks the most batons over, Bobby's frantic search for drum sticks, Nancy's look out for white ducks and Gudheim's ever readiness to play the "Tech Triumph."

Here's a secret. We've been asked to broadcast from W. R. V. A., Richmond, Va., at an early date. Class, we're going to do our best with our Crazy Words and Crazy Tunes.

MISS ELIZABETH BUGG

Here's to our Class Man
Let's give her a cheer
For she's g reatly beloved
By everyone here.

RATS THAT TAKE THE CHEESE

A vistor happened to be in the rotunda at dinner time, and afterwards was heard to give the following exclamations:

"Three shrill notes the bell uttered,
You heard as if an army muttered;
And the muttering grew to a grumbling,
And the grumbling grew to a mighty rumbling,
And out of the rooms the rats came tumbling!
Great rats—"Liz" Munn, Nancy Nelms, "Liz" Lacy.
Small rats—"Hays" Mayt, Mary Bernard, "The Ferris Twins."
Lean rats—Mae Baldwin, Adele Hutchinson, Beth Brockenbrough.
Brawney rats—"Dolly" Reid, "Dot" Spicer, "Bobby" Gleason.
Brown rats—Jane Hunt Martin, Mary Beasely, Sara Baker
Gray rats—Mary Ellen Cato, Elsie Clements, Virginia Pettigrew
Tawny rats—All of them
They even spoiled the Sophomores' chats,
By drowning their speaking
With shrieking and speaking
In fifty different sharps and flats!
There was a rustling that seemed like a bustling
Of merry crowds jostling at pitching and tustling;
Small (?) feet were pattering, oxfords were clattering,
Little hands clapping and little tongues chattering,
And like fowls in a barnyard when barley is scattering,
The rats, tripping and skipping, ran merrily after
The wonderful dinner with shouting and laughter!"

Randall: "Well, I see you are writing home for a change."

Rankin: "No, just for change."

JUST ARRIVED
500 prs. French Kid Gloves
to go on Sale at
$2.25 to $2.95
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At Eaco Theatre

FRI. & SAT.—John Gilbert, Barbara La Marr, Bessie Love, a notable cast in the big special production "ST. ELMO" from the novel by Augusta Evans. A stirring drama of a man's faith renewed—his love reborn This story is so well known that we need not tell you about it. It has been shown here before but it is a good production thit it well bears repeating. Comedy as added attraction. Mat each day at 4 o'clock.

MON.—Tom Mix in "TUMBLING RIVER". A thrilling Western drama based on the novel "The Scourge of the Little C". This picture is full of action and it is the Best Tom Mix picture released in over a year. Dorothy Dwan and Wallace MacDonald are in the cast. Also Pathe News and an extra feature reel. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

TUES.—Olive Borden with Neil Hamilton, Marie Dressler and Mary Alden in "THE JOY GIRL" a special production. This is an epic of the jazz age. The story of a girl with a joyous heart. A picture parade of beauty, wealth and happiness. Palm Beach and palaces—Gotham and the glitter of gold. Extra good. Also serial. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

Admission S. T. C. girls 25 each night, if tickets are bought at college.

A HECTIC TRIP TO HAMPDEN-SIDNEY

(Continued from Page Three)

left for conversation of course.

The dates were "parked" in the windows and around the balcony of the gym. Just as everyone had commenced to enjoy himself a boy announced the girls must go back to S. T. C. "Tuff" luck, ole boy!

After much formality was endured in the medley of farewells and everyone had declared that she had the very best time she had ever experienced, the vehicles conveyed each and every girl back to the place where she belonged.

Any Hampden-Sidney boy would be willing to walk the streets of Farmville and blow a flute if he thought that the "rats" would follow him like they did in "The Pied Piper of Hamlin!"

JOAN

THE ROTUNDA

JOAN

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1928 No. 14

WE'RE IN THE MOVIES NOW

Extra! Extra! Extra! Extra!

How many girls at S. T. C. have had their one ambition realized? Many, no doubt, and the only thing left to worry them is whether or not they filmed well.

S. T. C. is in the movies! M. G. R. News Weekly has been filming a game of push ball in the athletic field, and more girls than enough have made their debut before the camera. Every girl in school is waiting impatiently for the reel to be shown at the Eaco, so that she will be given a chance to see herself as others see her, (that is if she could ever find herself among the mob.

Pictures were taken of the cheer leaders and captains. And as soon as I mention captains I think of Hatchett and Woods. Their fortunes are made, for where will Cecil B. De Mille, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, or any of the other directors find anyone who could do acrobatic stunts so gracefully as they did?

And did you hear about Pernele Byrd? It's a good thing that ball was not heavier, because I fear we would now be minus a forward on the Sophomore basket ball team.

I know that no more lusty cheering ever took place before a camera than that which was heard during the games. Under the direction of Nelms, Munn and Foster, the old athletic field rang, and one young lady, when things were rather quiet, was heard to remark, "What! Have We No Cheers?"

It is certainly to be hoped that some of the "stills" which we saw "Phil" Pedigo taking will turn out good. We would like to have some for our memory book, especially one of Jane Cotten under the ball, and Polly Aderholt and "Pa" Norfleet on top. What could bring back, more forcefully than pictures, a day before the camera.

Let's all save our pennies, and when we hear that the student body is to appear at the Eaco, let's mob the house, and find out how many stars have definitely determined their popularity, even before going to Hollywood.

P. S.—One of the cameramen was heard to remark that S. T. C. surely did have some pretty girls. We'd like to have him come back and pay us a visit (as well as another compliment.)

CONGRATULATIONS—FRESHMEN!!

The Sophomore Class heartily congratulates the Freshman Class on their publication of The Rotunda. It was excellent—both a challenge and an incentive to the staffs of the other classes.

DEDICATION

To Joan, listening to the challenge in the voices, listening . . . . to the call of service, listening . . . . to the silence of her people—

To Joan, seeing groping souls peering through the eyes of her countrymen, seeing . . . . seeing the flames upon the altar of sacrifice leap hungrily toward her—

To Joan, who listening and seeing . . . . smiled . . . . . and unflinchingly gave—

We, the Sophomore Class reverently dedicate this issue of The Rotunda.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Another bit of school history has been added to the list, now that the championship games of basket ball for '27 and '28 are over. Each year the interclass basket ball contest brings forth much interest and enthusiasm from the student body. Pep meetings announce in advance that the games are soon to be played, and much cheering on the night of the games indicates that they are in progress.

The leading game was played on Thursday afternoon, when the Sophomores won the honors and congratula-

(Continued on last page.)

A PLEA

Joan, with your eyes filled with visions;

Joan, with your life of tears;

Joan, whose great spirit has watched o'er us

Down the long lane of years:

Always protect us and guide us

So we may shape our lives

By a pattern of Love and Honor,

Ideals for which everyone strives.

L. M. B. '30

DR. GALLOWAY GIVES SERIES OF LECTURES

S. T. C. has been very fortunate in having Dr. James W. Galloway here for the last ten days to lecture on social hygiene, or sex education. The lectures have been on the broad and high plane of a scientist who has devoted years of study to the subject. The professional view of the teacher has been especially stressed.

Dr. Galloway is a native of a neighboring state, Tennessee. He graduated from Harvard, and since that time has spent most of his life as a teacher of biology. He taught several

(Continued on Page Two)

"TRELAWNEY OF THE WELLS" GIVEN

By the Dramatic Club

The college auditorium was filled to capacity last Friday evening, the occasion being the presentation by The Dramatic Club of their first play this year. These plays are always awaited with great expectation by all, and are events in which one's expectations are more than realized. Those who are familiar with the work done in Miss Wheeler's department know she is satisfied with nothing short of perfection, and her students must reach this point before they are permitted to appear before the public. The presentation this year was no exception to this rule, and much praise is due to Miss Wheeler and all members of the cast for the success achieved last Friday night.

The play given was Pinero's "Trelawney of the Wells". Each actor was good in her own part and each contributed to the success of the whole, while the artistic and colorful costumes of the theatrical folks added much to the beauty of the stage setting.

All the acts were well given, but special mention must be made of Act II., which depicts the scene in Sir William Gower's residence in Cavendish Square, where Rose Trelawney is on trial to prove her fitness for the position of wife to the vice-chancellor's grandson, Arthur Gower. Here good work was done by Etta Marshall as Sir William Gower, by Mabel Yancie Brooking as his sister, Miss Trafalgar Gower, by Mary Ellen Cato as Rose Trelawney, and by Beulah Jarvis as Avonia Bunn, the bride of Ferdinand Gadd. The lead taken by these four was well supported by all the others who appeared in this scene.

Others who did outstanding work were Elizabeth Turner, Alice Wiley, Nettie Boynton, Evelyn Dulaney, and Virginia Walker.

On the whole the play was a great success, and we shall look forward with interest to the announcement of the second appearance of The Dramatic Club.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Sophomore Staff wishes to express its appreciation for the help of the following girls: Ann Stump, Polly Aderholt, Aileen Broughton, Mamie Hurt, Mayo Bass, Etta Marshall, Mary Virginia Williams, Frances Wilson and Virginia Buxton.

SOPHS WIN BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

JOAN OF ARC

In his poem, "Silence", Edgar Lee Masters gives us this picture of Joan of Arc:

"And the silence of Jeanne d'Arc,
Saying amid the flames, "Blessed Jesus,"
Revealing in two words all sorrows, all hopes."

Silence—silence, that is not the word we associate with Joan of Arc. Yet, hers was the silence of one unjustly punished—what a silence like that? When her actions counted for someone else, when her voice spoke for others, did she lack courage? voice? For others she was fire and action; for herself, she was vainless.

Joan, the soul of Joan, still speaks. The guiding spirit of our school whispers in our ears—do we listen? greater still, do we heed? She tells us of duty, truth, and loyalty. She tells us of service for others. She tells us of happiness. The greatest thing in life are ours for the taking. Joan urges,; Joan set us an example. Can she do more?

VOICES

"There is something wrong with the voices of our children," writes Angelo Patri, "their tones are screeching, grinding machines of the age."

In the home mother screeches, father growls, children scream. If you tell them their voices lack much to be desired, they, as well as our S. T. C. girls would tell you that if you don't like it you needn't listen.

Listen to the shop keeper as she sell you a pound of prunes. Listen to some girl scream from rotunda to third floor—listen to the voice from third floor answer. Listen, to voices from campus that sound as though they were capable of being heard clear to town. Listen to an instructor as he eithers makes classes interesting or a bore—voices. What are we doing to them that leaves so much to be desired?

We really do seem to be developing into a nation and school of screechers, screamers and growlers. And all of this in spite of the fact that we are making rapid progress in music—both in performance and appreciation. Why do we speak habitually in such unmusical tones? There might be some reasonable hope that the cultivation of music would result eventually in cultivated voices, if it were not for the fact that we have to shout so to be heard above victrolas, crowds in the Rotunda, and the other fellow who is bent o nbeing heard as ourselves.

Yet there is no greater asset in the world than a pleasant voice, nothing more adapted to the cultivation of a personality and good taste. Yet at the very time we should be rubbing the sharp tones from our voices we're failing, and we all have vain possibilities!

INTERCOLLEGIATE WORLD

Several international exchange fellowships and scholarships for American students who wish to study in European universities are now being offered under the auspices of the Institute of International Education. Study in Cechoslovakia, France, Germany and Switzerland is open to both men and women fulfilling certain general requirements.—The New Student

The Fredericksburg "Bullet" states that their new swimming pool is now complete and will be formally dedicated February 13. Congratulations!

Who is S. T . C.'s favorite movie actor and actress. In a recent investigation at Fredericksburg John Gilbert and John Barrymore headed the list among the actors, and Norma Shearer among the actresses, with Gloria Swanson and Norma Talmadge running as close seconds.

It has been announced that $1,000,000 has been presented as a gift to the University of Chicago by Dr. Albert D. Lasker and his wife. This fund is to be used for "Medical Research" as an aid in establishing the causes, nature, prevention and cure of degenerative diseases.—The Breeze.

Dramatics at Wesleyan University have taken on a new life with the opening of a little theatre. The students outfitted the quarters, constructed a stage, and arranged the lighting, transforming one of the university halls into the Wesleyan Little Theatre.—The New Student.

JOAN SPEAKS

Have you not noticed her eyes in the equestrian statue riding "forward with God"—fixed on the steel sword raised toward the sky! This time the voice of Joan speaks from the soul of the statue whose base is in the dust of college work and whose face is in the sky.

"My steel seems brighter now than weeks ago—my aim seems higher, my dreams more real. Is it because the sky seems blue since the snow fell! It is because the sun shines warmer since winter has faded. No, it's because January brought us a New Year, all silver with opportunities, all radiant with hopes, all glorious with ideals. A new year, like a tiny book of lily white with pages of pan-velvet like the soft snow—to be written on by you my daughters. I shall not see its ending for some, for they will go out—somewhere into the world of realtiy, but, there will be some, some who will be with me and I will guide their life pencils! What will you write while my spirit calls you 'forward with God.' " years at Millican University, Illinois, and Beloit, Wisconsin. He has written books on social hygiene and biology. At present he is the educational director of the American Association of Social Hygiene, and through this agency he has come to us.

DR. GALLOWAY GIVES SERIES OF LECTURES

Continued from page one

BUSY WORLD BITS

The tour of "good-will" through the Central Americas by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has ended without mishap or unpleasant incident. His tour has carried him to eight cities and everywhere he was re ceived by record crowds. He states that commercial aviation connecting the republics of Central America is entirely feasible.

President Coolidge's request that Congress should appoint a commission of inquiry as to the S-4 disaster was promptly adopted by the House of Rrepresentatives and action of the Senate follows quickly. The press and the public are quizzing the U. S. Navy as an investigation of this disaster is necessary.

Twenty persons perished in the London area when the most devastating flood in the history of modern London swept the Thames River over its banks. The damage done t o property will run into the millions. One of the worst national losses was caused by the flooding of the lower floor of the Tate Gallery, where hundreds of valuable drawings and sketches by Turner, Ruskin, and other famous painters are.

The Democrats dined last week in te name of their greatest fighter—Andrew Jackson. The Jackson day dinner took place in the Mayflower Hotel in Washington. From all reports the Democrats had a fine time.

The National Democratic Committee has chosen Houston, Texas, for its 1928 convention city.

WHAT JOAN HAS GIVEN US

'Twas with a feeling of awe when we first gazed upon the statue of Joan of Arc. As we studied her we seemed to catch a vision of something noble, something beautiful, something that we were to carry with us throughout our livest. Suddenly Joan seemed to speak to us; we caught several words—loyalty, opportunity, fellowship. Although we could not grasp all her words we knew at once that we were imbued with a spirit of love, for our Alma Mater which was to stand for everything good and beautiful in our lives.

During our two short years at S. T. C., even though we have had moments of dispair, resentment, or doubt, the words of Joan come back to us; they seem to breathe into us a spirit of new life, hope and peace. With Joan as an inspiration we know that we can never fall; we know that we have something to strive for, an ideal that we hope someday to reach.

Afeeling of sadness comes over us as we think of some of our friends, Sophomores and Seniors who have only a few months with us at S. T. C. But, why should we feel sad in parting? Do we not know that they are prepared for life; has not Joan made them ready and is it not easier top art when we know they have her vision to carry with them? Even though they leave us we k now that we shall always be united by guidance of the spirit of Joan of Arc.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches--
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

YOUNG DREAMS

A bit of gold like a fleck of sun,
A tint of rose—and the thread is spun,
For the dream of youth as the whole world knows
Is as warm as sun, is as sweet as a rose.

A flash as swift and as keen as steel
A clear high call like a bugle's peal
For the dream of youth, as the world may guess,
Is a battle cry, and it echoes, yes!

A Hammer's blow and an Artist's brain
Are akin in hope, in desire, in pain,
For the dream of youth, as the world may see,
Is to break and make for eternity.

O Dreams of Youth, in your sun and shade,
In your faith and form is the world's hope laid,
For the dreams of youth, as the old world sings,
Go deep as roots and as far as wings.
—M. J.

Poetry is like a vase of silver,
Holding rare flowers—
Or perhaps buds, flowers in the making.
The poet places tube-roses or hyacinths there,
Arranged in form
To satisfy his creed of beauty.
C. M. H. '30

LIGHTED TAPERS

The chapel was dim and shadowy, unlighted save for the bright tongues of flame flickering in a row before me. Broken chords of melody whispered to me. In my musing the tapers standing so white with their bright aureoles of light held a new significance and before me unrolled a legend.

In the beginning God created the elements, fire, air, and water, all for the glory of His name and the use of man. But most important of these was fire. Of this he kept a flame burning on his altar bestowing upon each tiny life, as it came into being, some of this precious fire and light, to guide that life and these guide others. That little spark is the flame of life and the taper of life is long and straight. As time goes on it becomes perhaps darkened and mis-shapen and each stir of veil breezes causes its flame to flutter.

The mists floated from my eyes and the chapel was still there and the music, yes my eyes were opened and I noted that of the tapers glowing before me some were tall and straight, others, their life almost burned out, but all bore their light bravely, and brightly. Thus is the world and the life of its people, but how well we guard our life giving and light giving flames of life to live before all men—that is for us to determine.

From this the curtain of reverie parted and I went forth to my daily tasks, gladdened and strengthened.
—F. Wilson

As the warm sun lights our statue of Joan so the spirit of Joan lights our lives. We are among the blest to have her for a guiding spiirt. May we always be as brave, pure and unselfish as Joan.—L. M. B. '30.

PERSONALS

Among the old students back for the Dramatic Club play were Misses Elizabeth Jarman, Betty Hopkins and Margaret Cobb.

* * *

Misses Lucy Tundale and Doris Tucker spent the week-end at their homes in Crewe.

* * *

Miss Grace Mix poured tea for some of her friends last week, at the home of Mrs. Hubbard on High Street. Miss Mix leaves in February for New York where she will continue studies leading to her M. A. degree.

* * *

Miss Billy Booth has gone to her home in Lynchburg on account of illness. Hurry back, Billy, we miss you.

* * *

Miss Bugs Rivercomb spent the week-end in Blackstone as the guest of the Holdens.

* * *

Miss Phillyis Pedigo returned Monday from Richmond where she attended the opera at the Mosque.

* * *

Miss Lora Manson had as her guest at the Dramatic Club play, her mother Mrs. Harry Manson. Miss Manson will return to Roanoke where she will stay for a short visit.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Temple spent the past week-end in Petersburg and Richmond.

* * *

Miss Billy Paris was called to her home in Crewe on account of her mother's illness.

* * *

Miss Mildred Smith of Petersburg was the guest of Miss Willcox during the past week.

* * *

Mr. Frank Dulaney, brother of Miss Evelyn Dulaney, of Roanoke, spent the week-end in Farmville. Mr. Dulaney attended the Dramatic Club play on Friday night.

* * *

Miss Phyllis Wood is still at her home in Lynchburg. Miss Wood expects to return on Sunday.

* * *

Misses Mary Tucker and Colleen Maddox have returned to S. T. C., after a short visit to Blackstone.

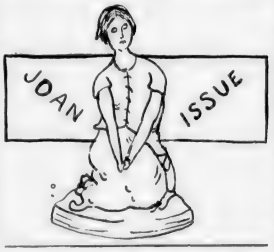
JAPANESE TEA

We can't all go to Japan but we can go to the Recreational Hall Saturday, January 28 to a Japanese tea from four to six. Tea and Japanese wafers will be served by Japanese girls. A bit of Japan will be there in the shape of imported Japanese articles, which will be for sale. Bring your American money and exchange it for a Japanese souvenir. It might be of interest to some to know that these articles were sent by Mary D. Finch, an alumnae of S. T. C., and who is now a missionary. There will be dancing for those who wish it.

Passport only five cents.

COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS FARMVILLE

An interesting game between our College High School team and the Framville High School team was played in the S. T. C. gymnasium. The score for the Training School mounted in the first half, but their opponents fought bravely, and the game ended with the score more evenly matched.



ETTA MARSHALL

Etta, our president, guide and friend! Truly worthy of the place that she holds in our heart—ever ready, ever willing, always the best of her talent, time and thought. Etta always —our Etta.

SOPHOMORE STAFF

Editor-in-Chief:
Mary Frances Shepherd
Assistant Editor:
Humpty Jones
Literary Editor:
Lucille Graves
News Editor:
Phyllis Pedigo
Art Editor:
Helen Williams
Joke Editor:
Clara Norfleet
Proof Reader:
Lucille Norman
Circulation Manager:
Florence Booton
Assistant Circulation Manager:
Odele Smith

PRAYERS ON GENERAL R. E. LEE'S BIRTHDAY

Prayers, on General Lee's birthday, was one of the sweetest services I have ever attended. The light from the candles cast a glow over the auditorium that created an atmosphere of reverence that is due to one of such a noble spirit as was Lee.

The two oustanding parts of the service were May Marshall's solo. The Churche's One Foundation," Lee's favorite hymn, and "Pannie" Willis' talk "Pannie" spoke beautifully of "the man with the old gray beard and the black slouch hat," who came riding, riding down across the ages, into the hearts of a student body.

Lee's high ideals that have placed him upon a pedestal above everyone else, were cited, and the desire to follow these ideals and make them our own was born in the heart of each one present.

Our thoughts were carried back to a tiny chapel in a little town where lies the recumbent statue of Virginia's greatest son, covered with the Confederate flag, and each of us was brought to realize more fully what the life of the "man with the old gray beard, and the black slouch hat" had meant to the world.

JOAN I WOULD FOLLOW

Joan of Arc means much everywhere, but here at S. T. C. she is a star that we follow.

Out in our collonnade there stands a bronze equestrien statue of Joan of Arc. In our reception hall there is a marble statue of Joan of Arc in a listening attitude. Listening to her voices our Joan sits. It is a beautiful statue of a wonderful woman and it gives as a wonderful vision. But for me the equestrian statue with these words on it, a tribute to Joan—

"Who in the moment of victory
Remains inaccessible to vanity and to hate,
Who in the midst of popular enthusiasm
Lives in humility and prayer,
Who in the universal crush of ambition
Covets neiteher profit nor honors," has a more potent meaning.

Many of us listen and fail to answer. Joan on her war horse, a noble animal, eager for the fray; Joan with her sword raised above her head, standing on tip-toe in the stirrups; Joan in action answering her voices is the vision I would keep close to my heart.

TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION

And I believe it! For instance, this story was told to me by a person with a perfectly honest face, and it was confidently expounded on as a psychological problem.

The story enters around two groups of fairly familiar faces who went places and saw things, and running true to psychological form, it travels around in a sort of circle—like Rowzer, you know—friend dog Rowzer—trying to catch that everlasting flea that will hop to the farthest end of his tail. Among this first group of familiar faces (excluding Rowzer's, of cours) was none other than our friend Pannie's. Accompanying them was Miss Stubbs. They went to Richmond. They had dinner. Miss Stubbs ordered fried chicken. Pannie did too. Now, every one knows the hostile feelings that exist between fried chicken and knives and forks. Miss Stubbs, it seems, was deeply obsorbed in a sociological discussion with another very intellectual member of the group. Pannie was carving chicken. Resistance in the fowl was strong and after an unusually energetic thrust of the knife, it suddenly broke all home ties, and sought refuge on the plate of Miss Stubbs. So deeply interested in her discussion was Miss Stubbs, that she remained ignorant of the charge in the situation of the chicken which had so "fowly" deserted Pannie and quite naturally consumed it. Pannie not wishing to disturb Miss Stubbs, and not being on speaking terms with the chicken anyway, said nothing—only watched.

Now, the second group of forementioned faces composed of Pearl's Pannie's and Etta's went to dinner in Detroit. This group was accompanied by Miss Hiner. During the meal, the story of the fried chicken was related, much to the amusement of those present. It happened that just before the story was ended, Etta accidentally glanced at her glass of water. It was full. Not being thirsty, she let it stay full. At the end of the story, due to excess amusement, she became exceedingly thirsty. She, for the second time, looked at her glass of water. It wasn't. That is to say, the glass was

(Continued on last page)

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Cronenard's
128 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHMINKEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Homemade Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

SPALDING
SWEAT SHIRTS
IN
Tan - Grey - White
Sizes 30 to 40
Price $1.50
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Beulah: "I hear T. Webb has a habit of talking to herself when she's alone."

Frances: "I'm sure I don't know."

Beulah: "I thought you two were intimate friends."

Frances: "Yes, but I've never been with her when she's alone."

Billy: "Your pictures are very good."

Susie B.: "Thank you."

Billy: "Who'd you get to sit for you?"

The meat cutters' new slogan: Butcher arms around me.

Etta: "The more one studies the more one gets out of college."

Margie: "Yes, and the less one studies the sooner one gets out of college."

Miss Davis to Freshman: "What! You can not define the word mirror? What do you look at after you have washed your face?"

Fresh: "The towel!"

Mr. Bell: "Who can name one important thing we didn't have, one hundred years ago?"

Ferrell: "Me!"

Dr. Simkins: "In what battle did General Wolfe, when hearing victory cry, 'I die happy.'? "

Nellie Stevens: "I think it was his last."

The very latest on the obsent-minded professor: He opened up the bed and jumped out of the window.

S. T. C.: "Is it dangerous to drive with one hand.?"

H. S.: "Sho' is, more'n one fellow has run into a church doing it."

"What is a detour?"

"The roughest distance between two points."

Miss Turner: "Who can tell me the national air of Italy?"

Nancy: "Garlic."

Annie P.: "I'm never gonna get married."

Dopy: "Why?"

Annie P.: "Because you have to have sixteen husbands. It says right in the marriage ceremony: four better, four worse, four richer, for poorer—and four times four are sixteen."

Frosh: "What's the cure for love at first sight?"

Soph: "Second sight."

"Many t'anks", said the waiter as he surveyed the fraternity banquet.

She: "You brute, you've broken my heart."

He: "Thank goodness! I thought it was your rib."

"Paw's" Dad calls her arch because she always needs support.

We've heard it said that some H. S. sheiks are so lazy that they even eat loaf sugar.

The biggest difference between men is women.

A co-ed may love a boy from the bottom of her heart but there's always room at the top for at least one more.

Barbara W.: "What kind of perfume do you use Banna?"

Banna: "Violet."

Barbara: "Huh! Did you say violent?"

Ann Stump says the only difference between the modern co-ed and the Seventeenth Century pirate is that the pirate is dead.

Humpty wants to know why telegraph when its cheaper and quicker to telawoman?

Two things that make Hampden-Sidney boys go higher in the world—elevators and ladders.

She was only a country belle, but she sure tolled me.

Alice D.: For a husband I should insist that he be a man of wealth, a humorist, a good companion and a sportsman. He must be handsome, too."

Phil. P. "That's not a husband, that's bigamy."

He: "I don't mind telling you, young woman, that you're not the first girl I've ever kissed."

She: "I'll be equally frank with you, in spite of your experience, you have a great deal to learn."

Kitty: "I saw the doctor about my memory."

Ellen: "What did he say?"

Kitty: "He wants me to pay in advance."

PEOPLE WE HATE

Those original people who say, "Why bring that up."

The Juniors who think its terrible the way Sophomores treat the Freshmen.

The cute boy who wants to know if this is a female school for normal women.

The prof. who thinks he's a humorist.

The Frosh who asks if Aunt Lucy is our aunt.

PEP

Everyone knows the famous lines so often quoted:

"Your pep, your pep

You've got it, now keep it . . "

But—how many of us keep it, even after it has been awakened in us. Thanksgiving Day represents one of our peppiest days here, but the lack of it there after is sharply in contrast. Not just in athletics is pep needed. Do you find the leaders of S. T. C. of a slow, sluggish type? No. They are full of the spirit and vitality that is necessary for all things. And so let us instill into ourselves some of the abundant pep which is here if only we care to find it.

DR. WALMSLEY

Ever since the morning Dr. Walmsley was presented in chapel as Sophomore Class Man, he has belonged exclusively to us. He has a place deep down in our hearts; he has our love and interest—why? He's a part of us. We zestfully sing:

"He's oh so true"—to Dr. Walmsley, our Class Man!

BACKSTAGE

Mary Ellen! She can't come, she's changing her costume! What no skirt! Can anybody find it? She can't go out in just tis blouse?

Please be careful, you're shaking that powder all over me! You've scratched your eye and smeared it so it looks like you've got a black eye!

Alice, please hurry and take that tie off, I've just got to have it so I can go on right now.

Alright, if you insist on walking behind the curtain while the play is going on, the whole thing is going to fall down! Well, how many of you want the audience to see you peeping trough the curtain?

Alice, be careful how you sit down in those trousers! there isn't another pair to fit you. Pour some water on me, so I'll look like I've been in the rain. Good-night! it won't stay on these capes, so pour some in my hat!

William, will you get the ladder and hang that picture over the dirty spot in the curtain!

Thank goodness! I lived through that act—I was scared to death! Praise Allah! it's all over.

PRAYERS ON GENERAL R. E. LEE'S BIRTHDAY

(Continued from Page Three)

empty. She looked at Miss Hiner's. It was full. Miss Hiner was not thirsty. It seems that Miss Hiner had been drinking water. Now, the question is —whose water did Miss Hiner drink?

Just another psychological problems, you say? Maybe so. But don't the funniest things happen?

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Continued from page one

tions of the day. Their greatest secret lay in the passwork made possible by the cooperation of the entire team. Nor was the Junior team lacking in this, for their hard-fought game deserves much credit. Good natured rivalry filled the atmosphere and made the game a most enjoyable one for the spectators and players.

The line-up:

Sophomores		Juniors
Byrd	F.	Hardy
Smith	F.	Wilkerson
Hatchett	G.	Erdman
Frame	G.	Woods
Gurley.	J. C.	Warriner
Palmer	S. C.	Atwater

Substitution—Quinton for Atwater, Atwater for Woods.

Score— 26 to 6

'ROUND SCHOOL

ON GOING TO CLASS, 8 A. M.

"Oh! Why does that old bell have to ring just as I'm all set to sleep a little more? Sign me up, roommmate, I don't want any breakfast if I've got to get up now for it. What! you say I won't have to go to breakfast; that's the class bell? Well, I am still stupid! I might have known. Guess I'll sleep till nine anyhow. My word! Don't tell me yesterday was Thursday. Impossible! it can't be Friday now—where are my shoes. Oh, that horrid class of Mr. Bell's! Why does my hair have to stand up like that behind? Water, gloco, intense brushing, nothing seems to help. And he told me I couldn't be late another time. My note-book where can it have got to—now fall down, every last book on the shelf, and see who cares—'cept Miss Shelton when she sees 'em, and this chaotic room. Well, I just haven't time to clean up now; one more note won't hurt. Not a pencil in sight. I have to hook roommate's fountain pen. Well, at last! Where is everybody? Ah, a notice: 'Mr. Bell meets no classes today.' Of all things to have exhausted myself for this end. my nerves! My whole day is ruined."

A FRESHMAN'S BLUNDER

It happened the very first Sunday night I was here. I guess every freshman remembers her first Sunday; everything still new and strange; just beginning to know your roommates; and mine were sophomores.

It was that night that I delighted my sophomore roommates and their friends by showing them just how green a freshman could be.

We had come back from church and were sitting around just doing nothing when a bunch of girls came in. All were sophomores, and of course we were introduced. One of them came and sat down beside me and started talking, just as friendly as anything. Suddenly she asked, "Have you thrown your laundry over?"

"Thrown my laundry over?" I exclaimed, not knowing what she meant.

"Yes, you had better hurry and get yours up. Every Sunday night you throw your laundry over the rotunda, and an old colored woman gets it and carries it out. I have just thrown mine over as I came by," she told me with as serious a face as any you have ever seen.

"But there are men down there," I said, thinking it the strangest thing I had ever heard.

"No, there aren't, at least, not when I came by. Maybe, if you will hurry you can drop yours over before any come in."

As it happened, I had already got mine up, and suspicioning nothing I took it and ran on down to the rotunda. I looked over the railing first before dropping the laundry to see if I could see the old colored woman, and what should I see but some men's feet. I drew back instantly and stood wondering just what I ought to do. It didn't seem right to throw it over. Just then a girl came by and I stopped her and asked, "Is is all right for me to throw my laundry over now?"

At this she began to laugh and I repeated my question. Then I heard more laughter, and there stood all of my roommates, laughing as if they could never stop.

Of course, I caught on then, and I laughed too. What else could I do? But I had learned my lesson. Never do what sophomore tells you to until you find out what it is all about.

JUST ARRIVED
500 prs. French Kid Gloves
to go on Sale at
$2.25 to $2.95
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week Jan. 30—Feb. 4

Mon. Buck Jones, Natalie Joyce and Albert J. Smith in "WHISPERING SAGE," a smashing, colorful picture in which Buck Jones fights his way against overwhelming odds for the love of a girl. Also Pathe News and as an extra added attraction, a special reel "THE JEWELS OF VENICE". Mat. at 4 o'clock.

TUES.—Herbert Holmes, Olive Tell Earle Fox, Margaret Livingston and Richard Walling in "SLAVES OF BEAUTY" What happens when a wife thinks she is getting to be too young for her husband. Told, by a cast of screen favorites in a comedy drama of laughs and sobs. The picture that will teach a million women the secrets of eternal youth. Also serial. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

WED. & THURS.—Ronald Coleman, Alice Joyce, Neil Hamilton, Noah Beery, William Powell, Norman Trevor, Ralph Forbes and Victor McLaglan in "BEAU GESTE", a super special production. A coolrful romance that sweeps along with the power and magnificence of a cavalry charge. Wild thrills, stirring action and, to knit the obsorbing plot together, a throbbing love story. The only production of its kind ever filmed. This picture was awarded the gold medal for being the best picture proucedd during 1927. Also comedy. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

FRI & SAT.—Clara Bow and Antonio Moreno in "IT" a Parmaunot picture based on the novel by Elinor Glyn. Flippant flapper, trim and dapper, naughty, haughty, chic mantrapper. All together now boys. "Has she got IT? Well, I guess Clara! Clara! Yes! Yes! Yes! Here's Miss Bow, ideally cast as a full fledged star, coming to cheer you up. What is IT? soon you will know. A great picture. Also comedy. Mat. each day at 4 p. m. Please come to Mats. or Friday night as the house will be crowded Saturday night.

Admission to S. T. C. girls purchasing tickets at college, Wednesday and Thursday, 35c. Other shows, 25c.

THE ROTUNDA

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THURSDAY, FEB. 2, 1928 NO. 15

LEGACY

Within our keeping they have left the cup—
A golden chalice made of their best dreams—
A symbol of what purer living seems
To those who in their blindness dare look up.

Within our hands they left the cup to keep—
The chalice which themselves kept ever bright,
So that, perchance, in guarding it we might
Find ourselves living souls—not dead, nor yet asleep.

And so we look to you with hearts sincere—
Hearts that are glad to give you this one though
That you may guard the spirit as you ought—
The spirit of class love that must live here.

Our Sister Class, this chalice we leave you
To cherish and to fill by being true.

—Julia E. Wilson, '29

DEDICATION

The Junior Class takes great pleasure in dedicating this issue of The Rotunda to the Spirit of Sister Classes—that intangible something which permeates our lives and binds hearts, minds and influence in one common purpose, that of a greater Alma Mater.

MEMOIRS OF THE CLASS OF '29

History of Class from Freshman to Junior Year

The first era of history begins on September 23, 1925, when 500 lonesome, green freshmen entered S. T. C., for the first time. How unfamiliar everything was! That queer feeling didn't last long because our big Junior Sisters and the Y. W. soon made us feel at home. After we had learned to know our classmates better we elected Elizabeth Hargrave,—oh, I mean "Runt" Hargrave—president. What a fine one she was, too.

After the Sophomores thought we had become sufficiently settled they decided to initiate us. One Saturday in October we were ordered to meet in the gym dressed in old clothes. What fun we had! We were made to dance, fight, sing, and roll, but we enjoyed it.

Then came Thanksgiving. We used our Freshman ingenuity to its fullest extent that morning and succeeded in getting the colors up higher than any one else, even if we did lose the game.

Ho wexcited we all were when Christmas came. It was the first one in our college life. After Christmas came Founder's Day. We had already caught the spirit so we were ready with our "shoe" full of money. The Freshmen next made their debut as musical comedy stars in Toddletown on March 13th. That was the night of the big fire, too. After Toddletown came June, and the end of the first era.

When we returned in September, we were the most sophisticated of Sophomores with Mebane Hunt as our leader. After we had done our

Continued on page three

FARMVILLE - WEST-HAMPTON DUAL DEBATE

The first debate of the season will be held on Friday, February 3rd between Westhampton and S. T. C. The question which is to be discussed is, "Resolve: That there should be a separate department of aviation with its head a member of the President's cabinet."

The debate will be a dual affair. The affirmative team which remains here is composed of Sammy Scott and Grigsby Peck. The negative team will go to Westhampton. The girls on this team are Frances Wilson and Catherine Bentley.

Life is the art of being well deceived.—Hazlitt.

NEW HONORARY SOCIETY MEMBERS

The Pi Kappa Omega honorary society takes pleasure in announcing the following new members:

Frances Brightwell
Lucille Graves
Elizabeth Hutt
Sammy Scott
Lucy Thompson

The old and new members and faculty advisors had dinner in the banquet hall of the tea room on Thursday, night, Jan. 26. After dinner had been served Dr. Jarman gave a very interesting talk, followed by an informal business meeting.

The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho takes great pleasure In announcing the following new members:

Louise Coston
Alice Wiley

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu has elected to its membership the following:

Miss Elizabeth Bugg
Pearl Etheridge
Virginia Raine
Gladys Sledd

Don't think your lot the worst because
Some griefs your joys assail;
There aren't so very many saws
That never str ike a nail.

The student body takes this opportunity of expressing its sincerest and deepest sympathy and love to Miss Mary in her recent bereavement.

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Julia Wilson
Asst. Editor ..... Gladys Wilkinson
Literary Editor ..... Frances Willis
News Editor ..... Anne Ferree
Humorous Editor ..... Sammy Scott
Athletic Editor ..... Emma Woods
Proof Reader ..... Elizabeth Rawls
Circulation Mgr. ..... Anna Cohoon
Asst. Circulation Mgr. ..... Elizabeth Bowers

ATTRACTIVE LYCEUM NUMBER PRESENTED

On Tuesday, January 24th Miss Sue Hastings and her company brought her marionettes to S. T. C. where they gave two performances to the delight of the whole college. The matinee was principally for the children of the Training School, but many others were present. The auditorium was packed for the evening performance. Miss Hasting's marionette performers are considered the best of their kind in the world.

Those who were fortunate enough to see the fantastic little players were probably conscious of a feeling not unlike that they had as children when their parents first took them to the circus and they saw the puppet show.

Certainly nothing has so taken the fancy or brought forth such enthusiastic applause as the little wooden figures who acted so realistically for our enjoyment. "Jazzy" and his many stunts amused the young heart and the old, and wasn't the little play, "Hind Horn," a most dramatic production! Equally as romantic was Pierrot wooing the "Lady of the Blue Moon," and the enticing dancer performing for her sheik. The whole performance was a most creditable one, and duly appreciative of the fact, we can only wish that the Marionettes will come again.

PRESIDENTS OF THE CLASS OF '29

Elizabeth Hargrave

When a multitude of green "Rats" arrived at S. T. C., one of our number immediately came to the front as president of the Freshman Class At once little "Runt" endeared herself to all of us, leading her class on in all of its big undertakings.

Now that she has left us to teach, we no longer hear that jolly laugh floating up the corridor, nor see her smiling at every one, but we will always be ready to welcome her back and shall ever remember her as that cheerful, hardworking leader of the "Rats."

Mebane Hunt Cabell

In the fall of 1926 the Sophomores returned to S. T. C. under the leadership of Mebane Hunt. And when, in the spring she left us to become Mrs. Henry Cabell, we wondered what would become of us without Mebane to lead us, help us, and sing to us. Her lovable personality caused us to love her.

The class of '29 is always thinking of you, Mebane, and we shall always be proud and happy to have you back at S. T. C.

VARSITY PLAYS GAME FRIDAY

To Match Strength With Harrisonburg

The varsity basket ball season opens with a game at Harrisonburg, Friday, February 3. Although the game will not be played on the home floor every member of the student body can back the team by being in front of the Rotunda at eight o'clock, Friday morning. This means so much to a team. As we all know Harrisonburg is an old rival and our interest will therefore be all the more acute. Lets back our team with cheers and help them bring the "Buckeye" home.

The probable line-up is as follows:

Wilkinson	forward
Hardy	forward
Gurley	J. Center
Palmer	S. Center
Hatchett	guard
Coleman	guard

Substitutes—Laura N. Smith, M. Erdman, J. Jones.

FRESHMEN WIN FROM COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL

Wednesday afternoon in an interesting, clean game the Freshmen won their first basket ball victory with a score of 16—5 when they met the College High School team.

The teams were well matched during the first half, which ended with a score of 8—4 in favor of the Freshmen. The "Rats" outplayed the High School during the entire second half. The Freshmen "piled up the score" to 16—5 before the final whistle blew.

Although the score was more than doubled, the High School girls fought to the end, making the Freshmen work for every point they gained, and proving that they were good sports in losing.

Line-up:

High School (5)		Freshmen (16)
Matherly	F.	Bernard
Reynolds	F.	Peak
Upton	J. C.	Hutchinson
Potts	S. C.	Oliver
Putney	G.	Coleman
Bruce	G.	Rountree

Substitutes—High School: Sanford for Reynolds, Rollings for Upton, A. Burger for Bruce.

Freshman: Smith for Hutchinson, March for Oliver, Sturgis for Peak.

Referee: Miss O. Iler.

A true friend is one soul in two bodies.—Aristotle.

Take life as you find it but don't leave it so. —The Spectator

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

THE COLORS

Across the still cold night came the clear call of a bugle, its notes sounded so vividly their meaning that the stillness of the night was broken and hearts, beeating as they never had before, listened and waited. Up, up into a starry sky rose the motto of a nation in a symbol . . . the colors!

Out of the midst of a silent gathering waiting the last tribute to this tragedy called life comes the stirring echo of a few notes telling in a pieced melody the ending of a day, a life day, for some unknown lad we name hero. Across the last resting place lies a symbol of all truth, all sincerity, all symphty . . . the colors!

Symbols of victory, symbols of peace, symbols of virtue, and honor; symbols of Ideals . . . the colors!

And so the colors have taken a vital part in this life of ours. Ideals of honor, spirit of sportsmanship, right living and love—spirit of classes draped in a knot of friendship, be it blue, red or green—Our colors!

SISTER CLASSES

The Seniors of '27 left to us the green and white colors which they had loyally followed for four years, two under the guidance of their big sisters and two leading and teaching us. Now, that they are gone, it is for us to give to you, little Feshmen sisters, what we have received from them. The spirit and the ideals of the green and white are invisible, intangible, but they form a force that drives us on higher and higher, ever striving to reach the goal of complete love and understanding. Bound together by these colors, we are glad to share with you the significance and value of the spirit of sisterhood. We want you to work with us to make that bond of love exist in reality not not just in name, for when we leave, we will expect you to guard this trust and in turn pass it on to others who will come after. The competition between the classes of red and white and green and white is natural and right, for only through friendly rivalry can the best in each be brought out to fuse at last in a perfect union of blue and white—the colors of our Alma Mater.

"CONDUCT IS THE MOUTHPIECE OF CHARACTER."

Do girls in college ever stop to think of the reputations which they are making for themselves? Is the idea prevalent here that exists in so many collegiate atmospheres, that "the little things don't count, and after all I'll never see half of these girls again"?

"Conduct is the mouthpiece of character," and the little things, the language used and the behavior around school form a vital index to an individual's character and home environment.

About fifty girls out of this student body know a girl intimately; the other 950 girls form their impressions by what they see and hear.

This old world is such a small place after all that one cannot affor dto create bad impressions, regardless of the fact that she may be associating with girls who are from every corner of the globe.

Fifty girls know you; the other 950 judge you by what they hear you say or see you do. Each hour brings opportunities for making or unmaking a reputation.

ALUMNAE NEWS

The Augusta County Chapter of the Alumnae of the State Teachers College at Farmville met at the home of Mrs. Richard Hamrick in Staunton on Wednesday, January 25. Mrs. L. F. Shelburne, president; Mrs. Richard Hamrick, secretary; Miss Virginia Potts, treasurer.

An Alumnae Chapter has been organiztd within the last few weeks at Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina. This is our fourth out-of-state chapter. Miss Patience Moore of Farmville is secretary of the chapter.

Dr. and Mrs. D. F. Weaver, of Orange, announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Henkel, to William Swadley Erwin, of Bristol, Tenn. The wedding will take place in February.

Tuesday, January 17, Miss Frances Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jenkins, of Burkeville, became the bride of Shelton Hillsman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Hillsman, of Rice. The marriage took place in Petersburg and was witnessed only by a few relatives of the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Carter, pastor of the Petersburg Episcopal church. Immediately after the marriage the couple left by motor for a wedding trip to Washington and places of interest through the Valley of Virginia, and after January 25 will make their home in Farmville.

Mrs. Hillsman attended the State Teachers College here and was a graduate of the class of 1927.

The Farmville Alumni Chapter sponsored a benefit bridge party given at the home of Dr. Jarman on Friday, January 27th. Many members of the faculty were present, and also several S. T. C. students, there being seventeen tables in all.

ARE WE PROUD OF YOU, FRESHMEN?

The Juniors are very proud of you, Freshmen. You have certainly caught the spirit of S. T. C. During Freshmen initiation when a Soph said "Rat, take my laundry," you bore your burden with a smile. You have answered the calls to the different organizations—Dramatic Club, Choral Club, literary Societies, Debating Club, and all the athletic team. All of us were thrilled when we saw so many of our little sisters taking part in "Trelawney of the Wells." We enjoyed the debate on Freshman initiation, and we were pleased with your splendid attitude. The student body likes your peppy orchestra. It shows your originality and enthusiasm.

Freshmen, keep your fine spirit, your willingness to serve others, your loyalty to green and white, and we will always be proud of you.

THE BELL'S PLEA

A bell has a soul. It has a language of its own. Only a lover of bells, a lover of their music and only one who has an understanding heart can interpret the langauge of a bell's deeper feelings. A strange story is told about the big iron bell of our college.

A storm raged over our school, there was an uproar on the inside, noises of running feet, slamming doors and an occasional scream penetrating even through the noise of the storm from without. Far up in the belfry there was also a storm brewing but it was within the heart of the bell. An interpreter with his heart in tune with the old bell's feelings would have understood this internal storm, and would have heard these strange words amidst the nightly voices:

"Ah, me, the maker of bells must know what is in my heart tonight because He has sent this storm, so that I can burst my heart and tell forth my secrets on this stormy night."

There came a whisper from the sturdy, friendly rope, which was lovingly bound around the bell, "What is it that makes a sob in your heart? Are you afraid of the storm?"

"No, it isn't the fear of that, for I love these heavenly storms. I am thinking of my children below me, the many, many children who come and go by my precious voice calling to them. Why, why have they not waited for my voice, but have made you awaken me from my dreams; why have they made you jerk out a cry of terror and unrest, that makes my heart ache, and causes the hearts of some of my children to ache when they hear my angry and startled cry? Friedly Rope, you can see those children, who come to awaken me, I can not, but I can tell by the pull what kind of heart is guiding that hand. Will you reach down and carry this message for me?"

"My children, from my belfry I can commune with the sun, moon and stars; all of these celestial bodies tell me to serve, serve mankind. I am giving my iron heart to call you to service. Do not use your hands to make me disobey my duty and thus cause unrest and heartache. Give your hands and hearts to serving mankind each day.

The storm had passed, silence nestled down over the sleeping school. A soft wind sang through the bell tower and the kindred soul could have heard the gentle murmur of the old bell keeping time with the wind.

"Serve, little children, serve,
Peace, little children, peace!"

Gray skies turn to flame,
Kissed by the crimson sun;
A thousand throats
With golden notes
Proclaim the Dawn. —L. L. R. '29

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville —:: —:: —Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches—
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

LITERATURE

GROPING

Out of the darkness of the bleak mid-night
Holding the world from the radiance of the moon,
Whose splendor dashes sparklets of moonbeams
Into the sky that fade so soon—so very soon,
I hear a song which pierces the depths of the darkness
And comes straight as an arrow shot by some Idian chieftain into my heart, its goal.
Into the depths of that darkness I stretch my hand as one who has lost his sight;
I grope and grope reaching for something until I feel—
The rain-drops splash; as if the night herself had sighed, and dropped a pitying tear.
And in my dreaming, wonder-struck with life, I kneel.

—F. V. W. '29.

PINE WOODS

When the snowy house tops stand in icy chill
In a long, calm row along the frozen road,
Then my heart goes wandering back
Over memory's frozen track—
Over the span of the years
To the pine woods of joys and of tears—
To the stately pine woods with its snow-clad army of trees
Pouring out fragrance,
The cold fragance of pine on the winter's stiff breeze.

When the first yellow buttercup laughs from its bright shiny eyes,
And nods it shappy head,
Waving gold dust to catch the hiding sunbeams,
Ringing out a golden welcome,
Then my heart goes fluttering back
Over memory's pathless track
To pine woods of shady coolness—
To pine woods whose green depths of shade
Call me home by a faint memory of mingled perfume
Of yellow jasmine bells turned to the sun,
And whiffs of clustered pink arbutus.

When a mass of tangled honeysuckle
Heavily burdens the air with its sweetness
And the rose-banked arbor
Penetrates that sweetness with its clustered fragrance,
Then my heart goes dreaming back
Over the thin, memory-webbed track-
Back to the pine woods
Of childhood's memory—
Back to the long, long lane,
To the silent, quiet moon
Shining through the shadow of the pine.

But when the vari-colored leaves of autumn
Turn my eyes to sunny days and stalks of golden-rod,
When the sunshine and the trees invite me to the wood—
Then my heart goes rushing—rushing back
Over memory's sun-bridged track—
Over the span of the years
To the pine woods of joys and of tears—
To the pine woods . . .
With its freshness drowned in the freshness of tears.

G. E. R. '29

THE SEA AT NIGHT

I too would go down to the sea again.
To the sandy wind blown beach
Where the dark, grey waves
Come rushing in
Out of the dense, black night
And there on the beach I'd work alone
With my head flung back to the wind
I'd drink in the beauty
The rare clean beauty
Of Love and Life and God!

—C. D. B. '29

Soft white crystals of loveliness sent from above to cover the brown earth in a glistening evening cloak so that she might radiate her brilliance as the moon glides across the wind-blown sky, from his stately palace, to visit his children the stars.

MY TASK

I set myself a task
To mend a broken heart;
And found the pieces
Scattered and apart.

I gathered them together
Thinking of the things I'd use;
Song and laughter for the ribbons,
Tears, a few, for glue.

But the glue grew overwhelming,
Ribbons frayed w ith age;
The song, begun in laughter
Somehow—ended, a dirge.

And I found the heart of a woman
A precious, fragile pearl;
And that heart-breaks last forever
To the end of the world.

M. G. '29

"ONCE UPON A TIME"

When we were very little children and would climb up on our mother's knee for a story at twilight, the magic words that opened up the land of story-books, were always "once upon a time."

Once upon a time there was a beautiful flower that bloomed by the side of a long and dusty road. The flower was snowy white—white for purity and honor. No matter how dry the weather, its petals were always smooth, clear, and shining like white satin. Its leaves were green and fresh all the year. Weary travelers, on seeing this lovely flower by the wayside, would smile and take on new courage to continue their tiresome journey. Then, one hot, sultry day in June some wayfarer, longing to carry away something of beauty, plucked this flower of green and white, and carried it to lands unknown. Now there was no flower to cheer and guide the weary travelers. Then, lo and behold, another flower of green and white sprang up the next year to help brighten the way of travelers unused to the road. Now, when each flower is plucked in June, another, taking its life and beauty from the first, blooms forth, never taking the place of the first, yet giving comfort and joy to those who come after it.

Last June, our flower of green and white, the Senior Class, was taken from us. We were left without the friendly smiles and helping hands we had learned to love. Then, we, for the honor of the green and white, stepped in their places, trying to lend a helping hand to our little sisters who have already shown themselves so eager t o follow.

Big sisters of the class of '27, we miss you. May your guiding light, like a flower of rare beauty, shine back to us, and help our light to be a friendly glow, warming the hearts of our little sisters, the Freshmen.—

MISS ILER

For nearly every one we can think of one fitting word which might apply to her. In this world we have exceptional people and for these it is almost impossible to find any word. Consider the whole vocabulary of adjecitves,—sweet, considerate, helpful, —yes, she is all of these to everyone, so the Juniors can not have a monopoly on these words. Leader—yes, she can be called that, but she is even more than that.

Miss Iler is a captain, not one who is satisfied altogether with a blue sea and white sails and a calm day. She is one who is much at home with a strong wind blowing cool, clean salt spray, and a rolling deck which requires the planting of firm feet, and the use of capable hands at the wheel. We often find a class man who can manage to be one or the other, but,—one sort of captain wasn't enough. The Junior Class could not have two. Miss Iler solved the problem; she is both!

MEMOIRS OF CLASS OF '29

Continued from page one

best to welcome the "Rats", we turned our faculties towards initiating them. How pepped we were over it! They were splendid sports about it all; that's what made it such a success.

With Thanksgiving came the advent of a new sport—hockey. The Sophomores and Juniors won the games. The championship game was won by the Sophomores.

On February 26th the Sophomore musical was presented. The Sophomore pirates discovered a treasure chest on Founders Day, but because of the occasion, they turned it over to Dr. Jarman for the Student Building.

The Sophomores waited for the end of the winter quarter with long faces and heavy hearts because Mebane was leaving us to be married. "Red" Foster was elected to succeed her as president.

The volley ball championship was won by the Sophomores. We were quite happy after that game because the cup was ours, and green and white would wave from it for the following year.

With June came graduation and the end of our Sophomore year—for some of us, the end of college, and how hard it was to let them go.

On September 20th we entered upon the third era of our college life—our Junior year. With "Red" as our leader and our Freshmen sisters to help us, we looked forward to great things. When the Sophs ordained that our sister class wear middies, we remembered that misery loves company, and we wore them one day, too.

The Juniors and Sophomores won the hockey games Thanksgiving, and the championship was again claimed by the class of '29. Thanksgiving night the Freshmen were given a party by their big sisters in the Recreation Hall.

Monday night, January 16th, the Juniors gave their "sing." This is the last event in our history so far, but we are planning others and are hoping that the rest of our college career is going to be as successful as the past.

Be not only good, but good for something.

The only way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you desire to appear.—Socrates.

PERSONALS

Miss Anne Palmer and Miss Alice Covington left Monday to attend the Fancy Dress Ball at Washington and Lee University.

• • • •

Miss Mary William Vincent spent the week-end with her mother in Emporia.

• • •

Miss Phyllis Wood spent the week-end with her parents in Lynchburg.

• • •

Miss Minnie Mae Brown visited her parents in Martinsville for the week-end.

• • •

Miss Beulah Jarvis spent the week-end with Miss Beth White at Brookneal.

• • •

Miss Frances Whitehead from Sweet Briar was the week-end guest of Miss Arnold Whitehurst.

• • •

Miss Anna Wood Inge spent the week-end in Petersburg.

• • • •

Miss Viola Woodson spent the week-end in Salem.

• • •

Miss Dorothy Latane, Miss Genevieve Grimes, and Miss Helen Jones are the week-end visitors in Petersburg.

• • •

Miss Elizabeth Rivercomb is leaving Sunday for the Fancy Dress Ball at Washington and Lee University.

Miss Jean Jones of Petersburg was the week-end guest of Miss Flora Martin.

• • •

Miss Evelyn West spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

• • •

Miss Virginia Gouldman of William and Mary College visited Miss Pete Hanmer for a few days last week.

N. B. B. O takes great pleasure in announcing a new member, Miss Lucille Graves.

GIFTS

Give me a book to read;
Give me health;
Give me joy in simple things
Give me an eye for beauty,
A tongue for truth,
A hand for work,
A heart that loves,
A sympathy that understands.
Give me neither malice nor envy;
But a true kindness and a noble common sense.
And at the close of each day
Give me work to do
And a friend with whom I can be silent.

—Sargent Quarterly

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

SPALDING
SWEAT SHIRTS
IN
Tan - Grey - White
Sizes 30 to 40
Price $1.50
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

RECIPE

Alice Wiley says to make a peach cordial send her a box of candy.

Beware! It's not usually the lemon that gets squeezed.

Virginia Gurley: "Mamma, look at that man's underwear coming down."
Mother: "Hush, child, those are his spats."

Yancey B.: "What can I take as a gift to the golden wedding anniversary?"
Virginia: "Why not take a goldfish?"

Julia W.: "Did Whitman write any poems for children?"
Bernice T.: "I thought he was the man who made the candy."

Pannie W.: "Finch swears she's never been kissed."
Chris: "Well, that's enough to make anybody swear."

Annie P. (in restaurant): "Waiter, this plate is damp."
Waiter: "Whatdyau mean damp? That's your soup."

Nancy Nelms: "Dulittle, says she thinks I'm a wit."
Jackie: "Well, she's half right?"

Phyllis Wood: "Why do they build bridges?"
"Liz" Ferrell: "To shade the fish."

Lux still with me, said Clara Norfleet, as she wiped the suds from her ears.

Dot Zeigler says that the dirtiest thing in school is the clock, because it never washes its hands and face.

William: "Here's dos figgers you tol' me to add. I done added 'em ten times."
Mr. Bristow: "Fine, fine."
William: "And here's the ten answers."

H. S.: "An' what might your name be?"
S. T. C.: "Dyna."
H. S.: "Dyna what?"
S. T. C.: "Dynamite, to some people."

Officer: "Fire at will!"
Keydet: "Where in the world is Will?"

"Kitty": "Whose name is on more people's tongue than any other?"
Elizabeth: "I'll bite."
"Kitty": "Smith Brothers."

Mabel Fitzpatrick says: "Our cow stopped giving milk so we sold him."

Anne Ferree: "If a thief broke in the cellar would the coal shoot?"
Red Foster: "No, but the kindling wood."

THE FAIR CO-ED

One morning in the midst of changing classes and getting "that letter," a peculiar personage was seen being swayed back and forth by the "fair sex." "Can you tell me the way to Dr. Simpkin's room, please?" asked the masculine voice.

This remark was over-heard and heralded. In ten minutes everyone thought that there was a coed in school, and had our imagination been given time, we would have had him rooming in the annex, wearing smoke-colored glasses and carrying a fish horn to protect his self-respect—but to our horror and sheer disappointment, he was only—a bookagent.

BUSY WORLD BITS

The age old story from the Far East.—Four million people are threatened with the perils of beggary and famine in Shantung Province in China. An appeal for relief is to be made by China International Famine Commission and America will aid as she has always done.

The last of the victorians passed on January 12 in Dorchester, England. Thomas Hardy has made unforgettable contributions to English literature and he lived to know that his name would be immortal.

The Literary Digest says that President Coolidge's twelve hundred mile journey to Havana and his address at the opening of the Sixth International Conference of American States is a frank bed for the friendship and confidences of Latin America. Can he win Latin America?

Senorita Alicia Calles, daughter of President Plutarco Calles, of Mexico, is attempting a flight from New York to Havana, Cuba.

MONOTONY

Smoky haze, low-hung light;
Murmering voices through the night,
Telling over the same old jokes.
Writing the letter to the folks.

Squeaky Vic., syncopating,
Chattering needle, oscillating,
Playing over the same old tunes;
Thinking of home, of girls, or moons.

Boisterous laughter, loud outcries,
Telling of tales, of stories, of lies;
Hunched forms, calculating,
Vacant stares, meditating.

R. L. D., '28. (The Cadet)

Milton in "Comus" said:

He that has light within his own clear breast
May sit i' the centre and enjoy bright days:
But he that hides a dark soul and foul thoughts
Benighted walks under the mid-day sun;
Himself in his own dungeon.

—Salemite

Louise McCormick: "Who discovered America?"
Johnnie: "Ohio."
L. Mc.: "No, Columbus did."
Johnnie: "Oh, that was his first name."

Breathes there a girl with soul so dead
Who never to herself hath said,
(As unprepared she went to class)
"If I bluff real well. I bet I'll pass"?

Miss Cooper: "When did the revival of learning take place?"
Catherine Ewers: "Just before the exams."

VOLLEY BALL

Stop! Look! Read!

Volley ball practice starts this week and here's a chance for every class to try to win ten points towards getting their colors on the cup this year. It also offers a wonderful opportunity for every girl to get points towards her blazer.

Now, don't say, "I don't know how to play." All one needs is plenty of grit and the will power to get out and practice. You can not help learning under Miss Iler's excellent coaching.

Let us keep up the spirit that has been shown throughout the hockey and basket ball season and put volley ball over with a bang.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We wish to extend our appreciation to these girls who have so willingly contributed to this issue; Isabel Macdonald, Carolea Harris, Katherine Bully, Mary Duncan, Catherine Bentley, Virginia Raine, and Margaret Finch.

CONGRATULATIONS

The Junior Class congratulates most heartily the Freshman and Sophomore classes for the splendid issues of The Rotunda which they have contributed to the literary annals of our school.

THE LATEST S. T. C. SPORT

Have you noticed various members of our student body coming in from the campus with rosy cheeks and a charming "wind-blown bob" effect? And have you wondered just what was the reason? Well, some of the dear children give themselves away. "How" you ask? Even Joan has to smile, tolerantly, I'm glad to say, when they troop past swinging clanking burdens of skates exactly as they did in their childhood days. Of course, I would be the last one to condemn their innocent little pastime, considering that it has the approval of our Physical Education department, but personally, I belive in taking my pleasures unmixed. To hear some of the harrowing tales related about near-tragedies or minor disasters that occur on thei neighboring hills would make most sensible people shun this newest fad. A limp or a conspicuous bruise is no longer the result of a too strenuous varsity practice but rather of a mis-step—or shall we say "mis-roll"—on one of the many nearby toboggans. And the energy of these skaters is astounding. Faculty members, blinking at the metoric flight down the avenue of an aspirant to perfection in this gentle art, wonder why our students don't cultivate the same attitude of perserverance, endurance and dogged "leap-all-obstacles" and "take-all-bumps" spirit in their lesson. But who ever heard of doing that with text-books? Why, skating is play. Text-books mean work. And the faculty members sigh and remember that "it's all in the way you look at it."

"BLAZERS"

Are you working for your blazer? We know that every S. T. C. student will want one when she sees them in the spring. The girls whose class colors are red an dwhite and who works hard enough to win her six hundred points will be awarded a beautiful red and white blazer. Those with the green and white class colors will receive a green and white blazer.

Can you imagine anything nicer? And just think, you can win one by trying out for all the teams and participating in the various athletic feats, such as hiking and field and track events. One hundred points will be given for passing the Efficiency Test. Then too, you are given points for your scholarship.

"C" average—no failures—25 pts.
"B" average—no failures—50 pts.
"A" average—no failures—75 pts.

Winning your blazer is by no means the end, for then you must work for nine hundred points in order to win your class numeral. The letters, S. T. C., are for twelve hundred points. With fifteen hundred points you will receive an S. T. C. on navy blue. Can it be possible to win anything more? Yes, there is still something higher, the college seal on a navy blue background. This is awarded when the high score of two thousand points has been made.

The Freshmen and Sophomores have a good chance to win everyone of these. The Juniors and Seniors need not feel discouraged for they can at least win a blazer and if they work very hard, they may get the numeral with which to adorn it.

Possibly you would like to know who is leading in the race so far. Well, I'll tell you the highest in each class and if you will watch the athletic bulletin board you can see the scores rise higher and higher towards the final goal.

Freshmen

Dolly Reed	175 points
Allie Oliver	100 points
Adell Huchinson	100 points

Sophomores

Mary Frances Hatchett	230 points
Laura M. Smith	25 points

Juniors

Gwendolyn Hardy	225 points
Emma Woods	205 points

Senior

Evelyn Dulaney	155 points
Jackie Woodson	155 points
Mary Clements	155 points

JUST ARRIVED
New Spring Dresses
Coats and Hats
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Feb. 6—11.

MON, TUS. and WED—The Shannon Players will be at the theatre these three days, presenting all new shows each night. There are several new players with the company this year and some of the old favories. Among the plays that this company will present to you are such well known successes "The Whole Town's Talking," "The Unwanted Child," "What Every Daughter Leans," "Where the River Shannon Flows," "Hard Boiled Nora," "When a Man Marries." The opening play will be "What Every Daughter Leanrs." There is an orchestra with the show and they will present vaudeville between their acts each night. All tickets will be shown at the theatre. Adult admission prices 50 cents, children under 12 years old, 35 cents.

THURSDAY—Jackis Coogan in "The Bugle Call," a special production. Jackie Coogan never played a more manly, lovable boy-hero part than in this epic action picture. As a buglar, he blows his way into the Hall of Fame by an amazing stunt in the heat of battle, and wns your tears and cheers throughout, also a good comedy and the 9th episode of "The Silent Flyer." Matinee at 4 o'clock.

FRI. and SAT.—The Super Special Paramount production, "Metropolis" will be the attraction these two days. In it you wll see the climax of cinema magic. The picture that has set the world agog. An outstanding landmark in the annals of screendom. No word can describe it! No pen can portray it! No eye can believe it! It must be seen to be approciated! We havn't told you what is is all about but we tell you it is the most unusual production that has ever been screened, and no one should fail to see it. Also good comedy. Matinee each day at 4 o'clock.

S. T. G. girls admission prices. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 50 cents. All picture shows 25 cents, if tickets are purchased at the college.

FINALE

You would not knock
The jokes we use
Could you but see
Those we refuse.

THE ROTUNDA

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THURSDAY, FEB. 9, 1928 NO. 16

FIRST VARSITY DEBATE HELD

Dual Debate With Westhampton!

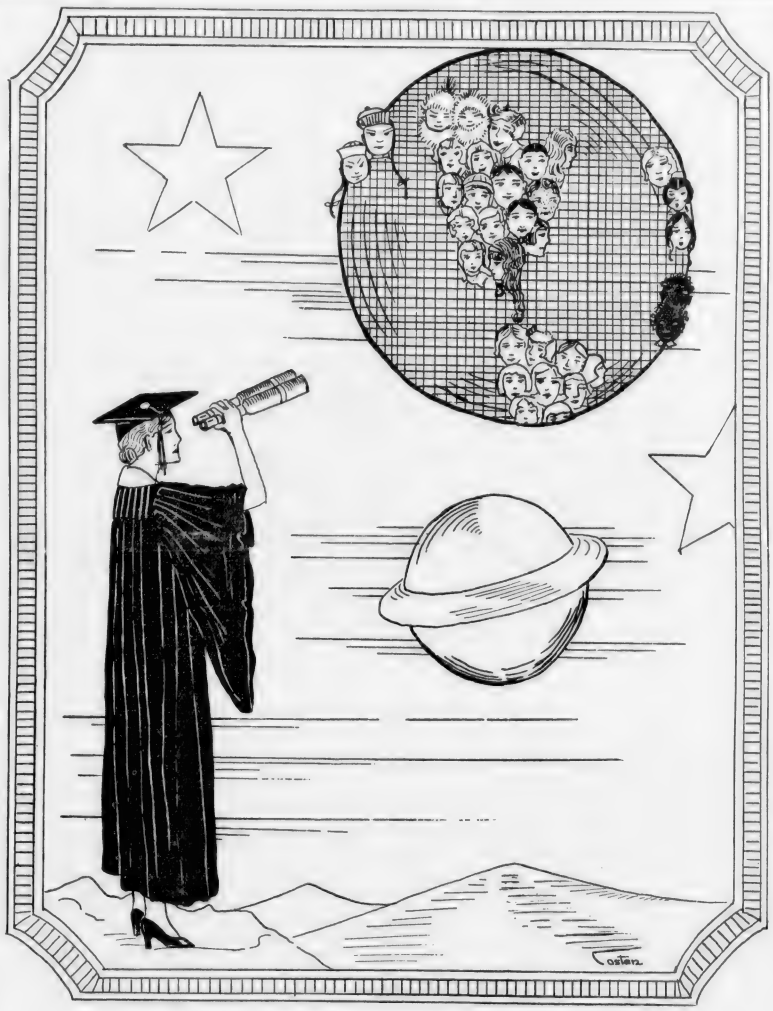
The first intercollegiate debate of the season was the dual debate with Westhampton held on Friday, February 3rd. The subject under discussion was, "Resolved: That there should be a separate department of aviation with its head a member of the President's cabinet."

The girls representing S. T. C., and upholding the negative side of the question at Westhampton were Miss Catherine Bentley and Miss Frances Wilson. The girls upholding the affirmative side of the question were Miss Sarah Cohn and Miss Catherine Branch of Westhampton.

At Farmville, the affirmative side of the question was upheld by Miss Grigsby Peck and Miss Sammy Scott of S. T. C. The negative was upheld by Miss Elizabeth Hale and Miss Margaret Lowe of Westhampton.

The S. T. C. girls going to Westhampton to represent us left from the reception hall at one o'clock amid the cheers and best wishes of the student body. We were also glad to welcome the girls coming to us from Westhampton who arrived on the five-forty-five train.

The debate which was held in the S. T. C. auditorium was a very interesting one and was much enjoyed by all who had the privilege of hearing it.



The affirmative attempted to prove that if we are to adequately "provide for the common defense" and "promote the general welfare" of our country we must develop our own invention, the airplane, and that the most plausible way to do this would be to create a separate department of aviation with its head a member of the President's cabinet.

The negative attempted to prove that the present system under which aviation is working is perfectly adequate both for commercial and defensive purposes, and that should a separate department be created with its head a member of the President's cabinet, conditions, instead of being improved, would be made much worse.

While we were waiting for the decision of the judges the result of the Harrisonburg-Farmville basket ball game was read. The result was 33 to 14 in favor of Harrisonburg. Never mind we will do better next time!

At S. T. C. the judges' decision was 2 to 1 in favor of the affirmative. At Westhampton the decision was also in favor of the affirmative.

We have enjoyed the intercourse which this debate has brought about with Westhampton. We have enjoyed having the Westhampton girls with us and we have enjoyed our trip to Westhampton. We hope that this will be onl ythe beginning of many such pleasant intercourses.

A SENIOR'S VIEW OF THE WORLD

DEDICATION

For generations the class room teacher has been performing her duty, working early and late without recognition, often without thanks, to develop citizens of Virginia. And now that a day of Greater Educational Advantages is dawning it is still the class room teacher who will bear this torch of light until Virginia ranks among the leading educational forces in America.

And so to the class room teacher, in recognition of her faithful service and her glorious opportunity, we, the Senior Class, dedicate this issue of "The Rotunda."

TAPESTRY LECTURE IN AUDITORIUM

On Thursday night, February 2nd, Miss Julia Sully of Richmond, Virginia, gave a tapestry lecture in our auditorium at eight o'clock. Miss Sully is on extension work for William and Mary College and is widely recognized throughout the state as a lecturer. The tapestry on which Miss

(Continued on Page Three)

VIRGINIA

A fruitful land, a land of homes
From azure mountains to the sea;
A land of song, of memories,
Of joy in what is yet to be.

Jennie M. Tabb

FARMVILLE TO PLAY FREDERICKSBURG

The first varsity game on the home court will be played this coming week-end. The varsity squad expects to go into intensive training, but how about the cheering squad? Will they be willing to put every minute of time possible on pep meetings? Is the student body behind the varsity to

Continued on last page

VARSITY PLAYS AT HARRISONBURG

Loses By the Score of 33 to 14

The varsity season started for us at Harrisonburg, when our team gave battle to our ancient rival, and although we lost, it furnishes us a challenge which we will meet in each of the coming games. Harrisonburg showed splendid and fast passwork, which our girls found very difficult to break up. However, they put up a stiff fight against them, and they were more successful than the score would seem to indicate.

Although a great part of each score was made on free shots, the game was an unusually clean one, both teams showing exceptionally good sportsmanship. Miss Lehr, the referee, was an unusually good official, and was just as fast as the fastest player.

And now it is up to us to make the old saying: "A bad beginning makes a good ending"—come true, for we all know that the team can do it. It remains for the student body to continue to give them the support that makes for victory.

The line-up:

Harrisonburg	Farmville
Smith	Hardy
Doan	Wilkinson
Guigenberry	Gurley
Heiger	Palmer
Cockerill	Hatchett
Milleo	Coleman

Substitutes—Farmville: Smith for Palmer, Jones for Gurley.

STATE STUDENT VOL. CONVENTION

"Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide."

We have often heard it said that opportunity knocks but once at our door. She is now gently tapping for admission. She has a rare gift to offer and one that she can present only once a year. It is ours to accept or refuse.

She offers us the rare opportunity of attending the State Student Volunteer Conference to be held at Bridgewater College February 24—26. It is not necessary that one be a volunteer in order to attend this convention and enjoy the talks made by the outstanding men and women connected with the movement, by returned missionaries, and by students of other colleges in the states. Shall opportunity pass on by carrying her valuable while we sit back and wait for trifles, or are we awake to the real values of life?

Any interested in attending the conference can get information concerning the rates, etc., from Room R., Student Building. We are hoping for a representative delegation from S. T. C.

abused among the worst.

er", who deserve much credit as the

dramas ever screened.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

EDUCATION IN VIRGINIA

"Reading and writing and 'rithmetic, taught to the tune of a hickory stick." Is this true of the present day school rooms of Virginia? This brings a smile to our faces, but did it bring a smile to the faces of our fathers and mothers?

What strides Virginia has made since those days! Her more recent advance in education makes an interesting story. A new era in her long history has come. A new and younger generation has assumed the helm of state. "Virginia, tho' still proud of her historic heritage, is no more the Old Dominion busy with telling the world of her ancient achievement and the glory and glamour of her past." She is more concerned with the future; and she realizes that this is the problem of her youth. In order to meet the future fairly and squarely, the youth must be equipped with the strong armor of education.

In the past five years Virginia has reduced illiteracy one-half among her people. In another five years illiteracy will be banished forever and aye. Sixty per cent of her school population is now in school, and eighty-five per cent of her enrollment is in regular attendance. The financial support of public education in Virginia has about doubled in the past ten years, and teachers' salaries have increased 200% during the same period.

Enrolment in the high schools of the State increased 451% in the past fifteen years, and in the same period the increase for the high school graduation was nearly 200%. Virginia is fourth among the states in the number of high school graduates going to college. Last year the average length of school term for the public schools was eight months. About 50% of the children were in school nine months. The value of her school property increased in ten years from fifteen to forty-five million dollars. In total amount spent for education, Virginia ranks forty-second among the states of the Union, but in the educational return for this expenditure she ranks thirty-ninth.

At present over one-third of Virginia's elementary school teachers are full graduates of normal schools or teachers colleges, and over one-half of her high school teachers are college graduates. 11.9% of the entire teaching force of Virginia is college graduates, whereas five years ago only 5.6% held college degrees.

The modernized curricula for elementary and high schools now begin with the kindergarten and extend to the college. They give training in the fundamentals in agriculture, in industrial arts, in home economics, in physical and health education.

Virginia does not occupy a relatively high rank in comparison with what is being done in some of the states of the Union, but her more recent progress in education is rather striking and forms the basis of what we regard as a laudable enthusiasm among Virginia people for public education.

TEACHING AS A PROFESSION

We have come to a teachers college primarily to learn how to become teachers. During our first and second years we think of teaching in a rather vague way as the occupation that we shall have when we leave school.

In our junior year, however, when our senior friends begin to write for application blanks, we are awakened to the fact that next year we will be doing just that same thing. Consequently we begin to think more and more seriously of teaching. This process becomes more and more active as we enter our senior year. Teaching, then, becomes not an occupation but a profession. A profession full of opportunities for self improvement in an educational way, in the contacts it provides with people in the educational world. Narrow viewpoints are broadened noticeably by associations and conflicts with the viewpoints of others.

More essential than the opportunities we are given for self improvement are those we are given for service. As teachers we are given marvelous opportunities for contribution by taking part in the community life, in the churches, in the social life. Every day we cast an influence either for good or for bad on those whom we teach. Their ideals are elevated or lowered, their characters either strengthened or weakened.

We are almost overwhelmed and frightened when we realize the opportunities and responsibilities that are ours as teachers. How are we going to meet the challenge that is flung toward us as we enter the profession?

WHY THE DEGREE

So many students enter college in their Freshman year with the idea of remaining for only two years. This is due in many cases to the fact that there are many courses offered in the curriculum of S. T. C. that require only two years for completion. Yet, when the September that marks the beginning of the Junior year comes, a large number of graduated Sophomores begin to consider seriously the idea of returning to their Alma Mater for the additional two years. When school opens, it finds many of those that in June had no idea of spending another two years in school, back for their degrees. Why have these girls changed their minds? Because they have decided, after much thought that it is the four year college course that actually benefits most.

At the end of two years there are so many things that have been only begun and so many of the "like-to-have-taken" courses left in school. These like-to-have-taken courses are in many instances the courses that would offer more real enjoyment to the would-be teacher and would give her a more fully equipped preparation for her work as a teacher. The last two years finish and round out the work begun in the first two. This work gives a clearer insight into and a broader conception of any subject. It makes possible the goal set by every college girl—a degree!

What are the advantages of a degree to a teacher? A degree teacher is a boon to the entire educational system. A degree gives the opportunity for securing a much better school, which brings with it better environment and more equipment for serving as an educational instructor. A degree aids pupils as well as teacher. The additional knowledge and development in personality gained in completing the prerequisites of a degree enable a teacher to have more to give to her pupils and helps her to better understand them.

Besides its academic value the working for a degree benefits the individual. The work required plays a great part in making the individual. The last two years of college life bring out and develop the leadership that has been at a dormant stage during the Freshman and Sophomore years. Personality is constantly in the making and the upper-classman years do much to develop it more fully. The value of a degree lies not so much in the opportunities that it affords one from an academic standpoint but in the broadening way in which it fits the individual for a life of higher standings and aspects.

THE SCHOOL TEACHER'S CREED

I believe in girls and boys, the men and women of a great tomorrow; that whatsoever the boy soweth the man shall reap. I believe in the curse of ignorance, in the efficiency of the schools, in the dignity of teaching, and in the joy of serving others. I believe in wisdom as revealed in human lives as well as in the pages of a printed book, in lessons taught, not so much by precept as by example, in ability to work with the hands as well as to think with the head, in everything that makes life large and lovely. I believe in beauty in the schoolroom, in the home, in daily life and in out of doors. I believe in laughter, in love, in faith, in all ideals and distant hopes that lure us on. I believe that every hour of every day we receive a just reward for all we are and all we do. I believe in the present and its opportunities, in the future and its promises and in the divine joy of living.—Amen.

CAPS AND GOWNS

Touching with my finger tips a blossoming white anthea,
Quiet in a greenery I watch them passing by—
Cap and gown, cap and gown (some with hoods of rainbow)
Brushing dewy grass below a brightly breaking sky.

Cap and gown, cap and gown (who wove the velvet rainbow?)—
Slowly they go by me 'till they reach a pillared porch.
When, lo, not merely caps and gowns pass in between the pillars there,
But suddenly each figure is a runner with a torch.

And I see a bitter darkness dimming and dissolving,
For these are bringing torches; they are ushering in a Dawn.
And in the light, and toward the light, are little children's faces!
The caps and gowns have entered, choked with prayer I follow on.

—Grace Allen in The Peabody Reflector, August 1926

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville — Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches...
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

WHY I TEACH

Because I would be young in soul and mind
Though years must pass and age my life constrain,
And I have found no way to lag behind
The fleeting years, save by the magic chain
That binds me, youthful, to the youth I love,
I teach.

Because in passing on the living flame
That ever brighter burns the ages through,
I have done service that worth the name
Can I but say, "The flame of knowledge grew
A little brighter in the hands I taught,"
I teach.

THE SENIOR

You will go out this June from cloistered halls
Of academic wisdom, from quiet walks
Beneath the campus trees from starlit talks
Of youth and life and God. Your future calls
You into the swirl of cities and of men;
You will not come this way again.

You touch my hand and speak sweet, awkward words
Of thanks and parting. You will remember me
As long as singing birds and stars shall be—
And yet—
You will forget.

I watch you go—
I who have trembled for you, hoped, rejoiced.
And stretched a careful finger forth to guide you.

Your soul is a clean, white book, whose pages glow
Scarlet and gold and blue—I should not know
The ending of the story therein voiced;
Your name is a fragile moth with pale gold wings,
New-broken from its chrysalis; it clings
Vibrant upon youth's stem; I shall not see
The beauty of your flight, radiant and free
Your soul is a delicate plant I have watched unfolding

Green leaf by clear green leaf;
But you will flower far from beholding,
So frail remembrance is, so rare, so brief.
Your soul is a small brown bird whose hesitant flying
I follow anxiously; I cannot shield
You from rough winds and storm. You flutter on,
A gleam of sunlight round you propheçying
Your soaring strength. Across the ripening field
You drift, and life above the wood—on—on— until
You flash behind the hill—
And you are gone.

—Irene H. Wilson.

NEW BOOKS AMONG THE FACULTY

"A Social History of South Carolina During the Reconstruction Period" is the title of a volume which Dr. Francis Butler Simkins is now writing.

Such a book has been needed for a long time. The political side has already been treated, but Dr. Simkins is presenting the subject from a new viewpoint, and his book is the first of its kind in the field.

Dr. Simkins gives a realistic picture of the life of the people during Reconstruction and shows how home life, education and even religion were influenced and modified by conditions which then existed. Special stress is laid on the new attitude toward education which exerted a permanent influence on the customs, the culture and the ideals of the people of South Carolina. Vivid pictures are given of the relationship between the whites and blacks during this period.

Dr. Simkins has worked wholly from original material for which he has gone to the public and the private libraries of South Carolina, to the Library of Congress, to the various libraries of New York City and to the Library of Harvard University. Much of his most interesting material has been found in old newspapers and forgotten books of travel.

To students of History and of Social Science this book promises to be not merely useful but well nigh invaluable.

In "Social Science" for January are two book reviews by Dr. Walmsley. Stowe's, "Modernizing the College" is reviewed with the doctor's scholarly insight and knowledge, but in reviewing Frances Newman's "The Hard Boiled Virgin;" Dr. Walmsley has used his keen sense of humor to send a shower of winged and pointed arrows at the author for her own "hard-boiledness," towards the people of the Old South. Ridicule of the Old South is the fashion even among our own people and we thank Dr. Walmsley for coming to the defense of a civilization which, with all its extravagancies is among the best that America has produced.

Miss Tabb's volume of poetry with the taking title of "For You," deserves special notice, says a well-known Southern critic of literature. Indeed the title of the volume proclaims the nature of the work,—poetry that makes a direct appeal to the reader. Here are sentiments without sentimentality, simplicity without baldness, and above all beauty without weakness. Strength, too, is not wanting in Miss Tabb's poetry.

There are literary vagaries in this volume. The best traditions of English poetry are preserved in this brief lyrics and the sonnet, the two forms of poetry in which the author delights and in which she shows rare skill as a verse writer, united with the deep feelings of the poet. There are lyrics and sonnets in this volume which any contemporary poet would be glad to claim, and which should find their way, as they deserve to find, into our permanent anthologies of the present.

Miss Tabb is to be congratulated, Virginia is to be congratulated; on the fine work done in "For You."

Among our old graduates we find that Miss Frances Currie has published in a fall number of "The Progessive Teacher" an article entitled "Helps in First Year Latin." In the "Virginia Journal of Education" for January she has another article, "Good Posture in the School."

Miss Currie is also the author of two plays which have been accepted by the Sheridan School Supply Company. Miss Currie finished here in 1920, and she is to be congratulated upon her recent literary contributions.

PERSONALS

Among the girls attending the dances at University of Virginia last week-end were Misses Margaret Hewett, Mabel Fitzpatrick, Virginia Bull, "Skinny" Craft, Mary Bernard, Virginia Walker, Yancey Brooking, and Frances Malbon.

• • •

Misses "Bits" Marshall, Carolea Harris and Bettie Bacot spent last week-end in Norfolk.

• • •

Miss Blanche Murrell spent last week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

• • •

Miss Virginia Robertson had as her guest for the week-end Miss Helen Haines.

• • •

Misses Elizabeth and Alma Woodson, and Helen Davidson spent last week-end in Crewe.

• • •

The following girls attended the dances at Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, last week-end, Misses Polly Aderholt, Mary Rigby, Martha Lanier, Mary Blackwell Parker, and Anne Deffenbaugh.

• • •

Miss Margaret Hoskins has gone to her home in Ashland on account of illness. She expects to return to school next term.

• • •

Miss Anna Massey Clark had as her guest for the week-end Miss Margaret Woobine of Hollins College.

• • •

Miss Margaret Hubbard spent last week-end in Lynchburg with Miss Billy Booth.

• • •

Misses Ethelwild and Elizabeth Houchins attended the dances at Virginia Episcopal school in Lynchburg last week-end.

• • •

Miss Margaret Pumphry spent last week-end at her home in Richmond. While there she attended the German Club dances at University of Richmond.

• • •

Miss Minerva Evans spent the past week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

• • •

Misses Frances Willis, Red Foster, Mary Christian Royall, and Rachel Royall, spent last week-end in Richmond.

• • • •

Mrs. Hansel spent several days last week with her daughter, Margaret.

• • •

Misses Mary Tucker and Virginia Cobb have returned from a visit to their home in Blackstone.

• • •

Miss Virginia Ellis had as a guest for the week-end her mother, Mrs. Richard Ellis.

• • •

Misses Frances Wilson and Katherine Bentley debated at Westhampton on Friday night.

• • •

Miss Elizabeth Bugg spent last week-end in Staunton with Miss Elise Anderson.

• • •

Miss Laura Anderson was in Richmond the past week-end to attend the Marks-Sheppard wedding.

• • •

Misses Anne Guy, Elizabeth Miller and Nan Griffin have returned from Hampton where they spent the week-end.

• • •

Miss Louise Arthur has returned from her home in Bedford where she spent the week-end. She had as her guest, Miss Louise Dedmon.

GOVERNOR BYRD AND EDUCATION

In his message to the General Assembly Governor Byrd gave education a prominent place. Among other things he said that Virginia in order to live up to Jeffersonian ideals could not afford to fall behind in the gigantic task. There are 429,161 students daily attending the public schools of Virginia and if democracy is to remain safe it must be done through the training of these boys and girls.

But, continued Governor Byrd, "the difficulty of determining the best way to give this training puzzles even the educators themselves and makes public education the most perplexing problem with which you must deal. As the children increase the money must increase, and as intelligence broadens a more enlightened public spirit demands better teachers, better buildings and better schools."

In speaking of the work of the Education Commission Governor Byrd considered their "report on the public schools reassuring and exceedingly constructive. Virginia is not expending an extravagant sum and is making progress in efficiency. Better rural teachers are needed, and more money must be efficiently expended. The budget contains an increase of $1,250,000 to the public schools, to be distributed in accordance with the terms of the Constitution, on a school population basis."

"I very heartily indorse the section of the report relating to subjects and methods of teaching and the statement that such subjects and methods are not entirely adapted to present needs. I commend especially this section of the report to all interested in the future of the public schools."

Governor Byrd is interested in education in Virginia and will endeavor to carry out his progessive ideas in this field.

WHAT THE SENIORS DO

The Seniors of '27—'28 are doing their bit as it is customary for seniors to do.

The following members of the Senior Class are serving as officers in the major organizations of S. T. C.:

Student Council

"Chris" Royall ..... President
Alice Wiley ..... Vice-President
"Liz" Woodson ..... Secretary
Alyce Page Adams ..... Treasurer

Y. W. C. A.

Ella Louise Moore .... Vice-President
Virginia Ellis .... Chairman of Religious Committee

Debating Club

"Liz" Hutt ..... President

Athletic Association

Juliet Jones ..... Secretary
Mary Clements ..... Treasurer

Rotunda Staff

Evelyn Dulaney ..... Editor
Helen Davidson ..... Proof Reader
Alice Wiley ..... Reporter

Virginian Staff

Louise McCormick ..... Editor
Louise Costen ..... Art Editor
Greenhow Parker .. Photographic Ed.

TAPESTRY LECTURE IN AUDITORIUM

Continued from page one

Sully lectured gave the Norman Conquest. The Bayeux Tapestry, as it is called was made by Matilda, William the Conqueror's wife, and her ladies about the year 1070, and the slides gave us a true picture of the life at that time. Those who heard Miss Sully realized what an opportunity it was and enjoyed hearing her very much.

Association also spoke Friday night.

(Continued on last page)

abused among the worst.

er", who deserve much credit as the

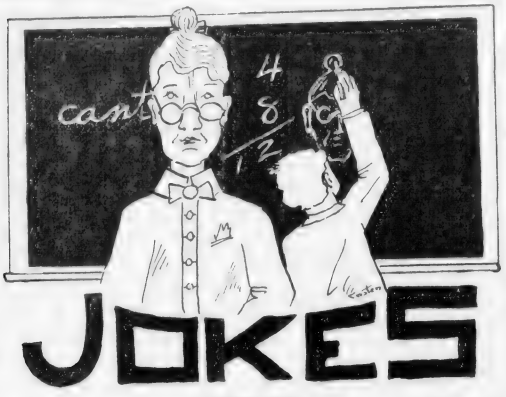
dramas ever screened.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS



WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

SPALDING
SWEAT SHIRTS
IN
Tan - Grey - White
Sizes 30 to 40
Price $1.50
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Colleen Maddox (in history): "Dr. Walmsley can you raise my grade?"
Dr. Walmsley: "What is it?"
Colleen: "It's zero."
Dr. Walmsley: "I'll double it."

Harry Garner: "What would you call a man who hid behind a woman's skirt?"
"Pig" Lifsey: "A magician."

Teacher: "Fools can ask questions that wise men cannot answer."
"Liz" Hutt: "Yes, that's why so many flunk on exams."

Marion Fitchett fastening her eye upon the hash said, "Please pass me the Review of Reviews"

Sagacious Senior: "What is the difference between a sewing machine and a kiss?"
Frisky Freshman: "One sews seams nice; the other seems so nice."

Lives of Seniors all remind us—
We should try to do our best,
And departing leave behind us,
Notebooks that will help the rest.

Brownie: "I see you got a shine, how much did it set you back?"
Frances W.: "Ten cents."
Brownie: "Gee! I bet they'd paint a barn for a quarter."

Alice: "What do you recommend for cleaning ivory?"
Chris: "Why not try a shampoo?"

Margaret Ferguson: "Only fools are positive; wise men hesitate."
"Liz" Armfield: "Are you sure?"
Margaret: "I'm positive."

Mary Reid says a hug is energy gone to waist.

Mr. Coyner: "Everybody stop talking."
Frances Smith: "I'm not talking."

Miss Dickinson (in English class): "Miss Jarvis, are you talking?"
Beulah: "No'm, no'm, I just said something."

Gladys Sledd says when you are told to "Look before you leap," and also, "He who hesitates is lost", that the only thing to do is to stand in mid air and think twice before you hesitate or leap.

AS TO WORRY

Blessed be the worriers, for that hits everybody.
::Don't Worry" is five and ten cent philosophy.
Worry is a sure sign of sanity. Lunatics never worry.
Happy Tomcat! Nine lives, and never worried by insurance agents!
Worry all you want to! It's one thing that doesn't cost any more.

Though deadly germs in kisses hide,
At the price, the cost is small,
'Tis better to have kissed and died,
Than never to have kissed at all.

She 1: "I KNOW the secret of popularity."
She 2: "So do I, but mother says I musn't."

Miss Barnes: "Young lady, do you realize that you made zero on your exam, and do you know what that means?"
Mary Tucker (despondently): "It means nothing to me."

"This is my car," exploded the irate tourist to the garage man, "and what I say about it goes—see?"
Just then a dirty faced machinist crawled out from under the dead engine and said pleadingly, "Say 'engine', mister."

Charlie: "Will you marry me?"
Margaret Warriner: "Oh, this is so seldom!"

Jo Peters: "Where did you take that memory course?"
Betty Le Cato: "I don't remember."

Louise McCormick says, "Importunity knocks at the door oftener than his brother, Op.

The professor who comes to class ten minutes late is very scarce. In fact, he is in a class all by himself.

NEW BOOKS RELEASED IN THE LIBRARY

"The Value of Silence" by Elizabeth Hutt.
"Prevention for Walking Home" by S. T. C. Skaters.
"The Reliable Helper" by Evelyn Dulaney.
"The Winning Smile" by Virginia Updike.
"The Night Hawks" by Armfield and Liebman.
"Starvation" by Margaret Ferguson
"The All Round College Girl" by Helen Davidson.
"Tiddle Winks and Rook" by Viola Gray Woodson.

LOVE'S LANGUAGE

There is a phrase in every tongue, to every heart the same,
In English 'tis, "I love you, dear!" in French 'tis, "Je vous aime!"
In German 'tis, "Ich liebe dich!" in Latin, "Amo te!"
But the words don't really matter, its who says them, and—the way!
There is a world-wide token, symbolical of bliss,
In German 'tis pronounced "ein juss," in English its "a kiss"
In French they call it "un baiser," but this we will allow,
It isn't what they call it, but who kisses you—and how!

INTERCOLLEGIATE PRESS TO ORGANIZE

New Organization is Sponsored by H.-S. C. and S. T. C. Publications

The first annual convention of the Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia will open Friday evening, February 10th, 7:30 o'clock, with the first meeting held in the Student Activities Building of State Teachers College. This convention which is being sponsored by the publications of Hampden-Sidney and S. T. C. will attempt to perfect a constitution and working organization for the various members of intercollegiate publications.

Formal applications for membership in the association and registration fees for the convention have been received from fourteen colleges and universities in Virginia. Representatives will be present from The B. C. B., of Brigewater College; The Critograph, of Lynchburg; Skull and Bones, of the Medical College of Virginia; The Helianthies, of Randolph-Macon Womens College; The Collegian, of University of Richmond; The Bee Hive, and the Grapurchat, of Radford S. T. C.; The Cadet, and The Broom, of V. M. I.; The Ring-tum-Phi of Washington and Lee; The Brackety-Ack, of Roanoke College; The Tiger, and Kaliedoscope, of Hampden-Sidney, and The Rotunda, and Virginian, of Farmville, S. T. C.

Business sessions will be held Friday evening, Saturday morning, and Saturday evening. A tour embracing points of interest around Farmville will be taken Saturday afternoon. All delegates that care to attend will be admitted to the cabaret supper held at S. T. C. Saturday night, the basket ball game betwe en Fredericksburg and S. T. C. and a theatre party will make up the program.

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Ella Louise Moore
Asst. Editor ..... Elizabeth Woodson
Athletic Editor ..... Jackie Woodson
News Editor ..... Virginia Ellis
Joke Editor ..... Phyllis Wood
Literary Editor ..... Frances Treakle
Reviewer ..... Gladys Sledd
Proof Readers ..... Louise Costen
Ethel Forehand
Circulation Mgrs. ..... Mary Tucker
Colleen Maddux

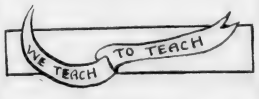
Acknowledgements

The Senior Staff wishes to express its appreciation for the help of the following girls: Gladys Oliver, Greenhow Parker, Alice Wiley, Helen Davidson, Louise Currie, Elizabeth Hutt, Virginia Updike, Elizabeth Eikleberger, and Juliet Jones.

A TRIBUTE TO VIRGINIA

Four years she has struggled with us,
Years of play and work,
Laughing, and gay—and serious,
Daring not once to shirk.
Keeping before us high standards,
Helping us along the way . . .
So, out of the love and gratitude
Of the Senior Hearts
A tribute to Virginia we pay.
— Lou Currie

FARMVILLE TO PLAY FREDERICKSBURG



Continued from page one

the last notch? There are those that believe the student body will rally, and produce the best cheering section we have ever had. It will take work, of course, but its the same spirit behind us all. Here is luck to Saturday, the eleventh.

TO MR. McCORKLE

Who is it that knows when things go wrong?
Who greets each new day with a song?
Who strides along with rapid pace?
Meeting his trials with smiling face?
Whom do we love—one and all together?
This man who is happy whatever the weather,
He who will stick through thick and thin,
Meeting our problems so big with a grin,
Perhaps you have guessed—would you like me to tell?
McCorkle's the man whom we Seniors love so well.

A motto is something which we should have constantly before us, reminding, challenging, leading us on. For the State Teachers College .."We Teach to Teach" was selected as a fitting motto. To how many does it offer a challenge? To what number does it remind of the great life work of the future, and how many does it challenge to strive for better things in daily tasks?

If it serves only a few it is not the fault of the motto. We can look at our beautiful colonnade and think of it as a dry path between the Student Building and the auditorium. We can look at our colonnade and enjoy its classic splendor, remembering perhaps the inspiration of our last academic procession, on the perfect piece of sculptoring which finishes it so beautifully.

So, we can look at our motto and see words, but we can also look at our motto, think our motto, and be inspired by it and let it lead us to plans and dreams.

We teach to teach—a reminder of our daily tasks, a challenge for our future, a hint of our broader field. We teach, even the most practical-minded realize that that is our purposes, our motto. However, our framers would go a little further, they add that we teach not only the technicalities which are outlined in our course of study, that is not our goal. It is a means to an end. We teach to teach—the last two words are significant. The bigger things of life are hinted at, the broader understanding must also be imparted.

Let us give any construction to our motto that personally appeals to us, but let us use it as a reminder, a challenge and a personal inspiration. Let us realize that it is as fine as the ideals of the school for which it stands. It is the expression, in four short words, of those ideals, if we will make it so.

JUST ARRIVED
New Spring Dresses
Coats and Hats
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Feb. 13—18

MON & TUES.—The superspecial Paramount production, "Rough Riders", with Noah Berry, Charles Farrell, George Bancroft, Charles Emmett Mack, Mary Astor and Frank Hopper. Two boys loved her—faced bullets and fever for her and one, a coward—turned hero—and died for here! What a picture! So humorous, so spontaneous, so human! This is one of the few pictures that will live for ever. We cannot describe how Big and how good this production is. The fact that it cost One Million and Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars to Produce, should give you some idea of what it is. Also Pathe News. Mats. each day at 4 o'clock. Serial will be shown Tuesday.

WED.—Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle in "Adam and Evil," a special production. love, laughs, thrills, in a modern Garden of Eden! The great new laugh team in the funniest riot of marital mix-ups you've ever seen. Also good comedy. Mat. at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—James Murray, Helene Costello and Wesley Barry in the special production, "In Old Kentucky" A sure winner! Here is the racing romance of al ltime! Starts with a bang and ends in the most exciting horse race ever filmed! A great picture of young love and thundering hoofs! Also a good comedy and Pathe News containing the pictrues of the S. T. C. girls. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

FRI. & SAT.—Bebe Daniels and Gertrude Ederle in "Swim Girl, Swim. A Paramount picture. She didn't know how to swim but won the race of the year! You'll laugh yourself out of your seats at Bebe Daniels' comic cutups. Bebe Daniels as the neatest, sweetest, bathing girl who ever sunned herself on a beach! With the first girl who swam the English Channel—"Trudy" Ederle! Comic campus capers plus the most exciting swimming race ever seen. Also comedy. Mats. each day at 4 o'clock. The house will be crowded Saturday night, so please come to matinees or Friday night.

Admission to S. T. C. girls, Mon. and Tues. 35c; other shows 25c if tickets are purchased at college.

THE ROTUNDA

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. [illegible] THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1928 No. 17

FARMVILLE VARSITY DEFEATS FREDERICKSBURG 25 TO 16

Speed and Brilliant Team-work Feature[illegible] Game

On Saturday night, Feb[illegible] the Farmville basket b[illegible] feated Fredericksbur[illegible] contested game in t[illegible]

The game starte[illegible] Farmville makin[illegible] first two minute[illegible] was immediatel[illegible] for Fredericks[illegible] work of the [illegible] Fredericksburg score and the [illegible] centers and a[illegible] goals were sh[illegible] Farmville.

In the seco[illegible] tightening up [illegible] rapid successi[illegible] ville left the g[illegible] or.

The Frederic[illegible] bravely, showing [illegible] but they were u[illegible] score.

The line-up was[illegible]

Fredericksburg	16
Wilkins	guard
McKenny	guar[illegible]
Vaughan	J. cente[illegible]
Robinson	S. cente[illegible]
Dreyful (Capt.)	forwar[illegible]
Williams	forward

Referee—Robertson (W[illegible] Umpire—Lehr (Baltimor[illegible]

INTERCLASS COUNCIL [illegible]FORMED

[illegible]

SPEAKERS OF [illegible] MAN[illegible]

A large portion of the credit fo[illegible] the success of the first meeting of the Intercollegiate Press Association, State of Virginia, belongs to the committee who selected the speakers for the convention.

J. B. Wall Speaks

On Friday night Mr. J. B. Wall, editor of The Farmville Herald, and president of the State Press Association for 1927, spoke. He brought greetings from the Mayor of Farmville, the president of the Lions Club, from Dr. Eggleston, president of Hampden-Sidney and Dr. Jarman president of S. T. C. Mr. Wall discussed the place of a college publication in collegiate life. He said that the paper should be representative of the student body and the school. He also said that cooperation between the business staff and the editorial staff is absolutely necessary, for a successful publication must have both financial and literary backing. Mr. Wall discussed the possibility of the menace of syndicated or chain papers to journalitsic development. "There is a great need for trained journalists in the newspaper world," he said.

Mr. Hanselle L. Hester

Mr. Hanselle L. Hester of Duke University and president of the North Carolina Intercollegiate Press Association also spoke Friday night. Pr[illegible] gethe[illegible] and pro[illegible] gathering [illegible] discussion o[illegible] haps their solu[illegible] "The Intercollegi[illegible] tion fosters tolerance [illegible] between colleges. The so[illegible] meetings are almost as in[illegible] the busines discussions." Mr. [illegible] emphasized the impossibility o[illegible] lowing a staff absolute freedom [illegible] speech. The Association feels that it received a great deal of benefit from Mr. Hester's talk.

Mr. Freeman H. Hart

Mr. Freeman H. Hart, professor of Political Science at Hampden-Sidney College was the third speaker of the evening. Mr. Hart gave a very interesting history of college publications in Virginia. "Corks and Curls," of the University of Virginia, was the first annual in the State. Dr. J. H. C. Bagby, of Hampden-Sidney was the editor.

Mr. E. R. Price

Mr. E. R. Price, professor of Journalism at V. P. I. was the first speaker at the meeting on Saturday. Mr. Price spoke on the "Essentials of

(Continued on last page)

S. T. C. AND R. M. C. WIN DUAL DEBATE

On Friday night, February 10, Farmville and Randolph-Macon College each won on home ground in a dual debate, the subject of which was, "Resolved: That the United States [illegible]hould cease to protect by armed [illegible] capital invested in foreign lands [illegible]after formal declaration [illegible]

[illegible]le, the affirma[illegible] was uphe[illegible] Royall [illegible]

[illegible] will be [illegible] of the audience [illegible]gs sung in Russian.

Dr. Jarman says the girls are always pleased with a male qua[illegible] His rule certainly holds true concerning the Russian Cathedral Quartet. It is hoped that this will not be their last appearance at S. T. C.

By nature some command and some obey, that all may enjoy safety.

Books are the best things well used; abused among the worst.

VIRGINIA INTERCOLLEGIATE PRESS ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED

Practically Every School in Virginia is Represented at Conference

[illegible] at seven o'clock mark[illegible] of the first meeting [illegible]te Press Associa[illegible], which was or[illegible] of the Hamp[illegible] the editor of [illegible]very angle [illegible]ed to be a [illegible] outline of [illegible]0 [illegible] president [illegible] Associa[illegible]ses. [illegible]f a Press [illegible] Hester, [illegible]lina In[illegible]sociation. [illegible]t of Col[illegible]eeman H. [illegible] Political [illegible]idney Col[illegible]

[illegible]ers. [illegible] "Rotunda" Staff [illegible]ebruary 11 [illegible]

[illegible]meeting.

[illegible] on last page.)

FARMVILLE TO PLAY RA[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]AM AND [illegible] PUBLICATIONS

[illegible]ers of the Intercollegiate Press [illegible]ciation of Virginia. These cups [illegible]re given to the association by the Clarion Publishing Co., Farmville, Virginia.

The conference committee announced that the next session of the I. P. A. will be held in February, 1929, at the University of Richmond.

Officers were elected for the year 1928-29 as follows:

President: Emanuel Emroch, editor of "The Web," University of Richmond.

1st Vice-President: P. M. Jackson, editor of "The Tech," V. P. I.

2nd. Vice-President: P. R. Harrison, editor of "Ring-Tum-Phi," Washington and Lee University.

Secretary and Treasurer: R. P. Johnston, business manager of "The Web", U. of R.

[illegible] The [illegible]ashington and [illegible]ble mention. "The [illegible]ual published by V. [illegible]dged best in the State [illegible]resented with the cup con[illegible] by J. P. Bell Printing Co., [illegible]chburg. Honorable mention was given to "The Bugle" of V. P. I. The [illegible]agazine of Hollins College was the [illegible]nner o[illegible]f th[illegible]up contributed by [illegible]ner of th[illegible]up contributed by bu[illegible] Willia[illegible]d Mary magazine re[illegible]ceiv[illegible]honor[illegible] mention.

The [illegible] [illegible]he publication were, [illegible], of Duke Universi[illegible] [illegible]he Intercollegiate Pr[illegible]ciation of North Carolina; E. R. [illegible], professor of journalism, extension division of V. P. I., and Mr. Bradley of William Byrd Press, Richmond.

The conference was much pleased at the presentation of loving cups to Miss Evelyn Dulaney, editor of "The Rotunda," and Mr. Alexander Hudgins, editor of "Hampden-Sidney Tiger", who deserve much credit as the

S. T. C. GIRLS IN PATHE NEWS PICTURE AT THE EACO THEATRE

A few weeks ago, cameramen from Pathe were in Farmville taking pictures of the S. T .C. girls. Manager Whitaker of the Eaco Theatre announces that these pictures will be shown on his screen, Thursday February 16th as an extra added attraction. The featured picture for this date will be "IN OLD KENTUCKY," one of the finest and greatest racing dramas ever screened.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

WAS THE INTERCOLLEGIATE PRESS ASSOCIATION A SUCCESS?

By one who does not know, the question might be asked, "Was the Intercollegiate Press Association a success?" All of those who were connected in any way or who witnessed any of the meetings would without hesitation reply, "Emphatically, yes!"

In the State of Virginia for sometime college editors, assistants and business managers have realized a need of some higher training for the work they have been entrusted to do for their schools. They naturally want to do their best and they want this best to measure up to the best in other colleges. Yet, they have had no way of learning what the best really should be because they have had no mutual "meeting ground" on which to work with others on the same problems and with those who can give valuable instruction and advice. Thus there was a need passively realized by everyone.

The answer to every problem was the Intercollegiate Press Association. Practically every school sent representatives who contributed and gained advice for improving their work. The speakers were men who understood college problems and gave advice of inestimable value to everyone. The discussion group afforded a time to informally solve problems. The comradeship with those of the same interests served to draw every school closer together and has proved a path for hearty cooperation of all schools in an endeavor to raise the standards and ideals of school publications and to give for the school only those things that are unquestionably the best.

WHAT ARE VALENTINES

Do we realize what Valentines really mean? Do we ever stop to consider them seriously? We select Valentines more for their appearance than for their sentiment and rarely do we bother to send them to the person for whom they are appropriate. We send comic Valentines which frequently do not seem as comic to the receiver as to the sender.

A Valentine should be a message of love, such is a thing never to be considered lightly. There are people—our mothers, for instance—who would appreciate an expression of our affection for them, and yet these are usually the very ones whom we neglect. A Valentine need not be merely a red heart on a sheet of paper. It may be a letter, a flower, or just a word; but it must come with the true Valentine spirit.

FOUNDERS DAY

Already there is an undercurrent at work in our Student body. Nearly a month from the date finds plans already afoot Freshman look forward to the day of days in our institution with anticipation. Sophomores are eager to repeat the thills of their first founder's day, which was really only yesterday. Juniors resolve to do greater things, to give better gifts, to remember and reverence our founders from the broader outlook. And Seniors—poor caps and gowns! They hate to think that Founder's Day of 1928 marks their last one as students of their Alma Mater. Tomorrow they will step into the world where their final goal of service challenges. It will be hard for the Seniors. Let us look forward and plan for our Founder's Day with the resolve in our hearts to make the memory of it lasting. We must contribute our share toward making it perfect, toward making it an expression and a revival of the spirit of our founders who pointed with their well served lines the way for our freshmen, sophomores, juniers and seniors who must carry on today and tomorrow.

BUSY WORLD BITS

The Sixth International Conference of American States has now gotten down to serious work. Up to date, its main effort has been to get organized and assign topics for each of its many committees to study. An interesting delegation is a proposed treaty for the proposal offered by the United States regulation of commercial and other aircraft companies between the republics of North and South America. Will this Havana conference accomplish a great piece of work?

A movement to make instruction in aviation a part of the curriculum of grade and high school throughout the United States has been launched by the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics. This will be presented February 24 before the National Educational Association convention of 15,000 school superintendents in Boston.

Vincente Blasco Ibanez, noted Spanish author, died on January 28, at Mertone, France.

Thomas A. Edison on February 11 became eighty-one years old at Fort Myers, Florida.

President Coolidge and the American Congress on February 10 formally welcomed the French transatlantic fliers, Lebrix and Costes. Luncheon was given in their honor at the White House.

Formal announcement has been made of the candidacy of James A. Reed, Senator from Missouri for the Democratic nomination to the presidency.

RED AND WHITES WIN SONG AND YELL CONTEST

The contest between classes for the best original varsity song and yell was held in the auditorium after chapel on Wednesday, February 8.

After each class had sung its song and given its yell, the judges, Miss Barlow, Miss Draper and Mr. Coyner, decided in favor of the Senior yell and the Sophomore song.

The president of the Athletic Association, Gwen Hardy, then presented the president of each winning class with the promised reward of two dollars and a half in gold.

The Sophomore song is, "Yes, We're Rooting For Old Farmville."

"Yes, we're rooting for old Farmville
Yes, we are, rah, rah! rah!
We've the team and the backing
That is known afar
Let's go team!
Watch our team work while we're winning
That's how Farmville wins her fame
In fairness and backing
You know we're never lacking
So ray! ray! for S. T. C..
So ray!! ray!! rah, rah!
For Farmville we are rooting
For we know she's out to win!

When yells were being given the Seniors asked the student body to yell with them. The Senior yell was

"Say——team!
Hey, team!
You're right!
We'll fight!
And win tonight!
Ray——team!"

He who is not prepared today will be less so tomorrow.

A well-made head is better than a head well filled.

NEWS FROM OTHER COLLEGES

According to a report in "The New Student," Dr. Cadman, when asked if he thought college chapel exercises should be compulsory, replied:

"They are no longer necessary in colleges. Many institutions still insist upon students attending chapel, but a great many have abolished the idea, and in an institution like Harvard, it is, indeed justifiable. The mere fact, however, that there is no required chapel attendance does not mean that one must turn his back upon it. President Angell, of Yale, told me recently that voluntary attendance had proved more satisfactory at Yale that the old system."

At collegiate straw elections held at Emory and Henry College and at the University of Oregon, Herbert Hoover won out for the Republican nomination for president.

Football earnings for 1926 at Harvard amounted to $500,000.—Intercollegiate Press News.

Bundled in his raccoon coat, John Coolidge, son of the President of the United States, aided in the search for the missing Smith College student.

"The Flat Hat" reports that Maryland is to have an athletic plant in the near future that will be among the best in the South.

Ohio State University has four brave boys who are going to the wilds of the Rockies next summer with one hundred Vassar girls!

FACULTY AND HOME DEPARTMENT NEWS

We are glad to report that Mrs. Jamison is improving, and has moved from the hospital back to school to recuperate.

Miss Brownie Taliaferro and Miss Grace Mix are on a leave of absence to study at Columbia until June.

Miss E. Myrtle Grenels spent the week-end at Ashland.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring Cleaning And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches...
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

THE SPIRIT OF VALENTINE DAY

An old gray-haired man stood fascinated in front of a gay, cheery little shop window. On the other side of the polished glass were displayed rows upon rows of dainty Valentines. There were big, gold, red hearts and tiny little hearts all covered with firlly lace. At this sight something stirred in the old man's heart and sent a warm delicious thrill over the bent frame. Long-forgotten thoughts came trooping up to him and he was lost in a flood of memories.

He thought he saw a tiny, golden-haired child climb upon the arm of his father's chair and proudly display his first Valentine, and later, kneeling at his mother's knee ask God to bless St. Valentine. Then a little eager faced boy sat in a tiny desk in a country school. He watched with expectancy a big box from which the teacher was giving out mysterious little Valentines. At the sound of his name he went eagerly forward to receive his share of joy. Next appeared a tall, long boy standing in front of a window, mentally counting up his savings. Then he went in and bought a beautiful real heart which he blushingly took to a shy-eyed little girl. There next stood in line a grown man surveying with loving eyes a tiny heart cut out of red paper by tiny baby fingers.

A sigh escaped the old man and he raised a gnarled hand to brush away the hot tears. Memories—yes, memories all—of the days of long ago. Now such joy was not for him. No one would think that he cared for a bright red paper heart. No one would know that the spirit of St. Valentine lived at strongly in him today as in the golden-haired child at his mother's knee many, many years ago.

The old man looked down. A warm hand was slipped into his and an excited voice saying, "Grandpa, just look at the pretty Valentines, and tomorrow is Valentine Day!"

Silently, the old man entered the shop and with radiant face asked for the largest and prettiest Valentine of all. Once more he looked forward to Valentine's Day.

—C. M. H.

A VALENTINE WISH

I wish somebody would send me
a Valentine.
But just because I'm ugly
I'm laughed at all the time
And just because I'm ugly
I'm left out in the cold.
Why doesn't someone look underneath
And see my "Heart of gold"?

L. M. B., '30

COMPENSATION

Days pass
And that is all I know
Of life;
For I no longer live
Save to mark weary hours
With useless tasks,
Holding this one small joy
Against my heart—
Days pass . . .

—M. B. B.

Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia 1928

VALENTINE CABARET SUPPER GIVEN

Last Saturday afternoon was characterized by a Valentine Cabaret supper which is given annually in the recreation hall for the benefit of the student building. It has been accepted as one of the most outstanding of benefit entertainments and last Saturday's cabaret proved no exception to the rule although the orchestra which on any other day could have been obtained from "our neighboring school" was not present to furnish the music planned.

Red hearts, big little, and medium-sized hung artistically from each light which was also decorated with red strips of paper making the hall suggestive of Valentine's Day.

Nor was the food lacking. The plates were bountifully served to over two hundred people.

SONG

Grey mist—dawn—
The world awakes.
To listen for your song.
The sun peeps forth on a frolicsome earth,
Yet my way knows no mirth—
The day will be long.

Grey mist—eve—
Lights flicker against the after-glow.
Ah, the after-glow, of which
A part now warms my heart—
I heard your song and know.

—L. L. C., 28

TOMORROW

Tomorrow I'll forget . . .
You see I've loved before
And I'm sure to love some more,
So, tomorrow I'll forget.

Today I saw somebody new,
I smiled at him in the way
That I smiled at you yesterday.
Tomorrow I'll forget you.

Tomorrow I'll forget!
Yes, I'll forget after a while
Your words, and kisses, and smile . . .
But it isn't tomorrow yet!

L. R. A.

LONELINESS

I hear the whip-poor-will's soft call
The rustle of his flight,
And high above a song of love,
The mockingbird at night.

A rush of wings across the moon
The wild geese sailing past,
The pine trees sigh as I pass by,
Then solitude at last!

The pool reflects the golden glow
Of harvest moon above,
Deep in the shade of golden glade
I wait alone— for love!

—Exchange

SOCIAL

Students visiting at S. T. C. and Hampden-Sidney for the I. P. A. conference were:

Boyd Harshbargar, Hiram Areg, Paul Miller, from Bridgewater; Lucille Arthur Marie Updike, Louise Mahaney, Cassie Gardner, Etta Kate Charlton, Elizabeth Templeton, Doris Bell, of Radford S. T .C.; Elizabeth Durkin, Bertha Righter, Dorothy Pettus, Molly Vaughan, Zella Maney, Mary Byrd Buxton, Ruth Porter, of Fredericksburg S. T. C.; Lucy S. Gilliam, Catherine Guthrie, Mary Armentrout of Harrisonburg S. T. C.; Burton C. Rawlins, J. S. Mondy, J. V. Summerlin, H. I. McFall, S. L. Williamson, W. H. Old of V. M. I., Rebecca Price, Mildred Moore, Jean Lucas, Jennie Hunt, of Mary Baldwin College; P. R. Harrison, F. B. Gilmore of Washington and Lee; J. W. Givens, of Lynchburg College; E. C. Joyner, of Richmond Medical College; Margaret Bowles, of Hollins; E. C. Freund, E. P. Hogan of Roanoke College; W. N. James, J. B. Green, of William and Mary; L. P. Hayes, H. P. Card, J. L. Dickinson, P. M. Jackson of V. P. I.; Ruth McCullough, Elizabeth Dunnaway, Mary Portlock Southgate, of R. M. W. C.; Guy Mattox, E. Emroch, of Richmond College

• • •

Hampden-Sidney delegates were: A. J. Southworth, A. F. Hudgins, H. C. Bradshaw, L. H. Strader, Jack Brightwell, E. B. Wooten, W. S. Lacy, J. F. Montgomery.

• • • •

S. T. C. was represented by the following girls: Evelyn Dulaney, Margaret H. Hansel, Catherine Bentley, Helen Davidson, Margaret Walton, Pearl Etheridge.

VALENTINES

There are many types of valentines we all send. I prefer the

"Roses are red, violets are blue
Sugar is sweet, and so are you."

type of Valentine. This is the kind our mothers used to send and receive. I like best the red paper and lace type. I have a very sentimental soul I suppose that why I prefer the old-fashioned kind.

There is another type of Valentine very popular with some people. It is the comic Valentine. This type, I think, is against all traditions of St. Valentine, because comic Valentines usually contain malicious barbs that hurt; they are one method of being catty.

As a whole I love the custom. The nice kind of valentine gives me a feeling that, after all, someone loves me, and I hope this custom fostered by the romantic and sentimental will never die out.

Y. W. ENTERTAINS AT VALENTINE PARTY

With lovely red hearts the town girls were invited to a party Valentine Day given by the Y. W. C. A. The Lounge was decorated in a most attractive manner and delicious refreshments were served. Everybody had a fine time and wished Valentine day would come more often.

DRAMATIC CLUB HOLDS MAKE-UP CLASS

It was Thursday night, two girls entered a door of the auditorium and started tripping across to the other side. Glancing at the stage, they stopped with a gasp of mingled surprise and horror. An old, old man was leaning heavily on the piano. An Indian maiden stood whispering to a bold warrior. There was a negro and a Chinaman or two. On the opposite side a short little man with a dark moustache was leaning upon a rather stout and much bewhiskered old gentleman. Clowns and Pierrots ran in and out among them all grinning and playing silly pranks.

About midway the auditorium a few girls were grouped about Miss Wheeler. They cast anxious glances toward the stage and talked among themselves in low tones.

Puzzled, the two girls again turned toward the stage. A Pierrot with eyebrows extending obligingly upward,giving him a rather impish appearance, stood grinning down at them. He sprang from the stage and ran toward them. They turned to flee but the Pierrot was already beside them, "That's all right girls," she whispered, "I just wanted to ask you not to pass through the auditorium while the Dramatic Club is having make-up practice."

THE CAPITOL

I saw the Capitol in a midst last night
And it seemed as though I had stepped back—
Back through a hundred years of progress,
To the days when it was being built.
It looked like a half-finished shrine—
A shrine for the worship of Freedom and Democracy.
The mist had decapitated it—mobbed it—
Stolen away its height and completeness—
But left in its stead the essence of unfinished charm.

School is as much a place for applying as for accumulating knowledge.

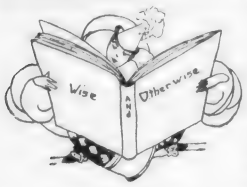
Whosoever acquires knowledge, and does not practice it ,resembles him who ploughs but does not sow.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS



WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

SPALDING
SWEAT SHIRTS
IN
Tan - Grey - White
Sizes 30 to 40
Price $1.50
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

"Eliz" Hutt: "What animal takes the least nourishment?"
Ferrell: "The moth—it eats holes!"

She was only the gas man's daughter, but you oughta meet'er.

Reba: "Am I the kind of a girl you would give your name to?"
Turner: "Yes, but not my real name."

I Stone: "Heard the meat-cutter's new slogan?"
Ellis: "Naw, what is it?"
Stone: "Butcher arms around me."

Etta M.: "What's worse than raining cats and dogs?"
Marjory: "I'll bite; what is?"
Etta: "Hailing taxi-cabs."

"Bibby": "Was the dance successful?"
Ann P.: "Well, I got two dates out of it!"

Helen D.: "Her father was a barber."
Lucille G.: "Did he razor?"

"Red": "A woman jumped from a fifteen story window. After she jumped she changed her mind and prayed for wings."
Jinx: "Did she get them?"
"Red": "Yes, wings—and a harp."

Ann's date: "What! Are you here already?' '
Ann F.: "I'm here, but I'm not already."

"Eliz" W.: "Why do frogs croak?"
Jackie: "They can't live forever, I suppose."

S. T. C.: "Who is this?"
H.-S.: "This is Boo."
S. T. C.: "Boo? Boo who?"
H.-S.: "Don't cry, little girl, I'll take you out!"

Panny was never so mortified as the time when she fell into a fresh mixed batch of concrete.

"Your hiccoughs are distressing!"
"That's the turkey I ate. It's gobbling."

"Greenie": "I got four B's last term."
"Bits": "Did they sting you?"

Nancy: "Did you hear of the H.-S. lad who ran with the pigskin over a hundred yards?"
Louise A.: "Yeh, suppose you mean, Tom, the piper's son!"

Leonard: "Have you Conrad's "Temper"?
Burgess: "Do I look that vicious?"

Some men break your heart in two,
Some men fawn and flatter,
Some men never look at you;
And that clears up the matter.

Wiley: "Did you hear about the traveling salesman who died?"
Raine: "No, shoot."
Wiley: "He left an estate of 500 towels and a hotel key."

Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma announces Irving Armstrong as a new pledge.

JUNIOR CLASS PRESENTS SING

The usual Saturday night sing, presented February 11th by the Junior Class, although composed of only three numbers, was of such an excellent quality that there was no sense of incompleteness and the audience was more than satisfied.

Margaret Hubbard, who played the part of the delighted child in "The Doll Shop" gave some of the more prominent "dolls" a chance to entertain the audience with feature dances; among which were a wooden soldier dance, a Colonial number, a country jig, and a cabaret feature, all admirably done. After the Doll Shop closed, Etta Marshall and Nancy Nelms contributed two duets to the program of the evening. The Fashion Show, forcasting some of coming styles, was presented by charming models. The closing number of the program was a colorful chorus formed by the mannequins of the Fashion Show.

A BIOLOGICAL TRAGEDY

I'm worried; I'm troubled,
I'm almost insane;
I'm angry; I'm raging,
I'm dulling my brain.
Wherever I wander,
I still make a break—
I hunt for the portals
In porterhouse steak;
But there's one thing that
I surely do wish;
And it's that I never
Would e'er be served fish;
For it's then I set to
Removing the skin,
Just to be sure there's
A true pelvic fin.
I know that it's wildness,
Of this I am sure—
But then, I have to see
Masculature;
If I had just dropped this
I would have been glad—
Instead—Biology
Has driven me mad!

—Yellow Jacket

LIFE'S MIRROR

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

Give love, and love to your life will flow,
A strength in your utmost need;
Have faith, and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.

Give truth, and your gift will be paid in kind,
And honor will honor meet;
And a smile that is sweet will surely find
A smile that is just as sweet.

Give sorrow and pity to those who mourn,
You will gather in flowers again
The scattered seeds of your thought outborne,
Though the sowing seemed but vain.

For life is the mirror of king and slave—
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox

DR. JARMAN TALKS TO STUDENT BODY

Dr. Jarman comes to us occasionally for what he terms an informal talk. He came down to have one of these on Monday night. The Student Government is a vital factor in our school life so he tried to bring before us the problems of the government and to make us realize our connection with it.

Student Government was started here fifteen or sixteen years ago and has always been more or less a success. We have a policy that few other colleges have. We have no definite punishment for breaking rules, but the government takes into consideration the many and varied circumstances of the case before they pronounce the sentence. Dr. Jarman gave several concrete examples that illustrated the merits of this system.

He stressed the point that without the support of the student body the Council could do nothing. They are our rules and the Council is composed of our representatives. Let's back them and show Dr. Jarman that his talk has helped us.

Thank you, Dr. Jarman, for coming down.

SPEAKERS FOR I. P. A. DISCUSS COLLEGE WORK

Continued from page one

Good Journalism." He said that a successful paper must be well organized and well backed. A paper supported by a fraternity, a clique, or a club will show partiality. "The success of a publication depends on the choice of a competent staff and capable assistants. Every college editor should take into consideration the four natural dimensions of newspaper subscriptions: Student Body, Alumni, Friends of the College, and the Faculty."

Mr. Price further said that editors of college papers do not pay enough attention to the English used by the members of the staff. Poor English in articles ruins the tone of a paper. Mr. Price discussed the close relationship of humor and vulgarity in the jokes in contemporary college publications. "Many of the jokes are neither funny nor presentable. A paper should have unity, coherence and brevity. It takes time and brains to write briefly. A long rambling article may fill up space but it kills interest. Cuts, pictures, photographs, and interesting headlines add to the effectiveness of the paper."

Hon. Carter W. Wormeley, of Richmond, Virginia, delivered his "Virginal Address" to the Intercollegiate Press Association. Mr. Wormeley's talk on "The Duties of the State Bureau of Publicity" was quite interesting.

At the end of the meeting on Saturday afternoon the Association was presented with one of the first copies of the University of Virginia annual, "Corks & Curls." Dr. J. H. C. Bagby, of Hampden-Sidney made the presentation. He told of the difficulties, financial, artistic and literary, which he encountered in establishing "Corks & Curls.' '

To know a man, observe how he wins his object.

Interest is a strong motive power.

Application is the ally of genius.

Logic is the art of thinking well.

He that commands well shall be well obeyed.

VOLLEY BALL

Volley ball has started off in dead earnest. Almost any afternoon will find numbers of girls on the gym floor engaged in batting the ball over the net. And though there are instances of the ball landing on the heads of certain individuals causing them to look around in amazement, nothing daunted the game is continued with added pep.

Volley ball is a game easily learned and when once learned has a peculiar fascination for the player. This probably accounts for the large number of girls who come, see, try to play and stay out.

The Freshmen have been divided into several teams and are practising hard for a tournament which will soon be held. From these teams the Freshmen team will be chosen.

Schedules of practices may be found on the Athletic Association bulletin board so look up your time for practice, come out back your class, win the game and put your colors on the cup!

INTERCOLLEGIATE PRESS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

Continued from page one

11:00—Address: "Essentials of Good Journalism", E. R. Price, professor of Journalism and of Extension Division, V. P. I.
11:45—Address: "Duties of State Bureau of Publicity." Hon Carter W. Wormely, Richmond, Va.
12:30—Address: "The First Annual of Virginia", Professor J. H. C. Bagby, Hampden-Sidney College.
1:00—Dinner.
P. M.
2:15—Business meeting.
2:30—Discussion Groups.
Annuals
Magazines
Business Managers
3:00—Picture of delegation.
3:30—Tour of Hampden-Sidney and points of interest.
5:30—Cabaret Supper, S. T. C.
7:00—Final Meeting
Election of Officers
Announcement of next meeting
Presentation of trophies
8:00—Basketball game
Farmville S. T. C. versus Fredericksburg S. T. C.
9:00—Theatre Party.

OH, GIRLS!

Girls In Search of Husbands are advised to 'go West'. In the State of Washington there are 87,195 more men of marriageable age than there are girls; Idaho has a surplus of more than 30,000 men, while Montana and Oregon are also girl shy. Alaska's surplus of bachelors now totals 2,567.

It is aim that makes the man.

To speak to a purpose, one must speak with a purpose.

JUST ARRIVED
New Spring Dresses
Coats and Hats
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

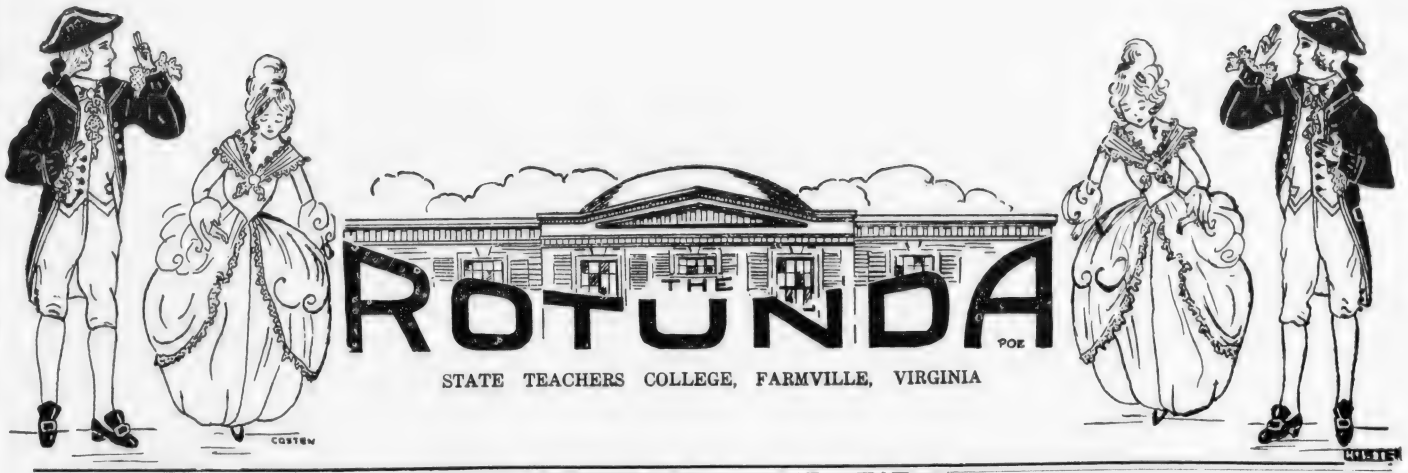
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Feb. 20—25

MON. and TUES.—Clara Bow in the special Paramount production, "Hula." Happy, dashing, carefree Clara, the madcap of the screen, as a tantalizing tease of the tropics who holds her heart aloof from the men who swarm about her—until a handsome young Englishman comes to visit her father's mansion. "I have done everything to make this the best picture I have ever appeared in" is what Clara Bow said. See it and you will agree that she succeeded. Pathe News Monday and serial Tuesday. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

WED.—Sally O'Neil, Owen Moore, and Gertrude Olmstead in the special production, "Becky". A lavish and spectacular production. From a department store counter, she works her way to the stage, along the path of excitement, suspense, laughs, love. You must not miss this one. It's great Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.



THURS.—William Haines, Joan Crawford, George K. Arthur, George Fawcett and Eileen Percy in "Spring Fever," a special production. Girls and gold were on his mind—books and work bored him. No doubt about it. he had spring fever—and how. As enjoyable a picture a sany one has seen. Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

FRI. & SAT.—Richard Dix and Mary Brian in the special Paramount picture "Shanghai Bound." The best like man on the screen today in the finest picture of his career! American action plus Oriental intrigue! Result—Richard Dix' best vehicle. This picture will draw large crowds and you are requested to come to matinns or Friday night a sthe house will be crowded Saturday night. Comedy as added attraction. Mats. at 4 o'clock.

Every picture this week is an extra good one.

Admission to S. T .C. girls 25c each show, if tickets are purchased at the college.

No book is so bad but that something may be learned from it.

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 22, 1928 No. 18

STATE LEGISLATURE APPROPRIATES $150,000 FOR NEW DORMITORY

Construction to Begin in Early Spring

During its session last year the General Assembly of Virginia appointed a commission to investigate all state supported institutions of learning. After thorough investigation the commission, this year, has made a report of its work, with recommendations that certain changes be provided for.

All people interested in State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, were much pleased when the survey commission, after thorough inspection of this institution, reported that it felt we were doing the work for which we were established, in an acceptable manner. Therefore it had no recommendations to make to the General Assembly concerning our institution except that there is a need for more money. Acting upon this statement, the Assembly appropriated approximately $200,000 for improvements. Of this amount $150,000 will be used for the construction of a new dormitory, which will probably be located on the corner in front of the Training School. Plans for this building are in the making, and it is hoped that work will be begun in the early spring.

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

It has been customary to publish in the Rotunda for the few months preceding commencement a list of girls among the seniors who have been outstanding in their class and in school.

This series will begin with the write-up of girls holding major offices in recognition of the fact. Then they will include seniors chosen at random from a selected list.

When these articles begin to appear, as they will in the next few issues of the Rotunda, it will be a reminder that our seniors can almost begin to measure their remaining time in college by weeks instead of years.

ROTUNDA STAFF SELECTS NEW MEMBERS

A number of new girls were recommended and discussed at the last meeting of The Rotunda staff after which the following were elected as new members.

Florence Booton was selected by the business manager as assistant business manager for the remaining months of this year.

Mary Duncan was elected social

(Continued on last page.)

FARMVILLE PLAYS HARRISONBURG ON SATURDAY

Saturday night will bring to S. T. C. one of the most exciting games of basket ball witnessed this season, for on Saturday, the Harrisonburg girls will journey down to fight once more for a victory.

This game is very important because it is to be Farmville's chance for a come-back at Harrisonburg. About three weeks ago Harrisonburg defeated Farmville in a fast game almost doubling the score on the Blue and White team.

Now, however the team is ready for another game and the whole student body is awaiting it and backing the team in every respect so that Blue and White will wave on high again Saturday night.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVED AT S. T. C.

This evening at six o'clock the Y. W. C. A. will entertain the student body at dinner. Each student has been asked to come in a costume appropriate for the occasion. After dinner the Colonial ladies and gentlemen are invited to a Colonial dance in the Recreation Hall. A Grand March will be held during the dance. The couple which is dressed most oppropriately will be given prizes. The judges whi will award the prizes are Miss Campier, Miss Hiner, and Mrs. Laing. Of course there will be a minuet for no Colonial dance is quite correct without one. Any spectator who happens to come into the Recreation Hall during the dance might think that he had become misplaced. He might think he had slipped back about two hundred years instead of sleeping for twenty.

ATTEND LECTURES AT CHARLOTTESVILLE

On Friday, February 17, Dr. R. E. Chadock, professor of statistics of Columbia University, lectured at the University of Virginia on "The Methods and Objectives of Statistics in Social Science." Dr. Walmsley motored to Charlottesville to attend the lecture Louise McCormick, Greenhow Parker, Mary Christian Royall, Ethel Forehand and Ella Louise Moore accompanied him. It was a most enjoyable as well as instructive trip.

WASHINGTON, SON OF AMERICA

America, the land of ideals, of happiness, of freedom, the epitome of achievement of her children, the Utopia of the oppressed; for which men dared the strangeness of a new-found wild, builded homes of crudeness in beauty, knew the cruelty and exaltation of the elements; for whose freedom men fought and suffered and died; for whose happiness men knew long days of weary labor and countless nights of sleepless thought; for whose ideals men stood strong amid the scorn and jeers of lesser men.

America, land of ideals, of happiness, like others, great as her sons are great.

George Washington, great son of a nation made great, a man of ideals, of happiness, of freedom.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY AT S. T. C. POST OFFICE

February 14th was a busy day at Sta. No. 1, (S. T. C. Post Office). One hundred and ninety packages were received and distributed. As each package is handled twice it was equivalent to 380 handled in 240 minutes. In addition to the parcel post something like 1800 pieces of first class mail were received and distributed besides, the newspapers and magazines, over 1000 pieces of mail dispatched and $15 worth of stamps sold.

Everyone must have had a Valentine!

WOMANLESS WEDDING —BIG SUCCESS

On Friday evening, February 17, the auditorium at S. T. C. was the scene of a quite "elegant" wedding. "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms" was "delightfully and artistically" sung before the wedding party entered. Then to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march (supposedly) the "lovely" bridesmaids entered on the arms of the handsome groomsmen. The "sweet attractive little" ring bearer (Beryl Young) was followed by the dainty flower girls ("Duroc" Putney and Harry Lancaster) who strewed flowers in the bridal path. The bride (Alec Hudgins) was an apparition of loveliness in her white costume; she was met at the altar by the handsome groom (E. Eliott). The two were united in bonds of matrimony by the "Controller of Peace", Mr. Bristow. After the wedding a reception was given.

FARMVLILE AND RADFORD GAME FRIDAY NIGHT ENDS IN 19—19 TIE

Both Teams Fight Hard For Every Point

The Farmville and Radford basket ball teams tied the score 19—19 on the Radford court, Friday night, February 17, in the roughest game of the season thus far. Both teams seemed to fumble and fight rather than to play.

The game started off with plenty of snap and one team scored right after the other. The forwards on both teams seemed to be unable to get away from the guards but they fought bravely and at the end of the first half the score stood with one point in Radford's favor.

During the second quarter, although greatly handicapped by the small court, the Farmville girls rallied to the cause, fighting hard for victory. The excellent work of the guards, the good passing of the centers and the persistence with which the forwards shot the goals ran Farmville's score up, giving a final score 19—19.

The line-up was as follows:

Radford 19		Farmville 19
Gembert	guard	Hatchett (capt.)
Carter	guard	Coleman
Camper	J. C.	Gurley
Mears	S. C.	Jones
Etheridge (capt.)	forward	Hardy
Ogborne	forward	Smith

Referee—Lehr (Baltimore).
Umpire—Thomas (Richmond).

DUAL DEBATE WILL BE HELD FEBRUARY 23—24

On February 23—24 S. T. C. will take part in two dual debates with North Carolina State College and the other with Wake Forest at Wake Forest. The subject is "Dollar Diplomacy." North Carolina State will debate us here on Friday night at 8 o'clock. Our negative team will go both to North Carolina State and Wake Forest.

These are the third and fourth varsity debates of the season. So far this quarter we have debated new teams but North Carolina State is an old friend. Last year at Portsmouth we had with them one of the best and most enjoyable debates in our experience. Of course very few of us could hear it, but this year we will have an opportunity to hear one of their teams in our own auditorium.

The line-up for Farmville is:

North Carolina State and S. T. C. Here— Chris Royall, Nancy Holt.

North Carolina State and S. T. C. There—Louise McCormick, Alice Wiley.

Wake Forest and S. T. C. There—Louise McCormick, "Weesie" Moore.

TOM THUMB WEDDING GIVEN BY CHILDREN

Fond parents looked on with pride and future teachers enjoyed the Tom Thumb Wedding given Tuesday night in the auditorium.

Anne Cocks was a charming little bride and Dick Clark, who is a little larger than Tom Thumb of story-book fame, was a brave groom. Peggy Watkins sang, "I Love You Truly." She was "accompanied" by Lucy Tate.

The costumes were attractive and the decorations added color to the occasion.

Arthur Jones gave promise of a future theological career when he very efficiently acted as "the bride's pastor."

This is one more example of the hearty cooperation the town people give us, and we appreciate the clever entertainment by the "little citizens."

"A KISS FOR CINDERELLA" TO BE PRESENTED

On April 28 the Dramatic Club will present "A Kiss for Cinderella" by Barrie. The cast has been selected as follows:

Cinderella	Mabel Fitzpatrick
Mr. Brodie	Etta Marshall
Police	Louise McCormick
Dr. Brodie	Elsie Clements
Nurse	Mary Ellen Cato
Danny	Jane Hunt Martin
Man with coat	Virginia Gurley
Mrs. Maloney	Frances Wilson
Marion	Virginia Raine
Second Man	Evelyn Dulaney
King	Alice Davis
Queen	Mary Duncan
Censor	Jane Cotten
Mayor	Alice Wiley
Bishop	Gertrude Jarman
Godmother	Anne Ferree
Lord Times	Etta Marshall

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

TO LEAD—TO FOLLOW

There are two distinct types of girls at Farmville S. T. C., those who lead, and those who follow. There is probably a third type also but they are not of enough value to mention being those who neither lead nor follow. Yet, when considering leaders and followers we are often surprised, after a close study, to learn that it is necessary, in order to be either a good leader or a good follower, to know the characteristics of leadership.

Leadership, especially during this age of our life, is overestimated. Too much emphasis is place on it. We're not all going to be leaders, especially at college; many more of us are going to be followers or backers of those who are recognized leaders. One would naturally ask, "What are the characteristics of a leader?" They are the same characteristics, only more developed, that followers should have. Followers often, very often become leaders. However, it is just as necessary to be a good follower as a good leader. Now, what are the characteristics of a good leader?

According to a speaker at the Blue Ridge Conference a leader is a person who has a large capacity for friendship and is one who responds to associates readily. He is one who has his own individuality enlarged. From this enlargement of individuality through fellowship such things as the following emerge.

First, one learns to think in fruilful and beneficial ways. These thoughts should always be clear and pure. Also a leader's thoughts are well-directed. They are clear and well trained.

Second, a leader has courage to carry his thoughts into action. Most of us lack the courage to see our thoughts through. Yet, fellowship, which was first mentioned as a leader's characteristic, gives us the courage and strength to do.

Third, a leader has a technique for controversy. He knows the value of sportsmanship. He learns how to "take it in the face." On the other hand, he learns the effectiveness of overstatements—that they are not good. He knows it is necessary to contend earnestly but that it is just as bad to "rail" or to "ding-dong" and be a nuisance.

Above all a leader is tolerant. He is not hostile to truth but is open-minded. He considers an opponent as always better than his theory while he considers himself as never as good as his own. He knows how to love, and learn, and live.

To lead? Yes, it is an honor. To follow? This is the stepping stone to leadership.

ON USING THE HATCHET

The story goes that the father of our country was very free with his hatchet at the expense of his father's cherry tree. If it weren't for that story we'd be out of something to decorate with on this famous man's birthday, so we can say that after all the hatchet was used to good advantage.

In our school life, we are too prone to follow the general's example. The difficulty here is that no good ever comes from it. We back unmercifully in our little every day conversations. We forget consideration. We forget how wonderful our school, our faculty, and our friends really are. In fact, even in writing letters home we some times wait until we get in a bad humor and then hack, hack, hack with our hatchets of cutting words. Consideration! Think over the word. Ask yourself the question, Am I Considerate? Remember your patience and remember

"Four things come not back
The spoken word
The sped arrow
The past life
And the neglected opportunity."

If we think, ponder, and consider then we may use our hatchets. Nine times out of ten after thinking and considering the hatchet will become more useless than George Washington's was, and we will wish that the poet had not spoken true, when he said that the spoken word was the first of "four things that come not back."

OUR SPORTSMANSHIP AND THEIRS

In order to appreciate or to condemn the principles and practices of our own school it is very often necessary to visit in other colleges, and as an unknown spectator to witness the type of sportsmanship demonstrated by another student body. In this position we witness the excitement of a student body when a point is scored against "our team"; we notice the flaws, we notice the good characteristics of their sportsmanship and in turn we either breath a sigh of relief that "our student body" doesn't do this or that or the other or we sigh because our student body fails to practice some sportsmanlike act that we see practiced by another school. Either way, we learn a lesson that is lasting. We realize in a forceful way that visitors judge an entire student body by the sportsmanship they show while witnessing an athletic encounter. Our school is judged by our team etiquette.

Can we measure up in every phase of team etiquette? What impression do we make on a visiting team or on visiting spectators? Let us go over some of the essentials of team etiquette. Many other points can probably be added. However, I would consider the following as the most abused.

First, our attitude must be the proper one. We must consider the visiting teams as our guests rather than as our opponents. They have practiced as we have practiced in order to produce a good team. The game is to show how efficient the players have become and how they compare with other schools. Therefore, our attitude should be only that of friendliness. Hospitality, friendliness and interest in the other team is the atmosphere that should be created. Friendly rivalry is beneficial. There is no place in our school for girls who have not passed the amateurish, fault hunting type.

The second characteristic of importance is the cheering done during the game. Here is where the danger rests. It is understood that we want our team to win, of course. But, is it understood that we recognize our opponent's good plays? Do we know when to cheer and when to remain silent? Is it sportsmanlike to cheer our opponent's failure to make a goal? It is right to cheer for our own girls when they are hurt yet leave the opponents unnoticed? We know the answers.

Next, we must always accept the referee's word. If she didn't know how to referee a game she wouldn't have been called on. If those criticizing referee's decisions knew what they were talking about or knew more about the game than the referee herself she would probably be called on for her service. A defeated team that gropes blindly for alibis usually (and also blindly) uses the officials as possible reasons for defeat.

Lastly, an individual's comments and actions during a game is a bright reflector. Never make unfavorable comments on visiting teams. If they do something unsportsmanlike our action should be the opposite, not the same. We must give our guests the benefit of a doubt

Another ridiculous comment is in the form of an alibi. Never make alibis for your own teams' weakness or faults. All teams have strong and weak points. Why point those out as an excuse? They go in one ear and out the other.

Will visitors comment on our lack of sportsmanship or commend us? We wonder. Are we wise or otherwise?

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. F. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches...
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

"THEREBY HANGS A TAIL"

Though Shapespeare originated the foregoing title, I do not believe he ever knew anything about this tail, which not only "thereby hangs", but also serves a few utilitarian purposes. To get the point this is a Burmese bullock story.

The ingenuity of the Burmese has gained for them the incredible speed of three and a half miles an hour overland, via the contraption called the bullock cart. This, however, is a maximum velocity, which may be modified according to the temper and constitution of the passenger under treatment.

Speaking of treatment I once heard a few rides on the bullock cart prescribed for acute indigestion or dyspepsia. Certainly the "shake thoroughly" so frequently included in prescriptions is fully complied with in the administration of this specific.

Two wheels, an axle, a platform and two poles joined together at the far end comprise the vehicle and harness. The Burmese all carrying umbrellas or parasol, and hence a top is dispensed with. The yoke joining the poles is dropped over the bullock's neck, whereupon he is all hitched up and ready for the driver to twist the accelerator. Harness, reins, whip, et cetera, are all unknown to the Burmese bull chauffeur. Simplicity is the motif in the design of clothes and carts in the land of Pwe and pagoda.

All being ready the bullock hitched, the passenger cross-legged on a mat, our girlish looking driver steps on the starter, and the stately chariot moves off. There is that same rumble and chuckle of wheels that used to give us a thrill in the old home town as the circus wagon rolled over the cobble stones. The pitch and sway of the thing reminds one all too much of the antics of a French fishing tub on the Bay of Biscay.

Without a vestige of harness, it was a mystery to me how they stirred the placid-looking critter with the bump on his shoulder, until I put the query to a veteran returned missionary from the States. Here is the answer:

"Well, when they want to go to the right they pull his tail to the left, and when they want to go to the left they pull his tail to the right, then to speed him up, they just wind his tail and say, 'Brrr-rr-rrp!' Away he goes at express train time."

That statement greatly lowered my estimation of the express trains on the Burmese side. Three and a half miles an hour may be fast in Burma. You wouldn't be surprised at that after seeing a Burmese pwe, which looks like a slow motion picture of St. Vitus' dance.

This "Brrr-rr-rrp" noise they make for the guidance of the bullock must be a good imitation of that made by the "bull roarers" in common use among certain aboriginal tribes as charms, usually taboo under death penalty for women to look upon. The "bull roarer" is nothing but a flat stick with a string through a hole in one end, which swung in circles, makes a noise like that of a miniature airplane. Cattle have a panicky feeling under its influence, usually stampeding at its first sound.

One advantage about the Burmese conveyance herein described should be mentioned: spare parts are non-essentials, and the starter never sticks.

——J. S.

SELECTED COLLEGE POETRY

"RETROSPECT"

The screaming blasts of Autumn's wind
Is whistling through the trees;
A-ripping and a-tearing from
The branches all the leaves.

They twist and flutter to the earth—
But still to play their part
In Nature's unknown handiwork,
Through God—and by His art.

We pause to watch them in their flight,
When some small inner voice
Points out to us—How like a leaf
Is man, our Maker's choice.

Blooming in the spring of life,
Ripe, in summer's noon;
Now passing with the Autumn—
Doesn't their life end too soon?

'No," say we, "their work is done,
What need they now to stay.
They've played their part on God's green earth."
—Death claims her own today.

W. B. L. '28 (The Cadet)

MOON MUSIC

The man in the moon
Sang gaily a tune
To his lady with golden hair,
As they sailed 'cross his moat
In a silver boat
Through the cold, clear, winter air.

"Oh, lady fair
Your golden hair
Has tangled my heart in its strands,
No bright star on high
With your eyes can vie,
Nor lily white with your hands."
"My man in the moon,

Should I hark to your tune
And your flattering words believe
I'd slip into your arms,
Victimized by your charms,
And my heart I could never retrieve."
"Heart of my heart,

Whene'er we're apart
We're sorry and sad as you know.
Will you take my hand?"
"Yes, I'll take your hand,
And together through life we'll go."

Virginia Harvey (The Breeze)

A POME

—written while sitting in the bleachers watching the Thanksgiving game while the OAO makes eyes at a young sheik dressed to kill. (And that's just what you'd like to do.)

Where a sweet young thing is sittin'
In the bleachers over there,
That's where I'd be a-gittin'
'Cause that girl's my lady fair.

But the cap'n he won't let me,
Says I must sit here and yell,
But for all the good I'm doin'
Might as well be plumb in hell.

Where I sit, I see her smilin'
At a bozo dressed in cits;
On his neck I'd start a-filin'
For the small sum of two bits.

There ain't no use of pripin',
I'll sit here and watch the game—
When the players wipe the mud off—
Oh, boy, won't I get that dame!

—Ed. R., '29 (Va. Tech

BUSY WORLD BITS

"The Outlook" speaks of the days at Havana as happy ones. From the reports of the Pan American Congress no one would guess that there had ever been talk of misunderstanding between South America and the United States. This friendly course that the conference has taken seems to be largely the result of the attitude of Charles Evans Hughes as chairman of the delegation from the United States.

Ten thousand more troops have been withdrawn from the Rhineland, which is good news. But 50,000 remain. Why does not France withdraw them all? It cost more to maintain them there than at home. Mr. Briand says that the small force kept by them is by virtue of the Treaty of Versailles and so long as the treaty is unfilled that the army will stay where they are.

Herbert Henry Asquith, since 1925 the Earl of Oxford and Asquith, died last week. He has been the stately column of British Liberalism during the present generation. It is said he held the torch of Liberalism high and with majestic dignity through two stormy premierships from 1908 to 1916.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has returned to St. Louis after a 9,000 mile trip through Central and South America, spreading the glad tidings of the U. S. and good-will toward men.

A suggestion that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh be made the head of a new department of aviation (ranking with war and navy departments) is arousing much interest among the members of Congress. It is evident that Col. Lindbergh would be a popular choice.

SOCIAL

Among the girls attending the dances at V. P. I. were Misses Anne Covington, Anne Palmer, "Bibby" Ball, Jeannette Morris, Jane Reid Venable and Lucille Logan.

• • •

Miss Anna Burgess spent the week-end in Lynchburg at the home of Miss Mayo Bass.

• • •

Miss Virginia Ellis visited in the home of a friend in Oxford, N. C., last week-end.

• • •

Miss Anne Ferree was with her parents in Danville for the week-end.

• • •

Miss Pannie Willis spent the week-end at her home in Norfolk.

• • •

Miss Harriet Falkner was at her home in Blacksburg for the week-end.

• • •

Miss Mabel Hayes has returned from Randolph Macon Womens College, where she visited a friend.

• • •

Miss "Frankie" Roberts visited at William and Mary College.

• • •

Miss Jackie Woodson spent the week-end at Salem, Va.

• • •

Miss Phyllis Wood has returned from spending the week-end in Lynchburg.

• • •

Misses Evelyn Dulaney, Eleanor Hogan, Luicile Graves and Nancy Nelms motored to Roanoke where they spent the week-end.

COLLEGE GLIMPSES

Have you herad about the ban placed on lipstick and rouge at Converse College? The student body unanimously voted on this action and these supposedly necessary articles are no longer in use at that school.—Moroon and Gold.

Quotations from the "Lynchburg News" say that W. & L. wants the annual grid grame with V. P. I. at Lynchburg, abandoning the home and home agreement made last year. Aren't we glad that Lynchburg isn't very far from Farmville?—The Virginia Tech.

Many Wellesley Sophomores are facing probation as the result of a midnight attack on three hundred freshmen, engaged in election of class officers. It is said, that one grand "battle" took place and as a result, the next morning several appeared in classes with bandages and black eyes. After hearing this, do you soppose Mr. Coyner would agree that women can fight as well as men? —The Salemite—Sun Dial.

A New York architect is now working on plans for a new gateway at William and Mary. The statues of King William and Queen Mary, which will form the central effect in the design, have just arrived from Europe. This gateway will present both a beautiful and attractive entrance at the eastern end of the campus.—The Flat Hat.

We notice from "The Florida Flambeau" that "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" will be presented at the Florida State College with marionettes. This paper also stated that marionettes are one of the oldest forms of theatrical art. They date back in church and secular history beyond the middle ages when they were used in connection with religious celebrations. This bit of news is of special interest to us since we so recently were delightfully entertained by these little wooden figures.

The students at N. C. C. W. will have the opportunity of hearing Paderewski, the world's greatest pianist, who is coming to Greensboro. Percy Grainger, famous as a composer and pianist, and Gladys Swarthout, American singer, will also present a program in that school..—The Carolinian.

"The Spectator" from Mississippi State Teachers College, states that a new chapter of Pi Gamma Mu is being organized in that school. The members of this society at S. T. C. extend their congratulations to this new organization at M. S. T. C.

"MOON OF ISRAEL"
Mightiest Spectacle the World Has Ever Known!
Cast of 50,000! 2,000 Arabian Horses! 1,000 golden chariots! Tons of massive sets!
AT THE EACO THEATRE
Wed. & Thurs., Feb. 29 and March 1

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO.
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

JOKES

He: "What color is the best for a June bride?"
Haw: "As a matter of taste, I'd prefer a white one."

Mr. Jones: "May I present my wife—"
Mr. Smith: "No, thank you, I have one."

"Who surrendered to Washington?"
"Cornwallis."
"And Howe."

Duncan: "Will you please take those black shoes with the buckles, out of the window for me?"
Duroc: "Certainly, madame. Pleased to take anything out of the window anytime."
Duncan: "Thanks heaps. I don't like them and they bother me every time I pass the window."

Sally W.: "Whom are you shaving?"
Eliz. S.: "I dunno—what's your name?"

Lacy: "Did you see me come in that door?"
Pumphrey: "Sure."
Lacy: "Did you ever see me before?"
Pumphrey: "No."
Lacy: "Well, how did you know 'twas I?"

E. E. Thomas: "If I had a lotta money, I'd ask you to marry me."
Alice Davis: "If you had a lot of money you wouldn't have to ask me."

Alice Page: "Why is a kiss like a sewing machine?"
Jarman: "One sews seams nice and the other seems so nice."

Nelms: "Why are your hose on wrong side out?"
Antrim: "My feet got hot, so I turned the hose on 'em."

Mayo says, lucky is the girl who marries the man with money to burn. She makes a good match.

Jane Hunt: "Doesn't your roommate's talking in her sleep bother you?"
Guina: "Yes, she talks too fast to be understood."

"Pannie": "We had simple honors."
Louise Mc.: "Yea. I had the honors and you were simple."

Anna Curtis: "This steak is terribly tough."

Hostess Walton: "We are not responsible for the morals of our food."

MR. RILEY SCOTT, SOLDIER POET AT S. T. C.

Tuesday morning, February the 14th, brought to the students of our school the pleasure of having a poet read during chapel. This poet, Mr. Riley Scott, known as the Soldier Poet, is a native of Kentucky, who very ably expresses his love for his state, and for all of nature in his poems. His audience found his poems, and his manner of presenting them, delightful. It was interesting to hear Mr. Scott tell of his rambling life with "Elizabeth", his ancient Ford, and of the way in which his poems were written.

The girls had the opportunity to collect the verses which appealed most strongly to them, and it has been noticed that their choice was colored by the atmosphere of the day. One may safely say that the students are hoping to see Mr. Scott return soon again.

MARTHA WASHINGTON

Laughing eyes and merry glance
Yet demure and proper, slow,
In the quaint old minuet
Tripped a lady long ago.
With powdered hair and full hoop skirt
She was a charming sight to see.
How graciously she bent her head
How daintily she sipped her tea

Sympathetic, helpful, kind
Quite sedate was she, yet gay.
Loving, laughing, flirting some
In the dear old fashioned way.

The First Lady of Our Land,
Lady Martha Washington.
Serious, yet liking fun.
Gracious in peace, and true in war
—The Twig

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Brave and stern and quite severe
Are some the things they say of him.
They say he never told a lie
And always looked so neat and trim.

About him they have woven a maze
Of fancies, legends, most untrue;
Yet in it all he stands heroic,
Steadfast, honest, one of few.

Firm in purpose, clean in aim,
High in ideals, gallant, right,
Good humored and keen of wit,
Dealing fairly in the fight.

Loyal to his God, his land,
Striving to set his people free,
"First in War and First in Peace,
And Father of his Country!"
—The Twig

WE WONDER IF—

George Washington wonders—
If "Red" thinks dropping a hint is as good as dropping a handkerchief?
If there is any hog caller yet who can compete with the dinner bell?
If Ethel Weld thinks the inventor of that new electric refrigerator got a cool million?
If H.-S. thinks that because she was a gas man's daughter, you ought to meet'er?
If we could ask Jekyl how's his Hyde?
If "Polly" Aderholt will soon be "Frank"?
If "Milly" Landis' mother told her to dress warmly so she wouldn't catch that sorority grippe?
If S. T. C. could be S. T. C. without Dr. Jarman?
If our memories of S. T. C. will ever be forgotten?
If the town boys were showing us how well they could take part in a wedding—(Leap Year, girls)?

SOPHOMORES PRESENT SUCCESSSFUL SING

The sing presented on Saturday, February 18th, by the Sophomores was very successful.

May Marshall and Alice Davis as the old-fashioned lady and gentleman sang a delightful medley of old songs and Mother Goose rhymes. Old King Cole and his fiddlers were quite jolly and entertaining. Little Boy Blue evidently knew how Bo-Peep was suffering for he consoled her in a charming brotherly fashion. The Hot Shop mannequins imparted in an interesting fashion the gossip of S. T. C. "Liz" Sawyer found three blind mice in the hot shop and since she was in a rather vicious mood she chopped off their tails with a carving knife. The old farmer (Margaret Leonard) danced an old country clog. Sing closed with "School Days" sung by the student body.

ROTUNDA STAFF ENJOYS VALENTINE PARTY

A Valentine party was given the Rotunda staff after the business meeting Wednesday night.

The Rotunda office was attractively decorated in small red hearts, and a large heart was swung from the light over the center of the room.

After the serving of the refreshments, each member of the staff drew a fortune from the large heart, and Dulaney, the editor, autographed a small heart for every one.

OVER THE TEACUPS

What, Marie, no sugar? For sooth these British will deny us sugar for our tea with their import taxes and export taxes and other silly laws. My deah. I feel absolutely cut off from the world: I shall tell George to please speak to Benjamin Franklin about it. There is no use in our having an American in Paris if he can't notify us of the latest fashions. I wonder if they are wearing flowers or feathers in the hair this season! Why they might even be wearing jewels, and we know nothing of it. It is a disgrace!

Were you at the Birthday Ball the other night? It was disgusting the way Frances T. shook her curls and rolled her eyes at all the young college lads who are come home from England. The way the young ladies chase after the lads nowadays is truly shocking. In my day we made them come more than half way. We didn't stand for foolishness. Why last week Harry B. made an engagement with Dot and was actually ten minutes late. The girls should insist upon being treated as young ladies.

Ah! Marie, at last, you found some sugar. I am glad, I hate so much to miss my tea, I know you'll have a cup, it's from China. I must be ring for General Washington.

ROTUNDA STAFF SELECTS

Continued from page one

editor through recommendations from the members of last terms journalism class as well as the staff.

Virginia Pettigrew, Mary Frances Shepherd, Julia Wilson and Mary Ellen Cato were also selected as reporters. All of these have contributed throughout the year and are considered worthy of recognition.

ATHLETICS

VOLLEY BALL

Say! What's the matter with volley ball? Practices are regularly being held and yet only a few "brave ones" of the upper classes come out to uphold their colors.

The practices have been arranged in order for every one to have a time to come, so where's the crowd that's always expected on a volley ball court?

Volley ball is easily learned and so no one should refuse to come out because she does not know how to play. That's what the practices are for.

So come on now, you upper classmen, break away from your routine, come out for the exercise and you will stay to fight for your class and your colors! Just come and try it once, for once is enough and your class is needing you, and counting on you!

A SENIOR'S SOCIAL SUCCESS

On Wednesday morning Dr. Wynne honored his classes with a shower of lovely mimeographed sheets. The guests arrived one by one for about ten minutes all chattering gaily. Each young lady carried with her a dainty spring back binder to hold the sheets. Those mimeographed sheets of fine paper were charmingly distributed by Misses Wiley, Holt, Babb and McClenny, graciously assisted by Dr. Wynne. The papers were received by each of the guests with pleasure and an eagerness hard to suppress. After the distribution of papers the speaker of the morning led in an interesting and entertaining discussion concerning the value and beauty of mimeographed sheets. The conversation was lively and absorbing, all the guests contributing with much animation. At the close of the hour the sound of a gong was heard and each guest left reluctantly, clasping tightly the mimeographed sheets.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION IN CLEANING BUSINESS

Yes, the whole Freshman Commission has gone into the cleaning business! However, they aren't the cleaners; merely the agents. Different girls have been assigned certain halls and cottages to canvass, in the hope of getting quite a few dresses, coats, etc., to send to Poole's to be cleaned. Then these will be delivered the next day by the same girls—and will be paid for—in other words "Cash or Carry". Either you pay the cash or the girls "carry" the dress until it is paid for. The Freshman Commission girls will call about twice a week so please get busy and find aplenty of clothes which need to be cleaned. If you do not wish to wait for the girls to come around you can take the clothes to Mary Ellen Cato's room—81 White House Hall!

JUST ARRIVED
New Spring Dresses
Coats and Hats
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week Feb. 27—Mar. 3

MON. & TUES.—ALICE TERRY in the super special production "THE GARDEN OF ALLAH", produced by Rex Ingram, the man who directed "The Four Horsemen." Here is one of the world's truly great romances. Made on actual locations in Europe and the Sahara Desert, with thousands of Arab tribesmen, this is a production of outstanding beauty and dramatic power. Millions have read the story in book form—millions will thrill now to the adventure of the handsome young Monk who yields to the call of the world without, for one brief, flaming moment of passion. Pathe News Monday and serial Tues. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

WED. & THURS.—Here is that SUPER SPECTACLE of the ages, "THE MOON OF ISRAEL" starring MARIE CORDA and ARCHELETTE MARCHAL with a cast of 50,000 people. From the famous novel by Sir H. Rider Haggard. A mighty dramatic spectacle! An epic of love and courage A stupendous achievement that will thrill you and enthrall you as picture never has before! The greatest theme in the history of mankind is brought to the screen in a mighty spectacle that will live forever. Also good comedy and at Metro-Goldwyn News, showing pictures of the S. T. C. girls. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

FRI. & SAT. —BILLIE DOVE and LLOYD HUGHES in "THE AMERICAN BEAUTY" a big special production. If you were a poor girl—and borrowed somebody else's clothing—and gave up your poor sweetheart just to win a millionaire and then found out he wasn't a millionaire at all—What would you do? That's just what happens to beautiful Billie. And what she does is one o fthe biggest surprises seen on the screen this season. Also good comedy. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

Admission to S. T. C. girls: 25c to each sow if tickets are purchased at college.

The entire object of true education is to make people not merely do the right things but enjoy the right things—not merely industrious but to love industry—not merely pure but to love purity—not merely just but to hunger and thirst after justice.—Ruskin.

ONWARD, FARMVILLE VARSITY!

THE ROTUNDA

POE

HEAR CANTATA FRIDAY

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, Wednesday, Feb. 29, 1928 No. 19

FARMVILLE LOSES TO HARRISONBURG IN GOOD GAME SATURDAY NIGHT

Perfect Teamwork of Harrisonburg Significant

Saturday night, February 25th, saw the Farmville basketball varsity go down in defeat before the Harrisonburg team in one of the fastest, cleanest and most exciting games ever played on the home court.

Amid the cheering of the girls, who packed the gym, the game started and until the final whistle there was not a slow minute. Both teams showed fine coaching and played a clean game. The Farmville team fought hard for a victory but was completely outplayed throughout the entire game.

The most noticeable feature of the game was the perfect passwork of the Harrisonburg team. The excellent work of their guards prevented Farmville from rolling up a score while the centers and forwards played a fast snappy game giving a final score 23—9 in Harrisonburg's favor.

Though the Farmville girls fought bravely only a few goals were made due to the excellent work of Harrisonburg.

The sportsmanship exhibited by both teams was noticeable throughout the entire game.

Line-up:

Harrisonburg (23)		Farmville (9)
Doan	f.	Hardy
Smith	f.	Smith
Quisenberry	j. c.	Clements
Heizer	s. c.	J. Jones
Cockerille (capt)	g.	Hatchett (capt)
Miller	g.	Coleman

Substitutes——Harrisonburg: Bone for Smith.

Referee—Thomas.

Umpire—Lehr.

MISS FLORENCE DRACH IN MR. JEFFERS' PLACE

Much to the sorrow of his students Mr. Jeffers, head of the biology department, has been sick for some time, and now, much to the distress of the student body and faculty, we hear he is not to return to our school. We have all grown very fond of Mr. Jeffers whether we have had him in classes or not. Although those who study under him are very sad, we all miss him and we wish for him a speedy recovery, as we want him back next year.

Miss Florence Drach of Colona, Michigan has come to take Mr. Jeffers' place in the department of biology. Miss Drach took her bachelor of science degree at the Western State Normal College at Kalamozoo, Michigan. Later she took her master of science at the University of Chicago and she also did a year's post graduate work there. We are glad to have Miss Drach and hope she will feel at home with us.

JULIET JONES

Manager Varsity Basket Ball

Do we ever stop to think who it is who arranged for our games, who sees that the games go off as scheduled and who sees that our team goes off to meet another team? All this is the work of the manager, Juliet Jones. Juliet has surely done everything that a manager can do for the success of the team. Besides, attending to all the team's business, Juliet plays on the team and plays a fine game. Without her work as side center Farmville would surely feel a loss.

POPULAR FACULTY MEMBER HONORED

Dr. J. E. Walmsley, head of the History Department, has been asked to serve on the editorial staff of Social Science as editor of the sociology department. Social science is one of the foremost magazines in the field of social science .The editing of this magazine is fostered by Pi Gamma Mu, the National social science honor society, of which Dr. Walmsley is a charter member. The position of editor of the sociology department requires the editing of manuscripts as well as written articles. We are indeed proud to have a man of such ability on our faculty!

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED

Ladies and Gentlemen of 18th Century Return

Anyone entering the recreation hall on the night of February 22, would have thought that they were entering a ballroom of a century and a half ago. Powdered hair, hooped skirts, and frilled shirts were to be seen on all sides.

Soon the strains of the Minuet were heard, and Virginia Raine, Jane Hunt Martin, Ellen Smith, Janette Morris, Virginia Gurley, "Pinky" Shoffner, Ane Ferree, "Red" Foster, Eleanor Hogan, and Page Archer gracefully danced the steps so popular during the days of our first President.

After the Minuet, the Grand March took place. Some of the costumes were beautiful, and it must indeed, have been a hard task for the judges, Miss Hiner, Miss Camper and Mrs. Laing, to decide which was the best. Virginia Ellis, May Marshall and Sophie Bowman wore dresses quite valuable due to the sentiment attached to them. Finally the judges decided that May Marshall compared best with their idea of a Colonial lady. She really looked as though she had just stepped from a picture to revel for a night—only to return to her place in the frame when the clock struck twelve, or some other mystic charm warned her that her hour of freedom was over. The picture was completed when May was awarded the prize,a bouquet of old-fashioned flowers.

After the Grand March, Etta Marshall took her place at the piano, and dancing began. Everyone enjoyed the evening immensely, and felt that the birthday of the man who meant so much to Colonial America had been celebrated in a fitting way.

FRESHMAN FOLLIES

Rehearsals of the Freshman Follies are taking place now and a good up-to-date program is promised to all coming to the auditorium at 7 o'clock Wednesday night.

The principals of the cast for the delicious comedy, "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy," are astonishing those directing by their ability in acting, and some day it is predicted that their names may glitter in electric lights on Broadway. Many laughs will be brought out by the rapid action in difficult situations experienced by the young man whose fancy lightly turns to love in the spring! The choruses are getting better and better every day and are guaranteed to surpass any chorus anywhere in pulchritude.

Tickets may be procured for 25c. Remember next Wednesday night at 7 o'clock.

S. T. C. WINS DEBATE WITH WAKE FOREST; LOSES TO N. C. STATE

Oxford Decsion Results in Victory by 21 Votes

The recent debates with North Carolina State College and Wake Forest resulted in two losses and one victory. The debates with North Carolina State were decided upon by judges and resulted in 2 to 1 decisions in favor of North Carolina State College. The dual debate with Wake Forest at Wake Forest was decided by the Oxford vote and resulted in victory for S. T. C. by twenty-one votes

In spite of the fact that out of the last three debates we lost two we consider these debates among the best and most successful in our forensic history. Until recently Wake Forest has been the leading college in debate in the South being surpassed at present by North Carolina State. Out of the last nineteen debates participated in by State College they have lost only three. On the night before the team from State visited us they won from V. P. I. by a unanimous decision. State College last year had a national championship orator of whom it is said "he did for oratory what Lindbergh did for aviation." North Carolina State College has the Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, a National forensic honor society. This year they have scheduled a dual debate with the University of Alabama. Mr. Cunningham, of State is recognized as the best coach of debate and oratory in North Carolina, is province governor of Pi Kappa Delta and a member of Delta Sigma Rho, a forensic fraterintiy found only in universities.

Although the Wake Forest debate was held on Wake Forest's home ground, the result of the Oxford vote was in favor of the visiting team, a fact which speaks well for our team and for the boys at Wake Forest who proved that an audience decision may be fair and even on home ground. These contests were the first at both

(Continued on last page.)

MARY FRANCES HATCHETT

Captain Varsity Basket Ball

She's a peach, she's a dream
She's the captain of our team
Hatchett! Hatchett! Hatchett!"

Yes, she is a "peach" and a "dream," but she is more than those two delightful things, she's an excellent player and the best captain that S. T. C. could have.

We need only to see a game to realize what a fine work she does as captain, and just watch her play to see what a good guard she is.

FARMVILLE MEETS RADFORD SATURDAY

Saturday night will bring to S. T. C. its last basket ball game on the home floor of the season, for on Saturday the Radford team will journey down to meet Blue and White once more.

Two weeks ago the Farmville team played Radford there and the resulting score of a fast rough game was a tie 19—19. Now, however, our team hopes that the large home court and the backing of the student body will promise better results for old S. T. C.

The student body is looking forward to the game in great excitement and everyone is expected to be on hand Saturday night, to back our team by our presence and our cheering and help put Blue and White on top!

RECEPTION IS HELD FOR DEBATORS

At a reception Friday evening, February 24, given by the Debating Club in the Student Building Lounge in honor of the North Carolina State debators, the three honorary societies and the faculty, Dr. Cunningham spoke on Pi Kappa Delta fraternity.

He talked very encouragingly of establishing a chapter of this fraternity in Farmville State Teachers College. There are only two colleges in Va. which have been considered. They are V. M. I. and Farmville S. T. C. This fraternity is the largest one of its kind in the United States. At present there are no chapters in Virginia.

Refreshments were served at the close of Dr. Cunningham's speech.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE '29

Board of Editors

News ..... ISABELLE MacDONALD '29
Social ..... LOUISE FOSTER '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY '30
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 MAYO BASS '30
CATHERINE BENTLEY '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... KATHERINE L. HATCH '29
Assistant ..... MARGARET WALTON '29
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

S. T. C. AND ELECTIONS

The high school girl who remarked that she was going to college to take college spirit certainly had a part of the true conception of college, though one may surmise variously the results she hoped to attain.

The tone of college spirit, one may safely say, is determined by the quality and the standards set by the leaders. True it is that the spirit of an institution is a product of slow growth throughout the years which mark the existence of the institution; but the spirit which gives color and character to certain years in the life of a college in created by its student leaders.

Elections of major officers at S. T. C. take place the first week in April. Already members of the student body are considering seriously girls who are eligible for office. It is hoped that considerations include the needs of the college and personal attributes which are required to fill an office successfully.

The girl who possesses the true spirit of S. T. C. will give careful thought to the question of elections for the year 1928-'29, for she realizes she cannot lightly bestow the trust of leadership. The responsibility next year falls heavily upon the leaders, but now the responsibility is in the hands of each member of the student body, for she by her vote holds the power of determination of the leaders, and so the determination of the character of the college.

WHY BE A DEBATOR?

What is there in debating? Have you ever thought what debating means? Debating is a forensic art. A good debater possesses the "art of persuasion beautiful and just." This is the meaning of one of the forensic fraternities. A debater, first of all, learns. He learns facts, useful, meaningful, helpful facts. He learns to balance and weigh these facts one against another, and the value of each separate fact in relation to a mass of facts. He learns to express himself clearly, accurately and persuasively. He learns to think upon his feet and to organize his thoughts while speaking. He learns to look at any question from several different angles. He learns to appreciate the value of evidence on both sides of a question. In addition to this he acquires poise, mental and emotional; he "feels" his audience.

A good debater is a good sport. He respects the feelings of his opponents; he recognizes the value of a good argument regardless of what side it strengthens; he speaks "straight from the shoulder." In the words of the fraternity he possesses "the art of persuasion, beautiful and just." Therefore, is not debating worth while?

OUR BASKET BALL TEAM—AFTER THE FIRST ONE

Yes, it has been decided that our rooting etiquette is all right. We were very respectful to our visitors in the gym who played us Saturday night. Our hearts were with our varsity team. We particularly held our breath for one of our star guards every time she took a slide of more than six feet across the gym floor. But while we, on the side lines, cheered each good play by both sides, and sang our songs so well that a Harrisonburg visitor said they were the best she had ever heard, it seemed to some of us that there were some other figures on that floor. We seemed to see the girls of the scond team they must not be called scrubs—their title should be sports playing hard. Each night during basket ball season has found them faithfully at practice. They work in no half-hearted way. They play as hard as if the varsity were real rivals. It is against their guarding that our forwards have learned, against their work in center that our varsity players have gained the skill of their good passing. The second team has afforded our guards the practice which makes us marvel at their good playing.

Yes, it is easy enough to practice when it is for the direct glory of old S. T. C. that they work. It is hard work, but the acclaim of an enthusiastic student body is some compensation. Where is the compensation of our second team girls whose only glory is the sight of the girl she has practiced against winning in a real game?

These girls are fine enough to call that glory. It is! The object of this whole rambling discussion is simply this, the student body must remember and appreciate the girls who practice night after night with our varsity, they must commend those girls for our victories as much as the girls who actually appear on the floor, and most important, they must realize how fine such girls really are and take their cheerful service without direct compensation as a wonderful example.

INTERCOLLEGIATE WORLD

It is interesting to note that "The Chronicle" reports that at Duke University it is estimated that the students save $15,000 each college year in traveling expenses by "bumming". Girls think of the money we would save if we too could only be "bummers"!

Cornell University, until recently a stolid mens' school, is definitely co-educational now. $1,650,000 has been given for the erection of four new women's residence halls.—The Sun Dial.

John Frier, president of Princeton University, says that the average college man has too much money to spend at college. He maintains that moving pictures, student-owned automobiles, too great indulgence in extra curricula activities, and the over-generosity of parents are the principal reasons for failure in college. Would this application be made to girls, too?

"The Salemite" reports that Bennington College, a new liberal arts institution for women, will be opened in the fall of 1929. "Modern standards of progressive education" will be stressed and only those girls who have attained special excellence in one field alone will be elegible for entrance.

From the "Sun Dial" we notice with much interest that on February 25th Randolph Macon will debate Washington and Lee on the following question: "Resolved, that co-education is a failure."

"I am seventy years old and it is time to go on the shelf."

In this manner Dr. Frank Johnson Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins University, explained his resignation. Dr. Goodnow is distinguished not only because he is not going to write a book after retirement, but mainly for his scholastic devotion which has made Johns Hopkins outstanding for its graduate work.—The New Student.

BUSY WORLD BITS

Premier Mussolini has recently issued a constitution which is to govern the activities of the Facisti living abroad. By this means he is bringing Fascist organizations outside of Italy directly under the authority of Rome. He commands the Fascisti abroad to be respectful of the laws of the country in which they reside but they are not to participate in the internal policies of the countries. Benito Mussolini is attracting much attention in the world today.

The presence in the country of a woman twenty-six years old who is believed by many people to be the youngest daughter of the late Czar Nicholas II. of Russia has aroused great interest. She was supposedly killed by the Red soldiers when the members of the royal family were executed. Can it be that she is a princess?

Nicaragua is still smoking! There has been a proposal recently to have the warring parties of Nicaragua choose a compromise candidate for President in order to solve the present crises. General Moncada of the Liberal Party is opposed to this. While General Chamorro thinks that this would be by far the best solution.

On February 22 President Coolidge paid reverence to George Washington by crossing into and going to Alexandria where the first American President attended church and lodge. This custom Alexandria has observed more than a century. Governor Byrd of Virginia gave a reception in honor of the President.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Miss Pattie Garrett of Richmond visited Miss Louise Garrett the past week-end.

* * *

Mrs. L. L. Chapman and Mrs. R. S. Cox of Smithfield spent the week-end with Mrs. J. E. Warren.

* * *

Miss Ethel LaBoyteaux and Miss Evelyn Wood of Richmond spent February 22 with Miss Mary White Cox.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches--
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

The following story was written in Miss Barnes' short story class. The stories written this term are children's stories. Each week the class selects the best story read during the week. This story was selected as one of the best.

JACK IN THE BOX

I wonder if you knew that many, many years ago, Jack-in-the-Box wasn't Jack-in-the-Box at all? He was just plain Jack. And furthermorme, Jack was the most disliked person in all of the land. Now, that is a very dreadful thing to say, but its true. For you see, in those days, Jack had one terrible habit that no one could forgiv .That habit was the one of scaring people. Of course, scaring people, sometimes, is fun, but Jack scared them so, that it really wasn't funny at all. In fact, it showed just what an ill-mannered person Jack was.

Have you ever wondered why Humpty-Dumpty fell off the wall? It was just because Jack crept very, very softly up behind him and then yelled so loud that it scared poor Humpty so that he jumped dreadfully—and missed—and fell—and broke. Jack ran away and hid so that no one could catch him. All of the King's men tried to find him. but they could no more do that than they could mend poor old Humpty-Dumpty.

Now, all of the time they were hunting for Jack, he was hiding near a spring high up on a tall hill. If anyone attempted to come to the spring, Jack would always see them approaching, and before they reached the top of the hill, he frightened them so, that they would run back down and never try to come again. One day a little boy and girl came to this spring to fetch a pail of water while Jack was away. I believe their names were Jack and Jill. But before they had got far with the water, Jack saw them and scared them both so that they fell all of the way down the hill, and I have heard that the little boy had an awful bump on his head for a long while afterwards.

However, Jack soon grew careless for one day he ventured down into the city, where a lovely little girl was sitting in her yard eating breakfast. And do you know what Jack did? Why he took a huge spider and let it fall from the tree above her .right down beside her! And then something happened that Jack didn't expect. The little girl scramed so loud that everyone for miles around heard her and came running to Mrs. Muffet's yard. Mrs. Muffet was the little girl's mother, you see. Now, Jack didn't intend to cause such a disturbance and he was very much alarmed when so maney people appeared. He jumped from the tree and ran to the only place he saw—a nearby box. Into the box jumped Jack and quickly closed the top. But he was too late! At last the people had captured Jack! So he was taken, box and all, to the King and was tried immediately. Of course, he was found guilty, but how do you suppose he was punished? Well, I'll tell you. The King decreed that Jack must always remain in the box, and could only come out when he jumped out. Then, the people he frightened would be expecting him and so no harm would be done. Now, that is why Jack became Jack-in-the-Box, instead of just plain Jack.

SOCIAL

Misses Lib Smitherman and Elizabeth Rose attended the Phi Gamma Delta dance at the University of Richmond this week-end.

• • •

Misses Anne Deffenbaugh, Flora Martin, Barbara Willcox and Virginia Walker spent the week-end in Petersburg.

• • •

Miss "Pinkie" Shoffner spent the week-end at her home in Roanoke.

• • •

Misses Jane Cotten and Sara Robotham spent the week-end in Richmond.

• • •

Miss Josephine Peters has returned from her home in Richmond where she has been spending several days.

• • •

Miss Rena Luck who has been the week-end guest of Miss Louise Craft has returned to Lynchburg.

• • •

Miss Susie Bell Webber has returnwed from her home in Roanoke where she spent the week-end.

• • •

Miss Virginia Raine is spending some time at her home in Danville.

• • •

Miss Ethel Weld spent the week-end at her home in Roanoke.

• • •

Miss Frances Malbon and Florence McIntyre have returned from Richmond where they spent the week-end.

FACULTY NEWS

Among the faculty members attending "The King's Henchman' 'in Richmond were Misses Davis, Tupper, Hiner, Wheeler, Barlow and Eggleston. A number of the faculty also heard Kreisler in Lynchburg.

Miss Grenels was sick for several days last week, but she has now recovered and is holding her classes as usual.

Miss Stubbs has been ill for a week with influenza, and though she is not back at school, she is recuperating, and expects to be back with us soon.

COLLEGE EDUCATION IS VALUED AT $72,000

From the Chronicle News Syndicate of Chicago we learn that a college education is worth $72,000 .This is a profit of 1,200 per cent on an original investment of $6,000, which is the average total cost of a four years' course in college.

Deducting the cost of the education itself the student adds to his future income at the rate of approximately $15,000 a year during the time he is in college.

As classes are held only five days a week, this means potential earnings of $70 a day to the student for each day spent in the class room.

These statements are made by Otto Y. Schnering, president of the Baby Ruth Candy Company, who is an alumnus of the University of Chicago, in an address here.

"A college education is not only very essential in modern business, but highly profitable, if the student spends his time in real study," Mr. Schnering said. "The annual average income of a high school graduate is $2,200 and that of a college graduate $6,000. Total earnings of the two classes of men up to the age of 60 are approximately placed at $78,000 and $150,000. This gives the college graduate a lead of $72,000 over the high school youth.

"This is the age of specialization and scientific management in business in which a college education is becoming almost an absolute necessity."—Selected.

STUDENT STANDARDS COMMITTEE AT S. T. C.

In every school is found a "silent worker" which quietly, yet faithfully attempts to establish and uphold the standards of the students.

The Student Standadrs Committee of S. T. C., composed of representatives of the student body and the faculty seems to be the "silent worker". They must together each month discuss and attempt to solve the problems which confront the student body. After carefully discussing each problem they present to the student body to be voted upon a plan which they think will remedy the situation. At present they have been rearranging a point system which they will presnt to the student body at a near date.

EQUAL INTELLIGENCE EXISTS IN ATHLETES AND NON-ATHLETES

How do athletes compare scholastically with non-athletes?

The Carnegie Foundation's report, prepared by Dr. Howard J. Savage, which was expected to settle the mooted relationship between athletics and scholarship, has been issued after a year of preparation. But it does not settle the question, even though it covers investigations in forty-four colleges and universities. Dr. Savage advances several reasons, among them lack of objectivity and absence of common grounds of comparison, why his results may not be considered final.

Yet on the basis of careful and detailed study of the problem at Columbia University, Dr. Savage is ready to announce certain conclusions. He summarizes:

"With respect to the class of 1925 at Columbia College, those members who participated in sport and those who did not, appear to be of about the same intelligence. On the basis of course grades, however, the athletes in their studies fell below the non-athletes.

"In spite of the fact that athletes tended to remain longer in college, a smaller proportion received degrees, and a much greater number of athletes incurred probation. The athletes tended to carry light programs. Both athletes and non-athletes elected easy courses more frequently than hard, and in them received higher grades than in the courses that are demonstrable statistically as more difficult. Finally the grades of athletes show a stronger tendency to gratitate toward the passing line than the grades of non-athletes, and athletes received on the whole more marks of C- or C than their clascsmates.

"Both this method and these conclusions are proposed, not as innovations or as unusual generatlizations, but as the result of extended preliminary efforts to answer the question: What is the relation of scholarship of athletes to that of non-athletes in American universities and colleges?

"In the past, the matter has excited wide interest and much discussion, both within and outside of college walls. With the cooperation of a number of colleges and universities in supplying comparable data, conclusions can be drawn to cover a much larger field and to reach a much greater validity."—N. S. S.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

CODE OF GOOD SPORTS

I.

Thou shalt not quit.

II.

Thou shalt not alibi.

III.

Thou shalt not gloat over winning.

IV.

Thou shalt not be a poor loser.

V.

Thou shalt not take unfair advantage.

VI.

Thou shalt not ask odds thou art unwilling to give.

VII.

Thou shalt always be ready to give thine opponent the shade.

VIII.

Thou shalt not underestimate an opponent, nor overestimate thyself.

IX.

Thou shalt root with all thy might, but in rooting a good sport will root right.

X.

Honor the game thou playest, for he who playeth the game straight and hard wins even when he loses.

—Selected.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Speech is a power, and to make a speech in public is a knack.

Life and death are in the power of the tongue.

The "Manner' 'of your speaking is as fully important as the "Matter."

Expression is the dress of thought.

Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that you may know you ought to answer any man.

There is much eloquence in the tone of voice, in the eyes, and in the air of a speaker as in the choice of words.

Conversation is the image of the mind.

Speech is the index of the mind.

"REMEMBER

If your lips keep from slips, Five thoughts observe with care:

To whom you speak, of whom you speak, And how and when and where.

CULTURE

The soft sobbing of a sensuous saxaphone.
The piercing treble of a dyspeptic clarinet
The drummer preys upon his cymbal
The violinist twitches his spindly neck
The pianist lingers on sonorous seventh
Music
The trombonist urges a series of squawks from his horn
The bass plays pizzicato
The cornet player goes wild on a break
And a sleek-haired youth gushes
To his plump mate
Gawd ain't that hot, Lulu?

—The New Student

"The Salemite" recently published a list of books which everyone seemed to be reading. Among these books were—"Now We Are Six" by A. A. Milne; "The Man Who Saw Thru Heaven" by Daniel Steele; "O Rare Ben Jonson," a fictionized biography by Byrn Steele; Conrad Aiken's "Blue Voyage"; a volume of poems by the negro poet Countie Cullen—The Salemite.

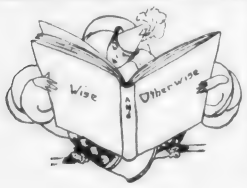
—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery



Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

"Several men proposed to me before I married you."

"Why didn't you marry the first fool that came along?"

"I did."

She: "Open your mouth and shut your eyes and—"

He: "And that's the way a woman drives a car."

Covington: "Look, H.-S. is gonna kick-off."

Dolly R: "Goodness Cov. They've been dead for years."

Visitor: "Aren't you afraid other teams will learn your signals?"

Virginia Gurley: "Naw, they're so complicated that we can't even understand 'em ourselves."

Louise F.: "Why do you call him Gillette?"

Polly A.: "Because you can only use a young blade like that a couple of times."

"Dopey": "Regular deluge, isn't it?"

Frankie: "What's that?"

"Dopey": "You've read about the deluge surely? Noah and the flood and all that?"

Frankie: "No, I haven't seen a newspaper for three days."

"Mother, if I get married when I grow up, will I get a husband like my old man?"

"Why, yes dear."

"And, if I don't get married will I be an old maid like Aunt Susie?"

"Yes, dear."

"Well, all I gotta say is, that it's a pretty tough world for us wimmen, isn't it mother?"

Armfield: "What do you do when you get a bite?"

English: "Scratch it."

Armfield: "A good fisherman you'd make.' '

Norfleet: "Sir, I have neither pencil nor paper."

Dr. Simpkins: "What would you think of a soldier who went to war without rifle or ammunition?"

Norfleet: "I'd think he was an officer."

S. T. C. FILLING STATION

Every street corner has its "filling station," and the main hall of S. T. C. is not without one either. This "filling station" is all and more than the name implies. Just happen along second floor main one night about ten o'clock and you'll see an assembling crowd of animated girls who have gathered to have a cup of "soup" a "hot dog," or a piece of pie. Nor does it end here. There's jelly roll, cake, and chewing gum. We predict a soda fountain and a radio before the year is out. And it happens that this so-called "filling station," of S. T. C. is becoming not so unlike the famous coffee shops of the olden days where people gathered to hear the latest news.

TERM PAPERS

Have you ever seen a girl walking down the hall as if dazed and have you ever asked this girl a question about the time of day or the powder on your nose and had her answer, "term paper"? Have you?

Have you ever gone to the library and seen two large piles of books, and have you ever walked over to these encyclopedias, dictionaries, histories and what-not and seen a small worn face emerge from among them? Have you?

Have you you ever run into what seemed to be a stack of papers, books or magazines walking down the hall and found that there was a girl hidden behind them, taking them to some quiet nook for reference? Have you?

Have you ever suffered, toiled, worked and labored over term papers? Have you?

Have you ever had to write a paper on some subject that held little or no interest for you and have you copied long passages from some boring book and handed it in not knowing what it was all about? Have you?

If you have you have realized that the end of the term was approaching and you have written the conventional "term paper."

R. L., '29.

SHOES

Have you ever noticed the various kinds of shoes around S. T. C.? If you have not, then glance around sometimes and see how many different ones there are. You may be surprised to find so many varieties in style, color, and texture.

Not so long ago we could always tell when winter had come because everybody was proudly sporting high shoes, and you were sure to find considerable rivalry among friends as to who was wearing the highest tops. However, although this may have been fun, we gradually began to wear low shoes during the winter, despite dolefu lwarnings from grandmothers and aunts who drew fearful pictures of sore throats, colds, and even pneumonia. In spite of these dire predictions, we suffered no serious results and now it is impossible to tell the season of the year by consulting the footgear. Perhaps it was the college girl who introduced the fad of wearing low shoes during the winter because she stayed in bed until the breakfast bell had rung and did not have time to lace up high-topped shoes.

Shoes used to be very conservative in color—black, white, and a few shades of brown. Today every color of the rainbow is worn. Old and young alike are arrayed in the brightest of colors: blue, green, yellow and even red. What will be the style next?

And don't forget to notice the material of these modern shoes. We never paid any attention to shoes of ordinary leather since we had always been accustomed to them but consider what shoes are made of now. There are shoes of snake skin, lizard skin, ostrich skin, colt skin, and alligator skin just to mention a few. Where, oh where, is the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals?

A faculty-student popularity contest will be staged soon. Be thinking it over.

FRESHMAN SING

The Freshman Sing under the direction of "Liz" Munn and Marguerite Foster proved to be a great success Saturday night. The Freshman Orchestra played several selections dedicating each number to some member of the student body. These were followed by an interpretative dance to "Pale Moon" by Ann Withers. Then "Just Once Again," "Just Another Day Wasted Away" and the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" were delightfully pantomimed.

S. T. C. WINS DEBATE WITH WAKE FOREST

Continued from page one

Wake Forest and North Carolina State in which women speakers contested with men. Professor Ray of the Public Speaking Department at State, who graduated from Northwestern University last year, was one of seven out of 25,000 students who stayed in until the finale in the contest in public speaking, there.

The team from Farmville was extertained cordially by the boys at both Wake Forest and State, and had such a pleasant trip that they felt repaid for all their work on the debates.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Work, work, work! Why will terms come to an end? Louise McCormick and Lucille Norman told me that they worked on the Virginian until ten-thirty the other night. Think of that! Lucille said the moon was shining beautifully at one-fifteen. Can you imagine why she saw it at that hour?

The Rotunda becomes nearly a complete blank for want of news. I dont' understand either when Pearl Etheridge and Helen Davidson spend hours on making up effective headlines.

Oh, no, the Council is adjourning now promptly at eleven. The school isn't getting so much better, we have just realized exams are upon our very heads and we have no time for mischief. I really shouldn't have stayed here so long—this tea is delicious, though.

I quite agree with you, Mary Elizabeth, one must howl from ten to eleven regularly until the Follies have gone off with a bang. Classes are such a bore, anyhow!

Alice Wiley has been strangely silent this week. She said that during last week-end she was actually listened to attentively until she had finished and she had got to talk just as fast as she pleased even if she was limited to twelve minutes. It is said that she had several private conversations, too.

Really, I must run. There is such a rush just before exams. No one rests now but the faculty.

CHORAL CLUB TO PRESENT CANTATA

The Lyceum number to be given by the Choral Club will be presented on Friday, March 2, at eight o'clock. The Choral Club as a group will present the cantata, "Pan on a Summer's Day," by Bliss.

In addition, several ballets and solos will be given by some of the members of Miss Barlow's and Miss Thomas' dancing classes. The music will be furnished by the College Orchestra.

ATHLETICS

VOLLEY BALL GAMES SOON TO BE PLAYED

Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors—all out practicing and all are looking forward to the big night when the interclass volley ball games will be played.

As soon as the varsity basket ball games are over the date for the volley ball games will be set but until then practices are scheduled for all classes and any afternoon will find the ball traveling from one side of the net to another.

This school year has seen the Juniors champions in hockey, the Sophomores victorious in basket ball and as for volley ball—well, that remains to be seen.

DEBATING CLUB TO HOLD TRY-OUTS

Try-outs for new members of the Debating Club will be held on Monday and Tuesday nights, March 5 and 6, at seven o'clock in the old Student Council room. Girls wishing to try out are asked to make a one or two minute talk on either side of the qeury, "Resolved, That there should be in all states a compulsory education law which includes all persons between the ages of seven and sixteen."

WHEN DARKNESS REIGNED

Last Thursday night a member of the Student Council was heard to remark to her room-mate, "My, how promptly the girls on Gym Hall are in turning off their lights!" Her room-mate glanced out of the window and wonders will never cease,—there was not a light to be seen on Gym Hall, and Aunt Lucy was just ringing the light bell.

If that particular member of the Council had walked down the corridor to Gym Hall she would have indeed been surprised for not even the dim hall light was on! If our friend had ventured down the hall a little farther she would have seen ghostly little glimmers of light casting weird shadows on the wall.

In one room a group of ghostly figures were performing such unghostlike duties as studying Latin and psychology by the helpful rays of Cousin Tommy's lantern. One poor girl had great difficulty in managing her toothbrush and a candle at the same time. One exceedingly ingenius and studious young junior was trying her best "to see the point" by the light of three candles propped shakily in a china cup. One girl was half through massaging her face before she discovered that she had used peanut butter instead of cold cream.

After that episode Gym Hall declared unanimously that candle light was rather romantic, but electric lights were better to study by.

JUST ARRIVED
New Spring Dresses
Coats and Hats
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

AT THE EACO THEATRE WEEK OF MARCH 5—10

Notice—A different picture shown Fri. and Sat. matinees and Fri. and Sat. nights.

Mon.—Tom Mix and Tony the wonder horse in "Silver Valley," a special production. An aviating romance in which Mix discards the saddle for the aeroplane. You have seen Mix in many good pictures but this is the best and most exciting one he has made in three years. Also Pathe News and a good comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

Tues.—George Sidney, Charlie Murray and Myrtle Stedman in "The Lif of Riley." a special production. Fighting fires was business and fighting each other was pleasure. So they combined busines sand pleasure, and what a kick they got out of it. Here is a picture as good as "The Cohens and the Kellys" also serial. Mat at 4.

Wed.—Edward Everett Horton, Virginia Lee Corbin. Otis Harlan and Delores del Rio in "The Whole Town's Talking". A screamingly amusing comedy drama about a romantic lady who declares that she will marry a man of the world. This is a special production from the new stage hit by John Emerson and Ainta Loos. Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

Thurs.—Mary Astor and Gilbert Roland in the big special production of "Rose o fthe Golden West". She loved him as onl ya senorita can love—and he wah her father's bitterest enemy—hotblooded, impetus. To whom should she cling? Which love claimed her heart? Do not think that this is just a western picture. It is a big special lavish production. Also comedy Matinee at 4 o'clock.

Fri. & Sat. at Mat only we show Thomas Meighan and Cullen Landis in the Paramount special production "We're All Gamblers". A great picture. Also comedy.

Fri. & Sat.—at night only we show Lillian Gish and Norman Kerry in the super special production, "Annie Laurie." You wil love this picture as you love the song. A thrilling tale of bonnie Scotland. This picture has been hailed as the greatest starring vehicle in the career of Lillian Gish. A drama of tremendous sweep and power. A great production. Also comedy.

Admission to S. T. C. girls 25c if tickets purchased at college.

FOUNDER'S DAY SATURDAY

THE ROTUNDA

WELCOME OUR SISTER ALUMNAE

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE. FARMVILLE. VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, Wednesday, March 7, 1928 NO. 20

CHORAL CLUB PRESENTS CANTATA "PAN" AS LYCEUM NUMBER

On Friday evening, March 2, the Choral Club of S. T. C. presented a most attractive number for the Lyceum in the form of a concert. The concert, together with the dances which were beautifully interpreted was a success from every standpoint. Much credit is to be paid to Miss Turner whose work was shown in the splendid training of the entire Choral Club. The dances that were so effectively done were a credit to the physical education department.

The program that was presented consisted of several feature songs, selections by the college orchestra, a cantata of some length, and several dances.

Program

Eternal Spring ..... H. Englemann
College Orchestra
Indian Cradle Song .. H. A. Matthews
My Little Banjo ..... Wm. Dichmont
Choral Club
Trio, O Hush Thee, My Baby, Sullivan-Myers.
Katherine Jones, Margaret Hubbard, Marian Fitchett
Piano Solo..... Moszkowski
Elizabeth Hairstrom
Trees ..... Harriet Ware
Double Quartette
The Sweetest Flower that Blows
C. B. Hawley
Blow, Ye Gentle Breezes, Blow,

(Continued on last page.)

MR. CARLTON VISITS S. T. C.

Mr. Alford Carlton, a returned missionary from Turkey spent two days last week at S. T. C. During his furlough he is a traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer movement.

Mr. Carlton gave very interesting talks to several history classes on the changing conditions in Turkey. At prayers Wednesday night he contrasted the general conception of a missionary with a real missionary, and related some of his experiences in Turkey. Thursday morning at chapel he spoke on the necessity of our getting a broader view of the brotherhood of man. During the day, various students discussed personal, campus, and world problems with him, and enjoyed a collection of pictures he had brought from Turkey.

From here Mr. Carlton went to Hampden-Syndey, and having then completed his tour of Virginia colleges, he left for North Carolina. We feel that the colleges there have a rare opportunity in hearing Mr. Carlton because of his earnestness, his sincerity, and his world-wide vision.

Zeta Tau takes pleasure in announcing the following new pledge:

Louise Whitlock, Milton, N. C.

FARMVILLE TO PLAY FREDERICKSBURG FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday night will witness the final game played by the Farmville varsity when they meet Frederiscksburg on the Fredericksburg court. The team is leaving with highest hopes of victory, for three weeks ago, Farmville defeated Fredericksburg in a hard-fought game by a score of 25—9.

TRAINING SCHOOL WINS FROM JOHN RANDOLPH

On Wednesday, February 29, the Training School basket ball team defeated the girls from John Randolph in a well fought game. The teams were well-matched.

The line-up was as follows:

Training School 15		John Randolph 5
Stokes	r. f.	Huddleston
Burger	l. f.	Holman
Sanford	j. c.	Bolton
Potts	s. c.	Micou
Bruce	r. g.	Hatcher
Putney	l. g.	Daniel

Substitutions: John Randolph—Johnston for Holman; Holman for Hatcher. Training School—Sendall for Stokes.

Timer—Mary F. Hatchett.
Scorer—Miss Iler.
Referee—Juliet Jones.

LECTURE ATTRACTS PSYCHOLOGY STUDENTS

Thursday two members of S. T. C. faculty and several members of the student body, being psycologically inclined, journeyed to Charlottesville to hear a lecture at the University by Dr. Woodworth, professor of psychology at Columbia University.

Dr. Woodworth's lecture was pronounced by Mr. Coyner "true to form". It dealt with the relation of psychology to ther sciences and the methods of procedure used in psychological investigation. Flashes of humor, familiar to students of Dr. Woodworth's books, revealed much of the charm of his personality.

The only mishaps of the trip occurred just before the group left Charlottesville. Margaret Hansel, who tarried longer than expected on a trip of her own, was sought by Mr. Coyner. Dr. Walmsley, becoming worried about Mr. Coyner, found it necessary to set out for him. Elizabeth Woodson was considerably distressed when it apepared that Helen Davidson and Pearl Etheridge were inextricably wedged within telephone booths. Other members of the party were Isabel McDonald, Anna Cahoon, Juliet Mann, and Alice Carter.

FARMVILLE S. T. C. BOWS TO RADFORD

Raford Leads in Score 28—11

Saturday night marked a drop for Farmville from a tied score of 19—19 which was the result of the first game with Radford to a loss of a game which ended in a score of 28—11. Although the game was not the cleanest fought on our home floor this year and although the skill of our players did not seem to be up to par, the Radford team played a more consistant game. The Farmville girls played hard and bravely but were unable to match the Radford sextette.

The line-up:

Radford 28		Farmville 11
Gimbert	guard	Hatchett (capt.)
Carter	guard	Coleman
Mears	s. center	J. Jones
Camper	j. center	Clements
Ogburn	forward	L. N. Smith
Etheridge (capt.) forw'd		L. M. Smith

Substituties: Radford—Myers for Mears. Farmville—Atwater for Jones
Referee—Thomas.
Umpire—Sawyer.

S. T. C. TEN YEARS HENCE

Monday night at seven o'clock in the auditorium, the Juniors made it possible for many members of the student body to glance ten years into the future and see the most interesting of all things to themselves—their photographs. The audience was prone to believe in evolution and revolution because vast were the changes ten years had wrought. Big girls had become almost unbelievably tall and slender, clinging vine types came forward as athletic instructors, flappers changed to old maid school teachers and man haters appeared as widowers at least three times over.

Not only individuals were shown but Utopia of S. T. C., the second part of the program, brought a good response from the audience because of its utter absurdity.

The whole stunt was unusually attractive.

COME ONE! COME ALL!!

Come one, come all!
Wear your skates
But don't you fall!

Thursday afternoon at 3:30 in front of the colonnade you will have a chance to enter a skating contest. The following program will be carried out.

I. Dash (individual)
1. Grade children
2. H. S. boys
3. H. S. girls
4. College girls.
5 Hampden-Sidney boys
II. Relay Team
1. Class teams.
2. Class teams.
III. Couple Race
1. Girls (2)
2. Boy and Girl
IV. Obstacle Race (individual)
V. And other surprises.

Pick out the events you wish to enter and bring a nickle for each. Spectators bring your pennies.

FITZGERALD FLOURNOY TO SPEAK AT S. T. C. FOUNDERS DAY

On next Saturday night Dr. Fitzgerald Flournoy, A. B., M. A., Ph. D., professor in English at Washington and Lee University, will give the annual Founders Day address in the auditorium of the College.

Dr. Flournoy is in great demand as a speaker, having recently spoken in Georgia, Tennessee, New York, North Carolina and many places in Virginia. His special field is English literature in which he specialized at Oxford, where he took his Ph. D. He was awarded the Rhodes Scholarship for Virginia in 1922. It is of interest to note that Dr. Flournoy is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

State Teachers College feels fortunate in being able to obtain such a speaker for the biggest occasion of the college year. He is very closely connected with the interests of the school, being a son of an alumna, who was Miss Mary H. Boyd of Charlotte County, Virginia, and who is now prominent in club and church work throughout the State.

With the old S. T. C. spirit and with the realization of a wonderful opportunity to hear a talk which, as Dr. Jarman says, will be enjoyable and interesting, there is no doubt that the auditorium will be filled to capacity.

FRESHMEN STAR IN ORIGINAL FOLLIES

The Freshman Class presented a most delightful entertainment in the auditorium, February 28. The program was varied, and all of the numbers had a popular appeal.

The first number was a one-act play, "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy." All of the parts were well chosen; and special credit goes to Miss Margaret Pumphrey, who directed the play, and at the last minute took the part of Jean Laurens on account of Elizabeth Taylor's absence. The cast was:

Mrs. Jack Hillard, a chaperone ..... Elsie Clements
Jean Laurens ..... Elizabeth Taylor
Jacqueline Vance .. Jeannette Luther
Jo Struthers ..... Elizabeth Turner
Julio O'Shore ..... Virginia Walker
Janet Mason ..... Elizabeth Brockenborough
Dickey Trent ..... Jane Hunt Martin

Part II. was made up of the various selections:

Old Mill Stream .. Alma Hunt, Jessie Smith.
Songs ..... Elizabeth Antrim, Nancy Nelms.
Solo Dance ..... Jane Reed Venable
Cotillion Girl of Mine ..... Alice Covington.
Freshman Review—
Boys—Martha Ann Laing, Elizabeth Rivercomb, Betty Randle, Nan Griffith, Nancy Nelms, Elizabeth Munn.
Girls—Claudia Fleming, Genevieve Grimes, Elizabeth Houchins, Virginia Rankin, Ethel Weld, Alice Covington.

A THOUSAND GIRLS HAVE PICTURES TAKEN

Everyone knows that it is one of the feminine weaknesses to have her picture taken. No matter how young she is, how old she is, or how ugly she is ,a woman just naturally adores having her picture taken, and the photographer usually adores just as much to take a woman's picture. But imagine a photographer's consternation at taking a thousand girls' pictures at the same time. And yet, that very thing was done here last week. After chapel the student body, instead of going as individuals to Gilliams, down town and to their respective rooms, marched out on the campus in a body, and, after forming a semi-circle, they had their pictures taken. Each girl powdered her nose and asked the girl next to her if she looked all right, and then each put on a smile that she wears only on special occasions. Then, being all set, the camera began to move, and as it moved past each group of girls, relived expressions came over their faces and sighs went up from all directions. That was done, the picture was taken, the day's routine could now go on.

VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE

The annual State Student Volunteer Conference was held at Bridgewater College, February 24—26. We greatly appreciate the cooperation of the Methodist and Baptist churches in sending two of our girls, Lillian Sturgis and Ruby O' Berry, to the conference. Margaret Finch and Edith Marshall attended also.

The purpose of the conference was to bring together the students from the various colleges in the State in order to discuss the world problems and to find their relationship to them.

Dr. P. F. Price, a returned missionary from China, told of some of his escapes during the revolutions, and gave the need for missionaries in the fields at large. Dr. W. T. Thompson, Dean of Department of Religious Education, Union Theological Seminary, gave an excellent talk on "Investing a Life." Dr. Paul Bowman, prsident of Bridgewater College, spoke on "Christian Ideals on the Campus." Colonel Joseph Cudlipp, of the Young Peoples Division, Maryland Del. S. S. Asso., had charge of the recreation. No one attending the conference will forget the council of Mr. Houston Patterson, missionary to China, at present serving as "Y" secretary at Washington and Lee, directed the devotionals.

One thing that was outstanding was the fact that the speakers were not trying to make missionaries of the students gathered there, but that they were trying to lead them to see

(Continued on last page)

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief — EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29

Board of Editors

Literary — LOUISA CURRIE, '28
Social — MARY DUNCAN, '29
Humorous — BEULAH JARVIS, '30
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY '30
Current Events — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
MARY ELLEN CATO, '31 — JULIA WILSON, '29
MARY FRANCES SHEPHERD, '30 — VIRGINIA PETTIGREW, '31
LOUISE FOSTER, '29 — CATHERINE BENTLEY, '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTON, '29
Circulation Manager — FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant — MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

THE COMING ELECTION

Already with deep looks of concentration, small groups of girls are discussing the coming elections. In a very short time, from this great student body, a few girls must be chosen to hold the reins which are being relinquished by those who have held them for the year 1827-'28. Do we realize that the successful functioning of our school next year will depend upon the girls who are chosen to lead in a few weeks?

When a girl walks in to vote it is too late to think. The thinking should be done now. In order to "start, the ball rolling" the girls eligible for offices must be discussed. The danger of this discussion is that we will live up to the cynics and knockers of our sex and display "catty" characteristics. It is so much fun to talk and "make an impression" that we are liable to be unsportsmanlike and too critical. We should try first of all to bring out every good point a girl possesses. Then and then only is it permissable to mention anything which one would consider undesirable in a girl who would fill the office under discussion.

For every office every detail must be considered. First, we should think about capability. Then we must consider the personal appearance and habits of the girls who will stand as representatives of our best type. We must consider these things intelligently with emphasis where emphasis is due, and most important of all, we must be sportsmanlike, fair and impartial in our discussion of girls and our actions now and at election time.

HOW DO YOU SPEND YOUR LEISURE TIME?

In a recent issue of Harper's, a writer stated that a people are judged by the way they use their leisure time. In chapel Tuesday, Mr. Rogers quoted the president of the University of Michigan, who declared that his greatest interest in students was outside the class room. When thoughtful people declare their criterion for judgment of character to be the way we spend our leisure time, it startles us into accounting for ourselves.

At this late day in the winter term, perhaps many people feel that they have no leisure time, since their hours seem filled by a frantic dash to complete work assigned for the terms. It is however, during our busiest days that leisure hours well spent have the greatest effect on our lives. Does not the student exaggerate who makes the profoundly impressive statement that "he didn't stop a minute all day"?

Think of the busiest people you have known. Do you recall that in spite of their many duties they find time to enrich their lives with hours of reading, of outdoor pleasure, of appreciation of music and art and drama; hours devoted to the fine art of being a friend; hours for service to their family and community?

Habits are consciously formed during college days. Habits of good study are emphasized. Habits of regularity are demanded by the schedule which directs our lives. Habits of leisure are certainly neglected. Unconsciously however, we acquire them. At the end of the day are you pleased with your moments of release? At the end of the year how much have you gained from your hours of play? Judging yourself by the criterion of leisure, what kind of a person are you?

COLLEGE GLIMPSES

According to "The Student Weekly" one-third of the students in men's colleges and one-sixth of the students in women's colleges are earning all or part of their expenses.

Harvard is planning to use moving pictures in the class rooms as a means of visual education. How many S. T. C. girls would welcome such a change in the daily routine of class work?—The SunDial.

From "The Florida Flambeau" we notice that roller skates and bicycles are treatening to take from the flivver its prestige as the campus conveyance at Stanford Univeristy. It seems that co-eds are empolying both forms of locomotion in going to and from classes. Let's write home for bicycles, girls!

By a vote of 482 to 36, students of Louisiana State University declared their honor system a failure. Opinion was equally divided on the establishment of faculty proctorship. Much of the comment written in the ballots indicated that faculty suspicion was in part held responsible for the collapse of the honor system.—The New Student.

According to an ancient record found in the library of William and Mary College, the institute was founded, first, to educate the young persons in view of learning and good morals; secondly, to supply the church, especially of Virginia, with good ministers; and thirdly, to instruct the Indians in the Christian religion.—The Davidsonian.

Athletics at Agnes Scott are in the midst of an exciting water-polo tournament. Teams from the various classes are represented.—The Davidsonian.

That absolute freedom must be granted the college press if it is to become a forceful and responsible factor in student opinion was the contention of Norman Studer, editor of "The New Student", in a speech before the twelfth annual meeting of the National Association of Deans of Women at Boston. Mr. Studer would have college authorities and student governing officials keep their hands off the college press.—The New Student.

University of Michigan's university college project, which interposes a two-year preparatory course between entering students and the professional schools, has been sanctioned by the general committee of the Univeristy College. The faculties of the various schools and colleges and the regents must add their approval before the plan will go into effect.

BUSY WORLD BITS

The first through air mail route from in the United States to Mexico is soon to be in shape for operations between Mexico City and Neuvo Loudo, Texas. The New Orleans-Loudo route will not be ready for operation until late in the summer but when started will represent a substantial saving in time over the Dallas-Chicago route in the dispatch of mail between New York and the Mexican border.

The Sixth Pan American Conference ended its session in the great halls of the University at Havana, Cuba, in an atmosphere of friendliness. "All's well that ends well"? The next conference wil lbe held five years hence at Montevideo, Uruguay.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover is at last formally in the race for Republican Presidential nomination. Formal entry was made in an announcement replying to a petition of Ohio Republicans.

The Literary Digest makes this statement: "Public opinion has won an emphatic victory against the "big Navy advocates in Congress". The project has not been sunk, but it has been hit hard, and when it returns for final consideration by Congress, it will be found full of gapping holes. Both Congress and the adminstration are surprsied at the volume of protest against the naval program. The administration has agreed even before the fight in Congress begins to a cut of $300,000,000 in the $740,000,000 program.

Colonel Lindbergh is being urged from every quarter of the globe to abandon extra hazardous flying. Secretary of War Davis says that Lindbergh is too valuable to aviation and to the country. Shall Lindbergh's wings be clipt?

NEW MEMBERS OF DEBATING CLUB

At the last meeting of the Debating Club the following girls were elected as new member after having passed the selection test with credit and success:

Frances Brightwell
Claudia Fleming
Anne Ferree
Louise Moore
Pearl Etheridge
Reba Hill
Margaret Hansel
Martha Ferris
Elizabeth Thrift
Ellen Babb
Mabel Barksdale
Evelyn Graybeal
Dorothy Lohr
Mary Jane Vaden
Alice Hanmer
Lillian Rhodes
Alma Woodson
Nattie Boynton
Gertrude Wimbish

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville — Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

STUDENT BUILDING—INCENTIVE FOR OUR EFFORTS

THROWING OFF BAD LUCK

One day I was walking down the road when a black cat crossed my path and ran into the woods beyond. Now, my old black mammy always told me, and I'm sure yours told you, that a black cat brought bad luck if it ran in front of you and the only way to throw off the hard luck was to run around the cat seven times. So I started through the woods after the cat. Once in a while I could catch a glimpse of the cat's black tail as he ran through the trees, but I couldn't catch up wit hhim. When I came out on the other side of the forest there was a little house sitting on the side of the road, and a little old lady in the yard picking dandelions.

I asked, "Has a black cat passed here? It crossed my path and I have catch up with him. When I came out the cat seven times so as to throw off the hard luck."

The old lady answered, "Yes, a black cat did pass here, so it must have crossed my path, too. I'll go with you."

So the old lady came with me to chase the cat. We ran on until we came to a boy up in a tree picking apples.

We asked, the old lady and I, "Has a black cat passed here? He crossed our path, and we have to catch up with him and run around him seven times to throw off the hard luck."

The boy said, "Yes, a black cat idd pass here, so it must have crossed my path, too. I'll go with you."

So, jumping down, he caught the old lady's hand and off we went. Soon we passed the little boy's home.

"Johnny," called the boy's mother, "Johnny, where are you going?"

We answered, the little boy, the old lady and I, "A black cat crossed our path, and we have to catch up with him and run around him seven times to throw off the bad luck. Has he passed here?"

The mother answered, "Yes, he passed here, so he must have crossed my path, too. I'll go with you."

So laying down her rolling pin, she grabbed Johnny's hand and on we ran, the mother, the little boy, the old lady and I.

We had not gone far when we came to a village and there right in the middle of the village lined up across the road sat nine black cats. What were we to do? If we ran around one it would be certain to be the wrong cat, and if we tried to run around all of them the cats would get scared and run. We all sat down on the town pump to figure it out. While we were thinking the door opened just across the street and an old woman looking exactly like Mother Hubbard stuck her head out the door and called, "Peter, Paul, James, John, Nero, Caesar, William the Conqueror, Cleopatra, and Helen of Troy, come in the house now" and one by one as their names were called the cats got up and filed into the house. Then I had an idea. All the cats were in the house now, and if we ran around the house seven times we would be running around the cats and the bad luck would be thrown off. So the mother, the little boy, the old lady and I joined hands and all ran around the house seven times, and threw off the hard luck. Then we started home and one by one my companions left me until I came to the edge of the woods and I was left free to go on my way and from that day to this I have had no bad luck. —A. W. '28

A WHITE IRIS

Pauline B. Barrington

Tall and clothed in samite,
Chaste and pure,
In smooth armor—
Your head held high
In its helmet
Of silver:
Jean D' Arc riding
Among the sword blades!

Has Spring for you
Wrought visions,
As it did for her
In a garden?

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE LIBRARY

Among the new faces which we old students saw when we returned in September was that of Miss Counts, the new librarian. Of course, many of us were not conscious that we were waiting to see if our new librarian would achieve some order out of the confusion, but some of us were wondering how she would do it. And have you noticed the changes? One can really believe that old saying about "good things" and "small packages". Miss Counts is a veritable storehouse of energy, system and neatness, for out of the former haphazard system of filing and shelving, she has evolved a praiseworthy order. Books which formerly were placed together because they dealt with one main topic in a general way, are now filed in separate divisions for the sub-heads of that topic .

Shelves have been added to accommodate the overflow of books from the wall shelves and to take care of the new books that are constantly being added to the supply. Instead of the increase of new books being almost equaled by the loss and disappearance of old books, we now are able to see our library grow, due to the complete check system that keeps a strict account on every book. Miss Counts is doing her work nobly and it is up to us to maintain a similar order and neatness when we make use of her work.

SOCIAL

The following girls spent the week-end in Roanoke: Gladys Dillon, Daisy Williams, Carrie and Helen Ward, Liz Ferrell, Eleanor Hogan and Lucille Graves.

• • •

Margaret Leonard and Lucille Field spent the week-end at their homes in Richmond.

• • •

The following girls attended the dances at V. M. I.: Genevieve Grimes Phyllis Wood, Humpty Jones, Jeanette Morris, Red Foster, Nan Griffith, Elizabeth Turner, Barbara Willcox, and Mary Bernard.

• • •

Pauline Gray spent the week-end at her home in Windsor.

• • •

Bernice Terry was at her home in Burkeville for the week-end.

• • •

The following girls visited in Lynchburg over the week-end: Phyliss Burnett, Helen Myers, Elizabeth Kulman, Mary and Evelyn Taylor, Mayo Bass, and Mildred Landis.

• • •

Mary Brightwell was at Pamplin for the week-end.

• • •

Hilda Ligon and Ruth McCann spent Sunday in Richmond.

• • •

Ruth Blanchard spent the week-end at Rice.

• • •

Kathleen Townes was with her parents in Danville for the week-end.

• • •

Mary Jane Vaden, Virginia Williams, Katherine Wood, Reba Hill, and Marguerite Richardson visited in Keysville last week-end.

• • • •

Minnie Brown spent the week-end in Martinsville.

• • •

Margaret Ferguson was called to her home in Bristol, Tenn., on account of the illness of her aunt.

• • •

Jane Gray Irby spent the week-end at her home.

CHICKEN AMERCANIZES A CHINAMAN

Wing Lee has made a recent discovery—he has learned how to eat chicken. Since the Chinaman has learned there is such delicious food in existence, he has made it a rule to have some for every meal. He frankly states that he intends to indulge in this luxury every day, because he does not know how soon he is going to die and then he will have to forego this pleasure.

Wing Lee has not been in this country very long. Coming from China about two years ago, he settled in Brooksville and established a laundry. All of his business dealings have been fair, and he has won the respect of the inhabitants of the small town, especially a certain group of boys who visit Wing Lee frequently and ask for stories of his native land.

One day while the Chinaman was entertaining his young friends, a farmer stopped at the door to inquire if Wing Lee wished any fresh vegetables. While he was at the wagon inspecting the products, he noticed a box containing queer looking birds. Immediately he asked what they were and was amazed to learn that they were called "chickens" and that Americans really used them for food.

"Chickens?" he repeated, "But they not good."

However the younger boys insisted that chicken was delicious and suggested that Wing Lee buy one. The Chinaman was amazed, but finally after one of the boys offered to show him how to cook it, he consented to purchase one of the fowls.

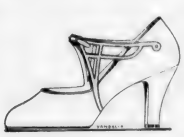
Still doubtful of the result, he allowed his young friends to prepare the chicken and cook it for him. He watched them constantly and seemed to feel that they were playing a joke on him. At last it was time for him to taste the new food! He put a little of the gravy on his rice and slowly, cautiously tasted it. Then even more slowly he tasted the chicken. Almost immediately he let out a long whoop of joy.

"Amelicans love chicken; I love chicken, so I'm an Amelican," he explained. That afternoon he cut off his cue and now he is spending his money which he was saving to return to China to buy chickens in order to indulge in his favorite luxury.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

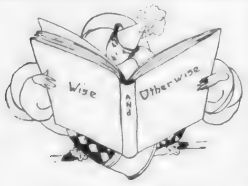
SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World



Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery



Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

KUTE KOLLEGE KIDS

Ann P. says felt hats may come and straw hats may go, but the high hat goes on forever!

Margaret Hubbard says no male—no mail!

Mary Bernard says it's a sad story of the wife who put the wood in the custard pie and baked the kitchen stove!

Yancy Brooking is still looking for the date of the death of the Dead Sea, says Virginia Bull.

Frances Lewis says the gold digger believes that beauty is as beauty doughs.

Dot Baldwin says that H. S. men are so smart that they look both directions before crossing a one-way street!

Burgess: "If you tell a man anything, it goes in one ear and out of the other."

Toler: "And if you tell a woman anything, it goes in at both ears, and out of her mouth."

Armfield: "Betty is a good bridge player. I can't understand why she did that."

Updike: "Well, you led diamonds, and she never returns diamonds."

Rankin: "Do you use butter knives at your house?"

Foster: "No—but don't tell,—you know how those things spread."

Pannie: "I've studied every night this week, with two exceptions."

Chris: "Who were they?"

He: "Our love is deformed."
She: "How come?"
He: "It's all one-sided."

"Oh, where is our little Nell?"

"She's out in the woods playing with bars."

"Won't the bars hurt our little Nell?"

"No, she has a bicycle and she knows how to handle the bars."

Sally W.: "What makes you so giddy."

Mamie P.: "I just came out of the circulating library."

Scott: "What cit yare yo ufrom?"

Blanche M.: "I'll have you know I'm from a big city where they got rid of hayseeds long ago—Lynchburg."

Scott: "And what big city is that near?"

Jo Peters: "Why do you wear green-colored glasses?"

Wiley: "So that when I drink milk I'll think it's pea soup."

H. S.: "Heard the new hat song?"
S. T. C.: "Nope."
H. S.: "Chapeaux I Had Never Met You."

"What is unsually done with the holes of doughnuts?"

"They're used to stuff macaroni."

Fay W.: "I got mad at Clara and she wouldn't pay me the quarter she owes me."

K. Townes: "You should have remained calm and collected."

SENIOR SING

The radio has at last gone to the furtherest corner of the country, because Saturday night the country cousins came to town and heard a splendid radio program broadcasted from station S. T. C., Farmville, Virginia, by the Senior Class. It was indeed an embarrassing situation when all of the cousins came to visit Virginia Updike in her apartment when her beau, Elizabeth Munn, was calling. They all seemed fascinated with the radio, and they, too, gave several selections on the juice harp, French harp, and guitar. Even though the cousins did come from the country they had the old S. T. C. spirit, for in conclusion the cousins, audience, and everyone gave fifteen rahs for the visiting team.

S. T. C. STARS IN MOVIES

Gentlemen Prefer Blondes—Martha Baker Bass.

Lovers—S. T. C. Student Body.

Seventh Heaven—S. T. C.

My Best Girl—"Chris" Royall.

Man Crazy—Frances Wilson.

On Your Toes—Miss Barlow's Natural Dancing Class

The Joy Girl—Alice Covington.

The Music Master—Etta Marshall, Lucille Graves.

The Jazz Singer—Nancy Nelms.

The Midshipman—Anna Burgess.

Freckles—Mary Frances Shepherd.

For the Love of Mike—Mayo Bass.

Dance Magic—Liz Sawyer.

Good Time Charlie—Ann Withers.

American Beauty—Aunt Lucy.

Peter Pan—Phyllis Wood.

Baby Mine—Mabel Fitzpatrick.

The Main Event—Founders Day.

Naughty But Nice—Skinny Craft.

The Collegians—Those girls in Raccoon Coats: Liz Antrim, Ann Chapin, Phyllis Pedigo, Sarah Johnson.

It—"Red" Foster.

Legion of the Condemned—Campussed Characters.

HYMN OF HATE

Get up in the mornin,'
Feelin' kinda blue,
Don't know what's the matter
Don't know what to do.
Drag yourself to chapel
Try to keep awake,
Decide a dose of poison
Is the thing to take—
Start your many classes
Straights right in a row;
Thought you knew that written
But find it isn't so—
Meet your buddy in the hall
And she cuts you dead,
Then you go to dinner
Ham and pie like lead;
Physics lab. 'till half-past four
Where you tear your hair;
Hope you've got a letter
But there's nothing there.
Come back home and mope,
Wish the sun would shine;
Play the Vic a bit
Then sit and sigh and pine.
Supper comes and goes
But you're hungry still;
Sit you down to study math.,
Latin, French and Phil;
Crawl in bed at half-past ten
Utter you shouldn't say,
Roommate starts to bawl you out—
Just Another Day Wasted Away!

—The Sun Dial.

Frank: "I adore you, kid."

Polly: "You talking to me or your gloves?"

EUREKA! WE HAVE FOUND IT!

Prom girls, would-be-if-they-would say-the-word girls, would-be-but-can't girls, and all who are interested in proms, here is a most helpful "first-aid" for you—a prom girl's alphabet:

A—is the answer that says she will come.
B—is her baggage which always is some.
C—is for chaperone who hunts for the bad.
D—is the word that she says when she's mad.
E—is the egg she always turns down.
F—is the fish who keeps hanging around.
G—is the gag she tries on them all.
H—is the high-ball that started her fall.
I—is the essential word of her speech.
J—is your "jack"—put it out of her reach.
K—is the kick that belongs in her gin
L—is the line that goes out for your pin.
M—is the mash she has for your friend.
N—is the no that you get in the end.
O—is the oath that slips out by mistake(?).
P— is the promise she gets you to make.
Q—is the question, "Dick, Jack, or Bill?"
R—is the reason for picking out Will.
S—is her smokes that make nighttime sublime.
T—is the old "had a wonderful time."
U—is the us, "just us two, don't you see?"
V—is victim, "You're right boy, that's me."
W—is the wool she pulls over your eyes.
X—is the'xcuse for her sobs and her sighs.
Y—is the yarn as she pulls you along.
Z—is the zoo where she says you belong

IN COLD BLOOD

He had choked her;
He had killed her;
There could be no doubt about it.
He listened to her dying gasp:
She was still cold—
Cold as the hands of death.
Yet in his fury he was not convinced.
He stepped on her—
Stepped on her with his big, heavy foot.
A faint gasp—
Was she groaning?
No, she was dead.
"Darn that engine," he muttered.

—Rambler.

WE NEED—

A little more kindness,
A little less creed,
A little more giving,
A little less greed,
A little more smile,
A little less frown,
A little less kicking,
A man when he's down,
A little more "we"
A little less "I",
A little more laugh,
A little less cry,
A little more flowers,
On the pathways of life,
And few on graves,
At the end of the strife.

—The Go-Getter.

VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE

Continued from page one

God's will in their lives. "All professions are equally Christian, but not Christian equally to all."

The spirit of the entire conference was one of brotherhood and fellowship.

CHORAL CLUB GIVES CONCERT AS LYCEUM NO.

Continued from page one

J. Christopher Marks
Chromatic Club
Andante from Surprise Symphony
Hayden
College Orchestra
Cantata—Pan on a Summer Day
Paul Bliss
Prologue ..... Alyce Page Adams
Dance Prelude .... Awakening of Dawn
Dawn ..... Louise Foster
Pan ..... Phyllis Wood
Sunbeam dancers, dew-drops, cobwebs
Chorus ..... At Daybreak
Pan Awakes the World
Morning Song
A Summer Shower
Noontide, Rest by the River
The Great Storm
Pan's Lament over Fallen Oak
Pan Pipe's a twilight Serenade
Dance Interlude .... Coming of Night
Night ..... Elizabeth Sawyer
Twilight fairiers and stars
Chorus ..... Night
March Militaire ..... Schubert
College Orchestra

JUNIORS HOLD A RUMMAGE SALE

The Junior Class held a rummage sale on Saturday in the basement of the Prince Edward Hotel. They sold everything from slickers, Victrola records and shades, down to rouge, ties and dresses. One rather difficult task was found when Peggy Walton tried to fit a size five shoe to a size nine foot. Peggy wishes our feet were a little longer. Peggy would also like for S. T. C. girls to wear overalls. They are so easy to sell. In spite of these few obstacles the Juniors made about thirteen dollars on the sale.

IF—

If a fairy descended upon our campus, and with her magic wand, changed people into what they remind us of, would this be true?

Dot Jones and Mignonne Griggs—The Gold Dust Twins.

Florence McIntyre—The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

Rebecca Liebman—The Night Hawk

Banna Price Massey—A Red Bird.

Mae Marshall—A Nightingale.

Frances Smith—A Victrola.

Anne Palmer—The Jester.

Marguerite Warriner—A Broadcasting Station.

Mary Frances Hatchett—A Cowboy.

Elizabeth Rose—A Water Lily.

Jane Reed Venable—A Doll.

Alice Wimbish—Alice Blue Gown.

Dorothy Smith—"The Age of Innocence."

Jeannette Morris—Venus.

Answering frequent editorials in the "Yale News", regretting the absence of personal contact between president and students, President Angell, in a letter to the student paper, explains that he has tried several unsuccessful experiments and is "still giving consideration to other possible methods of accomplishing the desired results."—The New Student.

There's folks you do not care about
There's folks you love a heap
And folks you like to pass along
And folks you like to keep.
And folks you like remembering
And folks you can't recall
And then there's you, real special folks
The nicest folks of all.

—Selected.

THE ORIGINAL
Onyx Pointed Heel Stockings
Specially Priced
FROM MARCH 5th to 10th
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Mar. 12—17

MON.—Constance Talmadge in "Breakfast at Sunrise." Married for spite, she slipped on the peel of wedding bells and fell . . . in love . . . with another's sweetie. But what chance has any girl when Connie does her stuff. Pathe News. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

TUES—Harry Langdon in "Three's a crowd." The most sympathetic story told in comedy. She was the girl of his dreams, but the cries of her baby awoke him. He had a big heart, but there was only room for one in it. What should he do now, You'll find the answer told in smiles and tears—laughs and heart-throbs by the inimitable Fun King! Also Sehial. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

WED.—Buck Jones and Barbara Bennett in "Black Jack." All the glamour of the Great West in a romance of action—Thrills—Humor—Suspense. The best picture in which Jones and Silver Buck hav yet aupeared. Also Comedies. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—Aileen Pringle, Norman Kerry, Lionel Barrymore and T. Roy Barnes in "Body and Soul." A great, moving, human document—a tale of love turned by a jealous obzession into a fury of hate, and a final regeneration! Scenes you'll always remember! A notable all star cast! A big production . Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

FRI. and SAT.—At matinees only, we show William Haines and Jack Holt in "The Smart Set." When he starts loving—nothing can stop him-So William Haines wins the girl, and wins the game, too, in his breezy, amusing and up-to-the-minute tale of gay doings amoung the younger sociehy set. Breezy, sparkling, daring, as only Hanise can be. Also Comedy.

FRI. and SAT. at Night Only, we show Dorothy Gish and Antonio Moreno in the big special Paramount picture, "Madam Pompadour." At first, he hated her, then he loved her and finally—she, the king's sweetheart, cast him aside! The love life of a famous French beauty who ruled the thrones of Europe but couldn't control her own heart. You'll love it. Also omedy.

Admission to S. T. C. girls, 25 cents to each show, if tickets are purchased at college.

ALUMNAE ISSUE

THE ROTUNDA

EXAMS ARE ON AT S. T. C.

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, Thursday, March 15, 1928 NO. 21

FARMVILLE DOWNS FREDERICKSBURG

Last Game of Season Ends in Thirty-one to Nineteen Victory

Once again the fates were kind to us and the Purple and Gold of Fredericksburg met defeat by the Blue and White of Farmville in a fast battle at Fredericksburg, Friday, March 9.

The game started off with a bang, each team realizing that this was its last chance. Although both teams fought a hard battle the end of the first half gave Farmville a score of 14—10.

Realizing that the score was just a little too close for comfort the Blue and White sextette redoubled its efforts and by excellent playing managed to roll up a larger score.

Although Fredericksburg played a fine game she was unable to defeat the Farmville team, and the final whistle gave a score 31—19 in Farmville's favor.

The line-up:

Fredericksburg		Farmville
E. Short	forward	L. M. Smith
Williams	forward	L. N. Smith
Perry	s. center	J. Jones
Vaughan	j. center	Gurley
Phillips	guard	Coleman
Broaddus	guard	Erdman

Substitutes: Fredericksburg—Dreyfus Shant. Farmville—Hardy for L. M. Smith, Wilkinson for L. N. Smith; Clements for Gurley, Atwater for Jones.

Referee—Lehr.
Umpire—Crenshaw.
Scorers—Stewart-Putney.
Timekeeprs—Costine-Hutchinson.

DUAL DEBATE WITH BRIDGEWATER COLLEGE

S. T. C. Wins One and Loses One

On the night of March 9, 1928 two of our debating teams met teams from Bridgewater College. These meetings took place at Blackstone and Bridgewater, and our debating club wishes to express its appreciation to Blackstone for so kindly lending us their auditorium for the evening.

The subject under discussion was, "Resolved: That the United States should not intervene by force in the affairs of the Latin American countries." At Bridgewater we upheld the negative side of the question. Our speakers being Miss Elizabeth Woodson and Miss Frances Morgan. The decision rendered was 2 to 1 in favor of the negative.

At Blackstone our speakers, Miss Mary Wright and Miss Gladys Oliver, upheld the affirmative side of the question while the negative was upheld by Miss Naomi Miller and Miss Ressie Showalter of Bridgewater College. The decision rendered was 3 to 0 in favor of the nagative. Dr. W. M. Gravolt, Mr. Freeman Epes and Judge W. R Jones kindly acted as judges for this debate.

DR. J. L. JARMAN

A NEW photograph of Dr. J .L. Jarman, President of State Teachers College, Farmville

VIRGINIA REGISTRARS TO MEET HERE MARCH 17

The Association of Virginia Registrars, a branch of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars, will meet at our Teachers College on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, March 17.

The officers of the association are as follows:

President, Miss Jennie M. Tabb, S. T. C., Farmville; secretary, Mr. E. S. Mattingly, Washington and Lee University; treasurer, Mr. W. M. Black, Randolph-Macon Woman's College.

In addition to the officers, the following are expected to be present: Miss Grace B. Lewis, Sweet Briar College; Miss Melva Chapman, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; Miss May Scherer, Marion Junior College; Mr. Ruskin Freer, Lynchburg College; Miss Molly Coates, S. T. C., Fredericksburg; Mr. D. R. Carpenter, Roanoke College; Miss Katherine B. Reed Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute; Col. W. M. Couper, Virginia Military Institute; Miss Lillian Skelton, Blackstone College; Miss Fanona Knox, Hollins College; Mr. and Mrs J. P. Whitt, S. T. C. East Radford; Miss Virgilia I. Bugg, Miss Mollie B. Blanton, and Miss Rachel K. Henderlite, S. T. C., Farmville.

There will be a business meeting in the afternoon, at the close of which the visiting registrars will be taken to Hampden-Sydney College and upon their return will go over the buildings of this College. They will be the guests of the College for dinner, after which the business session will be resumed.

PETERSBURG ROTARY CLUB GIVES MINSTREL

On Friday night, March 9, the Petersburg Rotary Club gave a minstrel in the auditorium at eight o'clock. This minstrel was composed of 150 people and was the beste entertainement of that type held in the auditorium this year. The Rotary Club gave the entire proceeds to the hospital. It has been the custom of the Rotary Club of Petersburg to give an entertainment in different towns each year to create a better feeling between the towns of this vicinity. We feel sure they are accomplishing their purpose and Farmville regrets that she cannot come in for an entertainment next year.

The troupe consisted of singers, and dancers of all types, sizes and ages. From the rose song contest to the night club scene the audience was entertained every minute. The whole minstrel was peppy, humorous, and was of a very high order. The dancing was excellent, the songs new, and the jokes humorous. Especial notice should be given to the children who so gracefully and charmingly entertained the audience.

SENIORS ENTERTAIN

Last Saturday night the Senior Class entertained all the alumnae who were members of classes who supported the red and white when they were in school. The food was nice, of course, but the thing that will remain in the memory of all present was the comradeship enjoyed while gathered around the fire sining old songs and going over old experiences.

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE OBSERVES FOUNDERS DAY, MARCH TENTH

FOUNDERS DAY MORNING PROGRAM

Miss Pauline Camper Makes a Talk.—Classes Interpret Spirit of S. T. C.

At ten o'clock on Saturday morning the whole student body all dressed in white with the exception of the Seniors who wore their caps and gowns, assembled outside the auditorium and marched in singing the Alma Mater song. Miss Camper began the program by making a short but interesting talk on the history of our school, and the spirit of Founders Day. Her talk gave all of us something to think about, not only concerning the actual beginnings of our schools but also the spirit with which it was begun and which has grown with the school.

The classes then gave very beautiful interpretations of the spirit of our Alma Mater. The Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, worked together in showing, in a very effective way, that loyalty, faith, love and service made up this spirit.

Dr. Jarman was then presented with gifts of love from the whole student body.

The Alumnae Chapter roll was called and the representatives from each gave greetings and a gift to Dr. Jarman for the Student Building. The faculty and the Woman's Club very generously contributed also.

After the presentattion of gifts Dr. Jarman made a speech of thanks not only for the gifts but also for the spirit of love which went with them. After his talk the program ended with the singing of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny."

CONCERT GIVEN AS LYCEUM NUMBER

Tuesday night in the auditorium, one of the most beautiful concerts of the year was given by Henry Clancy, tenor; Elise Sorelle, harpist; and Dorothy Curtis. pianist. Each of these artists displayed unusual talent and each number rendered was enjoyed.

Often we have had one artist who received enthusiastic response but seldom have three proved so popular.

"Polonaise" by MacDowell which Miss Curtis played was a familiar number and appealed to many of the audience. "She Rested By the Broken Brook", Coleridge-Taylor by Miss Sorelle and Mr. Clancy completed a program which was varied and delightful.

The program coming as it did in the midst of exams was not heard by as many of the girls as would have attended otherwise. However, the ones who did steal an hour from work felt vastly repaid because of soothed minds.

DR. FITZGERALD FLOURNOY SPEAKS

Talks on Place of Educated Woman of the South of Today

Dr. Fitzgerald Flournoy of Washington and Lee University was the evening speaker at the celebration of the forty-fourth anniversary of the founding of our college. We feel that we had a great opportunity presented us by having Dr. Flournoy here to speak to us. He seemed to know what interested college women of today. His talk showed clear thinking and a just criticism of the South. His manner of presentation was quite attractive."

The topic of Dr. Flournoy's talk was the place of the educated Southern woman in the affairs of the modern world. He brought out many interesting facts concerning the place of the South in the United States. "All Southerners realize that the South has given many great authors to the world, but the rest of the world thinks of these men as natives of the part of the country in which their great triumph comes to them." Dr. Flournoy stated that we recognized these great men, but we did not urge them on. He gave as the major faults of the southern people: indifference, self-satisfaction, and lack of self-criticism. It seems to Dr. Flournoy that this lack of a self-criticising spirit is the reason that we get more than our share of outside criticism. "This criticism," says Dr. Flournoy, "is a very good thing, but it is not as good as self criticism. We hear criticism and still do nothing."

He stated that the South had not only given great literary men to the world, but also great political scientists—Jefferson, Madison, Calhoun. We also were the leaders in education, for we had the first free or public schools and librarys. Considering the situation as it now stands Dr. Flournoy said that the teacher was the one to awaken both the South and the whole United States to the place which the South holds in the history of our country.

At the beginning of the evening Miss Elizabeth Taylor played the "Waltz Mignonne". After Dr. Flournoy's talk the Freshman Chorus sang "After the Rain."

TO THE ALUMNAE

Dear Alumnae:

Do any of these pictures bring back memories for you? We hope so because this Rotunda is being published especially for you. We are sending copies to three thousand alumnae so we hope that there is some section you will enjoy.

We would love for you to keep us posted as to your progress. Why not write us sometimes?

Sincerely,
S. T. C.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LOUISA CURRIE, '28
Social ..... MARY DUNCAN, '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS, '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY, '29
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
MARY ELLEN CATO, '31 — JULIA WILSON, '29
MARY FRANCES SHEPHERD, '30 — VIRGINIA PETTIGREW, '31
LOUISE FOSTER, '29 — CATHERINE BENTLEY, '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant ..... FLORENCE BOOTON, '30
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

TO OUR ALUMNAE

It was with great joy that we welcomed to our school many returning alumnae. We greeted them personally, we felt pride in their achievement and interest in their work as they told us of it. We told them good bye and we have turned again to our work. But "though the song is ended the melody lingers on". We feel their presence still with us. The accounts of work in the State which we have heard, the shining eyes as they told of the little children whom they teach or the older girls and boys whom they try to lead and inspire, seems to put our own goal a step nearer. They have come, have talked with us and have gone back to their work.

To you, sister Alumnae, who could not return to your Alma Mater for her annual Founders Day, we wish to send greetings. We feel a kindredship with you because we know you have not lost the spirit which daily leads us on. We have tried to give you in this issue of The Rotunda a word concerning your classmates and those whom you loved in school here who are still with us, as well as the news of the present week which includes our Founders Day program.

As the alumnae chapter roll was called there was much interest in the responses and greetings from the various representatives. We wished with Dr. Jarman that we could extend our personal thanks to each girl who had once composed our student body.

So, because of the common tie which binds us, because of the spirit which will always linger with us and because we are trying to carry high the torch you gave into our keeping as you left our school, we the present student body send to every girl of the many former student bodies a word of greeting.

ELECTIONS—NOMINATIONS

Election time is here! It is now time for us to nominate whom we want for the major offices of our school and this is a question for each individual to solve for herself. Do not nominate a girl because she is your friend or because you have heard her name mentioned for that office. Figure out for yourself whether she has the required traits of carrying responsibility honor, sympathy, and understanding for the students. Study the girl you have in mind and nominate the one you feel should hold the office and not the one you want because she is your friend or one you have heard talked of.

It is every student's privilege and duty to vote. This is as much a part of her duty as keeping the rules of the school. It is your school and your student body and your offices and you want the right girl to hold these offices. The right girl will not hold these unless every student turns out to the polls and votes. So come out and vote on election day and do your duty to yourselves, to your student body, and to your Alma Mater.

HAS COLLEGE INTELLECTUALIZED YOU?

Considering ourselves only from the intellectual point of view, some minds are grammar grade minds when they arrive at college; some remain that way. Some are graduated high school minds which advance with the opportunities received at college until, by the time they complete their college course, they enjoy good books, they appreciate a higher type of music, painting and other fine arts, they abhor the cheaper, more undesirable forms of amusement. What a treasure they have found for themselves as entertainment for after college leisure time. Hours of wholesome pleasure, hours in which to enjoy those more intellectual types of entertainment, which, prior to college life, was avoided.

But, wait; how can we judge ourselves? That is simple. Probably Founders Day afforded a good test. Saturday night did you attend the lecture or the movies? How long will the memory of the one you attended remain with you? How was your minds improved? Little things are good tests sometimes, aren't they?

BUSY WORLD BITS

A big problem facing the nation today is that of keeping the Mississippi River in it's place. We all remember what disaster the mighty river caused and as yet nothing has been done for flood control. What will Congress do about it?

Commander Richard E. Byrd is busily preparing for his flight to the Anarctic region, In the "Samson," a Norwegian ice ship, Byrd, and 54 men and 100 dogs, will sail for the Bay of Wales, on the fringe of the Ross ice barrier, the tenth of next September. Commander Byrd's expedition is a scientific one and he believes that aviation can conquer the barriers thrown up by nature around the Anarctic.

Australia now has its Lindbergh—it's flying hero, Bert Hinkler has just completed, alone, an air voyage of fifteen days—from London to Port Darwin, Australia. The flight covered 11,000 miles.

The submarine S-4 will be raised from its ocean bed off Provincetown, Mass. with a week, good weather continuing.

MAKING SCHEDULES

On Wednesday afternoon of last week, classes were dispensed with in order that the serious business of schedules might be arranged. The schedules were made out in record time, thanks to the improvements instituted by the Schedule Committee, but everyone, in any way connected with the work, was conscious of the confusion and disorder at certain popular points. Both faculty members and students wore a harrassed and worried look. Important people could not be found, long lines formed in narrow halls, increasing the feeling of impatience and irritation among those in the lines. All that is a student's viewpoint and, no doubt, if we could hear the tale that the faculty have to tell, we would see what little bother it was for us. Heads of departments with more work than they could do, Miss Jennie and her assistants buried under all sorts of requests, reasonable and otherwise; these were only a few of the problems incident to their general work. Glad to see "Schedule Day" arrive, bringing, as it does, thoughts of a new term, we are also glad to see "Schedule Day" end, and with it, the unusual rush and bustle.

COLLEGE GLIMPSES

An editorial in the "Wellesley College News" entitled "Is Wellesley a Day Nursery? shows that Wellesley students are dissatisfied with their existing regulations. The immediate cause for this editorial is a new regulation by which every night at ten o'clock the students are checked to make sure they are in their rooms. This rule has aroused much indignation at Wellesley. "And we maitain that parents should think," to quote from the editorial, "if a girl cannot be trusted to exhibit the germs of rationality she has no right to come to college."—The Sun Dial.

We notice in "The Carolinean" that at N. C. C. W. the comic opera "Robin Hood" will be presented in the spring. This opera is expected to be one of the most enjoyable presentations of the year.

Baylor University, Texas, has a right to boast of the fact that nine of its faculty members are mentioned in "Who's Who in America."—The Florida Flambeau.

DIARY OF 1902

January 18, 1902

Today, old diary, I received the biggest and best thrill of all! You remember what I told you about the contest in Miss Andrew's English class? Well it came off today and I—I, mind you——got the prize. I have never been more surprised. Of course you know the object for the contest was a toast of four or more lines to our Alma Mater. The best one was to go in the annual so when the ole "Virginian" comes out you won't be proud of me at all—will you? I am happy and proud too, for you better than any know how much I love my Alma Mater and what high hopes and ideals I have for her.

But I mustn't bore you old friend so I'll bid you a farewell because its in the wee sma' hours of the morning-but I'll leave with you my pride and joy—the poem.

"Come drink a toast to S. N. S.
The dearest school, the best!
Here's to her girls, the richest, the rarest!
Through bonny Southland the fairest!
Once more to her Colors, the White and Blue

(Continued on last page)

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville —:: —:: —Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
413 Main St. — Phone 198

THE DARK

Grim black smoke
Rising through the fog
Casting gray shadows on the lonely wall
Dark night
Misty and dim—
And never a glimmer from a star at all.

The earth is dank
The air is damp
The raw wind biting and cold
The fog lies thick—
There's never a light—
O God—I am weary and old.

—J .W. '29

TO A FRIEND

To you the world is good
For your own nobleness
Is such
That pettiness in others
Cannot touch you.
And looking on your kindly face
I am ashamed
Of all my own small worries.
Thus my soul, refreshed
By this brief contact
Gains new faith to live
And to believe.

—M. B. B.

VEILED

Would I could see behind those eyes;
Like crystals veiled by mists of grey
Would I could snatch that veil away,
And know the truth from smiling lies.

AFTER LIGHT BELL

I don't know what's the matter,
Oh, I guess everything's all right,
But for some reason or other
I can't go to sleep tonight.

I don't see why the light bell
Had to ring so soon!
Gee! I'm gonna get out of bed,
Look what a beautiful moon.

But it's cold here by the window,
Do move over, please
And let me get in bed with you,
My feet are 'bout to freeze.

Oh, something terrible has happened.
Tomorrow a theme is due,
And I haven't written a line,
What in the world will I do?

Oh, well, it's too late now,
And things always come out all right
But I don't know what's the matter . .
I can't go to sleep tonight.

—L. R. A.

IN THE VALLEY OF THE MOON

Ah, the Valley of the Moon is very far away
And no one can reach it in a year and a day;
But on a summer's eve we will listen to the croon
Of the birds in the Valley—
In the Valley of the Moon.

We will wander there together in the twilight—you and I—
And listen to the breezes as they whisper—as they sigh
And our hearts will be so happy we softly sing a tune
In the Valley of the Moon—
In the Valley of the Moon.

—Julia E. Wilson '29

NEW YORK CELEBRATES FOUNDERS DAY

Alumnae and friends of Farmville S. T. C. in New York are sure that those in Farmville did not have a monopoly on the joy and pleasure of Founders Day. Anyone looking into the lovely South Parlor of Whittier Hall between three-thirty and five-thirty on the afternoon of March tenth would have realized that the true Farmville spirit is a vital thing, enduring in spite of time and distance. There was delight in meeting old friends, appreciation of the opportunity to make new ones, and keen interest in everything connected with the College and town. The most recent arrivals were plied with questions about the Student Building, the personnel of the institution, all departments, the increase in number of students, improvement in buildings, the hospital and many other matters. It was enthusiastically voted to send a telegram of greetings to Dr. Jarman as an expression of abiding loyalty to Alma Mater.

Along with the first arrivals came a box containing a dozen gorgeous yellow roses, accompanied by this message:

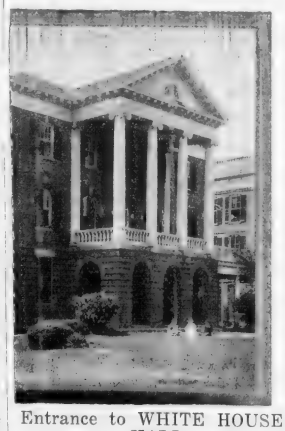
Dear Friends—

Sorry not to be with you today, but my heart is always with all those who are standing for our dear old Farmville.

Sometimes, in the press of our lives we may seem not to be attentive, but under it all there lies a strain too deep and true to be lost.

Please convey my love and best wishes to those present upon this happy occasion.

Sincerely,
ELLA TRENT TALIAFERO



The following were present from the faculty:

Dr. Fannie Wyche Dunn
Miss Mary D. Pierce
Miss Grace Mix
Miss Florence Rohr
Mrs. Blanch M. Gerhart

The alumnae represented classes from 1896 to the present time:

Martha Kennerly
Mary Warren
Helen Nichols
Bess Rush
Kathleen Saville
Mary Dinwiddie

(Continued on last page)

Entrance to WHITE HOUSE HALL

SISTERS OR DAUGHTERS OF ALUMNAE

There are members of our alumnae that have such a strong affection for their Alma Mater that they have advised their sisters and daughters to come here to school. These are some of the sisters and daughters:

Mary Will Vincent, Greenhow Parker, Bernice Jacobson, Sylvia Winer, Fannye Goodman, Jeannette Morris, Lucille Graves, Genevieve Grimes, Thelma Barrett, Florence Carmine, Rose Smith, Virginia Robertson, Alice B. Carter, Edna C. Terry, Margaret Finch, Lucy Yeoman, Mary Ellen Cato, Ethel Ames, Maggie Baker, Catherine Bentley, Harriet Booker, Miriam Bray, Mary Alice Bristow, Florence Cralle, Elizabeth Eichelberger, Virginia Goode, Anne Holladay. Emily Holladay Genevieve Holladay, Margaret Hubbard, Elizabeth Hutt, French Hutt, Jane Gray Irby, Allie Oliver, Gladys Oliver, Parke Leigh Orgain, Grigsby Peck, Virginia Pettigrew, Elia Putney, Bettie Randall, Margarette Richardson, Ethel Rowley, Mary Seaborn, Maude Seaborn, Virginia Sebrell, Julia Shackleton, Frances Stevenson, Virtley Stevenson, Catherine Stevens, Gladys Stevens, Eloise Warriner, Mary R. Wood, Alma Woodson, Elizabeth Woodson, Lois Fraser.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Miss Janie Potter, Elizabeth Hargrave, Madeline Forestal, and Frances Spindler took part in the Petersburg Rotary Revue given in the State Teachers College Auditorium Friday March 9 for the benefit of the Southside Community Hospital.

• • •

The following members of the degree class of 1926 were entertained at lunch in the Tea Room on Saturday by Misses Jennie Tabb and Mary Clay Hiner: Ann Smith, Ruth Jennings, Catherine Murdoch, Mamie Daniel, Bessie Gordon Jones, Mary Vaughan, Elizabeth Bugg, Martina Willis, Mary Ruth Winn and Kate Trent.

• • •

Among the recent vistors to the college were Mrs. Joseph Denny of Winchester and Mrs. S. Gardner Waller of Front Royal. They took advantage of a week-end while their husbands, who are members of the General Assembly, were in Richmond. It was a real pleasure to have both of these loyal alumnae back after an absence of so many years.

• • •

Mrs. Thos. K. Young, and her daughters, Helen Laing and Mary Elizabeth, of Roanoke were guests of Miss Mary White Cox for the week-end.

• • •

Miss Jacqueline Venable, of Roanoke, and Mrs. Lyttleton Waddell, of Charlottesville, were guests of their mother, Mrs. W. P. Venable for the week-end.

• • • •

Miss Elise Anderson, of Staunton was the guest of her mother, Mrs. W. E. Anderson for the week-end.

• • •

Mrs. R. W. Cousar of Waynesboro has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred Hanbury.

• • •

Mrs. E. C. Roundy and baby daughter of Waterville, Maine, are the guests of her mother, Mrs. Henry Lindsey.

Elections are coming. Think, but don't gossip. Decide, but don't force your opinions on others.

DR. FITZGERALD FLOURNOY, speaker for Founders Day.

AMONG THE ALUMNAE

BIRTHS

• • •

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Brown of Culpeper, in January, a daughter, Helen Miller Brown.

• • •

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Cralle, Jr., of Norfolk, a son, Edwin A. Cralle, III, on February 18.

• • •

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Cabell, Jr., of Richmond, a daughter, Mary Mebane, on March 1.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Sydnor Newman, on March 3, a daughter, Margaret Anne Newman.

WEDDINGS

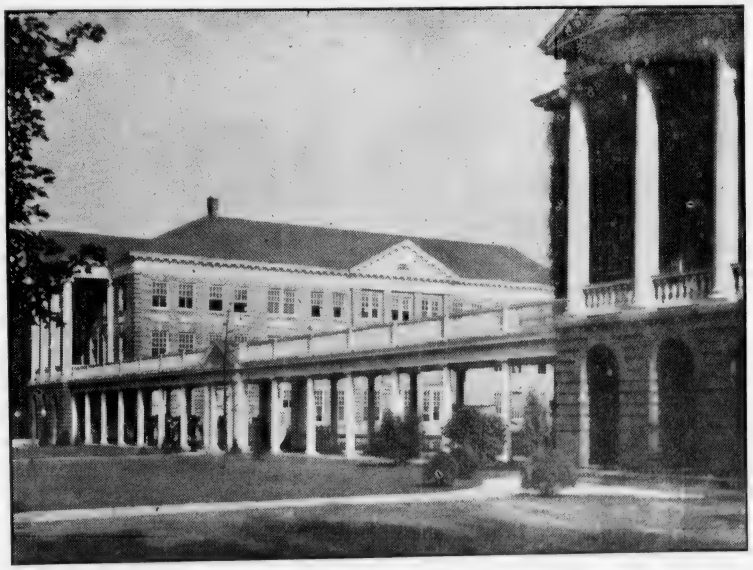
Miss Kathryn E. Landrum of Lynchburg and Carl William Smith of Roanoke, were married at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday, February 25. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Roanoke.

Miss Annie Ward Fitzgerald and Luten Inge were married on Saturday, February 25 in Crewe, Virginia.

A quiet, but lovely wedding took place in the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. F. Weaver of Orange, when their daughter, Virginia Henkel, became the bride of Mrs. William Swadley Erwin. Mr. and Mrs. Erwin will make their home in Bristol, Tenn.

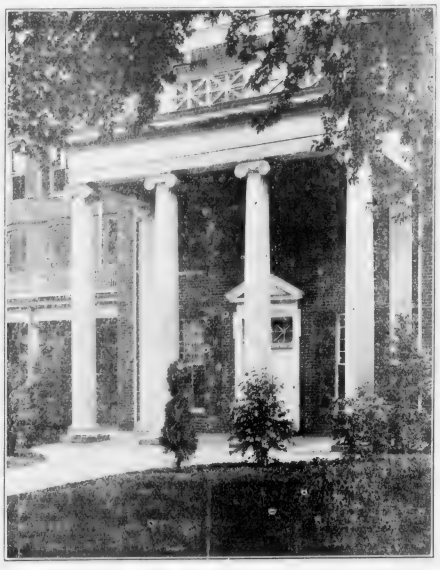
DEATHS

Bessie E. Sampson of South Richmond, class of 1908, died on February 7, 1928.



Mamie Carwile, class of 1917, died at her home in Pamplin on February 23, 1928.

IN MEMORIAM



Mrs. Sallie Peck Booker, wife of Dr. James Edward Booker, passed away after a long illness, at her home at Hampden-Sydney, Virginia, late Thursday afternoon, February 23, aged 74 years.

Mrs. Booker was for several years Head of the Home at State Teachers College. Her gracious presence here is still held in grateful memory by the hundreds of students who knew and loved her.

Alumnae, subscribe to The Rotunda.

JARMAN HALL, the student building for which the students and alumnae are constantly working. It bears the name of the man whose great faith made its construction possible, Dr. Joseph L. Jarman

FRONT ENTRANCE as we see it today.

A BOSTON-VIRGINIA BREAKFAST

You have heard of the Boston Tea Party, that occurred during the outburst of the outraged Colonists in Boston's historic past. Let me tell you of a Boston Breakfast Party, participated in by several Virginias at the recent N. E. A. meeting in Boston.

One of your absent faculty members had the good fortune of being included in the list of guests, and was in turn, as a Virginian with the other Virginians, hostess to no less a person than "Lindy's"' mother. Sitting not far away from her at the table one had the opportunity without discourteous staring, to look often at the modest, small blue-eyed woman, who in her own perfect poise and serenity seems naturally the person who has given to the famous colonel some of his own desirable qualities. She looks at the world as he does—straightforward and unafraid, and yet as one who almost shrinks from the notoriety that attends her wherever she goes.

Her brief speech as she received the flowers that were given to her was only this—"Good morning, and I thaink you," for she is not any fonder of making speeches than is her renowned son. Had there been with us some of S. T. C.'s renowned singers we might have saluted her with "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

If you want to hear more about Lindbergh and his gracious mother in Boston ask Dr. Jarman to finish the tale.

MESSAGES TO S .T. C. FROM NEW YORK FRIENDS

Greetings from a member of the class of February 1897.

Martha Kennerly

My best wishes to S. T. C.

Bess Rush, '22

All's lovely and the goose hangs high Helene Nichols

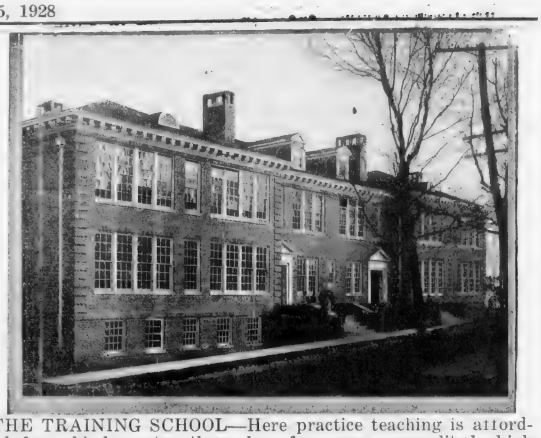
Instead of teaching this year I have a nursery school—one pupil—my daughter Margaret Eloise, age 4 months. Julia Cave West

A heart warming experience to get together here in New York with all of the Farmville-ites. We've all decided to come back. Florence Rohr

Have you some news of interest? Send it in to The Rotunda!

ALUMNAE WITH US FOR FOUNDERS DAY

Margare Cousins, Prince George
Rosalind Harrell, South Norfolk.
Elva Hedly De La Barre, S. Norfolk
Betty Edmunds, Charlotte C. H.
Elizabeth Evans, South Boston.
Alice Turbeville, Danville.
Ellen Pegram, Petersburg.
Mildred Lohr, Orange
Cornelia Dickinson, Charlottesville
Mabel Grossclose, Dinwiddie.
Jessie Bennett, Danville.
Corinne Rucker, Lynchburg.
Mary Ruth Winn, Turbeville.
Annie Lee Barksdale, Turbeville.
Kate Trent, Fredericksburg.
Emily Johnson, Fredericksburg.
Alma Smith, Richmond.
Amanda Gray, Newport News
Dora Lee Gray Peebles, Newport News.



THE MEANING OF FOUNDERS DAY

One day in the year is set aside in honor of Alma Mater—her birthday; to celebrate her foundation and to do her honor. This a time when all are given an opportunity of expressing their feeling towards the college and showing what loyalty they possess. A time when former students and alumnae come home and renew their contact with friends here. Those who have the right kind of love and loyalty for their Alma Mater are glad to do what they can to help her in every posisble way. The greatest problem she has on her hands at this time is the debt on our Student Building; therefore, students and alumnae take Founders Day as the special time at which they make an effort to reduce this debt and to thus lighten her burden as much as they can.

The Student Building cost more than two hundred thousand dollars. The State appropriated only fifty thousand—so it will be readily seen what a tremendous burden Dr. Jarman assumed in order that it might be built by the students as soon as possible. If he had waited until the funds were in hand the building would never have materialized, but he built on his faith in his students, alumnae, and friends, an dit is upto them to measure up to that faith. They are doing it, and every Founders Day is a day of rejoicing, of good fellowship and of substantial help to our president in his efforts for the building that means so much to the students.

Jennie M. Tabb

Dorothy Truitt, Newport News.
Frances Volk, Newport News
Ann Smith, Staunton.
Mildred Watts, Norfolk.
Mamie Daniel, Roanoke Rapids, N. C.
Clara Anthony, Danville.
Polly Riddle, Norfolk.
Frances S. Goodson, Portsmouth
Louise Poindexter, Portsmouth.
Sue Roper, Portsmouth.
Thelma Williams, Danville.
Inez Talley, Buffalo Springs.
Elsie Mason, Lynchburg
Mary Darden, Blackstone
Virginia Jordan, Emporia
Jeannette Johnston, Emporia
Louise Diuguid, Lynchburg.
Harriet Foster, Danville
Margaret C. Johnston, Portsmouth
Gretchen Mayo, Portsmouth
Grace George, Portsmouth
Catherine Murdoch, Chester
Ruth Jennings, South Boston
Elizabeth Hargrave, Petersburg
Annie Lee Winston, Nelson
Anna Scott, Amelia
Mrs. Martha G. Woodson, Rustburg
Freida Crockin, Portsmouth
Elizabeth Truitt, Birds Nest
Gertrude Batte, Hopewell
Anna Glenn Perry, Chase City
Belle Atkins, Chase City
Mrs. G. F. Seaborn, Norfolk
Mrs. J .M. Early, New Hope.
Judith S. Morehead, Richmond
Madeline Forestal, Petersburg.
Muriel Thompson, Princeton, N. J.
Pearle W. Showalter, Roanoke.
Lucille Barnett, Salem.
Katherine Dashield, Norfolk.
Chester Hulfton, Hickory.
Katherine Wilkinson, Dinwiddie
Imogen Whitescarver, Salem
Katherine Hatch, Wakefield.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL—Here practice teaching is afforded from kindergarten through a four year accredited high school.. This is another mark of fame on Dr. Jarman's record as president.

FOUNDERS DAY FINANCIAL REPORT

For several years it has been a custom at S. T. C. for the classes and organizations to give money on Founders Day for the payment of the Student Building as a token of their love for their Alma Mater. The sum of the gifts given this year is pleasing, the amounts given by each being:

Amount received on Founders Day, $2,242.50.

From Students
Senior Class	$100.00
Junior Class	$125.00
Sophomore Class	$300.00
Freshman Class	$343.00
Student Govt. Associatn	$100.00
Dramatic Club	$200.00
Debating Club (pledge)	$10.00
Monogram Club	$15.00
Shenandoah Valley Club	$5.00
Eastern Shore Club	$12.00
French Circle	$12.00
Cunningham Lit. Society	$5.00
"Chi"	$5.00
	$1232.00
From Faculty
Cash payments on pledges	$169.00
From Alumnae
Class of 1926 (Degree)	$20.00
Class of 1927 (Degree)	$25.00
Alumnae Chapters
Farmville	$200.00
Petersburg	$25.00
Dinwiddie	$17.00
Roanoke Rapids, N. C.	$40.00
Winston-Salem, N. C.	$12.00
Prince William	$16.00
Norfolk	$25.00
Portsmouth	$50.00
Staunton	$25.00
Roanoke	$62.50
Hopewell	$10.00
Winchester	$30.00
	$556.50
From the Town
American Legion Auxiliary	$25.00
Woman's Club	$25.00
Cash	$25.00
	$75.00
Cash, and payments on pledges since Alumnae letter was mailed February 20	$158.50
Total reported on Founders Day 1927	$63,423.78
Paid during 1928	$9,883.39
	$73,307.17
Founders Day, 1928	$2.282.50
Grand total to date	$75,601.67

Ovid said: "To wish is of little account; to succeed you must earnestly desire; and this desire must shorten thy sleep." This does not mean worry. As a matter of fact worry has the opposite effect from that desired.—The Salemite.

JOAN O F ARC who marks the center of our reception hall and one of the centers from which the spirit of our Alma Mater radiates.

MISS JENNIE M. TABB, our registrar and secretary to the president. A beautiful personality, an inspiration and an example.

FOR YOU

Jennie M. Tabb

The following review of Miss Tabb's volume of verse, published by The Stratford Company, Boston, Mass., is taken from "St Mary's Chimes", the monthly publication of St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana, and will be of interest to her many friends among the alumnae.

"You open this little book of verse, "For You," with respect for the associations which the author's name arouses, and with eagerness to see how the writting of Miss Tabb may resemble that of her illustrious uncle, the Reverend John B. Tabb. And after an hour or so you close the book with a glow of friendliness and happiness in your heart. For Miss Tabb's poetry is best described by that word "friendly."

The poems cover a variety of subjects—subjects old yet ever—new, like home and friendship and nature and love—and all of them marked by simplicity and by an appeal which cannot fail to strike a responsive chord in the heart of the reader. The promise held out in the title of the volume is fulfilled. The poems are "for you—and for you and for you."

YOU

Deep in the heart of me
Nothing but You
See through the art of me—
Changeless and true
Deep in the heart of me
Nothing but You.

—Ruth Guthrie Harding

GIFT TO LIBRARY

The library has recently received a copy of Mrs. A .D. Whithurst's "The Legend of the Skeleton of the Cavern" a modern ballad which has the same quality of vividness found in "Jean DuPuy's" other narrative and lyric verse. The students of the college will be the more interested in the book because it was written by an alumna, Mollie DuPuy, and illustrated by Julia Alexander, another former student.

The Jongleurs at Hampden-Sydney are busy practising for the play "Outward Bound" which will be presented March 30 in the S. T. C. auditorium. Get your dates early, girls! Remember it's leap year.

SOCIAL

Elizabeth Armfield spent the week-end in Roanoke.

• • •

The following girls spent the week-end in Danville: Helen Adams, Hilda Cobb, Elizabeth Copeland and Lucille Copeland.

• • •

Edna Brown and Margaret Tyler spent the week-end in Salem.

• • •

Marie Keller visited her home in Cumberland last week-end.

• • •

Mary Alice Wiley spent the week-end at Dry Fork.

• • •

Julia Shackleton visited in Meherrin last week-end.

• • •

Elizabeth Mahoney spent the week-end at Ivor.

• • •

Peggy Ewing of R. M. W. C. was the week-end guest of Billy Booth.

• • •

Katherine Rhodes was at her home in Cartersville for the week-end.

• • •

Anne Ferree, "Red" Foster and Ann Deffenbaugh attended a dance in Petersburg Saturday night.

• • •

Mrs. John Batte was the guest of her daughter, Louise, last week-end.

• • •

Kathleen Sanford had her mother as guest over the week-end.

DR. DIEHL ADDRESSES PI KAPPA OMEGA

The members of Pi Kappa Omega and their friends had the opportunity of hearing a very beautiful talk by Dr. Frederick Diehl at their annual open meeting Friday night.

Dr. Diehl pointed out the fact that while scholarship in a very worthy aim it is not the only aim that students with a well rounded life must have. Scholarship with service is the aim of the society and it is the aim which the speaker said would give one earthly immortality and complete happiness.

Dr. Diehl is himself such a scholar as he described as the ideal and his talk was an inspiration to his audience.

DR. J. L. JARMAN when he first took over the office as president of the College.

PI KAPPA OMEGA HAS BANQUET

Polly Riddle, Mildred Lohr, Cornelia Dickinson, Katherine Hatch, Mabel Grossclose, Elva Hedly De La Barre, and Rosalind Harrell returned for the Pi Kappa Omega Founders Day banquet held in the Tea Room Friday night.

The banquet room was unusually beautiful, colors of the society being carried out in the bowls of roses and rose tapers in silver candle sticks which composed the decorations.

The favors were shoulder corsages of roses and sweet peas which added another note of color to the occasion.

WISDOM

When I have ceased to break my wings
Against the faultiness of things
And learn that compromises wait
Behind each hardly opened gate,
When I can look life in the eyes,
Grown calm and very coldly wise,
Life will have given me the truth,
And taken in exchange my youth.

—Sara Teasdale

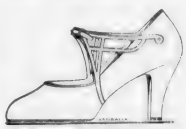
According to "The White Topper", in a basketball game between the faculty at Emory and Henry and the regular co-ed team the following question was decisively settled: "Can a college professor dispel his celebrated absent-mindedness sufficiently to play a game of basket ball?" Why can't S. T. C. stage a game of that kind? Who shall we elect captain of the team, Mr. Bell or Dr. Wynne?

FRONT ENTRANCE as it was when the skirts of the "old girls" brushed the walks of campus.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World



Mezzanine Floor
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

OUR MUSIC STORE

"Together" Humpty and Jeannette
"Dawn of Tomorrow" Exams
"The Song is Ended but the Melody Lingers On" .... Mid-Winter Dances
"Mary" ..... Christian Royall
"Tin Pan Parade" Rush to Breakfast
"So Tired" .... S. T. C. at 7:15 a. m.
"Is She My Girl Friend" .... H. S. C.
"Let a Smile be Your Umbrella" Lucille Graves
"Just a Memory" .... Freshman Days
"Honey Moon Lane" ..... Rec. Steps
"Among My Souvenirs".. Mayo Bass
"When My Heart Stood Still"—The week grades go home.
"Girl of My Dreams" Mary Taliaferro
"My Blue Heaven" ..... S. T. C.

Ann P.: "I've an offer to go in the movie."

Barbara W.: "Good, then I can see you without hearing you!"

Deffenbaugh: "These shoes certainly do cry when I walk."

Shoffner: "No wonder, look what you've got in them."

Mary Farrer: "I've got a wonderful scheme for making money fast."

Nancy Denit: "Going to let me in on it?"

Mary: "Absolutely. All you've got to do, is to glue it to the floor."

Yancy Brooking says she saw a Scotchman open his pocketbook and three moths flew out.

"'Twas in a restaurant they met,
Young Romeo and Juliet.
And there he first got into debt
For Rome-od what Juli-et!"

Margaret H.: "Are you the barber who cut my hair last time?"

Barber: "No. I've only been here six months."

Alice Wiley says, well anyway Cleopatra made a Mark for herself.

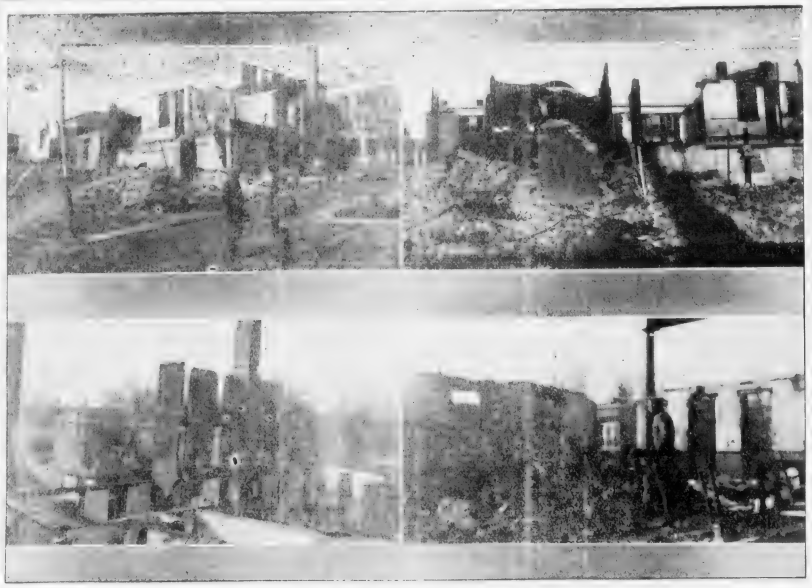
Rock-a-bye, senior, on the tree top,
As long as you study your grades will not drop,
But if you stop digging your standing will fall
And down will come senior, diploma and all.

—Denison Flamingo

Frances Thornton: "What's an operetta?"

Eliz. Turner: "Don't be dumb—it's a girl who works for the telephone company."

Judge: "What's your name?"
Man: "Smith."
Judge: "Your occupation?"
Man: "Locksmith."
Judge: "Lock Smith up."



This space is dedicated to Philip

Jane Cotten: "Philip who?"
Nelms: "Philip Space, silly!"

Leonard: "This is an 'Among My Souvenirs' dinner."

Archer "Whatdaya mean?"

Leonard: "There's nothing left for me."

A PART of State Teachers College in ruins from the fire. The ashes upon which "more stately mansions" have been built.

DIARY OF 1902

Continued from page 2

Symbols of all that is loyal and true."

January 20, 1902

I think the nicest thing has happened, old dairy. That is something—that is going to be nice has started. Remember the last Y. W. C. A. party and the Cunningham Literary Society social? Well I'll tell you. You know we don't have anywhere for socials and parties and big sessions, etc. except the main reception hall—and of course we can't really "jubilate" there.

Those parties I just told you about were perfectly lovely and well planned but they were so crowded. Why we could hardly move and as for playing any games why we wouldn't even think of that.

Some one, Particia Merriwether, I think, suggested that all the girls ought to get together and raise money to erect a building to house all of the student activities. She said it in a fit of provoked anger against present conditions and everyone scoffed at her at first. But the more we thought about it the more possible and probable the idea seemed to be. Before we left the party we had actually put the roof on the building and had planned the furnishings. Everyone was thinking of how we could raise money and the nicest ways were suggested. I'll tell you more later.

February 16, 1902

Oh dear! I'm so excited. We've told our plan to Dr. Jarman and we are pleased that he favors it—in fact—he has had that particular bee in his bonnet for some time and was only waiting for an opportunity to spring it on us. That's one time we got ahead of "J. L. J."

March 3, 1902

"Ribbons—ribbons who'll buy our ribbons?" Oh yes we're really selling them to make money for our Student Building—"Why, haven't you heard about?"—"If you want to help us please buy one of these pretty red ribbons to wear on your coat and you can pay us anything from 10c up for it—Oh, thank you sir." (in a whisper aside) "Oh, Marge! he gave me a dollar for that one!"

"Ribbons, ribbons!" All the above so-called conversation is one you would have heard on many street corners and in numerous stores this morning, diary. We've actually started working for our building. You know, I'm so proud of us. We're never going to lose our faith and vision and above all, diary, we're going to cooperate.

March 6, 1927

Dear old diary, once more after all these years I am going to confide in you, I went back to old S. N. S., now State Teachers College!, for Founders Day. The Student Building, a monument of faith, vision and cooperation is complete! Patricia and I were conducted through it by Dr. Jarman himself. You don't know how far it came above our highest hopes and fondest dreams. The lounge is lovely! and our Y. W. C. A. and Student Council rooms and sorority rooms are simply wonderful, so beautifully furnished, and in such excellent taste. The Alumnae are proud of it and equally proud of the students there now because they show that same fine spirit of faith, love, vision and cooperation which, with Dr. Jarman's ceaseless energy and great dreams, will make S. T. C. a truly outstanding college.

SKATING CONTEST, A BIG SUCCESS

On Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock there were many skaters in front of the school, ranging from children in the grades to the college girls. The Hampden-Sydney boys were expected to enter the contest, but evidently they did not care to exhibit their talents as skaters, because not one of them appeared in any event.

The skaters showed unusual ability in racing. However, the most outstanding winner for the grade children was Margaret Farrar. Jane Cotten proved to be the college's best skater—winning in three events.

Although the rolling chair and crutches from the Infirmary were prepared for any unfortunates, it was found that such preparedness was entirely unnecessary for the professional skaters.

The glee club championship of the South was won by Furman Univeristy at the meet held at Greenville, S. C. The winners were judged the best from five different southern states, and will go to New York to compete in the National intercollegiate glee club championship.— The Virginia Tech.

FRESHMAN VOLLEY BALL TOURNAMENT

The Grays defeated the Golds last Tuesday afternoon bringing the Freshman volley ball tournament to an end. The Freshmen out for volley ball divided into eight teams at the beginning of the season and began running off a tournament so that each one might have better practices.

Last week the tournament was narrowed down to a contest between the Grays and Golds and after a fast exciting game the Grays came out victorious. From these eight teams the Freshman Class team is to be chosen.

The line-up is as follows:

Grays	Golds
G. McCall (capt.)	M. Seaborn (capt.)
E. Simpson	M. Steed
D. Thornhill	K. Forrest
E. Peak	V. Whitfield
L. Beard	V. Slegbeurse
B. Schuler	D. Roundtree
L. Duxter	M. March
L. Wyatt	M. Logarts
L. Norward	W. Savage

Number of games won:

Grey 1st place	13
Gold, 2nd place	10
White	9
Black	8
Orange	7
Brown	7
Yellow	7
Blue	5

NEW YORK CELEBRATES FOUNDERS DAY

Continued from page 3

Sue Brown Cook
Ada Bierbower
Carrie Brown Taliaferro
Mrs. Agnes McLave Rackett
Mrs. Julia Cave West
Mrs. Julia Chamberlin Fowler

Others besides Mrs. Taliaferro who regretted that they could not be present were:

Flementine Pierce
Lucy Warburton
Henrietta King
Mrs. Nellie Hurd Maynard
Mrs. S. W. Blach (Miss Vickroy)
Mrs. Robert Kerlin
Miss Amelia McLester

When the relentless clock brought the reunion to a close, the general sentiment was, "Let's do it again."

THE ORIGINAL
Onyx Pointed Heel
Stockings
Specially Priced
FROM MARCH 5th to 10th
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week March 19—24.

MON.—Mae Busch and Ward Crane in "The Beauty Shoppers." A highly amusing and entertaining comedy drama depicting in bold outline the ways and means employed by the fair sex to keep their slender figures and good looks for those who are ever seeking beauty. Also Pathe news and a comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

TUES.—Tim McCoy and Claire Windsor in "Foreign Devils," from the famous Peter B. Kune story. If good, honest thrills are what you're hungry for, here's your meat! Red-blooded melodrama, charming romance, Tim McCoy as a riding, fighting, loving Yankee hero in the exciting days of the Boxer uprising. Also a new serial, "The Return of the Riddle Rider" starts. Comedy too. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

WED. and THURS.—Ramon Novarro and Norma Shearer in the super Special production, "The Student Prince." Here is the most glorious romance of the stage brought to the screen in a truly magnificent production. The brilliant, touching story of the Prince who loved a maid. The romantic sensation of years! This picture has been showing at $2.00 admission prices. With it we show a comedy and a one reel feature in beautiful colors. Matinees at 4 o'clock.

FRI. and SAT.—Matinees only, we show Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle in "Wickedness Preferred." He was a writer of South Sea romances, but when he tried to make love according to his own formula, the results were disastrous and gorgeously comic. You'll roar every second of this matrimonial laugh special. Also comedy.

FRI. and SAT.—Nights only, we show the Super Special production, "Beau Sabreur," the great sequel to "Beau Geste." A Paramount picture, enacted by a great cast. Bristling action. Flaming love. Roaring fun. Filmed on the same sweeping scale as "Beau Gesse." With this picture as an added attraction, we show "The Lady of Victories," starring Agnes Ayres, all done in beautiful colors. Also comedy.

Admission to S. T. C. girls, Monday and Tuesday and Saturday Matinee, 25 cents; Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and Saturday, 35c.

NOMINATIONS
MARCH 27
ELECTIONS
APRIL 3

THE ROTUNDA

POE

DON'T MISS
THE VOLLEY
BALL GAMES

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1928 No. 22

FRESHMEN ENTERTAIN JUNIOR SISTERS AT "KID" PARTY

College Girls Enjoy Return to Childhood

Juniors received bids to a charming party given in their honor by the freshmen Tuesday night from 8:30 to 10:30 in the recreation hall. These invitations instructed the juniors to turn back their ages and to come in costume—ginghams, rompers, toys, ribbons—all created a suitable kindergarten atmosphere.

Appropriate refreshments consisting of lolly pops, ice cream lollys and candy were served.

Prizes were given to Katherine Wayt and Beth Brockenborough for the cutest costumes. Succesful contestants were made the proud possesors of such things as numerous balloons, and tortoises.

The freshman orchestra did its usual bit with their music.

The sopohomores and seniors missed a really good time. The juniors realized how fortunate they were in having such a class as the freshmen for their sisters. These same rather envious sophomores and seniors state that the occasion was for the purpose of letting the freshmen and juniors "act their age."

GIRLS FINISHING

The following girls finished their courses in the winter term:

Mary E. Bryant
Evelyn Cahoon
Alice B. Carter
Louise R. Glass
Gladys H. Sledd
Alma Trafton
Kitty F .Whyte

We wish them much success and hope that they will come back to see us soon.

FACULTY-STUDENT POPULARITY CONTEST

At present a student-faculty popularity contest is being held at S. T. C. All day Tuesday girls nominated those girls whom they considered the most popular in school, also the faculty member whom they considered the most popular in the eyes of the student from every point of view.

All day Wednesday and Thursday those nominated will be voted on, after which—on one condition— the pictures will appear in the Rotunda. That condition is that they receive at least one thousand votes in order to be elected as the most popular. Any member under this will not be considered representative of the school and will not be worthy of a picture in the school paper. In this case only the name will be announced in next week's Rotunda. However, judging from the past, it is believed that both girl and faculty member will be seen in the Rotunda next week.

If you have not voted, do it now.

COMING ELECTIONS CREATE INTEREST

In two weeks we will know who our new Student Council president for next year will be! Certainly we must begin to think of girls to fill these major offices. Voting this year will be carried on in a more systematic way than before and every girl must vote. Nominations will be held on March 23 and the names will be posted for one week .Elections will then be held on April 3.

The cooperation of every girl in school is expected in order to have the girls elected representative of every best thinking girl.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT DEFENDS YOUTH

The oft-mentioned younger generation had an able defender in Dr. Clarence Cook Little, president of the University of Michigan, who told fellow academicians that youth of today is more Godly and nearer the truth about religion "than we of the older generation are." His speech brought to a close a presidents' conference on "Religion Among College Men," held at Princeton University.

"There is little difference between dogmatists, whether they are found in the physical laboratory or in the pulpit of a too highly organized branch of the Christian church," said Dr. Little. "The modern generation are discerning enough to recognize this fact. They do not take to dogmatism naturally, or at all, fo rthat matter, unless forced to through fear or authority.

"It is a well-known fact that students today do not stay with denominational Christianity. Why is this?"

One reason offered by Dr. Little was the devotion of the churches to debating academic questions, such as the infalibility of the Bible. "The only answer to such questions seems to be 'I don't know,' " he said. "But the churches persist in fighting over a dry bone, and the youth of today recognize this.

"They realize that Jesus didn't spend his time on earth criticizing the prophets who had gone before him, but in doing things, in meeting practical problems of his day.

"In so far as the younger generation refuses to bow the knee blindly to authority, I feel that they are in a sense at least living independent spiritual lives of their own. They are not godless: I think they are nearer the truth about religion than we are." —The New Student.

ROSE JOHNSON WILLIS

MISS WILLIS TO READ CYRANO DE BERGERAC

Friday evening at eight o'clock in the auditorium, Miss Rose Johnson Willis will read Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac."

The play is permeated with passive wit, pathos, sentiment and tragic force and its climax is beautiful.

For proper interpretation of such a masterpiece, when given as a reading, an artist is needed, and Miss Willis has on more than one occasion proved herself equal to such a demand.

Her reputation is more than a local one. Press comments where she has read indicate the appreciation accorded her. S. T. C. feels fortunate in being able to present so brilliant a play by so gifted a reader.

TO THE NEW GIRLS

There are things that are new and people that are new and we do not welcome every new thing nor every new person that we meet. But some new girls have come to S. T. C. and it is to them that we wish to extend a most hearty welcome from every old member of the student body.

The following girls entered this term:

Ester Ritchie, Waynesboro, Va.
Anita Ruth Craghead, Moneta, Va.
Georgia M. Rucker, Clarendon, Va.
Doria Ella May, Forest, Va.
Bessie Hawthorne, Kenbridge, Va.
Dorothy L. Hubbard, Chatham, Va.
Alma R. Parrish, Sandy Hook, Va.
Ruth Calloway, Covington, Va.
Helen Sturgis, Pungateague, Va.
Pauline Cheatham, Wintz, Va.
Mary G. Brown, Mattox, Va.
Gladys Huband, Chester, Va.

"Are you awfully tired with play, little girl;
Weary, discouraged and sick?
I will tell you the loveliest game in the world
Do something for somebody, quick!"
—Selected

ASSOCIATION OF VIRGINIA REGISTRARS MEET AT S. T. C.

INTER-CLASS DEBATE TEAMS ANNOUNCED

The annual inter-class debates will be held soon in the auditorium. The beautiful trophy cup, which is bedecked in the colors of the victorious class and placed in the rotunda, creates rivalry of the keenest nature and spurs the debaters on to excellent work. The team representing the senior class is composed of Elizabeth Hutt and "Jackie" Woodson; the junior class is represented by Katherine Bentley and Rebekah Liebman; the sophomore class by Frances Wilson and Nellie Tally; and the freshman class, by Martha Ann Laing and Jeannette Luther.

HARVARD DEAN MAKES EDUCATIONAL DIAGNOSIS

CAMBRIDGE, MASS. (By New Student Service)—"Education suffers in America from confusion of purposes," H. W. Holmes, dean of the Harvard graduate school of education, told a "Crimson" reporter ,in another diagnosis of the country's educational ills. "Justified a hundred-fold in our faith in schooling as an instrument of democracy," he said, "we cared more for the spread of education than for its fitness for specific ends. . . "The root of the difficulty lies in the relationship between the secondary schools and the colleges. Our students come to college 'prepared', but with hardly the beginnings of an education. Contrasted with the students in English and Continental secondary schools ,they must be rated age for age, markedly inferior. There is no thoroughness or consistency in our school system. Our schools suffer from that disease that keeps them permanently enfeebled—'credititis,' the itch for credits, points, units, and semester hours. We are in the midst of a generation of students and teachers obsessed with the notion that organization in education means more than anything else. Educationally we are a nation of credit hunters and degree worshippers. Studies are considered mere payments demanded for the fun of being in school and the later privileges of college life. The student knows he can drop the "stuff" he is studying as soon as he has 'cashed in' at the entrance gates what he is learning in school. With such a system there is no searching inquiry into educational values, and the true worth of study is obscured.

"The commanding problem of liberal education in America is the problem of unifying secondary education and collegiate education without denying the essential characters and modern development of either. To find a remedy for the existing situation is a difficult problem. The system of concentration and distribution, now used here at Harvard,

(Continued on Page Three)

Nine Virginia Colleges Represented

At the 1927 meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars, in Atlanta, the Virginia representatives formed their State Association, with nine members. The first annual meeting was held on Saturday, March 17th, at State Teachers College, Farmville. The first officers of the association were as follows: president, Miss Jennie M. Tabb, State Teachers College, Farmville; secretary, Mr. E. S. Mattingly, Washington and Lee University.

In spite of the inclement weather, seventeen registrars attended the meeting: Miss Tabb and Mr. Mattingly; Miss Grace B. Lewis, Sweet Briar College; Miss Melva Chapman, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; Miss May Scherer, Marion Junior College; Mr. Ruskin S. Freer, Lynchburg College; Miss Mollie Coates, State Teachers Colleeg, Fredericsburg; Miss Katherine B. Read, Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute; Col. William Couper, Virginia Military Institute; Miss Fanona Knox, Hollins College; Miss Vera L. Wright, Martha Washgton College; Mr. W. M. Black, Mrs. Dana Robinson and Miss Long, Randolph Macon Womans College; Miss Virgilia Bugg, Miss Mollie H. Blan-

(Continued on Page Two)

THIS NEW FREEDOM

Withdrawal of her request for pledges of good conduct was asked of the dean of women at the University of North Dakota, by a committee of women dormitory residents. Their revolt against the pledges that led to the appointment of a committee to make recommendations was described in "The New Student" for February 29.

Smoking, the dean was told, is a matter for the halls to consider, and should not be subject to the determination of one person. Since drinking is against state and national law, no further local ruling was regarded as necessary. Card playing, formerly prohibited, was decreed harmless by the commitee, which also balked at another old ruling that the women stay in their rooms five evenings a week. This was called "unreasonable", and was stricken out.

The result of the revision is a greater measure of self-determination for the women. But so far the revision is in the form of recommendations which may or may not, meet administrative favor.—The New Student.

People who never do any more than they get paid for, never get paid for any more than they do.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief — EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29

Board of Editors

Literary — LOUISA CURRIE, '28
Social — MARY DUNCAN, '29
Humorous — BEULAH JARVIS, '30
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY, '29
Current Events — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
MARY ELLEN CATO, '31 — JULIA WILSON, '29
MARY FRANCES SHEPHERD, '30 — VIRGINIA PETTIGREW, '31
LOUISE FOSTER, '29 — CATHERINE BENTLEY, '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTON, '30
Circulation Manager — FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant — MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

TO OUR BASKET BALL SQUAD

We don't want to write a long editorial to you because you wouldn't read it and thus the point would be lost. Yet, we want you to know one thing. We, the student body appreciate to the utmost the splendid type of sportsmanship you upheld throughout basket-ball season. We appreciate your perserverance, your grit, your loyalty and the way in which you met victory or defeat. We realize that you gave your best, we know that you gave up other things in order to practice every night. We also realize that if we, the onlookers, possessed as much school spirit and enthusiasm as you have, the school would be a perfect demonstration of sportsmanship in every line. We take off our hats to you because we know you deserve it! Mary Frances Hatchett, Juliet Jones, Mary Clements, Edith Coleman, Gwen Hardy, Laura N. Smith, Laura M. Smith, Virginia Gurley, Mary Jane Wilkinson, Anne Palmer, Elizabeth Atwater, Marguarite Erdman, Adele Hutchinson, Allie Oliver, Permele Byrd, and Lillian Sturgis, this editorial is written to you!

TO MISS ILER

No ship can be successfully launched, no army can win a notable victory ,no team can accomplish the best from every angle, unless it is directed by one who lives those things which are responsible for a group's all-round success. A group of girls must have a source for inspiration, a word of encouragement, and a sympathetic understanding from one to whom they are responsible.

Human guidance and understanding has gained for our coach not only love, but also respect from every member of the squad and every member of the student body who realizes the responsibility of a coach and the way in which "our coach" has given all that is humanly possible to give.

S. T. C. gives fifteen hearty cheers for you because we have seen the type of sportsmanship you have instilled in your squad. We have caught the spirit, and hope to live up to your example, —Miss Iler.

MR. WRIGLEY'S CHEWING GUM

The great American habit, at least that part of American repertoire of habit made by youth, is chewing gum. It was presumably a happy day for Mr. Wrigley when he decided to dedicate his life to the development of the muscles of youthful jaws. The great beautiful Wrigley building in Chicago is an impressive monument to the pennies of American boys and girls.

There are ways and ways to chew gum; places and places, and times and times, in which to chew; people who chew and people who don't. Among the people who chew are those who chew loudly and forcefully, energetically popping the gum at short intervals as if it were charged with a bit of dynamite; there are those who chew languidly and more or less silently; there are rare specimens who chew unobtrusively. Among the places selected by "gummers" where they enjoy the stimulating exercise are class rooms, movies, churches, automobiles, and even on holidays or fast days, their own private rooms. Among the occasions are included class lectures, examinations, parties and formal receptions, church services, and yes, even the half-hour after meals when gum is chewed "for your health's sake."

Among the people who don't chew are those who protest earnestly and those who suffer in silence. This article has no thought of propaganda against Mr. Wrigley and his colleagues; no, far be it from us to diminish the size of his fortune or to rid American youth of one of its greatest evident pleasures. Its thought is to express a plea by those who don't chew, for consideration from those who do.

BUSY WORLD BITS

Stanford Universtiy, which has high hopes of becoming alma mater of a president, will dedicate its 1928 year book to its most prominent alumnus, Herbert Hoover.—The New Student.

Revision of the curriculum to permit more freedom of study has been announced at Hamline College by President Hughes. Majors and minors have been abolished, the first and last two years of work separated, and requirements reduced in number. "Gateway" courses in the freshman and sophomore years will introduce the student to college, and thereafter be will be free to select his own subjects. The only demand is for 36 hours of concentrated study. After completing this, the student may browse as he pleases or limit his work to one field —The New Student.

The students at N. C. C. W. recently had the opportunity of hearing John Erskine discuss his three books, "Helen of Troy," "Galahad" and "Adam and Eve". He made an informal talk about old stories and old charatcers, stating that "man is a myth-making animal. "It is thought that Dr. Erskine's next book will be on contemporary American life.—The Carolinean.

At a preliminary contest for the Olympic team held at V. M .I., there were three winners from V. P. I., followed by V. M. I. with two, and W. & L. and A. M. A. with one each. The winners are now eligible for the trials to be held at the University of Michigan.—The Cadet.

"The New Student" reports that at Princeton University unlimited lecture cuts have been granted to all seniors, except those under discipline. The action, Dean Aristian Gauss said, is in the nature of an experiment. Why can't S. T. C. adopt this same policy and see if it would prove successful within her walls?

Mr. John W. Campbell of New York has offered a fund of $6,000 to be divided among the three students, either men or women, of the "Floating University" who accomplish the greatest services in furthering international friendships on the trip. $3,000 will be given to the most outstanding student, $2,000 to the second and $1,000 to the third.

ASSOCIATION OF VIRGINIA REGISTRARS

Continued from page one

ton, an dMiss Rachel K. Henderlite, State Teachers College, Farmville. The representatives of State Teachers College at East Radford, Bridgewater College and Blackstone College had expected to attend but were prevented at the last minute.

At three o'clock the association assembled in the Social Room of the Student Building. President Jarman was present for a short time; he extended a most cordial welcome to the group an dexpressed his appreciation of the work of the registrar, which he said was a profession that had developed in great strides during the last few years and was still steadily growing. He brought out the fact that the registrar's office was the only source of a great deal of information that is indispensible to the administration of all the schools. Following Dr. Jarman, Miss Tabb extended a welcome to the association and made the point that, although the position of Registrar may be a very important one, it is not always an easy one as the registrar bridges the gap between faculty and students and on occasion has to act as a go-between.

In the business session a great many problems common to the registrars of all institutions were discussed, and many helpful suggestions were made.

At five o'clock the visitors were taken to Hampden-Sidney College in cars which had been kindly been offered by friends in the faculty and the town. Upon their return from this trip they were entertained by the college at a most delightful dinner in the Tea Room. Saint Patrick was much in evidence in the decorations; mammoth shamrocks enclosed the lights, green candles, shamrocks, Irish potatoes were used on the tables, and a jolly "Paddy" with his pipe ornamenetd the place cards. Dr. and Mrs. Jarman, Miss Cox, head of the home, Miss Boje of the faculty of State Teachers Colleeg, Harrisonburg, and Judge W. S. Gooch were guests at the dinner.

At eight o'clock the business session was resumed in the Lounge, after an inspection of the college plant, The most important business of this evening session was the election of officers for the coming year, which resulted in the appointment of Mr. Frer of Lynchburg College to the presidency, and Miss Knox of Hollins College was made secretary. The 1929 meeting of the association will be held at R. M. W. C.

(Continued on last page)

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville —:: —:: —Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

A GYPSY'S PRAYER

Give me a road, a winding road
Over some distant hill;
Give me a heaven of brightest blue
And a song with words that are real.

Give me some flowers—a spray or two
To carry along life's way—
And I will wonder in the sun
And laugh and love and play.

Give me some stars, a moon, a lake—
Give me some moonbeams too,
Give me a chance to wonder, Lord
Where life's young dreams come true.

Dawn, and birds are tuning;
Day, and earth begins her song;
Night, and the chorus endeth
And life has sung her song.

—F. W. '29

SOUVENIR

Just for a moment you held me
Close to your heart
While all the world paused waiting . .
Hushed before the miracle of love
And the black curtain of the night
Was a friendly mantle
Until—the gods on Mt. Olympus
Looked down to see why time stood still
And envious—brought the dawn.

—M. B. B.

SLEEP

I am weary and tired—
The day has been toilsome
And I have blundered.
The quiet night-time is come,
With it blessed sleep
In which I may lose myself
To wake to a new day—
A new day wherein I may
Try again.
Lord, I thank Thee.

—L. C. '28

THE LAND OF LOST THINGS

Once I lost so many things,
Childish toys, and pins and rings,
But my Mother used to say
I could find them all some day
On a high shelf laid away
In the land of All Lost T hings.

Now I've lost more precious things
Love and Friendship, Heart that sings
Shall I find them all one day
On a high shelf laid away,
Kept by one who loved me gay,
In the land of All Lost Things.

— Louise Boyden

I CLIMBED A HILL

I climbed a hill in sorrow;
A soft wind stirred
All feathery against my face
Like a young bird.

I found a scarlet oak leaf;
I found a spring;
I saw a moth uncurling;
I heard birds sing.

From the top of a high hill,
Close to the sky
I remembered I had grieved
And wondered why . . . .

—Abegail Cresson

THOSE WHO PLAYED IN VARSITY GAMES THIS SEASON.

BASKET BALL RESUME

It is over! The 1928 basket ball season is closed and our team has come out victorious—not in scores but in sportsmanship and clean playing; and we, the student body realize that victory in sportsmanship is, in truth, more desired than victory in scores.

Our team has had a chance to prove that it can face defeat in the same spirit that it can win a victory. The student body has proved itself true-blue in its backing of the team and in the reception of guests. And so, though we may thoughtlessly say that we lost in this season games, let us stop and consider that we can lose and win in the same good way and let us remember the games we have won rather than those we have lost.

On February 3, the team made its way to Harrisonburg, where, in spite of hard fighting, the Purple and Gold triumphed over the Blue and White by a score of 33—14.

The following week-end, February 11, Fredericksburg team came to Farmville, where cheered by the rooting of the student body, Farmville's team won a 25—16 score game.

On February 17 at Radford we were able to hold the Radford girls to a 19—19 score.

Then on February 24 Harrisonburg returned the visit and defeated us in a clean, fast game, by a 23—9 score.

Radford, on March 3rd, came to Farmville and here the Purple and Gray sextette defeated us 28—17.

Then, on March 9, our team went to Fredericksburg where, after a hotly contested battle, the final whistle blew leaving Blue and White to wave on high with a 31—19 score.

EDUCATIONAL DIAGNOSIS

(Continued from page one)

with general examinations at the final stages of progress in the subjects of concentration might be tried in the preparatory schools, and prove the solution to the problem. There must be, however, cooperation with the colleges, and one college must take the lead in starting a new system."

POINTS OF INTEREST IN THE ATHLETIC STAR

Mary Frances Hatchett, Capt.

Hatchett has been called the perfect guard. Her easy grace and excellent, clean, hard playing is a feature of every game. Mary Frances as captain of our varsity has ably led the team through a successful season.

Juliet Jones, Mgr.

Juliet is a speedy side center. Her perserverance has helped the team to win. She has served as business manager in addition to holding her place on the team. The varsity will miss Jones next year as she gets her degree in June.

Mary Clements

"Clem" is another senior who will leave a place hard to fill. As center she is steady and dependable. She uses her head and keeps it regardless. Her playing in the Harrisonburg game here was outstanding. She got the tap off repeatedly against her taller opponent.

Edith Coleman

Coleman plays well and consistently. Her team work is particularly fine. Our guards never failed to play outstandingly well in any game of the season.

Gwendolyn Hardy

"Gwen" as forward was really up to par in the Radford game there. Her calm, steady playing against a strong guard was unusually fine.

Laura N. Smith

Laura N. never gives up. She is a hard worker and a fast forward. Laura made nine free throws out of fourteen attempts at Radford. She is also accurate in shooting from the field.

Laura M. Smith

Laura M. can get aawy from her guard by her pretty pivots. She showed her real ability in the Fredericksburg game there by shooting more goals than any other player on the floor.

Mary Jane Wilkinson

Mary Jane has shown us some brilliant playing. She does not play as well consistently, but her left-handed shots "trick" the guards and she rarely misses an attempted goal.

Virginia Gurley

Gurley puts herself heart and soul ito a game. She is a fast player and she can really jump. As center she has shown unusual ability.

Anne Palmer

Annie P. plays well as side center with Gurley. She works faithfully and is always where she's really needed.

Elizabeth Atwater

"Eliz" can play well most anywhere she's put. This year she has played side center. She is fast and dependable.

Marguarite Erdman

When the team felt the loss of the captain on account of her illness, Erdman went in with Coleman in the Fredericksburg game and played guard splendidly.

Hutchinson, Oliver, Byrd, Sturgis

Although Adele Huchinson, Allie Oliver, Permele Byrd and Lillian Sturgis have not played in a regular varsity game this season they have been indispensable on the squad. Always loyal, always at practice, always putting their best into their playing, they have rendered unselfish service throughout the year.

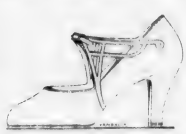
PI GAMMA MU SUPPER

In honor of two of their members, Gladys Sledd and Alice Carter, who are finishing up their work this term, Pi Gamma Mu gave an informal supper in the tea room on Tuesday night at six o'clock. Because the strain of exams was over and a new term was beginning every one had on her best dress and was in their gayest mood. Though all the members felt badly about seeing two of their number leave. They all had a good time and sent the departing girls off with good cheer and many invitations to return in the spring for a visit.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

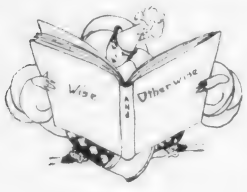
SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World



At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery



Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Baby: "Do my hands show any signs of toil?"

Craft: "Yes, the one with that ring shows you have been working."

The Chalk Line.

"When ice cream grows on macaroni trees
When Sahara's sands are muddy,
When cats and dogs wear overshoes,
That's when I like to study."

—The Chalk Line

Dr. Simkins: "What are the words you use most?"

Josie Carter:: "I don't know."

Dr. Simpkins: "Correct I'm sure."

E. Marshall: "Do you know what I tell?"

Cogbill: "No—what?"

Marshall: "I telephone."

—The Breeze

Cotton: "Senior at this school?"

Wiley: "Uh-huh—say you, too."

—The Breeze

Teacher: "John, I have went. That's wrong, isn't it?'.

John: "Yes, ma'am."

Teacher: "Why is it wrong?"

John: "Because you ain't went yet."

Virginia Walker says that pearls may come from oysters but some girls get diamonds from nuts.

Minnie Mae Brown wants to know why an egg is yellow on the inside if it is so hard-boiled!

He: "Are you fond of dumb animals?"

S. T. C.: "What a question! Aren't we engaged?"

Miss Pettit: "The first date in history was about 4000 B. C."

Aderholt: "Who had it?"

—H. S. Tiger

Helen Myers: "I feel like a million dollars tonight."

Keister: "How about paying me that five dollars you owe me?"

Becky had a little lamb
Given by a friend to keep
It followed her around until
It died from want of sleep.

Walton: "My alarm clock went off at 8 this morning."

Louise: "Has it come back yet?"

—Tiger

Etta: "What are you thinking about?"

Clements: "Oh, nothing."

Etta: "Can't you get your mind off yourself?"

A hungry dog wandered
Into a butcher store;
The butcher threw some sausage
To the dog upon the floor.
The butcher said, "Now eat it."
The dog said, "I decline,
For in that link of sausage I see
That old girl of mine."

—The Yellow Jacket

Ferrell says, truth hurts—and so would you if you were stretched so much.

SENIOR ALPHABET

Armfield can sew and Adams can sing
To be so accomplished is a very fine thing.
Babb, Beazley and Booker, Brightwell and Bull,
With all these bees the hive is quite full.
Clements plays basketball, Currie writes "gems"
Costen draws pictures at everyone's whims.
Says "Dulittle" to Davidson,
"I want the 'D'!"
Says Davidson to "Dulittle,"
"Then where will I be?"
Ellis and English and Ellison, too
All "E's", but different so what'll we do.
F is for Fitchett who plays the guitar
For Ferguson too, our writing star.
And Forehand whose math is above par
G for Graduation—it comes in June
For we who are left it comes too soon.
Chemists and debaters, three in a row
Hutt, Holladay, Holt, just watch 'em go!
I is for the image each will hold in her heart
Of the Alma Mater where she played her part.
Juliet Jones a basket ball star
She manages the team in it's travels afar.
K is for kindergarten where Louise Mac stays
She says she works, but we bet she plays.
Le Cato talks much; Lifsey does, too,
We put 'em together to see what they-'d do.
M is for Moore—one Ella Louise
We'll say she debates—you say what you please.
N is for nerve and it takes it too,
To do all the things our seniors do.
Oliver sings and debates, it is said—
Yet these 2 accomplishments don't go to her head.
Putney, our Eli, she's always with Clem,
And sometimes Mary Frances is found with them.
Q is for queer as these jingles might be
But we just had to mention our Seniors, you see.
R is for Royall, Christian indeed
She is the answer for everyone's need.
Smith, Alice Dorothy, she's demure and mild
She teaches math tho' she seems just a child.
T is for Tucker and Thomas, and too
Treakle is found, all for our White and Blue.
Updyke our good senior president true
She always knows the right thing to do.
V for Viola for some people say
Jackie Woodson's real name is Viola Gray.
Wiley and Woodson you'll find them all right
If they do stay up late on each Tuesday night.
X, Y and Z for the rest of them stand
Come on S. T. C. let's give them a hand!

ASSOCIATION OF VIRGINIA REGISTRARS

Continued from page 2

The meeting was voted a great success; quite a number of those present caught the inspiration which comes from such contacts and signified their intention of attending the national meeting in Cleveland. Two institutions which are not members of that body, stated that they would apply for membership at once.

State Teachers College was delighted to have this first meeting of the Virginia Association and hopes that the visitors were sufficiently pleased with their reception to repeat their visit, either individually or en masse.

ON BEING A "RAT"

Of all the ideas which I have ever had on any of various and sundry subjects, I think, perhaps, the most ludicrous was the idea of the ideal time which a college student had. Alas! since my dream of college days has been partly realized. I have had at least three or four of my ideas wholly changed. I say partly realized, because I feel that since I'm only a freshman I have not yet completed my dream or fantasy, whichever you may choose to call it.

In the first place, since I live in a college town. I, like many other inexperienced girls, conceived a very false idea of college life. The girls who attended college at home seemed to have such an easy, carefree existence! The moment you asked them a question about their favorite subjects, they stared in amazement, and dismissed you with a cold remark, such as, "Don't be a joy-killer." Then they turned away and sought more congenial companions with whom they conversed on such subjects as dances, parties, and all other social assets of college life.

From such an experience, being young and unaccustomed to the ways of the world, I quite naturally took it for granted that college students passed their courses without any study or preparation of any kind. How could I know? I only wished and waited for my college days.

Now I am experiencing that "lazy, carefree time" in my life, for I am a freshman at S. T. C. I really never have anything to study, for you know history, math, geography, and English require no preparation. Assignments in such subjects must be accepted as matters of course, and are not to be taken literally. And anyway, when ever I begin to study, someone calls with eagerness for me to get ready to go out for a walk or something of the sort. Scarcely have I resisted this temptation, when someone else comes along, trying to lure me into playing rook or bridge. Finally, I submit to her charming influence and go with her. I dismiss thoughts of my lessons by convincing myself that I will study later, which I never do.

Another idea of mine has been changed considerably. I always thought it would almost be Paradise on earth if I could live away from home in a school with girls where everyone understood everyone else. Now I find a different state of affairs; instead of everyone's understanding me, I have to share my heart-aches and fears with myself. Of course there are plenty of girls to whom I might go, but perhaps they wouldn't understand. So, I have to decide to cry, or else fight it out alone. Sometimes, I succeed; often, I fail. However, I am consoled when I think that it was my own plan and desire to leave my comfortable home.

The life of a "rat" (of all abominable creatures!), as we are called by superior upperclassmen, is one skirmish after another. We have our burdens to bear as well as a part of those of the sophomores, for it there is anything unpleasant in their daily tasks they ask us to do it for them. Sometimes we yield to their desires in order to prevent an argument which we would surely lose. Meek as a mouse, and "sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust" that some day we will be sophomores, we perform our daily tasks.

Of course, I could go on naming various ideals which have been shattered by my brief experience as a college freshman, but I will continue again when I am in a better mood. Perhaps I built my air-castles too high in the heavens for an earthly institution, but I can know that I did have high ideals and such are not attainable in this earthly kingdom.

If I have overdrawn facts, I beg the pardon of my readers, and confess that after all I would not exchange places with anyone anywhere, for I love old S. T. C.!

—V. R. F. '31

SOCIAL

The following girls spent the week-end in Norfolk: Sarah Baker, Miriam Bray, Alice Covington, Genevieve Grimes, Carolea Harris, Mildred Maddrey, Isobel Macdonald, Florence Reed.

• • •

Mary Beasley, Elizabeth Miller, Nan Griffith and Ann Guy spent the week-end in Hampton.

• • •

Olivia Booker spent last week-end at her home.

• • •

Evelyn Coleman visited her home in Amherst over the week-end.

• • •

Lucille Campbell visited in Cluster Springs last week-end.

• • •

Louisa Currie spent the week-end at Merry Point.

• • •

Elizabeth Chandler visited her home in Buffalo Junction last week-end.

• • •

Lucy Thompson spent last week-end in Emporia.

• • •

Frances Guthrie visited in Emporia last week-end.

INTER-CLASS VOLLEY BALL GAMES TO BE PLAYED SOON

With the closing of the basket ball season our thoughts naturally turn to the next sport—volley ball.

The interclass games are to be played April 2nd and 3rd or the 3rd and 4th. On the first night the Sophomores meet the Freshmen and the Juniors play the Seniors. The next night the winning teams will play for the championship.

In order to allow every one a chance to practice a scheduled has been arranged for all classes. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from four until six the Sophomore, Junior and Senior teams, will practice on Tuesdays and Thursdays, the Freshmen have the court. This arrangement makes it possible for all to practice.

ON ORDERING A RING

Another milepost in my college life has been reached—I have ordered my senior ring. Oh, how I used to envy the mighty Seniors who wave with such dignity their signs of high rank. What covetous eyes I cast at their beautiful senior rings. How I longed for the time to come so that I might wear one, too.

The time has come and I don't feel at all as I thought I would. I used to think that I would gain dignity with the acquisition of my ring. I haven't. I still run up and down the steps. I still act in a manner which suits a freshman more than a partial senior. I still have a long way to go before I gain dignity. The ordering of my ring has made me realize though, how near I am to the end. It has made me realize more than ever what my college means to me. It makes me think of the many things I could have done (I should have done)—but did not do. Even if I haven't gained dignity I have gained a realization of the dignity of my Alma Mater and its meaning for me.

THE ORIGINAL
Onyx Pointed Heel Stockings
Specially Priced
FROM MARCH 5th to 10th
Greenberg's Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week March 26—31

MON.—Olive Borden and Lawrence Gray in "Pajamas." A special production. The romance of a girl who found love and faith again while fighting for life against nature's grim realities among the mounains of the North with the man who had scorned her. Also Pathe News and Comedy.. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

TUES.—Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes in "No Place to Go." Oh, girls, what a cave man! They got stranded on a desert isle and had no place to go. But when he started to give her some South Sea loving—boy—she didn't want any place to go-Also Serial.

WED.—Ken Maynard and Virginia Brown Faire in "Gun Gospel." Romance that matches the beauty of the Golden West—action that lifts you to new heighst of emoion. Drama and acting that only Ken Maynard can bring you. You'll find them all in this de luxe drama of the great wide open spaces. Don't miss this, it is extra good- Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—Bebe Daniels in the Paramount picture, "She's a Sheik." A joyous comedy romance in "Beau Gests" setting! She loved a man who loved another but—she was used to having her own way, so she kidnaps him, takes him out into the desert—and tames him. You'll shriek! Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.'

As an extra added attraction Thalhimer Bros, of Richmond, Va., willi have six live models in a style show, showing the latest styles in ladies dresses.

FRI. AND SAT, at Matinee only—Sally O'Neill, Mollie O'Day and Allen Forrest in Beatruce Fairfax's great romance, "The Lovelorn." If you're in love, ever were in love, ever hope to be in love, don't miss this picture! Two sisters with one boy friend! You must see what happens. Also comedy.

FRI. AND SAT, at nigh only—George Bancroft, Clive Brook and Evelyn Brent in the big Paramount special, "Underworld." Unbelievable! Indescribable. Underworld! A tale of modern caveman primitives—living—loving and—! Judged as one of the best pictures of the year. Also comedy.

Admission prices for S. T. C. girls, if tickets are bought at college, 25 cents to each show.

YOU HAVE A WEEK TO THINK—THEN VOTE!

THE ROTUNDA

POE

HOLIDAYS TO EXTEND FROM NOON OF APRIL 5 TO APRIL 10

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 1928 NO. 23

DEAN'S LIST TO BE USED AT S. T. C.

Seniors Making A or B on Everything Are to be Privileged

Almost every school has a means of recognizing scholarship and superior ability. Quite a few schools use the Dean's List for this purpose. It is Dean's List that Farmville would have. A Dean's List is a list of the names of all students making a grade of B on each subject taken. What does a Dean's List do besides recognize scholarship? What benefits and privileges are derived from it? A student on the Dean's List may be absent from class and receive no penalties inflicted for absence alone. The student, however, is held responsible for all written work except unannounce quizzes, and for all laboratory work. The true value of the Dean's List lies in the fact that it permits a long period of concentrated energy to be spent on one piece of work such as a term paper or special report. It encourages a sense of responsibility in the student's exercising privilege at optional classes attendance. The student must carefully weigh the value of class discussions in order to wisely judge which discussion she can best afford to miss. That it encourages over-cutting is one of the most patent criticisms of the system. Yet that is skillfully handled because if a student fails at any time to make the grade of B on any subject and is reported by any member of the faculty to headquarters, she is automatically dropped from the list. If the student were capable of being on the Dean's List and interested in her classes the desire for cutting becomes a minor factor. Decidedly the system of a Dean's List benefits the student.

Members of the faculty together with a few students have long been discussing the advisability of such a system for S. T. C. It has been decided to accept such a system as an experiment with the Senior Class. If the experiment proves a successful one it will be extended to other classes. The future of the Dean's List rests with the Senior Class. It is up to the Seniors to prove to the faculty that such a system as the Dean's List will work successfully.

ATTEND PI KAPPA DELTA CONVENTION

On Saturday, March 31, Dr. Walmsley, Alice Wiley and Louise McCormick will leave to attend the Pi Kappa Delta convention at Tiffin, Ohio. The convention is to be held jointly at Tiffin and Berea from April 2 to April 6.

Pi Kappa Delta is a national honorary forensic fraternity. It ranks as high as any collegiate forensic fraternity in the country. The Debating Club was invited to send a team to represent S. T. C. in the women's contest to be held at Berea. This is an honor which is rarely ever given a college which is not a member of the fraternity.

MISS WILLIS PRESENTS "CYRANO DE BERGERAC"

Displays Unique Ability in Oral Dramatization of Rostand's Play

A small, but appreciative audience greeted Miss Rose Willis for her rendering of "Cyrano De Bergerac" in the auditorium last Friday evening.

Miss Willis, who needed no introduction here, was presented by Dr. Walmsley in a few well chosen remarks. She prefaced her reading with a brief account of some events in the life of of the real Cyrano de Bergerac upon which Rostand's drama is based. By her charming personality she won her audience during these few introductory words, and they followed her with interests throughout the play.

Her interpretation of the different characters showed her unusual dramatic ability, and the ease with which she changed from the viewpoint of one of them to that of another made it easy for her hearers to understand the various situations and events through which they passed. If she can be said to have been better as one character than as another, it was as Roxane, the charming cousin and secretly beloved sweetheart of Cyrano, that she most excelled.

This reading strengthened the hold Miss Willis had made upon our hearts when she was here last year, and we sincerely hope we shall again next year have an opportunity to hear her again.

JONGLEURS TO PRESENT "OUTWARD BOUND" SOON

On next Tuesday, April 3rd., the Jongleurs of Hampden-Sydney College will present to the public in the S. T. C. auditorium one of the most novel plays ever to be shown in a theatre. It is so novel, in fact, that it took several months for the author, Sutton Vane, to select the proper title for it. After much consideration the title, "Outward Bound" was chosen. The play was first produced at the Everyman Theatre, Hampstead, London, and was first presented in America by William Harris, Jr., at the Apollo Theatre, Atlantic City, N. J. Since then it has enjoyed long and successful runs in nearly every large city of the U. S. and Canada.

GIRLS ATTEND CONFERENCE—R. M. W. C.

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet training conference which is held every year in some Virginia College will meet the week-end of April 1 at Randolph-Macon Womans College in Lynchburg. Sammy Scott, Margaret Finch and one member of the Freshman Commission will represent S. T. C.

Bertha Conde, author of "The Business of Being a Friend" will speak, Miss Katherine Butler, secretary of southern division of Y. W. C. A., will be present. There will be representatives from all women's colleges in Virginia, who will meet for inspiration and training in Y. W. C. A. work.

RESULTS OF POPULAR CONTEST

Walmsley and Willis Are Favorites of Faculty and Student Body

Last week the students had an opportunity to express their opinion on the teacher and also the student whom they considered the most popular.

DR. J. E. WALMSLEY

Dr. J. E. Walmsley was selected the most popular teacher. This is evident without words. Girls love him as a pal, adviser or friend, they respect, admire and work for him as a teacher. In fact, his class room is the only one that has the distinction of having practically every good seat reserved days ahead at the beginning of each term. They follow this up by applying themselves in class and in deriving, not only book sense, but every day sense. Girls work for Dr. Walmsley when they will work for no one else. He encourages, he understands, he has faith in girls.

FRANCES WILLIS

"Pannie" Willis was elected as the most popular girl in school. Pannie is so jollly, so full of fun. Yet, Pannie

(Continued on Page Three)

RESULT OF NOMINATIONS FOR MAJOR OFFICES

Elections Will be Held on April 3.— Very Important

The results of the nominations held Tuesday, March 27 are as follows:

President of Student Government
Frances Willis
Ann Ferree

President of the Y. W. C. A.
Margaret Finch
Sammy Scott

President of Athletic Association
Mary Frances Hatchett
Laura Smith

Editor-in-Chief of the Virginian
Virginia Raine
Margaret Hansel

Editor-inChief of the Rotunda
Pearl Etheridge
Peggy Walton

Elections are to be held next Tuesday, April 3. There are to be three polls, one for the Student Building and the annex, another for the main building and another for the cottages. These places will be designated later. Only four hundred and fifty nominations were cast. This is not half of the student boddy. The girls elected for the major offices of the schools should represent the student body, and they will not be representative if every girl does not turn out to the polls.

Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, support your school and vote for the best candidate next Tuesday.

RULES GOVERNING COMING ELECTIONS

The following rules will govern elections:

A—Places:

1. All students rooming in Student Building and Annex will vote on third floor annex in hall next to Student Building.
2. All students rooming in small dormitories and in town will vote in the cloak room.
3. All students rooming in the Main Building and wings will vote on the second floor Main Building by rotunda.

B—Time:
April 3, 1928
From 8 o'clock until 6 o'clock.

C—Vote for YOUR choice!

D—Do not loiter around polls.

E—Vote where you have been assigned because your name will only be checked there.

COTILLION AND LOTUS CLUBS TO HAVE DANCES

On Friday night the Lotus Club will have a large dance in the Recreation Hall and it is expected that people from all over the State will attend both that and the Cotillion Club dance which will be held in the Recreation Hall on Saturday night. "Kay" Kyser and his orchestra will play on both occasions and everyone knows what that means.

STUDENT STANDARDS COMMITTEE

To Be Voted on By the Student Body at Polls Soon

During the time of the election of officers for the coming year at S. T. C. seems to be an appropriate time to call the student body's attention to the proposed point system which has been organized and arranged by the student's standard committee.

It has been the custom in this school for one girl to be limited to holding offices which would not give her more than ten points. For instance, if she held two offices which counted five points, she should accept no more. Carrying more than ten points has been considered piggish because it naturally knocks another girl out of an office that could possibly be held just as efficiencly by one who has not received the recognition that the other girl has received.

However, the point ssystem, which is given in the student government handbook, is very incomplete. It is possible for girls to be over-laden with work without being credited with ten points while others have more than ten points and yet have less work than the first girl mentioned.

The Student Standards Committee realizes this problem and makes the following recommendations to the student body:

First: That ten of the points listed in the student handbook be the number for the student making an average scholastic grade, or C, and that the student whose average for one term is A or B may be allowed to carry an excess of one to five points the next term, while the student making an average of D may not carry as many as ten points.

Second: That a supervising committee be appointed, two from the Student Standards Committee, and three from the student body, whose duty shall be to list each quarter the names of those students holding offices evaluated in points, and check the number against the average found in the Registrar's office.

Third: That the Student Standards Committee be allowed to take charge of cases in which students have more than fifteen points to decide whether the excess points can be allowed.

Fourth: That changes be made in the present values as follows:

Secretary of Senior Class	1
Secretary of Junior Class	1
Secretary of Sophomore Class	1
Secretary of Freshman Class	1

Fifth: That new points be added as follows:

Member Pi Kappa Omega	2
Member Alpha Delta Rho	2
Member Pi Gamma Mu	2
Member of Debating Club:
Intercollegiate class	3
Public debate class	2
Faculty class	1

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief — EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29

Board of Editors

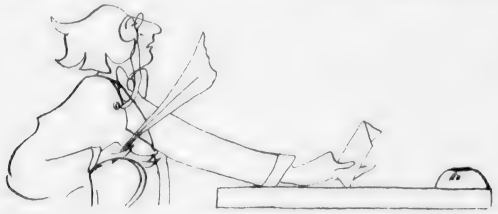
Literary — LOUISA CURRIE, '28
Social — MARY DUNCAN, '29
Humorous — BEULAH JARVIS, '30
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY, '29
Current Events — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
MARY ELLEN CATO, '31 — JULIA WILSON, '29
MARY FRANCES SHEPHERD, '30 — VIRGINIA PETTIGREW, '31
LOUISE FOSTER, '29 — CATHERINE BENTLEY, '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28



Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTON, '30
Circulation Manager — FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant — MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

THE LINE OF LEAST RESISTANCE

Are you known in this school? Do you have influence over at least one girl? Do at least five girls know you well enough to distinguish you in a crowd? If so, you are the girl to whom this editorial is written. You are the guilty one. Or,—are you an example for others. What are the "on-lookers" opinion of you? What is the opinion o fthose who know you best?

In this little world of ours, the school, and in this big world of ours, the universe, God has selected a definite place for us to fill. It is our goal, our ideal, our ambition—or a little more than that. Yet, in His understanding way, God realizes that in order to be fuly worthy of our goal we must be built inwardly bigger and better. In other words, we must overcome obstacles, we must hold to our ideals, we must not follow the line of least resistance. In words, in thoughts, in actions we must overcome the littleness of things. Then, by discriminhting between the best and the lesser best, we will not feel guilty of having the wrong influence on the one girl who respects our decision, and we will not have a fear of making a questionable impression on those five who notice us in a crowd. With our shoulder to the wheel always, with our hearts, our minds, our actions always being our best we will come nearer to our highest destination. But what about those who follow the line of least resistance?

BUSY WORLD BITS

On the night of March 13 the great St. Francis dam spanning Santa Francisquito Canyon collapsed and loosed a seventy-eight foot wall of water on the valley's sleeping inhabitants. Hundreds of people' were killed, towns and villages destroyed and valuable orchard land buried under several feet of mud. Officials are at a loss to account for the sudden collapse of the dam, although some admit that slight earth tremors that have occurred recently in California may have been a contributing cause for the break.

Last week 60,000 peaceful peasants marched upon Bucharest and sent their leader, Dr. Julin, to petition Ventela Bratano to resign. It seems that the nation is not willing to accept Ventella and they were to obey the former premier John his brother. It is causing quite a bit of interest to see what V. Bratiano will do—wil lhe bend now or break later?

Queen Marie of Roumania has recently compiled a story for the children of America as she promised during her visit to United States in 1926. She is also writing a story of her life.

A holy war is reported to be raging in Arabia and parts adjacent. As we understand it, a holy war is about as holy as a civil war is civil—New York Evening Post.

Colonel Lindbergh, adjudged to have done more to promote international good will than any other living man is awarded the Woodrow Wilson Foundation peace prize and medal.

President Calles of Mexico says that Ambassodor Morrow has created a new era of American-Mexican friendship. In a message of welcome to a party of journalists at his palace President Calles spoke highly of the good work done by Morrow.

NEXT

Oh! that little word "next;" I wish it would sound as simple to me as it really is; I wish it would not make my heart beat in my mouth so often I go into a dentist's waiting room feeling brave, but when "Next!" comes ringing to my ears I become a bunch of nerves. Even when the barber calls out this word I am almost inclined to let my hair grow long.

To my great sorrow "next" is a popular word here at the Teachers College; in fact, no one seems to avoid it but me. I enter Miss Mary's office with a very clever little talk, but when she calls out "Next!" to me I forget every word of it. Then, too, if a girl in one of my classes misses a question and the teacher points out the individual pupils saying, "Next; next; next;" I think I shall faint away if someone does not answer the question before it reaches me.

I cannot close without mentioning the moments I stand in that long line, gradually making my way to the supply room door, and when it comes my time to receive that horrible sound "Next!" I feel as if I have had an electric shock.

To make a long story short, no matter how I hear "next" used it casts an unpleasant feeling over me. Now, don't think that I am sacriligious if I admit that I sincerely hope the word "next" will not be used on the Judgment Day.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

A training table for debates is the latest Harvard innovation. It is thought by the waches that discussions at lunch and dinner will give the contestants greater opportunity than they now have to become thoroughly acquainted with the debate topics, even if table talk in one section of Harvard is likely to become a bit tiring.—The New Student.

According to "The New Student" the Univeristy of West Virginia has been expelled from membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, for paying its athletes and failing to audit its athletic funds. Specifically it has been charged with paying members of the football squad.

"The Carolinian" reports that "The Evening," by Channing Pollock, was one of the best and most successful plays given by the Playmakers at N. C. C. W.

Recently Mrs. Herbert Hoover spoke to the girls of Sweet Briar, complimenting their school in many ways, especially as to its small size.—The Sweet Briar News.

WOMAN'S PRIVILEGE

"When women take over all the habits and practices of men they are bound to lose a great deal of the charm they strive so hard to procure," thinks one university professor according to an article in The Emerald, of the University of Oregon.

Another believes that "As far as right goes girls have as much right to smoke as boys, but why does anyone want the right,"

A more liberal teacher says, "I cant' see anything wrong with it. It is quite prevalent on a number of campuses, and the girls seem to get by with it all right."

But another professor says, "Years ago we put woman on a pedestal and respected her a great deal, now she has climbed down by herself and is crawling around in the dirt at man's feet."

Still another is of a similar opinion, "A girl does everything in the world to make herself attractive, she wants pretty clothes and insists upon being well groomed at any cost, and then she smokes and spoils it all. Smoking is a very unfeminine thing and any girl who lowers herself to it loses her natural prestige."

Says The Emerald in summing up the whole discussion, "After all, it comes back to the same decision, it is a woman's right but it is her privilege,"—The New Student.

"Respect for reserve and reticence in a friend is essential to a lasting relationship. The people that we tire of quickly are those who speedily reveal all that there is to be revealed. All their family and personal secrets have been babbled freely and they wear their hearts on their sleeves. We draw away from such friends because we are sure that they will have reverence for our hearts since they show so little for their own."—Bertha Conde.

"We cannot expect divinity of our friends even though our love would delight to crown them with a halo."—Bertha Conde.

"Life was given me to use
But when it makes me tired or blue
I'm letting it use me instead—
And that's a foolish thing to do."
—Rebecca McCann.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville —:: —:: —Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers" OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

THE DAY BEFORE APRIL

The day before April,
Alone, alone,
I walked in the woods
And sat on a stone.

I sat on a broad stone
And sang to the birds.
The tune was God's making
But I made the words.

NIGHT

Bright sun
Behind the hills
Sets—
Bright stars
Shining in the heavens
Twinkle—
Bright moon guards them
Peacefully—
God
Cares for them all.

B. Z. C. '31

MY DREAM LADY

Sometimes when I am alone, my Dream Lady comes to visit me. She enters into my moods and always makes me glad that she is there. When I am sad, she is quiet and subdued, yet able to make me forget my sorrows and become cheerful, and when I am happy, she matches me with the gayest of moods. My Dream Lady cames and goes at will. I have never been able to make her appear and often she comes when I least expect her.

Sometimes she is wearing white, sometimes misty gray or lavender. Never has she come attired in black or somber colors, and never have I seen her in a bad humor. Her soft white hair on her brow, so lightly that as well as I know her, I can hardly realize that she has passed through many years of life. Her face is sweet and tender, while there is a great light of understanding and love in her deep blue eyes. Her life has been spent in service for others, and the peace and happiness which she gained from it shows clearly in her face. Always she is sweet and considerate of me, always I feel much better after seeing her. Do you ask me who my Dream Lady is? Why she is just what I would like to be when I am old.

LIBERTY AGAIN

Does Aunt Janey love me? Well, if you'd take her word for it, she hates all little boys, and since my name's Jimmy I suppose I'm one of those little boys that she just can't stand for nothing. That's why I follow her every day when Mrs. Tattle calls her out to the side fence that we had to put up 'cause our chickens dug up all Mrs. Tattle's old flowers.

You don't know Mrs. Tattle, do you? Well, you'd better thank your stars you don't. She can't do any thing 'cept talk 'bout how sad life's been with her since poor old Mr. Tattle died. Father said 'twan't no wonder at all her husbands had died, one night terreckly after she'd left our house, and you should've seen Aunt Janey's nose. She narrowed it down 'til 'twan't much wider'n nothin'; then she stuck it up to the ceiling, and out she swished. Anyhow, Mrs. Tattle ain't been over here since that night, 'cept to see Aunt Janey, now she's so sick. You see, Aunt Janey and Mrs. Tattle, they was school chums a long, long time ago and they ain't got over it yet. Mother said she wished Aunt Janey would eat Mrs. Tattle up and be done with it, but I wish they'd eat each other. That's what I'd do.

I don't see what Aunt Janey ever came to live with us nohow. She don't do a thing but say 'Jimmy dear, do this, and Jimmy dear, do that', and get that little look to come into her eyes that means she'll tell who broke Mrs. Tattle's old front door glass if I don't move right away.

But you know when that big snow came,—you know, the great big one that's almost gone now? Well, as usual old Mrs. Tatttle called Aunt Janey out to the fence right after dinner, and I went too, but I didn't stay. No sir, they wouldn't let nobody hear their old secrets,—as if anybody'd want to. All I heard 'em say was, 'Did you hear 'bout,—then they spied me and 'twas, 'Jimmy, run on back into the house,' and when I didn't make no move to go that tell-taley look came into Aunt Janey's eyes—but then, I didn't want to hear what they were talking 'bout nohow. Besides, it was beginning to freeze, listening to their old tales?

I 'most had it all worked out, you know, how I was going to get even 'n everything when Mary Jane wanted me to play dolls with her. Now, what in the world did I want to play with that seven-year-old baby for, and especially dolls? Umph, not me! So I told her straight out what I'd do for her if she didn't leave me alone. Then she started off to tell Mother, the babyish thing. She forgot that, though, when she got to the window and looked out. She just come running back to me like something that didn't have no sense a-tall. You'd o' thought she'd seen a whole circus the way she yelled, 'Oh, Jimmy, come and look at the snow men somebody's done made!' I looked, but I knew them won't no snow men.

And now, I won't have to bother 'bout gettin' even for ever so long, 'cause Aunt Janey has the pneumonia. Mother says she'll be sick for a long long time; Father says he bets she's cured of gossiping for a spell; Mary Jane says she c'n cut paper dolls in the sittin' room, again; and I says, Jim, ole man, you c'n do your worse.

—B. G. '28

VARSITY BANQET HELD

The basket ball season closed with a banquet given in the Banquet Hall last Thursday evening at which time the squad and Miss Iler had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Jarman.

In addition to the program and food the banquet proved to be a succession of pleasant surprises. Every member of the squad was presented with a picture of the squad in an attractive frame while Miss Iler was given a portfolio. In turn, to the varsity team's surprise, Miss Iler gave each girl who had played the required number of quarters a silver basket ball with the exception of Captain Hatchett who was given a gold one. There are gifts and gifts, but to a player, a basket ball is the best of all.

POPULARITY CONTEST

Continued from page one

has a serious strain, a deep current that is symbolic of service and of love for her fellow students. She is a happy combination that naturally brings to her admiration and love of faculty members as well as students.

SOCIAL

Margaret Davis, Elizabeth Antrim, Minerva Evans, Marguerite Dowdy, Blanche Murrell, Estelle Richardson, Virginia Rankin, Mary Stalpes, Bess Thompson, Ann Wren, Ethel Weld, Marguerite Foster, and Elizabeth Atwater spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

• • •

Eleanor Dashiell, Gertrude Lindaver, Jane Martin, Etta Marshall were in Portsmouth last week-end.

• • • •

Mary Keller, Mary Greever and Edythe Priddy spent last week-end in Cumberland.

• • •

The following girls visited in Richmond last week-end: Katherine Laing, Louise Marshall, Viola Elliott.

• • •

Emelyn Mills visited in Mineral last week-end.

• • •

Miss Mary White Cox had as her guests for the week-end her sister, Miss Ruth Cox, Miss Anna Bruce Whitmore and Miss Sallie Moran.

• • •

Miss Alice B. Dugger, the former librarian at S. T. C. has been in Farmville for a few days.

• • •

Dora Page Thornhill visited in Appomattox last week-end.

• • •

Lucy Tunstalll visited her home in Crewe last week-end.

• • •

Elizabeth and Louise Marshall, Frances Bell and Mary Duncan spent the week-end in Halifax.

Ella Webb spent last week-end at her home in South Boston.

Gladys Dillion spent several days in Roanoke.

Clara Carter was at her home in Cumberland for the week-end.

Ruth Wyatt and Irma Milam visited their homes in Mount Aairy over the week-end.

Lucille Field, Margaret Leonard and Kathryn Jones and Elizabeth Smitherman spent the week-end in Richmond.

The following girls spent the week-end in Lynchburg: Helen Myers, Elizabeth Ferrell, Eleanor Hogan, Beulah Jarvis, Phyllis Wood and Margaret Tompkins.

Elizabeth Beavans, Carolyn Maddux and Mary Tucker spent the week-end in Blackstone.

Minnie Brown visited in Danville last week-end.

Helen Davidson spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Carolea Harris spent several days in Kenbridge.

Margaret Huyett visited her home in Charlottesville over the week-end.

Georgia May Parker is at her home at Whaleyville.

Doris Tucker spent the week-end at her home in Crewe.

VARSITY PICNIC

Saturday afternoon the basketball squad and Miss Iler were guests of honor at a picnic given by Miss Thomas, Miss Barlow and Miss Jeter.

The picnic started with a hike to Farmville Lake and as the weary, footsore hikers neared the Lake an inviting campfire greeted their eyes.

Over this campfire the squad toasted weinies and marshmallows, and they were served hot coffee, sandwiches and fruits.

At seven-fifteen the merry-makers returned to S. T. C., causing a sensation as they entered the reception hall. Their happy expressions (tho weary feet) gave testimony of the good time they had experienced.

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

MARY CHRISTIAN ROYALL

One hears a quick step down the hall. One sees a bright smile and hears a friendly greeting. Mary Christian Royall, our Student Council president has passed.

The services and contributions of this girl to her Alma Mater are innumerable. The only phase of student life that Chris doesn't star in is athletics. We might say that she stars there, too, because she wears herself out rooting at the games!

Seriously and lightly we talk of Mary Christian. That is the girl. Her ideals are far above those of most girls. And unlike many of us she lives up to those ideals. Her serious thoughts and friendly consideration is with every girl in school. When there's a serious question to be pondered Chris puts her very self into it. And, on the other hand, what makes her loved by most of us is her humor and her love of fun. She can be foolish and lovable and funny and she can be very sweetly serious. That is why those who really know her call her an ideal student body president.

Grace Allen thought of such a senior as Mary Christian Royall when she wrote:

"Cap and gown, cap and gown (who wove the velvet rainbow?)—
Slowly they go by me 'till they reach a pillared porch.
When lo, not merely caps and gowns pass in between the pillars there,
But suddenly each figure is a runner with a torch."

The torch of leadership has been loyally and bravely carried high by our president. We have followed and have helped her to lead.

Mary Christian in her three years with us makes us regret that her freshman year was spent at Hollins. In June we will see her go, and as we have followed her this year, in June her sister caps and gowns, "choked with prayer will follow on."

ELLA LOUISE MOORE

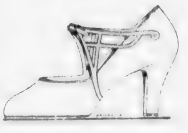
"Weesie" Moore is a Senior, who in June for a degree will exchange a record of service, achievement and loyalty. For four years she has worked faithfully and well for the advancement of her Alma Mater. Rendering service, without knowing it, giving aid without expecting acknowledgement, she has been recognized by her Alma Mater as a staunch

(Continued on last page)

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World



At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Rankin: "There are several things I can always count on."

Houchins: "What are they?"

Rankin: "My fingers."

Hatchett: "I had my nose broken in three places."

Jones: "Well, you should stay out of those places!"

S. T. C. "These shoes hurt me every step I take."

Duroc: "Take longer steps and there won't be so many hurts."

Anna B.: "I was on the stage once."

"Dopey": "Yeah?"

Anna B.: "Yeah! I fell out of the balcony."

Barbara: "I saw a woman on the street the other day with one side of her face entirely black."

Banna Price: "It isn't possible."

Barbara: "Sure; the other side was black, too. Yale Record.

Miss Pettit: "Who was it that prompted you I distinctly heard some one whisper that date?"

Humpty: "Excuse me, Miss, but I expect that it was history repeating itself."

Billet Doux Love Letters from the Market

"My dear Sweet Potato:

Do you carrot all for me? My heart beets for you. You are the apple of my eye. If we cantaloupe, lettuce marry. We shall make a happy pear.

Your loving Cocoanut

—The Chalk Line

Wood: "I was absolutely historical with laughter."

Woodson: "You mean hysterical."

Wood: "I don't—I laughed for ages and ages."—Brackety-Ack.

No, Munn, a man who smashed a clock would not be convicted for killing time, if the clock struck first.

Strader: "I hope you will pardon my dancing on your feet. I'm a little out of practice."

Thornton: "I don't mind your dancing on them. It's the continual jumping off and on that aggravates me!"

"The best evidence of moral blindness is to be able to look at one's self and still remain satisfied."—Selected

Girls, skip this paragraph! It is really unfit for publication. It got in to the manuscript by some mistake, and I asked the printer to destroy it, or set it wrong side up.

If there's anything worries a woman, it's something she ought not to know. You can bet she'll find it out sooner or later.

If you give her the least hint of snow, Now, we'll wager a dollar to a jitney This poem she'd already read We know she'd set it in a sonnetIf she had to stand on her head.

JUNIOR ALPHABET

A—is for Archer, she's a sweet young thing;
B—is for Bentley, Bully, and Bass
C—is for Carmine, a demure, young lass.
D—is for "Dunc" who reminds us of spring.
E—is for Etheridge of intelligence rare;
F—is for Foster with gorgeous red hair.
G—is for Grainger and Garrett so sweet;
H—is for Hardy, our star athlete.
I—is for Iler the finest Class Man;
J—is for Johnson, a V. P. I. fan.
K—is for Kellam quiet as a mouse;
L—is for Liebman who prowls thru the house.
M—is for McIntyre, our prima dona fine;
O—is for Orgain who has a good mind.
P—is for Preston of artistic fame
R—is for Junior—"Rainy" by name
S—is for Scott, our treasurer fine;
T—is for Trift who in math does shine.
V—is for Vaughan, charming and sweet,
W—is for Willis whom we're all glad to greet.
X, Y & Z—include all the rest—
So if there are any complaints or errors, appeal to the author of the above alphabet!!

JUST BETWEEN US GIRLS

"My dear, I mean I'm SIMply exhAUSTed, I mean I REally am. Exams were just tOO much for MY frAil constitution. I STUdied and STUdied, by dear, until I felt as if I had EAten literary data and chemistry problems. I mean the PROFESSors made me SO MAD I could GARgle BUTtermilk, I studied ONE MAMMOTH bunch of facts and my DEAR, do you think they asked me ANY of them? NO, they asked WEIRD positively—I mean weird questions about something I had NEVER HeArd of much LESS in connection with thAT parTICUlar course. Don't ASK me how MAny I flunked, my dear, I just WOuldn't have the heART to tell you I REEally don't understand how it happened mySELF. I didn't CUT classes but two or three TIMES and I stayed right in SCHool the week-end of March 10 and exams. My dear, I mean I never WILL REALLY comprehend my FAILure. From NOW on my dear, I shall really become the ORIGinal GRInd. I mean I'll really be a BOOK worm and I'll stay here EVEry SINGLE week-end then they'll simply HAFTA pass me. Oh! why, I forGOT, my dear, it simply LEFT my mind, I couldn't POSSIbly miss those diVINE Easters at Virginia I just KNow that is the week-end some prof. of MIne will plan a FEST. Just between US, my dear I don't underSTAND this educational SYStem and I mean I NEVer shall. Let's forget lessons and go downtown for a while, I'll read my parallel tomorrow!

AILMENTS CLASSIFIED

Ailments! Each one to a group according to her ailments. You have heard of assorted pickles? Well, there are assorted ailments of various and sundry kinds.

Yes, you have heard of smoking fiends, too, who have no cigarettes, no matches, nothing but the habit. In the new physical education class we have no suits, no tennis shoes as yet, nothing but ailments which are being assorted according to the variations in their serenity.

IF THEY WERE EDITORS

College Humor	Alice Wiley
Vanity Fair	Ann Deffenbaugh
Style	"Pannie" Willis
Life	"Skinny" Craft
Dance Lore	"Liz" Sawyer
The Musician	Etta Marshall
Theatre Magazine,	Mary Will Vincent
The Sportswoman	Mary Frances Hatchett
The Skipper	Elsa Gudheim
The Sniper	Ann Palmer
Virginia Reel	"Dopey" Malbon
Scientific American	Sammy Scott
Country Gentleman,	"Cousin Tommy"
The Forensic	Elizabeth Hutt
Arts and Decorations	Louise Costen
The Literary Digest	Helen Davidson
The Independent	Becky Liebman
National Geographic	Lois Fraser
International Studio	"Liz" Ferrell
Bookman	Alice Carter
The English Journal	Anna Cahoon
Journal of Home Economics	"Liz" Armfield
Medical Journal	"Bobby" Gleason
Good Housekeeping,	Elizabeth Casey
Photoplay	The Student Body
Youth's Companion	Dr. Walmsley
Cosmopolitan	Dr. Jarman
Les Annals	Marjorie Codd

CLASSES

I have had classes and classes—many in number, many in kind. I have usually attended them.

I have on occasions sat breathlessly on the edge of my seat—eyes wide, mouth, I fear, open, oblivious of all except the fascination of the class; the teacher's voice was as enchanted, magic.

I have used gallons of ink and crates of pencils, inscribing notes never to be used—facts unnumbered, catalogued not in my brain, but on thousands of sheets of notepaper. Frantically I wrote, and if I read them, it was frantically, so evident was the multiplicty of facts and the scarcity of seconds.

I have attended classes. Yes, but I have been miles, even thousands of miles, removed. Dear teachers, you did not interest me! Bluntly brought back to consciousness, I have stammered answers to my questions, only to be informed by my disillusioning neighbor, that my original point had been discussed for ten minutes before.

Marvelous works of art have I made with pen and pencil. Sketches of my class mates, of the school room furnishings, of the latest fashions, representations of my own imagination, roused to action for my amusement. Attractive printing decorates my books and notes—more elaborate and painstaking than ever is used for exhibition.

I have been bored in classes, bored beyond the limit of human endurance, I have yawned until my jaws ached. I have punched myself, pinched myself, all in vain. Alas, I slept.

WHAT WE WOULDN'T HAVE THEM LOSE

Nancy Nelms—Her golden voice!
Phyllis Wood—Her chatter!
Humpty Jones—Her shortness!
Alice Wiley—Her laugh!
Pannie Willis—Her understandingness!
Ann Palmer—Her dates!
Mayo Bass—Her men!
Ann Deffenbaugh — Her beauty secrets!
Chris Royall—Her free service!
Red Foster—Her red hair!
Louise McCormick—Her stage presence!
Etta Marshall—Her smile!
Evelyn Dulaney—Her interest!
Greenhow Parker—Her disposition!
Pearl Etheridge—Her helping words!

MONOGRAM CLUB BEGINS WORK

During the winter it is very hard for the Monogram Club to hold tryouts but with the coming of spring everyone begins to take interest and looks longingly at the blue and white S. T. C.

On Saturday, the girls who wished to win a monogram were given a chance when a hike was held about 2:30. A bunch of girls started out on the Lynchburg road. After hiking five long miles the filling sation rose up to greet them where they refreshed themselves with "dopes." Then the return journey was begun and at six o'clock they returned, very, very tired, but with the satisfaction of knowing that the required hike was over.

Hikes are to be held every Saturday afternoon until the end of the term and regular tryouts will begin after the Easter holidays.

TENNIS SEASON HAS ARRIVED

When the first warm days of spring come the thoughts of S. T. C. girls turn to tennis, for tennis is the sport in which most of them are able to participate. The tennis courts are fixed up and ready for the rush. Since Friday the old familiar cry "Can you play tennis this afternoon," or "lets have a game" has been heard all over the school. Almost any hour some one will be enjoying a game while the rest of us look longingly from the classrooms.

The doubles tournament is to be played off in a very short time. The girls have had a chance to know each other and to practice together so it can be easily arranged for all to play. The winning couple give five points to their class colors and win fifty points towards their blazers. So pick your partner, practice up, and sign up for the tournament. Your class is counting on you and as for the fifty points—well, wouldn't a blazer look good to you?

THALHIMER TO GIVE FASHION SHOW AT EACO

An added attraction in addition to Bebe Daniels in "She's a Sheik" will be given at the Eaco Thursday night when a fashion show, participated in by six live models will be given by Thalhimer's of Richmond.

ELLA LOUISE MOORE

Continued from page 3

daughter. Two honor societies have extended to her the privilege of membership and she ,in turn, has given to them the benefit of her constant aid. In every phase of college life she has an interest. As a debater, she has represented her college with credit. In the religious and social life she has always taken a vital part. Every movement for the betterment of conditions has received her wholehearted and intelligent support. Always honest in her views, she will leave her Alma Mater better for her having been there.

THE ORIGINAL
Onyx Pointed Heel Stockings
Specially Priced
FROM MARCH 5th to 10th
Greenberg's Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre
April 2nd to 7th

MON. and TUES.—John Gilbert and Greta Garbo in "Love." A super special production. Here is the film event of the year! One of the great love tragedies of all time has been translated to the screen at last in a breath-taking production! With the greatest romantic stars in pictures—John Gilbert and Greta Garbo, who scored so brilliantly in "Flesh and the Devil!" How dashing Jack Gilbert makes love in this one! And how flaming Greta Garbo is caught in its swirl of passion!!- From the novel "Anna Karenina" by Lyof N. Tolstoi. Also News reel and two reel feature in colors. Matinees at 4 o'clock.

WED.—Ted McNamara and Sammy Cohen in "The Great Retreat." Both of these stars did good work in "What Price Glory." A story of the war front in France of a very comical nature, having to do with a millionaire's son, an Irishman and a Hebrew. Fun and laughs!! Also a comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—"Stark Love," a Paramount production. This is living drama of the primitive mountaineers of North Carolina, enacted by the natives. It is the first example of absolute realism to reach the screen. The critics proclaim it a great production. A very unusual production that you should not miss. Also comedy.

FRI. and SAT.—Richard Dix in "The Gal Defender," a Paramount picture. Some of them adored! Others hated! But all admired his courage and bravery! The star of "The Quarterback" and "Shanghai Bound" gives an entirely new and unique characterization in the tale of California in '49—one that you'll call great! This is said to be the best role Dix ever had in any picture. Also comedy.

Admission to S. T. C. girls Monday and Tuesday, 35c. Other days, 25 cents.

WANTED!

Alice Wiley is looking for a stick pin for a matrimonial tie!

Elizabeth Armfield wants a manicure for a hand of scorn!

Virginia Pettigrew wants a monocle for the eyes of opporunity!

Florence Booton can't find sleeves for the arms of the sea!

DEBATERS WIN FIRST MEET

THE ROTUNDA

EASTER HOLIDAYS

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1928 No. 24

DOCTOR RICHARD BURTON TALKS ON FICTION

Large Audience Hears Noted Lecturer

On Friday, March 30th, the students of S. T. C. again had the opportunity of hearing a lecture by one of the foremost critics of today—Dr. Richard Burton.

Those who were able to hear Dr. Burton lecture last year know already of the man who had so quickly won their esteem. Dr. Burton through a sympathetic interpretation of his subject interspersed with dry humor won over again a large audience in his lecture on "Fiction of the Year" Talking as he did on so vital a subject in this present world of ours he touched a common chord of interest in all of his listeners.

"Books are men and women talking to us through life," declared Dr. Burton. He considered that the books chosen by one would tend to reveal the personality, tastes and ideas of that particular person. "There are books for our serious moods", he said "and books for our lighter moods." But in the reading of any book Dr. Burton thinks that a person must possess—and does possess to some extent—a "sympathetic imagination."

Dr. Burton considers that the fiction of the past year produced in America is superior to that of English production. He touched on several outstanding English novelists—Galsworthy, Arnold Bennett, H. G. Wells. Of the latter, he said, "H. G. Wells has long ceased to be a novelist. He is a splendid story teller, but it seems that he now prefers a discussion of social problems connected with our society."

Dr. Burton then lauunched into a discussion of the most recent books of American publication. Dr. Burton considers that a book to be a success must come up to these two standards: first, the book must be written on a subject vital to the human race; second, it must be written in first-class

(Continued on last page.)

MAY QUEEN CHOSEN

On Thursday, March 29, nominations were cast for May Queen, at the table in the hall. The four girls receiving the highest number of nominations were:

Lucretia Province
Virginia Ellis
Anne Deffenbaugh
Virginia Gurley

Tuesday, April 3, these girls were voted upon, but the result will not be known until May Day.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Associate editor wishes to offer an explanation and apology to Dr. Jarman and the student body concerning the publication of the dates of the holiday which appeared in the issue of March 28. Information received by me as authoritative was proved by Dr. Jarman to be unauthoritative.

STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT-ELECT

FRANCES WILLIS

"Pannie" is "a girl after our own hearts". Ever since the minute she came to school she has been serving the student body until now the student body looks to her as the recognized leader for next year. "Pannie" has the distinction of being the only girl for many years who has held two major offices, the president of the Y. W. C. A., her junior year and the president-elect of the student body.

THE JONGLEURS PRESENT "OUTWARD BOUND"

On Tuesday, April 3rd the Hampden-Sidney Jongleurs presented "Outward Bound,' 'a mystery play by Sutton Vane.

The cast was well chosen and well coached. Each member seemed to know what was expected and each gave a splendid performance. The work of Christiarn Munt as Mr. Prior was indeed commendable. The scenery of the play added to its impressiveness. The cast is as follows:

Scrubby, ship's steward— Maurice Large
Ann, Henry "halfways" — Philip Ropp and Louis Miller
Mr. Prior, an old (rather young) drunk ..... Christian Munt
Mrs. Cliveden-Banks, a society dame ..... Joe White Trundle
Rev. William Duke .... George Francis
Mrs. Midget ..... William Johns
Mr. Lingley ..... Gray McAllister
Rev. Frank Thompson-Howard Gilmer

JUNIORS WIN VOLLEY BALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Victorious for Third Year in Succession

After eliminating the seniors with practically no effort the junior volley ball team met the sophomores and finally won two out of three games which gave them the volley ball championship for this year. The first game ended 17—11 in favor of the juniors, the second 17—12 in favor of sophomores and the third and final game 19—8 in favor of the juniors. This final volley ball was one of the best exhibitions of clean, fast volley ball that has ever been played at S. T. C. The battles were close and hard.

The semi-finals between the seniors and juniors the day before was slow and uninteresting. However, the semi-finals between the sophomores and freshman was closer and displayed more skill.

Those who played on the various teams are as follows:

Freshmen: Hardy, Fleming, Hutchinson, Reed, McCoy, Forrest, Sturgis and Simpson.

Sophomores: Hatchett, Smith, Carter, Armstrong, Byrd, Gary, Campbell, Fisher and Gurley.

Juniors: Woods, Hardy, Wilkinson, Dunton, Erdman, Elder, Vaughan and Williams.

Seniors: Clements, Woodson, Dulaney, Putney, LeCato, Updike, Jones and McClenny.

EIGHTEEN SENIORS ARE ON THE DEAN'S LIST

Eighteen seniors made "B" and above on every subject last term. Eighteen out of seventy is not a bad percentage. In fact, it is unusually good. Some teachers insinuate that seniors don't work. However, do they have just grounds for such a statement?

The following girls are on the Dean's List

Harriet R. Booker
Helen Louise Costen
Helen I. Davidson
Katherine P. Davis
Evelyn Dulaney
Virginia Ellis
Ethel M. Forehand
Genieve V. Holladay
Elizabeth Hutt
Louise S. McCormick
Edith M. Marshall
Frances E. Morgan
Gladys E. Oliver
Mary McC. Read
Mary Christian Royall
Marnetta Souder
Frances Treakle
Frances Walmsley

Y. W. C. A. PRESIDENT FOR YEAR 1928—1929

MARGARET FINCH

Margaret Finch, president-elect of the Y. W. C. A., has her heart in Y. W. C. A. work, in work for girls which will enable them to live nearer God. Her work in this phase of school life has been outstanding all year. She has high ideals, and in our minds, she lives up to them.

MAJOR OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR ELECTED

The elections for the five major officers for 1928-'29 was held yesterday. Ten good girls ran for these offices and although only five were elected it is good to know that the five other girls will be in school to cooperate in making the phase of school activties in which they are the most interested—a success.

The Rotunda takes pleasure in announcing as officers for next year the following:

President Student Body— Frances Willis
President Y. W. C. A.— Margaret Finch
President Athletic Association— Mary Frances Hatchett
Editor "Virginian"— Virginia Raine
Editor "Rotunda"— Pearl Etheridge

DR. AND MRS. KLINE ADDRESS ASSEMBLY

On both Wednesday and Thursday mornings the student body and faculty had the unexpected pleasure of hearing in chapel Dr. and Mrs. Kline of the Skidmore School of Arts, Saratoga Springs, New York, both former members of our faculty. They gave short inspiring talks, revealing something of the sentiment existing here "before our day" and commending the school on its present progress. We also learned a few secrets about Dr. Jarman "in the days when he was Mr. Jarman." Mrs. Kline was of especial interest to the student body as she is the author of "There is in Old Virginia," one of our school songs.

FARMVILLE DELEGATES ATTEND "Y." CONFERENCE

R. M. W. C. Hostess at State Convention

The theme of the Y. W. C. A. conference, held at R. M. W. C. from March 30 to April 1 was "I am come that you might have life and have it more abundantly." The principal speaker was Dr. Geiger, professor of philosophy at William and Mary College.

After a delightful banquet Friday evening, Dr. Geiger sounded the theme in an inspirational talk on the "Quintessence of Religion." His address was a very enlightening one and many new thoughts were derived from it.

Saturday morning the discussion was opened by Miss Young, who led devotions. In following the discussions on "Quintessence of Religion" Dr. Geiger discussed the "More Abundant Life"—the natural outcome of his former discussion.

After a short intermission Dr. Geiger led a general discussion on the needs of the campus and the problems of every campus. Many beneficial ideas were gotten from this discussion and ways and means of solving them were discussed. Among the needs and problems debated were church attendance, the threefold obligation of the student, namely: 1. to himself as a member of the group, 2. to the church, and 3. to God.

Later in the morning a technical group discussion led by Miss Alston developed from the various interests of the campus the greatest needs of the campus, and the way in which the Y. W. C. A. is related to them, and the way that it can best serve the campus in remedying them. Out of this discussion the goals for the different colleges were taken for the coming year. Some of these goals are as follows: To help others to help themselves in learning to live a more abundant life; to take a broader interest in world affairs; to help religion mean more and become real to individuals; to develop leadership through more interest in Y. W. C. A.;

(Continued on last page)

DEBATE CLUB ANNOUNCE FACULTY TAKE-OFF

The faculty take-off this year will be given soon after Easter. The take-off will be in three acts as it was last year but there will be an entirely different theme. The faculty is still interested in youth and beauty but it does not feet that cosmetics play as important a part in making one as youthful a a certain new and innocent looking drink. I cannot give the faculty away through the pages of the Rotunda. You will have to come and see for yourselves. I suggest here, however, merely as a passing thought that in making one's self youthful, there is always danger of overdoing the thing.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief — EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29

Board of Editors

Literary — LOUISA CURRIE, '28
Social — MARY DUNCAN, '29
Humorous — BEULAH JARVIS, '30
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY, '29
Current Events — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
MARY ELLEN CATO, '31 — JULIA WILSON, '29
MARY FRANCES SHEPHERD, '30 — VIRGINIA PETTIGREW, '31
LOUISE FOSTER, '29 — CATHERINE BENTLEY, '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTON, '30
Circulation Manager — FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant — MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

HOW WE ELECTED OUR MAJOR OFFICERS

The student body is to be congratulated. They voted and they voted according to their own conviction. The polls were busy, quiet and orderly. The splendid girls elected can go into their offices confident of cooperation, because they have a representative vote behind them. The Student Council should feel a just pride in inaugurating a new system which worked so successfully.

The Student Building and Annex can boast of a whole building of good citizens. Every single girl in these two buildings voted. There was an unusually good response from the town girls and small dormitories.

We can adjourn for our holiday with that pleasant feeling of a duty well done. We know that capable girls have been elected and that we have had a part in that election.

May the spirit displayed on election day carry on with our new officers when they take up the duties of a new year.

—0—

OUR LIBRARY PROBLEM

Ever since the beginning of school this year we have been realizing more and more the difficulty of working in the library because of the scarcity of reference books. Our library is rather inadequate for so large a number of students, but we by our non-cooperation have been making conditions worse. Students, generally, respond to any suggestion for improving conditions for the sake of the larger group if they are appealed to in the right way. However, they become careless and think only of getting their own work done, sometimes, especially when they see that others are not cooperating. In order to have a well ordered and efficient library everyone must cooperate in making it function well.

The student body showed at the meeting called recently by Dr. Jarman that they are willing to cooperate in bettering the library situation. Being willing is the first step. The next is "to remember not to forget" to return books to the library. Another is to read in the library books that are one reference, whenever possible, and never to take out a book without having it charged. If everyone takes these three simple steps—and we have already taken one of them—do you think we will have in our library many books that cannot be found?

OUR EASTER

Undoubtedly the most important thought in the minds of S. T. C. students regarding Easter is holiday—a condition not to be condemned, since certainly a small part of the student body has had no week-end jaunt to relieve the more or less strained atmosphere characteritsic of college life.

The holiday is coincident with the season which is the most joyous of all the year. It is a never ending inspiration to observe the rebirth of nature at the Easter season, as though that which was dead has come again into life. Just as the realm of physical being is fired with new vigor, new energy, renewel growth, so we find man's aspirations rise, his hopes glow, his joys increase.

Was it accident that spring is the season destined for everlasting commemoration of the humiliating death and the glorious resurrection of our Lord, Jesus Christ?

For two thousand years men have written about Easter, but the significant thing is that for so long a time men have lived Easter. So may we regard Easter as a time to quicken our hearts to life, and so find it joyous, resurrected.

—0—

YOU MUST THINK YOU'RE "MOSES"

There are a number of girls who decide to have a nice social gathering in the hall anytime after eleven at night. Some-times this social gathering begins in a chatter and ends in laughing, and talking, and even with those supposedly most privileged, in singing. In the meatime those who are trying to sleep try in vain. They doze off to be suddenly awakened with another out-burst of noise. They grit their teeth, somtimes stop up their ears and hope that the noise will soon cease. Its true that "there is no rest for the weary" but in the meantime, as the flapper would say to the constant or occasional disturbers, "Who do you think you are, Moses?"

NEWS FROM OTHER COLLEGES

"The Cadet" reports that as a result of the bleacher crash during the V. M. I.-University of Maryland football game last fall in Richmond, seven or eight suits for damages aggregating approximately two hundred thousand dollars have been filed.

An example of good sportsmanship was displayed last week when Yale shared their swimming coach with Princeton to prepare for a meet between the two universities. The Princeton coach suddenly resigned, leaving the team without a trainer, and Yale offered the service of her coach. Now practice is going on in the rival schools under the same coach.—Ring Tum Phi.

Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri one of the outstanding candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, recently spoke to the students at Chapel Hill. The Senator made a fine impression upon many of the students in the South in his tour of the Southern States.—The Tar Heel

Directly in line with the restoration of Williamsburg to its ancient grandeur will be the remodeling of the Main Building of the College at a cost of $400,000. This building was designed by Sir Christopher Wren, a world famous architect, some time before 1700, at which date the structure was put into use. It is the oldest historic building in Williamsburg, and is the oldest standing academic building in America.—The Flat Hat.

The Memorial Garden at V. M. I., under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Cocke and her assistants, is nearing completion. Eight laurel trees recently planted by the eight cadet captains will form a background for the location of a pedestal upon which will be placed a map presented to V. M. I. by Commander Richard Evelyn Byrd. This map, carried over the North Pole by one of V. M. I.'s most distinguished alumni, will be an invaluable memoir of one of the deeds of a son of that school.—The Cadet.

BUSY WORLD BITS

Marine reinforcements of 1,000 officers and men are to be sent to Nicaragua at once to assure that the promise of President Coolidge for a free and fair election in October to be completely fulfilled. These reinforcements are the second to be sent to Nicaragua in recent months making a total of 3,700 officers and men. The reason for sending them just at this time is not known for its nearly seven months before October rolls around.

Agitators for complete independence in Porto Rico have been sternly rebuked by President Coolidge. The President in a communication addressed to the Governor of Porto Rico, stated that the United States had fulfilled all of her promises and that statehood could not be thought until education banished illiteracy.

In the northwest part of Cape Colony, in Namaqua-Land, another rich diamond field has been discovered to swell the wealth of South Africa.

The ties that bind England to her Dominions will be drawn tighter, it is predicted, by the development of aviation. The time is near when England will be only two days from Canada, five from India, six from South Africa and eleven from Australia. Bert Henkler has put this idea into Great Britian's head.

TRAINING SCHOOL NEWS

The preliminaries for the state high school debate were held Thursday, March 29; the inter-class debate, Friday. The subject of the debate was the proposed Curtis Reed Bill or National Education. Misses Ruth, Paulette, Frances Fleming, Alice Harrison, and Eleanor Davis, the winner of the inter-class debate, will compete with each other in order to determine who will represent Farmville in the annual high school debating contest conducted at the University of Virginia.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville — Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Installing new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
112 Main St. — Phone 198

DISILLUSIONMENT

There was a time when all things were beautiful
Vines, wee bits of flowers . . . a broken vase—
And in the darkest, blackest hour,
Always the beauty of your eyes,
Your face!
But since this world is but a farce
And nothing ever seems to stand or last;
The beauty of the things I knew, and loved . . .
I have found since . . .
A painted mask!

—F. W. '29

TO—

One moment in the dusk
Before the lights went on
While the moonlight drifted
Through the gloom
I looked into your eyes
And you were mine
Our souls went hand in hand
Through silver silence
And through the dusk
I heard soft wings
Of perfect ecstacy . . .

—M. B. B. '31

NANNIE MAE AND THE BABY BEAR

There was once a little girl who was named Nannie Mae.
She had just celebrated her seventh birthday.
Her eyes were as blue as the sky I am told,
And her long yellow curls in the sun shone like gold.
She lived in a house on the edge of a forest,
With her father and mother and wee sister Doris.
One day dressed in yellow from her head to her toe,
And her bonnet tied under her chin in a bow
Miss Nannie Mae went for a walk in the wood
And wandered much farther away than she should
For the trees and the grass were a velvety green,
And the flowers were prettier than she'd ever seen.
When she started for home to her sorrow, she found
There was not a trace of her path on the ground.
She ran here and there, but that did little good
As she just wandered farther into the deep wood.
She called and she called, but as no one was near,
When she stopped to listen not a sound could she hear.
At last she was tired. With her heart full of fear,
She sat under a tree. Down her cheek stole a tear.
Then suddenly she heard a queer little sound
And springing to her feet, turned quickly around.
There caught in some vines he was trying to tare.
She saw a tiny, fat, black baby bear.
At first she was frightened and started to flee,
But then she came back and set the bear free.
Now this wee baby bear was very polite
So he took Nannie Mae to his home for the night.
When his mother had heard what had happened, she said,
"You may have a nice supper and our softest bed."
Nannie Mae spent the night with Mrs. Bruin and Bub
For this was the name of the little black cub,
And bright and early the very next day
To her own little home they showed her the way.
Before they had parted at the edge of the wood,
Nannie Mae thanked the bears as nice girls should.
When she promised to vist the Bruins some day,
They told her good-by and scampered away.
Nannie Mae hurried on to her mother and home,
And in her blue eyes some big joy tears shone.
There back with her family our Miss was quite sure
That never was a family so happy before.

—A. R. S. '29

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF THE VIRGINIAN

VIRGINIA RAINE

Virginia Raine will be the editor of the Virginian for next year. This is a position that requires a great deal of experience as well as originality. "Rainey," through her untiring efforts and cooperation in annual work this year as well as in her other work, has proved her worth and is now editor-elect of the "Virginian."

SOCIAL

The following girls returned for the Gamma Theta banquet: Ruth Creecy, Virginia Hall, Sally Woodard, Kitty Reed, Kitty M. Clark, Fannie Thwing, Beth Gannaway, Cabel Gannaway, Mary Alice Blanton, Pat Cowherd, Audrey Chewning, Ann Smith, Irene Briggs, Ettie Jones Briggs, Carroll Cromwell, Nancy Cole, Elizabeth Scott, Polly Riddle, Bessie Meade Riddle, Marion Grimes, Virginia Hodgson, Kitty Franklin, Rachel Patton, Polly Smith and Frances Jones. Other guests were: Mrs. John Willis, Jr., Mrs. McIlwaine, Mrs. Coyner, Miss Grenels and Miss Stubbs.

• • •

Gamma Theta announces two new pledges: Martha Lanier and Flora Martin.

• • •

Estelle Richardson spent the weekend in Lynchburg.

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

LOUISE McCORMICK

Versatile is the first adjective we think of when we hear the name, Louise McCormick. The hero of numerous Dramatic Club plays, the editor-in-chief of the "Virginian", a member of all three honor societies in school and a holder of numerous smaller positions—that's our "Mac."

She is also assistant supervisor in the kindergarten and first grade of the Training School. How a girl can do the work Louise does and still maitain one of the highest scholastic records in school is something to wonder at.

At present she is with Alice Wiley in Ohio where they are making a record for our college in a national debate tournament. It was said of her in North Carolina when she debated there that she was one of the best woman orators who had ever spoken from the platform.

The least we can say of Louise is that she is unusually talented, unusually attractive, intellectual and a good sport, a fine friend—a truly worth while all around girl.

ELIZABETH WOODSON

Elizabeth Woodson has a record unique in this institution. She is the only girl in school who has served four straight years on the Student Council. Those who elected her obviously liked her quiet business-like courtesy. Those who have worked with her on the Council appreciate her clear thinking and level headed, impartial judgment. She has served on the executive board as secretary this year.

The Y. W. C. A., some phases of athletics, and the Debating Club have been strengthened by the services of this senior.

Elizabeth is a real intercollegiate debater, her side having won at Bridgewater against strong opponents. She will debate Radford later in the year.

Most of the work "Liz" has done in the classes has been in the social science field. She was chosen to be a charter member of Pi Gamma Mu, the social science honorary fraternity which recognizes superior ability in this line.

Because she looks very dignified many girls have the idea that Elizabeth is all seriousness. Her best friends will tell you she is full of fun

(Continued on last page)

EDITOR--IN-CHIEF OF THE ROTUNDA

PEARL ETHERIDGE

Pearl Etheridge has been associate editor of the Rotunda for the past year which has acquainted her with the publication work. She knows the difficulties that are likely to arise and the way in which to meet them. Pearl is capable. She can make the Rotunda a vivid reflection of school life.

COTILLION CLUB DANCE

The Cotillion Club entertained at its Spring German Saturday, March 31, in the recreation hall. Music was furnished by Kay Kyser and his orchestra of Chapel Hill, N. C. The hall was attractively decorated to represent the sky and the girls called it "their blue heaven." Boys assembled from all sections of the country to attend the dance. Many old members were present.

FACULTY NEWS

The student body wishes to extend sympathy to Miss S. Elizabeth Davis who recently lost her brother.

• • •

Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Mary Clay Hiner and Miss Mary White Cox went to Lynchburg Wednesday morning to hear Bertha Conde speak.

• • •

Dr. Walmsley is with our debaters, Alice Wiley and Louise McCormick, in Ohio, where they are working in a national forensic tournament.

• • •

Miss Tucker is away from her work on account of illness.

• • •

Miss Tupper of the Home Economics department is another member of the faculty whom we miss. She is ill and will perhaps not be able to resume her work until after Easter.

• • •

Miss Craddock was operated on for appendicitis at the Southside Hospital Sunday morning. She is getting along as well as could be hoped, the hospital reports.

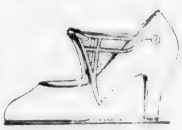
• • •

Miss Millican spent Monday in Richmond.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Cronshaw's
28 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World



At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

"Wheah you all bin?"
"Lookin' foah work."
"Man! man. youah cur'osity's gonna git you into trouble yit."

Mary had a little lamb
You've heard of it before,
And then she passed her plate again
And had a little more.

Ennie: "Since I bought a car I don't have to walk to the bank to make any deposits."
Arthur: "Ah, you ride there?"
Ennie: "No. I don't make any."

He: "What part of the Ford causes most accidents?"
She: "The nut under the steering wheel."

Ferrell: "What makes Adele think she's a musician?"
Hogan: "Oh, because she has drums in her ears, I suppose."

He: "The more I look at you the more beautiful you seem."
S. T. C.: "I ought to look at you oftener."

"My roommate is going to drop violin."
"Good, I hope it bursts."

BUNNY'S TRICKS

Bunny Rabbit what have you for me? And Bunny gives a different answer to each one who puts this question to him.

Yes, Bunny brings Baby Sister and Little Brother baskets of little rabbits and eggs. He brings Big Sister a corsage of sweetheart roses. Mother and Daddy receive candy, telegrams, and presents from each member of the family.

Bunny does not even forget Grandmother, he brings her a white lily and pretty Easter cards. He has thought of every member of the family and each one is happy.

No, where is Big Brother? He seems to be out of patience for he did not even get an Easter basket. Little Brother told Mother he was upstairs guarding with his razor, and Bunny Rabbit had just run away with a check for thirty dollars. Yes, Bunny chuckled and said he had his doubts about Brother's sweetheart being worth all that money.

DID YOU EVER

Did you ever sit in class and display artistic ability all over your notebook in order to keep awake?

Did you ever?

Did you ever look at the girl friend sitting across the room, wonder what she's thinking about and wish you could gossip a while with her?

Did you ever?

Did you ever gaze at a piece of blue sky out the window and find yourself thinking of everything from Lindbergh to spring baseball?

Did you ever?

Did you ever hear the school truck backing up and wish for a car and an open road?

Did you ever?

Did you ever look at the little flower on the teacher's desk or in the window and wonder about that Easter corsage?

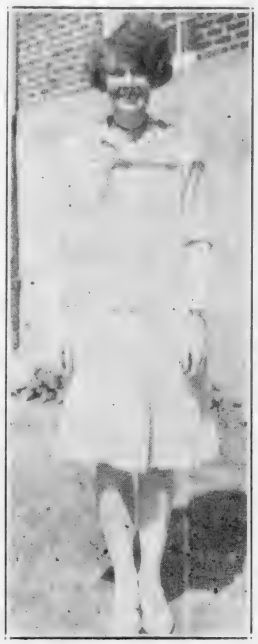
Did you ever?

Did you ever hear feet going rapidly by in the corridor outside and wonder if they might be going to the post office where you'd so like to go to see about a letter?

Did you ever?

Did you ever think if the bell didn't ring you'd be obliged to faint, scream or walk out?

Did you ever?



If anyone can answer no to the above questions they have not yet been overtaken with the proverbial spring fever!

SOPHOMORE ALPHABET

A—is for Armstrong, Lucy, indeed.
In volley ball she plays with vigor and speed.
B—is for Burgess, always at work
Ball, Booten and Boothe, well, they never shirk.
C—is for Crowder so tall and fair,
Coffman and Cole the Choral Club pair.
D—is for Denit who saves the day
We can't do without her to sing and play.
E—is for Evans, "Nervy" you know
She distributes Rotundas, a thousand or so.
Frame is athletic, Ferrell knows art,
Fisher in Home Ec. plays her part.
Gurley and Graves are a good looking two
Capable, smiling, "G", but it's true.
Hatchett plays basket ball, volley ball too,
There's nothing in athletics she can't do.
I—is for Irving, her dad's an M. D.
Anna Wood Inge is the next girl we see
J—is for Jarvis she writes all our wit
Hopes it will pass censor and still make a hit.
K—is for Keister, Virginia by name
And Kesler too, sounds a great deal the same
Leonard, our Peggy, sweet and demure
A better jingler than I can't do justice to her.
Marshall, Etta, she leads them all right,
She's always there for red and the white.
N—stands for noisy, novel and neat,
It stands too, for sophomores like Clara Norfleet.
O—is the mild ejaculation we say,
When we try to write "poetry" all night and all day.
P—is for Palmer we know Annie P.
Pedigo, Paris and Peck, too, we see.
Q—is for questions the faculty springs,
But the Sophs all come back and say the right things.
R—is for Ramsey, Reese, and Rice
Sophomore R's and all "tres" nice.
S—is for Sophomore, a jolly good class,
Their vim and their pep is the pride of each lass.
T—is for things that Mayo can paint
And for Lucy Thompson who looks like a saint
U of Va., that's where you'll see
Anne Deffenbaugh get her Ph. D.
V—for Vacation and it's almost here
And everyone's heart is filled with good cheer.
W—is for Willcox and Wilson, too
Barbara and Frances, Sophomores true
X—we all know is the factor unknown,
But into it's mysteries we like to be shown.
Y—for Yeoman a Sophomore true
And yet most of all for old White and Blue.
Z—is for Zilles, one Hannabelle
All of her charms no one jingle could tell.

—M. J. W. '29

A. A. PRESIDENT 1928-'29

MARY FRANCES HATCHETT

Mary Frances Hatchett has been recognized as the best athlete in school. She is a leader in every phase of athletics. With her understanding and interest in athletics we are confident that the Athletic Association will forge ahead under her leadership.

DR. RICHARD BURTON LECTURES ON FICTION

(Continued from page one)

ick Deeping he mentioned as a book meeting both these requirements. "Kitty" by the same author he considered inferior to the former novel.

"Willa Cather," said Dr. Burton, "is an acute novelist—rational in thought. In a beautifully sympathetic way she has merged art and life into one . . . She has told the truth about religion in 'Death Comes for the Archbishop.' It is in distinct contrast to the vulgar application of Sinclair Lewis in his 'Elmer Gantry'." Dr. Burton hastened to add that while he had a profound respect for Sinclair Lewis, he considered that this recent novel was an exaggeration of clerical life. "A book," stated Dr. Burton, "must present a sympathetic truth. The book that radiates cheerfulness is the best. There is a malicious desire to show the little things of life—to enlarge upon the base and lowly." Dr. Burton gave Emil Ludwig as one who has not had to resort to the base things in life to produce such brilliant pieces of work, as "Napoleon."

Dr. Burton then listed those books which are under consideration for the Pulitzer Prize. Among them were:

"The Grandmother" by Denway.

"My Heart and My Flesh" by Elizabeth Roberts.

"Now East—Now West" by Susan Erst.

"Meat" by Wilbur Daniel Steele.

"The Bridge of San Louis Ray" by Thornton Wilder.

Bernard Shaw's famous comedy, "Androcles and the Lion" will be presented at Duke University after their May Day ceremonies, May 5.— The Chronicle.

FARMVILLE DELEGATES ATTEND CONFERENCE

Continued from page one

fashion." "Sorrell and Son" by Warto aid in uplifting the general moral of the students.

In the afternoon different discussion groups were held on various phases of the work, i. e. program committee, meetings committee, finance committee, world fellowship committee and membership committee.

Saturday evening after the "Odd Day" stunt an informal gathering was held around a delightful open fire and the girls who had been to Blue Ridge told of the grand times had there and also taught some of the Blue Ridge songs to the group. The refreshments added a great deal to the spirit of the group.

Sunday morning after devotions by Miss Young, Dr. Geiger talked on "Spiritual By-Products". From this talk we were led to think more about the meaning of eternal life, and after talking it over, came to the conclusion that eternal life comes as a natural result of living our own lives in a natural association with our fellow beings in fellowship with Jesus; and not as a result of a search for it.

Following this address, Miss Young led a discussion on the real meaning of life, the joys of life, the reasons for living as full a life as possible, and what a full life really is.

After a short recess more group discussions were held much on the order of the previous ones.

The last important meeting was held Sunday afternoon, at which the new purpose for the year was discussed. Everything has a climax; this conference found it's climax in the last meeting. The new purpose, the all infolding one was interpreted by Miss Young with our help in suggesting what the purpose meant to us.

If you will read between the lines of this new purpose you will see that we, as members of the Y. W. C. A. have a tremendous task before us. The purpose is:

(1) "We unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God."

(2) "We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task we seek to understand Jesus and to follow Him."

This will be a great adventure into new fields of endeavor and strength to meet this adventure came to us in the candle service which followed. With the lighting of our candles in prayer and the singing of "Follow the Gleam" with the realization that Christ's promise to be with those in spirit who are gathered together in His name, with the feeling of fellowship among us, we obtained the courage to carry on with our new purpose "Not by might, nor by power, but by My spirit," saith the Lord of Hosts.

ELIZABETH WOODSON

Continued from page 3

with a quick sympathy and a ready sense of humor. "Liz" hasn't roomed with Alice Wiley a year for nothing. She has certainly learned to smile.

Such girls as Elizabeth Woodson will establish the most desirable kind of reputation for her Alma Mater when she goes out into the State. It will be hard to fill the place that she will leave in June.

New Shipment
EASTER
Coats and Dresses
Come in and See Them
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At The Eaco Theatre Week of April 9—14

MON.—Lois Moran and Edmund Lowe in "Publicity Madness," from a story by Anita Loos. The story of an efficiency expert was forced to fly an areoplane in which the daughter of his boss was an unwilling passenger. By the grace of a kind fate, landed in Honolulu, won a $10,000 prize and a bride. Also News Reel.

TUES.—Tim McCoy, Marjorie Daw William Fairbanks in "Spoilers of the West." Friend or enemy? She had fought him tooth and nail—and then the outlaws she led thirsting, for his blood, had him in their power. A terrific climax—a surprising ending—in Tim McCay's finest outdoor romance! You'll love it! Also Serial Matinee at 4 o'clock.

WED.—Laura La Plante in "Her Big Night," supported by a most excellent cast. She tried to juggle two husbands and a sweetheart and mad night. A glorious La Plante joytangle with Laura LaPlante at her beautiful best. Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—Pola Negri in "The Woman on Trial," a Paramount production. A woman bares her soul before the world to gain the one thing she doves—her child! Drama that will hold you—tense! A picture that will thrill you—to the utmost. Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

FRI. and SAT. at Matinees only—Jack Mulhall and Charles Murray in "The Poor Nut." Here is the season's mirthfullest Marathon. When you see this campus boob try to outsprint Cupid, you'll need reinforced ribs! The greatest college drama ever made Also comedy.

FRI. and SAT., nights—"Chang," the super special Paramount picure, will be presented. This is the jungle melodrama that the New York Herald Tribune said contains "The most exciting moment in motion picture hisory!" Lou'll say so too! This picture has won more critical approv al than any other film ever flashed on a screen. Also comedy. Be you man, woman or child, you will be thrilled by this picure.

Admission to S. T. C. girls, Friday and Saturday nights, 35c. Other shows, 25c.

A proposal is like a ring at the end of the line, say S. T. C.

ELECTIONS TUESDAY, APRIL 24

THE ROTUNDA

POE

COME OUT FOR SOME SPORT

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1928 NUMBER 25

S. T. C. DELEGATES ATTEND PI KAPPA DELTA MEETING

Pi Kappa Delta Charter Is Secured

Dr. Walmsley, with Louise McCormick and Alice Wiley, drove through the country to attend the Pi Kappa Delta convention and meet held at Berea and Tiffin, Ohio. The girls' meet was held at Berea, the location of Baldwin-Wallace College. This meet was attended by colleges from all over the country—sixty teams entered as debaters, orators or extemporaneous speakers. Farmville entered the debating contest and stayed in through four rounds, and went down with thirty-first team. After the meet the whole convention adjourned to Tiffn to hold the finals and where the business of the convention was held. It was then Dr. Walmsley appeared before the charter committee and presented a petition for a Pi Kappa Delta charter. Out of thirteen petitions four schools were granted charters and one of them was the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Those attending the conference learned much about debating, oratory and extemporaneous speaking. It is hoped that year after next Farmville will send an orator and extempore speaker as well as a debating team. The convention adjourned on the Thursday before Easter concluding the program with a large banquet attended by five hundred people. Year after next the convention will be held at Redlands, California or Wichita, Kansas and Farmville must attend with an orator, an extempore speaker, and debating team.

FACULTY MEMBERS STAR IN TARKINGTON'S PLAY

Monday night an unusual and attractive one act play "The Trysting Place" was given in the auditorium. The cast consisted of three faculty members and three girls who are members of the student b dy. The plot was a clever one in which three love affairs were confused and three proposals were made in the same room while unknown parties were present.

The faculty members were Dr. Simpkins, Mr. Coyner and Dr. Walmsley who ,in turn, proposed to Mary Ellen Cato, Leyburn Hyatt and Elizabeth Antrim. Confusion seemed to never end. The audience was kept in a continuous state of laughter.

Man yrequests have been made to repeat this play. Possibly this will be done in the near future.

VOLLEY BALL VARSITY

Each year an honorary volley ball varsity is chosen from those playing in the class games. The colors having the most members of varsity receive ten points towards the class cup.

The varsity girls are picked according to their ability to play and those chosen this year are:

Mary Clements, '28
Marie Elder, '29
Louise Vaughan, '29
Mary Frances Hatchett, '30
Permele Byrd, '30
Violet Gary, '30
Louise Hardy, '31
Claudia Fleming, '31.

As there are four belonging to each color five points were awarded to Green and White and five to the Red and White.

MISS ILER AND HATCHETT ATTEND ATHLETIC FORUM AT MT. HOLYOKE

Miss Olive Iler, adviser and Mary Frances Hatchett, president-elect of the Farmville Athletic Association attended an athletic conference for college women at Mt. Holyoke, Massachusetts from Wednesday until Saturday. The purpose was an athletic forum for the discussion of problems common to all college athletics for women.

The business of the conference was carried out with intermissions of social entertainment in the form of teas, banquets and plays.

Our representatives visited Sargent the "big school" for the teaching of physical education, and Wellesley. Miss Iler reports that for day time wear in our big northern colleges we find girls in sport clothes and low heels. We might take that as an example if we are the type to wear sport clothes. The physical education department, no doubt, would recommend the low heels.

It is distinctly to the advantage of our school to be able to receive from representatives sent out, suggestions and ideas from other colleges. We hope for big things from the "A. A." next year with the additional experience the trip has given our president and adviser.

Miss Iler and Mary Frances returned by way of New York, where they visited at Miss Iler's home.

REGISTRARS GO TO OHIO MEETING

Miss Jennie M. Tabb and Miss Virgilia I. Bugg left on the 15th. inst. for Cleveland, Ohio, where they are attending the meeting of the American Association of collegiate registrars. The membership of this Association has now reached six hundred and includes colleges and universities in every State of the Union. with a number of Canadian institutions.

The meeting this time is in connection with Western Reserve University and the registrars will be entertained at a luncheon given by the university, Case School of Applied Science, and the Cleveland School of Education.

The program is a most excellent one and among the speakers scheduled are: the president of Western Reserve University, president of Case School of Applied Arts, Dean Walters of Swarthmore College, Hon. Newton D. Baker, ex-secretary of war, Henry Turner Bailey, director of the Cleveland School of Art, and President Clarence Cooke Little of the University of Michigan.

At the close of the meeting, Miss Tabb will go to South Bend, Indiana, for a week-end visit at the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's School.

COLLEGE STUDENTS GIVE CHOICES

Preferences among college students are usually interesting and characteristic of youth. The following, taken from the New Student, indicates some interesting choices, made by students

YALE PREFERENCES

Seniors in Yale College, according to preferences indicated in the annual clascs vote, prefer a Phi Beta Kappa key to the "Y" earned in major sports, like Harvard next best to Yale, consider Lindbergh and Mussolini the outstanding world figures of the day, and Lindbergh the man now living they most admire. They also believe that prohibition has harmed college life, that English is the most valuable subject and psychology the least valuable, and they are opposed to splitting the college into smaller units.

Seniors in the Sheffield Scientific School voted Lindbergh their favorite world figure, a major "Y" more desirable than Sigma Xi, and Princeton their favorite college next to Yale. Their favorite in fiction in d'Artagnan; in history, Napoleon; among novels, Tom Jones; among prose authors, Thomas Hardy; among poems, If; and among poets Kipling.

These were only a few, a very few, of the matters on which the seniors declared themselves.—The Breeze.

You're building each moment,
In architect's role
A character dwelling—
A home for the soul.

So while you are building
Don't potter and slack;
Just build a fine mansion
Not merely a shack.

—The Salemite.

OPEN NOMINATIONS OF SECONDARY OFFICERS ANNOUNCED

SOPHOMORES PRESENT "PLAY TIME"

On Thursday, April 12, the Sophomore Class presented "Play Time," a very attractive and successful entertainment. This delightful diversion was well planned and afforded amusement for all. It consisted of two one-act plays, "Suppressed Desires", and "The Beau of Bath," with "Music Time" intervening.

In "Music Time" Pete Hanmer, Alice Davis, Betty Lee Hall, Elsie Micheaux, Lelia Clark, Nancy Denit, Catherine Jones, and Virginia Rice, with Lucille Graves at the piano, sang several popular and classical songs. Lucille Graves also rendered several piano solos.

The cast in "Suppressed Desires" included Jeanette Morris, as Henrietta Brewster; Elizabeth Rase, as Mable, Henrietta's sister; and "Bibby" Ball, as Stephen Brewster, Henrietta's husband.

In "The Beau of Bath", Virginia Gurley played the role of the Beau of Bath; May Marshall, the lady of the portrait; and Eleanor Hogan, Jepson.

"Play Time" was of a higher type of dramatic presentation than the usual entertainment given by classes and smaller organizations, and we heartily congratulate the Sophomores.

REJUVENATE FACULTY DEBATING CLUB WILL

The faculty is all excited. Miss Brownie Taliaferor has returned from Columbia rejuvenated and she set the entire faculty agog by telling them that a new spring at Lythia has been discovered and that is what did the good work. Perhaps you have seen many of your favorite teachers slipping out the side door to steal over to Lythia to get a drink from this new "Fountain of Youth". If you wish to see the results come to the Faculty

(Continued on Page Three)

Election Will Take Place On April 24

The nominations for minor offices of the Student Council, Y. W. C. A., Atheltic Association, Rotunda, and Virginian were held April 17. The elections of these officers will take place April 24th. It is very necessary that every student in school votes at the elections. The officers elected want to represent the student body, not just a few who are thoughtful enough to vote. The minor elections are as important as the major elections, because without good, efficient followers a major officer is helpless. She cannot work alone. She must have cooperation. That is why it is so very important that the minor officers be given as much thought as the major ones. Vote for the girl you are sure will hold the office most efficiently. Don't be influenced because of petty trifles. Everyone vote and make your next door neighbor do the same. Let this be the biggest election ever held at S. T. C.

Officers to be Elected

At the latest possible date for printing in this issue of the Rotunda only one set of the nominations has been officially announced. However, all nominations will be posted on the bulletin board. Those to be voted on next Tuesday are:

Student Council: vice-president, secretary, treasurer and campus league chairman.

Y. W. C. A.: vice-president, secretary, treasurer and undergraduate representative.

Athletic Association: vice-president secretary, and treasurer.

Rotunda: associate editor and business manager.

Virginian: business manager, art editor and literary editor.

FRESHMAN FOLLIES REPEATED TUESDAY AS HOSPITAL BENEFIT

I was in a horrid temper all day. Everything went wrong. My roommates had indulged excessively in sweetly (?) slinging slippers. The only class I had a genuine interest in was stricken with heart failure and sank rapidly. I had lost the last train that would haul me homeward,—and perched precariously on my hat-box I waited for something to "turn-up."

"Oh, Pensero, hurry or you'll miss the 'Freshman Follies'. " 'Twas a boon to my troubled spirits.

"Isn't it fun?" I asked gleefully as we sat in the crowded auditorium and saw the screen roll back and reveal six attractive young ladies, gracing a beautiful sitting room of a suite in the Hotel Ritz, Paris.

A merry mix-up and dramatic spectacle ensued in which the belief of the appreciative audience that "In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love" was strengthened.

Part II of the sparkling program consisted of gay little skits, a charming solo dance, and a jolly chorus.

Then came the glorious procession of "Ye Country Cousins" whose frantic antics created an uproar of thrills and upheaval of giggles.

The last fascinating number, "The Freshman Review" was received with enthusiasm.

Everyone pronounced the entire affair a huge success and opined that those taking part in the "Follies" merited the distinction of being the "rats" who take the cheese.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief — EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29

Board of Editors

Literary — LOUISA CURRIE, '28
Social — MARY DUNCAN, '29
Humorous — BEULAH JARVIS, '30
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY, '29
Current Events — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
MARY ELLEN CATO, '31 — JULIA WILSON, '29
MARY FRANCES SHEPHERD, '30 — VIRGINIA PETTIGREW, '31
LOUISE FOSTER, '29 — CATHERINE BENTLEY, '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTON, '30
Circulation Manager — FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant — MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

CHAPEL ATTENDANCE

What is wrong with chapel? There are a thousand and twenty-six girls in school and the auditorium would be crowded every morning if those that should, attended chapel, but, instead it is never over two-thirds full. Why is this? Is the spirit of the girls or is chapel conducted wrong? For year chapel attendance has been compulsory, but never before has it been as hard to enforce as this year. Even the Seniors are not attending as they should and the Freshmen seem to come and go as they please.

Chapel is just a few minutes taken from twelve hours of the day to give up to the worship of God. This should not be compulsory, but as it has become necessary to make chapel attendance compulsory girls should obey this regulation willingly and cheerfully. This is a college and the students should be treated as college students and not as high school pupils, but if their conduct makes it necessary stricter measures will have to be enforced and all freedom as to chapel attendance will be done away with.

Think about it. Talk it over among yourselves and in your class meetings and see if you cannot remedy this defect in chapel attendance. The spirit of the whole school would change if we would just stop and think that it is the one time in the day that the faculty and the student body get together, that it is here that the faculty and the student body learn to know each other, that we are stopping a minute to worship God.

—0—

OFFICE HOGS

At present the student body is in the process of electing officers to fill the various places in order that the school will be run in the most successful way next year. However, there is one thing that must be avoided. This is the practice of becoming or indulging in electing "office hogs."

We hear very much at present about "road hogs", 'or those who stay in the center of the road holding others back and making no more progress themselves. We think that is an unsportsmanlike practice. In fact, we know it is. However, what could be more unsportsmanlike than for one girl to monopolize too many offices, thus depriving others of the opportunities of serving. These "office hogs" flatter themselves by thinking they are superior enough to most successfully hold an office that should be held by one who does not have extra work. Is this fair for the office hog, the student body or the girl who is deprived of a position? One girl is over-worked, one is under-worked, and the student body suffers because of the maladjustment. How foolish when there are so many girls who can hold any one office. Why not be fair?

—0—

HOLD YOUR OWN—NOT OTHERS

We are proud of most of the customs and practices which have grown up in our school, yet there are a few which, if described in a letter home, would be punctuated by stars, dashes, exclamations, and question marks.

One of these unmentionables started as a friendly little kindness which has developed into one of the most inconsiderate and selfish practices in the school—that of saving whole rows of seats for friends at public entertainments for which seats are not officially reserved.

Is it fair for one girl to rush in and save several rows of seats, making it impossible for other girls who come early to find seats except in the back?

The custom has extended even as far as the town theatre, much to the annoyance of the town people. Of course no one is selfish enough to object to one or two seats being reserved, but why try to lease the entire row?

BUSY WORLD BITS

Monday, April 9, there gathered at the fot of Stone Mountain a great number of people to witness the reveiling of a part of the monster memorial sculptors to the Confederate armies. Stone Mountain is 16 miles southeast of Atlanta, Ga. It was the 63rd anniversary of General Lee's surrender at Appomattox. Just as the two flags, a Confederate and Union, were drawn back from the figure of Lee with Robert Edward Lee IV., turned loose carrier pigeons to take the news to all the states.

The Outlook states that in settling the ore controversy with Mexico, Ambassador Morrow has solved the most troublesome problem in the Latin-American relations of the United States. He seems to have found a way out of a deadlock that has estranged the two countries for ten years.

On Friday, April 13, hundreds honored the memory of Jefferson in a celebratio in Charlottesville, Va. A reception was given at Monticello in honor of Mr. Eowers, who was speaker of the day.

A thousand more marines will be sent to Nicaregua to help the 2,700 already there to put down the so-called guerrilla chief with his so-called handful of followers.—St. Louis Star.

COLLEGE GLIMPSES

The Emory Glee Club has been invited to luncheon and an afternoon date with Lady Nancy Astor when in England next summer. The invitation from Lady Astor is the second the Georgia school has enjoyed within a few years, the Glee Club having dined with her in 1926.
—The Yellow Jacket Weekly.

"The Sweet Briar News" reports that the pageant which will be presented at that school May Day is "The Garden of Romance."

All our troubles are over, girls! For the mere sum of fifty cents a ready-written love letter can be procured from two students who have gone into the business of letter writing at Wellesley. Not only can you get love letters from them, but also thank-you letters for twenty-five cents, letters of condolence for seventy-five cents, and for letters to papa asking for money a charge of five per cent is asked.—The Cadet.

EXPRESSIONS THAT ANNOY ME

Never until this hour have I been able or had the opportunity to express my views on some of the expressions which cause me to want to open my mouth and scream—and scream—a-n-d scream. Some of these expressions are violations of every grammatical rule in existence; some are exponents of "slanguage," the language universally used by all the college lads and lassies of today, some are too far fetched and high sounding because the writer has tried to impress upon the poor public that he has a turn for fine writing and a broad vocabulary.

One of the expressions which always causes me mental pain is "not hardly." It really makes me feel and look woebegone to hear two words so abused. Both are negatives and by themselves are excellent to have in one's vocabulary. Do you suppose that they like being used together? Each in a sentence expects to have its negative force unimpaired. I remember the rule in English grammar that a double negative makes an affirmative. I'm sure that "not" does not like to have all its negative force cancelled and made affirmative by "hardly" being stuck in after it. I've always had the deepest sympathy for these two negatives forced together by some careless person.

Another expression taken from the prevalent mode of speaking is "some kind of good." This expression is applied to any object or person which has likeable characteristics. I've heard this expression used quite often by several people, and somehow, it offends my sense of hearing every time.

Every story has a very "willowy maiden" for heroine. Of course, she must be "willowy" and move as lightly as aspen leaves breathed upon by the soft south winds."

Some other expressions I dislike and think are in very bad taste are phrases extracted from French, Latin and Spanish and used freely in place of good old English words which would explain the meaning more clearly to the reader or listener. Some expressions of which I am speaking are tete-a-tete, affaire de cour, sang froid, and billet-doux. Why, oh why isn't it just as easy to use an English word and be sure of being understood?

Thus I have made it known that I like good, plain English without the frills and furbelows of foreign phrases and high-sounding words.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning And Pressing
Farmville — Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers" OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
112 Main St. — Phone 198

THE CITY OF REVERSE

Have you ever heard of the Land of Backwardness? The largest city there is the City of Reverse. It is a most unusual people. But first let me tell you how I happened to go there. Not long ago I slept one night with my head at the foot of the bed and my feet at the head of the bed and presto! I was there.

The sidewalks on each side of the street were as wide as our streets, and their streets was only as wide as our sidewalk. So to avoid confusion the people walked in the street instead of on the sidewalks. But they walked in the most unusual way. They walked backwards so that they never knew who they were passing until after they had got completely by. You might not think you would like this, but it really wasn't half bad, because, you see, in this way they could wave at each other until they had passed entirely out of sight; whereas we can only say 'hello', turn our backs and walk on.

The houses had lovely gravel walks leading up to the back doors. The rooms in each house were not what you would imagine at all. The bedrooms were all downstairs, while the living room, dining room, kitchen, etc., were on the second floor. But this wasn't half bad either, because when bedtime came the children did not have to be dragged upstairs to bed, but instead, mother simply put them on the bannisters and—down to bed they slid.

But I haven't told you yet when they went to bed. Just when we are getting up, they go to bed and when we go to bed they are getting up. And this isn't half bad either for as a result they are a much happier people than we, since night-time hides so many imperfections that stare us in the face in the day time.

The thing which confused me most was when Mrs. Smith L. Tom called me one morning to supper, and then spoke about the excellent breakfast we were to have that night. However, it did not take me long to learn which meal came when.

Another thing especially impressing confronted me one day after I had arisen, combed my teeth, brushed my face and gone upstairs to join the Smith L. Tom family. This was the peculiar relationship that I found existing between the grownups and the children. The old saying that "children should be seen and not heard" was completely reversed. The older people immediately stopped talking when a child appeared, and arose until the child had taken his seat. Of course, this was rather an awkward habit for me to acquire, but the children were kind and understanding and overlooked my first social blunders.

After we had eaten the meal, which began with ice cream and ended with soup, I fastened my coat up the back, thanked the Smith L. Toms for their kindness and hastened backward to my own home. The next morning, after getting up on the wrong side of the bed, I went downstairs to my own family and related the story which I have just told you.—P. W. '28

MAKING THE FLAG

Some years ago a wrosted mill in the vicinity of Philadelphia filled an order for many thousands of American flags. According to the Public Ledger, someone had the curiosity to find out through what hands one of these flags had passed from the clipping of the wool from the sheep's back till it was ready to be given to the breeze.

Here is the result of the investigation:

The flag was made of wool from American sheep,
Sorted by an American,
Carded by an Italian,
Spun by a Swede,
Warped by a German,
Drawn in by a Scotchman,
Woven by a Belgian,
Supervised by an American,
Scoured by an Albanian,
Dyed by a Turk,
Examined by an Irishman,
Dressed by a Pole,—
Twelve nationalities.
And over them floated the flag of freedom.

The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho takes pleasure in announcing as new members:

Emma Woods
Pearl Etheridge
Elizabeth Hutt
Greenhowe Parker
Lois Fraser
Virginia Raine
Margaret Walton
Elizabeth Woodson
Helen Davidson
Ella Louise Moore
Etta Marshall

MEMBER ADDED TO TO DEANS LIST

Another senior, Hazel Bramm, has been added to the dean's list. Due to the fact that she was classified as a junior the first of the year her name was missed when the members of the deans list were announced.

THE TEACHER'S LOT

Teachers, in Oak Park, must be in bed by ten. In a West Virginia town the women teachers must see to it that their galoshes are buttoned all the way. Neither men or women teachers may smoke in Kansas City. These are a few instances of the way in which the teachers of our grammar and high schools are cabined and confined by petty rules of personal behavior. They are overshadowed, of course, but the unbelievably ignorant and vicious regulations whereby the teacher is hampered in her class room and converted into a mere puppet jerking her arms spasmodically before her mob of youngsters according to the wish of the puppeteer in the principal's office. At ten minutes after ten she must be cramming "The Landing of the Pilgrims" down the throats of forty restless youngsters. And woe to her if the superintendent should catch her omitting one line of this precious poem. At twelve after one she must be adding fractions, and should she be at long division an explanation is due her superior. The teacher's lot is not a happy one.

The American Federation of Teachers is an organization that in a small way is combating this degrading situation. It meets this year, in Chicago, June 25-29, and it will discuss some of the most obvious diseases of this unhappy profession. More power to it.

—The New Student

TRI SIGMA TO CELEBRATE FOUNDERS DAY

On the 20th, 21st, and 22nd of April, Sigma Sigma Sigma will celebrate her 30th birthday. Alpha Chapter will be hostess to representatives of the National Council, active chapters and alumnae.

It is only fitting that these Sigmas shall gather here in Farmville to commemorate the 30th anniversary of the founding of Tri Sigma. At this time a memorial will be placed in the rotunda of the main building in commemoration of the eight founders of the national sorority.

The golden hours of this meeting will be filled with renewing of old friendships and making new ones. Get together meetings, little chats, luncheons, "at homes" and a banquet will fill all sixty minutes of each hour.

Saturday afternoon at two-thirty, there will be a memorial service during which this gift in memory of eight founders will be presented to the school. The town people, faculty and the student body are most cordially invited to this service.

FICTION

University of Minnesota's best students do not work their entire way through school, or, the worker does not, by virtue of his dual task, establish himself as the better student. The faculty of that institution was responsible for overturning the current fiction about student-workers.

So numerous are the working students that faculty members refuse to accept the employment alibi in place of study. This may be due in part to the use of such an excuse as a dodge. Employment bureaus report, says the Minnesota Daily, that fifteen per cent of the students who take jobs do so that they may be able to use the familiar "I'm working my way through school."

While the faculty members were willing to pay adequate tribute to the student whose scholastic urgings prompt him to assume a double burden they are willing to make no concessions. An dthe fakiers, who are said to be numerous, have helped create this attitude.—The New Student.

SOCIAL

Elsie Michaux, Red Foster, Louise Arthur, Anna Jones, Jinx Grimes, Ann Palmer, Jeanette Morris and Humpty Jones attended the dance at V. M. I.

The following girls went to Virginia for the dances: Yancey Brooking, Eula Faison, Flora Martin, Phyllis Wood, Virginia Walker. Virginia Bull, Louise Craft, Martha Lanier, and Alice Covington.

Mary Tucker, Mary Bernard, Polly Aderholt, Mary Rigby, Virginia Cogbill, Louise Marshall, Pinkie Shoffner and Banna Price Massey attended the dances at V. P. I. last week-end.

Billie Booth visited in Boydton last week-end.

Anne Deffenbaugh and Barbara Wilcox spent the week-end in Petersburg.

MAN-MAKING

We are all blind until we see
That in the human plan
Nothing is worth the making
That does not make the man.

Why build these cities glorious
If man unbuilded goes;
In vain we build the world
Unless the builder also grows.

—Edwin Marham (Florida Flabeau)

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

ELIZABETH HUTT

What is that that we hear among Caps and Gowns? Why, of course, it's "Liz" Hutt, uncommonly known as Elizabeth. Liz always has an opinion. The fact is, you can never catch her without one. She stands firmly for what she thinks is right, and, if you don't watch out, it won't be long before you'll be standing for what she thinks is right. You see, Liz doesn't mind arguing for what she thinks is right. Probably that is why she's such a good leader of the Debating Club.

Brains, persistence, service, loyalty, achievement,—theoretically these are nouns, but when applied to Liz they immediately become pronouns, because they stand for her. I really wish that every senior class could have a Liz Hutt. She can make you laugh or she can make you think. And unpretentious through it all she can win the hearts of her fellow students. Yes, I wish every senior class could have a Liz Hutt.

MARY CLEMENTS

"Clem" has worked here in school in her good, steady, dependable way for four years. She has concentrated her efforts in the athletic field. Entering almost every phase of sports and serving on the Athletic Council as treasurer this year she has made her ability count for her school. The varsity basketball team this season was strengthened by Mary Clements playing a strong center.

We often get tired of insincerity, we are often relieved by some one who is always loyal, always fine and never over sentimental or boring. We find such a person in Mary Clements.

She's a strong senior, a girl who will be among those who will make their mark in the State next year.

DEBATING CLUB WILL REJUVENATE FACULTY

Continued from page one

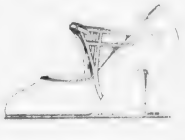
Take-Off tonight, Wednesday, and see the faculty before and after the "Fountain of Youth" took effect. There will be three acts; the third act showing the affects of the rejuvenation on the faculty as teachers and it tells us how a few got left out of the secret, so we will see one or two familiar faces.

Everybody come at seven o'clock to the big auditorium and see our faculty as young and spry as they ever were. Bring fifteen cents.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

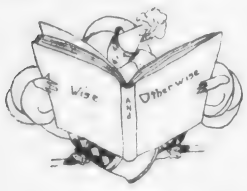
SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World



At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs
and Stationery



Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat
and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Nan G.: "Explain the words "Income Tax."

Pupil: "I had a little dog named Tax. I opened the door and Income Tax."

Norfleet: "My greatest fault is my vanity. I pose in front of the mirror for hours, admiring my beauty."

Palmer: "That's not vanity—that's imagination."

Pumphrey: "I want to buy a pencil."

Clerk: "Hard or soft?"

Pumphrey: "Soft—I'm going to write 'Cope' a love letter."

"Jackie": "I'm twenty-one today, and I can't vote."

Phyllis: "Why?"

Jackie: "There isn't any election."

Virginia Pettigrew says she was only a trapeze performer, so she was always up in the air.—Ex.

Elizabeth Munn: "The good die young. You know I always had a presentment that I would die young."

Chris: "And you didn't, after all."—Ex.

Elizabeth Hutt: "Oh, it's snowing."
Nancy Holt: "Well, let it snow."
Hutt: "Yes, I was going to."—Ex.

"Look here, Willis, it may not kill you when I hit you, but you will starve to death bouncing," said Wiley.

S. T. C.: "Why don't you drown your sorrow, old man?"

H.-S.: "Aw, she can swim."

SLANG

Long ago in old New England
When our grandsires settled there,
How our wise cracks would have shocked 'em
Truly more than they could bear.
Funny, though, how things will happen;
Customs change from day to day,
The past and present meet no longer
In the things that people say.

Today you "hoof it" down the "dorm"
Some "gripe" gives you a "pain"
But years ago they would have walked,
And a certain girl was vain.
Today you pull a "boner"
And the prof. just "bawls you out".
But years ago they said mistake
And professor san a doubt.

Today, one may on campus
Catch a "sucker" or a "lout"
But years ago they fished in streams
And usually caught trout.
Yes, now the people most refined
Our language will abuse.
I don't know where it all will end
With the "lingo" people use.
—Louise Houck (Florida Flambeau)

FROM THOSE WHO STAYED HERE

Everyone, or almost everyone, goes home for the Easter holidays, leaving less than a hundred forgotten and ignored students, who are to remain at school during the time while the supposedly more fortunate ones are at home, at dances and parties. Yes we admit, they are more fortunate in this respect than we are, for none realize more poignantly that we during that brief holiday that "there is no place like home." But I, for one (and I think for all) do not want you to feel sorry for us. You who are so lightly generous with your pity. We hear on all sides remarks like these. "I wouldn't stay here on a holiday for anything," "Aren't you going home?" (implying that you have lost your mind), "Well, I hope you enjoy it" (dare you to is what they mean). No, no one is to feel sorry for us. We are not to be pitied, because next to home S. T. C. is the best place when you have no work to do or meetings to attend. Sometimes I feel like a Soviet going to meeting after meeting. During the holidays there are no classes nor meetings. There are no study hours. No noise of armies going to or from anywhere. The bell even takes a vacation to a certain extent and sleeps until eight o'clock like everyone else except those who rise before the sun to go hiking. After breakfast there are the tennis courts. Imagine it. No classes and the courts free. In the evenings there are matinees and pictures at night to say nothing of the endless opportunities for bridge and "spit."

If you noticed, I said above "after breakfast." That does not mean after the usual breakfast. It means after a breakfast that you would not even suspect at college and I am not going to describe it, because you who did not stay wil have to take such a sacrifice for the remarks you made to us before you left. I shall tell you that we have meals that we don't miss. Then, too, we have boxes from home. We have plenty to eat and there is not much more to be desired.

Now, about the halls. They are so quiet that they give one delicious little shivers at night and make one feel as if she is "king of all she surveys." That is why we are not so cordial when you return. You are interrupting our party. You are intruding on our domain. For we begin to feel that we own the place after having stuck to it so loyally. Thy first comers are really exasperating. They come back here before the holiday is over and "rub it in" about what a nice time they have had. And besides they are not good company because they are still at home in their mind's eye.

I have not told you about the best part at all. Package line is very short. No one is ever locked out of meals. Everybody is on good terms with everyone else and you can get a tub whenever you want one.

FACULTY AND COSMETICS

The faculty are still concerned about the tendencies of youth at the present and their use of cosmetics. If the truth were known, we believe, people would see that the faculty are really very much in favor of cosmetics and other useful aids to rejuvenation. The yare always thorough in the things they do and probably overdo some things some times. Come tonight and see just how young the faculty make themselves.

ATHLETICS

Monogram Practices

Monogram practices were held all last week and will continue to be held throughout the athletic season. The monogram is waiting to be earned and the members of the monogram Club will be on hand to help any student pass off the required points. Remember that ten points go to your class colors if they have the highest number of girls getting a monogram. On Saturday a hike was held and a large number of girls returned glad to feel that the required hike was over. So, Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, all hurry out, work hard and get the satisfaction that comes over earning a monogram.

Tennis Doubles

Spring is here! There is no doubt of it for every day girls flock to the tennis courts. And why? Because tennis doubles tournament will soon be played off. All classes are eagerly watching to see where those other five points will be placed. The date has not yet been set but its time to begin practicing up, so choose your partner, and get to work. Your class needs you.

Archery

Can it be that the campus of S. T. C. will soon resound with the sounds of Robin Hood and his merry men?—Will we soon be conscious of the sound of arrows passing through the air? Such seems to be the case for on Monday afternoon a meeting was held for all those interested in archery to decide which times are best suited for practice. As soon as the equipment arrives, the work will begin and it is hoped that a tournament can be held this spring.

Baseball

April always brings to one's mind thoughts of that good old American sport—baseball! And S. T. C. is no less American than any other college for every spring the interclass baseball games are played. The practice schedule for baseball has been arranged and may be found on the bulletin board in the hall. Take one look, then come out and try to win 10 points for your class.

Field and Track

The last part of the athletic season is devoted to field and track. Here is a chance for everyone. If you run, jump and throw, then just come out and see just how much you can do A schedule for field and track practices has likewise been posted so look it up, come out, and practice, break the college record, and in so doing, give yourself 100 points toward a blazer and your class colors a better chance toward getting the silver cup.

If you are lazy, tired and worn out, if you have been accused of letting your attention stray, if you don't know what to do with yourself and if you did know you wouldn't want to do it—if, in other words, you have contracted a severe case of spring fever—we are here to tell you that there is a cure and that cure is—come out on the athletic field and work, work, and work.

FRESHMAN ALPHA AND OMEGA

Antrim and Arthur, freshmen A's
They'll help ole Farmville in lots of ways.
Baldwin Mae—the girl with the eyes
Freshmen B's are mighty wise
C is for Cato, a dramatic star if you please—
That's why we chose her from the freshmen C's.
Diehl, Catherine, a town girl you see
She's a mighty good student—a freshman D.
East, Earp and Early replying with E's
When the teachers say, "answer this, please.
Fleming dances, Foster plays ball
From the freshmen F's we like them all
Gudheim and Gleason, watch 'em play
Can they do traps and piano—well, we'll say.
Hardy, Hutchinson, athletic workers, two
Freshmen H's for the White and Blue
Irby, Jane Gray, modest and sweet.
The freshman I—she can't be beat.
Johnson, so funny, says a cute thing
There are eight Jones her praises to sing.
A Knight we find will begin with K
Knott one in armor, just Lucy Mae
We look in the L's and find one to rate
Laing, Martha Anne, she's a star in debate
Where do the freshmen get their fine rep?
It's Munn, their president.
She leads them with pep.
Nelms, our Nancy with banjo and song
Keeps us happy all the day long.
O, those O'Berry's three in a row
And for basket ball lore to Oliver we go.
Puckett—Carmen studies and plays
She reminds us of Sue of olden days
There are no Q's—now isn't that queer
So we'll take Pettigrew and mention her here.
Rowbatham and Randall, little Reed, too
They learn the three R's and we do, too.
S is a letter nine names start with
Our heads fairly whirl with Smith, Smith and Smith.
Taliaferro, Mary Fielding so pretty you see
She's just the type to take to a "T."
Venable, Jane Reid, talented, too
There's nothing in dancing she can't do.
Young is the "Y" that we find in the list
She's sweet sixteen and never been kissed.
We've come to the end, oh, my, oh me.
It's not complete without a Z
We'll add the Z for the others so fine
It takes our freshmen to make the school shine.

FIELD AND TRACK RECORDS AT S. T. C.

For the past three years records in field and track have been climbing higher and higher. The following will show just what has been accomplished in the past—it is here to show the student body what can be done in the future. Remember—100 points for breaking a college record.

Event	Record	Winner	When
1. Dash (50 yd.)	6.5 seconds	Kitty Reid	in 1926
2. Dash (75 yd.)	9 seconds	Juliet Jones	in 1927
3. Running broad jump	14 ft. 11 in.	Jeanette Johnson	in 1926
4. Shot put	330 ft.	Emma Woods	in 1927
5. Hop-Step-Jump	30'—3¼"	L. Welchin	in 1926
6. Javelin	69'—9"	M. F. Hatchett	in 1927
7. Hurdles (60 yd.)	9 sec.	J. Tally	in 1927
8. High Jump	4'—4¾"	Virginia Perkins	in 1926
9. Baseball throw	188.4 ft.	Virginia Pierce	in 1927
10. Relay	1 min. 24 4-5 sec.	Freshmen	in 1926

New Shipment
EASTER
Coats and Dresses
Come in and See The
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week of April 23—28

MON. and TUES.—Gloria Smanson in "The Love of Sunya." In her supfeme screen achievement. Here's a storm of sunshine love, love at its peak and love at its depth. Dramatic love, romantic love and tinsel love enacted against the settings of sumptuous splendor to thrill, amaze and satisfy the most discriminating. Miss Swanson plays five different parts each acclaimed an achievement of beauty, artistry and power. Also News reel. Matinee each day at 4 o'clock. Serial Tuesday.

WED. and THURS.—John Gilbert in "Man, Woman and Sin," a big special production. How far can a man disregard a woman's past? John Gilbert plays a reported who falls in love with a beautiful girl. He forgives her past; but when the other man comes back, passion sweeps him toward the brink of disaster. An utterly moving, powerful jicture! It is John Gilbert's answer to those who said: "He can't make another 'Flesh and the Devil." Also good ccomedy. Matinees at 4. Thursday night, after the showing of the picture, The Hub will put on a fashion show on the theatre stage, with ten girl models displaying the latest styles in ladies clothes.

FRI. and SAT, at Matinee only.—Madge Bellamy in "The Play Girl." The story of a beautiful girl who craved to play and who learned to love even better than she had learned to play. A picture in a light vein that will be enpoyed by all who see it. Also comedy.

FRI. and SAT., at night only.—Rod LaRoque and Dolores DelRio, in "Resurrection," a big special production from the great novel by Leo Tolstoy. Had he forgotteen her loce Banished to Siberia—cold, friendless, alone. A troin passes. She sees him, her sweetheart through a lighted window. Gayety, beauty, the wine of life surrounds him—then darkness. id he forget? Did he want to forget? See the most remarkable love drama of all time. Also comedy.

Almission to S. T. C. girls 25 cents to each show if tickets are bought at the college.

Congratulations To Our New Officers!

THE ROTUNDA

POE

See "A Kiss For Cinderella"

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1928 Number 26

DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE PLAY

Performances Friday and Saturday Nights

On Friday and Saturday nights the Dramatic Club will present Barrie's "A Kiss for Cinderella." This is to be on the Lyceum course and is to be one of the biggest attractions of the season. The cast has been working on it steadily for over two months and has worked to a splendid performance. This play is, as Barrie's plays usually are, an areial, fairylike play full of smiles and tears. Those who have seen Betty Bronson play in "A Kiss for Cinderella" have an idea of its charm, but they cannot realize how charming it is until they see Mabel Fitzpatrick as little Cinderella, and Louise McCormick as the big policeman. Since we want every girl to see this play it is on the Lyceum course and is to be given two nights. Seats can be reserved at White's Drug Store.

TRI SIGMA CELEBRATES FOUNDERS DAY

On April 20th & 21st Alpha Chapter of Tri Sigma was hostess to many alumnae and members of the National Council Friday evening an informal reception was given in the Student Building lounge; at which time almost eighty guests called including members of the faculty, home department, and patrons of the sorority

Saturday afternoon, before a large audience a bronze tablet commemorating the eight founders of the National organization, was presented to the school. The tablet was presented by a pageant in which were embodied some of the aims of the organization and also a short history of the school from 1898 to 1928. The marker was received for the founders by Mrs. G. B. James. The pageant closed with a short talk by Dr. Jarman who acknowledged the tablet for the school.

Saturday evening at six-thirty the annual founders day banquet was celebrated in the banquet hall of the Tea Room.

Among those present for the week-end were three of the Founders, Mrs. G. B. James of Newport News, Va., Mrs. Roland S. Hall of Easton, Pa., and Mrs. S. M. Bayley of Washington, D. C.; three members of the National Council, Miss Mabel Lee Walton of Woodstock, Va., Mrs. W. M. Stryker, of Wichita, Kansas, Mrs. Ludwig Schmidt of Bartlesville, Okla., and about forty alumnae.

SOPHOMORE PLAY TO BE REPEATED

On May 4, at 8 o'clock, "Play Time" will be presented again. For those who saw the first performance, here is an opportunity to see this delightful entertainment again, and for those who did not see it—well, you are in luck, for here is your chance to see "Play Time" and for fifteen cents. Ask anyone who has seen "Play Time" and she will vouch for it. Don't forget—May 4 at 8 o'clock in the auditorium.

MAY DAY FESTIVAL TO BE ON MAY 12

Folk Legends Will Be Used as Theme

Ever since Easter our interest in May Day has been mounting higher and higher. We have heard long lists of names read for practices and many are asking when May Day, will be. The date is Saturday, the twelfth from four till six o'clock.

The program this year will consist of a group of familiar, but favorite legends with an introduction by Etta Marshall.

The Greek episode tells how Persephone, the goddess of Spring is carried off to the underworld by Pluto. In answer to her mother's prayers, Ieus allows her to return for six months each year, and as she comes, flowers spring up in her path.

The Romans have a procession of maidens in commemoration of the Feast of Flora, and after a sacrificial dance proceed to the temple to give thanks for the Spring.

In Russia, for one mystic hour at midnight in the month of May there blooms a magic red flower and happy is the mortal who finds it. A village maiden goes in search of it and when she finds the drooping flower, her neighbors come into the forest to rejoice with her.

Throughout the Scandanavian countries the peasants dance around a bon fire. Some paint their faces black in order to frighten away evil spirits.

The English scene is laid in the time of Robin Hood. He wins the archery contest and has the privilege of crowning his sweetheart, Maid Marian, Queen of the May. She is then entertained by the villagers.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION MEETS

The thirteenth annual conference of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Association of Student Government met in Lynchburg on April 19-21, at Randolph Macon College.

The conference was composed of representatives from every southern college south of West Virginia, east of the Mississippi River including Texas. Speakers of the conference included Mr. John L. Manahan, dean of Education of the University of Virginia; Miss Mary L. Sherrill of Mount Holyoke College, Mass.; Mrs. W. S. Harris, of Danville, Va.; Mrs. George H. Hallet, Jr., propotional representation League, Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Marion B. Rosenberry, Madison, Wisconsin. Campus problems were discussed by heads of various state organizations.

Representatives from this college were Miss Mary C. Royall, president of the student body and Miss Frances Willis, president-elect.

NEW GIRLS ELECTED FOR MINOR OFFICES BY STUDENT BODY

Elections for the minor officers in the college were held April 18. The attention of every member of the student body was focused on the elections, which were characterized by careful consideration and forethought.

With such a barrage of talent at the helm, S. T. C. is started in the right direction to steer through all obstacles in 1928-1929.

The following girls were elected:

Student Government Association

Vice-President ..... Lucille Graves
Secretary ..... Emma Woods
Treasurer ..... Louise Foster
Campus League ..... Elsie Clements

Y. W. C. A.

Vice-President ..... Sammy Scott
Secretary ..... Margaret Leonard
Treasurer ..... Elizabeth Atwater
Undergraduate Representative ..... Anna Burgess
Faculty Advisors: ..... Miss Thomas
Miss Waters
Miss Mary P. Jones
Mrs. McCorkle

The Rotunda

Associate Editor ..... Lucy Thompson
Business Manager, ... Margaret Walton

The Virginian

Bus. Mgr. ..... Lucille Norman
Art Editor ..... Gertrude Jarman
Literary Editor ..... Frances Wilson

Athletic Association

Vice-President ..... Laura M. Smith
Secretary ..... Mary Jane Wilkinson
Treasurer ..... Laura N. Smith

Heads of Sports

Tennis ..... Martha Henderlite
Hockey ..... Marie Elder
Basketball ..... Adele Hutchinson
Volley Ball ..... Claudia Fleming
Baseball ..... Allie Oliver
Field and Track ..... Gwen Hardy
Archery ..... Emma Woods

ALPHA DELTA RHO FOUNDERS DAY PROGRAM

Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho Celebrates Founders Day

On Friday, April 20th, at eight o'clock the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho held its annual open meeting. This meeting celebrated the third Founders Day of the organization.

Dr. Rankin gave the invocation. This was followed by a piano solo, "Murmuring Zephyrs" by Elizabeth Taylor.

Dr. William M. Brown, from Washington and Lee University gave the address of the evening. Dr. Brown took for his subject education and its meaning. He brought out the fact that education is not simply the subjects we take, but the use we make of them. A degree does not necessarily constitute an education. In illustrating this fact Dr. Brown said we might compare students and education to the little dog who ran down the track after a railroad train. After we catch it, what are we going to do with it? Education centers around these things, control, appreciation, and understanding. Appreciation of value o flife is one of the realisations of education. In fact an education is synonymous with appreciation.

Dr. Brown brought to the attention of the audience, our purpose in school and our duty as future educators, as well as leaders. His talk was instructive and at the same time highly entertaining.

Following Dr. Brown's address the Chromatic Club gave a musical selection. This selection seemed to appeal to the audience. It was beautifully rendered.

Dr. Jarman gave the final talk of the evening. His talk he said had no definite subject. But centered around leadership and its part in campus life Dr. Jarman said that he realized the importance of a fine type of scholarship, but even more than this be felt the need of campus leadership, based on campus service. He pointed out very definitely the fact that the highest type of leadership is the type

Continued on last page

FACULTY-STUDENT TENNIS FINALS

Friday afternoon finals in tennis between Dr. Walmsley, faculty champion, and Dolly Reed, student champion, will be staged.

Last fall a tennis tournament was held for our faculty members who desired to follow in the footsteps of Helen Wills. The contest was watched with interest by the members of the student body especially when it was learned that it was narrowed down to a fight between Dr. Walmsley and Mr. Coyner. And, when Dr. Walmsley won from Mr. Coyner, and was proclaimed the faculty tennis champion we learned that in the spring he was to play Dolly Reed, the student body champion.

DEBATES TO BE HELD

The first of the annual debates between the classes of State Teachers College will be held on Thursday, May 3 in the Student Building auditorium. The debaters will try to solve the question, Resolved: "That the College Should Train Only Potential Leaders." There will be two debates, the first between the freshmen and the sophomores, and the second between the juniors and the seniors. The two winning teams will debate at a later date. The silver cup with Blue and White ribbons which sits on the mantle in the rotunda will be awarded the winning team. This team will have its name engraved on the cup and the present ribbons wil lbe changed for the class colors.

DRAMATIC CLUB PLAYS AT WORSHAM SCHOOL

On last Thursday night the Dramatic Club presented a program at Worsham for the benefit of their school. A number of girls from S. T. C. went, and took part in the program Among the features were: a tourist dramatic readings, solo dances, piano solos and duets, the Freshman play, selections by the Freshman orchestra and several choruses by the Fourteen Club.

FRESHMEN ELECT OFFICERS FOR 1928

Elsie Clements is President-Elect

At the meeting of the freshman class which was held lest night, the officers for next year were elected. The seven girls elected for the various offices are capable, efficient girls who will keep the sophomore class "to-be" in the standing that a sophomore class should hold.

The officers are:

President ..... Elsie Clements
Vice-president ..... Nancy Nelms
Secretary, Elizabeth Brockenborough
Treasurer ..... Alma Hunt
Reporter ..... Jane Hunt Martin
Student Government Representatives: Adele Hutchinson and Willie Savadge

DEBATING CLUB GIVES FACULTY TAKE OFF

Many of us noticed the impressing poster, "See Them When They Were Young" stuck up in prominent places as we journeyed to and from classes Monday morning.

On the night of April 18th we had the opportunity of seeing them—the members of the faculty—as they might or might not have looked when they were young. The Debating Club gave its annual Faculty Take Off which consisted of three acts, the first of which portrayed the faculty, in all of its dignity, attending a faculty meeting. The subject under discussion at the meeting was as to whether o rnot the girls at S. T. C. should be allowed to use rouge. During this discussion a very young lady, quite a flapper in fact, made her appearance and with much difficulty induced the members of the faculty to believe that she was Miss Carrie Taliaferro. She told them of the magic power which she had found the water from a new spring at Lythia to possess and begged them to try it. The second act consisted of numerous scenes showing the various members of the faculty as they made their ways toward the spring and as they returned with the effect of the magic power of the water very much in evidence. The third act showed members of the faculty in their class rooms. Some of these members had visited the spring and some had not and it is needless to say that one had no trouble in distinguishing between these two types. In the last scene a ten year old Mr. Coyner set off a five cracker in a room in which Miss Coulling was teaching drawing and the curtain went down with a bang.

VISUAL EDUCATION

Harvard University and Pathe Film Company have joined forces to give motion pictures a new place, and an important one, in education. Harvard laboratories will be the "production lots" in which education films, to supplement lectures and text books, will be made. Present filming is in the geology field. The pictures will be

Continued on last page

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief — EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29

Board of Editors

Literary — LOUISA CURRIE, '28
Social — MARY DUNCAN, '29
Humorous — BEULAH JARVIS, '30
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY, '29
Current Events — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
MARY ELLEN CATO, '31 — JULIA WILSON, '29
MARY FRANCES SHEPHERD, '30 — VIRGINIA PETTIGREW, '31
LOUISE FOSTER, '29 — CATHERINE BENTLEY, '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTON, '30
Circulation Manager — FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant — MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

A NEW BEGINNING

The old leaves have turned and we find ourselves near the end of the school year with a clean page. It is a spur to our desire to serve to see our new officers coming in with bigger and better things before them. We feel that we can stand behind them with fresh energy and a new desire to help the live up to and put over their big aims.

The girls who will hold the reins next year have all that those of this year have accomplished to begin with. They have a bright torch to carry and if they live up to their predecessors they must carry it high. It is the desire of the student body, having elected these new officers, to have them carry the torch just a little higher even than those who are handing it to them. We do not doubt that they have the ability to do it and we must realize that we must play our part. It is up to the citizens of the college to make the "Campus Servants," as Dr. Jarman calls them, feel that we really are backing them.

The school session of 1928-'29 will be a record year for S. T. C. as far as efficient officers are concerned.

HONOR SOCIETIES

We have another honor society in school. What are honor societies for? Recognition. They are goals toward which we strive. They are ideals which strengthen our efforts for achievement. In the last several years S. T. C. has acquired three adidtional honor societies. Pi Kappa Omega is the oldest. Pi Kappa Omega means "scholarship, leadership, service." Alpha Delta Rho comes next, "character, accomplishment, influence." Pi Gamma Mu follows, "learners of social science." Our newest honor society is Pi Kappa Delta, "the art of persuasion beautiful and just". Each of these three organizations recognize achievement in different fields. Recognition of service to our Alma Mater through debate and oratory is the purpose of Pi Kappa Delta. S. T. C. is fortunate in having the Alpha Chapter of this fraternity which has chapters in about twenty-five states. S. T. C. was given the Alpha Chapter in preference to V. P. I. Do we not have high ideals to live up to in Pi Kappa Delta?

AND A LITTLE CHILD CAN LEAD US—SOMETIMES

Not that we consider the freshman class as a little child in a detrimental sense do we call them that in this dissertation. Yet, they are the youngest class in school fro mage and experience down here. However, they upheld a principle Tuesday night that it seems hard for the upper classmen to grasp. This is the principle of the variation of office holders. Not that the same girl isn't capable or worthy or re-election, but that she is capable and worthy of a change while another has the ability to lead and relieve the first. The freshman class has grasped the democratic, broad-minded and sensible point of view on elections. Their first year has been a successful one, their second is assured.

Could not the older classes profit by following the little child's example.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

The girls at Harrisonburg State Teachers College are certainly fortunate The entire student body will attend the annual Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester. It is evident that a good time is in store for them. —The Virginia Tech.

"College", says the "Wesleyan Argus", "is like a washing machine. You get out just what you put in, but you never recognize it."

We extend our congratulations to "The Breeze", published by the Harrisonburg students, for being given second place among college papers in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. This association comprises practically all schools in the United States as well as several foreign ones.

"The New Student" reports that the two editors of "The Tower", literary magazine of Dartmouth College, have resigned because New Hampshire laws by which they are governed differ from them on what is immoral in literature and what is not. After having three of their stories rejected, the editors decided that the law wins every time. "The Dartmouth" commented that the decency of New England, "which throws into bold relief the incidental elements of smut, is a parasitic figure of hypocrisy."

One of the biggest presentations of the year at Mississippi State Teachers College will be the comedy "As You Like It". Although this production is a difficult undertaking it promises to be quite an unusual and successful play.—The Spectator.

"The Tar Heel" reports that Governor Alfred Smith was chosen by a straw vote as the campus favorite at Chapel Hill. The results of the voting resulted in a choice of two to one by the students and eight to one by the faculty.

TRI-RACIAL DEBATERS

A tri-racial debate team will represent the University of Hawaii in a series of contests in the Orient next summer. A Japanese, a Chinese, and an Anglo-Saxon compose the team which is being financed by the Pan-American Union. The students will participate in debates and oratorical contests on prohibition, democracy, and topics of special interest as a good will gesture from Honolulu to the peoples on the other side of the Pacific.

—The New Student

BUSY WORLD BITS

Fifty-six years ago on April 23 the first Arbor Day was efficially celebrated in the United States. Ever since most of the states have observed an annual tree-planting day. The week of April 22—28 has been set aside by President Coolidge for nation-wide observance of our forests by public discussion of them and what must be done to safe-guard and restore them.

Mexico is to repay the good-will visit of Colonel Charles A Lindbergh. Plans are being made for Captain Emilis Carranza to make the flight sometime this month.

It seems that the flood bill is in danger. The bill faces President Coolidge's veto because it threatens to interfere with the administration's plans for tax reduction.

One of Europe's danger spots is in South Tyrol, Attacks upon Italy have again been made questioning the policy which she is using to Italianize these former Austrians. What will Mussolini do next?

The diplomacy of tomorrow, says Count Carlo Sforza, will be based on the greatest possible amount of human sympathy with the feelings and ideas of neighboring countries, and what'll we find for the marines to do?—Ohio State Journal.

SPRING FEVER

There have been movies, essays, poems, and even arguments received on this subject of spring fever; but there is really only one way to find out exactly what a case of spring fever is. Experience is the one way.

I have just been subject to an attack of this disease. I might add that I haven't as yet wholly recovered. It came upon me suddenly in the afternoon of one of those first warm days, one of those days that tricked us into getting our print dresses out of the trunk. I started studying for a test about 3:30 p. m. I read the first page of the first chapter with earnest concentration. I "came to" when the 5:30 bell rang—I hadn't even turned that first page. I hadn't been asleep, I had been day dreaming, the surest symptom of this prevalent disease.

If, my friends, you wish for A's on your report in June, don't catch spring fever. —I. M. B. '30

"Business is business," but men are men.
Let's seek to be comrades now and then
And slip from our golden tether,
"Business is business," but men are men
And we're all good pals together!

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville — Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Installing new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

RESOLUTION

Sad, dull, and cold is my heart.
My soul, if there be a soul,
Is like unto it.
Love
Has done this to me,
This wondrous idol with clay feet
I will have no more of love
My life will be sham
Tinsel and trickery
For of what good is a heart
If it aches? L. M. B. '330

INFATUATION

One night I loved you.
I close my eyes and feel
The throbbing of your lips;
I gaze into the depths
Of eyes that speak of love,
But in their intensity I can read
Vows—bubbles born of air
That very soon will vanish.

And all that night my dreams
Brought me only you;
Again you held me in your arms
And whispered things
That were not true.
But with the chill, sane dawn
I forgot, and—
I wonder if you did too.

—L. R. R.

TO YOU

To love and be loved is bliss—
They say—the best of happiness.
I am loved—'Round me gifts I see
That were given thru love for me.
I love—and from heavens above
The moon whispers to me about love
And yet, not for me has been bliss—
Or yet have I found happiness.
Oh, I love and am loved, 'tis true—
But he loves me—and I love you.

—D. L. '31

WHEN I WASTED TIME ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF A LESSON

Very methodically I placed the necessary apparatus on the table—book, paper, pen, and ink. I drew the chair up to the table and carefuly, very carefully, straightened the scarf to the exact angle. Thinking things were in ship-shape, I listlessly sat down; but, no, too much light came through the window so I got up and lowered the shade. Surely no more studious environment could have been found than in my own room at that time, but to me nothing appeared to be correct.

Nevertheless, pen in hand, I proceeded to write. The topic was one in which I had no interest, one about which I did not care to learn, consequently concentration came hard. "A high tariff is not justifiable," I wrote laboriously. Where in the world was Jane going so dressed up? Lucky girl. She had no theme to write. Why, oh, why, did I have to be the one? I continued to glance idly out of the window, seeing no one in particular, indulging in a great wave of self-pity. Hm! It looked as if it might rain. I wondered how Lil would get home without an umbrella. A sudden thought struck me. I would take her an umbrella!

With joyous abandon I rushed forth into the rain, heedless of deserted lesson and a prickly conscience. Needless to say my grade the following day was something I never mentioned.

SOCIAL

Elizabeth Woltz and Miriam Elliot spent the week-end in Clover.

* * *

Katherine Thweatt, Elizabeth Hutt, Mattie Leigh Doyle, Jo Peters, Lucille Farmer, and Virginia Rucker, spent the week-end at Hampden-Sydney.

* * *

Gladys Huband visited in Richmond over the week-end.

* * *

Elizabeth Elmore spent the week-end in Petersburg.

* * *

Elizabeth Antrim visited in Richmond last week-end.

* * *

Doris Brooks and Margaret Lifsey spent the week-end in Nathalie.

* * *

Mabel Bradshaw spent the week-end in Rice.

* * *

Elizabeth Dunn visited in Burkeville last week-end.

* * *

Charline Williams spent last week-end in Richmond.

* * *

Mary B. Parker and May Baldwin attended the dances at Ashland over the week-end.

* * *

Rena Robertson is spending several days in Lynchburg.

* * *

Carolyn Maddux, Mary Tucker, Elizabeth Ferrell and Virginia Cobb spent the week-end in Blackstone.

* * *

The following girls returned for the Alpha Delta Rho banquet: Eula Harris, Erna Shotwell, Virginia Vincent, Lucy Haile Overbey, Kate Trent, Audrey Chewning, Rosalind Harrell, Frances Sale, Peggy Stearnes, Bunn Quinn, Edith Cornwell, Mary Linn Petty, Lucille Walton, and Kitty Morgan.

ALPHA DELTA RHO BANQUET

The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho held its annual Founders Day Banquet in the Tea Room at 6:30, Friday, April 20. The color scheme of purple, gold and white was attractively carried out in the decorations.

Dr. Wilson of Hampden-Sydey College, and Dr. and Mrs. Brown of Washington and Lee University were the guests of honor.

The alumnae returning for the banquet were: Mary Linn Petty, Virginia Graves, Lucy Haile Overbey, Virginia Vincent, Frances Sale, Margaret L. Stearnes and Kate Trent.

Miss Harriett Scarborough, of the University of South Carolina spent the week-end in Farmville, as the guest of the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho. She was here to attend the Founders Day exercises, and the business meetings, in the interest of consolidating the honorary leadership fraternity, Gamma Omega Pi, of the University of South Carolina, with Alpha Delta Rho.

TRAINING SCHOOL PUPILS GIVE PLAY

On Wednesday evening, April 18th, Miss Frances Walmsley's pupils in the ninth grade gave a very delightful play depicting phases of the life of Queen Elizabeth of England. The pupils selected the incidents which they wished to present and wrote the play. The acting and costumes showed initiative and ability on the part of the girls.

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

VIRGINIA ELLIS

From the time Virginia entered S. T. C. she has been hel din the hearts of all who know her as a true, straightforward, faithful, lovable friend. She is one of the busiest people on campus, perhaps because she doesn't relinquish a task until it is complete.

Few people hold before them ideals as high as Virginia, and rare are the people who live up to them as she does. We have found her sincere, whatever the cost, and we admire her for it.

For her radiant smiles at the approach of week-ends, there is a reason for Virginia loves her jaunts to North Carolina.

A member of Pi Kappa Omega for three years, her scholastic record is an enviable one. She is also a member of Alpha Delta Rho and Delta Sigma Chi. She served on the Student Council as vice-president, and on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.

S. T. C. is proud of Virginia. We are confident that she will bring honor to herself and her college as she makes her place after graduation, a true daughter of Alma Mater.

VIOLA GRAY WOODSON

Who would ever think of Jack as Viola. Those who mean the most to us usually have a nick-name because a nick-name seems to draw them closer to us and Jack is surely one who is close to our hearts.

Jack has faith, faith in girls and faith in a cause. She succeeds many time where others would have failed because of her spirit, her perseverance.

Jack has the gift of being able to do many different type things and of doing them well. She has served on the Student Council, she was last year's wide-awake president of the Athletic Association, she has been president of the Monogram Club, and has participated in every athletic event staged at S. T. C. since she has been here. Nor has she neglected Y. W. C. A. work. This year's freshmen can vouch for that because of her friendliness the first of this year and her interest in the Freshman Commission.

Taking all in all, Jack is our friend and co-worker as a leader or follower. She's just "Our Jack."

HELEN DAVIDSON

Helen's quiet leadership has made her an almost indispensable member of any group with which she is associated. She is one of those happy people who contribute largely and at the same time receives much from association with people. She is friend and adviser to many girls, upperclassmen as well as underclassmen.

Helen has the distinction of being a member of the three honorary societies on our campus—Pi Kappa Omega, Pi Gamma Mu and Alpha Delta Rho. This year she has done work of unusual merit on the Student Council and Rotunda staff. She has also been student assistant to Dr. Walmsley and Miss Grenels.

Though participating only from the side line, she is a staunch supporter of all athletics.

Because she believes in girls, because she cheers them with her smiles, and with her words gives them new courage, we call her, now and always, our friend.

LINDY'S LUCK ENDS

Only 29 of 159 girls in South Hall at the University of Missouri would marry Colonel Lindbergh, if they had the chance. Eleven of the 29 were ready to marry the airman without hesitation; fifteen wanted to "date him" first, and three felt that "it wouldn't be bad at all" to stand beside so famous a man. Of those who voted negatively, 63 were in love with someone else; 17 said the Colonel is too popular; twelve did not care for his "type"; six were afraid he might be killed any minute, and three refused to marry a famous man and be known onl yas his wife.

—The New Student

THOUGHTS

School days
Ending;
Life's Cares
Nearing;
School Ma'am's
Problems;
Alas!
Alas!

Jarman
Boosting;
Teachers
Helping;
School Ma'am's
Problems
Not quite
So bad.

Our Profs.
Giving
Just what
We need
To make
Life a Success;
New Hope!!

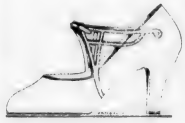
MEMORY

My mind lets go a thousand things
Like dates of wars and deaths of kings
And yet recalls the very hour—
'Twas noon by yonder village tower,
And on the last blue noon in May—
The wind came briskly up this way,
Crisping the brook beside the road;
Then, pausing here, sit down its load
Of pine-scents, and shook listlessly
Two petals from that wild-rose tree.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World



At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

"It was Christmas Eve—"

"I didn't know Eve had a first name."

"She doesn't walk home any more."

"Why not?"

"She's a pretty good skate."

Ferree: "He falls for every pretty girl he see."

Withers: "How'd you find out—hearsay?"

Grimes: "Did you see that hot dog stand?"

Covington: "No—hot dogs only lie."

H. S.: "I adore you, kid."

S. T. C.: "Are you talking to me or the gloves?"

Annie P.: "I feel sorry for that girl over there."

Mayo: "How so?"

Annie P.: "She ate her salad with her spoon and now she has to eat her soup with her fork."

Townes: "Why are a girl's lips like a book?"

Whipple: "Red only between meals."

Bugs: "Do you know why the English dude is not wanted in America?"

Billy: "No, why?"

Bugs: "Because the Yankee Doodle do."

McCormick: "Look here, I object to going on right after that monkey act."

Manager: "You're right. They may think its an encore."

KUTE KOLLEGE KIDS

Gertrude Jarman says when the Scotchman heard that laughter created appetite, he began to cry at the dinner table.

Mary Ellen Cato says the world likes a good loser, particularly if it gets some of his money.

Harriet Falkner says felt hats may come and straw hats may go, but the high hat goes on forever.

Bibby Ball says girls talk less in February than in any other month because it is the shortest.

Jackie Woodson wants to know what side of the napkin should be used for wiping silverware.

Anna Burgess says that cosmetics are peach preserves.

Eleanor Hogan says that marriage is a great institution—so is the penitentiary.

MU OMEGA WINS HIGHEST SCHOLASTIC AVERAGE

As a result of averaging the grades for the different sororities for fall, winter and spring terms Mu Omega won the highest average by a very small margin. This will entitle the sorority to have its name engraved on the Pan-Hellenic scholarship cup. The second highest scholastic standing is held by Gamma Theta. The averages of the other three sororities were very close. Minute averaging was necessary in order to find the highest and second highest averages. Grading on the scale of 11 for A, 8 for B and 6 for C the three highest averages were:

Mu Omega	7.8653 1-3
Gamma Theta	7.865
Zeta Tau	7.786

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The other Knight I was walking up the Hill with a Poore, Young lad. The Moon was shining rather mistily because of the recent Raine. Well, I started the Ball rolling by asking what the Bunch was doing now. The first one I asked about was a rather Wiley fellow who could always get out of a Peck of trouble without paying the Price. He never seemed to have to Wayte for anyone. The lad said he had a Royall looking White Hutt built on English Lynes. Quite a Byrd of a place. He always did go in for the Bigger and better trees in the Forrest. There was a girl in the crowd I knew. She was a rather Gurley girl, always used to be a Fisher for Moore men. She got them too. She married a Baker, but he couldn't bring home the Bacon, so she tossed him aside and married an old Gray-Beard. He became such a Burden that she gave him the Gates. Next she caught a Young French-Mann, but the dog didn't Cotton to him so out he went. She was quite up a Stump now. Her Frame of mind was terrible. After a while she buried the Hatchett and went back to the old Gray-Beard. He had one foot in the Grave(s) anyhow. The ten o'clock Bell rang then and he had to Steele homeward. It was like trying to teach a Stove to swim.

Perhaps you are trying to find the point to the story. There isn't any. I just wanted to prove that there was a Bully lot in a name.

WHAT IS LIFE TO YOU?

To the joker it's a jest;
To the preacher, life's a sermon,
To the miser life is money
To the loafer life is rest.

To the lawyer life's a trial,
To the poet life's a song,
To the doctor life's a patient
That needs treatment right along.

To the soldier life is battle,
To the teacher life's a school,
Life's a good thing to the grafter,
Its a failure to the fool.

Life is lovely to the lover,
To the player life's a play;
Life may be a load of trouble
To the man upon the dray.

Life is but a long vacation
To the man who loves his work;
Life's an everlasting effort
To shun duty to the shirk.

To the heaven's best romancer
Life's a story ever new;
Life is what we try to make it—
Brother, what is life to you?

—Blue Stockings

WOMEN SAY MEN ARE HOPELESS

The following is an "Essay on Men" taken from "The Gopher Countryman," student publication of the University of Minnesota;

Men are what women marry. They have two feet, two hands, and sometimes two wives, but never more than one collar or one idea at one time.

Like Turkish cigarettes, men are all made of the same material, the only difference is that some are a little better than others.

Generally speaking, they may be divided in three classes: Husbands, bachelors, and widowers. An eligible bachelor is a mass of obstinacy entirely surrounded by suspicion. Husbands are of three varieties: prizes, surprises, and consolation prizes.

Making a husband out of a man is one of the highest plastic arts known to civilization. It requires science, common sense, faith hope, and charity, especially charity.

It is a phychological marvel that a soft, fluffy, tender, violet-scented, sweet little thing like a woman should enjoy kissing a big, awkward, stubby-chinned, tobacco and bay-rum scented think like a man.

If you flatter a man it frightens him to death, and if you don't it bores him to death. If you permit him to make love to you, he gets tired of you in the end; if you don't he gets tired of you in the beginning.

If you believe him in everything you cease to interest him, and if you argue with him in everything, you cease to charm him. If you believe all he tells you, he thinks you are a fool, and if you don't, he thinks you are a cynic.

If you wear gay colors, and rouge, and a startling hat, he hesitates to take you out, and if you wear a little brown hat and a tailor-made he takes you out and stares all evening at a woman in gay colors, rouge, and a startling hat.

If you join him in his gaities and approve him in his smoking he swears you are driving him to the devil, and if you don't approve of his smoking and urge him to give up his gaities he vows you are driving him to the devil.

If you are the clinging vine type, he doubts whether you have a brain, and if you are a modern, advanced, and independent woman, he doubts whether you have a heart.

If you are silly, he longs for a bright mate, and if you are brilliant and intellectual, he longs for a playmate.

If you are popular with other men, he is jealous, and if you are not he hesitates to marry a wall-flower.

Gosh dang the men, anyhow.—Va. Tech.

VISUAL EDUCATION

Continued from page one

made under the direction of experts in the educational fields touched upon so that the films will be thoroughly authentic. Upon completion they will be available to colleges and secondary schools. Cameramen will follow Harvard expeditions, and record all phases of research activity.

—The New Student

DR. BROWN SPEAKS AT ALPHA DELTA RHO MEET

Continued from page one

which first learns to serve.

In concluding he congratulated the members of the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho upon their two years' existence, upon the work they had done, the work they were doing, and their future opportunity.

Due to the confusion of practice hours among the student body the following schedule has been arranged and posted on the bulletin board in the hall.

Monday, 4—5 Monogram practices

Tues., Wed., Thurs., Fri., 4—5 baseball.

Tues., Wed., Thurs., Fri., 5—5:45, Field, Track and Archery.

Saturday, 2:30—Monogram hike.

There are no special days for the different classes to practice. Just come out any two days a week as all the classes practice together. If you come out one day a week you cannot make the absence up by coming out three days the following week. Only in case of sickness will this be permitted.

No girl who has not attended 60 per cent of the practices will be allowed to participate in the track meet, so do not put off coming out until two weeks before the meet will be held. In such case you cannot enter.

Tennis Doubles

The time for the tennis doubles tournament draws near. Have you chosen your partner? If not it time to get one and begin practising. It is not necessary to choose a girl from your own class for your partner—just take one from the Green and White or the Red and Wihte. For instance, if you are a senior, you may play with a sophomore while a freshman and a junior may be partners. The winners receive 25 points toward a blazer and ten points towards the class cup.

WHAT WOULD WE DO IF—

Alice Wiley grew thin?

And Chris fat?

Ann Palmer was seen and not heard?

And "Skinny" Craft posed as Miss Innocence?

Louise McCormick couldn't act?

Jeanette Morris wasn't pretty?

Dr. Walmsley wasn't loved by all?

Clara Norfleet really could sing?

Virginia Ellis didn't smile for all?

Pearl Etheridge wouldn't lend a helping hand?

The bells didn't ring?

Aunt Lucy wasn't hungry?

"Pannie" wasn't known as "our Pannie"?

This wouldn't and couldn't be S. T. C.

SONG

By Louis Ginsberg

Love that is hoarded, moulds at last
Until we know some day
The only thing we ever have
Is what we give away.

And kindness that is never used
But hidden all alone
Will slowly harden till it is
As hard as any stone.

It is the things we always hold
That we will lose some day;
The only things we ever keep
Are what we give away.

The Latest in Sport Wear
Crepe Sole Oxfords
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre April 30—May 5

MON. and TUES.—Lon Chaney, Marceline Day, Henry B. Walthol, Conrad Nagel and Polly Moran in "London After Midnight." A big special production. Chaney's greatest triumph! There's no use talking, an honest to goodness story, ith plenty of action and excitement and a bit of romance, is what everyone craves. Well, here it is. A Scotland Yard detective mystery yarn Chaney triumphs in. What a guarantee of a perfectly thrilling evening. Also News Reel. Serial Tuesday.

WED.—H. B. Warner, Lois Wilson, Clive Brook and Lilyan Tashman in "French Dressing." A French ktail with a delightful hang-over! Oo-la-la! What ze little French dressing will do! It turned a wall-flower wife into a dazzling mademoiselle and started a scandal that was the talk of Paris. Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—Milton Sille, Doris Kenyon and Geodge Fawcett in "The Valley of the Giants," a Peter B. Kyne story and a big special production. A soul-stirring story of the redwoods, of giant trees, and a big man, big because he had the courage to fight for his rights, and love was his most cherished right! One of the best pictures at the theatre in a year. Also comedy. Matinee at 4.

FRI. and SAT, at Matinees only—Karl Dane and George K. Arthur in "Baby Mine," a special production. Here is a picture that will keeu the house in an uproar with laughter and if you see it an do not enjoy it, you should at once see a doctor. It is founded on the play by Margaret Mayo. If you don't wanto laugh, stay away. Also comedy.

FRI. and SAT, at nights only—John Barrymore, Marceline Day and a great supporting cast, in "The Beloved Rogue." Here is the world's greatest actor in the greatest role of love's history. A tremendous spectacle A tingling, tense, glorious Barrymore triumph. Folks din't miss this vivid romance. It's the thrill of the year, the delight of the month, the hit of the day, the rea of he moment—the talk of the town. It is a great production. Also comedy.

Admission to S. T. C. girls, 25 cents to each show if tickets are bought at college.

Y. W. INSTALLATION MONDAY NIGHT

THE ROTUNDA

COME TO THE LAWN FETE SATURDAY

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1928 No. 27

NOTED POET AND PLAYWRIGHT TO SPEAK HERE

Alfred Kreymborg Comes to S. T. C. Wednesday

Alfred Kreymborg, a poet and writer of plays from New York will be here Wednesday night to talk to the student body and town people in the auditorium. As a poet he is a very interesting character as some of the freshman will tell you from their study of him and his works. It has been said that his poems are like the little oddments one finds while rummaging in an old curiosity shop. Some of them are ridiculous and valueless, some quaint and amusing; a few are beautiful. Some of the best of his poems are "Idealists," "Old Manuscript," "Earth Wisdom," and "Improvisations."

Mr. Kreymborg is the author of "Six Plays for Poet Mimeo," six entertaining little dramas in free verse. They have been played with success at a number of the "Little Theatres" and by groups of students.

We are not quite sure what the nature of Mr. Kreymborg's lecture while here will be but we know it will be intellectual and interesting. Let us show that we appreciate the privilege of having such an intellectual person as Mr. Kreymborg with us by coming to the auditorium Wednesday night.

GIRLS ELECTED TO FILL SECONDARY OFFICES

Top Row—Gertrude Jarman, Emma Woods, Laura N. Smith, Lucille Norman, Peggy Walton, Lucy Thompson.
Middle Row—Frances Wilson, Lucille Graves, Mary Jane Wilkinson, Red Foster, Elizabeth Atwater.
Front Row—Anna Burgess, Sammy Scott, Elsie Clements.

DRAMATIC CLUB PLAY IS UNUSUAL ARTISTIC SUCCESS

"A Kiss for Cinderella" Pleases Audience

On Friday and Saturday nights, April 27th and 28th, the Dramatic Club presented their second play of the year in the College auditorium.

The cast was particularly well-chosen and each member acted their part without a flaw. It can truthfully be said that Barrie's "A Kiss for Cinderella" was, one the whole, one of the most enjoyable plays ever put on by the Dramatic Club here. The little heroine, who called herself Cinderella, gave a touch of pathos and delightful human to the whole performance. The schools is unanimous in the opinion that no one could have played the part quite as well as Mabel Fitzpatrick.

Louise McCormick, playing the leading masculine role, displayed her usual talent and ability in the part of Our Policeman.

Etta Marshall showed us how versatile she really is. She played the part of Mr. Bodie, the painter, showing that she can take the part of almost any character. We are accustomed to seeing her take a girl's part. She is equally good at either.

The play is one which is rather difficult to put on due to several quick entire changes of scenery. All the

(Continued on last page)

SENIOR-SOPHOMORE PLAY SELECTED

The Senior and Sophomore classes have started work on a play to be given at commencement. After going over numerous plays a committee composed of representatives from each graduating class with Miss Leola Wheeler as advisor, decided on Milne's "Romantic Age."

The cast:

Henry Knowle	Greenhow Parker
Mary Knowle	Mary C. Ryan
Melisande	Etta Marshall
Jane	Phyllis Wood
Bobby	Virginia Gurley
Gervase	Elizabeth Ball
Ern	Jack Woodson
Gentleman Susan	Alice Wiley

DR. SIMPKINS SPEAKS AT VANDERBILT U.

On Saturday, April 28, Dr. Simkins left for Nashville, Tenn., where he attended the conference on Teaching and Research in Social Sciences. This is the fourth meeting of the conference which was held this year at Vanderbilt University, Nashville.

On Monday Doctor Simkins read a paper which he had prepared on the Approaches to the Social History of the Southern States.

MISS JACKSON SPEAKS TO PLAYMAKERS CLUB

It has been said that everybody has his lucky day sometime, and this hypothesis has certainly proved true as far as the S. T. C. PlayMakers' Club is concerned. Their luck began when Miss Mary Jackson consented to meet with them last Thursday evening to talk about Alfred Kreymborg, the poet who will speak here tonight, and to read some of the work of Mr. Ghoul, Farmville's poet. The fortune of the club seemed to be rising everyday for Miss Jackson asked the members to serve at an informal reception which was given for Mr. Kreymborg, Saturday afternoon from four to six, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Davidson. Monday afternoon Mr. Kreymborg consented to meet with the club. The main topic discussed was the Little Theatre movement in America. Mr. Kreymborg is an authority on this as he is one of its founders. He also said something of the trend in modern poetry. Mr. Kreymborg will speak tonight at 8. Everyone is urged to attend, for this is an opportunity which doesn't often fall to the like of us. Admission is twenty-five cents.

JUNIORS ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

On Wednesday, April 25, the Junior class held their annual elections. They showed a great deal of thought in electing their officers, choosing those girls who were capable and efficient. The following officers were elected:

President	Louise Foster
Vice- President	Anne Ferree
Secretary	Margaret Johnson
Treasurer	Louise Vaughan

Student Council Representatives
Sammy Scott and Anne Ferree

CAST FOR JUNIOR PLAY "MARRYING MARIAN"

Practices have been started on the musical comedy, "Marrying Marian," and it promises to be very intersting and delightful. The play depicts an amusing phase of life in a fashionable girls' college. The cast is as follows:

Marian Stratton	Margaret Hubbard
Dr. Bohunkies	Gertrude Shepheard
Mrs. Bohunkies	Margaret Finch
Miss Prudence McWhiffle	Evelyn Thompson
Cicero Socrates Smith	Margaret Hansel
Charles S. Smith	Mary Duncan

NATIVE LECTURER TO DISCUSS RUSSIA

For the past year Pi Gamma Mu has been basing many of its programs on the programs used and furnished through the International Relations Club fostered by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. It is the custom of the International Relations Club to send a lecturer to each of the clubs and organizations using the programs. In accordance with this Baron Alphonse Heyking will lecture here on May 7 at 8 o'clock. The subject of the lecture will be "The Russian Riddle.

Baron Heyking is now a lecturer on diplomatic and consular service and international law at the University of Geneva. He is also the Russian Consul General in London, British India and a member of the Russian Ministry of Foreign Affairs 1901 1905. He has also served as State Counsellor for Russia. Baron Heyking has recently been engaged in caring for the intersts of racial minorities in Latavia and Estonia at the League of Nations in Geneva. After the lecture Baron Heyking will lead in an informal discussion of the conditions of Russia.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT INSTALLATION HELD

On Monday night, April 30, the Student Council of 1927-'28 retired from office and gave their places and the opportunity for true service in Alma Mater to the new council. The council of '28 has done its work well, those who follow can wish for no greater happiness than that which comes from serving its fellow beings.

The retiring president thanked the student body for its cooperation during the past year, stating that whatever success her council had had come through their help and sympathy. The new president and her council were then installed. The new president expressed her appreciation for the honor that had been conferred upon her, and her pleasure in being allowed to serve the best student body in the world.

HONOR STUDENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Louise McCormick was announced valedictorian of the degree class and Virginia Rice was announced as salutatorian for commencement exercises.

Virginia Ellis from the degree class and Frances Wilson from the diploma class hold second places in their respective classes.

These girls deserve an unusual amount of credit for the work they have done.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in Chief ..... EVELYN V. DULANEY '28
Associate Editor ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29

Board of Editors

Literary ..... LOUISA CURRIE, '28
Social ..... MARY DUNCAN, '29
Humorous ..... BEULAH JARVIS, '30
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY, '29
Current Events ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29

Reporters

ALICE WILEY '28 — EMELYN MILLS '29
LUCY THOMPSON '30 — MAYO BASS '30
MARY ELLEN CATO, '31 — JULIA WILSON, '29
MARY FRANCES SHEPHERD, '30 — VIRGINIA PETTIGREW, '31
LOUISE FOSTER, '29 — CATHERINE BENTLEY, '29

Proof Reader

HELEN DAVIDSON '28

Managers

Business Manager ..... MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant ..... FLORENCE BOOTON, '30
Circulation Manager ..... FRANCES BOOTH '30
Assistant ..... MINERVA EVANS '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

MUSIC IN OUR SCHOOL

Those of us who were fortunate enough to be in chapel Saturday heard the best trained group of singers S. T. C. has had in several years. We are proud of them and we enjoy and appreciate their music. Nor is the Chromatic Club the only group which is working in the music department. There is the Double Quarete, the Choral Club and the Freshman Chorus. The Orchestra plays better at each entertainment. With a thousand girls we should have unlimited musical possibilities. This year the Music Department has certainly shown us those possibilities and has stepped into its rightful place as one of the most vital parts of our school entertainment.

Soon these girls who have been singing for us will journey to Danville to compete with glee clubs from other colleges. In them we have another group which goes out to represent us in the competitive field.

We are proud of them, we realize their worth to the school and we take great pride in their success.

UNDERHAND METHODS

Sincertiy is a word or practice admired and appreciated by everyone. Those who are known as sincere are trusted implicitly and practically always are respected for their thoughts, advice, and understanding. Sincerity's farce, or anything besides true sincerity in actions as well as words is a questionable reflection on those who practice it.

Anonymous letters seem to be the outstanding farce for sincerity that is prevalent. It is an underhand method used if the author lacks belief or faith enough in her intentions to personally discuss the matter with the desired one to whom she directs an anonymous letter. One with a firm conviction or a straightforward thought that she wishes to convey to another need never convey them in an underhand way. Underhand ways are never the best, they are not appreciated, they seldom gain the desired end and they are thus often instrumental in losing an occasional good point that would otherwise be gained.

THESE UNSCHEDULED CLASSES

Classes are scheduled to be held at a definite time on definite days. Girls arrange their schedules as conveniently and evenly as possible so that they can have time for outside work and recreation. After successfully arranging schedules for classes, schedules are made for extra-curricula activities. Then, pleasures and recreation are dotted in here and there. It sounds very nice and it would be nice occasionally if every one would cooperate and do her part.

One undesirable break in the plan is the scheduling of classes after class hours are supposed to be over. This doesn't seem exactly fair because a girl is not supposed to meet classes at times not scheduled. Unscheduled class meetings always interfere with other plans for some girls. Yet, she must attend class meetings or suffer the consequences. It would be rather unwise to object to an extra class meeting at an unscheduled time. Yet, it is as unfair as it is unwise to hold them.

Naturally every teacher thinks her class is of major importance. Yet, only few overstep bounds in thinking it important enough to hold extra class meeting. It is a good thing that all teachers don't call extra meetings. It would be better and fairer if none of them did.

UNSELFISH HAPPINESS

A year has passed since the writing of an editorial with the same title which ended, "with unselfish happiness through service as our goal, we pledge ourselves to fill to th best of our ability, the position entrusted to us by the school." This was the pledge made—now this is the reflection on the result.

A best can always be bettered in the future. If not, why live, and hope and aspire? Yet, looking back over our year's work on the Rotunda I can seriously say I have done my best to make our school paper one that would be a credit to the school, one that would be a fair representation of our Alma Mater to our present students, to our alumnae and to all the colleges with whom we exchange papers. I have tried to give credit where credit is due and to omit those things which seemed unworthy of publication.

Probably I have failed in some people's estimation. There are always those who look for failure, and those who make a practice of it can find failures in everyone besides themselves. However, it seems rather ridiculous to pronounce failure on a paper edited by a staff composed of two dozen girls who have willingly worked and contributed their best toward the success of the Rotunda. If one of us has failed it could hardly be noticed for the other members have done their work so well. They made it possible to organize successfully the Inter-Collegiate Press Association, State of Virginia, which is our definite contribution to the school.

So now I wish to thank the staff, student body and faculty for their cooperation in the publication of the Rotunda for the past year. Nothing could have been accomplished without it.

I step down from my position like a cast off shoe and congratulate the in-coming staff. May your pleasure in your work be as great as mine.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

"The Flat Hat" reports that William and Mary had an interesting and honored guest last week when they entertained Joseph Leon Lazarowitz, Esq., "King of Hoboes." This man carried with him a registration card from a Federal court telling that he is the world's champion hobo."

In eight years Mr. Lazarowitz claims that he has ridden his feet around for a total of 310,000 miles without spending a cent. In his autograph book he has the signature of many outstanding people of the United States such a President Coolidge and Governor Byrd.

According to "The New Student" "College Humor" is no longer to be leader and dictator of American collegiate wit, so far as the Western Association of College Comics is concerned. The editors and managers of these pjublications, in convention at the University of Washington, voted to break their contract which gives "College Humor" sole reprint rights.

A Gypsy Carnival will feature the May Day program at William and Mary yin which two h undred people will take part. Colorful dances and costumes will make the entertainment quite attractive and festive.—The Fat Hat.

BUSY WORLD BITS

When the German Junkers monoplane landed her gallant crew on the ice-bound isle off the coast of Newfoundland on Friday, April 13th, a new record in aviation history was begun. The Bremen is the first airplane to accomplish a non-stop flight over the North Atlantic along the east-to-west route. It is more difficult to fly from Europe to America then from America to Europe because in flying from east to west the plane is going against the prevailing westerly winds.

Mmme. Schumann-Heink, the famous singer, has announced the gift of her large estate to be administered as a refuge for sic kand disabled veterans and their families. Mmme. Schumann-Heink played her part during the war in bringing cheer to American service men and now has given her estate the Grossmont, near San Diego, California, as a home for the boys.

The world is unconsciously asking the question: What if Mussolini should die? The answer may be found in the fact that he is working to give the Fascist Grand Council a constitutional status and powers which would make it and the party it represents a permanent ruling power. Mussolini may come and go—but Fascism goes on forever.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. F. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

WITHOUT YOU

I wonder what's the matter
With the sunlight and the air
Yesterday, my spirit soared on wings
And joy was everywhere.
That is very near to pain
And the breezes sing a requiem
That is maddening to the brain.
Yesterday, I held your eyes;
I stroked your hair;
I saw in your eyes the beauty of the skies
And heard in your voice music, echoed on the air.
Oh, it may not be the sunlight!
And I doubt if it's the air,
But a glorious joy has fled me
And I cannot find it—anywhere.

—C. M. H.

TO—

Fairy of the evening
I see you dancing
Softly
In the light of the moon.
You wear a wreath of pink roses
As a crown for your hair.
You lift up your head and laugh
And I hear the soft laughter
Turned into music,
As a far-away echo
Resounds from the dell.
Suddenly
You dance into the air,
Throw a kiss to the stars
And are gone.

—J. E. W. '29

DREAMING

I sat by the murmuring brook,
My heart's dreams were of you,
And gazing beyond that nook
I saw you dreaming, too.

I saw a reflection there,
As I sat by the limpid stream.
'Twas a picture, dear, so fair
But, alas! 'Twas just a dream.

The hours slipped quietly by,
Then came the soft twilight,
I rose to leave, with a sigh
To dream on through the night.

—L. S. '30

AMBLING ALICE

Arose at 7:29 o'clock on a showery morning April. Dressed as per schedule, diving into all necessities where I placed them last night, anticipating a usual rising. Threw some water at my face, dodged it, and added finishing touches by dabbing a fluffy puff over my face, and winding my watch.

Fell in line with the others dashing down to breakfast. Spent a moment on the walk-way between the buildings to admire the sun's valiant attempt to shine through the showers.

Arrived at the dining room in time to scramble in with the usual "10 o'clock scholars."

Next I went by the Post Office to make sure that not a speck of mail had contaminated my box.

Returned to my room to read "College Humor" and to study a couple of classes before the 8:15 bell should permit me to rush gleefully to my classes to add to my fast progressing education.

Went to lunch and proceeded thence to the grassy lawn where I joined several members in good standing of the Solidity of the Sweet-tongued Gossipers to heart the "latest."

Had hard work to do this afteroon so went to my room, honored the bed by my presence and soon was lost to the worries of this world.

My room-mate kindly awakened me for supper and great was my joy when I got to the dining room and discovered we had potato salad for supper.

After supper went to Gilliams for a chocolate cream cone. Strolled up High Street and arrived at the college just in time to be in my room before the 7:30 bell stopped ringing.

With a Latin book in one hand, a pen in the other, and a chocolate bar handy for the final studying, I sat down to write to Dick,—well, its' almost bed-time now and I simply must get to bed and get a little rest after a hard day's collegiate life.

SOCIAL

Esther Ritchie spent last week-end in Hopewell.

* * * *

Rosalyn Peebles is spending some time at her home on acount of illness.

* * *

Eloise Perkins visited in Blackstone over the week-end.

* * *

Laura Mottley spent Sunday at her home.

* * *

Ann Gray spent last week-end in Hampton.

* * *

Pauline Gray was at her home in Windsor for the week-end.

* * *

Katharine Fagg is at home on account of illness.

* * *

Elizabeth Blanton is spending several days at her home at Amelia Court House.

* * *

Nancy Holt visited at Roanoke Rapids last week-end.

* * *

The following girls returned for the Mu Omega banquet: Eleanor Bennett Ryder, Peggy Barham, Mary Banks, Sara Fox, Katherine Hatch, Edith Cornwell, Jacqueline Irby, Mary Hamilton, and Ruth Richardson Horton.

* * *

Carolyn Maddux spent the week-end in Staunton.

* * *

Courtney Godsey was at her home for the week-end.

* * *

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet entertained all the members of the committees and the advisory board on Monday afternoon. The lounge was unusually beautiful with decorations of Scotch-broom. Each guest was given a new personality on arrvial at the party. This last meeting of the Y. W. workers was a happy one.

DO YOU OBSERVE BULLETIN BOARD RULES

Why not improve the looks of our bulletin board and save time? The board next to the elevator is to be used for Lost and Found notices. All notices must be dated and those not dated will be removed. These notices are to stay up only three days.

In spite of Dwight Morrow's friendly work in Mexica, the Mexican law still holds that all subsoil deposits belong to the government, not to the land owner. The law should apply especially to buried hatchets.—Brroklyn Times.

ALUMNAE NOTES

Mrs. Jean Carruthers Boatwright of Lynchburg is assistant to the Superintendent of Schools of Augusta County.

* * *

John Hobson Davenport, of Lancaster, Va., has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Esther Bates Davenport, to George Frank Hassalacher, son of Mrs. Jacob Hasslacher, of New York. Mr. Hassalacher is a graduate of Princeton of the class of 1917. The wedding will take place the latter part of May.

* * *

Miss Thelma S. Deaton of Staunton, Va., and Kendall J. Beam, of Mt. Holly, North Carolina, were married in Charlotte, North Carolina January 28th. Mrs. Beam was a members of the class of '27 and has been teaching in Winston-Salem city high schools.

Mr. Beam is connected with the Carolina Motor Club.

ATTRACTIVE MAY DAY PROGRAM GIVEN

On Tuesday, May May, the Training School held their May Festival in the court behind the colonade. First came the pages blowing silver trumpets. Next followed the ladies of the court and the Queen of the May. After the queen had been crowned with a wreath of flowers brought on a cushion by another little page, she was entertained by dances from many distant countries. The Old Woman who lived in a shoe let her children dance until they had to go back to the shoe. Then came a bubble dance and a dance by some little ladies. Boys and girls of America, Dutch children, French children, and Scotch children all did typical dances in honor of the Queen. An athletic dance by older children was very effective and the may pole dance made the festival a real festival indeed. The festival this year was one of the best that have been given by the Training School for a number of years and they deserve especial credit for the excellence of the whole program.

PI GAMMA MU HOLDS OPEN MEETING

Pi Gamma Mu, being a society primarily interested in Social Science, has been using programs based on those used by the International Relations Club, fostered by the Carnegie Peace endowment fund. Monday evening an open meeting was held at which time a study of Russia was made. Pearl Etheridge gave a history of Russia; Ethel Forehand told of the conditions of Russia today; and Lois Fraser told of the project Pi Gamma Mu is working on this year.

SENIOR PRIVILEGES

The following was taken from the Meredith College paper. What is your reaction?

"It is a custom at Meredith that the Seniors have special tables the last six weeks of school when they have the privilege of coming to meals late, coming in from "up town" late, and keeping their lights on as long as they wish to at night. Two seniors may go riding in the afternoon with friends without a chaperone; two seniors with friends may go to the show at night unchaperoned; and mony other privileges hitherto unenjoyed by them may be exercised. Gee! Aren't "we" proud of our Seniors!

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

JULIET JONES

A record-breaking senior! Juliet Jones. In the three years that she has been with us she has really broken records. Two of them, both athletic, Juliet has broken the record in the 75 yard dash and the standing broad jump at field day track events.

For the basket ball season she served as business manager and played side center on the varsity, this making her second year on the varsity squad.

We find that Juliet Jones has an enviable scholastic record which she has been able to maitain along with her work in athletics. She is getting her degree in three years.

Seeing her work with her Training School classes proves to us that she will make an unusually good coach and future teacher.

One of the hardest positions of the Athletic Council—that of secretary—has been efficiently held by Juliet this year. 1928-29 at S. T. C. will miss Juliet's athletic ability, cheerful smile and all around willingness to serve her Alma Mater.

GREENHOW PARKER

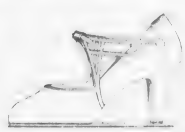
Another one of our Seniors "Greenie", who is always ready to listen to our troubles, always ready to help and always smiling. Greenhow is a member of three honorary societies and has been an active worker in each one. She was class representative on the Student Council for two years, and Campus League Chairman her Junior year. She is a member of the Class Federation and took a very prominent part in working up Founders Day. She is now working on May Day. Greenhow has found a new line of interest. She has turned dramatic, and is to take part in the Senior-Sophomore play for commencement. She is also quite a singer and a member of the Chromatic Club.

Greenhow has many talents and is an excellent worker. Among the many girls who will be missed next year Greenhow will be among those missed most. We will not only miss her good work, but her ready sympathy, her clear thinking, and her smile.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Cronshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World



At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

NEW
SPRING SLIPPERS
THEY'RE HERE
—In—
New Shades and Patterns
Won't you come in and see them?
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

He: "Aw, come on. Get off the wire and give me a chance."

She: "Aw gwan, impertinence. I ain't walking no wire."

Dot P.: "You should see me swim, I can float like a cake of Ivory soap."

Mary Blackwell: "Yeh, but Ivory soap floats because it's pure."

Bits: "What's worse than a needle in a haystack?"

Virginia C.: "A cracker crumb in the bed clothes."

H. S. Motto: "If the hat doesn't fit, cut earholes in it."

The three R's of Matrimony—Romance, Rice, Rocks.

Dissatisfied Prof.: "Now write on anything you want."

Self Satisfied Munn: "But I don't want anything."

Prof.: "What is the most common impediment in the speech of American people?"

Frankie Roberts: "Chewing gum."

No man can serve two sorority sisters.—Frivol.

Virginia Walker: "I see that Mabel has a new dress."

Flora: "Yes, she made it from odds and ends."

Virginia: "Well, it's odd where it ends."

Louise: "Can you tell me if Noah had a wife?"

Peggy W.: "Certainly; Joan of Arc. Don't ask silly questions."

Mother: "Wil-lie-e-e! What's your brother crying about? Didn't I tell you to give him anything he wanted?"

Willie: "Yes Ma, but now that I've dug him a hole, he wants me to bring it in the house."

No, Rankin, you can not blow a shoe horn.

Clara and Annie P. were found the other day trying to find out how to pack a tree trunk. Neither, can you attend a meat ball, girls.

ETERNAL YOUTH

My grandad, raising Duroc hogs,
Said, "Things are going to the dogs";
His grandad, in his house of logs,
Said, "Things are going to the dogs";
His grandad, in his English bogs,
Said, "Things are going to the dogs";
His grandad in his old skin togs,
Said, "Things are going to the dogs";
But here and now I wish to state
Those dogs have had a good long wait
—The International Student

FRESHMEN PRESENT PROGRAM AT JOHN RANDOLPH SCHOOL

Last Wednesday night, under the auspices of the Freshman Orchestra a very enjoyable program was given at John Randolph School.

The first part of the program consisted of selections by the Orchestra, dancing by Jane Reed Venable, songs by Nancy Nelms and Elizabeth Antrim and a reading by Sammy Scott.

This was followed by brief intermission during which candy was sold by the home-economics department at John Randolph.

After the intermission the Tumblers tumbled, Elizabeth Munn and Claudia Fleming danced. The audience was favored with a feature dance by Elizabeth Hutt and a duet by Mignonne Griggs and Lucille Graves.

The program ended with selections by the orchestra.

DRAMATIC CLUB PLAY IS ARTISTIC SUCCESS

Continued from page one

audience could do was "wonder how they could do it."

In Cinderella's dream we find some more good acting. Mary Frances Hatchett as the King and Alice Wiley as the Lord Mayor were outstanding during this scene. In the last act which takes place in a convalescent home, we saw good acting straight through.

Jane Hunt Martin as Danny, a convalscent soldier plays her part unusually well. The hero, heroine and Mr. Bodie put a grand finale on their work in the first part of the play.

The College Orchestra played between acts.

Miss Wheeler is to be congratulated upon the coaching and directing of the play. Louise Costen deserves special mention for the excellent effect she obtained with her scenery which she painted.

The cast:

Mr. Bodie, a painter .... Etta Marshall
Our Policeman .... Louise McCormick
Cinderella ("Miss Thing") .... Mabel Fitzpatrick
The children: Sarah Button, Elizabeth Smith, Mark Hankins.
Cinderella's Customers: Virginia Gurley, Frances Wilson, Virginia Raine, Irene Stone.
The Godmother ..... Anne Ferree
Dy. Bodie (Mr. Bodie's sister) Mabel Vancie Brooking
The Probationer .... Mary Ellen Cato
Danny, a convalescent soldier— Jane Hunt Martin
The Characters who appear in Cinderella's Dream of the ball, many of who we recognize as old acquaintances
Prince Hard-to-Please ..... Louise McCormick
The King .... Mary Frances Hatchett
The Queen ..... Elsie Clements
"Lord Times" ..... Etta Marshall
The Lord Mayor ..... Alice Wiley
The Censor ..... Jane Cotton
The Bishop ..... Gertrude Jarman
Pages: Virginia Pettigrew, Beulah Jarvis.
Courtiers: Irene Stone, Elizabeth Ferrell.
The Beauties: Mary Duncan, Mary Rigby, Leyburn Hyatt, Nettie Boyton, Mary Fielding Taliaferro Virginia Raine, Rachel Royall, Mary Ellington, Virginia Walker. Pauline Aderholt, Dorothy Latane, Frances Wilson.

STUDENTS FAIL TO INTERVIEW COOLIDGE

New York, N. Y. (by New Student Service)—President Coolidge does not choose to discuss the Nicaraguan situation with college students. That is what a committee of four students representing a larger committee of thirty from the most prominent colleges of the country, discovered when they went to the White House on April 16, armed with a letter of introduction. The committee got no further than the President's confidential secretary who read them a lecture on what students shouldn't think about. Not even the fact that one of the students was a member of President Coolidge's fraternity at Amherst carried weight with the Coolidge secretary.

Undergraduates have no right to think, to meddle, in foreign affairs, stormed the secretary. Furthermore, to intimate that something might be wrong with the President's foreign policy was no less than an insult. When one of the students produced a letter of protest against Mr. Coolidge's Nicaraguan policy signed by a group of Mt. Holyoke students there was another outburst. For students at a girls' college to tell the president of the United States how to conduct the foreign policy seemed folly, indeed. They ought to know better than that.

With the senators the students had better luck. Eighteen of them were interviewed by the delegation. Most of them were fatalists when it came to talking about Nicaragua. "We've our hand in Nicaraguas; we can't turn back," they said. The student delegation was of another mind, it is needless to say. For on the letterhead of their organization, named the Emergency Committee on United States Policy in Nicaragua, are the following objectives: (1) Stop the war in Nicaragua. (2) Immediate withdrawal of marines. (3) Invite the cooperation of Latin-American countries in supervision of Nicaraguan elections by civilians.

The thirty students were from 21 universities and colleges, including Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Amherst, Union Theological Seminary, Vanderbilt and Boston University.

THE LAWN FETE

"Why, I declare," exclaimed Mrs. Smith, "I have never heard of quite so much happening in one small town! Of course, right now, everyone is thinking and talking about May Day, but the Freshman Commission Lawn Fete is surely a big preliminary! Why, by dear, I heard it was to be quite the big event at S. T. C. The lawn is to be attractively lighted by Japanese lanterns, a delicious plate supper will be served, and there are to be quite a few beautiful dances. The Freshman Orchestra is going to furnish the music and there will be any number of booths; candy, lemonade, novelties, ice-cream lollies, etc. Why, yes, I'd love for you to go with me! Be sure and take all the children—and I'll be by for you about five o'clock. We must get there early and avoid the rush! Well, goodbye, until Saturday!"

SOPHOMORE CLASS ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Last week the Sophomore class elected the following new officers:

President ..... Etta Marshall
Vice-Pres. ..... Louise Dedmon
Secretary ..... Irene Stone
Treasurer ..... Laura M. Smith
Student Gov. Rep. .... Virginia Gurley
Lucy Thompson

Come on out, get busy and practise up. The end of the year is almost here and anyone who wishes to make points on her blazer or monogram must step lively. Within the next four weeks comes the end of the athletic season with the baseball games, tennis doubles tournament, the faculty-student tournament and last of all the field and track meet. So watch the schedule, come out twice a week and be ready when the big day arrives. Or if you have no desire to participate in the meet, just try archery and limber up your fingers and arm. Imagine you are Robin Hood and see how near to the bull's eye you can shoot.

OUR BEAUTY SHOP

Everyone this way! Come and be beautiful!

Can you stand it, girl friends, we are at last to have a Beauty Parlor. They say permanent waves, manicures, or what have you? I wonder if they will be able to put in a marcelle that could survive the weather we've been having? How can anyone be beautiful on a rainy day?—Maybe our beauty parlor will show us.

Being beautiful, as the advertisements of everything say, is now just as easy as having a clean face or "rolling off a log."

"Use our new hair preparation and get glossy, soft, wavy hair which seems alive." Perhaps they want us to be "Medusas"

"Use our permanent waver; it's better than anyone else's—by far."

"Use our skin preparation," "Our wrinkle remover," "Do you want a dimple in your chin?", or "long curling, seductive eyelashes?" and so on far, far into the advertising section of any magazine.

Will the "Beauty Parlor" be a veritable fairy land of this type filled with transformations blonde or brunette?? Is S. T. C. going to become the college of beauty in the South? Perhaps we will even get into the newspapers; some of us may perchance become movie stars.

But you haven't heard the most exciting part. There are coupons floating around school and the girl who signs the coupon with the lucky number gets a permanent wave free. I wonder what will happen if Nancy Denit or "Liz" Ferrell get the lucky number? I suppose they will have to be big hearted and give it to a girl who isn't so fortunate.

There is only one thing that worries me concerning this "Beauty Parlor" situation. I'm afraid that when we've all become beautiful ye ole "General Public" will forget our brilliant brain capacity and begin to consider us "beautiful but dumb."

We will be both beautiful and clever—for "A thing of beauty is a joy forever;" and Anne Palmer will tell you that you will make a better school teacher if you, at least, try to be beautiful when applying for a position.

The Latest in Sport Wear
Crepe Sole Oxfords
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week of May 7—12

Monday and Tuesday—Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky in "THE WINNING OF BARBARA WORTH," a special production from the famous novel of Harold Bell Wright. Why do men risk millions? Dare danger? Challenge nature? And fight each other? For ideals! Money! Love! See this tremendous awe-inspiring picturization of the book that has thrilled millions. One of the year's greatest dramatic spectacles. An eye feast of beauty, gigantic thrills and powerful action! Also News reel. Serial Tues. Matinee each day at 4 o'clock.

Wednesday & Thursday—William Haines with Joan Crawford in "WEST POINT" a big special production. Love! Thrills! A thousand or more laughs! A fascinating picture of life inside the walls of the great military academy, its lives, thrills, humor, drama. William Haines will win your heart as the breezy youth who finds that West Point discipline interfeers with love and football. Haines hands you a flock of laughs in this one! And the real Army football scenes will get you up and cheering! Note: This is the picture that was shown at the opening of the new Loew's theatre in Richmond last month. Also comedy. Mat. each day at 4 o'clock.

Friday & Saturday at Mats. only—J. Farrell MacDonald, Polly Moran, Marie Dressler and Gertrude Olmsted in "BRINGING UP FATHER" by George McManus. They're in films at last! Jiggs, Dinty Moore, Maggie—the whole lovable, laughable crowd! Here is a picture of real enjoyment. Also comedy.

Friday & Sat, at Nights only—Maria Corda, Lewis Stone, Ricardo Cortez, George Fawcett and a great supporting cast in the super-special production, "THE PRIVATE LIFE OF HELEN OF TROY." Could she, would she, did she love, and how, she had a style of her own that the most modern flappers call "perfect". See for your self! Nothing omitted from the private love affaires of the most dangerous blonde in history. It took a year to make this picture at a cost of over a million dollars. Hundreds of beautiful women, gorgeous blothes, dazzling pageant of breath-taking splendor. Also comedy and color feature.

Admission to S. T. C. girls: Mon. and Tues. Mat. and nights, 25c; Fri. and Sat. mats. 25c. Other shows 35c.

MAY FESTIVAL SATURDAY

THE ROTUNDA

A. A. INSTALLATION WED. NIGHT

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1928 NO. 28

THE Y. W. C. A. INSTALLATION

New Cabinet Assumes Duties

On Monday night, May 7, the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet of 1927-'28 relieved from office and gave the privilege and opportunity for service to the new cabinet. The student body will be sorry to lose the old cabinet for they have faithfuly served their Alma Mater; it would be content, however, in the realization that the incoming cabinet will prove as loyal and as successful in their work.

The retiring president expressed the sincere love for the work that she and her cabinet had carried on, and the joy that had come through the rendering of service to others. As the new president and her cabinet were installed the candle of each incoming member was lighted by the officer whose place she was filling and a few words said as to the duty that was hers to perform. The new president expressed her deep appreciation for the honor and responsibility that had been conferred upon her, and her pleasure in being given the privilege to serve her Alma Mater.

The new cabinet is composed of the following girls:

Margaret Finch	President
Sammy Scott	Vice-President
Margaret Leonard	Secretary
Elizabeth Atwater	Treasurer
Anna Burgess	Undergraduate Rep.
Adele Hutchinson	Religious Meetings Committee
Rachel Royall	Service Com.
Virginia Gurley	Music Com.
Elizabeth Lacy	Social Com.
Elizabeth Newton	Town Girl Com.
Jane Hunt Martin	Church Cooperative Com.
Lois Fraser	World Fellowship Com.
Mary Ellington	Publicity Com.
Leyburn Hyatt	Conference Com.
Elizabeth Bowers	Alumnae Com.
Margaret Pumphrey	Reporter
Frances Willis	Ex-officio

DR. SHIELDS GIVES FIRST AID LECTURE

Dr. Shields gave a very interesting first aid demonstration during chapel hour Wednesday. With the assistance of Mary Frances Hatchett he showed us how to make different kinds of bandages. He told us what to do in case of emergencies. Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 he gave another lecture and demonstration in the Student Building auditorium.

SOPHOMORES REPEAT "PLAYTIME"

On Friday, May 4, the Sophomores presented "Play Time" giving the student body another chance to see this attractive entertainment.

As before "Play Time" consisted of the two one-act plays "The Beau of Bath" and "Suppressed Desires" with "Music Time" intervening.

BLUE RIDGE CALL TO CONFERENCE

Students from S. T. C. Attend

"June! Then, if ever, come perfect days."

It is at this time that we hear a call which is ringing from the hills. Blue Ridge? Ten of these perfect days will be spent in "The Land of the Sky", fifteen miles from Asheville, North Carolina, by students who will meet together and commune with each other.

To you who have never felt Blue Ridge, can you imagine a small corner of this big, hurrying world where the trees are a little larger, the flowers a little brighter, the brooks a little cooler, and the people a little more gracious, than ever you have known them before? Here is a place where every one has the same desire, namely, to solve certain problems which come to all thinking stuednts. Some of these problems are: What do I really want my vacation to be? Is a conflict necessary between science and religion? If not, how can I solve it? How can I come to a higher understanding of Jesus, and of myself, so that I may thereby understand others? What is to be done about the racial and industrial problem? How can I know my faculty better?

It is the aim of the conference committee that the conference will consider "Religion as an Integrating Factor of Life," rather than considering religion as separate from our every day living. Through a study of these problems our campus is enriched with a harmony which would be lacking if our students were unable to meet with other students and exchange ideas.

Our minds are made keener by the thought that once again we may live through a period of knowledge and inspirations and come away with a greater desire for the Truth and a more determined desire to live the way of Jesus.

This call to conference comes to every woman student of the South—a challenge to embark on the sea of adventure and sail for the port of a new world. Will you acept this challenge—will you come to Blue Ridge?

INTERCLASS DEBATERS HOLD PRELIMINARIES

The Interclass Debating teams of the Debating Club will hold their preliminaries Thursday in little auditorium. They will debate on the following question: "Resolved That Varsity Basket Ball Should be Abolished." Those representing their class teams are as follows:

Seniors	Jackie Woodson Elizabeth Hutt
Juniors	Catherine Bentley Rebekah Liebman
Sophomores	Nellie Talley Frances Wilson
Freshmen	Martha Ann Laing Jeannette Luther

To Mother

We have looked for a picture, a picture for Mother's Day. A few we found that some have used. Not one could we discover, not one could we draw—of Mother, for deep in the heart of each of us is a picture, and each different, of a face radiant with mother love and a happy mother smile.

We might have searched for a poem, we might have written a poem for Mother, but we knew that for her words are vain; only the heart can truly tell our love, and every heart differs.

So it's our hearts, not words, we use to dedicate this, our first issue of the Rotunda, to mother love and mother hearts the world around, and to the dear Mother from whom we are parted, for a day or ten—perhaps even until eternity.

MAY FESTIVAL TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Folk Traditions to Be Given

Plans are rapidly being completed for the May Festival which will be held on front campus 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The festival will present the folk legends of spring found in England, Russia, Greece, Rome, and Scandinavia.

Approximately two hundred people will take part. The public is invited to attend.

CHROMATIC CLUB SINGS AT DANVILLE

The American Music Club met for the first time in Danville, Virginia, May 2, 3, and 4. The object of this association is to promote the appreciation of American music and to create more interest in home talent.

Farmville sent out The Chromatic Club to compete with five other Virginia colleges. Although they did not bring back a victory, and were handicapped in being such a young club as well as being from a school which has no vocal department, they did very well.

The most pleasant part of the trip reported by our club, was the reception given them by the Danville Alumnae Chapter. A banquet was given for them at the Country Club along with a most royal welcome.

Ann Deffenbaugh spent the week-end at her home in Petersburg.

NOTED RUSSIAN LECTURER SPEAKS

Russian Government Presented

On Monday night, May 7, 1928, Baron Alphonse Heyking spoke in the Student Building on "The Riddle of Russian Government." Baron Heyking before the fall of the old Russian imperialistic government was consul-general of the Russian Empire at London, and in India. He is now a lecturer on diplomatic history in the University of Geneva.

Baron Heyking first gave us as his definition of a good government one which was founded on the education of the masses and one which was established for the people and by the people.

There are at present, according to Baron Heyking, three different factions in Russia. First, there are those people who believe in the Communism of Karl Marx; second, there are those who for some indefinable reason favor the Bolshevism of the Reds; third, there are the Monarchists, those reactionary citizens who favor the return to Czarism. Baron Heyking brought out the fact that over two million were killed by the Bolshevists and two hundred thousand were exiled. There is no real democracy, but exile for former educated people. The Bolshevists attempt to strengthen their position in the world by the establishment of model farms, by the building of a few excellent dams and by propaganda. The last method is the one which is used most. The propaganda is distributed in the schools especially. They desire, it seems, to educate the younger generation along Bolshevistic ideas.

After hearing Baron Heykin's very interesting lecture we would surmise that Russia's only hope lay in the fall of Bolshevism, and the rise of a rival democracy.

TRIANGULAR DEBATE TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Farmville will debate Harrisonburg here Friday night at eight o'clock on the Nicaraguan question. The Debating Club of State Teachers College of Farmville is represented heer by Misses Gladys Oliver, and Elizabeth Echilberger, and at Radford by Misses Elizabeth Woodson and Phyllis Pedigo.

A triangular debate is held every year between Farmville, Radford, and Harrisonburg, and the college who wins two debates wins for that year. So far, Radford has been first, and Farmville second both years. Let's back our college in this intercollegiate debate Friday night, and watch Farmville come out on top!

Anna Leigh Gwaltney, Helen Shields, Frances Taylor, and Louise Marshall, returned last week-end for the Delta Kappa banquet.

KREYMBORG VISITS S. T. C.

Speaks on Modern Poetry

Alfred Kreymborg of New York, a noted poet, playwright, critic and musician, spoke Wednesday night in the auditorium. Mr. Kreymborg is recognized as the initiator and one of the leaders of the new era in modern poetry. He speaks of himself as "a so-called radical, a gentleman who espoused free verse when the civil war among the poets broke out in 1912." He is author of a book of poems, "The Troubadours" and six poetic plays, "Six Plays for Poet-Mimes." These plays have been successfully given in the "Little Theatres" throughout the country. Mr. Kreymborg is interested in this movement as he fosters the works of unknown writers.

Mr. Kreymborg read several of his most interesting and best known poems. These poems indicate a versality of which only a man who is both poet and musician can be capable. Such poems as "Push Cart," "Less Lonely", "Bubbles," "Idealists," "Ego's Dream" and "Lament" are representative of his many moods and experiences.

He chanted several poetic dialogues using a musical instrument, a combination of the lute, which the troubadours used, and the mandolin, which as he, himself, remarked "has unfortunately degenerated to the barber shop."

According to Mr. Kreymborg, the small town has played an important part in producing great writers. "Most of our native art has come from our so-called contemptible little sticks, and practically all of the modern writers in the middle western section have come from small towns," said Mr. Kreymborg. .

Mr. Kreymborg has given us a glimpse of modern thoughts and modern tendencies which mark the beginning of a new phase in modern poetry.

LAWN FETE

On Saturday evening from 6 to 7:30 a Lawn Fete, sponsored by the Freshman Commission, was held on the colonnade. Those in charge were: Elizabeth Lacey, Adele Houchinson, Jeannette Luther, and Miss Bugg.

The colonnade was decorated with Japanese lanterns and flowers. There were eight tables, and girls from the Freshman class acted as waitresses. An interesting program was given consisting of solo dances, selections by the Freshman Orchestra, and tumbling.

A. A. INSTALLATION

Wednesday night, after supper in the auditorium the new officers of the Athletic Association will be installed.

The faculty, home department and members of the student body are invited to be present.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29
Associate Editor — LUCY THOMPSON, '30

Board of Editors

Literary — GLADYS WILKINSON, '29
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY, '29
World News — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29
Humorous — ANNA BURGESS, '30
Social — FLORENCE REED, '31
Art — CHARLINE WILLIAMS, '30

Reporters

JULIA WILSON, 29 — ELIZABETH BROCKENBROUGH, '31
WILLIE SAVAGE, '31

Proof Reader

MARY JANE WILKINSON, '29

Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTEN, '30
Circulation — ELIZABETH BOWERS, '29
Assistant — JANE COTTEN, '31

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

BEGINNING

Beginning—our greatest opportunity. The quality of the course, the great achievement, the end, is not wholly dependent upon beginning, but certainly it receives great influence, whether it be impetus or hindrance. Often not true of the individual, it is nevertheless true of most groups that when a new undertaking is begun, there is a period of thought for the future for plans, for ideals, for guideposts.

In our college there are new-formed groups, seriously "taking thought for the morrow." We are new, we are inexperienced, we are ignorant. Our predecessors have kindly bequeathed to us much of their wisdom, but there is much that we, as they, must learn through our own experiences.

Consciously we are building creeds, creating ideals, weaving thoughts. We are planting our feet firmly upon the ground so that we may not be injured when the mishaps occur. At the same time we "hitch our wagon to a star" so that we will keep our eye upward, always upward.

It is not only newly elected officers who find a beginning just now. For those who return next year the last month of school is a beginning again, for we must already have started when the multitude of new girls arrive. For those who do not return is the most wondrous beginning of all—but that we shall not think of now.

At the end we are beginning again. May we begin sincerely, work truly, and end happily!

ON THE USE OF "SUGAR-COATED" WORDS

If an unknowing soul should come to our stately corridors he would think he was in a confectionary. Far and wide he'd hear "sugar," "cutey-pie," "honey," and a dozen other stupid adjectives being applied indiscriminently.

We are forgetting how to talk sensibly. If we were really as affectionate with our girl friends as we sounded we would be models of sisterly love. As the immortal poet said, "Aye, there's the rub." We don't pretend to mean what we say. Impossible! We talk superficially, we use flattery—our vocabulary is sugar-coated. We have all fallen into a silly habit. Since June is coming we'd better try to break it because the wide world might not take so kindly to being called "sugar" and "cutey-pie." Even if we don't scorn being stupid we should learn to be sincere.

BUSY WORLD BITS

House-cleaning on a national scale is getting under way with the arrival of spring in China. The Nationalists, from their capitol of Nanking, are driving northward once more against the militarist rulers of Peking. In the northern capitol much discontent and disorder is rumored to prevail—China is China—a land of uncertainties.

More than 125,000 families are homeless in southeastern Bulgaria as the result of a series of devastating earthquakes. The death toll is estimated as between 150 and 300 persons. Eight towns were destroyed. The valley of Roses was turned into sandy waste—the buds of the roses were almost ready to open when the quake brought disaster. This region furnished 90 per cent of Europe's supply of attar of roses, used in perfume manufacture.

The Nobel Prize for literature this year was awarded to Grezia Delidda, the second woman ever to win the coveted Nobel Prize. The novel is "La Fuga in Egitto" or "The Fight to Egypt."

Winchester was the scene of the Apple Blossom Festival last week. Miss Mary Boxley of Roanoke was crowned "Queen Shenandoah, V." by Governor Byrd. Seventy-five floats marched in the parade. The queen reigned with great pomp for two days.

THE MASCULINE POINT OF VIEW

"Why, hello, Margaret I'm so glad to see you. I hope you have come for a long visit."

With this cheery greeting, Dorothy Moore met her friend, Margaret Day, as Margaret came up the walk with her week-end bag. However, in the background of Dorothy's mind there was the thought: "Mercy, there's nothing in the house that will do for supper and I forget to tell Bill to bring anything home. I'll have to 'phone him." So, after establishing her friend in the pretty guest room, she excused herself and went frantically to the 'phone. "Bill," she said hurriedly, "Margaret has come and there's not a thing here for supper. Be a good boy and bring up something when you come, will you?" "Sure," responded Bill readily, "I'll be up about five-thirty." With her mind at rest Dorothy went up to talk with Margaret. Good old Bill! She could always depend on him when she needed help.

The two girls talked—chattered would better describe it—until at length Dorothy saw Bill coming down the street with a bundle under his arm. They ran down to meet him and what should he be bringing in his hand as if it were at least a five course banquet, but—a box of Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour—his favorite food.

Well, it's the masculine view point and we have to take them as they are—even if we starve for it.

A COMMON CASE

She tossed a soul
In the air for sport
But she missed her goal
And her aim fell short.
And she let it lie
In a dark place
And wither and die
Just a common case.

Exchange

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

From "The Chronicle" we notice with interest that at Duke University the co-eds have a cabin and outdoor camp all their own on the new campus, christened "Curio's Nest." Think of the many jolly week-end jaunts and parties which are in store for those girls!

"The Breeze" reports that for one whole day at S. T. C. Harrisonburg quiet reigned. A chewing gum fast was held by the freshman! Isn't a hint to the wise sufficient?

It is reported that million dollar chapel is to be built on the Harvard campus as a memorial to the University's war heroes.

Dr. Knight Dunlop, professor of psychology at John Hopkins University, says that a girl shows her depth of feeling by her mouth and not by her eyes, in spite of the old traditions. In his recent experiments of facial expressions, Dr. Dunlop took pictures of the emotions usually registered by the human face. He cut the pictures, segregating the eyes from the nose and mouth, and then placed them together in such a way that the eyes readily indicated another feeling when combined with a different mouth.—The Flat Hat.

It is interesting to note that at N. C. C.W. "The Trysting Place" proved quite as successful as it did at S. T. C.—The Carolinian.

The vogue for painted and decorated slickers, now so popular that some students are having the work done by professional artists, appears to have had a lowly origin. The first decorated slicker came to its honor quite accidently when a collegian, returning from a victorious game, was slapped on the back by another student whose print of a muddy hand stood out clealy on the rain coat. The rest of the mob saw him and adopted the fad. At least that's the explanation they are giving at Penn College. —The Flat Hat.

"Crip" courses are soon to be a regular part of the Columbia University curriculum, according to Dean Herbert E. Hawkes, who declares that there are many students who gain more from just sitting in on an interesting, but easy course than they would from intensive work in the course.

Co-education is just being introduced in the Chinese universities. Women students, however, are not allowed to mix with their brothers, but are allotted seats on the opposite side of the room, heavily chaperoned.—The Davidsonian.

Indiana University teachers of freshman composition have substituted current magazines for text books in their classes. The main point in favor of the magazines was the low price. The majority of the teachers favor the "Atlantic Monthly" and "Harpers"—The New Student.

CO-EDS

They are wondering at the University of Wisconsin whether girls get higher marks than the men students because they linger after class and flirt with the instructor or just why it is. The teachers deny this but the fact was recently disclosed that one instructor wrote at the end of a girls' theme, "I should like to give you better grades because you have such an exquisite soul—so do study."

The New Student

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches...
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

MOON MAGIC

The world is bathed in moonlight
And in the silver glow
Suffuses every object
With Romance
The world which seemed so dear
At noonday
Is transformed . . .
And now I seem to walk
In Fairyland
With lightly venturing steps
For mortals must tread lightly
Where the stars have been

M. B. B.

TO MY FRIEND

There's a little nook within my heart
That I guard with jealous care;
I love that deep and warm recess,
For YOU lodge there.

To you I bring my griefs and woes
There's consolation sure;
I know that you will understand,
So anything I can endure.

Not only sorrow, dearest friend,
With assurance do I bring;
My greatest joys, my life's desires
To you, mean everything.

L. L. R. '29

TWO THINGS

"She is old," they say as they watch here. "She is hard and cold and oh! so very old!" They watch her as she sits in the great chair which is far too large for her. For a moment they watch and then their eyes turn back to the lovely girls and handsome boys who are preparing for an old-fashioned dance, the Virginia Reel. They think no more of the old lady in black. Their thoughts are on the dance.

She sits in the great chair, alone, and watches the youthful gaiety: Into her eyes comes the sparkle of youth. Her toes begin to keep time to the music of the dance. Her thoughts go back on the wings of the melody to her youth. She goes back, back, to the night of all nights. She is once more in an old Colonial mansion set high on a knoll and surrounded by trees, shrubs and flowers, throwing their shadows in the mignonette-scented moonlight. From the high windows comes the sound of a low, soft melody. In the house on the lovely polished floors a gay crowd of beautiful girls and handsome boys are bowing twirling and swaying to the strains of the Virginia Reel. She sees herself —a lovely, slender slip of a girl, dancing gaily with him. She dips and sways, the tips of her fingers held in his hands. It wasn't in words that he asked her a question; yet his eyes spoke as clearly and hers answered his shyly. Hand in hand, eyes on eyes, they danced on and on. In the mignonette-scented moonlight they wandered, silent. From a bush of sweet-scented yellow tea roses, she plucked a bud. Two things that night she gave him—a yellow bud and a kiss. A fleeting kiss and she was gone. The rose would fade, but the kiss, whose fragrance never faded ,lingered on his lips even until he fell for a Lost Cause She never saw him again. The memory of that one night was all she had.

The swift, low melody of the Virginia Reel was thrust aside for a piece of brilliant, flaming, flashing jazz. Back to the present she came with a start and, deep in her heart, she locked her dreams. She was again an old, a very old lady, sitting alone in a great chair much too large for her. . . .

—K. F. '31

SCENE DURING LAWN FETE SATURDAY

WRITING ONE'S THOUGHTS

They say, "Oh, just write whatever comes into your mind—any subject, formal or informal." You ponder on this for perhaps a day, or it may be only a few hours. Then you go to your room fully convinced that you want to write something, but not wholly certain what it is you want to write.

You sit at your table—notebook open, with a clean white page before you and your pen in hand—ready, expectant, in fact, waiting for an inspiration. You continue to sit. While you are waiting you look out of the window and gaze musingly at the blue sky and the thick cotton-like clouds. The longer you look at the blue sky the more you may want to write a poem about the "feathery clouds, sailing o'er the majestic blue." But you decide that, "No, I never could write poetry and there's no use in starting now." So you dismiss that thought in all finality. You sit and chew the end of your pen. You wait a few more minutes—always hoping that by mere chance an inspiration will happen along.

You walk over to the window and see below the men who are working on the building. You suddenly wish you were a carpenter instead of a girl majoring in English. How much nicer, you think, it would be to wear big flapping overalls and measure thick planks and saw long boards. You would never have to write themes, and then you are suddenly reminded of the fact that you intended to write a little informal theme during this vacant period.

"Oh well it's too late now, the period is almost up, but I did want to write—something."

The bell rings and you rush off to class with a rather guilty feeling, but breathing a sigh of relief.

—J. W. '29

CAMEOS

The wise forget, dear heart
They leave the past
And play the hero's part
Brave to the last.

They weep not nor regret
Calm are their eyes
Dear heart, the wise forget—
I am not wise.

SOCIAL

Colleen Maddux, Mary Tucker, and Virginia Cobb spent the week-end at their homes in Blackstone.

• • •

Margaret Leonard has returned to school after having been at home with appendicitis.

• • •

Marguerite Foster spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

• • •

The student body extends its deepest sympathy to Grigsby Peck in the death of her father.

• • •

Zeta Tau Sorority wishes to announce the following pledges:
Margaret Davis, Lynchburg, Va.
Anne Phipps, Berkeley, W. Va.

• • •

Alice Covington and Jeannette Morris attended the dances at Randolph Macon last week-end.

* * *

Margaret Pumphrey had as her guest over the week-end Marian Harrison, of William and Mary, who attended the dances at Hampden-Sydney.

* * *

Margaret Miller, of Richmond spent the week-end with Mary Taliaferro, and attended the dances at Hampden-Sydney.

• • •

Nan Griffith spent the week-end in Burkeville.

• • •

Alma Hunt spent the week-end at her home in Roanoke.

• • •

Barbara Wilcox and Anne Palmer spent the week-end at the former's home in Petersburg.

• • •

Elizabeth Hargrave, Mary Darden, and Elizabeth Scott returned for the week-end and attended the dances at Hampden-Sidney.

• • •

Mayo Bass spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

• • •

Zozie Carter had as her guests over the week-end, Mary Minor Carter and Dorothea Ward, of Lynchburg.

• • •

Virginia Rankin and Ethel Weld spent the week-end at their homes in Roanoke.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. G. Clyde Houchins announce the marriage of their daughter Elizabeth to Mr. Douglas M. Borum, Jr., on February 26, 1928 at Reedsville, North Carolina. — The Roanoke Times.

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

EVELYN DULANEY

Evelyn Dulaney is a recognized leader among the seniors. When she came to school as a freshman she started working and accomplishing. In four years she has not stopped In fact, each year she has assumed more responsibility. She has worked prominently in athletics, especially in tennis. She has done Y. W. work. Last year she took over the Rotunda, and for a year she has served as editor-in-chief. She was a co-organizer of the Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia, for which she received state-wide recognition. Alpha Delta Rho and Pi Gamma Mu, two honorary fraternities have recognized Dulittle's ability.

It has been said of her that she has an exceptionally good business head. She must have. Anything she takes really goes over.

While we admire Evelyn Dulaney we enjoy laughing and playing with "Dulittle." She's fun always and her quick laugh is always ready. She works, but she knows how to play. No one calls her Evelyn. Popularity has changed the name to "Dulittle." Even our dignified faculty have assumed the habit.

The other seniors are glad that they will not know S. T. C. next year because "Dulittle" won't be here.

VIRGINIA UPDIKE

Four years Virginia Updike has been president of her class. She has given her time, her thoughts, and her work unselfishly to her classmates, having in mind their good, not hers.

As a friend, she is dependable, as an acquaintaince she is inspiring, and as a student she is ever loyal to her class. As time goes on and we look back "Among Our Caps and Gowns" we will remember the smile, the enthusiasm, the willing hand, and the understanding heart of Virginia Updike.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your
Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

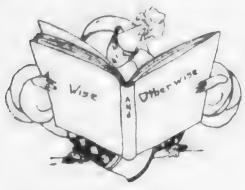
CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have
Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street



THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

FOR COMMENCEMENT

WHITE DRESSES
Especially designed for College Graduates.
Prices
WHITE KID SLIPPERS
New styles, prices
Widths AAA to C
$9.75 to $16.75
$3.95 to $7.85

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

WAILS OF AN AUTHOR

Water, water everywhere, but not a drop of ink.

Price: "I have a dress for every day in the week."

Chris: "Yes?"

Price: "This is it."

"I been framed," protested the doomed man.

And he made a sorry picture as he was hung.

Virginia Walker: "Did you have a date at the baseball game?"

Elizabeth Turner: "Yes, – who won?"

Prof.: "What's the matter, don't you know the question?"

Craft: "Yeah, but I don't know the answer."

Polly Aderholt: "Next to a handsome man, what do you think is the most interesting thing in the world?"

Louise Arthur: "When I'm next to a handsome man, I'm not worrying about statistics."

Sophomore: "Mister! Why didja bring this laundry here; it isn't mine, I toldja to get 436?"

Freshman: "Sir, I couldn't find 436 so I got the next thing to it."

Dolly Reed: "Are you the barber who cut my hair last time?"

Barber: "No, I've only been here six months."

SAYINGS OF THE TIMES

If we were to segregate all the feeble-minded there would not be enough left to do the world's work.—Miss Grace Abbott, director of the Children's Bureau.

Every man has a right to kiss his wife any time, any place, if she be willing.—Police Judge Golden of New York.

Concert audiences are made up for the most part of lovers and old people—Guy de Portales.

An American youth is not granted the dignity of manhood until he can successfully park a car.—Douglass Woodruff.

The farm woman now spends as much time taking care of herself as she does cows, and chickens.—Mrs. Ethel Lindman, beauty shop specialist

I don't want a paper fleet.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur.

We shouldn't quarrel about peace. – J. Alfred Spender, journalist.

The Democratic party cannot attain success by relying wholly upon the mistakes of its adversaries.—Gov. Smith.

The real chic women are not those so much in the public eye.—Jean Patou.

This is an amazing country. –President Cosgrave of Irish Free State during recent American visit.

–The Twig.

WILLIS HOLDS FIRST STUDENT BODY MEETING

Tuesday after supper Pannie Willis held her first student body meeting She met the girls in an attitude of cooperation and friendliness. As usual her faith in people and personal charm won the hearts of everyone. Let's work with the new Council, and realize their dream of perfect cooperation!

BREAKING THE MIRROR

College editors throughout the land are applauding the action of the Western Association of College Comics in breaking their reprint contracts with College Humor. It is generally agreed that the humorous magazine which purports to reflect college life, has been giving a distorted view. The break was especially applauded by editors in the East, who from the first were among the few who refused to join in syndicating the content of the college comics. The Daily Nebraskan, however, holds that the fault lies primarily with the college comic editors, who publish the jokes which College Humor is accused of giving too prominent display.

—The New Student

THE ROYAL ROAD

"In America today one does not attain literary success merely by writing good literature, but by accomplishing some such feat as flying the Atlantic or going to the Pole, then writing about it." The complainant was Richard Haliburton, traveler and author, who spoke recently at the University of North Carolina. His advice to literary aspirants is: "Do not hope to add to your ability by reading the works of other writers. It is waste of time; you must write from your own rich experience and develop unaided your own style. Mingle with people, all classes, live with them, know their lives, try to feel all the emotions of men, and don't stay in one spot, move about; it is only through these things that you will acquire a true sense of values." Mr. Haliburton's contribution to the question of deleterious effects of studies in journalism on creative writing was, "Oh, no, such a course could only be beneficial; but ten years on a hard-boiled newspaper staff might have had some bad effects."—The New Student.

WOMAN'S RISE

An increase of 100 per cent in the number of women college presidents in the past twelve years is reported by the U. S. Bureau of Education. At present 57 universities and colleges are headed by women. Twelve years ago there were only 24 women executives and most of them headed women's seminaries and finishing schools. Now nearly all women's colleges and universities are headed by women.—The New Student.

ROTUNDA STAFF ENJOYS FAREWELL BANQUET

The Rotunda Saff of 1927-'28 met for the last time at a banquet in the Tea Room on Tuesday, May 2. The banquet room was decorated in futuristic style. The toasts continued the idea, giving a glimpse into the future of the lives of staff members True to custom of the staff, there was a complete absence of formality. Alice Wiley and Beulah Jarvis entertained with their farewell jokes. It's over, but it was a glorious end.

MRS. MARSHALL ENTERTAINS Y. CABINET

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. J. Marshall entertained the members of the old Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, and the members of the Junior Auxiliary of the Episcopal church at a party on the lawn of her lovely home, three miles from town. Miss Camper and Miss von Schilling used their cars to carry the girls out and bring them back into town. The afternoon was spent in the garden, picking flowers, in the grove, and on the lawn where delicious refreshments were served.

Members of the Auxiliary brought and exhibited clothes which they had made for the crippled children's hospital in Richmond.

COMPANIONSHIP

When the shadows close on a lifetime,
When the dark-hued curtains fall,
When the Future is just a question,
And the Past, not the Present, is all;

When we sum up the scores of the years,
When we total our loss and our gain,
We'll see that it isn't the little sins
That cause the sorrow and pain.

We'll see that it isn't mere pleasures
That so much to happiness lend,
But that it's the joy of companionship
That really counts in the end.

We've heard so much of a hell
Where the wicked weep and moan,
But what would be a more hellish hell
Than in hell forever—ALONE?

R. L. D. '28

A RAINBOW'S BIRTH

Black frowning clouds,
Lightning flashes
Thundering peals
And rain splashes.

A sudden lightness
Everywhere like a dewy morn;
A bird's twitter
And a rainbow was born.

—K. W.

THE OLD MAN WITH A WHITE BEARD

He was a friend of mine once—this old man with the long white beard. It was long, long ago, and yet I have not forgotten him. He is not easily forgotten—this funny old man in a dark blue suit, worn with age and shapeless with lack of pressing. And yet he was not in any way remarkable. His face was lined with long-forgotten cares, and his brow was smooth with release from thought. He walked slowly with the help of a cane, and spoke but seldom, and then in a voice bereft of expression. The last traces of a once square-set chin were hidden by his beard, and the ends of his hair were never out of his eyes.

His eyes—there you have it! They were the only remarkably beautiful thing about him, filled as they were with the light of another world,—a light that never failed to conjure up thoughts of an old-fashioned flower garden in which pink and white hyacinths bloomed between rows of lilies of-the-valley under a French-Blue sky, beneath which walked stately, old-fashioned ladies, in "stiff" brocaded gowns," with silly cork-screw curls, and heavenly-sweet faces, that probably smiled, long, long ago—on this dear old man with the heavenly light in his eyes.

—M. O. '27

Field and Track Meet

On May 17, the annual field and track meet will be held on the athletic field at 3:00 P. M.

The events to be participated in are:

Running broad jump
Hop-step and jump
Shot Put
Dash
Javelin
Hurdles
Running High Jump
Baseball Throw
Class Relay Teams

The contestants may enter two running or jumping and one throwing event or:

Two throwing and one running and one jumping event.

Only a few members of the student body will participate in the meet so it is up to the rest of the student body to be there to cheer them on to victory.

The Tennis Doubles Tournament will be held in just a few days.

A sign on the bulletin board will tell you with whom you are to play so look for your opponents and play the game. Help your class to get the colors and win some points for your blazer.

THE PROCTOR

Girls, get your tooth brush! Girls, get your tooth brush! You must join the brigade and make a change upon the bath room as the ten-thirty bell has rung. Then, chat a while, gossip a while, linger a while in the hall.

Here comes the proctor, poor old thing. She reminds one of the old woman who lived in a shoe. All of her children are very thoughtless. They leave their lights burning after the ten-thirty bell. They go into the hall and talk after ten-thirty. This disturbs the children who are asleep, and they, too, get up to roam around.

Even as the old woman must tuck all of her children to sleep, the proctor must stay awake an extra quarter of an hour to see that all the girls on her hall are quiet. The proctor with all of her responsibility and work, the proctor who suffers having to stay up late, the proctor who has to call the girls down for thoughtlessness, is one of us. Poor proctor!

—E. M. '29

CAMPUS QUIET

It was midnight on the campus,
Not a person was in sight.
Suddenly commotion stirred the quiet of the night.
Windows—doors—were banging,
There was shuffling of feet,
Girls in gay pajamas were beating fast retreat.

An hour after midnight
Quiet reigns—it seems
Girls in rainbow colors
Are lost again in dreams.
Only breezes stir the stillness—
There's a lazy, lingering charm.
And this, I vow, caused all the row—
A noisy fire alarm!

S. McD.

The Latest in Sport Wear
Crepe Sole Oxfords
Specially Priced
Greenberg's

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week May 14—19

Mon.—Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill i n "MAN CRAZY". See adorable Dorothy and handsome Jack upset the social set in a romance that almost made Cupid Cuckoo. It's the cleverest comedy drama of the season, Also news reel and a special reel. Matinee at 4.

Tues.—Lionel Barrymore and Polly Moran in "THE THIRTEENTH HOUR." Every second a thrill! Every moment a surprise! Here is the greatest mystery film in years! A king of crooks, a young detective, an amazing dog, Napoleon, as his aid. A girl trapped in a house of a thousand terrors! The climax will leave you breath less. You'll never guess till the final fade-out! Also serial. Mat. at 4.

Wed.—The house is rented to B. F. Southern who will present JESSIE JAMES. The man nobody knew! Jesse fought and made love in the same manner—with a grin on his face and a smile in his eye. Here you will see his life enacted as he lived. Also 40,000 miles with Lindberg will be shown as an added attraction. This shows the experiences of Col. Lindbergh in his world famous flights. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

Thurs.—Charles Murray and a great supporting cast in "THE GORILLA" a big special production. Thrilling, chilling, killing, mystery! When you are not shivering, you'll be laughing, when you are not laughing you'll be shaking with t-h-r-i-l-l-s! The greatest spell binder ever uncorked with the most amazing and dangerous figure that ever stalked the screen. Also 40,000 miles with Lindberg, a special film. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

Fri. & Sat.—Mats. only—George O'Brien, Virgiina Valli, J. Farrell McDonald, and Wm. Powell in "PAID TO LOVE" an expose of the power of passion. The story of a Paris girl whose beauty rocked a kingdom. A big special production. Also comedy.

Fri. & Sat. at nights only—Marion Davies in Barrie's great play "Quality Street". Critics, picture fans, everyone, without exception, have hailed this as Marion Davies finest performance. Miss Davies has been acclaimed easily the best of all screen comediennes, and in no other picture has she shown so well her charm and inimitable fun-making. You must see it! With Conrad Nagel in the cast. Also comedy.

S. T. C. Admisison prices. Wed. 35c all other shows 25c, if tickets bought at college.

SUPPORT YOUR COLORS ON FIELD DAY THURSDAY

THE ROTUNDA

INTER-CLASS BASE BALL GAMES FRIDAY, SATURDAY MONDAY

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1928 NO. 29

FARMVILLE WINS DEBATE WITH HARRISONBURG

Radford Wins Ovatorical Contest

The fact that friendly rivalry is a good thing for a college was demonstrated again at the debate between Farmville and Radford Friday night in Radford, and at that debate held in our auditorium Monday night with Harrisonburg.

The question for both debates was "Resolved, that we should continue our relations with Nicaragua."

In Radford, due to misunderstanding of the question, all debaters spoke on the same side of the question. The best speakers were chosen. The decision was in favor of Radford, although Farmville was well represented by the two debaters,Phyllis Pedigo and Elizabeth Woodson.

The two debaters who were to be the opponents of Harrisonburg were Elizabeth Eichleberger and Gladys Oliver, but due to the same misunderstanding the debate was postponed until Monday night, the Harrisonburg girls graciously consenting to stay over.

The question Monday night, then, was ably upheld by Phyllis Pedigo, Elizabeth Woodson, affirmative, and Lucy Taylor, Dorothy Cock, negative. The arguments presented were concrete and given in an effective manner, thus holding the attention of the audience. The leading argument of the affirmative was to show that our relations with the small central American state have been just and do not merit discontinuance. The burden of that on the negative was the proof that we had been practicing a destructive, rather than constructive policy.

The judges rendererd the decision two to one in favor of the affirmative.

HOW TO ANSWER THE BUGLE CALL TO BLUE RIDGE THIS SUMMER

We have heard the call of the Bugle in the messages of former Blue Ridge goers at prayers, have seen the posters telling about Blue Ridge in pictures and drawings and if you will go on the Blue Ridge camp fire picnics you will see a bit of Blue Ridge acted out.

Now we have to come to the material side, the actual cost of the ten days. The total cost including railroad ticket, registration fee and board is seventy dollars. Of course the railroad expenses will be less if the distance isn't as far as from Farmville to Blue Ridge. Seventy dollars is the cost of the trip from Farmville to Blue Ridge.

When you have answered the call to come to Blue Ridge the counting of the cost seems such a little that those ten days spent at Blue Ridge mean to you, to your school, and to your life work.

MAY QUEEN AND ATTENDANTS

INTERCLASS DEBATES HELD

Seniors and Sophomores Win Initial Contest

The preliminaries of the Interclass Debates which were held Thursday night in the little auditorium, were won by the Senior and Sophomore classes, represented by Jackie Woodson and Elizabeth Hutt; Nellie Talley and Frances Wilson.

The subject debated was "Resolved That Varsity Basketball Should be Abolished." The finals in this contest will be held between the Senior and Sophomore classes at a later date.

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICE GIVEN BY Y. W. C. A.

Sunday night at ten o'clock in the Student Building auditorium a beautiful and impressive Mother's Day service was held.

During the service Pannie Willis read Mother's Day poetry and Kathryn Jones sang "Mother Machree."

PI GAMMA MU GO ON PICNIC TO APPOMATTOX

On Monday, May 14, the members of the Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu with several invited guests went to Appomattox to see the battlefields.

The guides, Juliet Mann and Lois Fraser, gave very interesting talks on the various points of interest there. The party stopped just outside of Appomattox to cook supper. In spite of the dryness of the drive the whole trip proved quite an enjoyable one.

A. A. INSTALLATION SERVICES HELD

Hatchett is New President

On Wednesday night immediately after supper the regular installation services of the Athletic Association were held in the auditorium. The old and new councils entered together while the varsity song was being played. The old president thanked the student body for their cooperation during the past year. The new president thanked the student body for the opportunity of working with them next year, promising her best. The other officers were installed by the new president. The two councils left the auditorium to the tune of "Yes, We're Rooting for Ole Farmville." The A. A. promises a most successful year with such a president as Mary Frances Hatchett. Here's wishing you the best of luck!

FACULTY BITS

Last week Mr. Bell visited his daughter at Randolph-Macon Woman's College and his son at Ferrum Training School.

Miss Wheeler was away for several days last week, in Alexandria. While there she made several talks for the Woman's Club.

We are very sorry to know that Miss Drach and Dr. Price have left us. They are both much missed.

Miss Stubbs and Miss Bugg spent the week-end at Queens College, in Charlotte, North Carolina.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Bell announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. Floyd F. Swertfeger, of University, Virginia.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION AT S. T. C.

Vote for Hoover or Smith Tuesday, May 22

Every student registered in S. T. C., every member of the faculty, and of the home and administrative departments is eligible to vote Tuesday, May 22 for his or her choice between the two outstanding candidates for the presidency of the United States—Hoover and Smith.

On Thursday or Friday morning in chapel, Dr. Simkins will discuss briefly the political situation, and on Saturday morning, two members of the Public Speaking Class will outline the possibilities of each of the candidates. If the vote is to be representative of S. T. C., some of us had better start reading now.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS EXHIBIT WILL BE HELD

The public is invited to an exhibit given by the Industrial Arts Department in room 37, lower floor of west wing. Those interested can see work suited to any grade—beginning Wednesday and continuing through this week.

PI GAMMA MU HOLD BANQUET

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu held its annual Founders Day Banquet in the Tea Room at 7:30 Saturday, May 12. The theme of the banquet, Virginia, was attractively carried out in the decorations.

Dr. Wilson Gee, of the University of Virginia gave the main talk.

The alumnae returning for the banquet were: Orline White, Cornelia Dickinson, Virginia Potts and Agnes Watkins.

MAY FESTIVAL IS A CHARMING SUCCESS

Coming of Spring Interpreted By Folk Lore

Amid the revelry of many nations the May Queen of England and her court were proclaimed rulers of the May at the S. T. C. May Day Festival, Saturday, May 12, at 5:30 o'clock.

The campus was transformed into a village "green" for the purpose of presenting the folk lore of various nations assembled upon the green and celebrated their May Day in accordance with their own customs. Through the realistic interpretations of these scenes, the audience soon entered into the merry holiday mood. The variety of costumes and the unique arrangement of colors made a pleasing appearance in all of the scenes.

The Spirit of Spring gave the prologue to each scene. The reading of the prologue gave effect of soft Spring winds blowing over the land. It was this that brought the Spring to other lands.

Springtime in Ancient Greece was portrayed by the release of Persephone by Mercury, the fleet messenger of Zeus, from the bondage of the underwold. Persephone, the Goddess of Spring, danced with a joy and abandon which indicated her love of freedom.

The Feast of Flora was commemorated by Roman Maidens, led by the Priestess and her attendants. Garlands of leaves and flowers were solemnly and reverently placed upon the altar by the maidens.

Even the cold land of Denmark recognized Springtime, although the people thought mostly of winter in their celebration. A bonfire was built to frighten away the witches who brought rough weather. The village folk danced about the fire, singing old Danish folk-songs. The peat dance of the workers was the source of much laughter on the part of the peasants, as the workers were anxious to see each other fall over the blocks of peat.

The Red Flower of Russia strengthened the spectators' belief in the arrival of Spring. This rare, perfect flower bloomed for only one hour in the Springtime. When it bloomed moths, butterflies, woodfolk and water nymphs were attracted by the perfume, but when a maid appeared, these tiny folk quickly vanished. After searching many days, the maid found one fading petal of the flower. As she made her wish, her lover appeared at the edge of the wood to dance with her among the other merry villagers.

Maid Marian, of the English May, was attended by lovely and graceful shepherdesses, who sang as their Queen was born to the throne by Robin Hood and his Merry Men.

The Knights 'of the Hobby Horse and Friar Tuck. as well as Jack-in-the Green, made unusual characters

(Continued on last page.)

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29
Associate Editor ..... LUCY THOMPSON, '30

Board of Editors

Literary ..... GLADYS WILKINSON, '29
Athletic ..... KATHERINE BULLY, '29
World News ..... LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News ..... EVELYN THOMPSON, '29
Humorous ..... ANNA BURGESS, '30
Social ..... FLORENCE REED, '31
Art ..... CHARLINE WILLIAMS, '30

Reporters

JULIA WILSON, 29 ELIZABETH BROCKENBROUGH, '31
WILLIE SAVAGE, '31

Proof Reader

MARY JANE WILKINSON, '29

Managers

Business Manager ..... MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant ..... FLORENCE BOOTEN, '30
Circulation ..... ELIZABETH BOWERS, '29
Assistant ..... JANE COTTEN, '31

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

THE SPIRIT OF THE FESTIVAL

After the May Festival Saturday one of our friends in town remarked upon its beauty, and the perfect order with which it was presented. The audience agreed with this lady, we are told, that in addition to the fact that it was a beautiful spectacle, it was a remarkable example of cooperation. Faculty members and students worked many weeks in order that the initial idea might evolve into the finished production.

There were approximately two hundred people who participated in the festival. The success of the whole depended upon the cooperation of each member. At committee meetings, at rehearsals, during the trying process of costume making and decorating, every one worked cheerfully and quietly.

In this day when magazine writers tell us that college students are obsessed with credits and grades and degrees, we take courage at such a time as this. No degrees were conferred, no grades were marked, no credits were awarded, yet we call our May Fete a success. Would it have been a greater success had there been rewards for service? We think not. It was the spirit of Alma Mater, the spirit of cooperation and unselfishness that directed the efforts of those who participated. We enjoyed the festival—it was not marred by personal ambition. We hold not a secret hope that our pessimistic college critics will consider this event and smile a bit.

BEFORE THE END

It is just before the end. In another week or two the faculty will present to us examinations in order that our knowledge secured during the spring quarter might be tested. The purpose of these presentations is to give us a broad view of the work we have accomplished.

There are other spheres in college life whose values we might profitably estimate, spheres which, we believe, our faculty friends would value as highly as our classes. An inventory before the end has immeasurable worth, for with a review of results, it is possible to enhance the opportunities of these last precious days.

Have we measured up in development of our own character? Have we broadened our attitude toward people, towards our pet prejudices? Are we capable of truer, deeper friendships? Are we better fitted to assume the responsibility of the place in society toward which our opportunities point? Have we found the peace of humility, the satisfaction of work well done, the joy of unselfish service?

The end is fast approaching. In what state will it find our personality?

BUSY WORLD BITS

Rumania is a scene of interest. Last week 200,000 peasants marched into the walled town of Alba Julia to demand that Ventila Braiano, the prime minister, be dismissed. It may be said that these people make up a party with the hope of creating a new Rumania which shall stand for freedom and justice to all.

Sandino has raided a gold mine to finance his political faction. You've got to give to the Marines—they certainly are Amercanizing those Nicaraguans.—Omaha World-Herald.

The recent "Bremen" flight from east to west is significant. The first to attempt this flight were Frenchmen. Nungesser and Coli but they were lost. Those who followed were Hamilton, and then Hinchcliffe, both of English nationality. They were lost. The desire to accomplish this feat filled the hearts of many. The nations of Europe competing in a friendly way, Frenchmen, Englishmen and Germans—Koehl and Fitzmaurice made the flight—a German plane was the successful one.

The Japanese are being sharply watched in China. They have landed a force of 5,000 men to "protect their nationals" at Tsingtuo, in Shantung, and they have sent three companies of infantry inland to Tsinanfu. This looks more like an assertion to special right in the province than genuine protection of Japanese lives. Something like the Nicaraguan story.

The survivors of the Civil War are passing rapidly from the scene, no fewer than 1,283 pensioned veterans, so the Pension Bureau reports, having died in March. There are 79,300 still on pension rolls and all are over eighty years old.

The plane flown by Colonel Lindbergh across the Atlantic has been turned over to the Smithsonian Institution. "The Spirit of St. Louis will fly no more.

LAND OF OPPORTUNITIES

If you think that America is not a land of opportunity to all, if you are not well situated financially and consider this a drawback to success — then read the list of some of the American men who have started with practically nothing and have risen to commanding positions. They did it largely by perseverance, thrift, and hard work. Here is a list of some of these remarkable persons:

Frank W. Woolworth began life as a clerk in a store in Watertown, New York.

Andrew Carnegie began as a bobbin boy in a Pennsylvania mill.

Charles M. Schwab was a clerk in a small store and later became stake driver for an engineering corps.

Henry Ford was originally a Detriot machinist.

John Wanamaker began his career as an errand boy.

John D. Rockefeller started as a messenger boy. —Exchange.

Prof.: "If there are any dumbbells in the room, please stand up."

A long pause, then finally a young Frosh stands up.

"What, do you consider yourself a dumbbell?"

"Well, not exactly that, sir, but I hate to see you standing all alone."

"I think college is so interesting."

"Yes, there are always so many personal touches."

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Denver's dean of women has taken a decided stand against the practice of selecting the University's most beautiful co-eds through the means of a beauty contest. "They are degrading and insulting to girls whose brains are entirely overlooked, and place co-eds on a level with follies girls," she says.

—The Davidsonian

The Glee Club of Harrisonburg State Teachers College recently presented "The Wishing Well," a three-act Irish musical comedy, at V. P. I. Immediately after the play, the troupe were the guests at the Bugle-Monogram hop. What a good time they must have had!

The southern collegiate movement that seeks to put Al Smith in the presidential mansion goes on as the "straw convention" at W. and L. holds a big Smith boom. Speakers were fiery in their denunciation of Smith's rivals and were loud in their praise of Al, himself.

VANDALISM

An intercollegiate committee located in New York City is wondering whether American students will repair the damage done by American Marines to the National University of Nicaragua.

So solicitous has the present Nicaraguan government been to please Uncle Sam that it permitted the Marines to be quartered in the Central Building of the National University at Leon during vacation time last year. When college reconvened, however, no new quarters had been found for the Marines, so the student body had to shift for itself. Some classes met at the home of instructors, and others not at all. These fighters whom with a fine regard for property rights, Mr. Coolidge sent to a backward nation, damaged many books, medical apparatus, and other stock of the scant university equipment. No reparations were made for these damages.

According to Robert Jones, of Chicago, who recently visited Nicaragua, the total damage done will perhaps not exceed one hundred dollars. This sum, which will appear ridiculously small to American students, is a huge one in a country where education is suffering considerably from the disturbed war conditions.

Here is an opportunity to demonstrate to Nicaraguan students that America is not a nation of vandals. No contribution will be too large or too small. The money should be sent to the Emergency Committee on United States Policy in Nicaragua, which is seeking to make full reparation for this bit of vandalism.—The New Student.

To live as gentle as I can,
To be, no matter where, a man;
To take what comes of good or ill;
To cling to faith and honor still;
To do my best and let that stand
The record of my brain and hand,
And, then, should failure come to me,
Still work and hope for victory;
To have no secret place wherein
To stoop unseen to shame and sin;
To be the same when I'm alone
As when my every deed is known,
To live undaunted, unafraid,
Of any step that I have made;
To be without pretense of sham,
Exactly what men think I am.

—Selected

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place
to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a
THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder
and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville --:: --:: --Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES
While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And
LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all
FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches--
Phone 110 Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire
Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers"
OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. Phone 198

LITERATURE

SAND AND SEA

I like to walk along the beach
Beside the young-old sea
Where the sand is a gleaming, grainy gold
Shifting and sliding and warm—
Where little gusts of salt, sea wind
Lift the sands and whirl them about—
Then drop them to earth again.
Sometime I want to walk barefoot
On the beach by the old blue sea
And feel the rough sand under my feet
Shifting and sliding and warm;
And feel the sea-wind blowing in
All salty, and crisp and cool.

—C. D. B., '29

UNCLE DICK AND HIS CHILLUNS

Uncle Dick was the best teamster in Bedford County. Everybody said it, and nobody denied it. For years the blue ribbon fluttered from the headstall of his "leader," and the blue ribbon in those days meant that Dick and his team of four mules had never been forced to call upon outside help to get out of a mudhole; for the Bedford roads were, and perhaps still are, the very worst in Virginia; and every teamster was called upon almost daily, to come to the help of some other teamster in trouble.

Now, Uncle Dick's crowning performance was to bring home from Petersburg his famous team of four mules,—one, of several teams sent by the loyal master to assist in fortifying Richmond and Petersburg, in the last months of the Civil War.

And here is Uncle Dick's own story:

"De Colonel, he come ter me one night and tell me fer ter load on de tents an' 'tother truck an' de vittles—de won't much er dat, I kin tell you—an' de mules, I up an' ax 'im whah we gwine, in de Lawd's name. He 'low he hope we gwine home to Bedford. An' gentermens, you des oughter see me git ready ter light outer dat Godfersooken place. I go roun' an' whisper in dem chilluns' years dat we all gwine home; an' de way der yanked dat wag'n th'u de mud and over de logs was er caution. De Old Boy, hisself, couldn't er stopped us, let alone dem Yankees. Dem chilluns, dee des nacherly split de road spang open. When 'tother wag'ns an' folks don't git outer we all's way, de chilluns dey go roun' 'em. An' all dis time dah was de Colonel an' his men right 'long wid we all. An' de fightin' nuver stop. Heap er times de Yankees dey'd ride right spang up to we all, an' den I des shet my eyes an' 'gin ter pray. But de Colonel an' his men drive 'em back, and' me an' de chilluns split fer it ergin.

This bridge was over Sailor's Creek.

"Den we come ter er bridge, an' de Colonel he tell me fer ter drive 'cross an' hide de wag'n an' de chilluns on 'tother side, in de pines; kase dey got ter hold dat bridge 'tweil de bottom drop out. Lawd, de way dem white folks fit 'roun' de end er dat poor little bridge make me sick, fer ter see it. De bullets day was flying so thick I des nacherly hatter lay down behin' er log an' make de chilluns lay down. I sorter drap off ter sleep an' de nex' thing I know de sun was tryin' ter rise an' de Colonel an' his men done bin druv 'ross de bridge, an' de Yankees dey pourin' 'cross right arter 'em. I gin one peep over de log an' dah was de Yankees all 'round de Colonel an' his men. De face er de whole earf was blue wid Yankees. An' den I light outer dem low groun's er sorrow, men an' de chilluns. I dunno which way we all gwine but I keep de shootin' behin' me an' make fer whah I reck'n home is. I 'low ef I foller de sun long er-nuff I boun' ter bump ergin ole Bedford.

"Dat night I come ter er road an' er man's house. Dat place look so lonesome an' God-fersooken hit make you feel like de Jedgment Day done come. Dey won't nothin' 'tall erlive 'bout de house and de barn 'cep' some chickens an' dey look like dey axin' me fer ter put 'em outer dey mis'ry. An' incourse I done it. Dey was er stack er fodder in de field an' I feed de chilluns an' load on de wag'n what dey can't eat. What de good er leavin' it dah fer de Yankees ter git?

"De nex' day we all come ter Jeems River, an' den I know, what we all is at. I sorter s kirt roun' Lynchburg in de night an' git ter de top er Catesbury Mountain des at sun-up. An', gentermens, you des oughter hear me squall; kase dah was home, des ten miles erway! An' dem ten miles me an' de chilluns des nacherly flew. We ain't su much ez totch de groun' 'cep' once er twice."

"Uncle Dick and His Chilluns" was written by Dr. Sledd of Wake Forest, father of one of our students, Gladys Sledd. Dr. Sledd has told the story in the words Uncle Sledd told it to him.

A FLOWER GARDEN WEDDING

For a long time the modest little violet had been suspecting that Sweet William had been calling on Sweet Allysum. Every night when she walked home from Dorothy Tulip's house, she heard a part of a conversation that sounded very suspicious. Every night when she passed Mr. Allysum's home, she would hear some one say in a soft voice, "Good night, Sweet William," and a tender masculine voice would reply, "Good night, Sweet Allysum."

Each night Miss Violet wondered about this conversation; she often wished to gossip just a little about the affair, but she was so gentle and quiet that she was afraid people would think her naughty and an eavesdropper.

When all the flower garden became surprised over the invitations to the wedding, Miss Violet looked at the others with a happy, knowing smile.

Soon the day and the hour for the wedding rolled around. Everyone in the garden put on his "Sunday best," and went to the scene early, so that he might see everything, and all of the wedding. Mr. Grass got a short hair cut, and Mr. Forget-Met-Not and Mr. Bleeding Heart pinned Bachelor's Buttons on their coats. They were the rejected suitors and had bitterly decided to lead the lives of lonely bachelors.

Miss Jonquil, gaily dressed in yellow, came with Miss Tulip, who was becomingly dressed in red. They were glad that the happy marirage was about ready to be performed, but down in their hearts they wondered how Sweet Allysum won Sweet William.

"We may not be as sweet as Sweet Allysum," said Miss Jonquil, "But just think how very attractive we are," replied Miss Tulip.

Just as the music began for the

(Continued on last page)

SOCIAL

Miss Florence Stubbs, Miss Elizabeth Bugg, Louise McCormick, Louise Foster, Margaret Finch, and Edith Cornwell of Winchester, motored to Charlotte, N. C., last week-end.

• • •

Ann Palmer had as her guests over the week-end, Ruth Porter, of Norfolk; Mary Marshall, of Sweet Briar, and Mary Sue Trotman, of Portsmouth, who attended the dances at Hampden-Sydney.

• • •

Pearl Etheridge had as her guest over the week-end, her sister, Dorothy Etheridge.

• • •

Jacquelin Simpson and Katherine Russell, of Richmond visited Ellen Smith and attended the dances at Hampden-Sydney.

• • •

Eleanor Bowen, of New London, Conn., visited Margaret Pumphrey over the week-end and attended the dances at Hampden-Sydney.

• • •

Margaret Leonard spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

• • •

Cornelia Dickinson, Orline White, Virginia Potts, and Agnes Watkins, returned for the Pi Gamma Mu banquet last week-end.

• • •

Binford Stewart, of Richmond, spent the week-end with Dorothy Latane and attended the dances at Hampden-Sydney.

• • •

Mary Beasley had as her guest over the week-end, Nannie Kimberley, of Hampton, who attended the dances at Hampden-Sydney.

• • •

Anne Deffenbaugh and Ann Palmer spent the week-end in Burkeville.

• • •

Helen Myers spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

• • •

Jane Branch, of Richmond, visited Elizabeth Lacy over the week-end and attended the dances at Hampden-Sydney.

• • •

Eleanor Hogan had as her guest, over the week-end, her sister, Lillian Hogan.

• • •

Elizabeth Woodson and Phyllis Pedigo went to Radford over the week-end.

• • •

Jean Watson, of Richmond, and Mary Minor Carter of Lynchburg, visited Zozie Carter and attended the dances at Hampden-Sydney.

• • •

Genevieve Grimes, Alice Covington, Margaret Pumphrey, Dorothy Latane, Louise Arthur, Louise Shoffner, Polly Aderholt, Flora Martin, Mary Beasley, Frances Thornton, Elizabeth Turner, Virginia Walker, Helen Jones, Barbara Wilcox, Jeannette Morris, Zozie Carter, Ellen Smith, Anne Deffenbaugh, Mabel Fitzpatrick, Anne Ferree, Elizabeth Sawyer and Anna Burgess, attended the Kappa Sigma dances at Hampden-Sydney over the week-end.

I SHOULD NOT MIND

If I have said a thing that seemed unkind,
Or been to others' thoughts and hopes too blind,
Or walked on when I might have stopped to aid,
Or been unfair to any game I've played,
Then I shall mind.

But if I've been a friend to everyone,
Made others happy by the things I've done,
If I have stopped and helped someone be glad,
Or smiled a bit although my heart was sad,
I should not mind.

Exchange

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

ELIA PUTNEY

Elia is another senior, who after being with us for a long time, will leave her Alma Mater in June. Those of us, who really know Elia, think there is none like her, always full of fun and willing to do anything we wish. "Eli" or "Put" as she is sometimes called, is a loyal supporter in our athletics. Years from now, in our memory, we will see "Eli" standing in the reception hall nervously awaiting the returns of the game, and then when the score comes "Eli" runs as a herald of old to spread the tidings. This year she has been president of the Monogram Club and goal keeper for the hockey varsity. The Red and White will especially miss Elia near Thanksgiving time when they hang their red banner.

ALYCE PAGE ADAMS

Lovable, dependable, friendly, loyal, sincere, are a few of the adjectives which may be used in describing Alyce Page.

"To see her is to know her and to know her is to love her" is certainly true of Alyce Page because her friendly ways attract and her kindness and lovableness insure friendships. Always thoughtful of others and willing to lend a helping hand, she has proved herself a priceless friend.

Alyce Page will be missed next year. As president of the Choral Club and treasurer of Student Government, she has rendered services to her Alma Mater that will not soon be forgotten.

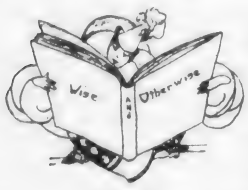
—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery



Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

FOR COMMENCEMENT
WHITE DRESSES
Especially designed for College Graduates.
Prices
$9.75 to $16.75
WHITE KID SLIPPERS
New styles, prices
Widths AAA to C
$3.95 to $7.85

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

Prof.: You missed my class yesterday, didn't you?"

Banna: "Not in the least, sir, not in the least."

Mary: "Are you going to the Hampden-Sydney—Richmond game?

Jane: "I don't know. Who are they playing?"

Prof.: "Is Miss Covington here?"

Alice: "Yes, sir."

Prof.: "Fine. That's the first question you've answered this year."

A woman, generally speaking, is generally speaking.

Ellen: "It's sure terrible the way Lelia keeps this room; you can't find one thing of hers when you want it."

Jake: "I was at the opera last night."

Abe: "Grand opera?"

Jake: "Oh, I should say splendid."

Billie (on golf course): "Few people know it, but I once drove three hundred yards."

Frankie: "Whose auto were you using?"

They laughed when I sat down at the piano. Somebody had removed the stool.

H. S. C.: "You'll have to admit that we're better losers at our college."

S. T. C.: "Sure, but look at the practice you've had."

When there's nothing more to be said, somebody always says it.

"Take my seat, madame."

"Thanks, I get off at the next stop, too."

Anna: "You know, Jinx, I'm a girl of few words."

Jinx: "Well, you keep those mighty busy."

Salesman: "What size shoe do you wear?"

Girl: "Size? Why, there are only two sizes, one I can get my feet into, and one I can't."

"Have you heard the new Ford song?"

"No. What is it?"

"It isn't out yet."

Tom: "She's nuts."

Bill: "What do you mean? She's my sister."

Tom: "Nuts so bad, nuts so bad."

"I graduate in June."

"Allow me to congratulate the school."

S. T. C.: "How's life as a Freshman?"

H .S. C.: "I've only a hazy idea."

BACHELORS

There are two classes of men in the world. Namely, husbands and bachelors. Husbands are men who have married and have wives. Bachelors are men who have never married, and therefore do not have wives. Bachelors may give many reasons as to why they are bachelors. However, there are just two reasons why any man is a bachelor: first, he can't find a girl that suits him; second, he can't find a girl that he suits. Those who belong to the former class may be called bachelors by choice, while those belonging to the latter class may be called necessity bachelors. The latter class outnumber the former by far. It depends entirely on the bachelor as to which class he belongs. If he is handsome, sweet-tempered, and wealthy, without a doubt, he is a bachelor by choice. On the other hand, if he is moody, homely, and ill-tempered, he belongs to the necessity class.

Some bachelors feel very superior to their married friend, and boast of their wonderful freedom? However, you can hear them heave a wistful sigh as they gaze on some married friend, who is going home to a palatable dinner of home-cooked food, while they must eat 'restaurant hash.'

There are also bachelors who bemoan their fate, and think they have been given a pretty rotten deal. Nevertheless their countenances brighten and they think that perhaps fate has ont treated them so unkindly after all, when they see some married friend with a long drawn face go by, and hear him saying:

"When I was single
My pockets did jingle
Then I wish I were single again."

Therefore, "to be or not to be", is the question many of them are debating today. May they be capable of settling it wisely, whatever their decision may be.—Exchange.

MAY FESTIVAL

Continued from page one

of the court. St. George stabbed the dragon, to the joy of the entire assembly. The Knight danced with his sword held aloft, signifying the victory of right over wrong.

The English villagers danced about the May Pole in honor of the Queen. The Greensleeves dance was presented as the final event of the day.

Spring was ushered in by the scenes preceding the English, but with the presentation of Maid Marian and her court, May was recognized.

Misses Barlow, Iler. and Thomas, the faculty advisers of the fete, aided the girls by their many valuable suggestions. Girls taking part in the production were:

Spirit of Spring ..... Etta Marshall
Mercury ..... Marion Fitchett
Persephone ..... Elizabeth Sawyer
Priestess ..... Fannie Grainger
Red Flower of Russia .... Phyllis Wood
Maiden ..... Margaret Hubbard
Lover ..... Elizabeth Ball
Queen, Maid Marian .... Lucretia Province
Maid of Honor .... Anne Deffenbaugh
Robin Hood Mary Frances Hatchett
Friar Tuck ..... Alice Wiley

Festival

Written by ..... Lillian Rhodes
Direction of ..... Greenhow Parker
Assistants—Margaret Hansel, Frances Wilson, Gertrude Shepherd, Anne Ferree, Marguerite Foster, Anna Cohoon.
Costumes ..... Mary Page Archer
Assistant ..... Gertrude Jarman
Music—Adele Hutchinson, Elizabeth Hairston, Margaret Hubbard. Audrey Franck, Hazel Bramm, Eleanor Gleason, Marguerite Warriner, Elizabeth Taylor.
Stage ..... Viola Woodson
Assistants—Alma Hunt, Phyllis Wood, Frances Willis, Louise Costen.

IN THE SPRING

They say a young man's fancy turns to love when Spring comes 'round, but I beg to differ. I grant that some of the conversations might give that impression—because one might call one's dearly beloved "birdie". Yet it is hardly typical of springtime love to have "fore" at one time. Some men may even take "a shot" at love, but I'll bet the majority of the swains of Farmville and Hampden-Sydney are taking their shots at the golf balls on the course at Longwood. Not only have the masculine members of society become golf fiends, but even our own girls take practice shots on the campus. Some folks say, "Frankie" Roberts can "most beat the golf prof." To go back to love, golf has one thing in common with love—it makes you absent-minded!

A FLOWER GARDEN WEDDING

Continued from page 3

wedding, some tardy guests arrived, so you see this wedding was really like other weddings, too. Stately Mr. and Mrs. Hollyhock delayed the bridal party by marching all the way up to the very front seats.

The Four O'clocks meekly bowed thei rheads, and the Blue Bells tinkled giving a signal for the wedding to begin. The Roses swayed in the breezes, scattering petals in the bride's path. The two Mr. Dahlias were ushers, so they were the first to march up to the front of the garden where Mr. Jack-in-the-Pulpit stood waiting to unite the sweetest of the flower kingdom. Next came bridesmaids, all of the pansy family; they more beautiful shades of purple and yellow. By this time all the flowers were anxiously looking for the bride, but Miss American Beauty Rose marched in with great dignity as the maid of honor. Sweet William nervously entered on the arm of Johnny-Jump-Up. He would have been an excellent best man had he not forgotten to pinch Sweet William when the time came for him to say, "I do." By this time, all were assembled in their proper places and all eyes were on the entrance. Sweet Allysum dressed in white, entered on the arm of her dear Poppy, who so nobly gave her away.

During the ceremony there was a brief pause, and poor little Ragged Robin nearly burst his throat singing, "I love you truly." Like all real weddings this one ended; like all real people these lived happily. But no matter when you see Sweet Williams growing, remember they are the children of parents who had a beautiful wedding in my dream garden.

M. C. R. '28

THE NIGHTS REMEMBER

The nights remember lovely things they knew,
The words of lovers, tremulous and wise,
And kisses blown and laughter and the beauty.
Of glowing eyes.
The nights remember hours white with wonder,
Lipped with red stars and strangely luminous
Perchance, beloved, when the years have lengthened
They will remember us.

—Harold Vinal

Field and Track Meet

On Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock our field and track meet will be held. The meet is open to all students who wish to take part whether or not they have come out for 60 per cent of the practices.

The events to be held are:

Dash
Running Broad Jump
Hurdles
Running High Jump
Baseball Throw
Shot Put
Javelin
Running Hop-Step-Jump
Relays

The girl taking first place in any individual event wins 25 points toward her blazer second place gives 15 points and third place 10 points. For breaking the college record a girl receives 50 points and for winning the first place she is given 100 points.

In the relay there are ten girls on each class team.

Baseball

Baseball still holds on but as soon as our field and track meet is over, the interclass games will be played off. The champion team gives 10 points towards the class colors.

Monogram Club

All work for the monogram must be completed by Wednesday, May 23. Freshmen and upperclassmen, get busy, in order to finish. If there are any more hikes they must be held before the 23rd.

ON GOING TO CHURCH SUNDAY MORNING

"Oh, well, I'll get up early in the morning and go to church." This on Saturday night with Sunday in the distance. But on Sunday there was a different aspect to things in general. I woke up and looked at my watch—just time to get to breakfast. After a good deal of hurry I did manage to get there and immediately thereafter returned to my bed and to sleep. At nine-thirty I again looked at my watch. "Oh hum, I have plenty of time. I'll just take another nap.—" which was no sooner said than done. Ten-thirty, and I lay back considering—surely there never had been such a comfortable bed, nor had I ever been so sleepy.

"I'll get up in a minute and dress. I'm so sleepy—" the rest was smothered in a yawn as I slid back into Morpheus' outstretched arms.

Alas, for my good intentions, for the next thing I heard was my roommate's voice saying: "Are you going to dinner or not? The bell is ringing."

FRAGMENTS

Who cares for the silence and friendship of books
When one can find wandering, bubbling brooks?
Who cares for the pleasure of one's favorite work
When one can find forests where treasures lurk?
This morning the sun lay in the sky
Like a single drop of honey
In an opaque glass . . .
Clear, shining gold . . . .

The Latest in Sport Wear
Crepe Sole Oxfords
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week of May 21—26

Mon.—Lois Moran and Lawrence Gray in "LOVE HUNGRY." A comedy romance of modern youth. He thought he knew all about women because he wrote letters to the love hungry. Then he met the little show girl who took the conceit out of him, made him confess he knew nothing—then married him. Also News reel. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

Tues. & Wed.—Billie Dove in "THE LOVE MART." Beautiful as a flower, proud as a peacock, but fate made her slave, to the man whose love she had mocked! Why did he dare the clash of steel to fight for her. You'll find the answer in this high-tension surprise climax that will leave you breathless. Here is a literary masterpiece recorded with the skill of three great screen stars and the directorial genius that is George Fitzmaurice's. Also comedy. Serial. Tuesday. Mat. each day at 4.

Thurs. Anita Stewart and a most excellent supporting cast in "WILD GEESE" from the famous novel by Martha Ostenso. A dramatic picturization of a phase of life that holds and enthralls. Here is a never-to-be-forgotten picturization of one of the greatest novel ever written. One of the best pictures shown at the Eaco Theatre in a year. Also comedy.

Fri. & Sat. at Mats. only—George O'Brien and Estelle Taylor in "HONOR BOUND." Embittered with life, he fought blindly on until love showed him the way to truth and happiness. See this gripping picture of a man's regeneration. Also comedy.

Fri. & Sat. at nights only—Norma Talmadge with Noah Beery and Gilbert Roland in "THE DOVE" a super special production. A colorful cabaret in a forgotten land! A bragging bully! A romantic romeo! Add a dash of spice, a sprinkling of pep, spoonfuls of gun powder, adventure and love and you have—The FINEST FILM NORMA EVER MADE. You will see Norma as a gorgeous dancing girl. Also color classic and comedy.

S. T. C. girls admission prices—Friday and Saturday nights, 35c. other shows, 25c.

"Why do they call it leap year?"
"You've got to keep on the jump."

GREEN & WHITE WINS POINTS IN ATHLETIC MEET

THE ROTUNDA

SOPHOMORES WIN BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 23, 1928 NO. 30

TWO NATIONAL FRATERNITIES INSTALLED AT S. T. C.

DR. CUNNINGHAM INSTALLS FORENSIC SOCIETY HERE

On Saturday, May 19, S. T. C. received another honor. The only chapter of Pi Kappa Delta in Virginia was installed by officers from North Carolina State College. Dr. C. C. Cunningham, who is proprietor of the southern province, officiated. He was assisted by the following members of the North Carolina Alpha Chapter: C. L. Straughan, Henry Rogers, Lawrence Aydlett, E. N. Buchanan and Hubert Burroughs.

The Virginia Alpha Chapter is the only woman's Alpha Chapter in the United States. All others were installed in men's colleges. In April the school sent delegates to the conference in Tiffin, Ohio, and it is partly through their excellent work that we have the charter. The rest of the credit belongs jointly to Dr. Cunningham and Dr. Walmsley, who did all they could to enable us to have the chapter.

The charter members of the chapter are:

Evelyn Beckham
Elizabeth Hutt
Catharine Bentley
Elizabeth Eichelberger
Nancy Holt
Ella Louise Moore
Louise McCormick
Gladys Oliver
Grigsby Peck
Sammy Scott
Rosalind Harrell
Lois Westbrook
Mary Christian Royall
Alice Wiley
Mary Wright
Elizabeth Woodson
Frances Morgan
Frances Wilson
Phyllis Pedigo
Dr. Walmsley

GREEN AND WHITE WINS TRACK MEET

Events Total a Score of 53—50

On Thursday afternoon, May 17, the Green and White colors triumphed at the field and track meet. It was a close meet, first one color and then another gaining, but the final event left the Green and White colors on top with a score of 53—50, giving them 10 points towards the cup.

The total scores were as follows:

Seniors	14
Juniors	20
Sophomores	36
Freshmen	33

HOOVER AND SMITH DISCUSSED FOR VOTE

Those present at chapel Saturday morning heard a discussion of the two most probable candidates for the presidency of the United States, Smith and Hoover, preliminary to a straw vote held Tuesday.

Elizabeth's Rawls discussed Hoover's possibilities. Her argument was an outline of the many important things he has done during his life. She mentioned his work in China, Australia, and other foreign countries. "Hoover is a man of deep sympathy and not merely a ready smile."

Aileen Broughton ably defended Smith. She stated the three chief objections to him, namely, that he is a Catholic, a non-prohibitionist, and a member of Tammany Hall. She argued that a prejudice against his religion was narrow-mindedness, that he would consider law-enforcement his duty, and that Tammany Hall had always befriended the South.

ALPHA DELTA RHO JOINS WITH ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA

With Misses Florence Stubbs, Elizabeth Bugg, Louise McCormick, Margaret Finch, Louise Foster and Edith Cornwell representing Alpha Delta Rho of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Va., a meeting was held in Charlotte, North Carolina, with representatives from the University of South Carolina, for the purpose of completing the plans for consolidation. Both schools decided to give up their local names and selected for their new one Alpha Kappa Gamma. After the representatives had discussed and brought about necessary changes in the organizations, they installed a chapter at Queen's College, which heretofore has been known as the order of Olympus and has been on the campus for a period of ten years. This was the first extension of Alpha Kappa Gamma. The representatives from both schools were delightfully entertained by Queen's College while they were in the city.

This new organization will serve the same purpose as did Alpha Delta Rho, to encourage constructive leadership.

ORGANIZATIONS IN COLLEGE HOLD ELECTIONS

DRAMATIC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

President	Mabel Fitzpatrick
Vice-President	Mary Rigby
Secretary	Irene Stone
Business Mgr.	Jane Hunt Martin
Asst. Bus. Mgr.	Virginia Pettigrew
Costume Mistress	Leyburn Hyatt
Stage Mgr.	Mary Ellington
Property Mgr.	Frances Wilson

CHORAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

On Thursday, May 17, the Choral Club elected the following officers for 1928-'29:

President	Elizabeth Taylor
Vice-President	Margaret Hubbard
Secretary	Frances Hanmer
Treasurer	Lois Fraser
Reporter	Nellie Talley

COTILLION CLUB HOLDS ELECTION

On May 14 the Cotillion Club officers for 1928-'29 were elected. The following girls will hold office:

Alice Covington	President
Mabel Fitzpatrick	Leader
Jinx Grimes	Business Mgr.
Jane Hunt Martin	Reporter

Two very successful dances were given by the Club this year.

HOOVER WINS ELECTION AT S. T. C.

Over 500 Students Cast Straw Votes

The improvised polls in the main hall was the scene of great activity and discussion Tuesday the twenty-ninth. The students who were interested in national politics and in observing the trend of public opinion concerning two of the prospective candidates for president, came to register their opinion at the S. T. C. polls. Enthusiastic and heated debates as to the merits of Smith and Hoover were carried on in various corners of the campus. The results of this straw vote showed that Hoover carried 345 votes and Smith 197. Is the opinion of our students a prophecy?

JUNIOR PLAY FRIDAY, MAY 25

There's a message going 'round that exams are nearly here, exams with all their heartaches and late lights. But then, there's something else coming, too. The Junior Class is giving a play, "Marrying Marion", on Friday night in the auditorium. The theme centers around a case of mistaken identity. Always such incidents are funny, but this is unusually so because one of the characters is a botany professor and the other is a life guard-janitor. There will be choruses and singing and on the whole it is to be a delightful musical comedy. Go and get a good laugh before exams!

Among the Pulitzer prizes awarded this year were $1,000 to Thorton Wilder for "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," $1,000 to Eugene O'Neil for "Strange Interlude," and $1,000 to E. A. Robinson for "Tristam."

KAPPA DELTA PI INSTALLED BY DR. W. C. BAGLEY

At three o'clock Monday afternoon Dr. W. C. Bagley of Columbia University and Lorraine Geatie, head of the Alpha Chi Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi at Harrisonburg, installed the fifty-first chapter of the fraternity at our college.

Dr. Bagley told of the founding and history of the fraternity, initiated the charter members and installed the Beta Gamma Chapter. Dr. McCracken, National president of the fraternity asked Lorraine Geatie to assist in the installation of Virginia's third chapter of Kappa Delta Pi. She came as the representative of her chapter at Harrisonburg. There were already two members of the fraternity in our faculty, Miss Haynes and Miss Browning, who were present at the installation and initiation services.

Pi Kappa Omega, so long a part of our school, has merged into a bigger and broader organization. The standards and ideals of Kappa Delta Pi are very much the same as those of Pi Kappa Omega. The members of Pi Kappa Omega were honored by the privilege of becoming members of the largest of the professional educational honor fraternities.

Miss Helen Draper is counselor of the Beta Gamma Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi.

The members of Pi Kappa Omega who petitioned Kappa Delta Pi and now compose the chapter are:

Virginia Ellis, Margaret Hansel, Pearl Etheridge, Ella Louise Moore, Helen Davidson, Greenhow Parker, Louise McCormick, Misses Helen Draper, Bessie Gordon Jones and Mildred Dickinson, and Mrs. Jeffers of the faculty.

SOPHOMORES ARE BASEBALL CHAMPIONS

Season Closes With Game Between the Sophomores and the Juniors

Season Closes with Game Between Sophs and Juniors

Friday afternoon the Juniors and Seniors met in the first interclass baseball game of the season. The game was somewhat slow at first due to the fact that the Juniors had a big lead in the runs, but excitement rose among the spectators during the fourth inning when Alice Wiley took the lead in bringing in four runs for the Seniors. Despite the hard work of the Seniors, the Juniors walked off with the victory, the score being 17—6. The line-up was as follows:

Seniors		Juniors
V. Woodson	c	J. Wilson
G. Parker	s. s.	K. Bully
E. Hutt	3b	M. Duncan
A. Wiley	2b	M. Elder
A. McClenny	r. f.	M. Erdman
J. Jones	l. f.	E. Woods
E. Dulaney	p.	M. Wilkinson
M. Clements	1b.	L. Vaughan
	c. f.	S. Williams

Sophomores Defeat Freshmen

The following afternoon a peppy game was played between the Sophomores and Freshmen. This game as all other games have been between Sophomores and Freshmen this year was hard fought. So well matched were the teams that neither side stayed in bat more than five minutes an inning. Due to the splendid pitching of both teams the batters fanned out one after the other. In fact there was so much fanning out that the home

(Continued on last page)

STUDENTS HEAR EDUCATOR OF NOTE

Dr. Wililam C. Bagley of New York Speaks on Different Phases of Education

Dr. William C. Bagley, professor of Education at Teachers College, New York City, spoke to the members of the student body during chapel on Tuesday, May 22, at the invitation of the Farmville Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi.

The students of S. T. C. considered it a rare opportunity to hear Dr. Bagley, as he is considered one of the greatest authorities in the field of education. He is the author of several books dealing with various phases of education.

Considers the Educational Profession Analogous to the Arts

Dr. Bagley is an enthusiastic advocate of modern education, regarding teaching as a fine art rather than a trade. He believes that teachers significance of their work. "Modern civilization," said Dr. Bagley, "has been built up essentially upon the basis of universal education."

Success of Government Depends on the Degree of Literacy

That the enlightenment of all the people is the great thing in modern civilization is the sincere belief of Dr. Bagley. He described the government of Italy, Germany and Czechoslovakia, indicating the extent to which education is afflicted in the national life of the people.

The necessity of being an interested participator in the field of education was stressed by Dr. Bagley. In advising us against monotony in the schoolroom, he said, "Our work has

(Continued on Page Three)

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29
Associate Editor — LUCY THOMPSON, '30

Board of Editors

News Editor — CATHERINE BENTLEY
Literary — GLADYS WILKINSON, '29
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY, '29
World News — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29
Humorous — ANNA BURGESS, '30
Social ..... — FLORENCE REED, '31
Art — CHARLINE WILLIAMS, '30

Reporters

JULIA WILSON, 29 — ELIZABETH BROCKENBROUGH, '31
ISABEL MACDONALD — WILLIE SAVAGE, '31

Proof Reader

MARY JANE WILKINSON, '29

Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTON
Circulation — ELIZABETH BOWERS, '29
Assistant — JANE COTTEN, '31

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

DO YOU VOTE?

Yesterday a straw vote for President of the United States was taken at S. T. C. We shall leave for our elders speculation on the fact that in Virgiina, the dear state our Southland, birthplace of Jefferson, the result of the vote of one group of the most intelligent young women in the State was in favor of the Republican candidate.

Our concern is not with the result—for that will take care of itself, but with our vote. In the first place only half of the students voted. And that in the face of Dr. Jarman's paternal reminder, "If you are a good citizen, you will go to the polls." For various reasons the other half of us did not vote. Now we conclude that it was because of one two facts: we were not sufficiently interested, or we didn't know enough to vote intelligently.

The fact is, aside from personal interest, the vote in our college means nothing from a politcal point of view, since most of our students are minors. It is, however, indicative of a state of mind that is at best deplorable. That we, the intelligentsia among youth—may we call ourselves?—do not care enough to inform ourselves about the man who is to be our national leader, and then to act upon our good judgment, is perhaps appalling to the foreigner. We, who are familiar with the situation, however, observe in an apathetic fashion that our people don't vote, and do nothing about it.

This is merely a suggestion for thought. Most of us can't yet vote, though the day is not far off when we shall take our place at the official polls. Then, what kind of citizens will we be?

WHAT USE HONOR FRATERNITIES?

Two new national honor fraternities have been installed at S. T. C. and another honor society has formed a national association with two other chapters. These events are characteristic of the growth in spirit and in size of our college, and deserve rather serious consideration.

We hardly think it true that these societies raise the standards of our college, for they have been high since its founding. The societies, however, are a concrete expression of high ideals in scholarship, leadership, and forensics, and in the development of the well rounded student.

Whereas it is true that the membership of the societies is only a small fraction of the student body, they compose an integral part of college life. Students who attain the standards required for membership receive with the privilege of membership an honor which is recognized throughout the college world.

It is the fact of a national consciousness of worthy achievement which binds together all the chapters of such organizations in every part of our country. We believe that contact with this national unity will be instrumental in bringing to our campus a greater realization of the breadth of education as a profession, and the strength of the student group.

All of such hopes, however, rest upon the future of our new organizations. Now that we have them, it is our charge to make of them forces for good on this campus. Next year, our first, will bring the test. If we fail, it will be our shame, for we shall not have truly represented the noble spirit of Alma Mater. If we succeed, it will be the glory of Alma Mater, for through our works we shall be able to interpret to the world the spirit that above all we hold most dear.

BUSY WORLD BITS

Rumania is under the dark cloud of a peasant revolt. So far the action of the peasants has been orderly, but there is no telling when an armed revolt may burst out to menace the throne. The peasants contend that the present government was appointed illegally by the Regency and demanded a change which was refused. The Regency which is against Prince Carol, fears that Carol will take advantage of this situation and regain the throne.

For the first time since the World War the University of Heidelberg conferred honorary degrees upon a member of the German government, and an American Ambassador at an impressive service recently. The distinguished recipients, Foreign Minister Streseman and Dr. Jacob Gould Schuman, utilized the auspicious occasion to re-emphasize the cordial collaboration between Germany and the United States.

A League of Nations committee has found that the World War cost thirty seven million lives and $362,500,000,000 or one hundred times as much as the budgets of all nations of the world for 1927-'27. In this war then were killed 10,135,000.

SOUTHERN STATES RANK LOW IN EDUCATION

The Southern States make a poor educational showing when compared with the United States as a whole largely because: "We Southern people do not work hard enough at our intellectual and educational tasks,' said Dr. E. W. Knight, of the University of North Carolina, in the Founder's Day address at Radford State Teachers College.

"We rank low in education not because we were once devastated by war nor because we are too poor to support better schools. The South is now prosperous in economic wealth. We can not any longer point to war or poverty in explanation or defense of our educational shortcomings. The South ranks low in education, when measured by national standards, very largely because we have here a distaste of sustained educational effort," he said.

"Our aversion to hard work is reflected in the large number of poorly trained and unproductive school and college teachers and the low standards of scholarship permitted. Too few of our students have respect for a thoroughness and excellence of study chiefly because the standards of their teachers are low. One of the largest educational needs of the Southern Youth is for more thorough and disciplined teachers all the way from the elementary school through the university. On our mania for the mechanics of method and details of administration in education and this need is now seriously neglected," Dr. Knight declared.—The Breeze.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

H. L. Mencken, editor of the "American Mercury", wrote a letter in answer to some questions asked him by the editor of the V. M. I. "Cadet", and the letter, recently published in the paper, gave some new slants on some hitherto well-treated subjects. In answer to questions, Mencken declared that he was of the belief that the Southern girl is more charming than her Northern sister. Other questions and answers of interest were the following:

5. (Do you think the south as a region is cultured or do you believe as some, that is snobbish?) I refuse to answer on the advice of counsel.

6. (What have you to say for the popularly expressed belief that life in the south is lazy and languid and therefore attractive?) I am an indolent fellow, and hence like the Southern mode of life. It makes me uncomfortable to go into New England, and even more uncomfortable to go into the Middle West. But south of the Potomac I feel placid and happy.

7. (What do you think will be the south's reaction to Al Smith in the event he is nominated?) If Al Smith is nominated, the south will be kissing him on both cheeks within two weeks. If Ben Butler were exhumed from Hell and nominated, it would buss him in the same hearty and obscene manner. Politics, in the south, is wholly irrational—as it is, indeed everywhere else.

SCHEDULE OF EXAMINATIONS

Tuesday, May 29

8:15 A. M. All classes meeting at 11:15 T. Th. S.

11:15 A. M. All classes meeting at 9:15 M. W. F.

2:15 P. M. All classes meeting at 10:15 T. Th. S.

4:15 P. M. All classes meeting after 6:00 P. M.

Wednesday, May 30

8:15 A. M. All classes meeting at 11:15 M. W. F.

11:15 A. M. All classes meeting at 9:15 T. Th. S.

2:15 P. M. All classes meeting at 12:15 T. Th. S.

4:15 P. M. All classes meeting at 4:15 P. M.

Thursday, May 31

8:15 A. M. All classes meeting at 8:15 M. W. F.

11:15 A. M. All classes meeting at 8:15 T. Th. S.

2:15 P. M. All classes meeting at 2:15 P. M.

4:15 P. M. All classes meeting at 10:15 M. W. F.

Friday, June 1

8:15 A. M. All classes meeting at 12:15 M. W. F.

11:15 A. M. All classes meeting at 3:15 P. M.

2:15 P. M. All classes meeting at 5:15 P. M.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning And Pressing
Farmville — Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

BIRDWELL'S
Successor to WADE'S
Instalilng new Frigidaire Fountain and up to date Ice Cream Parlor

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers" OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

ROMANCE OF THE BLANKET FLOWER

We sat in an interested group around the old Indian, waiting eagerly for the story that we knew would soon be forth-coming. As we gazed at our friend, who sat tenderly holding a beautiful flower, we realized that however beautiful it was to us that it held an uncomprehensible significance for him, who in spite of his "white man's education" was still an Indian at heart.

"You ask if there is a story about this flower, which to you is only a flower, but to me . . . ah, wait and I shall tell you," he said as he settled back in his chair in a way that made us know that a treat was in store for us.

"Many years before the white man came to this great land, there lived a beautiful Indian maiden whose name was Gaillordia. She was the daughter of Muskajee, one of the counsel men of the tribe. She was loved by Bradii, the son of the chief, who determined to make her his bride. Gaillordia, however, loved Santaseoa, one of the bravest and best-liked warriors of the tribe, who in turn loved her.

"Santaseoa and Gaillordia planned to marry with the first appearance of the blue bird, that symbol of happiness. While they were talking of the great event, they were interrupted by a breathless messenger, who told Santaseoa that he was wanted immediately at a meeting called by the chief. The message could have only one meaning—war! The inevitable had happened. Though it had been expected, it was none the less of a shock to the two lovers.

"That night, as was the custom of the tribe, a big feast was held to celebrate the coming event. After the dances had been performed, the sacrifices were offered to the Great Spirit that victory might be with the tribe. These rites over, the warriors, carrying out another custom, presented their sweethearts with a gift, the acceptance of which meant that they would be true to their lovers until their return.

"Santaseoa presented Gaillordia with an exquisite blanket in her favorite colors of red and yellow. So artistically woven was it, that the two colors blended almost as one.

"The following morning the braves left. The chief being too old to accompany his tribesmen, Brodii had been placed in charge. They were accompanied for a short distance by the rest of the tribe. The last farewells were made and the warriors started on their difficult journey, while their tribesmen returned to the almost deserted village.

"Many moons passed and at last the time drew near, that eventful day in the lives of Gaillardia and her lover.

"Three days before the first sight of the blue bird might be expected, a runner announced that the warriors were returning victorious!

"Gaillordia arrayed herself in the blanket and with the other maidens awaited the victors. One by one, the maidens were claimed and led away by the happy braves. But where was Santaseoa? Could it be that he . . .? Gaillordia saw Bradii and running to him asked him if he knew what had become of Santaseoa. Bradii told her that he had been killed. Screaming, Gaillordia ran to her wigwam.

"Later that day, she was sought out by her father who told her that she was the promised bride of Bradii. In spite of her entreaties, he remained unmoved in his decision. The more she pleaded, more determined he became, until he told her that she not only would marry Bradii, but that she should do so in three days.

"Gaillordia spent the time intervening in prayer to the Great Spirit to save her from her awful fate. She begged that she might die the moment Bradii touched her.

"The morning of the third day Gaillordia was awakened by the cheerful song of the bluebird. It seemed more she could bear; but she was not the daughter of a brave man for nothing, so when the wedding feast was ready, she donned her red and yellow blanket and went forth to meet her future husband.

"When the feast was over and before the ceremony had commenced, Gaillordia wandered away from the festival and stood on the edge of the woods looking into its shadows. Bradii noticing her, followed her, and stood watching her.

"As she looked, she heard someone call 'Gaillordia' in the old familiar way, and Santaseoa appeared in the circle of light. With a glad cry Baillordia held out her arms towards him and would have rushed forward to great him, but at that moment Bradii laid a detaining ha nd on her arm. To his amazement he felt his hand fall. Gaillordia had disappeared. In her place was a beautiful flower in red and yellow, exquisitely marked as had been her blanket. The Great Spirit had been good to Gallordia, for instead of death, she had been given the privilege of life in the form of this beautiful flower." As he finished, he held up for our inspection the Gaillordia, or as it is sometimes called the Blanket Flower.

—J. H. '31

ATHLETIC MEET

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, MAY, 1928

EVENT	RECORD	WINNER	SECOND	THIRD	FOURTH
Dash 75 yd.	10 sec.	Parks	Erdman	Finch	Frame
Running Broad Jump	13' 11"	Moore	J. Jones	Bully	Fleming
Shot Put	26'	L. N. Smith	Clements	Woods	L. M. Smith
Hop-step-jump	30' 5"	L. Moore	J. Jones	Warriner	Thompson
Javelin	56' 2"	Coleman	Hatchett	Oliver	Paris
Hurdes	9 sec.	Woodson	Coleman	Campbell	Byrd
Running High Jump	4' 3¼"	Warriner	A. P. Carter	Cotten	Frame
Baseball Throw	187' 6"	Hatchett	Frame	L. M. Smith	Paris
Relay	59 sec.	Sophomores	Juniors	Seniors

VIRGINIAN STAFF BANQUET HELD

The Virginian Staff of 1927-'28 held its annual banquet in the Tea Room at 6:30 Thursday, May 17. The staff for 1928-'29 and the faculty advisers were the guests of the old staff.

The editor of the '28 staff extended to the new staff the best wishes for a great Virginian, "even greater and better than this year's." At this time it was announced that Miss Elizabeth Davis was to be the new adviser for the coming year.

Y. W. C. A. ENJOYS BREAKFAST IN MEADOW

On Thursday morning, May 17, the members of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet went to the meadow for their first out-door morning watch. Several members went early in order to build the fire and the others followed at the early hour of six. The beauty of the meadow was a worthy inspiration for the tasks of the new cabinet.

SOCIAL

Florence McIntyre attended the Kappa Alpha dances at Duke University the past week-end.

• • •

Louise Foster and Flora Martin spent the week-end at the latter's home in Petersburg.

• • •

Elsie Michaux and Frances Smith spent the week-end with Elizabeth Elmore at her home in Lawrenceville.

• • •

Martha Baker Bass spent the week-end at her home in Danville.

• • •

Margaret Leonard spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

• • •

Dena Lee Stith spent the week-end in Blackstone.

• • •

Helen Myers spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

• • •

Ellen Fowlkes spent the week-end in Richmond.

• • •

Louise Shoffner spent the week-end at her home in Roanoke.

• • •

Anna Mae Ellis, of Savannah, Ga., Mabel Hayes, of Norfolk, and Ella Webb, of South Boston, returned for the week-end.

• • •

Lucille Norman and Rachal Royall spent the week-end in Richmond.

CUNNINGHAM LITERARY SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS, 1928-'29

On Monday night the Cunningham Literary Society met in the Y. W. C. A. room and the following officers were elected for the year 1928-'29:

President ..... Emily Carter
Vice-Pres. ..... Martha Ann Laing
Secretary ..... Allie Oliver
Treasurer ..... Marie Elder

After the election of the officers a discussion of Isben's and Galsworthy's works was given by Lillian Rhodes.

DEBATING CLUB TEA

On May 19 the Debating Club entertained at tea in the Student Building lounge. Those invited other than the members of the Debating Club were Dr. Jarman, the members of all the honor societies of our college, Dr. Cunningham, governor of the Southern Province of Pi Kappa Delta, and represenatives from the North Carolina Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta.

Those present were entertained by Dr. Cunningham who gave a number of humorous readings.

After the tea the installation of the Virginia Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta took place in the Y. W. C. A. reception room.

EXHIBIT GIVEN BY INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLASS

Many of the S. T. C. girls and the town people attended the exhibit presented by Miss Hazel B. Millican's classes in Industrial Arts during the past week.

The work exhibited was done by the boys of the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades of the Training School, and the girls of the various college courses.

Several types of work were on display: drawing, basketry, cut-paper work, book-binding, rug weaving, woodwork, and clay work. Some of the most interesting objects were the models in clay of Lindbergh, Washington, Cicero, and Napoleon. All the work showed much skill and ability.

TENNIS DOUBLES

The first round matches of the doubles tournament have been played and the survivors of the green and white out-number those of the red and white. The semi-finals and finals are to be played off this week.

The matches played are as follows:

Maddrey-Rhodes defeated Graves-Woodson, 0-6; 6-3; 8-6.

Reed-Bernard defeated Wilson-Atwater, 6-1; 6-3.

Henderlite-Vaughan defeated Clements-Jones, 6-0; 6-0.

Dulaney-English defeated Penn-DeWitt, 6-1; 6-2.

ZETA TAU PICNIC

Saturday, May 19, Zeta Tau had a camp fire reunion at Farmville Lake. The officers for 1928-'29 were installed with an impressive ceremony around the camp fire.

Old girls returning for the reunion were: Mary Lee Malbon, Portsmouth, Va.; Mabel Hayes, Norfolk, Va.; Alberta Collings, Norfolk, Va.; Belle Atkins, Chase City, Va.; Annie Glinn Perry, Chase City, Va.; Jeannette Johnston, of Emporia, Va.

STUDENTS HEAR WELL KNOWN EDUCATOR

(Continued from page one)

so many characteristics of routine; and yet, we must guard against letting that routine conquer our lives."

As a parting bit of advice, Dr. Bagley urged the girls, who as future teachers will guide the child in his quest of learning, to "remember that every little gain that a child makes is a step forward for him, for his country and for his civilization, and that after all you are doing your bit."

The enthusiasm with which Dr. Bagley's lecture was received by the girls denoted its intersting and helpful quality.

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA.

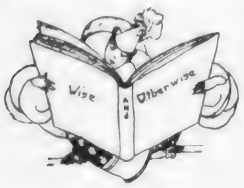
SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home-made Pies
The Best in the World

At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites, drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus!
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink



You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

FOR COMMENCEMENT

WHITE DRESSES
Especially designed for College Graduates.
Prices
$9.75 to $16.75
WHITE KID SLIPPERS
New styles, prices
Widths AAA to C
$3.95 to $7.85
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

Lucile: "What would you do if you could play the piano like I can?"

Pannie: "I'd take lessons."

"Is he conceited?"

"Conceited? Why every time he hears a clap of thunder he runs to the window and makes a bow."

Jane Reid: "Meet me at the library tonight at seven o'clock."

Anne: "All right, what time will you be there?"

"Pass your re-exam?"

"It was this way—"

"Neither did I. Shake."

Father: "How many miles to a gallon?"

Mother: "What color is the upholstery?"

Son: "How fast will she go?"

Daughter: "Has she a good mirror?"

Neighbors: "How can they afford it?"

Betty: "Doctor, what shall I do to rest my face?"

Beauty Specialist: "Keep it away from mirrors."

Swimming teacher: "Now don't forget that a hollow body can't sink. Next time I'll show you how to keep your head above water."

Dr. Walmsley: "I see you've been coming to class regularly lately."

Chris: "Yeah, I was suffering from insomnia something terrible."

"I can't get along with my roommate."

"Why not?"

"All she does is ignore me."

"Ignore you?"

"Yes, and if there is anything I dislike it's ignorance."

Alumna—"Now in my day—"

Bustee: "I didn't stay long, either."

H.-S.: "A penny for your thoughts"

S. T. C.: "You would be cheated, I was only thinking of you."

Ye Nail: "Catch me!"

Ye Picture: "I'll be hanged if I do"

A girl with cotton stockings never sees a mouse.

He who laughs first told the joke.

"So you do know Lindbergh personally?"

"Oh, yes."

"Have you ever met him?"

"Well, not exactly, but I was in St. Louis once."

"Whose name is on more people's tongue than any other?"

"I'll bite."

"Smith Brothers."

Dr. Simkins: "It was Columbus, you erica?"

Beulah: "Ohio."

Dr. Simkins: "It was Columbus, yuo are wrong."

Beulah: "Yes, sir, I know. But I didn't think it was necessary to mention the gentleman's first name."

BITS ABOUT BLUE RIDGE

You're coming to Blue Ridge?

I. The Things You Come With
- 1—Open mind
- 2—Alert brain
- 3—Questioning tongue
- 4—Friendly spirit

II. The Things You Will Find There
- 1—Beauty of Nature
- 2—Other girls seeking truth
- 3—Program ideas
- 4—Creative thinking
- 5—Richer experiences

III The Things You Will Take Back To Your Campus
- 1—Spiritual experiences
- 2—Friendships
- 3—Help on program material
- 4—More creative thinking
- 5—Fascinating books.

Subjects of Group Discussions at Blue Ridge

Religion as integrating force in Vacations—"I don't want to teach, but I don't know what else to do."

Religious Perplexities—"Is there a conflict between psychology and religion?"

Understanding Ourselves—"Most of us who tear around all the time doing campus activties aren't really satisfied."

What We Do About Race and Industry—The South is becoming industrial, and we are for the most part unaware of it."

Educational System—"Students need to know how to work through situations involving a change of policy."

The Use of Leisure Time—"I know girls who don't know what to do with leisure time, if they have any."

Studio Hours at Blue Ridge

This is the time when we work out all those fascinating plans we have always known were good, with skilled and experienced people to help us.

These Studio Hours are an innovation this year and should prove most interesting and valuable.

Of course it will be hard to choose from:

Worship—Plan services of worship and ceremonials.

Music—Learn new songs, plan our music hours at Conference, and perhaps correlate with the worship group.

Community—Take trips to fireside industries in small communities, and some factories in and near Asheville.

Drama—Suggest ways of improving costumes and using resources at hand in successful dramatics.

Social—Plan Conference socials, and recreation—see the technique of making large groups acquainted.

Publicity—Put on an actual publicity campaign with posters, daily mimeographs, bulletins or fliers. There may also be groups for those who prefer poetry or woodcraft.

Blue Ridge Week at S. T. C.

Monday night—A skit interpreting "Voices of Blue Ridge."

Tuesday night—Faculty night—Miss Stubbs talked on "The Spirit of Blue Ridge."

Wednesday night—Blue Ridge songs on campus.

Thursday from 5 to 7:30—Blue Ridge picnic at Lithia Springs. Old Blue Ridge girls told of their experiences.

Friday night—Prayers on lawn.

KAPPA DELTA PI HOLDS RECEPTION

On Monday evening the Beta Gamma Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi gave a reception in the Student Building Lounge in honor of Dr. Bagley of Teachers College who came to install the chapter. The faculty and members of the other three honorary societies were invited. A delicious frozen salad course was served.

The above girls won first places in the Athletic Meet. Eloise Warriner and Louise Moore also won first places, but their pictures could not be secured in time for this publication.

SOPHOMORE PICTURE CONTEST FEATURES THE SHEIKS

Who's the sheik of S. T. C.? Who is your choice? Who can it be? Such were the cries that filled the lower hall last Friday, because the Sophomore Class was conducting a "beauty contest." Pictures of the "boy friends" were carefuly dusted and entered into the race. The contestants were numbered and placed in full view so that one could vote for her choice for a small sum.

Enthusiasm reached its peak. The taste of the fair damsels varied greatly; some just loved the "cute blond," while others were quite sure that the "brunette with the hooked nose was the most adorable of all," each fighting for her choice.

When the day came to a close, it was discovered that No. 11 was the lucky man. After this eventful contest the gentlemen were returned to their proper owners and were, most probably, put back on the wall, far from the sight of the maddening crowd that had gazed at them so critically all day.

PI KAPPA DELTA BANQUET

The Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta held its first Founder's Day banquet on Saturday, May 19 in the banquet room. The room was decorated in the fraternity colors and insignia.

Dr. C. C. Cunningham of North Carolina State College gave the talk of the evening.

The out-of-town guests were: Evelyn Beckham, Dr. Cunningham and the representatives of the North Carolina Alpha Chapter.

Heavy drought, chronic warfare, and extortionate taxation are the causes, we are told, of a new famine in China, when the province of Shantung is the most afflicted in the country. This famine is driving immigrants into Manchuria.

MISS MARY ENTERTAINS STUDENT COUNCIL

Miss Mary entertained the old and new Student Council girls and the four honorary students at a delightful buffet supper on Wednesday night in the recreation hall.

The recreation hall was beautifully decorated in purple iris and Scotch broom.

SOPHOMORES ARE BASEBALL CHAMPIONS

Continued from page one

plate was continually being covered with dust, and the catchers were kept busy throwing lime on the base, so Mr. Coyner, the umpire, could distinguish a ball from a strike. The players on bases showed splendid work, and the Freshmen excelled especially in catching flys. The final score brought four runs to the Sophomores and three to the Freshmen.

The line-up:

Sophomores		Freshmen
M. Frame	c	L. N. Smith
M. Hatchett	p	C. Fleming
A. Carter	r. f.	A. O'Berry
E. Humphries	2b	A. Hutchinson
T. Maddux	l. f.	A. Oliver
P. Byrd	s. s.	E. Peak
L. Fisher	c. f.	L. Beard
C. Watts	1b	F. Simpson
L. Campbell	3b	G. McCall

Substitute—N. S. Anthony

Championship Game Ends in 11—3 Score

Monday afternoon the Juniors and Sophomores came out on the diamond to battle for the championship of the final season's game. Both teams were keyed high with excitement. The spectators can tell you the game was a closer fight than the score indicates.

Mary Jane Wilkinson fanned out one Sophomore after another with her clever left hand curves. Hatchett too, won the fan's admiration by her splendid pitching. She gained the heights of limelight in the opinion of several spectators when she sent a speedy bat whirling into their midst, causing a slight panic.

The score of 11—3 brought victory to the Sophomores, which adds ten points toward the cup for Red and White.

The Latest in Sport Wear
Crepe Sole Oxfords
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At the Eaco Theatre Week May 28—June 2

MON.—. Farrell MacDonald and Marjorie Beebe in "Rich But Honest," with an excellent supporting cast. Youth—Love—Laughter in a romance of a girl who had to make her choice between a flivver and a Rolls-Royce. A picture of excitement and suspense and an unexpected ending. Also News reel. Matinee at 4.

TUES.—No pictures will be shown because the theatre is to be used by the Shriners this day and night.

WED.—A double show will be put on. We will show Billie Dove in "Sensation Seekers," and Pete Morrison in "hasing Trouble." With Billie Dove, Huntley Gordon will star. The story of a love-starved daughter of the idle rich-leader of a fast young social set, who found her heart by following the dictates of her emotions. A revelation. The Pete Morrison is a good western action picture. On this date we will also start a new serial "The Fire Fighters," starring Jack Daugherty and Helen Ferguson. Here is your chance to see two complete shows at the price of one. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

THURS.—Lewis Sone in "The Prince of Headwaiters." Only once in a great while comes a picture so universally appealing- It's a drama of father love, of sacrifice in the extreme—it's human—it's living—it's more than written words can tell you! You must see it to appreciate it! Also comedy. Matinee at 4 o'clock.

FRI. and SAT.—Matinees and nights. Greta Garbo, Lars Hanson Lowell Sherman and Polly Moran in "The Divine Woman." A big special picture. What really happens behind the scenes of life of the actress who has the world at her feet? Here is the thrilling picture at last in which Greta Garbo wins her greatest triumph. More exciting than "Ibanzet's Torrent More seductive than "The Temptress." More romantic even than "Flesh and the Devil." Greta Garbo is indeed "The Divine Woman." Also comedy, Matinees at 4 o'clock.

S. T. C. Admisson prices, 25 cents to each show, if tickets are purchased at the College.

JUNIORS WIN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

THE ROTUNDA

RED & WHITE WINS ATHLETIC CUP

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Vol. VIII. THE ROTUNDA, THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1928 NUMBER 31

JUNIORS WIN TENNIS CONTEST

Henderlite and Vaughan Defeat Reed and Bernard

The finals in the tennis tournament were played off Monday afternoon when the Freshmen bowed to the Juniors.

Vaughan and Henderlite playing for the Juniors won over the Freshmen players, Bernard and Reed, by a score 6-4; 6-4.

This game marks the close of our athletic season and next year we are looking forward to even better things in all phases of athletics.

SENIORS WIN INTER-CLASS DEBATE

The finals in the series of interclass debates were held May 23 in the auditorium during assembly hour. The question for debate was, resolved: That varsity basketball should be abolished at S. T. C. The sophomore speakers, Miss Frances Wilson and Miss Nellie Talley, upholding the affirmative side: The senior speakers, Miss Jackie Woodson and Miss Elizabeth Hutt upholding the negative side. The debate was very interesting and at some points quite humorous. Both sides debated so well and convincingly that the faculty had quite a time deciding who were the winners, but finally they cast their votes nine to seven in favor of the negative, the Seniors of 1928.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1928

DEBATING CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

At the Debating Club meeting held Friday night the following sofficer were elected for next year:

President	Sammy Scott
Vice-President	Alice Hamlin
Secretary	French Hutt
Treasurer	Mildred Maddrey
Reporter	Martha Ann Laing
Chmn. of Council	Mildred Maddrey
Members of Council	Evelyn Graybeal, Lillian Rhodes

PROGRAM OF S. T. C. GRADUATION EXERCISES

Saturday—June 2

9:00 P. M.—Reception

Sunday, June 3

6:45 P. M.—Senior Vesper Service

8:00 P. M.—Baccalaureate Sermon

Monday—June 4

10:30 A. M.—Sophomore Class Exercises

3:45 P. M.—Kappa Delta Memorial Service

4:30 P. M.—Senior Class Exercises.

8:00 P. M.—Senior-Sophomore Play

10:15 P. M.—Senior Lantern Parade.

Tuesday—June 5

10:30 A. M.—Commencement Exercises.

Sermon ..... Dr. W. E. Hill, Richmond

Address ..... Hon. Harris Hart, Supt. of Public Instruction in Va.

ANNUAL JUNIOR PLAY IS A SUCCESS

Something would be lacking at S. T. C. if the class of '29 did not give their annual musical comedy. This time they successfully carried out their entertainment in "Marrying Marion" with Mary Duncan and Margaret Hubbard playing the leading parts. Shouts of laughter and applause rang from the auditorium all during the play. The play is a clever production and was well played by the Juniors.

Margaret Hansel was a comic star in the role of Cicero Socrates Smith.

The Navy has substituted Columbia for the Army on its basketball schedule for next year as an additional step toward cutting out competition with the Military Academy until it adopts standard rules of eligibility for athletes. It had previously made a substitution in the footbal lschedule.

PLAYMAKERS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Playmakers Club held its last meeting of the year Thursday, May 24. The following officers were chosen for 1928-29:

President	Evelyn Graybeal
Vice-President	Linda Wilkinson
Secretary	Katherine Schroeder
Treasurer	Cora Lee Philpot
Critic	Lucy Thompson
Alumnae Secretary	Lucile Norman

The class wishes to announce the following new members:

Kathlyn Johnson, Katherine Schroeder, Willie Savage, Cora Lee Philpot, Vashti Brisbois, Lidie Jones.

REPRESENTATIVES TO BLUE RIDGE

Y. W. C. A. Conference Held June 5—15

The following girls are being sent to Blue Ridge by different organizations in school:

Y. W. C. A.

Margaret Finch
Sammy Scott
Adele Hutchinson
Rachel Royal
Elizabeth Atwater
Jane Hunt Martin

Rotunda

Pearl Etheridge
Lucy Thompson

Student Council

Anne Ferree

Freshman Commission

Elizabeth Lacy
Elsie Clements

Kitty Bentley is also going to Blue Ridge with the rest of the representatives.

HOME ECONOMICS HAS EXHIBIT

Tuesday, May 22, the Home Economics Department gave an exhibit in the auditorium of the dresses made during the year. The models wore the dresses that they had made. The girls participating are to be congratulated both on their ability as dressmakers and as models.

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT PRESENTED IN S. T. C. AUDITORIUM

Shriners Visit S. T. C. and Hold Ceremonial

The Acca Temple Band of Acca Temple A. A. O. N. M. S. presented a concert for the entertainment of the S. T. C. girls on Tuesday evening at 8:00 in the S. T. C. auditorium.

The selections met with the approval of the entire audience. The contralto soloist, Grace Cosby Hudgins, gave an unusually good interpretation of her selections.

The program was as follows:

PART I.

March—Salaam Temple, J. G. Morrell
Overture—Poet and Peasant, ... F. Von Suppe
Contralto Solo—Sunrise and You ..... Arthur A. Penn
Grace Cosby Hudgins
Intermezzo—Gavotte ..... Jos. DeLuca
Selection—Tannhauser ..... Wagner

PART II.

Waltz Solo—Goodbye ..... E. P. Tosti
Selection—Victor Herbert Favorites ..... Arr. by M. L. Lake

(Continued on last page)

HARRISONBURG S. T. C. STUDENTS KILLED BY TRAIN

On Tuesday, May 29, a car coming home from one of the Harrisonburg rural schools was struck by a train. Three of its occupants were killed and two others were seriously injured. Those who were killed were Margaret Knott, of Portsmouth, Pauline Vaden of Sutherlin, and Mrs. Florence Sedgwick. Those who were seriously injured were Lorraine Gentis of Norfolk and the driver of the car. Lorraine Gentis was in Farmville several weeks ago to help in the installation of the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi. Miss Knott and Miss Gentis were both members of the senior class.

The student body of S. T. C. wishes to take this opportunity to express its sympathy to the families of these students and also to the student body of Harrisonburg Teachers College.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MAKES MANY AWARDS

LAST ASSEMBLY HELD WEDNESDAY

The Assembly which was held on Wednesday morning by the request of the students proves that the human race, even college girls, can overcome the most insurmountable of obstacles. Exams, in full swing, and still an auditorium full of students gathered to sing songs of appreciation of the Alma Mater, Dr. Jarman, the faculty, and their fellow students! Students clapped wholeheartedly when the athletic cup for the year was awarded and felt something of the solemnity which always goes along with the pleasure in the completion of a year's work.

And so the last assembly of the year leaves us all with an appreciation of what our Alma Mater has done for us, and the very real desire to "cooperate" with Dr. Jarman in the realization of the dreams he has dreamed for the students who will not be here when the next assembly is held.

Monograms, Blazer, and Cup Presented to Winner

The Monogram Club wishes to announce the following new members:

Louise Vaughan '29
Marguerite Erdman '29
Lucille Campbell '30
Thelma Maddux ,30
Allie Oliver '31

Blazers

The Blazers awarded to each student making 600 points in athletics were awarded to the following students:

Mary Clements '28
Emma Woods '29
Mary Frances Hatchett '30

Those who lacked only a few points for the blazers are:

Lucille Campbell—525 points
Gwendolyln Hardy—550 points
Marguerite Erdman—545 points
Marie Elder—585 points

Red and White Wins Cup

Wednesday morning in Chapel, Mary Frances Hatchett, president of the A. A. presented to the Red and White class the Athletic cup. The Red and White won by 60-50 points.

—A HAPPY VACATION!!—

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29
Associate Editor — LUCY THOMPSON, '30

Board of Editors

News Editor — CATHERINE BENTLEY
Literary — GLADYS WILKINSON, '29
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY, '29
World News — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29
Humorous — ANNA BURGESS, '30
Social — FLORENCE REED, '31
Art — CHARLINE WILLIAMS, '30

Reporters

JULIA WILSON, 29 — ELIZABETH BROCKENBROUGH, '31
ISABEL MACDONALD — WILLIE SAVAGE, '31

Proof Reader

MARY JANE WILKINSON, '29

Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTON
Circulation — ELIZABETH BOWERS, '29
Assistant — JANE COTTEN, '31

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

COMMENCEMENT

When we were very young, some of us wondered why the exercises at the end of the school year were entitled Commencement. Perhaps it is true that such a close is more important as a beginning. For those who graduate there is ahead a new untrodden way, alluring, fascinating, even a little frightening.

Commencement, then—though a beginning, is a fit close for a college career. College days may be the most important years of one's life. If they are years of unfolding and growing character, of increase in stature more physical, of strengthened faith, of greater love for service of mankind, then they are memorable years.

So at Commencement families and friends gather to celebrate fitly the occasion of the graduation of a large number of Virginia's young women. The college presents the best that it has to make these last days happy ones, inspiring ones. We welcome our alumnae, our mothers and fathers, our friends, for without them Commencement would be incomplete.

HOLD FAST YOUR DREAMS!

High school girls have dreams of college, most of which they do not realize. Some freshmen, on becoming disillusioned, develop a violent dislike for their college, not realizing that they are only disappointed because they dreamed of impossibilities. Others accept their disappointment as secondary to the undreamed of qualities which college possesses.

During four years at college there are innumerable disappointments. But the strong girl rises from her disillusionment, a bigger, finer girl, placing her confidence in new found realities, dreaming dreams of life built upon the truth that she has found.

Now the girls who came to S. T. C. some years ago are leaving, prepared to assume the responsibility of educated womanhood. There is no need for fear, there is no room for disappointment. Each girl has a place awaiting her, if she be patient enough and persevering enough to find it. We bid you goodbye with sadness, for we shall miss you, but with gladness, too, for yours will be a happy life.

Our parting words are simple ones. No matter how many years may pass, there will always be girls at your Alma Mater, seeking and finding the truth as you have found it, upon it building dreams, ideals. To them you must keep true, and they will give you strength.

"Hold fast your dreams!
Within your heart
Keep one, still, secret spot
Where dreams may go.
And sheltered so,
May thrive and grow—
Where doubt and fear are not.
O, keep a place apart,
Within your heart,
For little dreams to go!"

BUSY WORLD BITS

The threatened peasant revolt in Roumania has apparently been nipped in the bud, according to dispatches from Bucharest. The Government and the military took prompt action when the peasants attempted to take over the railway stations near Albajulia with the intention of proceeding en masse to Bucharest to demand a change of government. The peasants were dispersed and ample caution is being taken to prevent their reassembling.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is considering the feasibility of a flight to Europe during the coming summer via Greenland and Ireland, with a possible stop in Iceland. What will Lindbergh do next?

The latest development in the field of commercial aviation is a coast to coast trip in forty-eight hours. This trip is partly by air and partly by rail. From New York to Los Angeles in forty-eight hours traveling at night on the train and by airplane during the day.

TRAVELING AT HOME

Hundreds of young men and young women these late May days already are planning their college careers. Some of them, wishing to be very "modern," are purposing to make an educational swing around the circle. They believe that they will be benfited most by living a while in the Northwest, a while in the Southwest, a while in the Middle West. They will get points of view from other parts of the country.

Of course they will. But their sacrifice will be great. They will not stay anywhere long enough to enter fully into collegiate life. They will get their degrees with no sense of loyalty to any institution. They will have no alma Mater to remember all their lives. They will not be enabled to make those strong college friendships which, one learns in crises, endures to the end. Things which endure are all too scarce.

Moreover, the freshman-to-be must consider this important fact: College faculties are by no means provincial. Wise institutions pick and choose their men from far parts as well as near. Not only do they bring in teachers from other American communities, but in some cases seek them in foreign countries. For college administrations realize that today Spain and Alaska are just across the alley fence from each other. People can still be Mississippians or Virginians or Oregonians, yet think internationally.

Consequently, when the student enters his sociology class room he meets ideas which were born perhaps in the corn fields of Iowa; his history classroom, ideas from Idaho; his physics laboratory, ideas from Vermont. The college has bought and paid for those "foreign" ideas. Some may be sound and some unsound. But they are new, and they make the student think.

That, after all, is what he is after; at least, it is what he should be after.—Richmond News Leader.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Madison, Wisc. (By New Student Service.—Phi Beta Kappa has been spurned again. This time by a woman student at the University of Wisconsin. Miss Olga Rubinow, of Philadelphia, senior in the college of letters and science, objected to the society's standards. Her note of refusal follows:

"Because I am opposed to any formal honor bestowed on the basis of high grades, which I do not consider a genuine criterion of true scholarship and intellectual achievement, and which I believe is often conferred upon the unworthy as well as the worthy, constantly excluding a large proportion of those worthy who do not happen to excel in grades—I beg to decline election to the Phi Beta Kappa Society."

The Cardinal, besides disagreeing with Miss Rubinow's objections, dislikes the publicity that accompanies Phi Beta Kappa refusals.

New York, N. Y. (By New Student Service.—Students at the University of Wisconsin, teachers, writers and business men and women, were successful in their attempt to free David Gordon, young Zona Gale scholar at the University of Wisconsin, from the New York reformatory where he had been sentenced for writing an "obscene" poem, which was published in the Daily Worker. The State parole board agreed with the young poet's supporters that he might be better influenced by a university than a prison.

Literary Societies Out of Date.

Madison, Wis.—After 45 years of life, Philomathean Literary Society, one of the oldest organizations on the University of Wisconsin campus, has decided that competition with dances and co-eds is futile, and has wilfully gone out of existence. A funeral banquet marked the farewell. David M. Gantz, secretary of the organization, made the announcement in a statement, which said in part: "It seems that literary societies 'went out' with the horse and buggy. With so many outside activities going on in the university, few men find time, or are interested enough, to attend our meetings."—New Student.

More free advice to co-eds has been offered by the men at the University of Rochester. A few of their suggestions which were offered, to be accepted without any obligation on the part of the ones taking them, were:

Don't look over our shoulder to read a newspaper. They cost only a few cents, so go buy one.

Don't accept an invitation to take a sandwich and then order a whole meal.

Don't ask us whether or not to let your hair grow.

Don't explain that you know it's bad form, but that you love to chew gum anyway.

Don't be avidly interested in the things you say shock you.—Virginia Tech.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. Girls
Come in And Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You!

Shannon's
For the BEST place to EAT and DRINK in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

MARTIN
THE JEWELER
The Store with a THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

McINTOSH & CANADA
For
Cara Nome Face Powder and Compacts

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring
Cleaning
And Pressing
Farmville — Virginia

C. E. CHAPPELL. CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery and School Supplies

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will Fix Your SHOES While You Wait!
Best WORKMANSHIP And LEATHER Used.

RICE'S SHOE STORE
10 Per Cent Discount on all FOOTWEAR
Sold to S. T. C. Students!

Hair Cuts, Marcels, Water Waves, Manicures, Facials, Etc.
Headquarters for S. T. C. Students!
Strictly private, competent operator in charge
BEAUTY SHOP
Connected with Mack's Barber Shop
323 Main St.

THE CASH & CARRY STORE
Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables
Everything for Sandwiches
Phone 110 — Third St.

"WADE'S"
New Frigidaire Fountain
Up-to-date Ice Cream Parlor.
Home-made Pies and the best Sandwiches in Farmville. We want your Patronage
A. V. WADE
Phone 228

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"Satisfied Customers" OUR MOTTO

ROBIE FOSTER
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing. Ladies' work a specialty
"Your satisfaction is our success."
Special Prices to S. T. C. Students
412 Main St. — Phone 198

COOL BLUE HYDRANGEAS

Cool blue hydrangeas—
Dripping with shining rain drops after the shower,
Drooping and touching the soft green earth
With your blossoms—blue—blue!
Have you stolen the blue from the sky and the sea—
A lovely bush in my garden?
You are shining and happy—you lovely thing!
There are touches of lavender in the blue—
And shadows of pink and violet, too—
And yet over all is that blue—that blue—
That holds my heart and keeps me here—
Just looking at you—just looking at you—
Cool blue hydrangeas!

J. E. W. '29

WILD HONEYSUCKLE

Wild honeysuckle of the forest,
Breath of the dawn—
Pink and wet in the morning,
Drenched with the dew,
Breathing the fragrance of pine woods—
Wild honeysuckle, glistening and sweet,
In my heart, I would liken you
To a fairy's prayer.

J. E. W. '29

A RAINBOW'S BIRTH

Dark, frowning clouds,
Lightning flashes,
Thunder peals
And rain splashes.

A sudden light
Like a dewey morn,
A bird's twitter,
And a rainbow was born.

K. W. '30

A NEW ANCIENT TOWN

Williamsburg, Va., is one of the most fascinating of America's historical spots. Now it is proposed to restore Williamsburg of the eighteenth century as "a museum in the spirit of 1776". In an area of about a square mile, the new and incongruous buildings are to be razed; the public buildings and private houses o fthe early period are to be replaced where they originally stood—for instance, the old Capitol will rise on its original site. When the restoration is complete, one will see an old-time small town with wide streets and the Palace Green with the Governor's old Palace.

Naturally the cost of restoration will be very great. It has been intimated that Mr. Ford and Mr. Rockefeller are back of the plan.

The suicide epidemic at Columbia continues to spread until it has at last reached the faculty. The latest suicide was a young instructor who shot himself last week. Others among those who have taken their lives within the last three weeks are three studnts. At that Nicholas Murray Butler, that grand old president of Columbia and foe to the prohibition law, announced a raise in pay for all of the members of the faculty of the university.

THE FUNNY SIDE OF EXAMINATIONS

Exams! Examss Those are the horribly serious and decisive things which come to S. T. C. three times a year to take all the joy out of life. Those are the things which make part of the student body stagger along under the load of newly crammed knowledge and part hurry up and down the halls with a contrastingly stupid look on their faces. But behold also a third part, the very small minority which kept up with daily lessons faithfulyl through the term, who walk now leisurely around with a smile of satisfaction over some secret joke at having "put it over" on someone, probably the faculty. Those are the few who seem to grasp at first glimpse the funny side of exams.

Yet, if one (preferably from the ignorant horde) will stop for a moment and imagine herself on the side lines or bleachers watching one phase of a very interesting game: the frightened pack crowding into the class room with an air suggesting that something ultra-tragic is about to happen, the instructor, grim and important, writing questions, which bring forth gasps, in the leisurely manner born of knowing the suspense with which they are awaited, a strained silence, then the sound of panting pencils laboring to put a finish to the groaning paper, sounds of labored breathing from students wildly working to pass or to catch a train or to finish just to be finished. She, t he one apart watching the turbulent scene will surely see something besides the gloomy side of exams and she who does see this broader vision has a very essential quality, a sense of humor.

A SENIOR'S SHOPPING LIST OF MEMORIES

In Abbie Graham's "Ceremonials of Common Things," she has written her "Celestial Shopping List."

A senior's shopping list of memories would consist of the following things.

One Aunt Lucy
One station on the first day of school
A tulip bed
The Colonnade
One order of hamburger and toast
One chapel hour
Several Sunday mornings
Six o'clock Thanksgiving morning
Dr. Jarman's smile
One Dramatic Club play
The Rotunda on Saturday night
One light bell
Two campuses (one in the spring and one in the fall)
One Miss Mary
One Miss Jennie
Two Joans
A Christmas holiday
A campus bench
One fire in the student building lounge
Mr. Gilliam's
One complete faculty
The big tree in front of the Student Building
"Sing"
One Post Office box
A hall full of trunks
A grand rush for the dining room

The girls at S. T. C. Harrisonburg, deserve congratulations again on winning first place at the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester. A crowd estimated from fifty to seventy-five thousand cheered as the Colonial ladies and gentlemen passed in review before the queen.

AMONG THE CAPS AND GOWNS

LOUISE COSTEN

If some one would ask the degree girls who is their hardest working classmate, they would say, with one accord, Louise Costen.

She is talented and is always putting that talent to good use. What would the Dramatic Club do without Louise to paint the scenes? What would the annual be like without her lovely illustrations? Dresses, books, banquets, everything takes on a touch of beauty under Costen's hands.

Art is not the only thing that Louise works at—she's good at anything. Alpha Kappa Gamma has recognized her qualities of leadership. The Student Council has been better for her services for nearly four years. With all this Louise is cheerful, friendly and happy. The school will miss her next year. She deserves a future as beautiful as the picture she has painted.

ALICE WILEY

Perhaps no senior will leave S. T. C. with a greater love for her Alma Mater than Alice Wiley. Through four years she has worked and made people happy. Her jolly personality has helped many through their little school worries; her endless sympathy with people has helped to make the burden of other lighter.

Alice has served as vice-president of the Student Council and worked on the Rotunda staff during the past session. She has taken part in each of the Dramatic Club plays. Perhaps her most active part has been in debating. She is a member of Pi Kappa Delta and has debated in several colleges this spring. Being somewhat determined that her college career should not be void of athletics, Alice has successfully umpired baseball during the past season.

She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu and Alpha Kappa Gamma. Alice will be missed from these walls but her service and her excellent example set for those who are to follow will remain. She may justly be called a true daughter of Alma Mater!

Miss Elizabeth Bell. who completed her high school work and Sophomore year in S. T. C., will graduate June 5 from Randolph-Macon Woman's College and will be married later the same day at the home of her parents here.

Y. W. CABINET ENTERTAINS

Last Friday evening witnessed a very delightful party in the recreation hall given in honor of the cabinet members of last year. The new cabinet was hostess to the old cabinet. The spirit which dominates all "Y" activities was not lacking and the new cabinet members are grateful for the courage, good-will and spirit given them by the old cabinet.

A delicious plate was served. Everyone enjoyed the "eats" and the good time. The following girls were present: "Pannie" Willis, Margaret Finch, "Chris" Royall, Sammy Scott, Anne Ferree, "Jackie" Woodson, "Slis" Atwater, Florence Booton, Elizabeth Bowers, Virginia Gurley, Mary O. Ellington, Margaret Pumphrey, Elizabeth Newton, Rachel Royall, Mae Marshall, Lois Fraser, Anna Burgess, Adele Hutchinson, Helen Williams, Virginia Ellis, Louise Moore, Pearl Etheridge, Margaret Leonard, Lucy Thompson, Etta Marshall. z

ALUMNAE

The negagement of Miss Virginia Cowherd to Alfred Adkins has been anonunced. The marriage will take place in June.

The wedding of Miss Annie Griswold McIntosh to Bruce Boxley will take place next month in Orange.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Hester Peebles Brown to Everett Ransom Pond has been announced.

ROTUNDA STAFF GOES ON PICNIC

On Wednesday, May 23, the Rotunda staff had a picnic at Buffalo Lithia Springs. A delicious supper of sandwiches, pickles, cake and coca cola was served.

At this picnic it was decided, by a vote of the staff, to send Lucy Thompson, our associate editor, to Blue Ridge as the other delegate from the Rotunda staff.

NANCY HOLT

Who is it that is "carrying on" so "down the hall?" Do you ever hear that question asked? No, because everybody knows that it is Nancy. Nancy with her wit and originality can certainly keep things and people in an uproar. With her winning smile and her eternal appetite, she has endeared herself to all of us.

Beneath all of that, though, Nancy is true and sincere. She has a glorious spirit and a cheerful one. She is always ready to lend a helping hand and not only that, but she'll lend her brains, too.

The senior class is proud to claim Nancy, and glad to share her with the other classes. We think that we've caught some of her spirit of "Never you, for you only double trouble, and trouble others, too," and we want to pass it on. Now, don't we envy Nancy's pupils next year?

—MILLINERY—
Hats to Suit Your Every Fancy at
Mrs. Crenshaw's
328 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE, VA

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Violin, Theory, Harmony, Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONBLE TUITION RATES

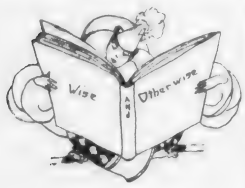
CAPP'S STORE
Next to Theatre
TOASTED SANDWICHES
SODAS AND CANDIES
Mrs. Hubbard's Home made Pies
The Best in the World

At Cunninghams
MISS ANNIE WILKERSON
MILLINERY
STYLISH HATS
For
STYLISH GIRLS
GAGE HATS

WHITE DRUG CO.
Established 1868
The Confidence of the Community
For Over Half a Century
Finest toilette requisites drugs and Stationery

Just one block from Campus
G. F. BUTCHER, CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

You would Love to have Your Shoes fixed at the
LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
110 Third Street



THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices For S. T. C. Girls
PRESSING, DYEING & REPAIRING
Phone 221 610 Main St.

FOR COMMENCEMENT

WHITE DRESSES
Especially designed for College Graduates.
Prices
$9.75 to $16.75
WHITE KID SLIPPERS
New styles, prices
Widths AAA to C
$3.95 to $7.85

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

Phyllis: "When I get to heaven I'll ask Shakespeare if he wrote all those plays."

Red: "He may not be there."

Phyl:. "Then you ask him."

'31: "Did you see that? Those boys smiled at me."

'40: "Yes. They were too polite to laugh."

"I just didn't get the brakes," said the flivver as it rolled down the hill and dropped itself over a stone wall.

Mary R.: "Why are you walking so slowly?"

Sally W.: "Oh, so that if I fall asleep, I won't fall so hard."

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Dandelions are yellow,
Carnations are of different colors.

H. S.: "Can you tell me the reason why S. T. C. girls aren't allowed to ride in automobiles?"

S. T. C.: "Sure. You're one."

"Mary: "I suppose your father was all unstrung when he got the report of your exams."

Jane: "No, I wired him ahead of time."

Anna says it's a sure sign of spring when a Scotchman throws his Christmas tree away.

The Manchester Journal says. "If Noah had debated as long as Congress over flood protection, this terrestrial sphere would now be inhabited exclusively by fishes."

Teacher: "Who was George Washington?"

"Pupil: "He's the guy whose wife makes candy."

First Cat: "Hasn't she attractive eyes? They are so different."

Second Feline: "Yes, I noticed that. One's green and the other is brown."

Liz Ferrell says that the really wise girl knows her carats instead of her onions.

Jinx: "Know the Mariner brothers?"

Liz Sawyer: "No, who are they?"

Jinx: "Silas and Ancient."

We wonder—
Who the guy is
That writes this funny poetry,
Where one line is real long
And the other
Is Short.

The fresh co-ed was being enrolled at summer school by the handsome young prof. To hide his embarrassment, he fired questions at her in rapid succession:

"What name?"

"Mary Jones."

"What age?"

"Twenty."

"What class?"

"Thanks, prof. You are looking pretty smooth yourself!"

VACATION

Gee! Girls, Vacation is upon us and am I happy? Of course, there is the little matter of examinations that have to be endured before the glorious time, but who cares about examinations when we can think about vacation?

Where are you going to finals? I really can't decide, my dear, where I'll go because so many of them come at one time. I want to make time with Dick at V. P. I., but I want just as much, to make time with Phil at V. M. I. So what am I going to do?

Are you going to summer school at William and Mary? Why not Virginia?—well, I don't suppose I'd survive that, either.

Do you want to know what I'm going to do? First, after the finals, of course, I'm going to sleep. I feel like I could sleep for years without waking once—or turning over, either, for that matter. I think I'll get some one to ring a big bell for a few mornings, just so I can laugh and know that I don't have to get up and stumble to class. And then, I'm going to dance and read.

No, let's don't even discuss summer school. I think you are very foolish to go when you don't have to. Going to school all winter is enough for me, especially, since there is all of next winter to study in.

I could rave on about vacation and the things I'm going to do but that isn't necessary because you are going to do just as many things yourself and don't need my ravings to get you excited.

NEW BOOK BY DR. WYNNE IS HIGHLY COMMENDED

Dr. Fred G. Bonser of Teachers College, Columbia University says, "This unification of principles should very materially aid students and teachers in interpreting and using the contributions of any method that has merit without becoming confused and entangled by technical phrasing or popular acclaim. Every teacher or student of method into whose hands the book may fall will become a beneficiary of its contribution if he will read it with a desire to understand."

This book is now on sale at the S. T. C. book room.

"PRINCIPLES OF EDUCATIONAL METHOD"

Dr. F. G. Bonser of Columbia University says: "This unification of principles should very materially aid students and teachers in interpreting and using the contributions of any method that has merit without being confused and entangled by technical phrasing or popular acclaim . . . Every teacher or student of method into whose hands the book may fall will become a beneficiary of its contributions if he will but read it with attention and a desire to understand." This book is now on sale at the S. T. C. book room.

CONCERT GIVEN AT S. T. C. AUDITORIUM

Continued from page one

American Patrol ..... F. W. Meacham
Popular Air—Beautiful
..... Gillespie and Shay
March—School Sports
K. W. Schlabach

Sing: "Have you heard the new Ohio song?"

Sing: "No, name it."

Sing: "O, Hi-o the Merrio."

WHAT? HOW? WHEN?

How are you going to spend your time this summer—doing something you'll be proud of, or just playing around? If you'd like to do something, but haven't decided what to do, then write a one-act play. The Playmakers Club is offering a prize of five dollars for the best play contributed next fall. A second prize of two and a half dollars is also being offered. The aim of the club is to begin the development of a native Virginia drama. The play, therefore, must be based on Virginia tradition or folklore. A suggestion is to dramatize the stories which "grandfather" tells.

STUDENT STANDARDS COMMITTEE

On Saturday at 3 o'clock the old and new members of the Student Standards Committee held a joint meeting. The class representatives for the year 1928 and '29 are:

Sophomore class—Catharine Wayt, and Jeannette Luther.

Junior class—Margaret Leonard, and Linda Wilkinson.

Senior class—Gladys Wilkinson and Evelyn Thompson.

Pearl Etheridge represents the Rotunda staff and Virginia Raine, the Virginian staff.

Virginia Raine was elected chairman of the committee, for next year.

CLASS PUBLISHES A MAGAZINE

The class in short story writing under the direction of Miss Barnes, is publishing THE LITERARY REVIEW. This magazine is a collection of the best short stories which have been written in the class this term, and plays, poetry, and essays which have been contributed by other English classes. In undertaking to publish THE LITERARY REVIEW, the class wished to give to the students an idea of the work the English department has done this term. With this in mind, the class tried to make the magazine truly representative of the department, and they are hoping for the support of each student. THE LITERARY REVIEW is only twenty-five cents a copy. Order yours now, so you will be sure of getting one.

INSTALLATION SERVICE

The Installation Service of the College High School English Club was held Monday evening at 7:30.

The members, 26 in number, were installed, after which the officers were given their charges. There are three honorary members of the English Club: Miss Willie London, Miss von Schilling and Miss Alyce Page Adams.

BEFORE YOU DEPART DID YOU REMEMBER

To return all borrowed articles?
To pay all bills?
To return all library books?
To sign up for your room next year?
To kiss the roommate goodbye?
To subscribe to the Rotunda?
To bid fond farewell to Alma Mater?

"Napoleon?"
"Here."
"Bismarck?"
"Here."
"Calvin Coolidge?"
"Present."
"Alexander the Great?"
"Here I am."
"Joan of Arc?"
"Oh, here I am!"
Roll call in the asylum was over.

A TRAGEDY

I.
Dear Miss Phelps,
.....
Respectfully,
Mr. Tom Waiker

II.
Dear Mary,
.....
Sincerely,
Tom Walker.

III.
Dearest Mary,
.....
With love,
Tom.

IV.
My own Mary,
.....
Devotedly,
Tom.

V.
Dearest Mary,
.....
Lovingly,
Tom.

VI.
Dear Mary,
.....
Tom.

VII.
Dear Miss Phelps,
.....
Respectfully,
Tom Walker.

After sailing over the North Pole, the giant dirigible Italia, under command of General Umberto Nobile, disappeared in the Arctic fog and finally more than 100 hours after her departure a garbled message stating that the ship had landed and urgently begging for help is reported to have been received from the Italia. The date or place of landing was unintelligible. Planes will probably be used in the attempt to rescue the sixteen men aboard the dirigible. Roald Amundsen and Lincoln Ellsworth, companions of Nobile on his 1926 flight across the Pole, have volunteered their services.

General Umberto Nobile and his comrades reached the North Pole on May 24 in the great ship "Italia". He sent messages to Rome from the pole just before he started on the return journey. A flag and a holy cross was dropped from the ship. This trip makes the second one for General Nobile.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE ROTUNDA FOR 1928-'29

Because the Rotunda is the publication which records the news of S. T. C., we feel certain that many graduating seniors and sophomores wish to receive the paper next year. The price for one year is $1.50. If you wish to subscribe, fill in the blank and drop this with the subscription price in the Subscription Box in the Rotunda office, or give it to the editor or the business manager.

Name .....

Next Year's Address .....

The Latest in Sport Wear
Crepe Sole Oxfords
Specially Priced
Greenberg's
Department Store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
S. T. C. GIRLS!
(We invite your charge account)
Powder puff free with purchase of any make of face powder
For—Our soda fountain is all electrically refrigerated to insure cleanliness. (Impurity Impossible)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAMS
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

At The Eaco Theatre Week of June 4—9th

MON.—Buck Jones in "Hills of Peril." Jammed with action, pocked with thrills, chammed with fun. The story of a good bad man who smashed his way to fame, love and fortune through a series of dare-devil exploits. Unusually good. Also News reel and a comedy.

TUES.—Tim McCoy with Joan Crawford in "The Law of the Range." A special production. The greatest riding in Tim McCoy's screen career is done in this picture of countless thrills. Brother against brother in love and battle! A film that will entertain you from first to last. See it Also Second episode of the new serial, "The Fire Fighters."

WED.—Madge Bellamy in "Silk Legs," a special production. A hilarious story of a male and female drummer on the road to happiness. Madge Bellamy proves in "Silk Legs" that silk stockings cover a multitude of shins. A thrilling, fascinating story of hearth and legs. Extra good! Also Buster Brown comedy.

THURS AND FRI.—Harold Lloyd in "Speedy," his latest Suped Special Paramount production. A comedy comet! Up, Up, Up, another rocket of roars when big Harold Lloyd gets into aciton and there are no speed limits for "speedy." It is a new cruise in the laugh realm when this fun-maker gets into trouble and pulls himself out by his bootstraps . . . . and wins the girl withal. Never before so many laughs . . . . they hit from all angles, and it's speed, "speedy." all the way through. Also good two-reel comedy. This big production is being played on percentage with admission prices set by producer.

SAT.—Janett Gaynor and Glenn Tryon in "Two Girls Wanted." The romance of an office girl who wanted to be a housewife. Youth, love and the romance that comes but once in a life-time. Janet Gaynor, who created a sensation as "Diane" in "7th Heaven," scores another triumph in this picture. Also comedy.

Admission to S. T. C. girls Thursday and Friday, 35 cents; other shows, 25c.

Mr. Ogden: "Do you want a large or a small picture?"

S. T. C.: "A small one."

Mr. Ogden: "Then close your mouth."

COME OUT FOR HOCKEY

THE ROTUNDA

POE

FRESHMEN WE'RE PROUD OF YOU!

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

VOLUME IX. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1928 NUMBER 1

NEW DORMITORY OPENED FOR UPPER CLASSMEN

Complete in Up-to-Date Equipment

The new dormitory across from the Training School is one of the most positive signs of our "up to dateness" and ultra modernity. The whole building is made up of two room suites with two girls in each room. There are sixty-eight rooms with a bath between each two rooms and each girl has a closet of her own. This feature makes Senior Hall undoubtedly the most convenient and comfortable dormitories on the campus.

Besides the dormitory rooms there is a sun parlor on each floor, artistically furnished, also a pressing room and kitchen on the second floor. The drawing room on the first floor is especially "homey" having a big fireplace and beautiful furniture.

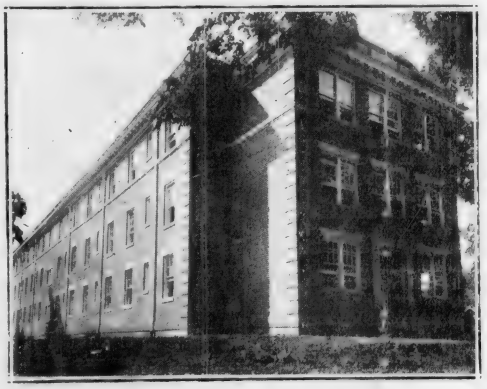
This building is estimated to have cost $125,000 including the furniture. The seniors are proud of their new home and are grateful to Dr. Jarman and the other authorities of the school who made it possible for their last year to be spent in this beautiful building.

PLAY DAY IS A GREAT SUCESSS

Did you hear shouts of laughter issuing from the gym and athletic field Saturday afternoon? Play Day was in full sway there where many of the girls were thoroughly enjoying an afternoon of games, supervised by Miss Iler.

The crowd was just divided into teams which were indicated by a ribbon worn on the arm. Then the relays began with great excitement and rivalry. Such contests as the Straddle, Indian and Number Relays brought forth the cries, "Beat 'em, team." "Snap it up, girls." "Hurrah, for the Lavendars."

The obstacle race was perhaps the funniest. Grotesque figures fairly flew across the field in one galosh, clutching an umbrella in one gloved hand, the other madly jamming a hat on one side of the head.



Play Day was a great success. Let's have another soon.

WHO'S WHO ON FACULTY

The Faculty of S. T. C. is again represented in Who's Who. In the 1928 volume which was issued recently, Dr. Jarman and Dr. Walmsley are given very interesting write-ups.

The student body feels the honor and we congratulate Dr. Jarman and Dr. Walmsley on this recognition of their work.

NEW SENIOR DORMITORY

Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION

On Friday night, September 21, at 8 o'clock the entire Student Body and Faculty were entertained at a delightful reception given by the Y. W. C. A. In order that everyone might get acquainted a "Name Contest" was sponsored the prize winner being Rubie Hunt.

The gym was the "scene of action," so to speak, for here the following program took place:

1.—Solo ..... Helen Borrowdale
2.—Duet ..... Elizabeth Etheridge
Katherine Downing
4.—Solo ..... Louise Henderson

Dr. Jarman favored us by several vocal selections: "Perfect Day," and "Let the Rest of the World Go By."

The climax was reached when the word "food" was mentioned, for can you feature a Y. W. C. A. reception without the usual grand march and rush for ice cream and cakes!

ANNOUNCEMENT OF HOCKEY SCHEDULE

4 P. M.—6 P. M.

Monday—Freshmen
Tuesday—Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors.
Wednesday—Freshmen.
Thursday—Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.
Friday—Freshmen.

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

If you wish to receive The Rotunda weekly, fill in this blank and send it with $1.50, the price of a year's subscription, to the Circulation Manager. The staff desires to serve alumnae and friends of the college as well as the students now enrolled.

Name .....

Address .....

CHANGE MADE IN FACULTY FOR 1928-1929

S. T. C. welcomes to its faculty the following new members:

Mr. Saml. M. Holton—B A., M. A., Duke University. Principal Campus Training School.

Dr. Chas. A. Reuse- M. A. University of Chicago; Ph. D. Cornell. Associate professor of English.

Miss Myrtle Cash—B. Ed. Ills. State Normal University. Assistant professor of Geography.

Miss E. Lucille Jennings—B. S. M. S., University of Virginia. Assistant professor of English.

Miss Elisabeth Purdom—B. Mus. Brenau College. Assistant professor of Music.

Dr. Edith Stevens—A. B., A. M., W. Va. University; Ph. D. Univ. of Chicago. Assistant professor of biology.

Miss Alice Whitfield—B. S., Miss. State College for Women; M. S., Columbia University. Assistant professor of chemistry.

Miss Louise McCormick—B. S., of Farmville S. T. C. Assistant supervisor, Campus Training School.

Miss Grace B. Moran—Graduate Farmville S. T. C. Part-time instructor in Rural Education.

Miss Frances C. Treakle—B. S., Farmville S. T. C. Supervisor, Cumberland Training School.

Miss Carrie Tucker—B. I., Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, B. S., Geo. Peabody College. Assistant supervisor, Campus Training School.

Miss Virginia Bedford—B. S. Univ. of Missouri. Instructor in Fine and Applied Arts.

Miss Dorothy Foolkes—B. S. Geo. Peabody College. Instructor in Geography.

Miss Edith Marshall—B. S., Farmville S. T. C. Part-time instructor in English and assistant in Library.

(Continued on Page Two)

916 STUDENTS ENROLLED AT S. T. C. FOR THE FALL TERM

Enrollment is Smaller Than For Last Year

Up to the present time 916 students have matriculated at S. T. C. A number of students are still expected to arrive This number is not so large as the enrollment of last year.

The decrease may be due to the law which will go into effect in 1930 requiring a degree in order to teach in accredited high schools, thus eliminating those who cannot afford to go four years; or it may be due to the fact that more girls are deciding upon business careers, and pursuits other than teaching.

BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE HELPS DELEGATES

If a certain group of girls were asked where they would like to spend their next vacation, no doubt, the spontaneous answer would be "Blue Ridge."

Blue Ridge—with its hazy mountain tops, its inspiring scenery, its beautiful buildings, it indeed an ideal place for a vacation, but the charm of Blue Ridge is not wholly accounted for when you speak of the physical attractiveness. There is a deeper attraction—a sort of magnetic spirit of freindship which can only be described by the words "the Blue Ridge spirit of understanding." The girls and their leaders meet in a friendly way to discuss the problems of the modern college campus. Student representatives from other countries bring their problems and their solutions of questions to these group discussions and all members profit by the experiences of their fellow representatives. Well-known psychologists and college instructors gave lecture courses on topics which were vital to every one of us. Studio hours well held so that we might bring back to our campus new methods of helping the Y. W. C. A. become a living part of college life.

Then there were the hikes—the bon fires and the parties. Never will we forget the morning we got up at 3 o'clock to climb High Top and see the sun rise. (We ran into a small thunderstorm and the sun forgot to rise). Every night our Farmville delegates would gather around the fire place in the cottage and talk over the happenings of the day, each contributing her share of ideas she had gained from her contact with new people. Girls from other colleges would drop in and impromptu "Sings" were given with toasted marshmallows and "hot dogs" as refreshments.

Every night after supper we would gather on the steps of Lee Hall and sing songs of Blue Ridge and folk songs of our country and other countries. It was beautiful to bear the voices of so many girls singing Y. W. songs, and it was still more beautiful to know that they are trying to follow the Gleam, a gleam rekindled and strengthened by the Blue Ridge Spirit of Understanding.

DEAN'S LIST IS ANNOUNCED FOR FALL

The following seniors, have made the requirements for the dean's' list:

Katherine Dodge Bentley
Yancey Brooking
Kathryn Bully
Anne Ferree
Louise D. Foster
Evelyn E. Graybeal
Hannah L. Hamlett
Gwendolyn C. Hardy
Martha E. Henderlite
Leyburn Hyatt
Isabel M. Mcdonald
Juliet L. Mann
Betty B. Moses
Evelyn V. Thompson
Louise M. Vaughan
Margaret Walton

WHO'S WHO AT S. T. C.

Heed, all new students! In our college world, certain of our number, by reason of unusual ability and untiring service have reached the point of accomplishment which marks them as leaders of college activities. As leaders they serve most. They will be glad to identify new girls with the extra-curricular activities in which they are most interested. The following girls hold leading offices:

Frances Willis .... Pres. Student Gov.
Margaret Finch .... Pres. Y. W. C. A.
M. F Hatchett .... Pres. Athletic Assn.
Virginia Raine ..... Editor Virginia
Mabel Fitzpatrick .... Pres. Dramatic Club
Peggy Walton .. Pres. Ruffner Society
Nellie Talley .... Pres. Debate Council
Elizabeth Taylor .... Pres. Choral Club
Margaret Hubbard .. Pres. Chromatic Club
Red Foster .. Senior Class President
Lucille Graves .... Junior Class Pres.
Elsie Clements ..... Sophomore Pres.

WELCOME FRESHMEN

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st. 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 33, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — PEARL ETHERIDGE, '29
Associate Editor — LUCY THOMPSON, '30

Board of Editors

News Editor — CATHERINE BENTLEY, '29
Literary — GLADYS WILKINSON, '29
Athletic — KATHERINE BULLY, '29
World News — LOIS FRASER, '29
Intercollegiate News — EVELYN THOMPSON, '29
Social — FLORENCE REED, '31
Art — CHARLINE WILLIAMS, '30

Reporters

ISABEL MACDONALD, '29 — WILLIE SAVAGE, '31
ELIZABETH BROCKENBOROUGH, '31

Proof Reader

MARY JANE WILKINSON

Managers

Business Manager — MARGARET WALTON, '29
Assistant — FLORENCE BOOTEN, '30
Circulation — ELIZABETH BOWERS, '29
Assistant — JANE COTTEN, '31

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. Thsse will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

WELCOME TO ALMA MATER!

Welcome to Alma Mater! It is good to be here, whether it be for our freshman, sophomore, junior or senior year. Every year offers attractions and opportunities characteristic of no other year. Our college is the best for us. It is our choice of all possible schools we might have selected in which to spend this precious year of our youth. We come with a purpose—growth. We seek knowledge to prepare us for a successful career in the teaching profession. We seek friends among the students, among the faculty, among books, within the vast expanse of knowledge laid before us. We seek joy in every association of every day. Why? Because we are seeking life more abundant than we have ever known.

We, as students in our college, create its spirit by individual attitude. At the beginning we are eager, happy, because we are glad we are here. We pledge ourselves to make this the best year we have yet lived!

TO THE NEW GIRLS

There is no doubt in the minds of old students at S. T. C.: the freshmen this year are the best yet. They came in weather that certainly encouraged homesickness, even for those of us who have experienced before the pangs of departure from home. In spite of the rain and cloudy skies, the freshmen smiled, and smiled! We admired you for it—it was a sure test of your spirit. You kept your courage and grinned and now we love you every one.

We're glad you're "green." We hope there's not a single one who has educated notions unbecoming to a freshman. It's your energy and enthusiasm that gives new life to the whole college. You probably feel that you are dependent on us just now. No doubt you are, but we are equally dependent upon you. Your place in college is absolutely essential to our well-being. We suggest that you begin at once to participate in activities which will make your leisure time more profitable and which will prove to us conclusively that the Class of 1932 is on the way to establish unprecented records.

"LET US RUN."

A friend of college boys and girls last week suggested for new consideration an old, old thought: "Encompassed about by such a cloud of witnesses, let us run with diligence the race that is set before us."

Now at the beginning of our school year the track is clear before us. We are runners in the race of life. Family and friends are witnesses of our progress. Shall we take new vigor and determine to run the race with diligence?

Back at home there is a family who has had faith enough in each of us to believe that we will make good. They have worked, probably sacrificed, that we might have an opportunity that most of them never had. They are missing us, yes, but they do not waver, so that we may continue our education. If there comes a time of doubt for us, the folks at home have no questions. Shall we keep the faith?

WORLD NEWS

A great storm coming from the lesser Antith moved across Porto Rico, swept up the eastern coast of the United States destroying property and lives as it went. The storms major victim was Porto Rico, which it left torn and disrupted. The island has a population of 1,400,000. It was estimated that at least half of this number were left homeless. It is reported that 263 perished. Thousands are homeless and without food. Disease and famine are already taking a big part.

The hurricane had lost some of its violence by the time it reached Florida and the destruction was not as great, only nineteen deaths reported in eastern Florida.

The Red Cross has begun to help and public subscription to relieve suffering has been begged from this nation by radio, press and pulpit.

Someone has gone so far as to say the biggest and most significant news of this generation was the signing of the Kellogg-Briand treaty renouncing war. The nations controlling the world's destiny have agreed to give up the practice of war. By many this is considered a greater step toward peace than the League of Nations Covenant or the Locarno Pact. Perhaps time will only tell but it's human nature to wonder if it's going to work.

It seems as all hope has been shattered concerning Roald Amundsen. A pontoon found at sea about twenty miles north of Tromsoe has been identified as part of Amundsen's airplane and this fact has led many to the conclusion that Amundsen and his men are lost beyond hope.

Roald Amundsen's career as an explorer covered thirty years. He has left accounts of his trips to both the South and North Poles. One author has said that he will forever figure in history as one of the most intrepid and successful conquerors of the world's unknown regions.

In the present campaign it appears that both presidential candidates are looking to the farmers for relief—Florence (Ala.) Herald.

CHANGES IN THE LIBRARY

The colleeg library was remodeled during the summer to insure better service for the students this year. Some additional floor space has been added, all the walls and woodwork have been painted, new lights have been installed, and more tables and chairs have been placed in the magazine and reference rooms. The library system has been considerably changed this year, but the list of rules are pasted outside the library door and these clearly explain everything.

"You're on the air," chortled the aviator, as he tossed the radio announcer overboard.—Judge.

LETTER FROM AN ALUMNA

Dearest Girls:

My thoughts have been with you during the busy days of the first week of school life. I've memory-flashes of old scenes and dear familiar faces, many of whom you see daily, come before me, bringing again the same cheer and inspiration which they brought to me as a "new girl and in the happy years which followed.

Today I am packing my boy's' trunk who leaves for a prep school on Thursday, and I am thinking too, of all the mothers all over our country, as they watch the boys and girls leaving for school. Now, I know the eager interest of a parent in every phase of the school life as it touches the youth. Now, I know the ambitions and ideals of parents for their boys and girls, the love and concern for them too. Yes, and their prayers for their safe-keeping in all things. The mother's hearts are in sympathy for the homesick ones, for the shy and timid ones, for the gay and boisterous ones, for the hard workers and for those who would be shirkers.

A happy memory of the Farmville school with me is that of the chapel It was there we started the school day(in devotional exercises or announcements, or a heart to heart talk from Dr. Jarman to his girls, a talk in which he never failed to give us a new ideal and a larger vision for service.) Things may have changed there since the school has grown so large, but as you glance at the girls around you, remember just as your family is interested in you, in your success, and in your school happiness, so is the family of the girl next to you, and the same is true for every girl. Somebody wants the "new girl" to feel at home, so give her a friendly smile and a cheery word to make her feel that she is one of you. Somebody wants the new girl to win success this first year, so give your encouragement to her, give her of your confidence, and knowledge. Somebody wants the new girl to make good in every phase of her school life, so give again of your very best, in example of fair play, of friendship, in truth and honor, remembering the verse on real success—"Do you know that it's' up to you to work, succeed and live? But first you must be true, and learn to give, and give, and give!"—A Devoted Alumna.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE ROTUNDA

Alumnae! Why not send in your subscription now and get all the news of your Alma Mater. Subscription price, $1.50 per year.

CHANGES MADE IN FACULTY FOR 1928-29

(Continued from page one)

Miss M. Virginia Potts—B. S., of Farmville S. T. C., Part-time instructor in Music and assistant in Home Department.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Headquarters for
S. T. C. GIRLS
Come in and get acquainted
We're Glad to Have You

SHANNON'S
For the Best Place
TO EAT AND DRINK
in Farmville
Sodas 10c — Short Stirs 15c

CANADA DRUG CO.
236 Main Street
Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY

S. A. LEGUS
TAILORING
CLEANING
PRESSING
FARMVILLE - - - VIRGINIA

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Electric Shoe Shop
Will Fix Your Shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

"WADE'S"
New Frigidaire Fountain
Up-to-Date Ice Cream Parlor
Home-made pies and the best sandwiches in Farmville. We want your patronage. A. V. WADE. Phone 228

Your Right

Frocks for street, school and sport wear are smartly developed in fine wool crepes, novelty tweeds, charmeen and jersey—each rich in fashion and not expensive.

BALDWINS
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE STORE

STAR LIFE

To me, the stars are real;
They are the lives
Of youth, made eternal
By a golden love.
I know that they're alive because
The night we met
The dear stars laughed
With happy joy.
I know they laughed, too
Because I heard their music
Echoed in your voice . . . .
Another night
The night you came and smiled
At me with love-lit eyes,
The stars wept with joy.
I know they wept, too,
Because when you had gone
Some of their sweet tears
Wet my own cheeks . . . . .
Yet dear, last night
The stars were all mine
Because in the perfumed darkness
When you whispered those magic words
The stars sang!
Yes, dear, they must have sung
Because their melody
Is still resounding
In the deepness of my heart.

M. J.

VISION

The eyes of all the world
Are bound together
By people's eyes.

Brown, gray, blue—
All these hold dreams
Of love, mystery, pain, surprise.
Brown eyes are cheerful
With a radiant glow;
Gray eyes are misty
With dreams of love;
And the dreamy eyes of blue
Have thoughts within their depths.

But the eyes of the world
Are lighted only
By the eyes of you.

W. H. S. '30

MY FIRST MURDER

Yes, he was a college boy. His father owned the big bolt and screw factory just across the tracks from my house. Our meeting had been very informal. I had bumped into his car one day as I was walking toward town. The car wasn't badly damaged, so he asked me to ride to town with him. As mother had often told me never to get into a car with a strange man I said that I would be glad to stand on the running board. So off we went, (not the running board, but towards town). He dropped me at the five-and-ten and after I had picked up my hat I went in to do a little shopping for mother.

When I had purchased the spool of thread, I started home. As luck would have it there was my friend again. He asked if he might call and I told him to yell as loud as he pleased—my ear drums were in perfect order. But it seems he wanted to come to see me. I said yes.

Next night he came. I had spent the day at the library. I didn't' want him to think that was uneducated, and I hadn't sent in my membership to the "Fifteen Minutes a Day Club.'" We were sitting on the porch in the swing. There was silence. I knew that this was my chance to expound my literary knowledge, so I said, "Do you know Poe's' 'Raven'?"

And when he said "Is he? Who cares?" What could I do but stick him with my hat pin?

INTERIOR VIEWS O F NEW DORMITORY

SOCIAL

Anouncement is made of the marriage of Chris Royall and Harry Elmore. They are making their home in Cincinnati.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Beulah Jarvis and "Happy" Seward of Petersburg.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Annie Griswold McIntosh and Bruce Boxley. They are making their home in Louisa.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Alice Garner and Montrose Graham of Richmond.

Anouncement is made of the marriage of Pat Cowherd and Alfred Atkins of Richmond.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Evelyn Hood and Beverly Nininger, of Roanoke.

Beth White, Evelyn Dulaney, "Jackie" Woodson and Phyllis Wood returned to school for the week-end.

HOCKEY PRACTICE BEGINS WITH PEP

Yesterday afternoon the upper classmen started hockey practice. All the classes were cut, the seniors having an especially good representation. Practice in driving and dribbling was first held and then teams were formed for regular play. The girls all found that it is quite a difficult thing to run for ten or fifteen minutes after being out of practice for a whole summer. However, everybody enjoyed the practice and are looking forward to the Thanksgiving and the class games.

SUDENT COUNCIL WELCOMES NEW GIRLS

To every new girl on the campus, we extend a most cordial welcome, and wish for you a most successful and happy year!

Of course, you realize that our work can not be accomplished without your "backing.'" You know what we expect of you. Let's make it the most successful year yet by a little cooperation on the part of everybody!

THE STUDENT COUNCIL
Frances Willis, President

WELCOME TO THE RETURNING FACULTY

We are glad to have the following teachers with us again who were studying last year:

Miss Ada Bierbower, B. S., Columbia University, supervisor of Prospect Training School.

Mr. W. D. Bowman, B. A., Bridgewater College, M. A., University of Chicago, professor of education.

Miss Mary E. Peck, B. S., Farmville S. T C., M. A., University of Virginia. Associate professor of History.

Mr. George Jeffers who was granted a leave of absence on account of ill health has also returned.

The following teachers were granted a leave of absence for the coming year: Miss Camper, Miss Eggleston, Misses Lila and Willie London and Miss von Schilling.

SET DATE FOR THE NATIONAL PRESS MEET

The annual meeting of the National College Press Association has beer set for November 16 and 17 at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana.

The editors and business managers of all college newspapers, whether members of the association or not, are invited to be present at the meeting.

The program will include speeches by men nationally known in the newspaper field, round-table discussion of the problems confronting the editors and business managers of the college newspapers, presentation of papers by college editors on college journalistic questions of the day, a banquet, entertainment and a football game. At that time, also, plans will be perfected for a closer national organization and means of rendering greater service to members and to the institution of college journalism itself.

A period will be included in the program at which editors and business managers can bring up their specific problems for discussion.

An official bulletin of the National College Press Association states that greater problems than ever before face the college journalistic world of today. In line with all institutions and industries, its standards have been more exacting. In order to maintain its place in the business world and its student rating, a college paper must maintain a higher standard of exactness and completeness than ever before.

THE VALUE OF SCHOOL PAPERS

What the newspaper is to the general community, the school paper is to the school community. Both publications possess uncommon interest to their readers by the printing of news items, stories, etc., and both have the power of moulding public opinion. One influences mature minds the other influences the youthful minds. Both are informative and highly educational. Especially is this latter statement true in the case of the school papers.

The school paper has one distinct advantage in educational value—it is the product of its readers. To be successful it must represent the combined effort of every class in the school and be of interest to every student enrolled in those classes. The academic classes may be assigned the task of collecting news, preparing interesting articles, and revising the manuscript for errors in English construction, spelling and typography; the art classes may have charge of the illustrations and general typography arrangements; the commercial classes may look after the business end of the publication, such matters as soliciting money for subscriptions or advertisements, making disbursements for printing, etc.

No other activitiy can combine into a single educational unity practically the entire facilities of the institution as does the school paper.

With the installation of a magazine in a school all the academic work is revitalized. English, spelling, arithmetic, grammar and art will take on a different meaning to students who have hitherto regarded these studies merely as neecssary evils. Taught in conjunction with a school magazine, their great vaule as vital elements of education is realized. School papers are great aids to faculties of institutions of learning.—The National Religious Press.

Then there was the absent-minded Freshman at S. T. C. who, when coming up on the train, ate her ticket and handed the lunch to the conductor.

CAPP'S STORE
Next to the Theatre
Toasted Sandwiches
Sodas and Candies
MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Headquarters for
S. T. C. STUDENTS
Mack's Beauty Shop
323 MAIN STREET

McIntosh Drug Store
"Drinks and Drugs"
TOILET ARTICES, SODA MAGAZINES, CANDY AND STATIONERY

S. T. C. HEAQUARTERS
THE HUB
DEPT. STORE
WELCOMES YOU
And Solicits Your Patronage
Open a
CHARGE ACCOUNT
Reduced Prices to All—
S. T. C. GIRLS

Just One Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER & CO
The Convenient Store
For Good Things to Eat and Drink

OGDEN STUDIO
PORTRAITS
"SATISFIED CUSTOMERS"
Our Motto

Southside Drug Store
(We invite your charge accounts)
ELIZABETH ARDEN
Beauty Preparations on sale Here

DRESS WELL AND SUCCEED
CORRECT CLOTHES
For the Round of College Life
SHOES
For Every Occasion
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
Farmville, Virginia

Johnnie: "I saw an aeroplane flyin' ".

Liz: "(doing her best as a school ma'a'm): "Don't' forget your g's, sonny."

Johnnie: "Gee! I saw an aeroplane flyin'."

My boy friend thinks he has a wonderful mug, but between you and me and the gate post, I think it's more like a stein.—Rice Owe.

She calls her boy friend Pilgrim, 'cause he makes so much progress.—Selected.

Dell says she knows a woman who put a pan of oil in the pantry so the mouse wouldn't squeak.

Fued only write
Minervas wreck
Causican tyranny
News.

(If you would only write
I am a nervous wreck
Cause I can't hear any
News —Judge.

Many a married woman sits up to see the old dear in.—Selected.

STUDENTS ENJOY SATURDAY SING

Saturday night sing—a crowded auditorium. Evidently all the new girls who had not already known what a delight sings were had been told.

The new students applauded enthusiastically last year's favorites including a dance given by Margaret Pumphrey and Adele Hutchinson, a reading by Elsie Clements, "Down by the Old Mill Stream" by Alma Hunt and Jessie Smith, and several songs by Nancy Nelms.

The old as well as the new girls enjoyed the toe dancing of Mary Todd, a freshman. Mabel Fitzpatrick and Margaret Leonard cleverly acquainted the audience with the latest news of S. T. C.

Liz Lacy, Louise Arthur, Ann Guy, Dolly Latane, Beth Brockenborough, and Liz Antrim comprised a highly entertaining and very two-sided Romeo and Juliet chorus.

After sing the ministers and other church representatives, presented by Jane Hunt Martin, extended to all the students a cordial invitation to the various churches of the town.

BIG AND LITTLE SISTERS

Sunday Night

In the House of a Thousand Candles

Dearest Kitty:

Well, here I am back at the ole school once more, seeing everybody—except those that didn't come back, hearing all the latest gossip about who got married and the like. Don't' you miss all that? I know I will after I leave.

And my "Little Sister!" Really, I wish I could get everybody in the world a little sister like her. She is a little blond, cute, attractive 'n' everything. The best part about her is that she is interested in everything. I don't have to spend half my waking hours trying to make things attractive to her—she's already taken to them.

To me, she is the ideal Little Sister and she is making me work hard to build as high a standard for the ideal Big Sister. I honestly can't help raving about her because she is so sweet. Always meets me with a smile—and I'm not the only one. Sometimes I almost get jealous because she is just a sweet to everyone else, but there's' your ideal again.

How would you like to have a Little Sister by mail? Maybe I could get you one from somebody else, but if they think as much of theirs as I do of mine, I may have to go to the Training School and borrow one of the grade children for you.

Write me soon and come up and meet my Little Sister. Just,

Marguerite

OUR BIG SISTERS

From the time we saw that letter beginning, "Dear Little Sister," we Freshmen felt a real link binding us to Farmville S T. C. 'Twas like a friendly hand grasping ours, and it surely has been a comforting feeling ever since. You know 'twas your "Big Sister" who came into your room that first nite and put her arm 'round your shoulder and said, "Honey, if you need anything I'm right here to help you." Then our throats began to unknot and we knew she understood and was sincere about helping us.

The night we got lost in the corridor and seemed to be wandering on and on in unfamiliar paths along came that "Big Sister" to return us to the fold! Didn't we feel our importance when she guided us safely around in the crowd at the Y. W. party and introduced us to so many nice girls—as her "little sister!" In fact, she seems to have the knack of knowing when "and how" we'd want her most.

She's just one smile and cheerful word after another. We owe her a big debt and we'll repay it next year by being ever so kind to some frightened little freshman!

Who ever thought of Big Sisters anyway? Her"s to her happiness and we'd like to shake his hand. These F. S. T. C. girls, as well as the faculty have certainly got that spirit, for after all "Big Sister" seems to be a synonym for good-fellowship.

Freshman though we are, and ever so green, we certainly have been made to feel that we are truly wanted and welcomed—that is what our Big Sisters have helped to do.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!!

The Rotunda is the weekly newspaper published at S. T. C. The staff is responsible for its publication, though the student body is expected to contribute. There are vacancies on the staff which will soon be filled. Any girls who are intereseted in newspaper work may try out after an interview with the editor. There is a big opportunity for girls with originality.

MONOGRAM CLUB

Try outs for the college monogram will begin soon. Everyone, freshmen and upper-classmen will be expected to try out for the Monogram this year. For girls of determination, pep and sportsmanship, the monogram stands ready to be won.

The monogram is the symbol of the all-round athlete for it denotes proficiency in all sports.

Monogram Requirements

Membership Requirements

1. Sportsmanship—Passed by a unanimous vote
2. Health—Individual must be physically fit.
3. Scholarship—"C" average with one failure or one condition.
4. Eligibility for membership includes one, two and three above and 400 points earned.
5. Club members must earn 250 points each year to remain in club.
6. Any member failing to keep up to standards of club will be automatically dropped from the club, and deprived of the privilege of wearing the monogram.

Physical Efficiency Test

1. Badge test—Potato race, balance beam, basket ball. goal shooting.
2. High jump—3 feet, 6 inches.
3. Basket ball throw—distance 45 feet.
4. Volley ball serve—5 out of 8.
5. Basketball goal shooting 20 a minute.
6. Target throw—3 out of 5.
7. Hike—Ten miles.
8. Stunts (any four)
   1. Through the stick
   2. Cart wheel
   3. Head stand
   4. Hand stand
   5. Elephant walk
   6. Forward and backwark somersault.
   7. Forward somersault to upright stand.
9. Field and Track Events (any 4)
   1. Javelin throw—45 feet
   2. Shot put—25 feet
   3. Hurdles—10 seconds
   4. Hop-step-jump—20 feet
   5. Dash—50 yards in 9 seconds
   6. Running broad jump, 11 feet
   7. Basketball throw—distance 100 feet.

Points

I. Physical Efficiency Test
- 9 events—4 stunts and 4 field and track events ..... 75 pts.
- 9 events 7 stunts and 7 field and track events ..... 100 pts.

II. Teams
- 1.—1st. class team in any sport 50
- 2. 2nd class team in any sport 25
- 3. Attendance at 60 per cent of practices of each sport 25
- 4. Championship team 50
- 5. Runner up 25

III. Honorary varsity 25

IV. Varsity team 50
Varsity squad 25

V. Hiking—3 ten mile hikes per year 50

VI. Field Day
- 1.—First place in any individual event 25
- 2.—Second place in any individual event 10
- 3.—Third place in any individual event 10
- 4.—First place in relay 10
- 5.—Second place in relay 5
- 6.—Breaking a college record 50
- 7.—Participating in meet 5

VII. Tournaments (Tennis & Archery)
- 1.—Championship 75
- 2.—Runners up 50
- 3.—Third 25
- 4.—In after 1st round 5

VIII. Scholarship
- 1.—"C" average, no failures ... 25
- 2.—"B" average nothing below "C" 50
- 3.—"A" average, nothing below "B" 57

IX. Eligibility.
- First year 400
- Second, third and fourth years, each year 250

ATTRACTIONS IN S. T. C. ATHLETICS

With such hordes of incoming Freshmen looming before us in every direction the Athletic Association should have no difficulty in putting over its wide-awake program for this year.

Tennis

The first athletic event will be the tennis tournaments. Watch the bulletin board for announcement of the schedule. Singles will be played off this fall; doubles will be postponed until spring.

Hockey

On Monday afternoon came the first call for all the hockey players when the freshmen reported to learn the game. Hockey is new to every girl so it is as easy for one to learn as another.

A double-header will be played on Thanksgiving Day: Sophomores versus Freshmen, and Juniors versus Seniors. Championship winners receive ten points toward the class cup.

Basket Ball

The call will soon sound for the basket ball players. A big year is expected in this sport. Class championship games are played off and then the varsity goes out into larger fields to battle with Fredericksburg, aHrrisonburg and Radford.

Other Sports

During the winter and spring other sports are participated in.

Class championship games are played in volley and baseball. With the field and track meet in May the athletic season closes.

Last year archery was begun and a number came out to feel the thrill of the bow and arrow. This year an archery tournament is being planned to determine the Robin Hood of the College.

There is a place in athletics for every girl at S. T. C. Come to practices and find out which place you can best fill in these seven sports.

TRAIN-INGS ON FIRST DAY

Rain-ing, well, I'l'l say. It is simply pour-ing. Why—hello, I've been dying to see you—How in the world will I ever get my hat-box in? Where is that boy? I've been try-ing to locate him. My, you're look-ing great. You've been reduc-ing, haven't you? Say, you look simply swell. My dear, did you ever see so many good look-ing rats? They have been pil-ing in. I saw some just now, and what do you think? My dear, they were not even cry-ing. They actually were not. They were even laugh-ing. Yes, they are all darling.

Abie and Ikey were shipwrecked. After four days on an island Abie exclaimed: "A sail, a sail!"

"Vot's' de use?"" said Ikey, "we ain't got no samples."—Va. Tech.

Falconer Gift Shop
Books Engraving
Stationery Pen Repairing
PARTY AND DANCE FAVORS A SPECIALTY

Lovelace Shoe Shop
Work done While you Wait With First Class Material
110 Third Street

ARE YOU HUNGRY?——
Go Across The Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

SCHEMMEL Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, asesthetics, Etc. Reasonable tuition rates.

THOMAS JEFFRIES
The Odorless Suburban Cleaner
Special Prices for S. T. C. Girls
Washing Car for hire
Phone 221—610 Main St.

MARTIN,
THE JEWELER
The Store with
A THOUSAND GIFT THOUGHTS

At The Eaco Theatre Week of Oct. 1st—6th

MON. & TUES.—Gloria Swanson, with Lionel Barrymore in "SADIE THMPSON" a special production. What a triumph. The star whose every picture is an event. The director who made "What Price Glory". The story that has never been equalled! The cast headed by Lionel Barrymore! "Sadie Thompson" was a triumph before the first camera crank turned! Now—it's' a smashing sensation! If you miss "Sadie" you're missing o gorgeous lady! Also news reel. Matinee each day at 4 o'clock.

WED.—Tim McCoy and Dorothy Swan in "RIDERS OF THE DARK" A frontier romance that is big and new. A girl runs a newspaper alone, defying the hordes of lawless men that bring terror by night. Action from first to last. Also comedy. Mat. at 4.

THURS.—Ramon Novarro with Renee Adoree in "FORBIDDEN HOURS". A special production. A great story of young love in the shadow of life. A stirring tale of the romance the tragedy that stalks in the shadow of the throne. The newest picture of the star of "Ben Hur." Also comedy. Mat. 4 o'clock. At Night after this picture is shown the Hub Department Store will present their big fashion show on our stage with 18 models.

FRI. & SAT.—At Mats. Madge Bellamy in "SOFT LIVING"' The story of a girl who marries for money and falls in love with her husband and of how cave man tactics cured a gold digger wife. A repeat picture that is extra good. Also comedy.

FRI. & SAT. At night only—Corrine Griffith in her latest big special production "THE GARDEN OF EDEN." Mother Eve had nothing on this modern Eve. She had many more men to choose from—but she got her Adam! Fig leaves, snakes, applesauce, laughs and love. A big picture lavishly produced. Also comedy.

Admission to S. T C. girls—25 cents if the tickets are purchased at college.

RECOGNITION SERVICE FRIDAY

THE ROTUNDA

TRY OUT FOR HOCKEY VARSITY

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

VOLUME IX. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1928 Number 2

DEBATE CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Debate on Self-Government for Upperclassmen

On Thursday night, September 27, at 8 o'clock the Debate Club held its first regular meeting of the year in the Y. W. C. A. social room. The meeting was opened by Sammy Scott, president of the club, who after a short business session, turned it over to the vice-president, Alice Hamner.

The program for the night was a very interesting one, holding special attractions for the juniors and seniors. This was a debate on the subject, Resolved: "That Absolute Student Self-government Should be Established in the new Junior-Senior Dormitory." Catherine Bentley and Frances Wilson upheld the affirmative while Sammy Scott and Evelyn Graybeal defended the negative. The decision was made in favor of the negative.

Following the debate Dr. Walmsley, dramatic coach and advisor of the club, gave a short talk on a few requisites of good debating.

Before the meeting adjourned the following people were elected to fill vacancies:

Elizabeth Thrift ..... Debate Council
Louise McCormick ... Alumna Debate Council
Catherine Bentley .... Ex-officio Debate Council.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA IS ORGANIZED

Several New Instruments For This Year

The college orchestra was organized last Wednesday under the direction of Miss Purdom with the following officers:

President ..... Eleanor Gleason
Vice-Pres. ..... Adele Hutchinson
Librarian ..... Audrey Franck

Miss Purdom is a graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music at Oberlin, Ohio. She is a very capable director, a skilled musician, and one of the most popular of the new faculty members. The orchestra is sure to improve and grow under her experienced hand. With the proper support of the school, Farmville S. T. C., should have an excellent orchestra this year. It is hoped that any members of the student body who have musical talent will come out for the orchestra. It shall be the aim for the year to give the school desirable music from the best orchestrations.

There should be an orchestra of at least twenty pieces in a college of nine hundred students.

Y. W. C. A. President

MARGARET FINCH

The office of president of the Y. W. C. A. speaks for itself; it is an office which requires untiring service and love, and she who fills it must be one of strong character, personality and vision. In this office the opportunity to work with people, to see them grow in the knowledge of God and to create a finer S. T. C. presents itself. Margaret Finch has answered the call of her student body to fill such an office. "Finch"" is a loyal worker, a true friend and one who readily sees the needs of others and seeks to fill them. "Finch" filled the office of secretary on the cabinet of last year and she did splendid work. Good luck on your new venture, "Marnie" the student body is backing you!

DRAMATIC CLUB HAS TRY-OUTS

On September 24th, 25th, and 26th, the Dramatic Club held their try-outs for new members. About a hundred and fifty girls entered the contests. These included both freshmen and upper classmen.

Much talent was displayed by the participants. It was gratifying to the club to know that so many members of the student body are interested in dramatics.

The Dramatic Club wishes to announce the following new members:

Henrietta Cornwall
Lela Germany
Adele Hutchinson
Gilberta Knight
Martha Lanier
Frances Millican
Elizabeth Rivercomb
Evelyn Thompson
Maria Warren

STUDENTS EXTEND SYMPATHY

The student body expresses sympathy to Mr. McCorkle whose father died in Lexington, Virginia, September 30, and to Dr. Wynne whose uncle died in Enfield, North Carolina, September 30.

MEMBERS OF S. T. C. FACULTY GET DEGREES

Master's Degree Awarded to Four Teachers

The members of the faculty who received their M. A. degrees during the summer vacation are Miss Mary B. Haynes of Peabody College, Miss Grace Mix of Teachers College, Columbia University, Miss C. B. Taliaferro and Miss Alice Carter, also of Teachers College, Columbia.

Miss Taliaferro and Miss Mix studied from the first of February until the last of the year, when they received their master's degree.

Athletic Asociation President

MARY FRANCES HATCHETT

Whenever we think of Mary Frances we think of a bright smile and winning personality that is dear to everyone that knows her. For two years she has worked and played with us and it is evident from the position she holds now that she has proved her ability both to the student body and faculty. Besides being president of the Athletic Association she is assistant physical education instructor, and also assistant coach of freshman athletics. And she is an athlete! Well, wait until Thanksgiving! The Red and White classes count themselves exceedingly fortunate to have her aid in all branches of athletics.

Mary Frances not only plays well, but she is also a very efficient executive and a willing worker. Nothing she undertakes is ever left without being as complete as she can make it. We are expecting big things of the Athletic Association this year under her leadership and every member of the student body is back of her in all of her undertakings. May she always suceed in the future as she has in the past!

Student Government President

PANNIE WILLIS

There"s no one just like Pannie. Without her our school life would be far from complete. When school days are over and we have lost the sight of many of our friends, we'll remember some of them for a day, some for a year, and some for ever. In this last type Pannie shall remain.

Through contact with her we have learned to know one who expresses a life of unselfishness and understanding. In having a deep understanding of human nature Pannie has been able unconsciously to inspire that deeper, finer part of us called soul to reach higher levels. It is not every day that we find one with such strong personality.

